Section 1: Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Comprehensive Education Planning (CEP) is a structured, data-driven process that guides schools in assessing their needs, identifying areas for growth, setting strategic goals and implementing targeted actions to improve student outcomes. Collaboratively developed by the School Leadership Team (SLT) in accordance with the requirements of Chancellor's Regulation A-655, the CEP meets New York State Education Department (NYSED) requirements under the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) and aligns with NYC Public Schools' (NYCPS) system-wide priorities. By engaging all stakeholders—school leaders, teachers, families, students and community members—schools can create a data-informed, equity-focused roadmap for student success and continuous improvement.

Schools should focus their CEP on the five system-wide priorities below, connecting their planning to the data discussions and conversations with stakeholders held as part of the school's needs assessment:

- Priority 1: All students learn to read well
- Priority 2: All students are physically and emotionally safe
- Priority 3: All students have a high-quality academic experience
- Priority 4: All students graduate college and career ready and have a strong plan and pathway to economic security
- Priority 5: All districts and schools are more inclusive and responsive for parents and families, including having more families choose NYC Public Schools

The Education Planning Process

The CEP follows an equity-driven, continuous improvement cycle, rooted in the system-wide priorities. This begins with a comprehensive needs assessment of the school's most current data to identify priority needs and root causes. Next, the SLT establishes specific, measurable, attainable, relevant, and timely—SMART goal(s) aligned to each priority and determines targets to measure progress toward meeting the annual goals.

The SLT and instructional leaders define key evidence-based key strategies, professional learning activities and parent, family and community empowerment efforts. They monitor the implementation of those strategies and activities and track progress through measurable targets. Then, the SLT aligns the school-based budget with human and instructional resources to support action plans.

As schools set goals, develop key strategies, and plan action steps, they provide opportunities for all children to meet NYSED's proficient and advanced levels of student academic achievement. These include evidence based instructional strategies that address the educational needs of historically underserved populations and tackle structural inequities. Schools indicate how the plan addresses the needs of Multilingual/English Language Learners (ML/ELL) through development of the school's Language Allocation Policy (LAP) & Title III Application (if applicable) and the Language Translation and Interpretation (LTI) Plan, that are required as part of the CEP. Schools also address the needs of Students with Disabilities (SWD) through the High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities section of the plan. SLTs also develop a plan to improve attendance and reduce chronic absenteeism.

Guidance on Conducting a Comprehensive Needs Assessment

Directions: Conduct a comprehensive needs assessment for each Priority. The information below provides guidance for reviewing and analyzing student and school performance trends to uncover root causes for low student achievement.

1. Review Multiple Data Sources: Use the most current and available information including, but not limited to, the following sources of formative and summative data, as applicable:

- Qualitative and quantitative data, including enrollment and class size trends
- 2024-25 ESSA Accountability Data
- Instructional Leadership Framework (ILF), Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) Inventories, and NYC School Survey results
- Quality Review Reports, NYSED and NYCPS CSI or A/TSI Support Visits, Receivership Quarterly Reports, and Diagnostic Tool for School and District Effectiveness Framework (DTSDE)
- NYC School Quality Guide, Insight, New Visions, NWEA MAP and/or other formative assessment data, IEP Review Survey Data, Progress on IEP Goals Data, Program (SESIS-STARS Linkage) Reports, Mandated (Related) Services Reports, and NYCPS Tools for Understanding Your Data for student subgroup information

2. Analyze Data Trend(s) to Identify Areas of Strength and Need: Identify data trends by grade, cohort, and content area(s) to surface gaps and inequities. Compare data sets to identify instructional and school practices that are impacting student performance. Guiding questions to consider:

- What does the data reveal about improving and declining student performance trends within grades, cohorts, and student subgroups?
- What inequities are evident between highest and lowest performing student subgroups? Which subgroup(s) scored at Level 1 based on NYSED ESSA accountability indicators?
- What does the data suggest regarding the effectiveness (or ineffectiveness) of current school programs, practices, and/or strategies/initiatives? What areas may need to be strengthened?
- Are there any differences in student performance between program delivery models for ML/ELL and SWD? (e.g., for special education: special class, ICT, SETSS, related services only; for ML/ELL: Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) vs. Dual Language, etc.)
- How does delivery of instruction factor into data trends? What are the implications for teacher quality and professional learning?
- What inequities in special education referral and school disciplinary practices (e.g. suspensions, removals) are evident between student subgroups with IEPs?

3. Identify Root Cause(s): After analyzing the data, engage in a process for uncovering root causes or contributing factors for low student and school performance. Develop theories or hypotheses to explain why these needs exist and why your school is getting its current outcomes. Root causes could be related to gaps and inequities in areas such as curriculum & instruction, school systems & structures, student support services, school climate & safety, and family & community engagement. Focus on the causes, rather than the symptoms. Use the 5 Whys Method or other methods for identifying root causes. Consider the questions below:

- What theories or hypotheses explain the current student and school outcomes?
- Are there root causes specific to certain subgroups, grades, cohorts, or content area(s)?

Additional resources and supports are available below.

- Use this CEP Needs Assessment Worksheet to help your SLT and stakeholders identify appropriate data sources, data trends, root causes and priority needs.
- For guidance and best practices on engaging stakeholders in a comprehensive needs assessment and root cause analysis, see this deck.
- A current list of all CEP/Title I resources can be found on the iPlan Portal Public Resources Page.

Section 4: School Summary

Accountability Status

School Summary

Directions: Complete this CEP Summary to serve as the "at-a-glance" narrative that provides contextual information about your school's unique characteristics. This summary and the entire Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) should be shared with your school community. Please note that this summary and the CEP will be made available to the public through the iPlan Portal, an online space where school stakeholders can go to collaborate in the development of the school's education plans.

Provide your school's mission statement:

Our collective Mission Statement was first written with all staff member's input in 2014. As we evolved, so has our Mission. This year we again collectively reflected and normed our beliefs about the important work being done as a PS 230 community. This is our updated Mission Statement:

At PS 230, our mission is to nurture self-directed, inquisitive learners, who embrace educational challenges. We believe in empowering students to thrive as independent contributors to both the local and global community.

By cultivating a safe and emotionally supportive environment, we commit to nurturing the growth of well-rounded individuals by acknowledging that each student's daily experiences are the basis of their self-identity, self-assurance, self-worth, and capacity to envision aspirations far beyond our school community.

All of our stakeholders work collaboratively to tailor curriculum to ensure diverse learning to meet all styles and interests. Central to our value is a respect for each child's individual needs. Guided by these values, our teaching is continually evolving to mirror our student's evolving potential and needs. Professional collaboration fuels our pursuit of pedagogical excellence.

We embrace families as integral partners in the educational process, recognizing their partnership within our instructional team. In our instructional approach, we spotlight student representation, ensuring that learning reflects their unique perspectives. Our ultimate mission is to equip students with an appreciation for diversity, fostered through enriching cultural exchanges at PS 230.

Develop a narrative summary that includes contextual information about your school's community and its unique/important characteristics and partnerships:

Include demographic information about your school's student population.

P.S. 230 is a unique community that prides itself on our diversity. We serve pre-kindergarten through 5th grade in the Kensington section of Brooklyn. We have approximately 1000 students that encompass 15 different languages and dialects.

We have a rich Arts program supplemented from funding from our school events as well as our parents through contributions to our PTA. This provides Arts enrichment during the year with a music program from Ms. Suzi (Musician in Residency) in grades pre-k through 1st, Violin in 2nd, Creative Stages theatrical in 3rd and LEAP in 4th and 5th.

We partner with Singing Winds to provide cultural enrichment through various celebrations such as Day of the Dead, Bengali New Year, and Chinese New Year. Last year Singing Winds also began an in-school and after school arts enrichment program.

We have chess lessons and a Chess Team that offers enrichment throughout the school year.

We have a partnership with SAYA (South Asian Youth Action) organization for students in grades 4 & 5 that offers mentorship beyond the classroom to students of all cultures to help "confidently grow into engaged community leaders ready for college, career and personal success".

We have a family ambassador program to identify community family members who are interested in taking a leadership role in welcoming new families to the PS 230 community. There are representatives for each of the dominant languages and cultures existing at PS 230. Additionally the serve as the school/home bridge to PS 230.

Briefly summarize the key initiatives your school will implement this school year.

PS 230 will be improving foundational literacy instructional practices through creating data specific practices on teams that help teachers to individualize instruction. This work is stemming from members of the ILT attending Harvard's Data Wise convention in June 2023. We are fully implementing the HMH Into Reading and Writing Curriculum this year as a school wide-roll out in grades Kindergarten through 5th grade. We will also be fully training and implementing Second Step Social Emotional Curriculum in every classroom to support the SEL work school-wide.

Priority 1 Data Trends, Root Causes and Priority Needs

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

1. Data Trend(s) (Cite Data Source & Year)	2. Root Cause(s)	3. Priority Needs
Approximately 172 students performed in the bottom 1/16th on the MOY ELA screener.	Long term travel, chronical absenteeism,	Intervention training, scheduled intervention, AIS staff
30% of students scored a level 1 or 2 on the State ELA exam.	Long term travel, chronical absenteeism,	Intervention training, scheduled intervention, AIS staff

Priority 1

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing school data trends, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for literacy outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Systemwide Focus Areas for Literacy

- Implement the strategies outlined in NYC Reads, including foundational phonics curriculum for grades K-2
- Implement dyslexia screening, professional learning, and program pilots (as applicable)
- Support literacy development through the integration of culturally responsive-sustaining texts and content

Priority 1 SMART Goal(s)

Target Population	Baseline Data	SMART Goal
English Language Learners (ELL)	65%	By June, 2026, literacy for English Language Learners (ELL) will improve, as measured by a 10% Decrease, from 65% to 55%, of percentage of ENL students scoring in the bottom 1/16th on the ELA Academic Screeners.

Priority 1 Progress Measures and Targets

Directions: It is expected that progress monitoring, based on interim outcome data, occurs at three progress monitoring periods during the school year. Identify what your school would expect to see at the end of each period to know if you are on track to reach the identified goal(s). The progress monitoring targets can be a percentage or a number and should reflect a sufficient improvement in outcomes to meet the goal. Priority 1 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

* Use Solved Data to show growth vs. Benchmark
"True Peers"-MLs and ELLs are a multifaceted and diverse group. Using true peer comparison can provide a more accurate and equitable portrait of their performance, as well as surface whether that performance is more characteristic of the subgroup or the individual.

Root Cause Addressed:

Understanding data and using targeted measures to gauge specific standard needed in order to deliver targeted intervention during daily intervention time.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Renew SOLVED data platform.
Schedule SOLVED training for new staff.
Schedule SOLVED reminder training for continuing staff.

Key Strategy 2 (Optional):

All K-5 will have mandated 30 minute intervention each day (aka Tiger Time)

Root Cause Addressed:

Small group intervention that is targeted, scheduled, and research driven.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
K: Will implement OG explicit instruction daily for 30 minutes.
All K-5 will have mandated 30 minute intervention each day (aka Tiger Time)
By the end of the school 24-25 year 90% of teachers will be trained in the tier 2 intervention of S.P.I.R.E

Implementation Monitoring: Indicate your primary structures to progress monitor implementation of key strategies and action steps. Include specific data/evidence you will collect and use to determine progress and impact on instruction, student learning, and achievement.

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

Note: For ESSA accountability purposes, NYSED will replace the Chronic Absenteeism indicator with the Attendance indicator, beginning in the 2025-26 school year. Learn more about the new Attendance indicator by reviewing this Fact Sheet.

Attendance/Chronic Absenteeism SMART Goal(s)

Target Population	Baseline Data	SMART Goal
All Students	45%	By June, 2026, the Chronic Absenteeism Rate for students in PreKindergarten and Kindergarten will decrease by 10%, from 45% to 35%, as measured by the percentage of students considered chronically absent.

Attendance/Chronic Absenteeism Progress Measures and Targets

Directions: It is expected that progress monitoring, based on interim outcome data, occurs at three progress monitoring periods during the school year. Identify what your school would expect to see at the end of each period to know if you are on track to reach the identified goal(s). The progress monitoring targets can be a percentage or a number and should reflect a sufficient improvement in outcomes to meet the goal. Attendance/Chronic Absenteeism Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Informing parents of attendance protocol at the start of the year through a 3K & 4K Family Attendance Forum as well as a Kindergarten Family Attendance Forum (compact).

Root Cause Addressed:

Communicating the importance of attendance on the foundational learning and growth in Prek and Kindergarten.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities Data Trends, Root Causes and Priority Needs

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

Schools are encouraged to think critically and strategically when considering resources that can support progress towards CEP goals for students with IEPs. This includes utilizing Title I funding for at-risk speech and/or counseling services, all-staff training in supporting students with autism, sensory materials, summer institute geared at the development of executive functioning skills, and/or inclusion coaching support. Section 6: Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS)

Academic Support

NYCPS Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) align with NYSED guidelines for providing Academic Intervention Services (AIS) to students who have not yet met state standards or are considered to be at-risk of not meeting state standards. The Multi-tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) framework, organizes supports into three tiers:

Tier 1 provides schoolwide, high-quality programming for all students, including SWDs;

Tier 2 offers data informed small-group interventions for at-promise students; and

Tier 3 delivers intensive, individualized support for students with persistent needs.

This facilitates the strategic planning and necessary resource alignment to ensure their school community appropriately and adequately serves all students well, in partnership with students and families.

MTSS identifies the academic support services to be provided and ensures that students receive Response to Intervention (RtI) and Positive Behavioral Interventions and Support (PBIS) strategies as needed. See NYSED's memo to view the criteria for determining AIS services. The Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) offers a wide range of evidence-based Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions and supports for student social-emotional, behavioral, physical and mental wellness, with particular attention to the unique needs of students in Temporary Housing and/or Foster Care, who may face additional challenges related to school stability, trauma and access to educational resources. A culturally responsive-sustaining approach to intervention embeds culturally relevant texts and historical narratives into literacy and social studies interventions, ensuring students receive the support that reflects their identities and lived experiences, increasing engagement and achievement.

Use the charts below and a Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) to match academic, social/emotional, behavioral and instructional resources with student needs to provide targeted support for all learners, especially at-risk students who experience difficulty meeting state standards, including those living in Temporary Housing and/or residing in Foster Care placements. Indicate specialized materials, technology-based tools and/or extra instruction, including Expanded Learning Time that supplement school-wide systems & supports and/or classroom level supports. Ensure that interventions address the unique social-emotional, behavioral and academic challenges faced by culturally and linguistically diverse students, as well as those impacted by housing instability and child welfare system involvement.

Directions: Complete the chart and identify Tier 2 or 3 MTSS Academic supports. Any Tier 2/3 interventions should be in addition to the foundational work being done at Tier 1.

Students in Temporary Housing (STH) Support

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-STH Section and in accordance with the federal McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act and Chancellor's Regulation A-780, schools must identify, serve, and report on students living in temporary housing (STH). All Title I and non-Title I schools receive a Title I allocation for STH students. The Students in Temporary Housing (STH) website provides guidance on STH pupils and how these funds can be used to meet their needs, as well as restrictions. For more information on acceptable uses of the mandated Title I, Part A set-aside to support your STH population, please refer to the Title I STH Funds Toolkit.

Identify the number of Students in Temporary Housing who are currently attending your school and provide a breakdown of their temporary housing status. Since the number of STH children can change regularly, schools must carefully track this number to determine whether there has been an increase in need.

Number of students in temporary housing who are:

- Doubled up (with friends or relatives because they cannot find or afford housing):
- Living in a shelter or transitional shelter:
- Living in a hotel/motel:
- Other

*Note: In keeping with established practices regarding personally identifiable information, use the letter "s" to identify a number less than five (5).

We have 102 students in Temporary Housing, approximately 11 % of our total population.
Ninety-six students are Doubled Up, five students are in the Shelter system and one student is categorized as "Other temporary living situation".

This number has historically been about 10% of our total population at any given enrollment number.

After a careful analysis of historical demographic, attendance and achievement data for your STH population, what trends do you notice, and how can these trends inform the services and support provided for this population?

After analysis of needs for our STH students we noticed that there was not a historical correlation to attendance concerns, as 63% of our STH students have an attendance rate above 90%. We did identify that 57% of these students are identified as English as a New Language student and 23% of these students have an IEP. Finally, 11% of the total STH population has an IEP and is identified as an ENL student. Therefore we have ensured to align funding to intervention afterschool that supports diverse learning and language acquisition.

Describe the services you are planning to provide to the STH population. How were those services selected to best meet students' needs? How will you (or did you) utilize the STH Title I Survey to select services aligned to need?

Students will be provided with any basic necessities and supplies that are needed. They will be provided with any support services and the Team Roaree will review any needed supplemental supports. After analysis of needs for our STH students we noticed that there was not a historical correlation to attendance concerns, as 63% of our STH students have an attendance rate above 90%. Prioritizing Students in Foster Care

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-Child Child Abuse and Neglect Intervention and Prevention School Plan and in accordance with the federal Education Law 3244 – Education of Children in Foster Care (Effective 2018) establishes the rights of students placed, or moved, in foster care to:

- Continue attending school of origin if determined to be in their best interest, or, if not, attend school near foster care placement,
- Immediate enrollment, and
- Transportation, if necessary to attend school of origin

Please respond to the questions below.

How many students in foster care are currently enrolled at your school? Provide a detailed breakdown of the social-emotional and academic supports available to them.

We currently do not have students in the foster care system.

What targeted supports are in place for students in foster care, including those newly transitioning into the foster care system? How does your school ensure these students receive the necessary interventions to promote stability and success?

n/a

After analyzing historical demographic, attendance, and achievement data for students in foster care, what trends have emerged? How can these insights be used to improve the services and support provided to this population?

n/a

Section 7: Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Directions: The Parent and Family Engagement Policy should describe how your school will plan and implement effective parent and family engagement activities and/or strategies to improve student academic achievement and school performance. The School-Parent Compact (SPC) is a component of the Parent and Family Engagement Policy (PFEP) that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share this responsibility.

The activities and/or strategies included in your school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy should align with current Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) goals for improving student achievement and should be developed or updated with input and feedback from parent leaders and the Parent Coordinator. In addition, if the school community will be engaged in central parent engagement initiatives, such as Parent Academy, which will provide training for school communities to help strengthen family-school partnerships, please be sure to include these activities in the school's policy.

In Title I schools, the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) represents the Title I parent community in supporting parent and family engagement. The Title I PAC Chairperson will serve in a consultative role with the SLT representing the school's Title I parents. Schools are encouraged to use the sample Parent and Family Engagement and SPC templates below (which meet federal Title I parent and family engagement requirements) as guidance for updating the school's current policy.

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental engagement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent and family engagement policy that will establish expectations and objectives for meaningful parent and family engagement in the school community. 15k230, in compliance with Section 1116 of Title I, Part A of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), is responsible for creating and implementing a parent and family engagement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between the school and the families. The school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), and Title I Parent Advisory Council as trained volunteers and welcomed members of the school community.

Support for Parents and Family Members of Title I Students

PS 230 will support parents and family members of Title I students by:
- providing materials and training to help parents work with their children to improve their achievement level, e.g., literacy, math and use of technology;
- providing parents with the information and training needed to effectively become involved in planning and decision making in support of the education of their children;
- fostering a caring and effective home-school partnership to ensure that parents can effectively support and monitor their child's progress;
- providing assistance to parents in understanding City, State and Federal standards and assessments;
- sharing information about school and parent related programs, meetings and other activities in a format, and in languages that parents can understand;
- providing professional learning opportunities for school staff with the assistance of parents to improve outreach, communication skills and cultural competency in order to build stronger ties between parents and other members of the school community;

Parental Involvement and School Quality

The school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy was designed based upon a careful assessment of the needs of all parents/guardians, including parents/guardians of Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners (ML/ELL), and students with disabilities. The school community, with the meaningful involvement of parents and family members, will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent and family engagement policy with Title I parents to improve the academic quality of the school. The findings of the evaluation through school surveys and feedback forms will be used to design strategies to more effectively meet the needs of parents and family members and enhance the school's Title I program. This information will be maintained by the school.

In developing the Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy, parents of Title I participating students, parent members of the school's Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), as well as parent members of the School Leadership Team, were consulted on the proposed Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and asked to survey their members for additional input. To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, the school will:
- actively involve and engage parents and family members in the planning, review and evaluation of the effectiveness of the school's Title I program as outlined in the School Comprehensive Education Plan, including the implementation of the school's Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact;
- engage all parents in discussion and decisions regarding the required Title I, 1% set-aside funds, which are allocated directly to the school to supplement parent and family engagement activities, including family literacy and parenting skills;
- ensure that the Title I funds allocated for parent and family engagement are utilized to implement activities and strategies as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and the School-Parent Compact;
- support school-level committees that include parents who are members of the School Leadership Team, the Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Advisory Council. This includes providing technical support and ongoing professional learning, especially in developing leadership skills;
- maintain a Parent Coordinator (or a dedicated staff person) to serve as a liaison between the school and families. The Parent Coordinator or a dedicated staff person will provide parent workshops based on the assessed needs of the parents of children who attend the school and will work to ensure that the school environment is welcoming and inviting to all parents. The Parent Coordinator will also maintain a log of events and activities planned for parents each month and file a report with the central office.;
- conduct parent workshops with topics that may include: parenting skills, understanding educational accountability grade-level curriculum and assessment expectations; literacy, accessing community and support services; and technology training to build parents' capacity to help their children at home;

- provide opportunities for parents to help them understand the accountability system, e.g., ESSA/State accountability system, student proficiency levels, Annual School Report Card, School Quality Report, Quality Review Report, Learning Environment Survey Report;
- host the required Annual Title I Parent Meeting each school year to advise parents of children participating in the Title I program about the school's Title I funded program(s), their right to be involved in the program and the parent and family engagement requirements under Title I, Part A, Section 1116 and other applicable sections under ESSA;
- schedule additional parent meetings, e.g., quarterly meetings, with flexible times, such as meetings in the morning or evening, to share information about the school's educational program and other initiatives of the Chancellor and allow parents to provide suggestions;
- translate all critical school documents and provide interpretation during meetings and events as needed.

Encouraging School-Level Parental Involvement

The school will further encourage school-level parent and family engagement by:
- hosting educational family events/activities during Parent-Teacher Conferences and throughout the school year;
- encouraging meaningful parent participation on School Leadership Teams, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Advisory Council;

Title I Program Information

Part 1: Title I Program Type

Title I Requirements and Strengthening Title I Parent Involvement: Under USDOE's Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), Title I schools are required to address professional learning and parent and family engagement in the Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP). To strengthen parent leadership in Title I schools, and increase the involvement of all parents of Title I eligible children in improving students' academic outcomes, all Title I schools are required to establish a Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) that will serve as the consultative and representative body for all Title I parents in the school to provide voice into the spending of Title I funds.

The SLT is responsible for facilitating consultation with the Title I Parent Advisory Council regarding the joint development of the CEP, Parent and Family Engagement Policy, School Parent Compact (SPC) and the use of the 1% parent involvement set-aside in Title I schools. The Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) Chairperson (or alternate) is expected to attend all regular meetings of the School Leadership Team (SLT). Title I parents, as represented by the Title I PAC Chairperson, must be consulted regarding the use of the Title I 1% set-aside for parent and family engagement. The Title I 1% set-aside funding is used to supplement parent and family engagement activities as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and must be aligned with student achievement goals as outlined in the CEP. For additional guidance on the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC), go to the Protocols and Timeline for Title I Parent and Family Engagement Activities document.

Directions:

- All schools must indicate their Title I status in Part 1.
- All elements of the All Title I Schools section must be completed in Part 2.
- All Targeted Assistance (TA) Schools must also complete the TA Schools Only section in Part 3.
- All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools must also complete the SWP Schools Only section in Part 4.
- If a required component is addressed elsewhere in this plan, you may refer to the section or Priority where the response can be found.
- For additional information, visit the Title I Program Description (US Department of Education).

High Quality and Ongoing Professional Learning: Please list below the Priority or section(s) that indicate strategies and activities for high quality professional learning for teachers, principals, staff, and paraprofessionals to enable all students to meet state standards.

All staff participate in weekly professional development one days per week and on 6th preps (budget depending). These sessions are based in the examination, reflection, and revision of units of study as well as curriculum in reading, writing, and mathematics in order to best align with the CCLS. These sessions are facilitated in conjunction with a grade level facilitator that meets in a facilitation team weekly in order to support facilitators in helping the meeting address these goals as well as help the administrative cabinet best understand the needs of grade levels. Teaching Matters will be on-site through D15 as well as through in-house developers in order to support the HMH Into Reading/Writing Implementation.

Assistant Principals are involved in monthly professional development through an Assistant Principal group with D15. In addition, the administrative team meets with and participates with our Instructional Leadership Team. The principal participates in District Principal professional development that occurs monthly. All of the administrative professional development is rooted in best practices and the alignment of the NextGen standards in our curriculum.

Part 4: Schoolwide Program (SWP)

Transition Plans to Assist Preschool Children (Elementary Schools Only): Describe the transition plans used to assist preschool children from early childhood programs to the elementary school program (e.g. aligned curriculum, joint PD & parent involvement activities, sharing of records/information, early intervention services, etc.).

We host several parent workshops throughout the year focused on child development stages. We teach parents how to support their children in attaining early literacy and math skills with simple activities they can do at home. We also have workshops focused on speech and language development that are facilitated by our own speech and language teachers. Our speech and language teachers provide speech and language therapy to our pre-K students with IEP's. Our pre-K teachers have common planning sessions with Kindergarten teachers to ensure that they are preparing our students for kindergarten. Fundations, which is a phonics program, is introduced in pre-K. Our pre-K teachers use DEC curriculum as a resource to introduce letter and letter sounds to the children. Our pre-k and kindergarten teachers create opportunities for pre-K students to visit kindergarten classrooms throughout the year. Pre-K and Kindergarten students participate in an Art Residency Project on a bi-weekly basis. During these times, the students get to dance and sing together to develop music appreciation. In June, pre-K teachers complete an assessment form for each student that is given to the next year's Kindergarten teacher. This form details students' English language development, math skills development and social-emotional skills. The form also allows teachers to write any critical information, such as academic or behavior concerns.

Part 5: "Conceptual" Consolidation of Funds in SWP Schools

Directions: All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools in NYC are conceptually consolidating their Federal, State, and Local funds, even though the Galaxy system reports the allocations in separate accounting codes1. To be eligible for the flexibility consolidation of Federal funds, a Schoolwide Program school must identify in its Schoolwide plan (CEP) which programs are included in its consolidation and the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool. Additionally, the school plan must document that it has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated2. On the chart below, indicate which Federal, State, and/or local Tax Levy program funds that are consolidated in your school's Schoolwide Program, the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool, and verification that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated.
For the last two columns of this table: Place an (X) in Column A below to verify that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated. Indicate in Column B, the Priority or section that references where a related program activity has been described in this plan.

Program Name	Fund Source (i.e. Federal, State or Local)	Funding Amount: Indicate the amount contributed to Schoolwide pool. (Refer to Galaxy for school allocation amounts)	Column A Verify with an (X)	Column B Section/Priority Reference(s)
Title I, Part A (Basic)	Federal	908,331	x	ELA, Math
Title II	Federal	272,291	x	ELA, Math
Title III, Part A	Federal	24,080	x	ELA, Math

Explanation/Background

1. Explanation/Background:

Title I Schoolwide Program schools are expected to use the flexibility available to them to integrate services and programs with the aim of enhancing the entire educational program and helping all students reach proficient and advanced levels of achievement. In addition to coordinating and integrating services, Schoolwide Program schools may combine most Federal, State and local funds to provide those services. By consolidating funds from Federal, State, and local sources, a Schoolwide Program school can address its needs using all its available resources. This gives a school more flexibility in how it uses available resources to meet the identified needs of all its students.

Consolidating funds in a Schoolwide Program means that a school treats the funds it is consolidating like they are a single "pool" of funds. In other words, the funds from the contributing programs in the school lose their individual identity and the school has one flexible pool of funds. The school uses funds from this consolidated Schoolwide pool to support any activity of the Schoolwide Program without regard to which program contributed the specific funds used for a particular activity – so long as the use of funds meets the intent and purposes of the programs from which the funds originate. To consolidate funding in a Schoolwide Program, the school does not literally need to combine funds in a single account or pool with its own accounting code. Rather, the word "pool" is used conceptually to convey that a Schoolwide Program school has the use of all consolidated funds available to it for the dedicated function of operating a Schoolwide Program without regard to the identity of those funds.

Consolidating Federal funds in a Schoolwide Program has the following additional advantages:

- Consolidating Federal funds eases the requirements for accounting for funds from each specific program separately, because a Schoolwide school is not required to distinguish among funds received from different sources when accounting for their use.
- A school that consolidates Federal funds in its Schoolwide Program is not required to meet most of the statutory and regulatory requirements of the specific Federal programs included in the consolidation (e.g., semi-annual time and effort reporting for Title I). However, the school must ensure that it meets the intent and purposes of the Federal programs included in the consolidation so that the needs of the intended beneficiaries are met.

2. The intent and purposes of the Federal programs indicated on the chart above (Part 4c of this section) are as follows:

- Title I, Part A – Schoolwide Programs: To upgrade the entire educational program in the school in order to improve the academic achievement of all students, particularly the lowest-achieving students. This includes provision of services for Students in Temporary Housing (STH).
- Title I 1003(a), School Improvement: Comprehensive Support and Improvement (CSI), Additional Targeted Support and Improvement (ATSI) and Targeted Support and Improvement (TSI) Funding:

Support implementation of school improvement plans that aims to improve instruction and address the identified needs

Title II, Part A: Supplementary funding to improve student academic achievement by reducing class size in grades K, 1, 2, and 3, with an emphasis on grades with an average register greater than 20. If space is not available to form additional classes, funds may support push-in teacher(s) to supplement the instructional program. For schools that choose to reduce class size, priority must be given to reducing class size in general education settings and must demonstrate the following:

- Reduce class sizes to 15-18 students or fewer (including the use of co-teaching and floating teachers that bring the student to teacher ratio to one teacher per 15-18 students);
- Be accompanied by a rigorous curriculum, effective teachers, and a sustained, job-embedded professional development plan.

- Title III, Part A: To help ensure that children with limited English proficiency become proficient in English, develop high academic attainment in English, and meet the same challenging State academic content and achievement standards in the core academic subjects that all other children are expected to meet. Another purpose of this program is to increase the capacity of schools to establish, implement and sustain high-quality language instruction programs and English language development programs that assist schools in effectively teaching students with limited English proficiency. Title III, Part A is also designed to promote the participation of parents and communities of limited English proficient children in English language instruction programs.
- Title III Immigrant: Supplementary and enhanced services to immigrant students, in the areas of English language acquisition and content area achievement. Immigrant children and youth are defined as individuals who are aged 3 through 21, have not been attending school in any one or more states for more than three (3) full academic years, and were not born in any state. "State" means the 50 states of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Children born to U.S. citizens abroad, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or any other U.S. territory that is not D.C. or Puerto Rico are to be considered immigrants.
- Title IV, Part A: Title IV funds are for schools that are among those with the greatest needs, have the highest numbers of students from low-income families, are identified for CS, ATSI or TSI, or are identified as persistently dangerous public schools. Allowable uses of funds under well-rounded education, safety and health, and educational technology include direct services for students, professional development for teachers and administrators, and supplemental educational resources. School allocations have been provided for well-rounded education, social emotional learning, cultural responsiveness awareness, professional development to support implementation of technology and blended learning environments, and community coordinators in schools with high rates of students in temporary housing

- Students in Temporary Housing (STH): Schools must describe their use of Title I STH funds in their consolidated application.

Important Note: The following funds may not be consolidated:

- Title I Parent Involvement Set-aside: Title I, Part A funds must support parent involvement activities and programs. Chancellor's Regulation A-655 requires School Leadership Teams to consult with Title I parent representatives regarding the Title I program and the use of these funds. Parent involvement activities funded through Title I must be included in the Parent and Family Engagement Policy and aligned with student achievement goals in the school comprehensive educational plan.
- IDEA: To ensure that all children with disabilities have available to them a free appropriate public education designed to meet their individual needs.
- Grant funds awarded via a competitive process: These funds must be used for the purposes specified by the Grantor, as described in the school's approved grant application.

Language Allocation Policy Outline

2025-26 Language Allocation Policy (LAP)

This submission form supports schools with organizing a well-conceived school-based Language Allocation Policy (LAP) that describes high quality programs for Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners (MLs/ELLs). This is an annual plan of how your school will support the linguistic and academic needs of MLs/ELLs and must be completed yearly. The Language Allocation Policy (LAP) is a part of schools' Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP).

This is a living document. Any school-wide changes involving the instruction of MLs/ELLs, such as the addition or expansion of a Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) or Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) program, should be updated in this form.

Agenda, minutes of LAP meetings, and LAP team members' attendance at meetings should be kept readily available on file in the school with all other ML/ELL critical documents. When preparing your school's submission, provide extended responses in the available spaces.

For additional information, refer to the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs. For additional support with ML/ELL policy, please reach out to your respective ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance Performance Specialist; for support with ML/ELL instruction, please contact your ML/ELL Services Administrator.

Part III: ML/ELL Programming

Please refer to New York State Commissioner's Regulation (CR) Part 154 Units of Study Tables as you describe academic programming for MLs/ELLs at your school below. Please do not leave any fields blank and indicate "N/A" for any fields that are not applicable.

Describe your English as a New Language (ENL), and if applicable Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE), and Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs. For each program, include:

- How stand-alone ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How integrated ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How students are grouped (e.g., block [class travels together as a group], ungraded [all students regardless of grade are in one class], heterogeneous [mixed proficiency levels], homogenous [proficiency level is the same in one class]).

a. English as a New Language (ENL)
Stand-alone ENL:

P. S. 230 implements a freestanding English as a New Language Program. The primary goal is to support students' learning with researched-based ENL strategies in order to achieve English Language proficiency within three years and provide students with the skills needed to perform at city and state grade levels in all subject areas.

In our freestanding ENL program, we service students from grades K-5. They range from Entering to Commanding proficiency levels. Students are mostly distributed uniformly across the grades and receive all instruction in English with native language support.
NYSESLAT scores and NYSITELL results determine how many units of ENL instruction each student receives. Depending on their proficiency level, ENL students receive between 180 minutes to 360 minutes a week of ENL instruction. Entering students receive 360 minutes of ENL services per week: 1 unit of study in stand-alone ENL (180 minutes) 1 unit of study in ENL/ELA (180 minutes). Emerging students receive 360 minutes of ENL services per week: .5 unit of stand-alone ENL (90 minutes), 1 unit of study in ENL/ELA (180 minutes) and .5 unit of study of flexible study either in stand alone ENL or integrated ENL/core content area (90 minutes). Transitioning students receive .5 unit of study in ENL/ELA for integrated ENL (90 minutes) and .5 unit of study of flexible study either in stand alone ENL or Integrated ENL/Core Content Area (90 minutes) totaling 180 minutes. Expanding students 1 unit of study in ENL/ELA for integrated ENL (180 minutes). Commanding students receive 90 minutes of integrated ENL services per week. .5 units of study of flexible study either in stand alone ENL or Integrated ENL/Core Content Area or other approved Former ELL services for two additional years.

We have a Kindergarten, 1st grade, 2nd grade, 3rd grade and a 4th/5th grade stand alone groups for our Entering and Emerging students. Our stand-alone model provides focused, individualized, small group instruction both inside and outside of the classroom. Students receive instruction by a New York State certified ESOL teacher in order to acquire the English language needed for success in core content areas. Our stand-alone ENL classes do not implement a push-in model in a content area class as it is a separate time devoted to English language acquisition and English language development. NYS Language standards and NYSESLAT Targets of Measurement guide.

Integrated ENL:

Our student population is divided between two buildings. The lower school contains 3K, Pre K and Kindergarten. The upper school houses grades one through five. We have an average of six classes per grade with our ELL students distributed among most classes to ensure heterogeneous grouping with strong language models. We strategically place native English speakers in all classrooms to ensure strong language models for our ELL students.

In grades K - 5th grade, ENL students are distributed across the majority of classrooms (general ed and ICT), with 3 additional self-contained special education bridge classrooms. Upper grades are grouped heterogeneously and receive both integrated and stand alone instruction.

Our Integrated ENL program delivers 1 unit of study in ENL/ELA (180 min.) for Entering and Emerging ELLs. Our Transitioning students receive .5 units of study in ENL/ELA (90 min.) and our Expanding students receive 1 unit of study in ENL/ELA or other core content areas (180 min.).

Our integrated model provides language and content grade-level support within the classroom setting, using a collaborative teaching model. Students are given opportunities to discuss and problem solve what is being taught with their peers for reading, writing, speaking and listening. Students receive core content area (i.e., English Language Arts, Math, Science, or Social Studies) and English language development instruction which includes home language supports and appropriate ELL scaffolds carried out by a combination of ESOL and content certified teachers or dually certified teachers.

We will continue to support former ELLs by monitoring their English language development and academic process in collaboration with their classroom teacher. ENL teachers will also monitor all screening data on Acadience/Map Growth and the DOE Student Profile app through TeachHub. The classrooms in PS 230 have teachers that hold either a Common Branch, Early Childhood, Special Education, or Gifted and Talented license. All ENL teachers that provide mandated services in PS 230 hold a TESOL license.

b. Bilingual Education (If applicable)

Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE):

We do not currently have a Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) program,.

Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE):

We currently have a Dual Language program in grades K - 5. The goal of our program is to create an environment where students have linguistic and cultural competence in English and Spanish. Our dedication to teaching bilingualism and biliteracy will support our school in maintaining excellence. We will be employing a simultaneous literacy instruction model, with 50/50 language allocation that divides the language of instruction by content area as well as by time. Content areas such as reading, writing, math, and word study are taught both in English and Spanish. One week, English is used 3 times a week and Spanish is used 2 days a week. The following week, Spanish is used 3 times a week and English is used 2 times a week.

ENL is being provided by the bilingual teacher in the Dual Language program.

In each Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) class, students receive the following:

Dual Entering

Stand Alone
Our dual language entering students receive 1 unit (180 minutes per week) of small group, stand alone homogenous ENL instruction by a certified bilingual teacher in their classrooms during the literacy block. Each day students receive approximately 20 minutes of small group instruction in reading, and 20 minutes of small group instruction in writing.

Integrated
They also receive 1 unit (180 minutes) of heterogeneous instruction in (ENL/ELA) by a certified bilingual teacher in their classrooms. Students receive 45 minutes of integrated instruction 4 times a week.

Dual Emerging
Stand alone
Our dual language emerging students receive .5 units (90 minutes per week) of small group, stand alone, homogenous ENL instruction by a certified bilingual teacher in their classrooms during the literacy block. Students receive approximately 22.5 minutes of small group instruction, 4 times a week: 12 minutes of reading and 12 minutes of writing per day.

Stand Alone/Integrated
They also receive .5 unit (90 minutes) of heterogeneous instruction in core content such as social studies and math by a certified bilingual teacher in their classrooms. Students receive approximately 18 minutes of focused instruction, 5 times a week.

Integrated
Our dual language emerging students receive 1 unit (180 minutes per week) of integrated, heterogenous ELA instruction by a certified bilingual teacher in their classrooms during the literacy block. Students receive approximately 36 minutes of instruction, 5 times a week: 18 minutes of reading and 18 minutes of writing per day.

Dual Transitioning
Stand Alone
Our dual language transitioning students receive .5 units (90 minutes per week) of small group, stand alone, homogenous ENL/ELA instruction by a certified bilingual teacher in their classrooms during the literacy block. Students receive approximately 18 minutes of small group instruction, 5 times a week: 9 minutes of reading and 9 minutes of writing per day.

Integrated
They also receive .5 unit (90 minutes) of heterogeneous instruction in core content such as social studies and math by a certified bilingual teacher in their classrooms. Students receive approximately 18 minutes of focused instruction, 5 times a week.

Dual Expanding
Our Expanding students receive 1 unit (180 minutes) of heterogeneous instruction in (ENL/ELA) by a certified bilingual teacher in their classrooms. Students receive 45 minutes of integrated instruction 4 times a week. Students receive approximately 22.5 minutes of reading and 22.5 minutes of writing per day.

Dual Commanding
Our Commanding students receive .5 units per week of integrated ENL in ELA/Core Content Area during small group instruction with a bilingual certified teacher.

2. How does your school ensure the mandated number of instructional minutes are provided according to students' English language proficiency levels in each program model?

P.S 230 ensures the mandated number of instructional minutes are provided according to students' English language proficiency levels in each program model by hiring enough teachers that hold the English To Speakers of Other Languages certification. This allows all of our ELLs to be serviced by qualified staff. Same is true for our Dual Language program. We ensure that enough teachers that have Bilingual Certification to provide instructional minutes according to students' proficiency levels.

Our ESOl teachers provide focused, individualized, small group instruction both inside and outside of the classroom. Flexible grouping occurs across grade levels for Entering and Emerging stand alone and collaborative teaching models are incorporated school wide.

Our Em and/or TR students receive a flexible .5 unit of study in either stand alone ENL or Integrated ENL in core content. Once students arrive back to school in September, teacher's will get to know their strengths and weaknesses through assessment, and determine which route would best support their needs. They will initially be provided with the stand alone ENL, but could possibly be changed over to integrated if that is what is best for these students.

The RLAT and RFSF from ATS is used to identify what students are ELLs (Former ELLS for 2 years) and how many minutes of servicing they require. Each ENL teacher creates a schedule and the ENL Coordinator checks that all mandated minutes are met for each student when programming students into STARS CLASSROOM.

3. How are ENL, English Language Arts (ELA) and if applicable, Home Language Arts (HLA) instructional minutes delivered in each program model?

We use both a pull-out and push-in model to deliver instructional minutes. Our pull-out program consists of targeted small-groups focused on phonics instruction, explicit and systematic reading instruction, and fluency to develop oral language. In K-3, ENL teachers focus primarily on letter formation, phonological awareness, vocabulary development, and writing fluency. Upper grade ENL teachers focus on many of the foundation skills listed above, as well as teaching language structures through the explicit teaching of syntax and syllabication and morphology. For our push-in model, ENL teachers work with classroom teachers through team-teaching models so that they are actively modeling best practices for identifying the language demands of lessons, and scaffolding the lessons to make the content comprehensible to ELLs. In addition, ENL teachers model reading and writing strategies in small groups during this time.

Teachers ensure the distinct goals of ENL, ELA, and HLA (DLBE) are met by following curriculum pacing guides to keep on track. They also use assessments to ensure that student's are reaching their goals. Our ENL providers do work closely with all classroom teachers. Integrated co-teaching occurs, usually parallel teaching or station teaching. Depending on the lesson, team teaching could be incorporated.

In our Dual Language classes, students receive HLA instruction in reading and writing using HMH Into Reading Curriculum: Arriba La Lectura! One week, English is used 3 times a week and Spanish is used 2 days a week. The following week, Spanish is used 3 times a week and English is used 2 times a week. Services are delivered by a certified bilingual teacher in their classroom.

In each Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) class, students receive the following:

Dual Entering
Stand Alone
Our dual language entering students receive 1 unit (180 minutes per week) of small group, stand alone homogenous ENL instruction by a certified bilingual teacher in their classrooms during the literacy block. Each day students receive approximately 20 minutes of small group instruction in reading, and 16 minutes of small group instruction in writing.

Integrated
They also receive 1 unit (180 minutes) of heterogeneous instruction in (ENL/ELA) by a certified bilingual teacher in their classrooms. Students receive 45 minutes of integrated instruction 4 times a week.

Home Language Arts
Our dual language entering students receive 1 HLA course.

Dual Emerging
Stand alone
Our dual language emerging students receive .5 units (90 minutes per week) of small group, stand alone, homogenous ENL instruction by a certified bilingual teacher in their classrooms during the literacy block. Students receive approximately 22.5 minutes of small group instruction, 4 times a week: 12 minutes of reading and 11 minutes of writing per day.

Integrated
They also receive 1 unit (180 minutes) of heterogeneous (ENL/ELA) instruction in core content such as social studies and math by a certified bilingual teacher in their classrooms. Students receive approximately 36 minutes of focused instruction, 5 times a week.

Flexibility
Our dual language emerging students receive .5 unit (90 minutes per week) of either stand alone ENL or integrated ELA instruction by a certified bilingual teacher in their classrooms during the literacy block. Students receive approximately 45 minutes of instruction, 2 times a week: 25 minutes of reading and 20 minutes of writing per day.

Home Language Arts
Our dual language emerging students receive 1 HLA course.

Dual Transitioning

Students receive approximately 18 minutes of small group instruction, 5 times a week: 9 minutes of reading and 9 minutes of writing per day.

Flexibility
Our dual language transitioning students receive .5 unit (90 minutes per week) of either stand alone ENL or integrated ELA instruction by a certified bilingual teacher in their classrooms during the literacy block. Students receive approximately 45 minutes of instruction, 2 times a week: 25 minutes of reading and 20 minutes of writing per day.

Our dual language transitioning students receive 1 HLA course.

Dual Expanding
Our Expanding students receive 1 unit (180 minutes) of heterogeneous instruction in (ENL/ELA) by a certified bilingual teacher in their classrooms. Students receive 45 minutes of integrated instruction 4 times a week. Students receive approximately 25 minutes of reading and 20 minutes of writing per day.

Our dual language expanding students receive 1 HLA course.

Dual Commanding
Our Commanding students receive .5 units per week of integrated ENL in ELA/Core Content Area during small group instruction with a bilingual certified teacher.

The goal of our Dual Language Bilingual Education model is to create an environment where students will have linguistic and cultural competence in English and Spanish.

4. For schools with Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) programs:

a. Which Dual Language Bilingual Education model is implemented? Explain how much of the instructional day (percentage) English proficient students and ELLs are integrated.

PS 230 has a two-way DLBE model. These classes have a balanced combination of both English proficient students and English Language Learners. Each Dual Language class uses a self-contained model, in which one teacher delivers instruction in both languages. We employ a simultaneous literacy instruction model, with 50/50 language allocation that divides the language of instruction by content area as well as by time. This program follows an alternating day schedule. On English days, 100% of instruction is in English and on Spanish days, 100% of instruction is in Spanish. We have 1 DLBE class on each grade (K-5th grade).

b. In which language(s) is each core content area taught?

Each core content area (Math, Science, and Social Studies) is taught in both English and Spanish.. One week, English is used 3 times a week and Spanish is used 2 days a week. The following week, Spanish is used 3 times a week and English is used 2 times a week

5. For schools with Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs:

a. Which core content areas are taught bilingually?

N/A

Part IV: Data Analysis

Data Analysis

After reviewing and analyzing school demographic and assessment data, answer the following questions. The ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) provided by the Office of Multilingual Learners can assist with identifying these data points.

For additional information, refer to Data Analysis Professional Learning Module and ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) Professional Learning Module.

1. What is the composition of the ELL subgroups at your school?
What percentage of ELLs are Newcomers? How does effective instruction for Newcomers differ from those provided to Developing or Long-Term ELLs?

PS 230 has a population of 807 students, 258 (32.0%) of these students are current ELLs. We have 47 (5.8%) Former ELLs - 30 (3.&%) tested out in the 2023 - 2024 school year and 17 (2.1%) tested out in the 2022 - 2023 school year. We also have 10 (1.2%) Ever ELLs, and 492 (61.0%) Never ELLs.

PS 230's are broken into the following two categories - Newcomers (0 -3 years of service) consist of 208 (80.6%) students and Developing ELLs (4 - 6 years of service consist of 50 (19.4%) students. We have 0 (0.0%) Long Term ELLs (7 or more years of service.

Effective instruction for Newcomers differs from those provided to our Developing ELLs. Once the school year begins, newcomers are immersed in a language-rich environment with several supports. Bilingual libraries and audio recording of picture books are used for content area units of study. Software like Imagine leaning and access to language learning websites for newcomers are incorporated. Grade and age appropriate instructional support materials are available in all content areas (picture flashcards for math and social studies, graphic organizers, etc.). We provide individual and small group instruction. Native language support in math, science and social studies help to develop content goals and language goals in lessons. Teachers amplify and differentiate instruction in all areas. ENL teachers collaborate with classroom teachers to modify lessons in order to provide comprehensible input throughout the day. These lessons provide opportunities for students to communicate effectively in the classrooms both in social and academic language contexts.

What percentage of ELLs are Students with Inconsistent/Interrupted Formal Education (SIFE)? How do you differentiate effective instruction for SIFE?

PS 230 has 10 (3.9%) SIFE students (Students with Inconsistent/Interrupted Formal Education).

These SIFE students were identified by the SIFE screener/oral interview. The data from this screener provides valuable information about their academic knowledge, most often showing low or no literacy skills. This is very challenging. Our educators try to get to know these students in order to determine their strengths and weaknesses.

Effective SIFE instruction includes activating prior knowledge and experience and front loading vocabulary prior to lessons. SIFE students are engaged in hands on learning as often as possible so they are physically involved. Classrooms are print and literacy rich environments filled with bilingual dictionaries, anchor charts and visuals that correspond to text. High interest/low ability books fill classroom libraries. Native language books are in these classrooms as well. Educators give frequent checks for understanding. Wait time is given as often as needed. SIFE students have the opportunity to demonstrate understanding in a variety of ways (drawing, acting out, explain orally instead if writing, etc.). SIFE students work in cooperative groups where they can learn from their peers. Also, we provide explicit literacy skills to try to bridge the gap of where they are academically and grade level standards. PS 230 also incorporates the Culturally Responsive Education Framework.

What percentage of ELLs are Long-Term ELLs? How does effective instruction for Long-Term ELLs differ from instruction designed for Developing ELLs?

Currently, we do not have any Long Term ELLs. If any Long Term ELLs were to join the PS 230 community, we have an action plan in place to support them. For all Long Term ELLs, we will ensure that all ENL methods and lessons promote engagement with texts and integrate language instruction with content. Our students will be exposed to rigor and academic language with appropriate scaffolding of materials and processes. For one Developing ELLs, we employ the same standards, but the supports are even more differentiated, by using visual aides, activating background knowledge, drawing on the students' native language, amplifying texts, and incorporating the principals of UDL to make content accessible. We provide explicit language instruction within all the content areas, instruction is student centered and driven by ongoing assessments. We meet them where they are. In this way, our Developing ELLs have meaningful and engaging learning experiences.

What percentage of students are former ELLs? How is your school providing mandated instruction to former ELLs?

There are 47 (5.8%) former ELLs ion PS 230.

Former ELLs receive services for an additional 2 years. As per CR Part 154, our former ELL students receive 0.5 units (90 minutes) of Integrated ENL in ELA or other content areas per week. We will continue to support former ELLs by monitoring their English language development and academic progress in collaboration with their classroom teacher.

2. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of ELLs at your school?

The biggest at-risk indicator that might adversely affect ELLs at PS 230 is the large number of students that are Newcomers (0 - 3 Years of ELL service). There are 208 (80.6%) Newcomers. There are 94 (36.4%) ELLs who dd not demonstrate sufficient ELP progress (Spring 2024 NYSESLAT). There are 49 (19.0%) ELLs that liven temporary housing.

These trends correlate to how well the ELLs performed on the ELA and Math state test. There were 47 (18.2%) ELLs who scored a level 1 or 2 on the ELA during the last school year and 9 (3.5%) ELLs who scored a level 1 or 2 on the ELA during the 2022 - 2023 and 2023 - 2024 school year. There were 46 (17.8%) ELLs who scored a level 1 or 2 on the Math state test during the last school year and 8 (3.1%) ELLs who scored a level 1 or 2 on the Math state test during the 2022 - 2023 and 2023 - 2024 school year.

Additionally, there are 10 Students with Inconsistent/Interrupted Formal Education (SIFE). All of these at-risk levels may contribute and explain why 94 students did not demonstrate sufficient ELP progress.

PS 230 has 114 (44.2%) ELLs that have 1 at-risk indicator, 86 (33.3%) ELLs that have 2 at-risk indicators and 37 (14.3%) ELLs that have 3 at-risk indicators. There are 10 (3.9%) ELLs that have 4 at-risk indicators, 2 (0.8%) ELLs that have 5 at-risk indicators and 6 ELLs that have 6 (2.3%) at-risk indicators. Finally we have 2 (0.8%) ELLs with 0 at-risk indicators and 1 (0.4%) ELL that has 7 at-risk indicators.

3. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect former ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of former ELLs at your school?

There are 14 (29.8%) former ELLs who scored level 1 or 2 on the ELA during the last school year and 3 (6.4%) students that scored level 1 or 2 on the ELA during the 2022 - 2023 and 2023 - 2024 school year. There are 4 (8.5%) former ELLs who scored level 1 or 2 on the Math state exam during the last school year and 1 (2.1%) student that scored level 1 or 2 on the Math state exam during the 2022 - 2023 and 2023 - 2024 school year. There are 8 (17.0%) students that live in temporary housing.

There are 26 (55.3&) former ELLs that have 0 at-risk indicators and 14 (29.8%) Former ELLs that have 1 at-risk indicator. There are 6 (12.8%) former ELLs that have 2 at-risk indicators and 1 (2.1%) former ELL that has 4 at-risk indicators.

There is a correlation between the number of former ELLs that scored a level 1 or 2 on the ELA and/or Math exams and the at-risk indicators.

4. What are the home languages of ELLs with the largest representation at your school? What staff, structures, and processes does your school have to support communication and learning that values these home languages?

The home language of ELLs with the largest representation at PS 230 is Bengali (110 students), closely followed by Spanish (100 students). There are 18 students that speak Arabic at home, 9 students that speak Chinese at home, and 5 students that speak Russian at home. There are 4 students that Speak Urdu at home and 4 students that speak Uzbek at home. We also have 3 students that speak Tadzhik, 2 students that speak Ukrainian, and 1 student that speaks Polish at home.

We have staff members that speak these languages and are able to communicate with students and families. We have a bilingual library that students have access to. We maintain relationships with our Community Based Organization partnerships in Kensington, such as the public library and regular outreach to several cultural institutions (local mosques, Bengali Community Centers, etc.). that advocate for our students and their families. We provide new students with orientations, building tours, buddy assignments (with see native language), introductions to key staff and other members of the school community and end of day briefing with the ENL teacher. Throughout the year, we regularly maintain home-school communication.

5. What are the racial and ethnic classifications of ELLs at your school? How are ELLs being included in planning and delivery of Culturally Responsive and Sustaining Education (CR-SE)?

The racial and ethnic classifications of ELLs at PS 230 are as follows:

There are 159 students that are Non-Hispanic ELLs and 99 Hispanic ELLs.

PS 230 has 258 ELLs. There are 140 (54.3%) Asian students, 93 (36.0%) white students, 14 (5.54%) American Indian or Alaskan Native students, 4 (1.6%) Multiracial students, 3 (1.2%) Black students, and 4 (1.6%) Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander.

All staff at PS 230 have completed the Implicit Bias Training. We commit to knowing our students well - academically. socially, and emotionally. We learn about their families, cultures, and interests. We ask questions, talk with parents, community members and colleagues, read books, watch movies, and listen to music. We create opportunities for students to share and celebrate family traditions and cultures. We build on our students' life experiences and consistently bring them into the classroom. We create classroom learning opportunities that encourage students to care for one another and be responsible for each other inside and outside the classroom. We provide consistent routines that help students feel safe and valued, and accountable to one another. We design safe an welcoming classroom environments. We hold high academic standards and expectations for all of our students, and enthusiastically encourage all students to reach those standards and beyond. We also have diverse libraries that reflect our student's culture and races.

6. What trends do you notice in reviewing English Language Proficiency (ELP) growth at your school? How many students met ELP sufficient progress? How many students did not meet ELP sufficient progress?

There are 94 (60.3%) ELLs that did no demonstrate sufficient ELP growth at PS 230 while 62 (39.7%) ELLs did met ELP sufficient progress.

There are 30 students (19.2%) that met progress by exiting ELL status. There are 26 students (16.7%) that met annual progress targets, and 6 students (3.8%) that met Safe Harbor Cumulative Growth.

7. When you look at the results of the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT), what stands out? What trends are there for each modality?

When looking at the results of the New York State English as a a Second Language Test (NYSESLAT), what stands out most is the significant number of students that fell into the 1 - 10 points to the next level range. There are 5 Entering students that were between 1 - 10 points away from the Emerging proficiency level, 7 Emerging students 1 - 10 points away from the Transitioning proficiency level, 14 Transitioning students 1 - 10 points away from being in the Expanding proficiency level, and 17 Expanding students 1 - 10 points away from being in the Commanding proficiency level.

The 11 - 20 points to next level also stand out. There are 10 Emerging students 11 - 20 points away from the Transitioning proficiency level, 17 Transitioning students 11 - 20 points away from being in the Expanding proficiency level, and 20 Expanding students 11 - 20 points away from being in the Commanding proficiency level.

We have 7(3.2%) Entering ELLs, 27 (12.5%) Emerging ELLs, 56 (25.9%) Transitioning ELLs, 96 (44.4%) Expanding ELLs, and 30 (13.9%) Former ELLs. The Expanding group being the largest.

Speaking continues to be the strongest modality across the grades, while writing continues to be the weakest modality at PS 230.

In the Speaking modality, we see the most growth as students are assessed over time. Writing across all proficiencies is an area of development. Specifically students who have received 3 plus years of service are scoring mid 50s to upper 60s.

In the modality of reading and listening, expanding students are making progress at a greater rate than the other students from 2023-2024 testing years. In Listening 2024, 112 students made annual growth while only 75 transitioning students. This tells our team that growth for developing skills is challenging transitioning students.

8. What is the relationship between students' performance on the NYSESLAT and other state assessments such as the ELA assessment, the Math assessment, and the Regents exams?

There Is a correlation between how ELLs performed on the NYSESLAT and the ELA.

Some students who are transitioning and expanding as developing students did not demonstrate sufficient ELP progress and also received 1 or 2 on the ELA assessment and/or math assessment. Additionally, these students have 2 or more risk indicators. Our students in this category also have a 10 point plus gap toward meeting the next ENL level. The students who are entering/emerging as newcomer students are developing in their speaking modality.

9. What are trends reflected in the NYSESLAT results of ELL subgroups such as ELLs with IEPs and SIFE? What do you think is impacting the results for these subgroups?

We have ELLs that have IEPS (3 Entering, 8 Emerging, 24 Transitioning, 22 Expanding, and 1 Commanding).

We also have ELLs that are SIFE (4 Emerging).

Students with that have an IEP and/or are SIFE have a more difficult time on the NYSESLAT because the language gets increasingly difficult with each grade band and they struggle across most modalities.

10. (For grades 9-12 only) Please review your data in the Insight Tool and STARS to answer the following questions:
a. How many ELLs are on-track towards graduation?

N?A

b. How many ELLs in grades 11-12 have a documented postsecondary plan in STARS or ATS?

c. What targeted strategies and interventions are in place to support ELLs who are currently off-track to graduate in four years?

N/A

d. What specific strategies, engaging approaches, and interventions are implemented to support and retain students who are not on track to graduate within four years, ensuring they remain enrolled and are guided towards a successful graduation in the future?

Part V: ML/ELL Instruction

Tier 1: Core Instruction

For additional information, refer to ML/ELL Instruction Professional Learning Module.

Tier 1 Core Instruction

1. How does your school provide ELLs with a high-quality academic experience that leads to deeper learning?

High-quality academic experiences are implemented on a large scale through school/class experiences in addition to small group instruction during and after school. Our academic experiences begin when classroom teachers and service providers (ENL, OT, PT and Speech) identify specific skill groupings through reviewing data. Teachers and support staff then implement programming that is motivating, engaging and provides entry points that are aligned with student need and accessibility. ENL teachers attend professional development through New York state and District 15 to implement current strategies and pedagogy. This training ensures that instruction is current to standards and language demands while providing a range of approaches.

Through planning, deeper learning experiences are carried-out during school hours and after. These experiences include approaches such as project based learning, newcomer grouping events and engaging in-school and After-school clubs. For example, our EN/EM 5th graders are paired with our EN/EM 1st and 2nd graders for Cub Club. (PS 230's mascot is a tiger). The 5th graders are the tigers and the 1st and 2nd graders are the cubs. They form relationships that last throughout the year and they do many activities together.
In school whole grade and class programs include music: Ms. Suzi Music and Movement, Creative Stages, Singing Winds, and cultural enrichment. These experiences provide varied approaches and environments for ENL students to practice speaking, listening, reading and writing skills.

During school students are also able to attend Debate club, Equity club and the Green club. ENL teachers hold Newcomer student Spelling Bees, games time focused on language acquisition and flexibly group students to target skills across grade levels.

The focus for afterschool ENL programming will support the study of authors and language in poetry. Students will deepen their understanding of literary elements by studying poetry and known authors to develop comprehension skills and writing skills. Also, vocabulary enrichment will be embedded into this program. In addition, ENL teachers will provide after school programming that will utilize Imagine Learning to create groups for targeted instruction and digital enhancement of the skills students are developing.

2. How does your school's leadership team ensure ELLs have access to core instruction/curriculum?

Our school's leadership, specifically the ILT (Instructional Leadership Team) and the Grade Level Liaisons, analyze school wide data specific to all student needs. This encompasses MLs/ELLs. The use of the RESI reformatted in order to collect various assessment data enables teachers to sort and filter by race, ethnicity, SPED program and LEP status to name just a few. While looking at this data, ILT and Grade Level Liaisons analyze trends in order to provide support through professional development to staff. This data is also used to help group students for intervention and supplemental programming.

These Grade Level Liaisons also meet weekly to discuss the our reading curriculum (HMH). This team brainstorms ways to ensure that content is accessible to all English Language Learners.

ENL Teachers utilize the MLL Tabletop Mini-Lessons (HMH), which target the four language modalities and reinforce skills and strategies that are addressed in the core curriculum. Additionally, ENL teachers utilize the HMH Structured Literacy scope and sequence for stand-alone ENL to reinforce and develop phonics skills, especially in upper grades which do not receive explicit phonics instruction. ??ENL teachers use modified mentor texts to enhance content comprehension and ensure that English learners access the same material as their peers. The ENL team collaborates closely with classroom teachers and grade-level teams to select and adapt mentor texts that are both academically aligned and culturally appropriate. In math, students are provided with bilingual glossaries to help them better understand essential mathematical concepts. These glossaries include key terms and definitions in both English and the student's native language, allowing English language learners access to the academic vocabulary needed for success in math. Bilingual glossaries support comprehension, promote confidence, and encourage active participation in classroom discussions and problem-solving activities. In order to encourage ML/ELL participation we utilize scaffolds such as visual supports and graphic organizers. We also offer alternative ways for students to demonstrate their understanding, such as drawing pictures, writing in their native language, or working with peers who speak the same language to help translate.

3. Describe how core content is delivered in each program model. Specify language, and the instructional approaches and methods to foster language development and meet the demands of the Next Generation Learning Standards.

The goal of our ENL program is to foster full English proficiency in a supportive classroom environment. All instruction is given in English for our ENL students. Our Dual Language students receive instruction in both English and Spanish. We incorporate Next Generation Learning Standards aligned with language objectives in all our units of study. Furthermore, to support language and content learning (Social Studies, Math and Science), we use the following practices: ENL and classroom teachers support content areas in the following ways: ENL teachers, as well as classroom teachers, utilize the NYSED Targets of Measure rubrics to identify the linguistic demands required in order for students to access the standards. Additionally, teachers use ALDs (Academic and Linguistic Demands) as a guide when creating and implementing their lessons.

All teachers K-5 implement HMH for reading, writing, and word study. Fundations will continue to be used in grades K-3. In addition, the structured literacy approach from HMH Into Reading will be a standard part of our instruction.

The goal of our ENL program is to foster full English proficiency in a supportive classroom environment. All instruction is given in English for our ENL students. Our ENL students use HMH Into Reading and our Dual Language program uses HMH Arriba La Lectura! The Dual Language students receive instruction in both English and Spanish. For our ENL students, teachers collaborate to plan differentiated lessons and create materials to make the content more accessible. We incorporate Next Generation Learning Standards aligned with language objectives in all our modules. Furthermore, to support language and content learning (Social Studies, Math and Science), we use the following practices: ENL and classroom teachers support content areas in the following ways: ENL teachers, as well as classroom teachers, utilize the NYSED Targets of Measure rubrics to identify the linguistic demands required in order for students to access the standards. Additionally, teachers use ALDs (Academic and Linguistic Demands) as a guide when creating and implementing their lessons.

All teachers K-5 implement HMH for reading, writing, and word study. Fundations will continue to be used in grades K-3. In addition, the structured literacy approach from HMH Into Reading will be a standard part of our instruction. Our Dual Language program also uses Estrellit in grades K and 1.

Our school will continue to use NYCDOE Passport to Social Studies Units of Study for all grades and many of the supplementary materials that accompany them. These units include support for all learners and will serve as our primary curriculum for Social Studies. Teachers identify linguistically challenging material and scaffold instruction with visual aids such as maps, atlases, graphic organizers, learner dictionaries, glossaries, pictures, and online digital media tools to increase comprehension. They also collaborate to organize trips that support thematic units of study. All teachers (classroom, content and ENL) attend. Visuals will be provided for vocabulary development. Video links will be provided to allow for comprehensible input and build prior knowledge.

For science, visuals will be provided for vocabulary development. For math. teachers use manipulatives and a variety of models, such as open number lines, arrays, strings, etc. to represent difficult word problems visually, tackle challenging math vocabulary using concept circles, semantic maps, glossaries and word sorts to preview vocabulary. The curriculum teachers use are as follows. Each grade incorporates exemplars into their units of study. Grades K - 4 use Investigations 3. Our 5th grade uses Engage NY and our Dual Language classes use Illustrative Math. All of our English Language Learners are invited to "mathematize" initially in their own informal ways, giving ELLs opportunities to develop expressive language proficiency when talking about mathematical concepts. Teachers are taught to look for important mathematical moments and scaffold conversations to develop oral proficiency that lead to solutions. Teachers participate in learning communities to look deeply at "big ideas" in mathematics and identify the language demands of investigations. In addition, we have created language objectives for math units of study that highlight linguistically dense structures common in mathematical word problems. Teachers also have students create personalized math vocabulary and bilingual dictionaries.

Our Dual Language Bilingual program incorporates all of the above, while supporting both English and Spanish proficiencies.

4. What instructional strategies and grade-level materials, including technology, do teachers of MLs/ELLs use to provide access to grade level academic content areas and accelerate English language development? Include core content area and language materials with consideration to specific ELL subgroups.

a. ELLs with IEPs

Teachers of MLs/ELLs incorporate many instructional strategies and grade-level material, including technology to provide access to academic content areas and accelerate English language development, many of which were named in the question above. In order to access grade-level academic content, teachers use technology to build background knowledge and provide context before a unit of study. Digital resources like Google classroom, Imagine Learning, Epic, Kahoot, Waggle, Amira etc. are embedded in lessons when appropriate. Each study unit is supported by explicit vocabulary instruction. The vocabulary slides have culturally diverse pictures and/or videos; definitions, and examples of words in a sentence. Teachers teach and reteach vocabulary; they provide opportunities for the students to use the newly acquired vocabulary during speaking, listening, reading, and writing activities. Teachers also focus on Advanced Literacies Instruction. The hallmarks are important for our MLs/ELLs, including our ELLs with IEPs. Teachers work with engaging texts that feature big ideas and rich content. Teachers utilize amplified/modified text (paired with grade level). Students have access to materials in their native language: bilingual books and glossaries. Culturally relevant read alouds are chosen. Explicit teaching of grammar embedded within units of study (language goals) also accelerates English language development. HMH has a wonderful grammar component that explicitly teaches the rules of the English language. In addition, students are exposed to aspects of American culture through heritage months, monthly themes, etc. Teachers incorporate talk and discussion to build both conversational and academic language knowledge. Teachers incorporate writing to build language and knowledge. Teachers also have students study a small set of high-utility vocabulary words to build breadth and depth of knowledge.

Additionally, teachers modify their learning environment to create quiet space in their classrooms. They have targeted pull out groups or work with students one-on-one to create opportunities to interact with a presentation/lesson more than once. Teachers also integrate physical and intellectual brakes. Flexible pacing and deadlines, opportunities for feedback end self-evaluation, mindful teacher language (repeating instructions visually and orally, minimize idiomatic expressions) and multimodal assessments where students have a choice in how they demonstrate their learning are all used to provide access to academic content areas and accelerate English language development. Project based learning is incorporated into every unit of study across content areas in order to provide students hands-on opportunities to grow and develop oral language proficiency.

b. SIFE

Our SIFE population is relatively small. However, we have a clear course of instruction and support in place. ELL students with interrupted, little or no formal schooling in their first language will receive integrated and stand alone ENL services as well as small group instruction in specific areas of need.

As soon as these students are enrolled, ENL teachers administer the SIFE assessment to determine status. The reports are shared with classroom teachers.

The instructional strategies and grade-level materials, including technology, is incorporated into every lesson when working with SIFE students. These strategies and materials provide access to grade level academic content areas and accelerate English language development. In order to access grade-level academic content, teachers use technology to build background knowledge and provide context before a unit of study. c. Newcomers

Newcomers make up the largest subgroup (80.6%) of our ELLs at PS 230. When a new student is registered in our school, we provide several supports to facilitate their transition. Once the school year begins, newcomers are immersed in a language-rich environment with several supports. In grades K and 1 they primarily remain in the classroom since the proficiency levels are more homogeneous. In grades 2 through 5, newcomers that are Entering/Emerging, attend a modified stand-alone ENL program. Upon their arrival at our school, we conduct an informal student interview/orientation and sometimes pair the newcomer with a student of similar language/cultural background for a given period of time. Newcomer ENL students also participate in a new student orientation that includes a tour of the premises, explanation of school policies, expectations and events, and introductions to key staff and other members of the school community. Throughout the year, we regularly maintain ongoing home-school communication using Class Dojo application.

Newcomers are celebrated and motivated with engaging activities, like Newcomer Spelling Bees and language learning initiatives through games based hands-on activities. During newcomer game days, all students are grouped heterogeneously. Each group has younger and older students, so that if the younger students need assistance in completing an activity the older students are able to help and guide them. At the end of the game day, students receive special recognition for good sportsmanship and performance.

d. Long Term ELLs

An analysis of our ELL data has revealed that our Long Term ELLs struggle with academic vocabulary, a deficit that has been shown to impact comprehension of higher-level texts. Drawing on these findings, we have identified a need for these ELLs to expand their academic vocabulary in order to develop automaticity as readers and writers. Classroom and ENL teachers collaborate to design lessons and curricular modifications that include explicit vocabulary and spelling instruction. Additional support with word study at the morphological level is embedded. Our continuing goal is to support ELLs in developing word consciousness through language and literacy instruction while simultaneously expanding their knowledge of all content areas. All ELLs and former ELLs are eligible for testing accommodations for up to two years after testing out, in addition to any accommodations on their IEPs or 504 plans.

5. What supports does your school provide to ELLs with IEPs to achieve their IEP goals and attain English language proficiency within the least restrictive environment?

Our school ensures that all ELLs with IEPs receive appropriate ENL instruction and their mandated services. ENL teachers review student's IEPs and meet with special education teachers to design instruction that support students' individual IEP goals. Classrooms with ELLs with IEPs contain a variety of materials that support instruction. These include, math manipulatives, magnetic letters and letter tiles, audio books, music and educational games. We also utilize web-based programs such as Waggle (HMH), X-traMath.org, Imagine Learning, First in Math, Read&Write for Google, interactive programs available on Smartboard technology, and the use of document readers/projectors. We assess students' progress with screeners (Acadience ELA & Math K-2, and Map Growth ELA & Math 3-5), and intervention programs such as SPIRE. In addition we provide teachers and students in our dual language program with materials and resources in Spanish.

Our ENL teachers use many instructional strategies and grade level materials that provide access to academic content areas and accelerate English language development. We strongly adhere to the UDL philosophy. Teachers differentiate content, process and product. We differentiate content by modifying texts and using supplemental curricula, multimedia resources, collections of themed books, fiction and non-fiction picture books, graphic organizers, charts with visuals and models of writing tasks, bilingual materials and allowing varied pacing for different learners.

The learning process is differentiated through step by step displayed directions, rubrics and checklists, visuals and models of note-taking that appeal to all learning styles, drawing to express ideas, flexible grouping, audio books for newcomers and through social language models.

Finally, we differentiate learning products and output by offering students different formats in which to demonstrate their understanding. These include written tasks (standard reports, essays, stories, maps, diagrams etc.), verbal tasks (oral presentations, interviews, etc.), performance based tasks (role play) and creative tasks (painting, drawing, graphs, models, dioramas, etc.).

ELL students with IEPs receive intensive support by our ENL instructors in their classrooms to facilitate their reading, writing and language skills in order to meet their IEP goals. The classroom teacher uses specialized reading programs, such as Fundations for grades K, 1, 2, and 3. Classroom teachers collaborate with ENL teachers, SETSS and Speech providers to differentiate instruction to meet the individual needs of Special Education ELLs. Students with IEPs participate in daily small group instruction modified to meet individual student needs. Cluster teachers, as well as ENL specialists, have been trained to read IEPs so they are familiar with students' goals and make instructional accommodations according to the students' learning needs.

We ensure scheduling flexibility and flexible grouping across classrooms and grades to meet the diverse needs of our ELLs with IEPs by using both the stand-alone and integrated models of instruction. Through the stand-alone model, we provide focused, individualized instruction both inside and out of the classroom. Through the integrated model, general and special education teachers collaborate with ENL teachers to create lessons, materials and activities that follow UDL principles, providing multiple points of entry and expression.

We are flexible when providing instruction using several co-teaching models including station teaching, parallel teaching, etc.
When possible, ENL teachers collaborate with other service providers (speech, OT, etc) to provide consistent support throughout the day.

Furthermore, teachers plan assessments that allow for various means of representation, including the use of technology. In both the upper and lower grades, some individual special education students are mainstreamed for specific content areas. The special education teacher and the general education teacher, along with the ENL teacher, create lessons and activities to meet the needs of these students. Their lessons also provide multiple points of entry and expression. Teachers show flexibility in the variety of co-teaching models they employ to integrate content and language. We use multiple criteria to place ELLs with IEPs in ICT classes, for example formative and summative assessments, classroom observations, etc. The decision is based on the recommendation of teachers, administration, the school-based support team and most of all, the students' IEP.

6. How is home language assessed in each program model (DLBE, TBE, and ENL)?

ENL teachers work with classroom teachers to scaffold the teaching of writing and reading by modifying materials to meet the linguistic and cultural demands of academic text, thereby making content more accessible to ELLs. In our Dual Language class, content areas such as reading, writing, math, and word study are taught both in English and Spanish, depending on the week. For example, in one week, all subjects are taught in English, while the next week all subject areas are taught in Spanish. Both program models provide home language support through the use of bilingual books, bilingual dictionaries and word to word content area glossaries when appropriate. For certain activities, students are grouped according to native language so they can help each other and converse in their home language. At times, school personnel provides support to students, especially to those who are having difficulty with content-related material. Students are given native language support in math, science and social studies to develop content and language goals in preparation for state exams. During the content area exams, students may simultaneously use English and alternative language editions. For low incidence languages, oral translations may be given when students are taking content area exams. Native language support and grade/age appropriate content is also provided through bilingual checklists, rubrics and glossaries. (See plans for subgroups).

Dual language teachers also assess Spanish literacy in grades K-2 in Acadience. Other Spanish assessments are used for literacy and math.

Our ENL teams assess home language proficiency during the SIFE screener.

7. (For grades 6-12 only) What language electives are offered to MLs/ELLs? How is your school preparing MLs/ELLs to obtain the New York State Seal of Biliteracy?

N/A

8. Describe systems and structures for supporting co-teaching and collaboration among teachers for all ELL program models available at your school (e.g. integrated co-teaching, Dual Language Bilingual Education teacher partnerships, etc.).

We have many structures in place for supporting collaboration and co-teaching. ENL providers meet weekly with classroom teachers, content specialists, and related service providers to plan access points to daily lessons for all MLs. Teachers collaborate during common preps, grade meetings, and even informal lunch meetings. They also have access to shared drives. Teachers also make time to collaborate during district and in-house professional sessions. At PS 230 we are rooted in the belief that all teachers are teachers of ELLs. As a result, we consistently practice many of the standard co-teaching models in general education, ICT, and self-contained classrooms. These models include team teaching, station teaching, parallel teaching, one teach/one observe, etc. In this way, all teachers communicate regularly and have opportunities to debrief the effectiveness of lessons. Furthermore, ENL providers actively model best practices for integrating language and content.

The dual language teachers get a sixth period prep once a week to meet with the dual language coordinator. During that time, they plan out coaching cycles, HMH pacing (both Spanish and English) and planning for classroom visits. Throughout the year the dual language coordinator spent about a period a day (especially in the beginning of the year) teaching and observing alongside dual language teachers. Their interactions were documented so that teachers could use the feedback to support student learning.

9. Describe how your overall, annual professional learning plan ensures that all staff – including administrators, teachers and -non-pedagogical staff – incorporates learning specifically related to the academic and social emotional needs of MLs/ELLs. Professional learning topics might include co-teaching strategies, or integrating language and content instruction.

All staff - including administrators, teachers and non-pedagogical staff participate in an annual learning plan that incorporates learning specifically related to the academic and social emotional needs of MLs/ELLs by incorporating the NYS Culturally Responsive-Sustaining Education Framework. These guidelines allow staff to help prepare students for rigor and independent learning. Educators design and implement a student centered learning environment that affirms racial and cultural identities and fosters positive academic outcomes. They develop students' abilities to connect across cultures and contribute to their engagement, learning, growth and achievement through the cultivation of critical thinking. In addition, the whole school implementation of SEL encourages a safe, supportive school community where our MLS/ELLs feel valued.

The ENL team provides PD to the staff to ensure understanding of how to target specific academic strategies for the needs of our English Language Learners.

Second Step curriculum is used throughout the school to address the social emotional needs of all students, including MLs/ELLs.

Our ENL teachers have a block of time during teacher lunch periods in order to provide support for classroom teachers that might have questions relating to anything MLs/EL related.

10. Describe your school's professional development plan in order to meet the mandated Continuing Teacher and Leader Education (CTLE) ELL specific hours for certification renewal as per CR Part 154 (15% of total hours for all certified faculty [holders of professional certificates in the classroom teaching service, educational leadership service and level III teaching assistant certificate holders] and 50% of total hours for bilingual education/ENL teachers receive ELL-specific professional development).

Continuous learning is part of the PS 230 culture. Teachers are supported in professional development by administration, content coaches, and colleagues during our allotted PD time. Other professional development is provided by school staff, support personnel, and our Brooklyn North of District 15 and DOE approved programs. Participants include common branch teachers, ENL teachers and Coordinators, special education teachers, paraprofessionals, the guidance counselor, school psychologists, social workers, occupational and physical therapists, speech therapists, school secretaries, the parent coordinator, assistant principals and the principal. In the past years, we have made a significant investment in professional development around the ELA, Math and Social Studies and Science Common Core Standards and the implications for ELLs.

P.S. 230 meets the required 15% ELL-specific professional development for all teachers as well as the required 50% ELL-specific professional development for ENL/bilingual teachers as per CR Part 154 during our after school professional development time. These professional development periods vary and may be school-wide, grade-level specific, or individually pursued. These professional development times focus on different subject areas (reading, writing, math, SEL, etc). Our professional development helps classroom teachers, and ENL/bilingual teachers design and scaffold individualized lessons for small group instruction that meet the needs of language acquisition for our English Language Learners.

Teachers have participated in several intervention trainings including SPIRE, Orton Gillingham, Sound Sensible, Just Words, The Writing Revolution, and Illustrative Math.

Assessment

SCREENERS

11. Which screening assessments (e.g.iReady, MAP Growth, Acadience, or STAR Reading) does your school use to guide instructional planning for your ELLs?

Grades K-2 use Acadience Screeners, while 3-5 use MAP Growth. After administration, teachers analyze the individual and whole class data. Teachers disaggregate data in a number of ways, including looking specifically at the data from special populations such as ELL students. Based on the student performance and data analysis, teachers will make targeted instructional groups for intervention in class, as well as recommend students for after school programs. These groups include students with similar needs revealed by the data and may be homogeneously ELL students, or heterogeneous with native English speakers. Some classroom-based interventions include additional daily phonics lessons, vocabulary groups, structured shared reading, or guided reading groups based to address deficits and build on student strengths.

12. For all grades, list and describe your targeted intervention programs for ELLs in ELA, Math, and other core content areas (specify ELL subgroups targeted). Include the language(s) in which the intervention services are offered.

Once the summative data has been gathered, the information is used to set goals for students' growth in reading, writing, and math. In addition, we use formative data gathered in individual reading, writing, and math conferences. Students are then placed in small, flexible groups designed to meet their individual needs like letter/sound recognition, decoding, comprehension, fluency, grammar, spelling, and skills needed during the writing process. Some small math groups may include number recognition, counting, addition, subtraction, multiplication and division computation skills, as well as solving word problems. Many of our Ells are also invited to attend after school Title III programs. Newcomer ELLs work on listening and speaking goals, while the Transitioning and Expanding ELLs work on other literacy skills.

PS 230 uses both formative and interim assessments in HMH to assess early literacy skills of our ELLs. In addition, we use Spelling and High Frequency Word inventories including concepts of print, letter identification, letter sounds progression, and phonemic awareness. This additional data helps inform our school's instructional plan to target areas of need for individual students as well as design and plan for small group instruction. We also assess our ELLs with the comprehensive language arts program, Wilson and Fundations pre- and post- unit assessments. Many of our entering ELLs need to develop phonemic awareness in order to gain fluency in reading. This is especially true among our upper grade SIFE students who have limited letter/sound knowledge. The language of instruction is English for all intervention programs.

13. For all grades, describe how your school uses data to guide instruction for ELLs within a Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS). Refer to the Instructional Leadership Tool for MLs and ELLs and MTSS Guide for MLs and ELLs to help in the development and implementation of your school's plan for MLs/ELLs.

A variety of assessments are administered purposely throughout the year such as universal screenings, diagnostics, progress monitoring assessments, and outcome-based assessments. These include Acadiance, MAP Growth, and the NYSITELL upon registration. We aggregate and analyze data from standardized state exams such as ELA, Math, Science, and the NYSESLAT. We also administer HMH Into Reading module screeners and end of module assessments. All classroom and ENL teachers are trained in administering the assessments, analyzing the data, and making curricular modifications or enhancements based on the results. In planning for the administration of the assessments, we ensure that accommodations are provided for all subgroups of learners including students with disabilities as mandated in their IEPs. We also make sure that ELLs are assessed in their native language when appropriate.

Our school analyzes quantitative and qualitative data trends to inform instruction and identify strengths and needs of students. This includes both at-risk students who may require additional support, and students who excel and may require additional challenges. During grade meetings, teachers meet with teams and administrators to analyze the results and create a plan for targeted support for students. Recently, PS 230 administrators and key members of the instructional leadership team attended the Data Wise training 2 years ago at Harvard University. We implement the 8-step model of using multiple data sources to identify trends among all subgroups and use the results to inform classroom instruction.

Our school leadership team understands the multi-tiered system of supports (MTSS framework) in which both academic and behavioral instructional supports are addressed. PS 230 uses the results of our assessments to provide Tier 1, Tier 2, Tier 3 interventions that are academically, culturally and linguistically appropriate for our multilingual learners. For example, we comply with Tier 1 interventions by using student data to differentiate instruction throughout the day. The new evidence-based reading curriculum is closely linked to grade level standards. To ensure that all MLLs can access the standards, teachers modify lessons and materials, plan strategic grouping and use content and meta-linguistic scaffolds to ensure that all students have access to the content. In this way, time accommodations, appropriate scaffolds, materials, and amplified texts ensure that assessments accurately measure students' abilities.

Regarding Tier 2 interventions, ENL teachers conduct targeted pull-out groups for MLs who need more support in a particular skill. For example, our data revealed that some of our subgroups of MLs are struggling with phonological awareness, understanding of the alphabetic principle, and fluency. To address this, we use supplemental, evidence-based intervention programs such as Words Their Way, Readers Theater, and approaches like Orton Gillingham. In addition, based on the needs identified in our data, we enroll many of these students into after-school enrichment programs that offer targeted instruction focused on phonics, writing, vocabulary, and oral language development. At the conclusion of these after-school programs, we analyze the growth the students may have shown.

Finally, we offer Tier 3 support for students who require a more specific and individualized intervention, especially the bottom 16%. AIS and ENL specialists work with individual students or very small groups of students in a separate location using the SPIRE curriculum. . Our data demonstrates that these students have difficulty with phonological awareness, letter recognition, phoneme segmentation, blending, and syllabication. This targeted small group and individual intervention occurs in cycles through the school year. Each of these students has an Amira account and works on it daily.

FORMATIVE

14. Which formative assessments (e.g. NYC performance Tasks, ELL Periodic Assessment, HLA Assessment, DRA, teacher-created assessments, etc.) are used to inform and drive instruction?

P.S. 230 uses a variety of tools and resources throughout the year to assess the needs of our students, including our ELLs. HMH formal assessments are used K-5. P.S. 230 uses Investigations 3 math curriculum in grades K-4, Engage NT in grade 5, and EDL in all Dual Language classes. Assessments are embedded throughout the units. In addition, fluency quizzes are administered to ensure students are memorizing their math facts. P.S. 230 also uses the Multilingual Literacy SIFE Screener (MLS) for the identification of SIFE students. We analyze the data and use it to guide instructional planning for our ELLs. Checklists, rubrics, and conference notes are kept to track students' progress in all academic and content areas. These assessments are used to set goals for students' growth in reading, writing, and math. Using formative data gathered in individual reading, writing and math conferences, students are placed into flexible small groups designed to meet comprehension, fluency, writing, or math goals made for each student.

Students also use KWL charts and exit tickets, participate in class discussions, work on projects and play games to show what they know, which will drive instruction.

15. How do you ensure that MLs/ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their home languages throughout the year?

We use the MLS (Multilingual Literacy SIFE Screener) for the Identification of Students with Interrupted/Inconsistent Formal Education in the students' native languages. Reports are generated and shared with classroom teachers in order to utilize the native language as a resource. We also use the Spanish LAB. We use the BOY/MOY/EOY in our Spanish Dual Language program. The Spanish Acadience Reading assessment is incorporated into our K, 1st and 2nd Dual Language program.

We also use bilingual teachers and/or school personnel to conduct informal evaluations of students during the intake procedure. During the intake process, we acquire student writing samples and recruit school personnel who speak the native language to guide teachers in assessing native language literacy. This process, along with the assessments and parent/student interviews, gives us an overview of the students' ability, so that classroom teachers can build on common underlying proficiencies. Also, ELL students who are literate in their native language have the option to take standardized content exams in their native language. We train them to use bilingual glossaries so that they are comfortable using them as a resource both in the classroom and during the exam.

SUMMATIVE

16. Which summative assessments (e.g. NYSESLAT, ELA, Math, Regents, etc.) are used to evaluate the effectiveness of your ML/ELL programs and how does it inform instructional design and curricular decisions? (Refer to the ELL Data Analysis Tool).

We use the NYSESLAT. ELA, and Math assessments to evaluate the effectiveness of our ML/ELL programs. Our instructional design and curricular decisions are made based on the data that these summative assessments provide. Based on the ELL Data Analysis Tool, our ELL students who scored a level 1 or 2 are given the opportunity to work in small groups that target explicit interventions. They are also invited to participate in our Title III programs. We analyze data from the NYSESLAT, as well as the ELA and Math exams, to see how our ELLs are performing on state assessments. We can then use this information to inform curricular decisions. Students take end of unit assessments, multiple choice exams and write essays to show the effectiveness of our ML/ELL programs. We understand that our ELL model of instruction must be revisited and evaluated annually to address the needs of our dynamic population. Our curriculum reflects both language and content goals that our ELLs need to meet in order to achieve academic success. Finally, we strive to maintain a teaching and learning environment where language and cultural diversity is not only valued, but also viewed as a strength. The cumulation of this data helps inform our ELL programs. Based on this data, our Title III programs will include opportunities for the most at risk students to participate in activities that include guided reading, shared reading, poetry, reader's theater, and word work. A listening component will be added to some of these programs. There will also be a program that strengthens and supports mathematical skills. This data was analyzed by all ENL providers and shared with classroom teachers so that they can collaboratively plan and develop lessons that differentiate instruction.

17. What is your NYSESLAT administration plan? How does your school ensure that all ELLs are tested with the NYSESLAT annually? Include the titles of the staff that will administer and score the assessment. Please describe your plan to ensure that all ELLs and former ELLs continue to receive mandated instruction during the testing period.

Laura Birchfield (ENL Coordinator/Testing Coordinator) develops an extensive NYSESLAT administration plan. The RLAT shows every student that must take the NYSESLAT. A spreadsheet is created from the RLAT data with columns for Speaking, Session 1, 2, and 3 (grades 1-5) and Speaking, listening, Reading, and Writing (Kindergarten). As students are tested, the boxes are checked off showing it was completed. This document is shared with the ENL team. Laura Birchfield creates the schedules, assigns students to proctors, and assigns rooms that testing will take place. The morning of each test, Laura creates envelopes that hold all necessary materials needed to successfully administer the NYSESLAT.

All ENL teachers, along with trained classroom teachers, administer the NYSESLAT. ENL teachers administer the NYSESLAT to all grades K - 5 and the classroom teachers proctor on the grade they teach. Our ENL team members are Sarah Robb, Lisa Adelino, Evgenia Shaban, Adriana DiScipio, and Laura Birchfield. They all hold an ESOL license are trained to score the NYSESLAT. No one scores student's that they provide services to.

ELLs, and former ELLs continue to receive mandated services during the testing period. ENL teachers divide their time between testing and servicing their students. In addition, they post asynchronous lessons for students on their Google Classroom. ENL teachers continue to work with their cooperating teachers to help support and scaffold lessons.

18. How does your school ensure that current and former ELLs receive necessary accommodations for state assessments, including the Specialized High School Admissions Test (SHSAT) if applicable?

PS 230 ensures that current and former ELLs receive necessary accommodations for state assessments. Our test coordinator meets periodically throughout the year with the Special Education Liaison to review all student accommodations, including current and former ELLs. A spreadsheet is created and updated as needed so when testing time arrives, it can be used to enter accommodations into NEXTERA, or bubble on answer documents. Teachers also sign off that their student's accommodations are current and correct. Additionally, state tests are untimed, so ELLs get as m much time as they need.

ATS reports are also used to see what ELL students are exempt from the ELA. The RLAT specifically lists the students that are entitled to extended time, bilingual glossaries, translated copies (math/science test), or oral translations, etc.

Part VI: Family Partnership

Family Partnership

Required Meetings Under CR Part 154

Describe your schools' plan to ensure families of ELLs are provided with the required meetings specified below as per CR Part 154. Include:

- Topics discussed during these meetings
- How your school ensures families receive necessary translation/interpretation supports to meaningfully engage in the meetings
- How your school schedules these meetings to facilitate attendance, and how your school maintains evidence of these meetings as required per the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs.

a. ELL Program Orientation to inform parents/guardians of newly identified ELLs of ELL program options, including the program goals and requirements for all three ML/ELL program models: Dual Language Bilingual Education, Transitional Bilingual Education and English as a New Language regardless of whether the school currently has either type of bilingual program and provide a high-quality orientation section on the Next Generation Learning Standards, assessments, and school expectations for English Language Learners.

The ELL Program Orientation is conducted with each family of a newly identified ELL in the home language as indicated on the HLIS. The ENL team (Laura Birchfield, Sara Robb, Lisa Adelino, Adriana DiScipio, and Evgenia Shaban conducts the ELL program orientation in the beginning of the school year and throughout the year. This takes place in person within 10 days of identifying the student. In the beginning of the year, groups are made by language and families are invited to our school. Throughout the year, these orientations will take place individually as students are registered. Families are invited by Entitlement form in their native language. If they do not show up at the scheduled day and time, we reach out by phone calls and ClassDojo with translation.

At this orientation we review topics that provide families with a high quality orientation. We thoroughly explain the child's English language proficiency assessment results and what it means in terms of support and services their child is entitled to receive with oral translation. The translator also interprets our slide show explaining all important information regarding selecting a program for their child. Parents watch the NYSED Office of Bilingual and World Languages Video in their native language and are encouraged to ask questions about all three program models before they complete the ELL Parent Survey and Program Agreement. We explain that our school offers ENL and Spanish Dual Language and the overall goals of both programs, but we also inform them of other programs available in our district. Additionally, the ENL team includes an explanation of the Next Generation Learning Standards, assessments, and school exceptions for English Language Learners.

Our ENL Coordinator keeps lists of students in each class that needs a parent orientation. As parents make their selections, the ELPC screen in ATS is updated. We have an agenda and maintain accurate attendance sheets for each ELL parent orientation. These documents are kept in our ENL Compliance binder.

b. Annual Individual Meeting to discuss goals of the program, language development progress, language proficiency assessment results, and language development needs in all content areas. Note: this meeting is separate from and does not include the mandated ELL program orientation meeting and DOE-scheduled parent-teacher conferences.

In addition to our school wide parent-teacher conferences, we hold another ELL specific parent teacher conference day. Parents are informed in their native language that they are having their annual mandated 1:1 meeting and are given a specific date and time to meet with their child's ELL provider to discuss their child's progress. Each ENL provider conducts these individual meetings. There is 1 day designated for this annual meeting in January. Additionally, the ENL providers meet with families throughout the year since there are too many families to meet with them al in one day. These meetings are primarily in person, but may be in a virtual meeting if circumstances warrant that. All notices sent home are in families native languages and translation is available at these meetings.

There is an agenda so all providers give the same information to each family. Student progress in the classroom is discussed and well as their child's NYSESLAT score. All questions are answered.

Families sign an attendance sheet. This, along with the agenda is kept in the ENL Compliance binder.

Family Engagement

2. Beyond the mandated meetings and orientations, describe how your school:
a. Ensures families receive all school communications and documents in the language they best understand. How are families able to respond or initiate communications in languages other than English?

To ensure that all families receive important information in their home language, ENL and classroom teachers keep a record of the preferred language(s) of communication selected by parents on the Home Language Survey. Based on the parents' responses, school wide announcements and flyers are translated into such languages.

During Parent-Teacher Conferences, bilingual school aids and other staff members are invited to translate in-person or during remote meetings. The NYC DOE translation line is another tool widely used by ENL and classroom teachers during parent teacher meetings. Moreover, the P.S.230 website offers translation in 131 languages.

At all times, parents are encouraged to request a translator in order to communicate with teachers and/or administrators. The Class Dojo application offers a translation tool that many families find easy to use, as it offers a feature to write a message in one's native language and it is automatically translated into English.

Our Pupil Accounting secretary is responsible for entering parent's preferred home language in ATS. The secretary is also responsible for monitoring ATS reports like the RAPL, to ensure all parents' information is entered in a timely manner. In addition, our ENL Coordinator review monthly EDUR reports to see if anything is out of compliance and needs updating.

PS 230 has Spanish, Chinese, Bengali, Arabic, Urdu, Russian and Ukrainian translators in the building. We try to translate any important notice and all documents in parents' preferred language. Our Parent Coordinator ensures parent's voices are heard if they do not speak English. She has translation devices that can be used as well. These translation devices are also used during in person meetings. For virtual or over the phone meetings, one of our translators are present. If we do not have someone that speaks a needed language, translation services are used.

School communications all go through ClassDojo and is translated in parents' preferred language. Parents can respond in any language other than English and the message is translated back to us in English. This allows easy communications between school and home. Our school website also cane translated by clicking a button.

b. Develops activities that foster empowerment for families of MLs/ELLs. Include how your school determines the needs of your community.

P.S.230 offers an array of activities that foster empowerment for families of MLs/ELLs.

In the beginning of every school year the parent coordinator, SLT, and P.S.230 PTA reach out to families to see what our school can do to empower their families. This is done through PTA meetings, Townhall meetings, ClassDojo and email. Our SLT and PTA meetings are provided with interpretation services if needed. This is done in multiple languages.

PS 230 have a very large Bengali and Spanish community so we try to have events that represent their culture. We also have events that showcase Chinese culture, like Lunar New Year.

We have the Hummingbird Festival, which invites families of MLs/ELLs to represent the culture and/or community on stage or at a craft table. Throughout the year, the crochet club meets every other week to design and create unique patterns of their home cultures.

Our school is open to hosting any event or workshop that will enable our ML/ELL families to feel empowered in our community.

c. Ensures families of MLs/ELLs are aware of family leadership opportunities (such as Parent Association (PA), School Leadership Team (SLT), Community Education Council (CEC), etc.)

PS 230 ensures families of MLs/ELLs are aware of family leadership opportunities such as Parent Teacher Association (PTA), School Leadership Team (SLT), and Community Education Council (CEC), etc by posting information on Class Dojo, school email blasts, and letters that go home with their child(red). These parent outreach opportunities are translated. Families are encouraged to participate and play an active role in their child's education.

Families can go to the PTA president and/or parent coordinator to voice concerns to school administration and district leadership.

The election process for these positions are equitable. All information is given in parents' preferred languages and translation is provided when necessary.

3. What culturally and linguistically responsive partnerships do you currently have that support the needs of your school community?

The Culturally and linguistically responsive partnerships that we currently have that support the need of our school community is as follows:

After school programs such as Impact Coaching Network (Chess).

South Asian Youth Action- a youth development organization providing holistic, impactful, free, year-round programming to underserved New York City youth. As one of the first South Asian organizations in the United States, SAYA fills a critical role in the positive development of young people from under-resourced and immigrant communities.

The Singing Winds offers multilingual storytelling performances and folk art festivals, featuring traditional folklore, music, dance and crafts from the cultures of immigrant residents in Kensington. All Singing Winds programs explore the creative use of public space to share and celebrate the vibrant cultural diversity of Brooklyn communities, build relationships among neighbors, and initiate meaningful dialogue that can transcend language barriers and cultural divisions.

Part VII: Additional Information

Additional Information

Include any additional information that is relevant to your LAP and would further explain and highlight how your school supports MLs/ELLs. This form does not allow graphics and charts to be pasted.

Our MLs/ELLs make up a very special part of the PS 230 community. The administration, classroom teachers, ENL providers, and other service providers are dedicated to providing the highest level of education to help them achieve success.

Part VIII: ELL Identification Attestation and Principal Certification

Identification Plan

For additional information, refer to ELL Identification Attestation Professional Learning Module.

1. What are the titles of the members of your ELL identification team? Note: Members of the ELL identification team must be pedagogues.

Here are the titles of the members of the PS 230 ELL identification team that are responsible for the intake and identification of newly enrolled students year round. Our ENL teachers all hold a TESOL license. :

1. Laura Birchfield - ENL Coordinator
2. Evgenia Shaban -ENL Teachers
3. Lisa Adelino - ENL Teachers
4. Sarah Robb - ENL Teachers
5. Adriana DiScipio - ENL Teachers
6. Christine Caruso - Assistant Principal (LPT Team)
7. Lisa Bradley - Special Education Liaison (LPT Team)

2. Describe the structures and process in place for identification of ELLs year-round as required by the NYC DOE Policy & Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, including your school's identification plan for any incoming students with an Individualized Education Plan (IEP). Include:

- How your school proactively plans for the ELL identification process so that it does not interrupt the provision of mandated ENL and/or bilingual instruction to current, former and potential ELLs,
- Who is responsible for each step of the ELL identification process, and
- School's plan for ensuring ELLs and former ELLs will continue to receive mandated instruction.

Here are the structures and process in place for identification of ELLs year-round as required by the NYC DOE Policy & Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, including PS 230's identification plan for any incoming student with an Individualized Education Plan (IEP). The following structures and process occur for intake and identification of ELL students within 10 school days (20 school days for students entering with IEPs).

Step 1: Determine Student's Enrollment Status
Newly enrolled students must be administered the entire ELL identification process. If a student is re-entering a NYC public school, determine whether the student has been outside of the NYS public school system for more than two years. Students who have been outside of the NYS public school system for more than two years must be re-administered the entire ELL Identification Process.

Step 2: Qualified Personnel Administers the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS)
During the initial registration process, one ENL certified teacher (named above) is present and fills out the HLIS with the parent in their native language, with translation if need be.

Step 3: Determine NYSITELL Eligibility and Administer NYSITELL to Eligible Students
For students whose home language is not English, the ENL Coordinator or an ENL Teacher (named above) will administer the mandated individual interview with the student and parent in English and the student's home language. We also review the student's schoolwork (if available). At this point, we will either decide to give the NYSITELL, go before the Language Proficiency Team (LPT) to determine NYSITELL eligibility, or deem the student an ELLO. If the student has an IEP, the LPT will determine eligibility within 20 days. If the student is determined to be English proficient, they will be identified as an ELLO. Their name will go to the ENL Coordinator and placed on a list in the ELL Compliance binder. They will be entered into ATS as an ELLO (Code A).

Step 4: Send Parent Notifications in Preferred Language
Within five school days of ELL determination, we inform parents/guardians of the results of the NYSITELL, ELL status, and their right to seek review of this determination. PS 230 uses the NYC DOE standard parent notification letters (in the parents' preferred language. (Entitlement Letter or Non-Entitlement Letter. They are invited to a parent orientation, where they will learn about the different types of ELL programs.

Step 5: Administer the Spanish LAB
All newly identified ELLs whose HLIS responses indicate a home language of Spanish will be given the Spanish LAB at the time of initial enrollment during the same 10 school day testing window (or 20 school days for incoming students with IEPs).

Step 6: Identification of Students with Interrupted/Inconsistent Formal Education
The above named staff will determine if the student is two or more years below grade level in literacy in their home language and/or two or more years below grade level in mathematics due to inconsistent or interrupted schooling before arrival in the United States. This will be done within 30 school days from initial enrollment.

Step 7: Parent Agreement and Program Placement
Next we notify parents/guardians of their child's eligibility for ELL services and provide information and program selection through parent orientations (in the parent's/guardian's preferred language). Parents will then fill out the Parent survey and selection form. Once parents make their selection, Laura Birchfield enters their choice into ATS.

Step 8: Student is Placed in ELL Program
Once the student's ELL program has been determined, we send parents a placement letter (in the parents' preferred language) indicating the program in which their child has been placed. A copy of the placement letter is placed in the student's cumulative folder. Laura Birchfield programs all ENL minutes into STARS Classroom.

Step 9: Re-Identification of ELL Status (only used as necessary)
The Re-Identification Process allows schools, parents, and students who believe a student may have been misidentified as an ELL or non-ELL to request (within 45 school days of a student's initial determination or reentry determination) that the ELL Identification Process be administered a second time.

Step 10: Review of Re-Identification of ELL Status Reversal (only used as necessary)
Between six and 12 months (from the date of the superintendent's notification to the principal, parent, guardian, and/or student), the principal must review the Re-Identification Process decision to ensure that the student's academic progress has not been adversely affected by the determination.
The principal will consult with a qualified staff member in the school, the parent/guardian, and the student. If the principal, based on the recommendation of qualified personnel and consultation with the parent/guardian believes that the student may have been adversely affected by the determination, the principal must provide additional support services to the student as defined in CR Part 154-2.3(j) and may reverse the determination within this same 6-to-12-month period.

If the principal decides to reverse the ELL status, the principal must consult with the superintendent or the superintendent's designee. Final decision notification must be in writing to the parent, guardian, and/or student in the parent's preferred language within 10 school days.

All copies of ELL documents will be kept in the student's cum folder, as well as in an ENL folder.

Our current and former ELLs continue to receive mandated instructions based on their current proficiency level and CR Part 154.

Our ENL Coordinator (Laura Birchfield) and ENL Teachers (Evgenia Shaban, Lisa Adelino, Adriana DiScipio, and Sarah Robb). are responsible for the intake and identification of newly enrolled students year round. Our ENL teachers all hold a TESOL license.

Principal Certification

In accordance with New York State's Commissioner's Regulations Part 154 as outlined and implemented in the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, I, attest that the following ELL identification procedures and activities are adhered to, and staff are trained on the items listed below.

- The ELL Identification Process is completed for each student within 10 school days of enrollment (20 school days for students entering with IEPs).
- Enrollment status of each newly admitted student is determined:
  a. If a student has been in New York State public schools within the past 2 years, our school contacts the previous school to obtain ELL status, relevant assessment scores, and English language proficiency level.
  b. If a student has been outside of New York State public schools for more than 2 years, our school administers the ELL Identification Process as part of reentry.

- The home language of the student is determined by a trained and licensed pedagogue.

- An interview with parents and students in English and the home language is conducted. This includes reviewing documents, prior assessments, and academic experience. An assessment of the student's abilities and/or work samples determines the student's literacy and math level in his/her home language.
- Eligibility for the NYSITELL is determined.
  a. If the newly enrolled student is entering with an IEP, the school's Language Proficiency Team (LPT) recommends eligibility to the principal, who obtains final approval from the superintendent.

- Students are administered the NYSITELL, if eligible.
- Notification letters are sent to the parent/guardian in their preferred language.
  a. Parent is notified of their child's ELL status and results of the NYSITELL.

- If the student is identified as an ELL and the student's home language is Spanish, the student is administered the Spanish Language Assessment Battery (LAB).
- Student with Interrupted/Inconsistent Formal Education (SIFE) status is determined using New York State's resources.
- If a student is a newly identified ELL, the parent is invited to the parent orientation meeting.
  a. The parent orientation meeting provides parents/guardians with an explanation of each ELL program model offered in NYC; the parent video describing the three programs is presented (in parent's preferred language); parents/guardians are encouraged to ask questions so that they are informed about all ELL programs; translation and interpretation services are provided throughout the meeting.

- ELL is placed in the ELL program that the parent selected.
  a. If the bilingual program that the parent selected is not available, the parent is offered a transfer to a school with that bilingual program in accordance with NYC DOE transfer policies.
  b. If the ELL remains in the school, the ELL is placed in English as a New Language and our school keeps track of parent selection so that when minimum thresholds are met, we can open the ELL program of choice.

- Parents are notified that they have 45 days to appeal the ELL status of their child (ELL Re-identification Process).
- If the ELL Re-identification Process is implemented for any student, the principal reviews the decision of any student whose ELL status was changed because of the ELL Re-identification Process within 6 to 12 months.
- Copies of documentation regarding ELL identification, including letters and parent notifications are kept in the students' cumulative files.

Designation of a LAC
Name of person designated and trained as the LAC.
At the start of each school year, each principal is required to designate at least one staff member to serve as the Language Access Coordinator (LAC), responsible for overseeing language assistance services within the school.

We have pre-populated the following information based on our records. Please confirm that the designated staff member(s) are your school's Galaxy-designated LAC(s) and provide the date(s) they attended the OLA Language Access Coordinator Training. Note that this training is in addition to the mandatory asynchronous NYCPS Language Access Training for School-based Staff on the WeLearnNYC learning platform. If any information is missing, please provide the requested details.

As a reminder, LACs are internal staff designations and are not meant to serve as the primary point of contact for families regarding language access-related matters. Additionally, explain how your Galaxy-designated LAC will disseminate future language access resources and updates to all staff members.

At the beginning of the year, the Parent Coordinator/Language Access Coordinator will provide staff and families the Parents' Guide to Language Access. PS 230's Language Access Coordinator will also send staff links to the Chancellor's Regulation A-663, Language Access Handbook, and Inforgraphics (i.e. OTP Desk Aids) via email and posts on the PS 230 staff website. Staff will also be given links to and physical copies of the available resources for best practices for when to provide translation of critical written communications to parents and best practices for when to provide interpretation for critical oral communications with parents. The Language Access Coordinator will issue an official communication to all staff, informing them of the NYCPS Language Access Training for School-Based Staff on the WeLearnNYC learning platform. The Language Access Team will provide the following PD sessions for staff – a) Language Resources at PS 230, and b) Accessibility – Digital, Language, and Literacy in Family Communication.

Part E: Parental Notification

Parental Notification

Provision of notice to parents on the available language assistance services.

- Messaging applications

- Language Access for NYC Public Schools Families brochure

At registration, PS 230 will inform families of their right to receive information in their preferred language during the Home Language Survey. At the beginning of the school year, families will also receive the Parent's Guide to Language Access, the NYC Public School Guidebook, and the PS 230 Family Guidebook in their preferred language via paper (when available) or email. These booklets will also be posted on the home page of the school website where families can view translations with the translation tool. NYC DOE Welcome posters will be displayed prominently at the entrance of both school buildings with contact information for families to request interpretation services. Additional flyers will be posted on lobby bulletin boards identifying parents' rights to translation and interpretation in Special Education. At the beginning of Parent Meetings, including Orientations, PTA Meetings, Town Halls and Information Sessions, announcements will be made in all available languages of interpretation services and how to access them (in-person or virtually). Classroom teachers and school administrators will use Class Dojo with translation available upon demand to inform parents of their right to receive information in their preferred language. Orientations for new parents will include information on how to access translation on apps and the school website. PS 230 will also attach the multilingual notice for documents that are not translated onto flyers, letters, and email blasts informing families of their right to request translation of the document.

Part F: Monitoring

Monitoring

Methods for soliciting and implementing feedback on language assistance services.

1. In addition to the feedback received from parents via OLA's Translation & Interpretation Feedback Survey, describe the methods your school will use to gather feedback from parents regarding the language assistance services they receive in their preferred language.

PS 230's Language Access Coordinator/Parent Coordinator will organize monthly forums for parents to meet, ask questions and voice concerns, with interpretation provided by bilingual school staff and parent volunteers. At least 6x a year, language-specific forums will be scheduled in which discussion will take place exclusively in the designated language. Along with the language-specific forums, monthly workshops will be scheduled with interpretation provided by bilingual school staff and/or parent volunteers. The Parent Coordinator regularly receives feedback from families on language services, including the quality of a translation, need for an additional language, difficulty understanding interpreters, etc. At the end of the year, PS 230 will administer the Parent Survey on Language Access to gather additional feedback from families.

2. How has your school worked to improve its language assistance services? Share any feedback results and outline your plans for further improvements in the upcoming school year.

In response to families' request for interpretation of parent meetings, PS 230 proposed and was awarded 3-Channel interpretation equipment with headsets through the City Council's Participatory Budgeting initiative. Our successful experience of simultaneous interpretation of parent meetings - and the challenges of sequential interpretation in multiple languages during Virtual Parent Meetings in Spring 2020 - led us to initiate conference call interpretation services during Virtual Parent Meetings in the 2020-2021 school year. With increased demand for translated communication from classroom teachers during remote learning, PS 230 initiated school-wide use of Class Dojo in the 2021-2022 school year, significantly improving parent-teacher communication on student-specific issues, classwork support and class schedules. PS 230 receives regular feedback from our families regarding the quality of Bengali (Bangla) translation in both school-based and Central DOE documents. As a result, in 2022-2023 PS 230 launched monthly Bangla Q&A Parent Meetings conducted in Bangla with English translation to share information and address family concerns. We expanded this successful effort to include Spanish/K'iche' Q&A meetings in the 2023-2024 school year for a growing community of families from Guatemala, and through these meetings identified parent leaders interested in serving as communication ambassadors for their community. PS 230's LAC and bilingual Secretary will work with members of the Translation & Interpretation unit to annotate Bengali translation of DOE documents for language styles that our families do not recognize or find difficult to understand. PS 230 has downloaded Bangla fonts on the AP, Secretary, LAC/PC and School Aide's computers - and will continue to develop in-school translation services in Bengali (Bangla) to provide more comprehensive and accurate translation with a quicker turn-around. In response to staff research and interviews with families and colleagues. members of the PS 230 Special Education Team are developing translated resources for staff and families to support the IEP and Special Education process, including resources available through the T&I Unit and CBO's providing family workshops and support for families. PS 230 will continue to provide translate school-based and Central DOE documents in multiple languages. Along with the language-specific forums, monthly workshops will be scheduled with interpretation provided by bilingual school staff and/or parent volunteers.

Title III Supplemental Program for ELLs for SY 2025-26

REQUIREMENTS

Title III supplemental services for English Language Learners (ELLs) must include the following three components:

- Direct instruction activities must be used to support language development, English and home language instruction, high academic achievement in math, and/or high academic achievement in other core academic areas. The Title III supplemental instructional services must be based on student need. These supplemental services should complement core bilingual and ENL services required under CR Part 154. Direct supplemental services should be provided for before school, after school, and Saturday programs. Teachers providing the services must be bilingual education and/or English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) certified teachers.
- High quality professional development that is "of sufficient intensity and duration to have a positive and lasting impact on the teachers' performance in classrooms." Professional development activities should be well-planned, ongoing events rather than one-day or short-term workshops and conferences.
- Parent engagement and supports must ensure that there are appropriate translation and interpretation services to meet community needs. These are in addition to mandated activities, such as parent orientation during ELL identification process or annual ELL parent meetings.

Note: The Title III ELL program planning ratio is as follows: 60% to direct instruction, 10% to professional development (if funded using Title III ELL funds), 10% to parent engagement (if funded using Title III ELL funds), and 20% to OTPS (if funded using Title III ELL funds).

For more information on Title III requirements, please see the School Allocation Memo or contact your ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance and Performance Specialist. Any updates or revisions to this plan must be made through the iPlan portal.

Rationale for Title III ELL Funded Programs

Describe the rationale for each Title III ELL funded program. For each program, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis that support the need for program, and
- Data sources used to justify the need for the program

Program #1: After School Project Based Level - Creating a Newsletter

After analyzing our current EDAT, Acadience, and Map Growth, and attendance data, trends were noticed. The majority of ELLs at PS 230 are Newcomers (80.6%). Speaking is overwhelmingly the strongest modality, with writing being the weakest. This after-school program will allow students to creatively work on speaking, reading, listening and writing. Our students perform better when they are engaged in high interest, and culturally-relevant content. PS 230 is a diverse school with multiple cultures and languages represented, and many of our students are first generation immigrants. The rationale for this program is to build on our own students' background knowledge and heritage, while reinforcing researching skills such as identifying main ideas, prioritizing importance, synthesizing information from reliable sources, identifying themes, and citing relevant evidence to support ideas. Additionally, a critical component of the program is developing writing and oral proficiency which is an area of need according to the NYSESLAT.

Program #2 K/1 Phonics Intervention Program

After analyzing our current EDAT, Acadience, and F&P data, trends were noticed. The majority of ELLs at PS 230 are Newcomers (80.6%). Speaking is overwhelmingly the strongest modality, with writing being the weakest. This after-school K/1/2 Phonics Intervention Program for ENL Learners is to help our ELLs build strong phonemic awareness and foundational skills that will support them when they are reading and writing. The program will provide explicit, targeted instruction that uses appropriate, high interest materials that are engaging for our students.

Program notifications will be sent home and/or emailed in the parents' preferred language informing them that their child was chosen to participate in the program.

Our school will implement this plan by analyzing the above-mentioned data, selecting qualifying students, and sending out permission slips in families native language. Once permission slips are returned, groups will be created. Teachers will have 2 hours of professional development time to prepare for this after-school program. Collaboratively, teachers will create PBL lessons that allow students to actively engage in real-world and personally meaningful research. For this program, students will create a school newsletter around an essential question. They will work in groups to explore their own culture and heritage, research specific questions, organize their research, and create a visual and written representation to include in a class newsletter. discussion of the content will occur through ENL staff displaying a Powerpoint with sites. Families will have an opportunity to ask questions regarding device concerns and navigation of websites. Ways for parents to support their children at home will be provided. We will then explain how NYSESLAT scores directly relate to their child's proficiency levels and how they can use this knowledge to support the language needs of their children. Most updated RLAT report will be analyzed. This workshop will be conducted virtually through Google Meets from 9:30am - 10:30 am.
