Section 1: Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Comprehensive Education Planning (CEP) is a structured, data-driven process that guides schools in assessing their needs, identifying areas for growth, setting strategic goals and implementing targeted actions to improve student outcomes. Collaboratively developed by the School Leadership Team (SLT) in accordance with the requirements of Chancellor's Regulation A-655, the CEP meets New York State Education Department (NYSED) requirements under the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) and aligns with NYC Public Schools' (NYCPS) system-wide priorities. By engaging all stakeholders—school leaders, teachers, families, students and community members—schools can create a data-informed, equity-focused roadmap for student success and continuous improvement.

Schools should focus their CEP on the five system-wide priorities below, connecting their planning to the data discussions and conversations with stakeholders held as part of the school's needs assessment:

- Priority 1: All students learn to read well
- Priority 2: All students are physically and emotionally safe
- Priority 3: All students have a high-quality academic experience
- Priority 4: All students graduate college and career ready and have a strong plan and pathway to economic security
- Priority 5: All districts and schools are more inclusive and responsive for parents and families, including having more families choose NYC Public Schools

The Education Planning Process

The CEP follows an equity-driven, continuous improvement cycle, rooted in the system-wide priorities. This begins with a comprehensive needs assessment of the school's most current data to identify priority needs and root causes. Next, the SLT establishes specific, measurable, attainable, relevant, and timely—SMART goal(s) aligned to each priority and determines targets to measure progress toward meeting the annual goals.

The SLT and instructional leaders define key evidence-based key strategies, professional learning activities and parent, family and community empowerment efforts. They monitor the implementation of those strategies and activities and track progress through measurable targets. Then, the SLT aligns the school-based budget with human and instructional resources to support action plans.

As schools set goals, develop key strategies, and plan action steps, they provide opportunities for all children to meet NYSED's proficient and advanced levels of student academic achievement. These include evidence based instructional strategies that address the educational needs of historically underserved populations and tackle structural inequities. Schools indicate how the plan addresses the needs of Multilingual/English Language Learners (ML/ELL) through development of the school's Language Allocation Policy (LAP) & Title III Application (if applicable) and the Language Translation and Interpretation (LTI) Plan, that are required as part of the CEP. Schools also address the needs of Students with Disabilities (SWD) through the High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities section of the plan. SLTs also develop a plan to improve attendance and reduce chronic absenteeism.

Guidance on Conducting a Comprehensive Needs Assessment

Directions: Conduct a comprehensive needs assessment for each Priority. The information below provides guidance for reviewing and analyzing student and school performance trends to uncover root causes for low student achievement.

1. Review Multiple Data Sources: Use the most current and available information including, but not limited to, the following sources of formative and summative data, as applicable:

- Qualitative and quantitative data, including enrollment and class size trends
- 2024-25 ESSA Accountability Data
- Instructional Leadership Framework (ILF), Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) Inventories, and NYC School Survey results
- Quality Review Reports, NYSED and NYCPS CSI or A/TSI Support Visits, Receivership Quarterly Reports, and Diagnostic Tool for School and District Effectiveness Framework (DTSDE)
- NYC School Quality Guide, Insight, New Visions, NWEA MAP and/or other formative assessment data, IEP Review Survey Data, Progress on IEP Goals Data, Program (SESIS-STARS Linkage) Reports, Mandated (Related) Services Reports, and NYCPS Tools for Understanding Your Data for student subgroup information

2. Analyze Data Trend(s) to Identify Areas of Strength and Need: Identify data trends by grade, cohort, and content area(s) to surface gaps and inequities. Compare data sets to identify instructional and school practices that are impacting student performance. Guiding questions to consider:

- What does the data reveal about improving and declining student performance trends within grades, cohorts, and student subgroups?
- What inequities are evident between highest and lowest performing student subgroups? Which subgroup(s) scored at Level 1 based on NYSED ESSA accountability indicators?
- What does the data suggest regarding the effectiveness (or ineffectiveness) of current school programs, practices, and/or strategies/initiatives? What areas may need to be strengthened?
- Are there any differences in student performance between program delivery models for ML/ELL and SWD? (e.g., for special education: special class, ICT, SETSS, related services only; for ML/ELL: Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) vs. Dual Language, etc.)
- How does delivery of instruction factor into data trends? What are the implications for teacher quality and professional learning?
- What inequities in special education referral and school disciplinary practices (e.g. suspensions, removals) are evident between student subgroups with IEPs?

3. Identify Root Cause(s): After analyzing the data, engage in a process for uncovering root causes or contributing factors for low student and school performance. Develop theories or hypotheses to explain why these needs exist and why your school is getting its current outcomes. Root causes could be related to gaps and inequities in areas such as curriculum & instruction, school systems & structures, student support services, school climate & safety, and family & community engagement. Focus on the causes, rather than the symptoms. Use the 5 Whys Method or other methods for identifying root causes. Consider the questions below:

- What theories or hypotheses explain the current student and school outcomes?
- Are there root causes specific to certain subgroups, grades, cohorts, or content area(s)?

Additional resources and supports are available below.

- Use this CEP Needs Assessment Worksheet to help your SLT and stakeholders identify appropriate data sources, data trends, root causes and priority needs.
- For guidance and best practices on engaging stakeholders in a comprehensive needs assessment and root cause analysis, see this deck.
- A current list of all CEP/Title I resources can be found on the iPlan Portal Public Resources Page.

Section 3: CEP SLT/Stakeholder Signature Page

School Leadership Team (SLT) Signature Page

All School Leadership Team (SLT) members are expected to sign this page to confirm their participation in the development of this Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) and that they have been consulted regarding the alignment of the school-based budget to support this school's educational program, which includes annual goals and action plans, Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS), the Parent and Family Engagement Policy (PFEP) and the School-Parent Compact (SPC). The SLT must include an equal number of parents and staff and have a minimum of 10 and a maximum of 17 members, in accordance with Chancellor's Regulation A-655. The SLT also serves as the Core Community Engagement Team (CET) for Receivership Schools. Additional information and resources are available on the School Leadership Team Resources page. Under the Federal Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), NYS Education Law and Commissioner's Regulations, stakeholder participation in the development of the CEP must include multiple constituencies who represent the school community. Section 4: School Summary

Accountability Status

Accountability Status: LSI

School Summary

Directions: Complete this CEP Summary to serve as the "at-a-glance" narrative that provides contextual information about your school's unique characteristics. This summary and the entire Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) should be shared with your school community. Please note that this summary and the CEP will be made available to the public through the iPlan Portal, an online space where school stakeholders can go to collaborate in the development of the school's education plans.

Provide your school's mission statement:

At PS 163, we value diversity, equity, respect, and integration. We aim to infuse joy in learning while centering identity at the core. Students' cultural and lived experiences will be celebrated to appreciate our shared humanity. Childhood years should focus on social emotional well-being and student-centered learning that inspires all children to achieve their full academic potential.

Develop a narrative summary that includes contextual information about your school's community and its unique/important characteristics and partnerships:

Include demographic information about your school's student population.

PS 163 is an elementary school on the Upper West Side of Manhattan. We want to give our students many opportunities to show their brilliance and knowledge. Because of that, we partner with the National Dance Institute (NDI) for grades Pre-k to 5th. NDI provides dance and music instruction leading to annual mid and end-of-year performances that are student-driven. All performances are choreographed by our students.

Briefly summarize the key initiatives your school will implement this school year.

PS 163 will focus on: 1) Creating student-centered learning environments that affirm their cultural identities via the New York State (NYS) Culturally Responsive-Sustaining (CR-S) Education Framework, 2) Wellness focusing on health, wellbeing, and social emotional supports, 3) Rigor within classroom instruction leading to students experiencing engaging and challenging lessons, 4) Data monitoring to ensure that benchmark assessments are driving instructional decisions, and 5) Equity with a focus on mindsets and beliefs.

What are the primary digital and/or print curricula/programs used for ELA and Math:

Indicate the content area, grade band and any adaptations made.

Content Area (Indicate ELA and Math Only)	Grade Band	Digital and/or Print Curricula/Program	Adaptations
ELA	K-5	Wit and Wisdom (print and digial)

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities Data Trends, Root Causes and Priority Needs

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

Schools are encouraged to think critically and strategically when considering resources that can support progress towards CEP goals for students with IEPs. This includes utilizing Title I funding for at-risk speech and/or counseling services, all-staff training in supporting students with autism, sensory materials, summer institute geared at the development of executive functioning skills, and/or inclusion coaching support. Schools may also consider utilizing Title II funds to reduce the ratio of students with IEPs to typically developing peers in ICT classes.

Section 6: Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS)

Academic Support

NYCPS Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) align with NYSED guidelines for providing Academic Intervention Services (AIS) to students who have not yet met state standards or are considered to be at-risk of not meeting state standards. The Multi-tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) framework, organizes supports into three tiers:

Tier 1 provides schoolwide, high-quality programming for all students, including SWDs;

Tier 2 offers data informed small-group interventions for at-promise students; and Tier 3 delivers intensive, individualized support for students with persistent needs.

This facilitates the strategic planning and necessary resource alignment to ensure their school community appropriately and adequately serves all students well, in partnership with students and families.

MTSS identifies the academic support services to be provided and ensures that students receive Response to Intervention (RtI) and Positive Behavioral Interventions and Support (PBIS) strategies as needed. See NYSED's memo to view the criteria for determining AIS services. The Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) offers a wide range of evidence-based Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions and supports for student social-emotional, behavioral, physical and mental wellness, with particular attention to the unique needs of students in Temporary Housing and/or Foster Care, who may face additional challenges related to school stability, trauma and access to educational resources. A culturally responsive-sustaining approach to intervention embeds culturally relevant texts and historical narratives into literacy and social studies interventions, ensuring students receive the support that reflects their identities and lived experiences, increasing engagement and achievement.

Use the charts below and a Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) to match academic, social/emotional, behavioral and instructional resources with student needs to provide targeted support for all learners, especially at-risk students who experience difficulty meeting state standards, including those living in Temporary Housing and/or residing in Foster Care placements. Indicate specialized materials, technology-based tools and/or extra instruction, including Expanded Learning Time that supplement school-wide systems & supports and/or classroom level supports. Ensure that interventions address the unique social-emotional, behavioral and academic challenges faced by culturally and linguistically diverse students, as well as those impacted by housing instability and child welfare system involvement.

Directions: Complete the chart and identify Tier 2 or 3 MTSS Academic supports. Any Tier 2/3 interventions should be in addition to the foundational work being done at Tier 1.

Via the use of parent engagement time, classroom teachers will collaborate with families on the creation of Tier 3 interventions.

Students in Temporary Housing (STH) Support

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-STH Section and in accordance with the federal McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act and Chancellor's Regulation A-780, schools must identify, serve, and report on students living in temporary housing (STH). All Title I and non-Title I schools receive a Title I allocation for STH students. The Students in Temporary Housing (STH) website provides guidance on STH pupils and how these funds can be used to meet their needs, as well as restrictions. For more information on acceptable uses of the mandated Title I, Part A set-aside to support your STH population, please refer to the Title I STH Funds Toolkit.

Identify the number of Students in Temporary Housing who are currently attending your school and provide a breakdown of their temporary housing status. Since the number of STH children can change regularly, schools must carefully track this number to determine whether there has been an increase in need.

Number of students in temporary housing who are:

- Doubled up (with friends or relatives because they cannot find or afford housing):
- Living in a shelter or transitional shelter:
- Living in a hotel/motel:
- Other

*Note: In keeping with established practices regarding personally identifiable information, use the letter "s" to identify a number less than five (5).

Doubled up (with friends or relatives because they cannot find or afford housing): 16 students

Living in a shelter or transitional shelter: 107 students

Living in a hotel/motel: 2 students

Living in a car, bus, or train: 0 students

Living in a park or public place: 0 students

Living in an abandoned building: 0 students

After a careful analysis of historical demographic, attendance and achievement data for your STH population, what trends do you notice, and how can these trends inform the services and support provided for this population?

In the fall of 2025, we will provide all of our students (classified as STH) and their families with the STH Title I Survey. We will disaggregate the information and align our use of STH funds accordingly.

Describe the services you are planning to provide to the STH population. How were those services selected to best meet students' needs? How will you (or did you) utilize the STH Title I Survey to select services aligned to need?

The purchase of clothing, school materials, and medical prescriptions (e.g., glasses). These services and products are selected based on the disaggregation and close analysis of the STH Title I Survey results.

Prioritizing Students in Foster Care

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-Child Child Abuse and Neglect Intervention and Prevention School Plan and in accordance with the federal Education Law 3244 – Education of Children in Foster Care (Effective 2018) establishes the rights of students placed, or moved, in foster care to:

- Continue attending school of origin if determined to be in their best interest, or, if not, attend school near foster care placement,
- Immediate enrollment, and
- Transportation, if necessary to attend school of origin

Please respond to the questions below.

How many students in foster care are currently enrolled at your school? Provide a detailed breakdown of the social-emotional and academic supports available to them.

What targeted supports are in place for students in foster care, including those newly transitioning into the foster care system? How does your school ensure these students receive the necessary interventions to promote stability and success?

After analyzing historical demographic, attendance, and achievement data for students in foster care, what trends have emerged? How can these insights be used to improve the services and support provided to this population?

What specific strategies does your school implement to ensure students in foster care, particularly those in transitional grades, receive targeted Social-Emotional Learning (SEL) support? How do these strategies help address academic and behavioral challenges?

Section 7: Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Directions: The Parent and Family Engagement Policy should describe how your school will plan and implement effective parent and family engagement activities and/or strategies to improve student academic achievement and school performance. The School-Parent Compact (SPC) is a component of the Parent and Family Engagement Policy (PFEP) that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share this responsibility.

The activities and/or strategies included in your school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy should align with current Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) goals for improving student achievement and should be developed or updated with input and feedback from parent leaders and the Parent Coordinator. In addition, if the school community will be engaged in central parent engagement initiatives, such as Parent Academy, which will provide training for school communities to help strengthen family-school partnerships, please be sure to include these activities in the school's policy.

In Title I schools, the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) represents the Title I parent community in supporting parent and family engagement. The Title I PAC Chairperson will serve in a consultative role with the SLT representing the school's Title I parents. Schools are encouraged to use the sample Parent and Family Engagement and SPC templates below (which meet federal Title I parent and family engagement requirements) as guidance for updating the school's current policy.

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental engagement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent and family engagement policy that will establish expectations and objectives for meaningful parent and family engagement in the school community. PS 163, in compliance with Section 1116 of Title I, Part A of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), is responsible for creating and implementing a parent and family engagement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between the school and the families. The school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), and Title I Parent Advisory Council as trained volunteers and welcomed members of the school community.

Support for Parents and Family Members of Title I Students

PS 163 will support parents and family members of Title I students by:
- providing materials and training to help parents work with their children to improve their achievement level, e.g., literacy, math and use of technology;
- providing parents with the information and training needed to effectively become involved in planning and decision making in support of the education of their children;
- fostering a caring and effective home-school partnership to ensure that parents can effectively support and monitor their child’s progress;
- providing assistance to parents in understanding City, State and Federal standards and assessments;
- sharing information about school and parent related programs, meetings and other activities in a format, and in languages that parents can understand;
- providing professional learning opportunities for school staff with the assistance of parents to improve outreach, communication skills and cultural competency in order to build stronger ties between parents and other members of the school community;

Parental Involvement and School Quality

The school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy was designed based upon a careful assessment of the needs of all parents/guardians, including parents/guardians of Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners (ML/ELL), and students with disabilities. The school community, with the meaningful involvement of parents and family members, will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent and family engagement policy with Title I parents to improve the academic quality of the school. The findings of the evaluation through school surveys and feedback forms will be used to design strategies to more effectively meet the needs of parents and family members and enhance the school's Title I program. This information will be maintained by the school.

In developing the Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy, parents of Title I participating students, parent members of the school's Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), as well as parent members of the School Leadership Team, were consulted on the proposed Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and asked to survey their members for additional input. To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, the school will:
- actively involve and engage parents and family members in the planning, review and evaluation of the effectiveness of the school's Title I program as outlined in the School Comprehensive Education Plan, including the implementation of the school's Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact;
- engage all parents in discussion and decisions regarding the required Title I, 1% set-aside funds, which are allocated directly to the school to supplement parent and family engagement activities, including family literacy and parenting skills;
- ensure that the Title I funds allocated for parent and family engagement are utilized to implement activities and strategies as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and the School-Parent Compact;
- support school-level committees that include parents who are members of the School Leadership Team, the Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Advisory Council. This includes providing technical support and ongoing professional learning, especially in developing leadership skills;
- maintain a Parent Coordinator (or a dedicated staff person) to serve as a liaison between the school and families. The Parent Coordinator or a dedicated staff person will provide parent workshops based on the assessed needs of the parents of children who attend the school and will work to ensure that the school environment is welcoming and inviting to all parents. The Parent Coordinator will also maintain a log of events and activities planned for parents each month and file a report with the central office.;
- conduct parent workshops with topics that may include: parenting skills, understanding educational accountability grade-level curriculum and assessment expectations; literacy, accessing community and support services; and technology training to build parents' capacity to help their children at home;

- provide opportunities for parents to help them understand the accountability system, e.g., ESSA/State accountability system, student proficiency levels, Annual School Report Card, School Quality Report, Quality Review Report, Learning Environment Survey Report;
- host the required Annual Title I Parent Meeting each school year to advise parents of children participating in the Title I program about the school's Title I funded program(s), their right to be involved in the program and the parent and family engagement requirements under Title I, Part A, Section 1116 and other applicable sections under ESSA;
- schedule additional parent meetings, e.g., quarterly meetings, with flexible times, such as meetings in the morning or evening, to share information about the school's educational program and other initiatives of the Chancellor and allow parents to provide suggestions;
- translate all critical school documents and provide interpretation during meetings and events as needed.

Encouraging School-Level Parental Involvement

The school will further encourage school-level parent and family engagement by:
- hosting educational family events/activities during Parent-Teacher Conferences and throughout the school year;
- encouraging meaningful parent participation on School Leadership Teams, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Advisory Council;
- supporting or hosting Family Day events;
- establishing a Parent Resource Center/Area or lending library; instructional materials for parents;
- encouraging more parents to become trained school volunteers;
- providing written and verbal progress reports that are periodically given to keep parents informed of their children's progress;
- developing and distributing a school newsletter or web publication designed to keep parents informed about school activities and student progress;
- providing school planners/folders for regular written communication between /teacher and the home in a format, and to the extent practicable in the languages that parents can understand.

School-Parent Compact (SPC)

School-Parent Compact (SPC)

PS 163, in compliance with the Section 1116 of Title I, Part A of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), is implementing a School-Parent Compact to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between the school and the families. Staff and parents of students participating in activities and programs funded by Title I, agree that this Compact outlines how parents, the entire school staff and students will share responsibility for improved academic achievement and the means by which a school-parent partnership will be developed to ensure that all children achieve State Standards on assessments.

Title I Program Information

Part 1: Title I Program Type

Title I Requirements and Strengthening Title I Parent Involvement: Under USDOE's Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), Title I schools are required to address professional learning and parent and family engagement in the Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP). To strengthen parent leadership in Title I schools, and increase the involvement of all parents of Title I eligible children in improving students' academic outcomes, all Title I schools are required to establish a Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) that will serve as the consultative and representative body for all Title I parents in the school to provide voice into the spending of Title I funds.

The SLT is responsible for facilitating consultation with the Title I Parent Advisory Council regarding the joint development of the CEP, Parent and Family Engagement Policy, School Parent Compact (SPC) and the use of the 1% parent involvement set-aside in Title I schools. The Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) Chairperson (or alternate) is expected to attend all regular meetings of the School Leadership Team (SLT). Title I parents, as represented by the Title I PAC Chairperson, must be consulted regarding the use of the Title I 1% set-aside for parent and family engagement. The Title I 1% set-aside funding is used to supplement parent and family engagement activities as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and must be aligned with student achievement goals as outlined in the CEP. For additional guidance on the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC), go to the Protocols and Timeline for Title I Parent and Family Engagement Activities document.

Directions:

- All schools must indicate their Title I status in Part 1.
- All elements of the All Title I Schools section must be completed in Part 2.
- All Targeted Assistance (TA) Schools must also complete the TA Schools Only section in Part 3.
- All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools must also complete the SWP Schools Only section in Part 4.
- If a required component is addressed elsewhere in this plan, you may refer to the section or Priority where the response can be found.
- For additional information, visit the Title I Program Description (US Department of Education).

High Quality and Ongoing Professional Learning: Please list below the Priority or section(s) that indicate strategies and activities for high quality professional learning for teachers, principals, staff, and paraprofessionals to enable all students to meet state standards.

During Monday's professional development, the school's administration and grade leader (GL) team led schoolwide learning on using data to create small group targeted instruction, incorporating student-led conversations to develop students' speaking and listening skills, using Fundations phonic curriculum, and teacher mindset. These topics support teacher learning and have a direct impact on accelerating student learning.

Part 5: "Conceptual" Consolidation of Funds in SWP Schools

Directions: All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools in NYC are conceptually consolidating their Federal, State, and Local funds, even though the Galaxy system reports the allocations in separate accounting codes1. To be eligible for the flexibility consolidation of Federal funds, a Schoolwide Program school must identify in its Schoolwide plan (CEP) which programs are included in its consolidation and the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool. Additionally, the school plan must document that it has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated2. On the chart below, indicate which Federal, State, and/or local Tax Levy program funds that are consolidated in your school's Schoolwide Program, the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool, and verification that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated.
For the last two columns of this table: Place an (X) in Column A below to verify that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated. Indicate in Column B, the Priority or section that references where a related program activity has been described in this plan.

Explanation/Background

1. Explanation/Background:

Title I Schoolwide Program schools are expected to use the flexibility available to them to integrate services and programs with the aim of enhancing the entire educational program and helping all students reach proficient and advanced levels of achievement. In addition to coordinating and integrating services, Schoolwide Program schools may combine most Federal, State and local funds to provide those services. By consolidating funds from Federal, State, and local sources, a Schoolwide Program school can address its needs using all its available resources. This gives a school more flexibility in how it uses available resources to meet the identified needs of all its students.

Consolidating funds in a Schoolwide Program means that a school treats the funds it is consolidating like they are a single "pool" of funds. In other words, the funds from the contributing programs in the school lose their individual identity and the school has one flexible pool of funds. The school uses funds from this consolidated Schoolwide pool to support any activity of the Schoolwide Program without regard to which program contributed the specific funds used for a particular activity – so long as the use of funds meets the intent and purposes of the programs from which the funds originate. To consolidate funding in a Schoolwide Program, the school does not literally need to combine funds in a single account or pool with its own accounting code. Rather, the word "pool" is used conceptually to convey that a Schoolwide Program school has the use of all consolidated funds available to it for the dedicated function of operating a Schoolwide Program without regard to the identity of those funds.

Consolidating Federal funds in a Schoolwide Program has the following additional advantages:

- Consolidating Federal funds eases the requirements for accounting for funds from each specific program separately, because a Schoolwide school is not required to distinguish among funds received from different sources when accounting for their use.
- A school that consolidates Federal funds in its Schoolwide Program is not required to meet most of the statutory and regulatory requirements of the specific Federal programs included in the consolidation (e.g., semi-annual time and effort reporting for Title I). However, the school must ensure that it meets the intent and purposes of the Federal programs included in the consolidation so that the needs of the intended beneficiaries are met.

2. The intent and purposes of the Federal programs indicated on the chart above (Part 4c of this section) are as follows:

- Title I, Part A – Schoolwide Programs: To upgrade the entire educational program in the school in order to improve the academic achievement of all students, particularly the lowest-achieving students. This includes provision of services for Students in Temporary Housing (STH).
- Title I 1003(a), School Improvement: Comprehensive Support and Improvement (CSI), Additional Targeted Support and Improvement (ATSI) and Targeted Support and Improvement (TSI) Funding:

Support implementation of school improvement plans that aims to improve instruction and address the identified needs

Title II, Part A: Supplementary funding to improve student academic achievement by reducing class size in grades K, 1, 2, and 3, with an emphasis on grades with an average register greater than 20. If space is not available to form additional classes, funds may support push-in teacher(s) to supplement the instructional program. For schools that choose to reduce class size, priority must be given to reducing class size in general education settings and must demonstrate the following:

- Reduce class sizes to 15-18 students or fewer (including the use of co-teaching and floating teachers that bring the student to teacher ratio to one teacher per 15-18 students);
- Be accompanied by a rigorous curriculum, effective teachers, and a sustained, job-embedded professional development plan.

- Title III, Part A: To help ensure that children with limited English proficiency become proficient in English, develop high academic attainment in English, and meet the same challenging State academic content and achievement standards in the core academic subjects that all other children are expected to meet. Another purpose of this program is to increase the capacity of schools to establish, implement and sustain high-quality language instruction programs and English language development programs that assist schools in effectively teaching students with limited English proficiency. Title III, Part A is also designed to promote the participation of parents and communities of limited English proficient children in English language instruction programs.
- Title III Immigrant: Supplementary and enhanced services to immigrant students, in the areas of English language acquisition and content area achievement. Immigrant children and youth are defined as individuals who are aged 3 through 21, have not been attending school in any one or more states for more than three (3) full academic years, and were not born in any state. "State" means the 50 states of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Children born to U.S. citizens abroad, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or any other U.S. territory that is not D.C. or Puerto Rico are to be considered immigrants.
- Title IV, Part A: Title IV funds are for schools that are among those with the greatest needs, have the highest numbers of students from low-income families, are identified for CS, ATSI or TSI, or are identified as persistently dangerous public schools. Allowable uses of funds under well-rounded education, safety and health, and educational technology include direct services for students, professional development for teachers and administrators, and supplemental educational resources. School allocations have been provided for well-rounded education, social emotional learning, cultural responsiveness awareness, professional development to support implementation of technology and blended learning environments, and community coordinators in schools with high rates of students in temporary housing

- Students in Temporary Housing (STH): Schools must describe their use of Title I STH funds in their consolidated application.

Important Note: The following funds may not be consolidated:

- Title I Parent Involvement Set-aside: Title I, Part A funds must support parent involvement activities and programs. Chancellor's Regulation A-655 requires School Leadership Teams to consult with Title I parent representatives regarding the Title I program and the use of these funds. Parent involvement activities funded through Title I must be included in the Parent and Family Engagement Policy and aligned with student achievement goals in the school comprehensive educational plan.
- IDEA: To ensure that all children with disabilities have available to them a free appropriate public education designed to meet their individual needs.
- Grant funds awarded via a competitive process: These funds must be used for the purposes specified by the Grantor, as described in the school's approved grant application.

Language Allocation Policy Outline

Language Allocation Policy Outline

2025-26 Language Allocation Policy (LAP)

This submission form supports schools with organizing a well-conceived school-based Language Allocation Policy (LAP) that describes high quality programs for Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners (MLs/ELLs). This is an annual plan of how your school will support the linguistic and academic needs of MLs/ELLs and must be completed yearly. The Language Allocation Policy (LAP) is a part of schools' Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP).

This is a living document. Any school-wide changes involving the instruction of MLs/ELLs, such as the addition or expansion of a Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) or Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) program, should be updated in this form.

Agenda, minutes of LAP meetings, and LAP team members' attendance at meetings should be kept readily available on file in the school with all other ML/ELL critical documents. When preparing your school's submission, provide extended responses in the available spaces.

For additional information, refer to the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs. For additional support with ML/ELL policy, please reach out to your respective ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance Performance Specialist; for support with ML/ELL instruction, please contact your ML/ELL Services Administrator.

Part III: ML/ELL Programming

Please refer to New York State Commissioner's Regulation (CR) Part 154 Units of Study Tables as you describe academic programming for MLs/ELLs at your school below. Please do not leave any fields blank and indicate "N/A" for any fields that are not applicable.

Describe your English as a New Language (ENL), and if applicable Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE), and Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs. For each program, include:

- How stand-alone ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How integrated ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How students are grouped (e.g., block [class travels together as a group], ungraded [all students regardless of grade are in one class], heterogeneous [mixed proficiency levels], homogenous [proficiency level is the same in one class]).

a. English as a New Language (ENL)
Stand-alone ENL:

Entering, emerging, and transitioning ELL students will receive stand-alone ENL. More specifically, entering and emerging students will be pulled-out for stand-alone ENL for 180 minutes per week, and transitioning students will be pulled-out for 90 minutes per week. Entering and Emerging students will be homogeneously grouped together for additional support in small-group work. Students will receive skilled instruction in each of the four language learning modalities. The students' listening abilities will be improved by receiving guided language instruction including read alouds, think alouds, shared reading, and participate in cooperative learning groups. The students' reading abilities will be improved by teaching comprehension strategies explicitly, through shared reading, think alouds, read alouds, and effective demonstration. The students' writing abilities will be improved by the use of shared writing, interactive writing, guided writing using graphic organizers, pictures, Thinking Maps, and sentence frames, which will be used to enhance writing. Finally, the students' speaking abilities will be improved during classwork when students engage in asking and answering questions, retelling texts, summarizing, and having collaborative conversations using anchor charts and prompts.

Integrated ENL:

Students at the Entering and Emerging level will receive 180 minutes per week of Integrated ENL. These students will receive integrated ENL four class periods per week, which will be co-taught by a certified ESOL teacher and a certified K-6 elementary school teacher. Our expanding students will receive four periods of integrated ENL per week, and our commanding students will receive two periods of integrated ENL to further support their language development, as scheduling permits. The teachers will co-teach lessons primarily in ELA, Social Studies and Science. The classroom teacher and ESOL teachers will co-plan lessons during common planning time and the use of our school's Google Drive. ENL students will be grouped together during class work so that the ENL teacher can appropriately scaffold and differentiate instruction to meet the needs of the English Language Learners within the class.

b. Bilingual Education (If applicable)
Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE):

n/a

Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE):

The Dual Language program transfers literacy skills from a child's home language in Spanish to a child's second language of English. Students are able to acquire literacy more effectively in the language most familiar to them.

Skills used in native language acquisition (e.g., making sense of print, using writing to communicate, playing with language structure, developing vocabulary) are skills that a child uses to foster a more successful acquisition of English literacy. The learners can transfer their dominant language into English to build their understanding of reading strategies, background knowledge about texts, and knowledge of concepts from their native language. The dual language program is also designed to continue developing students' native language and English language skills throughout schooling. In addition, monolingual English students are given the opportunity to learn a second language. Dual Language programs serve students learning English and English-speaking students who are interested in learning a second language. Both groups provide good linguistic role models for each other, and through their interactions, language is developed in both languages. Additionally, certified bilingual teachers provide stand-alone and integrated instruction for ELLs within the classroom in small groups. Students at the entering and emerging levels receive 180 minutes of stand-alone instruction per week, and transitioning students receive 90 minutes of stand-alone instruction per week. Stand-alone instruction is delivered in small groups where ELLs are taken aside by the bilingual teacher, and ELLs receive language instruction designed to meet their specific learning needs through the use of targeted language objectives, graphic organizers, and other scaffolds. Furthermore, expanding and commanding ELLs in our dual language program receive integrated ENL for 90 or 180 minutes per week during ELA and Social Studies instruction. ELLs are placed in a small group, and ELL methodology is used by the bilingual teacher to scaffold and differentiate instruction for ELLs.

2. How does your school ensure the mandated number of instructional minutes are provided according to students' English language proficiency levels in each program model?

The school follows the NYS Commisioner's Regulation (CR) Part 154 Units of Study Tables as regulations that require students in grades K–8, at the entering and emerging levels of English proficiency must have two units/360 minutes of ENL instruction. For students at the transitioning and expanding levels of English proficiency, students in all grades must take one unit of ENL. A unit of instruction, as defined by state regulations, is 180 minutes per week. Furthermore, students at the commanding level receive .5 units of study per week/90 minutes of ENL instruction.

3. How are ENL, English Language Arts (ELA) and if applicable, Home Language Arts (HLA) instructional minutes delivered in each program model?

Instruction is provided by bi-lingual certified teachers for students in grades Kindergarten - 5th.

4. For schools with Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) programs:

a. Which Dual Language Bilingual Education model is implemented? Explain how much of the instructional day (percentage) English proficient students and ELLs are integrated.

PS163 Dual Language program is a One-Way (self-contained) model. In the Dual Language program, the targeted language is Spanish. The Dual Language program is designed to have students spend half of their instructional time with a target language of immersion. The remaining part of the week is spent with English-only instruction. In grades one through five, the school uses an alternating day model in which language used for content areas alternates from day to day (Monday through Thursday). Fridays are spent 50 percent in English, and 50 percent in Spanish. In Kindergarten, the model is 80 percent in Spanish and 20 percent in English. ELL students receive integrated and stand-alone ENL during English only days within the classroom when ELLs are grouped together. Within the classroom, bilingual teachers take ELLs aside (during stand-alone instruction) or scaffolds and differentiate ELA instruction (during integrated instruction). ELLs at the entering and emerging levels receive 360 minutes of ENL instruction per week within the classroom, ELLs at the transitioning and expanding levels receive 180 minutes per week of ENL instruction, and ELLs at the commanding level receive 90 minutes of ENL instruction per week. Furthermore, students in the Dual Language program receive ELA instruction for 108 minutes on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays during reading and writing workshop. The bilingual teachers use the ReadyGen curriculum for Reading and Writing Workshop. Furthermore, HLA is provided to students in our Dual Language program using the Biliteracy Pathways curriculum on alternating days. The curriculum provides ELL students with HLA instruction in reading and writing for 108 minutes per day on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays.

b. In which language(s) is each core content area taught?

English and Spanish

5. For schools with Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs:

a. Which core content areas are taught bilingually?

n/a

Part IV: Data Analysis

Data Analysis

After reviewing and analyzing school demographic and assessment data, answer the following questions. The ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) provided by the Office of Multilingual Learners can assist with identifying these data points.

For additional information, refer to Data Analysis Professional Learning Module and ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) Professional Learning Module.

1. What is the composition of the ELL subgroups at your school?
What percentage of ELLs are Newcomers? How does effective instruction for Newcomers differ from those provided to Developing or Long-Term ELLs?

Instruction for Newcomers difference from those provided to Developing or Long-Term ELLs via an emphasis on the child's native langauge. We align our believes to CR-S Framework in creating welcoming and nurturing classroom environments where newcomers are encouraged to share in their native language as opposed to feeling any stigma for their primary language. This focus on exploiting and developing a child's primary language is key for newcomes.

What percentage of ELLs are Students with Inconsistent/Interrupted Formal Education (SIFE)? How do you differentiate effective instruction for SIFE?

For students classified as SIFE, we take an approach on making the studnets and families feel welcomed and as school members. Beyond initial weeks of support in this area, instructional teams use NYCPS-mandated assessements to disaggregate diagnositcs and informal assessments to align with school-based instructional, target, small group work.

What percentage of ELLs are Long-Term ELLs? How does effective instruction for Long-Term ELLs differ from instruction designed for Developing ELLs?

Long-term ELLs needs are in alignment with the use of data inquiry. After the use of data to create a support plan for students classified as Long-term, the teachers revise and implement new instructional supports to best meet the needs of their students.

What percentage of students are former ELLs? How is your school providing mandated instruction to former ELLs?

The ELL Teacher continues to push in and/or provide pull out services to students classified as former ELLs.

2. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of ELLs at your school?

The noticied trends are students not progressing.

3. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect former ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of former ELLs at your school?

Former ELLs are not processing along the reading level continuums as outlined in school-wide TC RR levels.

4. What are the home languages of ELLs with the largest representation at your school? What staff, structures, and processes does your school have to support communication and learning that values these home languages?

The majority of ELLs come from Spanish speaking home. All materials sent from the school to the homes are in both English and Spanish.

5. What are the racial and ethnic classifications of ELLs at your school? How are ELLs being included in planning and delivery of Culturally Responsive and Sustaining Education (CR-SE)?

PS 163 aligns its pedagogical beliefs with the CR-SE framework. Students classified as ELLs are included in the planning and delivery of CR-SE via the belief in being bi-cultural and bi-literacy. With this as the starting point, the school puts an emphasis on presenting to famillies in multiple languages, inviting families into the school to share about their cultures, and having school-wide events that such as our end of year bilingual presentation.

6. What trends do you notice in reviewing English Language Proficiency (ELP) growth at your school? How many students met ELP sufficient progress? How many students did not meet ELP sufficient progress?

23% of students classified as ELLs meet NYS proficiency.

7. When you look at the results of the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT), what stands out? What trends are there for each modality?

The biggest noticing is the growth and movement from all students as they progress throughout the school year.

8. What is the relationship between students' performance on the NYSESLAT and other state assessments such as the ELA assessment, the Math assessment, and the Regents exams?

There is a level of consistency in low levels of student proficiency between the students taking the NYSESLAT and NYS assessments.

9. What are trends reflected in the NYSESLAT results of ELL subgroups such as ELLs with IEPs and SIFE? What do you think is impacting the results for these subgroups?

Students classified as SIFE are scoring signficantly lowerer in scores and progress. This is due to having overall difficulty in reading and writing.

10. (For grades 9-12 only) Please review your data in the Insight Tool and STARS to answer the following questions:
a. How many ELLs are on-track towards graduation?

b. How many ELLs in grades 11-12 have a documented postsecondary plan in STARS or ATS?

c. What targeted strategies and interventions are in place to support ELLs who are currently off-track to graduate in four years?

d. What specific strategies, engaging approaches, and interventions are implemented to support and retain students who are not on track to graduate within four years, ensuring they remain enrolled and are guided towards a successful graduation in the future?

Part V: ML/ELL Instruction

Tier 1: Core Instruction

For additional information, refer to ML/ELL Instruction Professional Learning Module.

Tier 1 Core Instruction

1. How does your school provide ELLs with a high-quality academic experience that leads to deeper learning?

PS 163 targets student-led discussion as its primary pedagogical focus across all classrooms. All students, including students classified as ELLs, are presented with opportunities to share their thinking and ideas across all subject areas. Through the us of scaffolds and supports such as sentence starters and pre-created notecatchers, students classified as ELLs can access the curriculum and engage in deep learning through their sharing of strategies and ideas.

-include MTSS
-assessments, targeted supports impact ELLs

2. How does your school's leadership team ensure ELLs have access to core instruction/curriculum?

In order to create and promote the appropriate climate for ELLs to succeed, the instructional Leadership Team actively engage and assess the learning styles of the ELL students to provide the students with differentiated instruction. The ENL teacher and the classroom teachers review the scores that the students have obtained on the NYSITELL and the previous year's NYSESLAT, as well as students' reading levels to create lesson plans that meet the needs of students. This is a learning process for the teachers and therefore it is continuously necessary for teachers to collaborate and adjust the content, process, and product in response to the readiness, interests, and learning profiles of their students. In order to be successful members of a rigorous academic environment, the ELLs will be given scaffolded instruction to access the ReadyGen and GoMath! curriculum. These scaffolds are temporary, and the processes of constructing those scaffolds are removed when the student no longer needs them. The scaffolds used in units of study are placed purposefully to teach specific skills and language. Once students learn these skills and gain linguistic and content knowledge, these scaffolds are no longer needed. Since each child moves along his/her own continuum, and while one child may no longer need the scaffolds, some students may still depend on them. Thus, there is a constant evaluation of the process for the ELL students to assure that scaffolds are used successfully. The scaffolding types used for ELLs for both remote and blended learning are:

• Modeling: finished products of prior students' work, teacher-created samples, sentence starters, writing frameworks, shared writing, etc.

• Activating and bridging prior knowledge and/or experiences: using graphic organizers, such as anticipatory guides, extended anticipatory guide, semantic maps, interviews, picture walk discussion protocols, think-pair-share, videos, KWL, etc.
• Text representation: transforming a piece of writing into a pictorial representation, changing one genre into another, etc.
• Meta-cognitive development: self-assessment, think aloud, asking clarifying questions, using a rubric for self evaluation, etc.
• Contextualization: metaphors, regalia, pictures, audio and video clips, newspapers, magazines, etc.
• Building schema: bridging prior knowledge and experience to new concepts and ideas, etc.

Our school takes running records for students four times yearly in English. Based on those outcomes the students are placed in guided reading or strategy reading groups during remote and blended learning where they receive necessary small group reading support using ENL strategies to ensure that students understand vocabulary and are making adequate progress in comprehending texts. As students become increasingly proficient the extra scaffolds and supports are withdrawn.
In addition, PS 163 provides targeted intervention for ELL students in ELA, math and content areas within small groups in classrooms and in after school. Teachers conduct assessments of students in reading and in math throughout the year. Based on these outcomes, teachers provide targeted small group work to help students learn concepts and develop skills. The results of assessments are shared with the ENL teacher so he/she may work on specific skills during ENL instruction.

3. Describe how core content is delivered in each program model. Specify language, and the instructional approaches and methods to foster language development and meet the demands of the Next Generation Learning Standards.

The ELL students equally participate in the literacy, mathematics, and other core curriculum to meet the standards set forth by New York City and the Common Core State Standards. It is imperative that each student have access to coherent instruction that is rigorous and uniformly delivered throughout the school. The instructional approach is designed to support varying levels of instructional work in English and with supports in the student's native language. This enables the school to service the ELLs in literacy on par with the expectations of monolingual students.
Dual Language Program
Native language support in core subject areas is accessible to ELLs so they can draw on their backgrounds knowledge and experiences for content while continuing to improve their English language acquisition skills. The Dual Language program transfers literacy skills from a child's home language in Spanish to a child's second language of English. Students are able to acquire literacy more effectively in the language most familiar to them. Skills used in native language acquisition (e.g., making sense of print, using writing to communicate, playing with language structure, developing vocabulary) are skills that a child uses to foster a more successful acquisition of English literacy. The learners can transfer their dominate language into English to build their understanding of reading strategies, background knowledge about texts, and knowledge of concepts from their native language. Dual Language program is also designed to continue developing students' native language, as well as English language skills, throughout schooling. In addition, monolingual English students are given the opportunity to learn a second language. Dual Language programs serve both language-minority students in need of English language development and monolingual English-speaking students who are interested in learning a second language. Both groups provide good linguistic role models for each other and, through their interactions language is development in both languages.
The Kindergarten classes follow the eighty/twenty model. The daily language of instruction is Spanish with one period designated for ELA instruction. Specials are conducted mostly in English. During the 54-minute period, the students receive additional English language literacy instruction. The two first grade classes follow the sixty/forty model. On Mondays and Wednesdays all subject area instruction is in English. On Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday instruction is in Spanish. During the 54-minute period, the students receive additional English language literacy instruction. The kindergarten and two first grade classes include 50% of students who are English dominant and 50% who are Spanish dominant or bilingual. Students in those classes were interviewed to determine language dominance. Selection was based on the DOE admission policies; parent interest and commitment; as well as the student's language dominance. The increased amount of Spanish instruction in the kindergarten benefits both linguistic groups of students, as they move through the grades. Additionally, ELLs are able to meet the demands of the NYS Learning Standards through the bilingual teachers thoughtful use of the New Language Arts progressions and the Home Language Arts progressions whenever possible. The use of the progressions by bilingual teachers allows ELL students access to the standard through the use of grade level texts and a focus on the linguistic demands necessary for ELLs to master the standard. Consequently, our hope is that ELL students are able to meet the grade level academic demands of the Common Core at each of the proficiency levels by providing targeted instruction.

Freestanding ENL

Students in freestanding ENL programs receive all instruction in English with native language support. The number of ENL instructional units that a student receives is regulated by New York State CR Part 154 regulations and determined by student English-proficiency levels. The academic content-area in English is supported by the ENL methodology and instructional strategies with native language support to make content comprehensible. The goals for students in the ENL program is for all students to achieve the state-designated level of English proficiency for their grade and to meet or exceed New York State and City Standards. In order to maximize English language acquisition for ELLs, the ENL and classroom teachers work closely to deliver literacy instruction as well as tailor additional content instruction to meet the needs of ELLs. The instruction for the ELLs is aligned to ELA standards and the Targets of Measurement. ELL students are grouped together in general education or Integrated co-teaching classes. It is our goal to encourage integrated instruction for students wherever possible. Where it is not possible to provide integrated instruction, students will be grouped by proficiency level and given instruction to develop their literacy and comprehension skills through a computer generated program, Max Scholar, to assist students in reading comprehension and vocabulary development. The ENL teacher will align instruction to the ReadyGen units of study while using the scaffolding methods of total physical response, small group instruction, visuals, and graphic organizers (among others).

The students are grouped together based on their proficiency level on the NYSITELL or NYSESLAT. Additionally, the ENL teacher confers with students individually to ascertain the new vocabulary acquired in the reading program as well as review with students the necessary reading strategies that need to be acquired to answer the reading comprehension questions correctly. Where necessary, the ENL teacher will provide the students with appropriate scaffolding for understanding new words through context clues and reinforce the reading strategies taught in the students' class. Students receiving stand-alone instruction in Kindergarten and First grade will receive instruction toward improving English phonological awareness, using the Sounds in Motion program developed by Fran Santore. For integrated ENL services, the ENL teacher coordinates the activities with the classroom teacher. The classroom teacher teaches the mini-lesson and the ENL teacher follows up during the guided practice portion of the lesson by reinforcing the concepts and providing clarification. The ENL teacher differentiates instruction to meet the linguistic and academic needs of individual students by scaffolding concepts using the four language learning modalities of listening, speaking, reading and writing. The ENL teacher facilitates ELLs meeting the demands of the NYS Learning Standards by utilizing the New Language Arts progressions and grade level texts. The New Language Arts progressions are used to scaffold and differentiate instruction in the classroom for ELLs at each of the proficiency levels. The CCLS are made accessible to ELLs through thoughtful instruction that allows ELLs accessibility to grade level texts.

4. What instructional strategies and grade-level materials, including technology, do teachers of MLs/ELLs use to provide access to grade level academic content areas and accelerate English language development? Include core content area and language materials with consideration to specific ELL subgroups.

a. ELLs with IEPs

Teachers of ELLs provide lessons using multimodal materials and scaffolds such as text, images, videos, maps, graphs and charts, storyboards and digital slides. The students engage in productive struggle using technology such as Padlet to promote student conversation and collaboration providing a carefully curated list of resources pertaining to academic content areas; Pear Deck to make Google Slides interactive for questions and polls about core content, mapping and brainstorming; Jamboard for group work to refine their communication with each other; and Kahoot for rigorous and relevant quizzes and games pertaining to the core content areas. Teachers also consider all students' schema. Understanding what our students know in their home language and culture will impact what content is taught. Newsela is a website that uses real stories that are current and best for culturally responsive teaching. Content vocabulary is taught explicitly. The students need more exposure to academic language. The students also practice learning how to use prefixes, suffixes, root words, and cognates. The students also participate in a school podcast using microphones and software to edit their episodes.

b. SIFE

The instructional plan for SIFE students is designed to work with students who are at an early grade reading level in English and/or their native language. The school provides instruction to assist the student's language, literacy, and content understanding. The ENL teacher works collaboratively with the classroom teachers to support the lesson on developing phonemic awareness and phonic skills using Fundations and Sounds in Motion. Vocabulary development is taught in reading workshop, during both remote and blended learning, through word study and context clues. Reading comprehension and writing is also taught in the reading and writing workshop to help students develop reading comprehension, fluency, and content knowledge. Writing is taught to expand the students core knowledge and to expand and reinforce literacy.

c. Newcomers

Depending on how much the student has progressed over the year, students may continue learning phonemic and phonological awareness through Fundations, a phonemic awareness, early literacy, auditory percepion, and articulation through movement program. The ENL teacher will continue to support newcomer students in the ENL program with Fundations for reading and writing, read alouds for fluency and listening skills. Fundations and read aloud will be used to help students develop and improve reading and comprehension skills with the introduction of new and unfamiliar words. As students progress and start to acquire vocabulary, they are given instruction through guided reading to understand the elements of a story.

d. Long Term ELLs

If a student has been a hold-over in grades K-5, then the school will implement an AIS protocol for the student to receive guided reading instruction in small group work. The student will also be enrolled in after-school for help in mathematical concepts. The student will receive test-preparation for ELA, Math, and the NYSESLAT as well. The Parent Coordinator will continue to keep the parent/guardian apprised of the intervention so that the parent knows the programs available to the student. The school will support former ELLs by allowing for additional exam time during state tests and after school programs with homework and study skills support.

5. What supports does your school provide to ELLs with IEPs to achieve their IEP goals and attain English language proficiency within the least restrictive environment?

The ENL and classroom teachers meet with the School Implementation Team to ensure that ELLs with IEPs are educated in the least restrictive environment. Further, the diverse needs of ELL-SWDs are met in many different ways. Time with the ENL teacher is coordinated with the classroom teacher to best serve the student. Many times the ENL teacher will participate and modify a current lesson in the classroom. At other times a more direct approach is needed and the ENL teacher will pull the student to work in a small targeted group during blended and remote instruction. The classroom teacher as well as the ENL teacher, and the Dual Language teachers work with ELLs with IEPs in small groups for guided reading during the regular school day and during the Title III After School program. A Dual Language teacher in the after-school program will work directly with a group of ELL students. If funding permits, the school will also employ an F-status teacher to work with small groups of student in reading and in math. The F-status teacher will first work with the students in the upper grades in reading and math. After the state-wide tests, the F-status teacher will work with the students in the lower grades. A Dual Language teacher will work with the ELL students during an after-school program to ensure that the ENL scaffolding strategies are used to assist the students as well as their native language of Spanish when necessary. ELLs also have the opportunity to participate in Max Scholar where they will work with a small group of students on their listening and speaking, reading, and writing skills using the computer program and guided reading books. The purpose of the computer reading programs are to help the students strengthen the modalities of reading and listening skills. The classroom teachers will use the Max Scholar program to help students strengthen the reading skills in various standards and skill groups that they are struggling with in order to become more proficient over time. Teacher will assess the student's work to improve the student's grammar skills and sentence structure through the prompted writing PBAs. This will assist the students in improving their writing skills to gain a proficiency in the writing modality.

6. How is home language assessed in each program model (DLBE, TBE, and ENL)?

All ELL students receive instruction based on their diverse student profiles. There are ELLs who may be gifted and there are many with a high level of proficiency in their native language. Others may not be able to read or write their native language, because they have had a limited or interrupted formal education in their own country. Finally, there is a population of ELL students who have been identified as having special needs and have been referred for special education services.The focus of instruction for ENL and DL students is to develop academic English language vocabulary, concepts, and communication skills. ELL students who are part of either the receiving service 4 to 6 years or Long Term ELLs subgroups are also provided with additional small group instruction; when available we address the particular needs of ELL students in our after school program. ELL students receive small group instruction both from our ENL teacher or from a DL teacher. Students work on either literacy concepts or intense work on math skills. The ELLs are placed with a Dual Language teacher who will offer instruction in their Native Language of Spanish were necessary. Native Language support will also be given to the Spanish speaking students in Dual Language by teaching science in Spanish a one day a week from a cluster teacher. This will allow the students in the lower grades of Kindergarten to second grade to develop knowledge and understanding of tier three vocabulary words. The programs will consist of read alouds to obtain an understanding of science concepts necessary to complete hand-on science experiments in groups, pair, and/or individually. In the ENL program, entering and emerging Spanish-speaking ELLs have the opportunity to read Spanish texts in bilingual libraries. Additionally, ELL students in the ENL program have the option to use bilingual dictionaries to further support their language development.

7. (For grades 6-12 only) What language electives are offered to MLs/ELLs? How is your school preparing MLs/ELLs to obtain the New York State Seal of Biliteracy?

N/A

8. Describe systems and structures for supporting co-teaching and collaboration among teachers for all ELL program models available at your school (e.g. integrated co-teaching, Dual Language Bilingual Education teacher partnerships, etc.).

Our ENL teacher is invited to attend weekly professional development sessions with all grade teams. During these planning sessions, the ENL teacher is able to contribute towards the sharing of scaffolds and resources to best support students classified as ELLs.

9. Describe how your overall, annual professional learning plan ensures that all staff – including administrators, teachers and -non-pedagogical staff – incorporates learning specifically related to the academic and social emotional needs of MLs/ELLs. Professional learning topics might include co-teaching strategies, or integrating language and content instruction.

There are a number of professional development opportunities at PS 163 for personnel who work with our ELL students.
Teachers work in grade level teams to develop curriculum and create adaptations to meet the needs of English Language Learners. In addition, teachers meet on Monday afternoons during extended day where they are studying the new Common Core Standards and refining existing units of study and developing the new units of study required by the Department of Education in English language arts and math. Teachers of ELL students participate in these planning sessions and identify the approaches that are needed to adapt and modify the units of study so that ELL students can receive rigorous instruction, and understand underlying concepts that are the heart of each unit of study. Such modifications include a focus on vocabulary, pre-teaching concepts, use of visual aids, small group instruction.

Teachers of ELLs are offered the following professional development (PD) opportunities to support ELLs as they engage in the Common Core Learning Standards: two school wide PD days prior to the start of the school year specifically targeting the implementation of Ready Gen, the Citywide Instructional Expectations, and implementation on the ELA instructional shifts; weekly Monday afternoon extended day professional development (facilitated by the school's administration) on the implementation of the Common Core Learning Standards; opportunities to join any bi-weekly grade level meetings where topics include: alignment of ELA curriculum to best support our students while meeting the needs of our students with disabilities and English Language Learners; school wide Election Day PD; and school wide Chancellor's Day PD.

In addition, our ENL teacher attends all meetings for ELL Leads for Districts 3 and finds ELL-related PDs on the Language Access Coordinator's Monthly Newsletter. Furthermore, all teachers receive professional development on improving academic language in the classroom through our school's Learning Partners Program. Lead teachers involved in this program provides professional development to the staff on collaborative conversation and improving academic discourse in the classroom.

10. Describe your school's professional development plan in order to meet the mandated Continuing Teacher and Leader Education (CTLE) ELL specific hours for certification renewal as per CR Part 154 (15% of total hours for all certified faculty [holders of professional certificates in the classroom teaching service, educational leadership service and level III teaching assistant certificate holders] and 50% of total hours for bilingual education/ENL teachers receive ELL-specific professional development).

P.S. 163 will continue to support ELL students to meet the city and state standards by having the bilingual professional development specialist provide professional development services to teachers in the dual language program and the ENL teacher. The coaches will model lessons for teachers, and help develop and adapt curriculum specifically to meet the needs of second language learners. For the academic school year of 2023-2024, the ELL specialist will meet on a regular basis with the dual language staff to continue the development of a comprehensive Spanish language word study, grammar, and vocabulary development curriculum, which will be aligned to the one, used for English language instruction. In addition, the Dual Language teacher and the ENL teacher will be a part of the school study of the Common Core State Standards to incorporate language goals into all the content areas. Teachers in third, fourth and five grades will meet to plan a unit study curriculum. The focus will be planning an ELA and Math unit to develop a concept and lessons that will help students successfully complete a performance task by including the development of vocabulary, grammar and spelling. All the teachers will participate in weekly grade meeting to discuss and develop curriculum that addresses the needs of ELLs in the Dual Language and the Free-Standing ENL program. Additionally, our school's Learning Partners Program provides professional development to all staff members on the use of academic language in the classroom. Bilingual teachers and the ENL teacher also attend outside workshops specific to ELLs, turnkey information in an on-site training during the Monday professional development time to all teachers. These sessions meet the 15% of hours for all teachers in ELL specific professional development. Bilingual and ENL teachers also have the opportunity to seek out professional development from other institutions such as Bank Street, conferences, and Webinars. The combination of these learning experiences fulfill the 50% of total hours or ELL-specific professional development. In order to track this data, in school trainings keep an agenda and attendance record. Teachers are required to keep their agendas from all outside trainings to ensure attendance.

Assessment

SCREENERS

11. Which screening assessments (e.g.iReady, MAP Growth, Acadience, or STAR Reading) does your school use to guide instructional planning for your ELLs?

Teachers in grades K-2 conduct Acadience assessment with all students. Teachers in grades 3-5 conduct MAP assessments. The Teachers College Running Records are used to guide instructional planning for ELLs. The classroom teacher inputs the student's Fountas and Pinnell level into our school's shared Google Drive. The system then disaggragates the data to determine the ELLs level within the class. ELLs and students with IEP are also highlighted in the shared document, so teachers know what percentage of their students are ELLs and level 1 or 2. ELLs at a level 1 or 2 may be sent to the IEP Teacher for at-risk SETTS.

12. For all grades, list and describe your targeted intervention programs for ELLs in ELA, Math, and other core content areas (specify ELL subgroups targeted). Include the language(s) in which the intervention services are offered.

The classroom teachers as well as the ENL teacher will work with students in small groups for guided, shared, and interactive reading practice. The classroom teacher will group these students during instruction so that the ENL teacher can easily work with the students, during the guided and independent practice portions of the lesson. In addition, the ENL teacher will be working with classroom teachers to provide language support during ELA and math instruction by the classroom teachers inviting the ENL teacher to their Google Classrooms, so that the ENL teacher can offer suggestions as to how to provide language supports to ELL students. In this way, we hope that lesson delivered during instruction are co-planned. Overall, this will infuse more language support into instruction and will assist the classroom teachers in meeting the needs of ELLs. Furthermore, the ENL teacher will attend grade level meetings to plan and to infuse more language supports into classroom instruction. Additionally, our online programs, Max Scholar and Raz-Kids, offer the students the opportunity to read a book at various levels as well as practice reading a book several times to develop fluency and comprehension. It also gives all teachers of ELL students the opportunity to track and monitor the students' progress and comprehension level to customize the reading program for struggling readers to accelerate the students' learning by introducing more difficult texts. The purpose of the computer reading programs are to help the students strengthen the modalities of reading and listening skills. The classroom teachers will use the Max Scholar program to help students strengthen the reading skills in various standards and skill groups that they are struggling with in order to become more proficient over time. Teacher will assess the student's work to improve the student's grammar skills and sentence structure through the prompted writing PBAs. This will assist the students in improving their writing skills to gain a proficiency in the writing modality.

13. For all grades, describe how your school uses data to guide instruction for ELLs within a Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS). Refer to the Instructional Leadership Tool for MLs and ELLs and MTSS Guide for MLs and ELLs to help in the development and implementation of your school's plan for MLs/ELLs.

PS 163 conducts Trimester Talks three times a year. Teaching staff working with students classified as ELLs use NYSESLAT to plan for targeted, small group instruction.

FORMATIVE

14. Which formative assessments (e.g. NYC performance Tasks, ELL Periodic Assessment, HLA Assessment, DRA, teacher-created assessments, etc.) are used to inform and drive instruction?

PS 163 conducts a variety of assessments to help our teachers plan effective instruction for students. Teachers conduct running records four times each year in English using the TCRWP assessments. We also conduct running records in Spanish twice a year. For math, teachers administer a Beginning of Year (BOY) and End of Year (EOY) assessment aligned to the enVisionMath curriculum to measure growth. The exam includes multiple choice questions across grade level standards, which are taught during the school-year. Data is disaggregated based on each standard and teachers use the information to plan groups accordingly. In the DL classrooms students learn math in both English and Spanish. These assessments in addition to the NYSESLAT, ELA and Math state tests provide information to help us plan more effectively for our students. The running records in both languages allow the teachers to effectively plan to help the students gain understanding in the areas that are causing difficulty. Running records reveal deficiencies in decoding, comprehension, and responding to literal and inferential questions based on texts. It reveals students' reading levels and provides a targeted gap analysis for teachers to use to create small groups and differentiated educational paths. Tracking the running records has also allowed teachers to see the students' growth overtime. The data from small group work showed continuous growth in the lower grades. However, in the upper grades when the reading began to advance at higher levels, it was difficult for the students to reach the prescribed reading level for their grade based on the TCRWP level. Often the rate of growth decreases as the texts become more difficult. Despite this, ELLs did continue to grow to a new reading level. In addition, PS163 uses current NYSESLAT and NYSITELL scores to guide instructional planning for our ELLs. More specifically, the scores are used for instructional groupings for ENL instruction or for instructional groupings in our Dual Language program. Furthermore, ENL students take a beginning of year and mid-year practice NYSESLAT. The practice NYSESLAT is taken from NYSESLAT questions availible on EngageNY. This practice NYSESLAT is used to determine specific areas of need in Reading, Writing, Listening, and Speaking, and data obtained from these assessments are used for instructional planning.

Moreover, each grade (K-5) has its own year-long instructional calendar located in the school's Google Drive account. This spreadsheet contains all units of study in math, reading, writing, science, and social studies, and an assessment calendar that all teachers prescribe to. In addition, the assessment calendars outline when TCRWP running records must be completed and inputted into each teacher's trimester folder in Google Drive. The spreadsheet for TCRWP running records in the trimester folder highlights level 1 students in red, level 2 students in yellow, level 3 students in green, and level 4 students in blue. These structures help teachers use formative assessments to guide instructional planning for ELLs.

15. How do you ensure that MLs/ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their home languages throughout the year?

As part of the literacy program, students in the Dual Language program receive reading and writing instruction in both languages simultaneously. In reading and writing, we use the Teachers College Readers workshop and ReadyGen. We augment the workshop with other aspects of balanced literacy. The literacy program provides instruction in all aspects of balanced literacy in both languages including guided reading, shared reading and interactive read aloud. Phonemic awareness and early phonological processing skills are taught in both languages. Fundations is the program PS 163 has adopted for English language instruction. Each classroom has two libraries, which includes various leveled text in both languages. Guided reading is essential for building capacity for reading and guided reading sets are available in both languages. Literacy assessments of running records are conducted in both English and Spanish. Teachers monitor students growing capacity to read and comprehend in both languages. The levels obtained in conducting running records will assist us in providing rigorous guided reading instruction. The PS 163 Dual Language program received a grant from a private organization to purchase non-fiction books in Spanish to supplement our Spanish book closet and the classrooms. These books are used by teachers for guided reading and other small group instruction. We use the Teachers College Writers workshop model and ReadyGen as the basis for writing instruction in both languages. In addition to using the writing units, teachers will teach content area writing skills in both languages. Teachers' lesson plans also included language objectives. They expect to teach for each unit of study and work on those goals should be visible during each lesson. ?

Dual Language Classroom Environmental Supports:
Charts are color coded for ease of recognition of each language. Word walls and specialized content area word walls are available in both languages. Word study is conducted in both languages. Environmental supports including charts will be designed as references for students. ENL teaching practices and strategies are used during instruction. Rigorous homework will be available in both English and Spanish to reinforce classroom instruction.?
Math in the Dual Language Classroom:?
GoMath is taught in both languages in kindergarten through fifth grades. Manipulatives and games support math instruction as they acquire mathematical concepts. Math workshops for parents are conducted in both languages.
Science and Social Studies in the Dual Language Classroom:
Instruction in science and social studies is delivered using a variety of materials, techniques and field trips take place in both languages. Lab science is taught in English, but classroom teachers support that work in Spanish. In kindergarten, the science (FOSS) and social studies themes are integrated into all areas of the curriculum. For example, teachers select books for the read aloud that are related to the science and social studies themes. Center activities provide the students with additional opportunities to learn science and social studies concepts as well as develop oral academic language. In addition, to whatever extent possible, cluster subjects are scheduled in the language of the day. Our music teacher who does not speak Spanish teaches songs in Spanish.

SUMMATIVE

16. Which summative assessments (e.g. NYSESLAT, ELA, Math, Regents, etc.) are used to evaluate the effectiveness of your ML/ELL programs and how does it inform instructional design and curricular decisions? (Refer to the ELL Data Analysis Tool).

PS163 uses the NYS ELA exam, the NYSITELL, and the NYSESLAT for our summative and baseline assessments. Data provided from these assessments are used to identify baseline, progress, and areas of need. The data reveals that the majority of our ELLs require further support in academic writing. Therefore, the primary focus of ENL instruction is improving the academic writing produced from texts read aloud or text read independently. Instruction focuses on inproving students' abilities to provide text-based answers to speific writing prompts.

The principal and assistant principal conduct trimester talks with teachers twice a year. During those conversations, teachers use summative, along with formative data, to identify students in need of additional academic support. Teachers and administrators together complete a trimester talk form, which outlines specific interventions for each student identified as needing additional academic support. P.S. 163 Alfred E. Smith also offers a morning reading program called Max Scholar to struggling students in grades K-5, Exam Sophistication afterschool to students in grades 3-5. They have a Title III afterschool program for ELL's and partner with the JCC for tutoring

17. What is your NYSESLAT administration plan? How does your school ensure that all ELLs are tested with the NYSESLAT annually? Include the titles of the staff that will administer and score the assessment. Please describe your plan to ensure that all ELLs and former ELLs continue to receive mandated instruction during the testing period.

The NYSESLAT will primarily be administered by the ENL teacher and another licensed language pedagogue. The Speaking section will be administered to ENL students by the licensed language teacher, and the ENL teacher will administer the NYSESLAT to the ELL students in the Dual Language program. The Listening, Reading, and Writing sections of the exam will be administered by grade. The ENL teacher will administer the exam to students in K-2, and the IEP Teacher will administer the exam to students 3-5. As much as possible, the exam will begin in the mornings, so that afternoon time is available for ELL instruction. In regards to scoring, we will be utilizing the IEP Teacher, a Classroom Teacher, and a Dual Language teacher to score the assessment.

18. How does your school ensure that current and former ELLs receive necessary accommodations for state assessments, including the Specialized High School Admissions Test (SHSAT) if applicable?

The school's testing coordinator surveys classroom teachers in the testing grades to ensure all student-mandated accommodations such as questions read aloud or separate locations are being implemented.

Part VI: Family Partnership

Family Partnership

Required Meetings Under CR Part 154

Describe your schools' plan to ensure families of ELLs are provided with the required meetings specified below as per CR Part 154. Include:

- Topics discussed during these meetings
- How your school ensures families receive necessary translation/interpretation supports to meaningfully engage in the meetings
- How your school schedules these meetings to facilitate attendance, and how your school maintains evidence of these meetings as required per the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs.

a. ELL Program Orientation to inform parents/guardians of newly identified ELLs of ELL program options, including the program goals and requirements for all three ML/ELL program models: Dual Language Bilingual Education, Transitional Bilingual Education and English as a New Language regardless of whether the school currently has either type of bilingual program and provide a high-quality orientation section on the Next Generation Learning Standards, assessments, and school expectations for English Language Learners.

Families will receive written and email notifications about ELL Program Orientation. During the orientation, our school's ENL teacher will present to families the three ML/ELL program models: Dual Language Bilingual Education, Transitional Bilingual Education and English as a New Language. In addition, the orientation will cover Next Generation Standards.

b. Annual Individual Meeting to discuss goals of the program, language development progress, language proficiency assessment results, and language development needs in all content areas. Note: this meeting is separate from and does not include the mandated ELL program orientation meeting and DOE-scheduled parent-teacher conferences.

Our ENL teacher sends out invitation letters and emails for annual individual meetings. During these meetings, our families review their children's goals alongside our ENL teacher. These meetings take place once a year.

Family Engagement

2. Beyond the mandated meetings and orientations, describe how your school:
a. Ensures families receive all school communications and documents in the language they best understand. How are families able to respond or initiate communications in languages other than English?

Families receive communication in their language of choice. All school-wide documents are translated to Spanish which is the language of choice for the majority of our families.

b. Develops activities that foster empowerment for families of MLs/ELLs. Include how your school determines the needs of your community.

PTA sends out weekly emails in English and Spanish inviting families to join school events. Some events include schoolwide fairs, wellness activities, and committees. We use collected language preference information to send out information in a parent's language of choice.

c. Ensures families of MLs/ELLs are aware of family leadership opportunities (such as Parent Association (PA), School Leadership Team (SLT), Community Education Council (CEC), etc.)

All schoolwide documents are sent out in a parent's language of choice.

3. What culturally and linguistically responsive partnerships do you currently have that support the needs of your school community?

We piloted the Black Education Research Center (BERC) units of study. The BERC program targets Black education, bringing more culturally responsive texts into the classrooms. In addition, during monthly Cafe 163, our school administrators host sessions that target culturally responsive classrooms.

Part VII: Additional Information

Additional Information

Include any additional information that is relevant to your LAP and would further explain and highlight how your school supports MLs/ELLs. This form does not allow graphics and charts to be pasted.

PS 163 offers monthly parent Cafe 163 sessions. Topics include how PS 163 supports all learners by focusing on culturally responsive pedagogy. Families can learn about various cultures' benefits while building bonds and community with all families across the school.

Part VIII: ELL Identification Attestation and Principal Certification

Identification Plan

For additional information, refer to ELL Identification Attestation Professional Learning Module.

1. What are the titles of the members of your ELL identification team? Note: Members of the ELL identification team must be pedagogues.

ELL teacher and Dual Language teacher.

2. Describe the structures and process in place for identification of ELLs year-round as required by the NYC DOE Policy & Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, including your school's identification plan for any incoming students with an Individualized Education Plan (IEP). Include:

- How your school proactively plans for the ELL identification process so that it does not interrupt the provision of mandated ENL and/or bilingual instruction to current, former and potential ELLs,
- Who is responsible for each step of the ELL identification process, and
- School's plan for ensuring ELLs and former ELLs will continue to receive mandated instruction.

The ELL Teacher has a team, document, and process in place so that when a student is newly enrolled, interruption for mandated ENL and/or bilingual instruction does not occur.

Principal Certification

In accordance with New York State's Commissioner's Regulations Part 154 as outlined and implemented in the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, I, attest that the following ELL identification procedures and activities are adhered to, and staff are trained on the items listed below.

- The ELL Identification Process is completed for each student within 10 school days of enrollment (20 school days for students entering with IEPs).
- Enrollment status of each newly admitted student is determined:
  a. If a student has been in New York State public schools within the past 2 years, our school contacts the previous school to obtain ELL status, relevant assessment scores, and English language proficiency level.
  b. If a student has been outside of New York State public schools for more than 2 years, our school administers the ELL Identification Process as part of reentry.

- The home language of the student is determined by a trained and licensed pedagogue.
  a. The parent completes the Home Language Identification Survey in the parent's preferred language; translation services are provided by a bilingual staff member, the DOE's over-the-phone translation services, or an alternative, high quality translation service.

- An interview with parents and students in English and the home language is conducted. This includes reviewing documents, prior assessments, and academic experience. An assessment of the student's abilities and/or work samples determines the student's literacy and math level in his/her home language.
- Eligibility for the NYSITELL is determined.
  a. If the newly enrolled student is entering with an IEP, the school's Language Proficiency Team (LPT) recommends eligibility to the principal, who obtains final approval from the superintendent.

- Students are administered the NYSITELL, if eligible.
- Notification letters are sent to the parent/guardian in their preferred language.
  a. Parent is notified of their child's ELL status and results of the NYSITELL.

- If the student is identified as an ELL and the student's home language is Spanish, the student is administered the Spanish Language Assessment Battery (LAB).
- Student with Interrupted/Inconsistent Formal Education (SIFE) status is determined using New York State's resources.
- If a student is a newly identified ELL, the parent is invited to the parent orientation meeting.
  a. The parent orientation meeting provides parents/guardians with an explanation of each ELL program model offered in NYC; the parent video describing the three programs is presented (in parent's preferred language); parents/guardians are encouraged to ask questions so that they are informed about all ELL programs; translation and interpretation services are provided throughout the meeting.

- ELL is placed in the ELL program that the parent selected.
  a. If the bilingual program that the parent selected is not available, the parent is offered a transfer to a school with that bilingual program in accordance with NYC DOE transfer policies.
  b. If the ELL remains in the school, the ELL is placed in English as a New Language and our school keeps track of parent selection so that when minimum thresholds are met, we can open the ELL program of choice.

- Parents are notified that they have 45 days to appeal the ELL status of their child (ELL Re-identification Process).
- If the ELL Re-identification Process is implemented for any student, the principal reviews the decision of any student whose ELL status was changed because of the ELL Re-identification Process within 6 to 12 months.
- Copies of documentation regarding ELL identification, including letters and parent notifications are kept in the students' cumulative files.

LTI Overview and Part A: Designation of a LAC

Chancellor's Regulation A-663 establishes procedures for ensuring that Limited-English-Proficient (LEP) parents of students enrolled in the New York City public schools are provide with a meaningful opportunity to participate in and have access to programs and services critical to their child's education. To this end, schools must review and complete the annual LTI Plan to address its language assistance needs consistent with the requirements of this regulation.

The LTI Plan requires information on the following:

- Name of person designated as the Language Access Coordinator (LAC).
- Identification and assessment of LEP parent population.
- Identification of Critical Communications and standing, in-person meetings throughout the school year that require language assistance services and how the school plans to respond to these needs.
- Plan to ensure staff awareness of language access requirements and available resources.
- Provision of notice to parents on the available language assistance services.

Methods for the school to solicit and implement feedback on its provision of language assistance services.

Designation of a LAC
Name of person designated and trained as the LAC.
At the start of each school year, each principal is required to designate at least one staff member to serve as the Language Access Coordinator (LAC), responsible for overseeing language assistance services within the school.

We have pre-populated the following information based on our records. REQUIREMENTS

Title III supplemental services for English Language Learners (ELLs) must include the following three components:

- Direct instruction activities must be used to support language development, English and home language instruction, high academic achievement in math, and/or high academic achievement in other core academic areas. The Title III supplemental instructional services must be based on student need. These supplemental services should complement core bilingual and ENL services required under CR Part 154. Direct supplemental services should be provided for before school, after school, and Saturday programs. Teachers providing the services must be bilingual education and/or English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) certified teachers.

Note: The Title III ELL program planning ratio is as follows: 60% to direct instruction, 10% to professional development (if funded using Title III ELL funds), 10% to parent engagement (if funded using Title III ELL funds), and 20% to OTPS (if funded using Title III ELL funds).

For more information on Title III requirements, please see the School Allocation Memo or contact your ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance and Performance Specialist. Any updates or revisions to this plan must be made through the iPlan portal.
