Section 1: Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Comprehensive Education Planning (CEP) is a structured, data-driven process that guides schools in assessing their needs, identifying areas for growth, setting strategic goals and implementing targeted actions to improve student outcomes. Collaboratively developed by the School Leadership Team (SLT) in accordance with the requirements of Chancellor's Regulation A-655, the CEP meets New York State Education Department (NYSED) requirements under the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) and aligns with NYC Public Schools' (NYCPS) system-wide priorities. By engaging all stakeholders—school leaders, teachers, families, students and community members—schools can create a data-informed, equity-focused roadmap for student success and continuous improvement.

Schools should focus their CEP on the five system-wide priorities below, connecting their planning to the data discussions and conversations with stakeholders held as part of the school's needs assessment:

- Priority 1: All students learn to read well
- Priority 2: All students are physically and emotionally safe
- Priority 3: All students have a high-quality academic experience
- Priority 4: All students graduate college and career ready and have a strong plan and pathway to economic security
- Priority 5: All districts and schools are more inclusive and responsive for parents and families, including having more families choose NYC Public Schools

The Education Planning Process

The CEP follows an equity-driven, continuous improvement cycle, rooted in the system-wide priorities. This begins with a comprehensive needs assessment of the school's most current data to identify priority needs and root causes. Next, the SLT establishes specific, measurable, attainable, relevant, and timely—SMART goal(s) aligned to each priority and determines targets to measure progress toward meeting the annual goals.

The SLT and instructional leaders define key evidence-based key strategies, professional learning activities and parent, family and community empowerment efforts. They monitor the implementation of those strategies and activities and track progress through measurable targets. Then, the SLT aligns the school-based budget with human and instructional resources to support action plans.

As schools set goals, develop key strategies, and plan action steps, they provide opportunities for all children to meet NYSED's proficient and advanced levels of student academic achievement. These include evidence based instructional strategies that address the educational needs of historically underserved populations and tackle structural inequities. Schools indicate how the plan addresses the needs of Multilingual/English Language

Learners (ML/ELL) through development of the school's Language Allocation Policy (LAP) & Title III Application (if applicable) and the Language Translation and Interpretation (LTI) Plan, that are required as part of the CEP. Schools also address the needs of Students with Disabilities (SWD) through the High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities section of the plan. SLTs also develop a plan to improve attendance and reduce chronic absenteeism.

Guidance on Conducting a Comprehensive Needs Assessment

Directions: Conduct a comprehensive needs assessment for each Priority. The information below provides guidance for reviewing and analyzing student and school performance trends to uncover root causes for low student achievement.

1. Review Multiple Data Sources: Use the most current and available information including, but not limited to, the following sources of formative and summative data, as applicable:

- Qualitative and quantitative data, including enrollment and class size trends
- 2024-25 ESSA Accountability Data
- Instructional Leadership Framework (ILF), Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) Inventories, and NYC School Survey results
- Quality Review Reports, NYSED and NYCPS CSI or A/TSI Support Visits, Receivership Quarterly Reports, and Diagnostic Tool for School and District Effectiveness Framework (DTSDE)
- NYC School Quality Guide, Insight, New Visions, NWEA MAP and/or other formative assessment data, IEP Review Survey Data, Progress on IEP Goals Data, Program (SESIS-STARS Linkage) Reports, Mandated (Related) Services Reports, and NYCPS Tools for Understanding Your Data for student subgroup information

2. Analyze Data Trend(s) to Identify Areas of Strength and Need: Identify data trends by grade, cohort, and content area(s) to surface gaps and inequities. Compare data sets to identify instructional and school practices that are impacting student performance. Guiding questions to consider:

- What does the data reveal about improving and declining student performance trends within grades, cohorts, and student subgroups?
- What inequities are evident between highest and lowest performing student subgroups? Which subgroup(s) scored at Level 1 based on NYSED ESSA accountability indicators?
- What does the data suggest regarding the effectiveness (or ineffectiveness) of current school programs, practices, and/or strategies/initiatives? What areas may need to be strengthened?
- Are there any differences in student performance between program delivery models for ML/ELL and SWD? (e.g., for special education: special class, ICT, SETSS, related services only; for ML/ELL: Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) vs. Dual Language, etc.)
- How does delivery of instruction factor into data trends? What are the implications for teacher quality and professional learning?
- What inequities in special education referral and school disciplinary practices (e.g. suspensions, removals) are evident between student subgroups with IEPs?

3. Identify Root Cause(s): After analyzing the data, engage in a process for uncovering root causes or contributing factors for low student and school performance. Develop theories or hypotheses to explain why these needs exist and why your school is getting its current outcomes. Root causes could be related to gaps and inequities in areas such as curriculum & instruction, school systems & structures, student support services, school climate & safety, and family & community engagement. Focus on the causes, rather than the symptoms. Use the 5 Whys Method or other methods for identifying root causes. Consider the questions below:

- What theories or hypotheses explain the current student and school outcomes?
- Are there root causes specific to certain subgroups, grades, cohorts, or content area(s)?

Additional resources and supports are available below.

- Use this CEP Needs Assessment Worksheet to help your SLT and stakeholders identify appropriate data sources, data trends, root causes and priority needs.
- For guidance and best practices on engaging stakeholders in a comprehensive needs assessment and root cause analysis, see this deck.
- A current list of all CEP/Title I resources can be found on the iPlan Portal Public Resources Page.

Section 4: School Summary

Accountability Status

Accountability Status: LSI

School Summary

Directions: Complete this CEP Summary to serve as the "at-a-glance" narrative that provides contextual information about your school's unique characteristics. This summary and the entire Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) should be shared with your school community. Please note that this summary and the CEP will be made available to the public through the iPlan Portal, an online space where school stakeholders can go to collaborate in the development of the school's education plans.

Provide your school's mission statement:

Our mission is to ensure that all students develop the skills they need to meet or exceed all academic standards. The administration, faculty, and staff of P.S. 101 are the creators of the future, charged with ensuring a safe, happy environment where students are learning through purposeful and strategic instruction. We strive to help our students to become independent thinkers who are prepared for a continuously evolving world.

Develop a narrative summary that includes contextual information about your school's community and its unique/important characteristics and partnerships:

Include demographic information about your school's student population.

P.S. 101 is located in the Bath Beach section of South Brooklyn, in the heart of a multicultural community. P.S. 101 is a neighborhood elementary school and serves children in grades prekindergarten through fifth. The school currently has 1136 students. English language learners account for 19% of the school's population, and 20% are students with disabilities. The percentage of economically disadvantaged students is 68%. The average attendance rate for the school year 2024-2025 was 94%. P.S. 101 is a well-developed school, a National Blue Ribbon school, and a Leader in Me Lighthouse school.

As a college and career readiness school and in keeping with the Chancellor's regulations and the standards curriculum, we have integrated the areas of math, reading, writing, science, social studies, and technology into our daily curriculum. We believe that each child's unique needs and talents should be nurtured so that he or she will develop a passion for learning and acquire the skills needed for societal membership and meaningful employment. We provide our youngsters with a wide range of learning experiences in technology and the arts to create, explore, discover, and express thoughts and ideas. Our expansion of arts instruction nourishes our children's minds and bodies as they use creative expression in visual art and performance to story-tell, act, dance, and appreciate music using our community based organization partners, Marquis Studios.

P.S. 101 is a Model Technology School, and students use technology to bridge the classroom and the world around us. Educators are trained to teach with the use of SMART Boards, Promethean Boards, touchscreens, laptops, iPads, iPods, and software programs that enhance learning challenge our students.

At P.S. 101, our parents work with the school staff to encourage reading and higher level thinking skills, respect for oneself and one another, cultural awareness, and diversity. The entire school community works together towards achieving high performance standards. We believe that all children should be provided with all opportunities available to ensure they reach their full potentials. We are very happy and proud to have strong partnerships with I.S. 281, Marquis Studios, Penny Harvest, Xaverian High School, and Brooklyn College.

Briefly summarize the key initiatives your school will implement this school year.

During the 2025-2026 school year, P.S. 101 will continue to implement the reading program, HMH Into Reading. The HMH Into Reading curriculum is based on research in the essential elements of literacy with scaffolds for multilingual learners and a Spanish-English biliteracy solution. Robust assessment data give teachers the information they need to differentiate reading instruction and monitor student progress toward literacy goals. Teachers have access to more award-winning, high-interest texts for whole-class shared reading than any other core program. These titles help students to build background knowledge and are available in print and digitally.

P.S. 101 will continue to implement the Orton-Gillingham Approach/The Science of Reading in grades K-5. The Orton-Gillingham Approach is a direct, explicit, multisensory, structured, sequential, diagnostic, and prescriptive way to teach literacy when reading, writing, and spelling does not come easily to individuals, such as those with dyslexia. It introduces the idea of breaking reading and spelling down into smaller skills involving letters and sounds, and then building on these skills over time. It also uses the multisensory approach to teaching reading, which is a common part of effective literacy programs.

P.S. 101 will continue to implement The Hochman Method: The Writing Revolution. This methodology rests on explicit, carefully sequenced instruction, building from sentences to compositions. The Hochman Method is an approach designed to be adapted to and embedded in the content being taught in any subject area and at any grade level.

P.S. 101 strategically portioned our budget to provide GoldMansour & Rutherford professional development opportunities to enhance special education in the classroom to provide equal access to our high quality curriculum in the least restrictive environment. GoldMansour & Rutherford specializes in working with educators to develop or support inclusive programs for today's diverse classrooms in all content area and grade levels.

P.S. 101 will continue to implement enVisions Mathematics. enVision Mathematics focuses on deep conceptual math understanding aided by visual models, personalized learning, and 3-act tasks. Family Engagement resources provide essential information for families to use in supporting their students at home. Comprehensive vertical alignment from Kindergarten through Algebra 2 helps schools address mathematical standards in the most effective way.

P.S. 101 will continue to implement a Dual-Language program in grades K-5. Students take part in a specialized classroom where a portion of the day is taught in Mandarin. This includes both learning Mandarin language, as well as learning other subjects (ex: Math) in Mandarin.

P.S. 101 will continue to use Amplify Science, a K–8 science curriculum that blends hands-on investigations, literacy-rich activities, and interactive digital tools to empower students to think, read, write, and argue like real scientists and engineers.

P.S. 101 will continue to implement myWorld Social Studies. Learning comes alive through storytelling, literacy instruction, and flexible resources. Stories from our world engage students and help develop thoughtful, literate citizens. Lessons apply inquiry processes, practice reading and writing, and involve collaboration and communication skills. Blended learning experiences include an interactive Student Worktext and digital courseware.

P.S. 101 will continue to use the Leader in Me program. Leader in Me is a whole-school transformation model and process developed in partnership with educators that empowers students with the leadership and life skills they need to thrive in the 21st century. The Leader in Me is an evidence-based, comprehensive educational leadership & school improvement model that empowers students with life-skills they need to thrive in the 21st century.

P.S. 101 will use Branching Minds. Branching Minds is a comprehensive platform designed to help schools support students with diverse learning needs by providing data-driven insights and individualized intervention strategies. For the upcoming school year, schools will utilize Branching Minds to create tailored learning plans, track student progress, and ensure that all students receive the right support at the right time. The platform's intuitive interface will allow educators to collaborate seamlessly, using real-time data to make informed decisions about student interventions, whether they need academic, social-emotional, or behavioral support. By integrating Branching Minds into their daily operations, schools can foster a more personalized and proactive approach to student success, ensuring that each child is supported according to their unique needs and strengths.

Section 5: Priority 1 – All students learn to read well

Priority 1 Data Trends, Root Causes and Priority Needs

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

| 1. Data Trend(s) (Cite Data Source & Year) | 2. Root Cause(s) | 3. Priority Needs |
|---|---|---|
| 2024-2025 IReady EOY Diagnostic - 60% on grade level | A significant portion of our student population— 19% ENL and 20% students with disabilities—struggles with comprehending informational texts. These challenges stem from limited academic vocabulary and insufficient background knowledge, both critical for understanding nonfiction content. Additionally, barriers such as limited family access, language constraints, and a lack of materials at home reduce opportunities for students to engage with informational texts outside the classroom. Students with processing, comprehension, or attention difficulties may require targeted supports to access and analyze complex informational texts effectively. | Comprehension: Informational Text (INFO) |
| 2024-2025 IReady EOY Diagnostic - 65% on | Many of our ENL, FELL, and students with disabilities face challenges with fictional text comprehension due to underdeveloped vocabulary and difficulty making inferences or connecting with the content. These students may struggle to engage deeply with narrative structure, character development, and theme analysis. The lack of exposure to varied texts at home—often due to time, language, or material access—further limits opportunities to build literary understanding and fluency. | Comprehension Literature (LIT) |

| grade level | | |
| 2024-2025 IReady EOY Diagnostic - 61% on grade level | Academic vocabulary deficits are a core issue affecting our students' overall reading comprehension, particularly for the 19% who are ENL/FELL and the 20% identified with disabilities. Limited vocabulary hinders their ability to understand both nonfiction and fictional texts. Contributing factors include reduced exposure to rich language environments and a lack of reading engagement at home due to language barriers, time constraints, or limited access to materials. Building vocabulary through explicit instruction, immersive reading experiences, and family engagement initiatives is essential to improving literacy outcomes for these learners. | Vocabulary (VOC) |

Priority 1

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing school data trends, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for literacy outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Systemwide Focus Areas for Literacy

- Implement the strategies outlined in NYC Reads, including foundational phonics curriculum for grades K-2
- Implement dyslexia screening, professional learning, and program pilots (as applicable)
- Support literacy development through the integration of culturally responsive-sustaining texts and content

Priority 1 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Improving Tier 1 literacy instruction by using the HMH Into Reading Curriculum

Root Cause Addressed:

-HMH Into Reading supports diverse learners by addressing key challenges in vocabulary and text comprehension.

After the ELA I Ready BOY diagnostic, students are assessed using a secondary screener to see the specific domain they need support in.

Teachers then create their groups to address "What's in Need". Each student who needs support in these domains is given remediation for 20 minutes 4X a week.
Students who would benefit from Comprehension of Informational texts receive support using the SPIRE Next Reading Comprehension.
Students who would benefit from Vocabulary instruction use Wordly Wise to support the development of new vocabulary.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

| Action Steps |

Progress Monitoring with Acadience and Branching Minds

-Acadience Reading Assessments will be administered regularly to monitor foundational skills and overall reading progress.

-Teachers will use Acadience data to identify students at risk and adjust instruction or intervention groups accordingly.

-Branching Minds will serve as a centralized platform for documenting student progress, identifying learning trends, and tracking intervention effectiveness.

-Instructional decisions and intervention plans will be data-driven, ensuring that supports are responsive to student growth and specific reading comprehension needs.

The SLT and instructional team will regularly review Beginning-of-Year (BOY), Middle-of-Year (MOY), and End-of-Year (EOY) data from iReady and HMH Into Reading to assess student progress and inform instructional decisions. Additionally, Acadience assessments will be utilized to monitor growth in foundational reading skills and ensure targeted support is effectively meeting student needs.

Priority 2 Data Trends, Root Causes and Priority Needs

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

| 1. Data Trend(s) (Cite Data Source & Year) | 2. Root Cause(s) | 3. Priority Needs |
|---|---|---|
| 2024-2024 NYC School Survey | Challenges like inconsistent implementation of restorative practices, which can hinder efforts to resolve conflicts effectively. Parent-teacher communication and collaboration might not be as strong or proactive as needed, leading to gaps in support for students. Additionally, Behavioral Intervention Plans (BIPs) may not be fully tailored or consistently applied, preventing them from addressing the root causes of bullying. Lastly, broader school climate issues, such as disconnected students or peer dynamics that normalize bullying behavior, can further complicate efforts to prevent bullying. | Prevent Bullying |
| 2024-2024 NYC School Survey | Teachers need more instruction in social-emotional learning (SEL) to effectively support students' emotional and behavioral growth. When educators are trained in SEL practices, they are better equipped to model healthy behaviors, create safe and supportive classrooms, and respond to student needs with empathy and consistency. Without proper training, teachers may struggle to manage challenging behaviors or build strong relationships with students. Additionally, many | Social Emotional |

| | students lack the social-emotional language and skills necessary for engaging in respectful, empathetic, and productive communication. | |
| OORS reports 2024 2025 - overall reports | Many of the OOR reports stem from accidents that happen within the school building. However, a growing number of students requiring specialized support, such as those with mental health concerns, disabilities, or trauma-related challenges, can overwhelm the available resources. | Reduce amount of OORS reports |

Priority 2

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing school data trends, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for physical and emotional safety outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Systemwide Focus Areas for Physical and Emotional Safety

- Develop safety infrastructure and systems, including staff training, collaboration with external partners, and implementation of safety and security best practices
- Expand social emotional and mental health supports via restorative justice, Project Pivot, screeners, and other district or school-based initiatives (as applicable)
- Expand implementation of physical and mental wellness supports, including Physical and Health Education that meets NYSED requirements and related initiatives
- Improve supports and outcomes for socially vulnerable student populations (Students in Temporary Housing, Students in Foster Care)

Priority 2 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

With the addition of a second guidance counselor, our clinical team will enhance efforts to address bullying and bystander awareness, implement preventative restorative practices, and promote positive peer relationships.

These initiatives will be supported and reinforced through our Leader in Me program and the pursuit of Lighthouse status, fostering a school wide culture of respect, leadership, and inclusion.

Additionally, as part of the school's commitment to building a positive and supportive community, the principal hosts Saturday morning workshops through the company Elevate for families throughout the school year.

Root Cause Addressed:

Students may face challenges in forming positive peer relationships due to differences in cultural values and social norms that shape their interactions. Additionally, many lack the social-emotional language and skills necessary for respectful, empathetic, and constructive communication. While many OORS reports stem from accidental incidents within the school building, an increasing number of students require specialized support for mental health concerns, disabilities, or trauma-related challenges—often overwhelming available resources. Furthermore, broader school climate issues, such as student disconnection and peer dynamics that normalize negative behaviors, further complicate efforts to prevent bullying and foster a safe, inclusive environment.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

| With two full-time guidance counselors on staff, our school will proactively address bullying through student assemblies, parent and student workshops, targeted counseling for at-risk students, and the implementation of preventative restorative practices. The Little Lighthouse Team, composed of student ambassadors, will promote school spirit and model leadership by organizing fundraisers, participating in council meetings, leading school events, and sharing positive, educational messages throughout the building. These efforts are reinforced by the continued support of the Assistant Principal overseeing | discipline, ongoing professional development focused on effective BIP implementation, and the use of engaging academic and behavioral programs. Our HMH Into Reading curriculum, Social-Emotional Learning through Leader in Me (7 Habits), and the PBIS initiative (Viking Pride Leader) will work together to build a positive school culture and support the overall success and well-being of every student.

Guidance Counselors will promote student dialogue through restorative sessions while fostering culturally responsive learning environments. To further support social-emotional growth, Guidance Counselors will host Lunch Bunch groups, inviting students to build and practice social skills in a supportive, informal setting. Classroom teachers in grades K–5 will implement Leader in Me strategies to help students articulate their thinking, take risks in a safe and inclusive environment, and ensure every voice is valued. Monthly Student of the Month celebrations will reinforce leadership habits and recognize students who demonstrate positive behaviors and personal growth.

As part of the school's commitment to building a positive and supportive community, the principal hosts Saturday morning workshops for families throughout the school year, using resources and strategies from the Elevate program. These sessions focus on topics such as bullying prevention, fostering healthy relationships at home, and supporting students' social-emotional development. The workshops create a welcoming space for parents and caregivers to learn, share experiences, and collaborate with school staff. By strengthening the school-home partnership, these gatherings empower families to reinforce positive behaviors and contribute to a safe, respectful environment both at school and at home.

This highlights the need for reinforced instruction and vocabulary development to support long-term mastery. | Students need to develop a deeper understanding of geometric concepts to enhance their overall mathematical reasoning and problem-solving skills. |
| 2024-2025 iReady Math EOY Diagnostic - 38% of ELL students are | Many students have limited access to literacy materials at home due to economic challenges, and a significant number of parents have limited English proficiency. These factors can hinder students' reading development and reduce opportunities for literacy engagement outside of school. As a result, students struggle to comprehend math word problems and academic language, which directly impacts their ability to perform well in math. | ELL students require strong language acquisition support to effectively develop and apply math skills. |

Priority 3 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

To strengthen performance in geometry (specifically in grade 3), the school will implement targeted, evidence-based strategies aligned with the Next Generation Learning Standards and the enVision Mathematics program. Data indicates that students, particularly English Language Learners, need greater support in understanding geometric attributes, classification, and partitioning of shapes.

Instruction will follow a Concrete–Representational–Abstract (CRA) model using manipulatives, drawings, and abstract reasoning to deepen conceptual understanding. Teachers will embed explicit language supports, including visual word walls, sentence frames, and structured math discussions, to develop academic vocabulary and reasoning. Collaboration with ENL teachers will ensure language objectives are integrated with math content.

Teachers will utilize enVision's Visual Learning Animations, interactive tools, and ELL supports to introduce and reinforce key geometry concepts. Formative assessments (exit tickets, Quick Checks, math talks) will guide small-group reteaching and differentiation.

Lessons will connect geometry to real-world and cultural contexts, such as shape hunts and design projects, to build relevance and engagement. Families will receive bilingual communication encouraging home connections to math learning.

Through these strategies, the school aims to increase proficiency in geometry standards, with measurable growth for all students—especially ELLs—as demonstrated by classroom assessments, topic tests, and NYS Math results.

Root Cause Addressed:

Many students face limited access to literacy materials at home due to economic challenges, and a significant number of families experience language barriers as a result of limited English proficiency. These factors can hinder students' reading development and reduce opportunities for literacy engagement outside of school. Similarly, in math, geometry is assessed in i-Ready before the unit is fully taught, often leading to gaps in understanding and limited retention of academic language. These challenges highlight the need for reinforced instruction, targeted vocabulary development, and additional support both in and out of the classroom to ensure long-term mastery and equitable learning opportunities.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

| To address gaps in retention of geometric concepts, teachers will begin each geometry unit by revisiting key lessons from the previous year to reinforce foundational understanding. Additionally, instructional teams will realign the placement of geometry units within the school year to better support student readiness and mastery. Each grade level will update its EnVision pacing calendar to reflect these adjustments, ensuring a more strategic and cohesive approach to geometry instruction. |
| Tier 2 and RTI staff will collaborate with classroom teachers to provide targeted small-group interventions focused on enhancing students' reading comprehension skills. Using visuals, real-life examples, and hands-on activities helps students connect new words to meaning. Teachers can pre-teach and revisit challenging vocabulary (like "difference," "combined," or "altogether") in context, model how to restate word problems in their own words, and use anchor charts or word walls to reinforce understanding. Regular practice with discussing, reading, and writing about math concepts builds confidence and strengthens reading comprehension for solving multi-step problems. |

Key Strategy 2 (Optional):

An additional Science Cluster teacher will be hired to expand instructional capacity. Grade 3, 4, and 5 students will have two dedicated Science Cluster periods, providing increased opportunities to deepen their knowledge and engagement in science content.

Root Cause Addressed:

Students in Grades 3–5 need targeted preparation to build the foundational knowledge and skills required for success on the Grade 5 NYS Science Exam.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

| --- |
| To address limited exposure to the full Science curriculum, we will add an additional Science Cluster and schedule all grade 3, 4, and 5 students to receive two Science Cluster periods each week. Additionally, STEM teachers will deliver an extra Science unit for grade 5 students. |
| Science lessons will be incorporated into the home classroom schedules for all grades. |

Priority 4 Data Trends, Root Causes and Priority Needs

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

Priority 4

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing school data trends, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for college and career readiness outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Systemwide Focus Areas for College and Career Readiness

- Expand career pathways and work-based learning, opportunities for early college credit and industry credentials, and college/career advising and awareness, including via the Career Readiness Modern Youth Apprenticeship and FutureReadyNYC (as applicable)
- Schools serving students in early childhood, elementary, and middle school settings should consider how they expose students to and prepare them for advanced (Regents-level) coursework, Specialized High School Admission Test (SHSAT) preparation, college awareness, career studies, etc.
- Integrate historical and contemporary contributions of culturally diverse professionals, scholars, and entrepreneurs into career readiness programs, ensuring students see diverse pathways to success
- Incorporate lessons on wealth-building strategies, cooperative economics, and financial independence to equip students with tools for long-term economic security
- Ensure the implementation of specialized support programs tailored for Students in Temporary Housing and/or Foster Care, addressing their unique educational needs and challenges

Priority 4 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Enhance student discourse by embedding discussion prompts in daily lessons and implementing high-impact strategies such as debate, Pile-Up, Socratic Seminars, and presentations with Q&A. Support this work through professional learning aligned to Advance component 3b, focusing on effective discussion facilitation and student engagement.

Root Cause Addressed:

Approximately 20% of our students receive special education services, and 19% are English Language Learners. Many of our students face challenges participating in rich, meaningful discussions due to limited background knowledge, vocabulary, schema, or personal experiences, which can hinder their ability to fully engage and contribute to academic conversations.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

| To strengthen academic discourse and student engagement, teachers will regularly reflect on and refine HMH Into Reading lessons to embed intentional, standards-aligned discussion prompts into daily instruction. For English Language Learners, educators will incorporate structured speaking opportunities into every lesson, ensuring consistent practice in oral language development and promoting meaningful participation in classroom conversations. |
| To strengthen practice in Danielson Component 3b, teachers will engage in targeted professional development focused on effective questioning and student-led discussions. PD sessions will include model lessons, peer observations, and collaborative planning to promote higher-order questioning and equitable participation. In addition to this, we will reflect on Advance ratings on teacher observations to reflect on student discussion in classrooms. Administrators will monitor implementation through walkthroughs and observations, using 3b indicators to provide feedback and coaching. In PLCs, teachers will reflect on discussion data, share strategies, and design lessons that foster rich, student-centered dialogue. By June, teachers will demonstrate growth in Component 3b, evidenced by more frequent student-led discussions that reflect critical thinking, engagement, and collaboration across all content areas. |

Key Strategy 2 (Optional):

Strengthen math outcomes by incorporating differentiated instruction tailored to diverse learners, including English Language Learners and students with special needs. Provide ongoing professional learning focused on math differentiation and scaffolding strategies, with targeted support from partners such as Goldmansour Learning.

Root Cause Addressed:

Many of our special education students and English Language Learners face daily challenges that impact their ability to succeed in math. Difficulties with retaining prior knowledge, processing speed, working memory, and attention often require these students to receive remediation, frequent review, and differentiated instruction. At the same time, ELLs may struggle with the language demands of math, including limited vocabulary and difficulty interpreting word problems and multi-step equations. Together, these factors highlight the need for targeted strategies and individualized support to help all learners make meaningful progress in mathematics.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

| Classroom teachers will prioritize the use of academic language when planning and delivering mathematics instruction. To support vocabulary development, especially for English Language Learners, teachers will incorporate the Frayer Model to explicitly teach key mathematical terms and concepts. The i-Ready diagnostic assessment will be administered to establish a baseline of each student's performance. Teachers will use this data to inform instruction, differentiate lessons, and provide targeted support based on individual student needs. |
| Leverage the D21 Math Inquiry Team to drive instructional improvement through a focused implementation of NYC Solves. Engage grades 1–5 teachers in professional development centered on mathematical sense-making and inquiry-based learning, targeting specific student groups to support movement across performance levels. |
| Implement Math Shift 2: Low Floor, High Ceiling Tasks to ensure all students can access rigorous mathematical thinking. These tasks offer entry points for all learners while allowing for deep exploration and extension, supporting both struggling students and high achievers. This approach promotes equity and engagement, fostering critical thinking and conceptual understanding across all performance levels. |
| Offer after-school programs specifically designed for newcomer ESL students to build language proficiency and support academic integration. Additionally, provide targeted math test prep sessions to reinforce key concepts and boost confidence and performance on assessments. These extended learning opportunities help close gaps and promote success in both language development and math achievement. |

Implementation Monitoring: Indicate your primary structures to progress monitor implementation of key strategies and action steps. Include specific data/evidence you will collect and use to determine progress and impact on instruction, student learning, and achievement.

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

The School Leadership Team (SLT) and instructional staff will regularly monitor Beginning-of-Year (BOY), Middle-of-Year (MOY), and End-of-Year (EOY) data from i-Ready to assess student learning and growth. In addition, administrators will gather evidence from classroom observations to evaluate the effectiveness of instructional strategies. Based on student performance data and observation feedback, strategies will be refined, adjusted, or phased out as needed to ensure optimal instructional impact.

Attendance/Chronic Absenteeism

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing the school data, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal aligned to our systemwide focus on improving attendance and reducing chronic absenteeism.

Systemwide Focus Area for Attendance/Chronic Absenteeism: Develop and implement strengthened practices to improve attendance, combat chronic absenteeism and center equity. Note: For ESSA accountability purposes, NYSED will replace the Chronic Absenteeism indicator with the Attendance indicator, beginning in the 2025-26 school year. # Attendance/Chronic Absenteeism Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Implement a school-wide attendance recognition and intervention program that combines positive reinforcement with targeted support.

Strengthen communication with families regarding attendance expectations through consistent messaging across multiple platforms.

Root Cause Addressed:

The root causes of chronic absenteeism were primarily extended vacations and illnesses.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

| Promote consistent student attendance through a multi-tiered approach that combines recognition, family engagement, and targeted interventions. The strategy includes monthly attendance awards for students and class-wide incentives such as the PBIS Viking Pride Leader token for the highest attendance by grade or school-wide. Classes with top attendance are highlighted on the PS 101 Attendance Scoreboard and celebrated with shout-outs on the school website to build a culture of attendance pride. |
| To further encourage daily attendance, the school hosts parent meetings and assemblies that emphasize the link between regular attendance, academic success, and promotion. For students identified as chronically absent, the school creates individualized incentive plans that may include charting systems, classroom leadership roles, and participation in "Lunch Bunch" groups with guidance counselors. These efforts are supported by ongoing discussions about the educational impact of attendance and regular reviews of student progress toward meeting grade-level standards. |
| Strengthen communication with families regarding attendance expectations through consistent messaging across multiple platforms. This includes incorporating clear school policies on illness-related absences and vacation protocols into the Student-Parent Handbook, school website memos, Parent Coordinator newsletters, and PTA announcements. Families are regularly informed that absences due to vacations or family trips cannot be approved, as per Chancellor's Regulation A-210, |

which mandates full-time school attendance for all NYC school-age children. To ensure compliance and minimize unauthorized absences, parents are required to submit travel information, including departure and return dates. This proactive communication strategy helps reinforce the importance of daily attendance and supports families in making informed decisions that align with school expectations.

Key Strategy 2 (Optional):

Root Cause Addressed:

Implementation Monitoring: Indicate your primary structures to progress monitor implementation of key strategies and action steps. Include specific data/evidence you will collect and use to determine progress and impact on instruction, student learning, and achievement.

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

Attendance officials, school aides, teachers, and administrators will monitor student attendance daily and identify patterns of chronic absenteeism. Proactive steps will be taken to address attendance concerns, including parent outreach, personalized support plans, and home visits if necessary. Additionally, monthly attendance meetings will be held to review data, discuss trends, and coordinate interventions to support improved student attendance and engagement.

| 09/03/2025 | 06/26/2026 | Leverage the Insight Attendance Dashboard to generate targeted family outreach letters for students with chronic absences. Reinforce attendance expectations by reviewing policies outlined in the Student-Parent Handbook and Chancellor's Regulation A-210, which requires full-time attendance and prohibits absences for vacations. This ensures families are informed and aligned with school and district attendance protocols. | N/A |
| 09/03/2025 | 06/26/2026 | Use Insight Weekly family outreach to maintain regular communication with families of chronically absent students. # Section 5: High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities

High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities Data Trends, Root Causes and Priority Needs

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

| 1. Data Trend(s) (Cite Data Source & Year) | 2. Root Cause(s) | 3. Priority Needs (NYCPS Systemwide Needs for all schools noted below.) |
|---|---|---|
| 2024-2025 iReady EOY Diagnostic - 40% of students with disabilities | Despite the dedication of school staff, citywide challenges such as limited access to ongoing, high-quality professional development in IEP development and implementation, as well as constrained time for cross-disciplinary planning, have impacted consistency in the alignment and delivery of IEP supports. These systemic barriers contribute to uneven outcomes for students with disabilities. i-Ready Reading data indicates that only 40% of students with IEPs are currently performing on or above grade level, highlighting the need for more robust instructional alignment and targeted support guided by high-quality IEPs. | IEP Development and Fidelity of Implementation |

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| are on or above grade level | | |
| | | Transition Planning and Compliance |
| 2024-2025 Teacher Initiated Student Special Education Referrals - 67% of referrals were ELL students | The percentage of ELL students being referred is often due to language barriers, cultural differences, and challenges such as interrupted schooling. A lack of support at home, including limited English proficiency among parents, can further exacerbate these issues, making it harder for students to succeed academically. These factors can complicate academic progress and lead to misinterpretations of ELL students' needs. | Referral Process and Equity |

High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities SMART Goal(s)

| Target Population | Baseline Data | SMART Goal |
|---|---|---|
| Students with Disabilities (SWD) | 40% | By June, 2026, to strengthen the quality and implementation of IEPs for Students with Disabilities (SWD), we will improve reading proficiency for students with IEPs by increasing the percentage of students performing on or above grade level on i-Ready Reading assessments. This will be achieved by strengthening the quality and instructional alignment of IEP goals, increasing the fidelity of implementation of reading interventions, and enhancing access to inclusive, high-quality instruction that addresses students' unique learning needs. The goal is a 3% Increase, from 40% to 43%, as measured by iReady Integrated Teaching and Learning Systems. |
| English Language Learners (ELL) | 67% | By June, 2026, to strengthen the quality and implementation of IEPs for English Language Learners (ELL), we will improve amount of ELL student initial special education referrals by a 7% Decrease, from 67% to 60%, as measured by SESIS - ELL student referral rate. |

Section 6: Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS)

Academic Support

NYCPS Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) align with NYSED guidelines for providing Academic Intervention Services (AIS) to students who have not yet met state standards or are considered to be at-risk of not meeting state standards. The Multi-tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) framework, organizes supports into three tiers:

Tier 1 provides schoolwide, high-quality programming for all students, including SWDs;

Tier 2 offers data informed small-group interventions for at-promise students; and

Tier 3 delivers intensive, individualized support for students with persistent needs.

This facilitates the strategic planning and necessary resource alignment to ensure their school community appropriately and adequately serves all students well, in partnership with students and families.

MTSS identifies the academic support services to be provided and ensures that students receive Response to Intervention (RtI) and Positive Behavioral Interventions and Support (PBIS) strategies as needed. See NYSED's memo to view the criteria for determining AIS services. The Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) offers a wide range of evidence-based Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions and supports for student social-emotional, behavioral, physical and mental wellness, with particular attention to the unique needs of students in Temporary Housing and/or Foster Care, who may face additional challenges related to school stability, trauma and access to educational resources. A culturally responsive-sustaining approach to intervention embeds culturally relevant texts and historical narratives into literacy and social studies interventions, ensuring students receive the support that reflects their identities and lived experiences, increasing engagement and achievement.

Use the charts below and a Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) to match academic, social/emotional, behavioral and instructional resources with student needs to provide targeted support for all learners, especially at-risk students who experience difficulty meeting state standards, including those living in Temporary Housing and/or residing in Foster Care placements. Indicate specialized materials, technology-based tools and/or extra instruction, including Expanded Learning Time that supplement school-wide systems & supports and/or classroom level supports. Ensure that interventions address the unique social-emotional, behavioral and academic challenges faced by culturally and linguistically diverse students, as well as those impacted by housing instability and child welfare system involvement.

Directions: Complete the chart and identify Tier 2 or 3 MTSS Academic supports. Any Tier 2/3 interventions should be in addition to the foundational work being done at Tier 1.

Any Tier 2/3 interventions should be in addition to the foundational work being done at Tier 1.

Family and Community Engagement Around MTSS

Describe how the school's essential components of MTSS are shared with families.

The school communicates the essential components of MTSS to families through multiple avenues to ensure transparency, understanding, and collaboration. These components—universal screening, tiered instruction and intervention, progress monitoring, and data-based decision-making—are shared in the following ways:

Family Information Sessions and Workshops: Schools often host MTSS-focused meetings or presentations during curriculum nights, parent workshops, or family engagement events to explain the structure and purpose of MTSS, including how supports are provided across academic, behavioral, and social-emotional domains.

Written Communication: Clear, family-friendly brochures, newsletters, and guides outlining MTSS components and how students receive support at each tier are distributed regularly. These materials often include visuals, examples, and contact information for school staff.

Individual Meetings and Parent-Teacher Conferences: When a student is receiving Tier 2 or Tier 3 supports, families are included in problem-solving meetings where the MTSS process is discussed in detail. This includes reviewing data, discussing interventions, and setting collaborative goals.

School Website and Digital Platforms: Many schools maintain an MTSS section on their website where families can access resources, FAQs, and an overview of the process, as well as updates on school-wide initiatives.

Ongoing Two-Way Communication: Teachers and support staff maintain regular contact with families through emails, phone calls, or communication apps (Remind) to update them on student progress, explain intervention strategies, and gather input.

Describe how families receive updates on the progress of their child(ren) who receive Tier 2 targeted, or Tier 3 intensive interventions.

Families of students receiving Tier 2 or Tier 3 interventions are kept informed through regular, ongoing communication that emphasizes collaboration, transparency, and student growth. Updates may include:

Progress Monitoring Reports: Families receive written reports at regular intervals (e.g., every 4–6 weeks) that summarize their child's progress toward intervention goals.

Parent-Teacher Conferences and MTSS Team Meetings: Families are invited to participate in scheduled meetings to review progress, discuss current interventions, and collaborate on next steps. These meetings provide an opportunity for two-way communication, allowing families to ask questions and share observations.

Individualized Communication: Teachers or interventionists reach out via phone calls, emails, or communication apps (Remind) to provide timely updates, celebrate progress, and discuss concerns. The frequency and method of communication are often adjusted to meet the needs and preferences of each family.

Written Summaries of Intervention Plans: For students receiving Tier 3 intensive support, schools may provide a written summary of the intervention plan, including specific goals, strategies used, and progress updates, which is reviewed and updated collaboratively with families.

Describe how families are involved during decision making regarding the progress of students receiving Tier 3 intensive intervention.

Families play a key role in the decision-making process for students receiving Tier 3 intensive interventions. The school actively engages families as partners to ensure that interventions are personalized, effective, and aligned with the student's needs. Family involvement includes:

Participation in Problem-Solving and Intervention Meetings: Families are invited to meet with the MTSS team to review the student's progress, discuss data, and help determine whether current interventions should be continued, modified, or intensified. Their input is valued in understanding the student's strengths, challenges, and any external factors that may influence progress.

Sharing Observations and Insights: Families are encouraged to share what they observe at home related to academic skills, behavior, and emotional well-being. This information is critical in creating a full picture of the student's needs and in designing appropriate supports.

Reviewing Progress Monitoring Data: During Tier 3 meetings, the team reviews progress monitoring data together with the family. This includes discussing trends, interpreting results, and considering what the data indicates about the effectiveness of current supports.

Collaborative Goal Setting and Planning: Families help establish intervention goals and participate in decisions regarding instructional strategies, accommodations, and next steps. This may include discussing potential referrals for special education evaluation if needed.

Ongoing Communication and Feedback: The school maintains consistent communication with families through phone calls, emails, or written reports, and encourages their feedback throughout the process. This two-way communication fosters trust and ensures that families are informed, heard, and involved in all decisions.

Students in Temporary Housing (STH) Support

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-STH Section and in accordance with the federal McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act and Chancellor's Regulation A-780, schools must identify, serve, and report on students living in temporary housing (STH). All Title I and non-Title I schools receive a Title I allocation for STH students. The Students in Temporary Housing (STH) website provides guidance on STH pupils and how these funds can be used to meet their needs, as well as restrictions. For more information on acceptable uses of the mandated Title I, Part A set-aside to support your STH population, please refer to the Title I STH Funds Toolkit.

Identify the number of Students in Temporary Housing who are currently attending your school and provide a breakdown of their temporary housing status. Since the number of STH children can change regularly, schools must carefully track this number to determine whether there has been an increase in need.

Number of students in temporary housing who are:

- Doubled up (with friends or relatives because they cannot find or afford housing):
- Living in a shelter or transitional shelter:
- Living in a hotel/motel:
- Other

*Note: In keeping with established practices regarding personally identifiable information, use the letter "s" to identify a number less than five (5).

We currently have 20 Students in Temporary Housing
CODE D Doubled Up = 18
CODE S Shelter = 2

Upon registration, the Pupil Accounting Secretary requires all new registrants and transfer students to complete a packet of forms:

- Forms are evaluated and discussed with incoming parents and introduced to our Parent Coordinator, Ms. Bing Xing Lin.
- Introduction to our guidance counselors are invited to explain in-school supports and out-of-school resources to assist the family.
- The Residency Questionnaire is distributed to every student within the school building to confirm, verify and update biographical information as needed.
- Our Parent Coordinator is accessible to discuss family needs/wants with their situation.
- The addresses are reviewed, cross-referenced with previous information, and revised.
- At the start of the year and mid-year, a parent notification letter is attached to explain Residency Questionnaire, the new protocol/policy to inform families returning of their obligation to complete the form as per the McKinney-Vento Assistance Act.
- Clear and direct instructions are provided for parents to understand the programs offered before, during and after school.
- Pertinent information is given to parents to help them understand the performance standards and grade appropriate promotional criteria they must meet.
- Parent Coordinator and Guidance Counselor are available to assist families in this process with outreach, contacts, references for further need.

We work with families at any given time in cases where there are housing hardships, displacement or crisis situations to ensure support and guidance with temporary housing.

After a careful analysis of historical demographic, attendance and achievement data for your STH population, what trends do you notice, and how can these trends inform the services and support provided for this population?

Our Students in Temporary Housing School-Based Liaison (STH SBL) is responsible for providing intervention and support services to students living in temporary housing who attend your school related to proper identification and data entry, transportation, enrollment, spending of Title I STH funds, and community referrals.

The trends noticed with these students and their families who shift to temporary housing include situations in which there domestic issues and fire displacement. Data analysis shows an impact in absences, due to transportation problems or distance from our school. Helping these families to set-up transportation and a new schedule of arrivals/dismissals, supports the student for success.

To ensure respect and privacy of those impacted by temporary housing, our staff is trained to understand the trauma associated with displacement. Guidance Counselors will work with these students and families, as needed.

The STH Title I Survey provides our school team with information to align services and supports for student/family needs during challenging times.

We support families with respectful and discrete conversations:
How do I get emergency housing help?; Can I change my child's school or get transportation?; What are the top 8 resources for homeless families?; What public benefits are available to me?; Which city agencies can help my family?; What documents do I need to get benefits?

- To ensure privacy and respect, STH questions are asked with the message that our school community is here to support the family and provide help in every way.

- Funding is set aside to ensure learning materials and age/level appropriate academic/social-emotional/hygiene goods are provided for students in this category of Temporary Housing status.

- We prepare funds for purchasing schoolbags containing related classwork/homework items for study, task completion and independent practice.

- In-school supports and out-of-school resources are offered to students/families.

Describe the services you are planning to provide to the STH population. How were those services selected to best meet students' needs? How will you (or did you) utilize the STH Title I Survey to select services aligned to need?

For the STH population, we will continue to provide material support such as book-bags and school supplies to support the learning process at home/in-school.

STH students who are performing below grade level will receive intervention services including RtI, Orton Gillingham phonological program, and i-Ready adaptive instruction in ELA/Math on his/her level.

We will build a partnership with home-school connections to support the family in need with Parent Coordinator assistance, invitations to workshops and resources, as needed.

Priority enrollment will be awarded to students/parents in a temporary housing situation with our Together Time Saturday workshops for parent and child. Workshops include art-making, movement/dance, etc to develop family ties and supports. or students.

Priority enrollment will be awarded to students in a temporary housing situation with our after-school programs and Saturday Academy, to provide academic support and promote social-emotional skills.

Guidance Intervention will be offered to parents for their child. These at-risk guidance intervention and supports will be provided upon parent consent for students in temporary housing situations to work with a school clinician (individualized or small group) to build social-emotional skills and development through hardship.

Section 7: Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Directions: The Parent and Family Engagement Policy should describe how your school will plan and implement effective parent and family engagement activities and/or strategies to improve student academic achievement and school performance. The School-Parent Compact (SPC) is a component of the Parent and Family Engagement Policy (PFEP) that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share this responsibility.

The activities and/or strategies included in your school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy should align with current Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) goals for improving student achievement and should be developed or updated with input and feedback from parent leaders and the Parent Coordinator. In addition, if the school community will be engaged in central parent engagement initiatives, such as Parent Academy, which will provide training for school communities to help strengthen family-school partnerships, please be sure to include these activities in the school's policy.

In Title I schools, the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) represents the Title I parent community in supporting parent and family engagement. The Title I PAC Chairperson will serve in a consultative role with the SLT representing the school's Title I parents. Schools are encouraged to use the sample Parent and Family Engagement and SPC templates below (which meet federal Title I parent and family engagement requirements) as guidance for updating the school's current policy.

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental engagement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent and family engagement policy that will establish expectations and objectives for meaningful parent and family engagement in the school community. P.S. 101, in compliance with Section 1116 of Title I, Part A of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), is responsible for creating and implementing a parent and family engagement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between the school and the families. The school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), and Title I Parent Advisory Council as trained volunteers and welcomed members of the school community.

Support for Parents and Family Members of Title I Students

The school community, with the meaningful involvement of parents and family members, will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent and family engagement policy with Title I parents to improve the academic quality of the school. The findings of the evaluation through school surveys and feedback forms will be used to design strategies to more effectively meet the needs of parents and family members and enhance the school's Title I program. This information will be maintained by the school.

In developing the Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy, parents of Title I participating students, parent members of the school's Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), as well as parent members of the School Leadership Team, were consulted on the proposed Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and asked to survey their members for additional input. To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, the school will:

- actively involve and engage parents and family members in the planning, review and evaluation of the effectiveness of the school's Title I program as outlined in the School Comprehensive Education Plan, including the implementation of the school's Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact;

The Parent Coordinator or a dedicated staff person will provide parent workshops based on the assessed needs of the parents of children who attend the school and will work to ensure that the school environment is welcoming and inviting to all parents. The Parent Coordinator will also maintain a log of events and activities planned for parents each month and file a report with the central office.;

Title I Program Information

Part 1: Title I Program Type

Title I Requirements and Strengthening Title I Parent Involvement: Under USDOE's Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), Title I schools are required to address professional learning and parent and family engagement in the Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP). To strengthen parent leadership in Title I schools, and increase the involvement of all parents of Title I eligible children in improving students' academic outcomes, all Title I schools are required to establish a Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) that will serve as the consultative and representative body for all Title I parents in the school to provide voice into the spending of Title I funds.

The SLT is responsible for facilitating consultation with the Title I Parent Advisory Council regarding the joint development of the CEP, Parent and Family Engagement Policy, School Parent Compact (SPC) and the use of the 1% parent involvement set-aside in Title I schools. The Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) Chairperson (or alternate) is expected to attend all regular meetings of the School Leadership Team (SLT). Title I parents, as represented by the Title I PAC Chairperson, must be consulted regarding the use of the Title I 1% set-aside for parent and family engagement. The Title I 1% set-aside funding is used to supplement parent and family engagement activities as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and must be aligned with student achievement goals as outlined in the CEP. For additional guidance on the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC), go to the Protocols and Timeline for Title I Parent and Family Engagement Activities document.

Directions:

- All schools must indicate their Title I status in Part 1.
- All elements of the All Title I Schools section must be completed in Part 2.
- All Targeted Assistance (TA) Schools must also complete the TA Schools Only section in Part 3.
- All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools must also complete the SWP Schools Only section in Part 4.
- If a required component is addressed elsewhere in this plan, you may refer to the section or Priority where the response can be found.
- For additional information, visit the Title I Program Description (US Department of Education).

Part 5: "Conceptual" Consolidation of Funds in SWP Schools

Directions: All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools in NYC are conceptually consolidating their Federal, State, and Local funds, even though the Galaxy system reports the allocations in separate accounting codes1. To be eligible for the flexibility consolidation of Federal funds, a Schoolwide Program school must identify in its Schoolwide plan (CEP) which programs are included in its consolidation and the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool. Additionally, the school plan must document that it has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated2. On the chart below, indicate which Federal, State, and/or local Tax Levy program funds that are consolidated in your school's Schoolwide Program, the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool, and verification that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated.
For the last two columns of this table: Place an (X) in Column A below to verify that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated. Indicate in Column B, the Priority or section that references where a related program activity has been described in this plan.

Explanation/Background

1. Explanation/Background:

Title I Schoolwide Program schools are expected to use the flexibility available to them to integrate services and programs with the aim of enhancing the entire educational program and helping all students reach proficient and advanced levels of achievement. In addition to coordinating and integrating services, Schoolwide Program schools may combine most Federal, State and local funds to provide those services. By consolidating funds from Federal, State, and local sources, a Schoolwide Program school can address its needs using all its available resources. This gives a school more flexibility in how it uses available resources to meet the identified needs of all its students.

Consolidating funds in a Schoolwide Program means that a school treats the funds it is consolidating like they are a single "pool" of funds. In other words, the funds from the contributing programs in the school lose their individual identity and the school has one flexible pool of funds. The school uses funds from this consolidated Schoolwide pool to support any activity of the Schoolwide Program without regard to which program contributed the specific funds used for a particular activity – so long as the use of funds meets the intent and purposes of the programs from which the funds originate. To consolidate funding in a Schoolwide Program, the school does not literally need to combine funds in a single account or pool with its own accounting code. Rather, the word "pool" is used conceptually to convey that a Schoolwide Program school has the use of all consolidated funds available to it for the dedicated function of operating a Schoolwide Program without regard to the identity of those funds.

Consolidating Federal funds in a Schoolwide Program has the following additional advantages:

- Consolidating Federal funds eases the requirements for accounting for funds from each specific program separately, because a Schoolwide school is not required to distinguish among funds received from different sources when accounting for their use.
- A school that consolidates Federal funds in its Schoolwide Program is not required to meet most of the statutory and regulatory requirements of the specific Federal programs included in the consolidation (e.g., semi-annual time and effort reporting for Title I). However, the school must ensure that it meets the intent and purposes of the Federal programs included in the consolidation so that the needs of the intended beneficiaries are met.

2. The intent and purposes of the Federal programs indicated on the chart above (Part 4c of this section) are as follows:

- Title I, Part A – Schoolwide Programs: To upgrade the entire educational program in the school in order to improve the academic achievement of all students, particularly the lowest-achieving students. This includes provision of services for Students in Temporary Housing (STH).
- Title I 1003(a), School Improvement: Comprehensive Support and Improvement (CSI), Additional Targeted Support and Improvement (ATSI) and Targeted Support and Improvement (TSI) Funding: Support implementation of school improvement plans that aims to improve instruction and address the identified needs

Title II, Part A: Supplementary funding to improve student academic achievement by reducing class size in grades K, 1, 2, and 3, with an emphasis on grades with an average register greater than 20. If space is not available to form additional classes, funds may support push-in teacher(s) to supplement the instructional program. For schools that choose to reduce class size, priority must be given to reducing class size in general education settings and must demonstrate the following:

- Reduce class sizes to 15-18 students or fewer (including the use of co-teaching and floating teachers that bring the student to teacher ratio to one teacher per 15-18 students);
- Be accompanied by a rigorous curriculum, effective teachers, and a sustained, job-embedded professional development plan.

- Title III, Part A: To help ensure that children with limited English proficiency become proficient in English, develop high academic attainment in English, and meet the same challenging State academic content and achievement standards in the core academic subjects that all other children are expected to meet. Another purpose of this program is to increase the capacity of schools to establish, implement and sustain high-quality language instruction programs and English language development programs that assist schools in effectively teaching students with limited English proficiency. Title III, Part A is also designed to promote the participation of parents and communities of limited English proficient children in English language instruction programs.
- Title III Immigrant: Supplementary and enhanced services to immigrant students, in the areas of English language acquisition and content area achievement. Immigrant children and youth are defined as individuals who are aged 3 through 21, have not been attending school in any one or more states for more than three (3) full academic years, and were not born in any state. "State" means the 50 states of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Children born to U.S. citizens abroad, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or any other U.S. territory that is not D.C. or Puerto Rico are to be considered immigrants.
- Title IV, Part A: Title IV funds are for schools that are among those with the greatest needs, have the highest numbers of students from low-income families, are identified for CS, ATSI or TSI, or are identified as persistently dangerous public schools. Allowable uses of funds under well-rounded education, safety and health, and educational technology include direct services for students, professional development for teachers and administrators, and supplemental educational resources. School allocations have been provided for well-rounded education, social emotional learning, cultural responsiveness awareness, professional development to support implementation of technology and blended learning environments, and community coordinators in schools with high rates of students in temporary housing

- Students in Temporary Housing (STH): Schools must describe their use of Title I STH funds in their consolidated application.

Important Note: The following funds may not be consolidated:

- Title I Parent Involvement Set-aside: Title I, Part A funds must support parent involvement activities and programs. Chancellor's Regulation A-655 requires School Leadership Teams to consult with Title I parent representatives regarding the Title I program and the use of these funds. Parent involvement activities funded through Title I must be included in the Parent and Family Engagement Policy and aligned with student achievement goals in the school comprehensive educational plan.
- IDEA: To ensure that all children with disabilities have available to them a free appropriate public education designed to meet their individual needs.

- Grant funds awarded via a competitive process: These funds must be used for the purposes specified by the Grantor, as described in the school's approved grant application.

Language Allocation Policy Outline

Language Allocation Policy Outline

2025-26 Language Allocation Policy (LAP)

This submission form supports schools with organizing a well-conceived school-based Language Allocation Policy (LAP) that describes high quality programs for Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners (MLs/ELLs). This is an annual plan of how your school will support the linguistic and academic needs of MLs/ELLs and must be completed yearly. The Language Allocation Policy (LAP) is a part of schools' Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP).

This is a living document. Any school-wide changes involving the instruction of MLs/ELLs, such as the addition or expansion of a Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) or Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) program, should be updated in this form.

Agenda, minutes of LAP meetings, and LAP team members' attendance at meetings should be kept readily available on file in the school with all other ML/ELL critical documents.  When preparing your school's submission, provide extended responses in the available spaces.

For additional information, refer to the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs. For additional support with ML/ELL policy, please reach out to your respective ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance Performance Specialist; for support with ML/ELL instruction, please contact your ML/ELL Services Administrator.

Part III: ML/ELL Programming

Please refer to New York State Commissioner's Regulation (CR) Part 154 Units of Study Tables as you describe academic programming for MLs/ELLs at your school below. Please do not leave any fields blank and indicate "N/A" for any fields that are not applicable.

Describe your English as a New Language (ENL), and if applicable Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE), and Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs. For each program, include:

- How stand-alone ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How integrated ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How students are grouped (e.g., block [class travels together as a group], ungraded [all students regardless of grade are in one class], heterogeneous [mixed proficiency levels], homogenous [proficiency level is the same in one class]).

a. English as a New Language (ENL)
Stand-alone ENL:

All entering and emerging students receive at least 45-minutes of stand-alone ENL classes (for a minimum of) four times a week for a total of 180+ minutes a week in a pull out setting. Entering and Emerging students are grouped homogeneously by grade, and are pulled out into a smaller ENL classroom.

Integrated ENL:

All ENL students receive one unit of study of integrated ENL totaling 180 minutes a week. This is provided via a push-in, co-teaching model where a certified ENL teacher provides instruction at least 4 times a week for 45-minutes a day. The ENL teacher collaborates with the general education teacher on the lesson and implementation to ensure rigor, continuity and proper support. This also allows teachers to tailor and differentiate the lessons, tasks and expectations for their ELLs. Entering/emerging ELLs receive this instruction alongside their transitioning and expanding ELLs peers of the same classroom. Grouping for student tasks can be flexible depending on the teaching point and the task's objective. For classes with a general education teacher that holds an ENL license, the ENL teacher provides 180-minutes of integrated ENL instruction in small groups via station teaching.

b. Bilingual Education (If applicable)
Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE):

Not applicable.

Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE):

Our Mandarin Dual Language program consists of 1 class per grade through grades K to 5. It follows a self-contained, two-way DLBE program model. Mandarin and English instruction is split over a 40/60 balance respectively. The rollercoaster model is followed, meaning Mandarin instruction is conducted on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings, as well as Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. One unit of integrated ENL instruction (four periods 45 minutes each) is provided by the DL teacher during the ELA literacy block in a heterogenous environment. An additional unit of standalone ENL instruction is provided to our entering and emerging ELLs in a pull out setting by a certified ENL teacher.

2. How does your school ensure the mandated number of instructional minutes are provided according to students' English language proficiency levels in each program model?

Students are assessed upon entry to determine their English language proficiency level using tools like the New York State Identification Test for English Language Learners (NYSITELL) and the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT). Based on these assessments, students are placed in appropriate program models and receive individualized learning plans that outline their specific instructional needs and goals as per CR Part 154-2. Students' progress in language proficiency is continuously assessed using tools like the NYSESLAT, which is administered annually. This data is used to adjust instruction and ensure that students are making adequate progress towards English language proficiency goals.

3. How are ENL, English Language Arts (ELA) and if applicable, Home Language Arts (HLA) instructional minutes delivered in each program model?

For ELLs being serviced by an ENL model, Home Language support is provided through the use of bilingual glossaries, bilingual classroom labels and translation apps on student devices. Explicit instruction on how to use these tools is provided to the entering/emerging group of ELLs to ensure our newest English Language Learners are equipped to help themselves. These same tools are frequently referred to and incorporated into our lessons during integrated ENL services.

For ELLs being serviced by our DL model, Home Language support is provided throughout the day in a roller coast model (as noted above). Students are taught in their content areas of literacy and math using Mandarin. Vocabulary is pre-taught and students are provided multiple entry points and scaffolds to use them in their lessons and tasks. Our units are centered around specific themes to provide multiple points of exposure and learning opportunities to express themselves in the HL.

4. For schools with Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) programs:

a. Which Dual Language Bilingual Education model is implemented? Explain how much of the instructional day (percentage) English proficient students and ELLs are integrated.

This program was established during the 2017-18 school year. By 2022-23, all grades had one DL class with a dedicated Mandarin bilingual pedagogue. These classes follow a self-contained, two-way DLBE model. In a two-way dual bilingual program model, both English proficient students and English Language Learners (ELLs) are integrated for a significant portion of the instructional day. The goal of this model is to promote bilingualism, biliteracy, and multicultural competence for all students, regardless of their language background. Mandarin and English instruction is split over a 40:60 balance in K-1 and 30:70 in grades 2-5. The rollercoaster model is followed, meaning Mandarin instruction is conducted on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings, as well as Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

b. In which language(s) is each core content area taught?

Literacy, Math, Science and Social Studies are all covered partially in Mandarin, and again in English during the allotted times.

5. For schools with Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs:

a. Which core content areas are taught bilingually?

Not applicable.

Part IV: Data Analysis

Data Analysis

After reviewing and analyzing school demographic and assessment data, answer the following questions. The ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) provided by the Office of Multilingual Learners can assist with identifying these data points.

For additional information, refer to Data Analysis Professional Learning Module and ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) Professional Learning Module.

1. What is the composition of the ELL subgroups at your school?
What percentage of ELLs are Newcomers? How does effective instruction for Newcomers differ from those provided to Developing or Long-Term ELLs?

At P.S. 101K, 94.5% of ELLs are Newcomers (receiving English language services for 0–3 years). Newcomers, often with limited English proficiency, require immersive language experiences, visual aids, and contextual learning. Moreover, incorporating explicit phonics instruction, aligned with the science of reading, is paramount. This approach equips them with foundational skills for decoding and encoding English words. Additionally, grade-level, content-area exposure is crucial for building vocabulary and background knowledge, and so integrating programs like HMH Into Reading offers a comprehensive approach to literacy instruction. By combining these strategies within a supportive and culturally responsive environment, educators empower Newcomers to navigate English language acquisition successfully while engaging with scaffolded grade-level academic content.

In contrast, Developing or Long-Term ELLs, having spent an extended period in English language programs (4+ years), often face challenges in reaching proficiency levels comparable to their native English-speaking peers. Instruction for this group necessitates a targeted approach that acknowledges and addresses persistent language gaps despite conversational fluency. Frequent, formative assessments play a pivotal role in identifying these knowledge gaps, allowing educators to tailor instruction accordingly. Furthermore, instruction for Long-Term ELLs prioritizes academic content mastery while fostering language development through meaningful, content-rich activities with grade-level work. LTELLs are also taught explicit strategies to foster independence around their language development through translation tools, fluency apps, notetaking and test-strategy skills. This holistic approach aims to bridge language barriers Long-Term ELLs face in academic environments.

What percentage of ELLs are Students with Inconsistent/Interrupted Formal Education (SIFE)? How do you differentiate effective instruction for SIFE?

At P.S. 101, 0% of current English Language Learners (ELLs) are identified as Students with Inconsistent or Interrupted Formal Education (SIFE). However, should SIFE students enroll, their instruction must be distinct and targeted. Effective SIFE instruction includes accelerated literacy development through explicit phonics and foundational reading instruction, often starting with diagnostic assessments to identify gaps. Lessons should integrate language and content using thematic, high-interest materials supported by visuals, hands-on learning, and real-world connections. Extended instructional time, small-group supports, and flexible pacing are essential to help students catch up academically. Home language support—at minimum through conversation tools such as speech-to-text and text-to-speech in the student's first language—can greatly aid comprehension and confidence. Additionally, trauma-informed and culturally responsive practices are critical to creating a safe and trusting environment that supports both academic and emotional needs.

What percentage of ELLs are Long-Term ELLs? How does effective instruction for Long-Term ELLs differ from instruction designed for Developing ELLs?

According to the Spring 2025 ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT), 0% of current ELLs at P.S. 101 are classified as Long-Term ELLs (LTELLs)—students who have received ELL services for seven or more years. While our school currently does not serve any LTELLs, we would implement a targeted, collaborative approach if such students enrolled. The ENL teacher would work closely with classroom teachers to analyze multiple data sources—such as i-Ready, NYSESLAT results, and classroom assessments—to develop an individualized action plan. This plan would include focused tutoring, differentiated instruction, small group work, and frequent progress monitoring.

Instruction for LTELLs differs from that for Developing ELLs. While Developing ELLs (4–6 years of service) continue to build academic language and reinforce foundational skills, LTELLs often require targeted support to overcome persistent gaps in academic writing, syntax, and subject-area literacy. LTELL instruction focuses on advanced academic vocabulary, critical thinking, and independent application of language strategies across content areas. By contrast, Developing ELL instruction emphasizes continued scaffolding, immersive language experiences, and structured support to deepen language acquisition and build confidence with grade-level concepts.

What percentage of students are former ELLs? How is your school providing mandated instruction to former ELLs?

At our school, 129 students, or 11.9% of the total student population, are former English Language Learners (FELLs). To support these students, we offer ongoing support services in a small group setting, following Option A of the Alternative Pathways to Support Former ELLs' Language Development and Academic Progress. Assessments indicate that FELLs often require further development in academic vocabulary, background knowledge, language structures, and verbal reasoning skills to perform effectively at their grade level.

Our support for FELLs includes two 45-minute sessions each week, focusing on lessons that build background knowledge and enhance comprehension skills, drawing from the principles of the science of reading. These sessions integrate Level II Orton-Gillingham-based morphology instruction and utilize materials from the "Focused Reading Intervention" curriculum to help students deepen their understanding of both fictional and informational texts. By emphasizing the development of advanced language structures , we equip students with the necessary tools to engage with complex academic content at their appropriate grade level. The small groups are heterogeneously mixed with native English speakers, fostering collaborative learning and enhancing linguistic diversity. Additionally, individualized support is provided through iReady, which tailors instruction to each student's specific needs, ensuring that FELLs continue to progress in their language proficiency and academic achievement. Translation tools, visual supports, and scaffolded tasks also remain available to ease the transition out of ELL services and promote sustained academic success.

2. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of ELLs at your school?

According to the Spring 2025 ELL Data Analysis Tool, 122 out of 217 ELLs (56.2%) at P.S. 101 have at least one at-risk indicator.
These are concentrated around 3 trends:
1. 63 out of 217 ELLs (29.0%) did not "demonstrate sufficient ELP progress on the Spring 2024 NYSESLAT."
2. 26 scored Level 1 or 2 on the most recent ELA state assessment.
3. 32 scored Level 1 or 2 on the Math state assessment.

3. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect former ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of former ELLs at your school?

According to the Spring 2025 ELL Data Analysis Tool, 37 out of 92 FELLs (%) at P.S. 101 have at least one at-risk indicator. These are concentrated around 2 trends:
1. 33 of the 37 FELLs scored at a level 1 or 2 last school year on the ELA State Exam.
2. 18 of the 37 scored at a level 1 or 2 last year on the Math Exam.

However, less than half maintain this trend during their second year as a FELL., which maintains that the transitional support we have been providing for our FELLs is both effective and necessary.

4. What are the home languages of ELLs with the largest representation at your school? What staff, structures, and processes does your school have to support communication and learning that values these home languages?

Among the 217 English Language Learners (ELLs) at our school, the most common home language is Chinese, with 74 speakers. This includes various dialects such as Cantonese, Mandarin, and others like Vietnamese-Chinese. Spanish is the second most common, with 46 speakers, followed by Russian with 31 speakers. Other notable languages include Ukrainian (12), Urdu (11), Uzbek (11), Georgian (10), Arabic (8), Tadzhik (5), and Albanian (3), with 6 ELLs speaking other languages.

To support communication and learning that values these home languages, our school has implemented several effective structures and processes. Upon arrival, new ELL students are paired with a student ambassador from the same grade, ideally one who speaks their home language (or at minimum, in a language the ELL is fluent in). This ambassador assists with introductions to school staff, familiarizes them with important locations in the school, and helps them integrate socially. Classroom teachers further support new ELLs by pairing them with a language buddy who shares their home language, facilitating both social interaction and learning.

Our commitment to supporting home languages extends to several communication strategies. Our school website provides translated notifications and postings via WordPress to ensure accessibility for non-English-speaking families. Parent letters are translated in-house or with the assistance of the DOE's Language Translation and Interpretation Unit. We use the Remind app, which allows parents and teachers to communicate with messages automatically translated into their preferred language. During critical school meetings, such as parent-teacher conferences and IEP meetings, staff members, including paraprofessionals and social workers, and the LTI Unit provide translation services. We also utilize parent volunteers for language translation at events and the DOE's Translation and Interpretation Unit for phone calls and meetings in languages not covered by our staff.

To foster a culturally inclusive environment, our school organizes numerous multicultural celebrations where students present in multiple languages, reflecting and honoring the diverse linguistic backgrounds of our community. Our parent coordinator, Ms. Bing Lin, who is fluent in both English and Mandarin, plays a pivotal role in bridging communication between the school and our families, ensuring that language does not become a barrier to engagement and learning. Many of the workshops she hosts are culturally responsive (i.e. dumpling making, home library building, scrapbooking, etc.) These comprehensive support systems reflect our dedication to valuing and nurturing the linguistic diversity of our ELL students and their families.

5. What are the racial and ethnic classifications of ELLs at your school? How are ELLs being included in planning and delivery of Culturally Responsive and Sustaining Education (CR-SE)?

At PS 101 The Verrazano, the racial and ethnic composition of the English Language Learner (ELL) population reflects the rich cultural diversity of our school community. Among the 217 current ELLs, the largest racial group is Asian, making up 51.6% (112 students). White students comprise 25.3% (55 students), followed by Black students at 9.2% (20 students), Multiracial students at 6.5% (14 students), American Indian or Alaskan Native students at 5.5% (12 students), and Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander students at 1.8% (4 students). In terms of ethnicity, 29.9% of our ELLs identify as Hispanic, while 70.1% identify as Non-Hispanic.

To ensure that this diverse student population is supported in meaningful and authentic ways, PS 101 integrates the principles of Culturally Responsive and Sustaining Education (CR-SE) into both planning and instructional practices. Families are actively involved in the process through multiple avenues such as the School Leadership Team (SLT), the Parent Teacher Association (PTA), and direct communication with school staff. Engaging families and community members in planning ensures that our CR-SE initiatives are inclusive, relevant, and reflective of the cultures represented in our school.

This collaborative spirit has led to a number of vibrant schoolwide initiatives that celebrate our students' identities and promote a strong sense of belonging. These include Civics Week, Chinese New Year celebrations, the Multicultural Celebration, the Dual Language Olympics, and the Multicultural Book of the Month program. We also maintain a Multicultural Display Case near the main office, which highlights different cultural heritages throughout the year, including Black History Month, Arab American Heritage, Asian American and Pacific Islander (AAPI) Heritage, and Jewish American Heritage. This display is curated in partnership with staff and families and serves as a visible commitment to honoring the diverse backgrounds of our school community.

Our staff engages in ongoing professional learning focused on CR-SE and anti-bias education to ensure that classroom environments remain inclusive, affirming, and academically rigorous. Student voices, particularly those of ELLs, are elevated through classroom discussions, heritage-based projects, and storytelling opportunities that center their lived experiences and cultural knowledge. We also foster strong home-school partnerships through multilingual communication and inclusive community events.

Additionally, our educators draw on resources such as Sharroky Hollie's culturally responsive teaching strategies (https://www.culturallyresponsive.org/) and guidance from the NYC DOE InfoHub to ensure instruction is reflective and adaptive to student needs. Our curriculum integrates students' cultural backgrounds into texts, assignments, and assessments, with an intentional focus on inclusion. While we utilize culturally authentic texts from the HMH Into Reading program, our teachers thoughtfully supplement with additional materials that reflect our students' lived experiences. Regular audits of instructional resources help ensure content is free of bias and representative of all learners.

At PS 101, our commitment to Culturally Responsive and Sustaining Education strengthens not only academic outcomes but also the personal identity, confidence, and sense of belonging of every ELL student we serve.

6. What trends do you notice in reviewing English Language Proficiency (ELP) growth at your school? How many students met ELP sufficient progress? How many students did not meet ELP sufficient progress?

In reviewing English Language Proficiency (ELP) growth at P.S. 101, 89 students met sufficient progress (64 by exiting, 21 through annual growth, and 4 through safe harbor), while 63 did not. However, 129 of our 217 current ELLs did not have enough prior NYSESLAT data to calculate growth, largely because 94.5% of our population are newcomers with 0–3 years of service. Encouragingly, no students are classified as long-term ELLs, showing steady movement through proficiency levels. By grade, younger students in kindergarten through grade 2 show strong participation numbers, with notable exits in grades 2–4. In contrast, some upper-grade students (grades 4–5) struggled to meet annual growth targets, suggesting a need for targeted supports in academic language and writing.

7. When you look at the results of the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT), what stands out? What trends are there for each modality?

The NYSESLAT results show a clear trend in modality performance: oral language skills are emerging as strengths, while literacy skills remain areas of need. Students consistently perform better in listening and speaking, demonstrating strong receptive and expressive oral English, which aligns with the school's large population of newcomers who typically develop oral language first. In contrast, reading results are mixed, with some students progressing well but others struggling to reach higher proficiency levels. Writing stands out as the greatest challenge across grades 2–5, with a higher proportion of students scoring at the lowest levels, indicating difficulty transferring oral language skills into academic writing. Overall, while oral proficiency is developing steadily, targeted supports in reading comprehension, academic vocabulary, and structured writing are necessary to accelerate growth in literacy.

8. What is the relationship between students' performance on the NYSESLAT and other state assessments such as the ELA assessment, the Math assessment, and the Regents exams?

The relationship between NYSESLAT performance and state assessments is clear. On the ELA exam, almost all students at Entering and Emerging proficiency scored at the lowest levels (Levels 1–2), while the majority of students at Expanding or Commanding scored at Levels 3–4. For example, 5 of 7 Commanding students and 3 of 7 Expanding students scored at Level 4 in ELA. On the Math exam, there was slightly more variation, with some Transitioning students reaching Levels 3–4. Still, the strongest outcomes were among students at higher proficiency levels: 11 Expanding students and 8 Commanding students scored at Level 4 in Math. Overall, the data confirm that growth in English proficiency is directly tied to stronger performance in both ELA and Math, highlighting the importance of continued literacy development alongside content instruction.

9. What are trends reflected in the NYSESLAT results of ELL subgroups such as ELLs with IEPs and SIFE? What do you think is impacting the results for these subgroups?

In Spring 2024, 21K101 saw encouraging progress among English Language Learners (ELLs) with Individualized Education Plans (IEPs) on the NYSESLAT. Of the 52 students tested, the majority scored within the Transitioning to Commanding range, with 15 students reaching the highest proficiency level. This upward trend suggests that targeted supports and certified instruction are helping these learners overcome dual challenges—language acquisition and learning needs. The data reflects a school environment where inclusive practices and specialized programming are making a measurable impact on student outcomes.  In this same time period, we did not have any SIFE students.

Part V: ML/ELL Instruction

Tier 1: Core Instruction

For additional information, refer to ML/ELL Instruction Professional Learning Module.

Tier 1 Core Instruction

1. How does your school provide ELLs with a high-quality academic experience that leads to deeper learning?

At PS 101 The Verrazano, we are committed to providing English Language Learners (ELLs) with a rigorous, culturally responsive academic experience that promotes deeper learning and language development through several key strategies.

Our approach begins with comprehensive assessment practices, including formative assessments and culturally sensitive summative evaluations, guide our instructional decisions and provide valuable feedback to students. Equipped with this data, teachers use scaffolding strategies such as visual aids, chunking, home language support, and building background knowledge to ensure access to grade-level content while supporting progressive language acquisition. Our literacy program, HMH Into Reading, emphasizes advanced literacy skills through culturally relevant texts and vocabulary instruction. Writing instruction is strengthened through staff training in The Writing Revolution, which promotes structured, coherent writing and enhances both language proficiency and critical thinking.

Culturally responsive teaching is integral to our curriculum. By connecting academic content to students' cultural backgrounds and experiences, we make learning more engaging and relevant. Celebratory events like our Multicultural Fair further reinforce cultural pride and understanding among our student body.

Collaborative learning environments encourage ELLs to engage with peers, promoting language acquisition through social interaction and shared learning experiences. Peer support programs and language buddy initiatives further enhance student engagement and academic growth.

Technology plays a significant role in our instructional approach. Platforms like iReady and educational apps provide personalized learning experiences that cater to individual proficiency levels, facilitating interactive and accessible learning opportunities.

Continuous professional development ensures that our educators are equipped with the latest instructional strategies and resources for supporting ELLs. This ongoing training enables teachers to create dynamic and inclusive learning environments that address the unique needs of each student.

Regular communication with families, supported by translated materials and community partnerships, enhances parental involvement and strengthens the overall support system for our ELLs.

Through these integrated strategies, we aim to provide ELLs with a supportive and enriching academic experience that fosters deeper learning and prepares them for success in an increasingly diverse world.

2. How does your school's leadership team ensure ELLs have access to core instruction/curriculum?

Our School Leadership Team (SLT) comprises grade leaders, our principal, assistant principals, and the ENL department lead, ensuring a comprehensive approach to supporting ELLs in accessing core instruction and curriculum. The inclusion of an ENL teacher on the team allows us to closely monitor the performance of ELLs and integrate their needs into our instructional programs alongside general education initiatives. For instance, when implementing new curricula like HMHCO's Into Reading and Envisions, the SLT collaboratively assesses whether translated materials would benefit ELLs, ensuring equitable access to learning resources. We analyze school surveys and ATS reports as a team to identify strengths and trends among ELLs, informing curriculum enhancements and audits for the following year.Our collaborative efforts extend to developing culturally responsive materials through partnerships between our Leader in Me Bright Ideas Action Team and Cultural Diversity Action Team. These initiatives aim to authentically engage staff with students' cultural backgrounds and plan inclusive events through collaboration with the Family Ties Action Team.

When data revealed ELLs' vocabulary performance on iReady needed improvement, the SLT took action by replacing the Wordly Wise curriculum with training in Orton-Gillingham for advanced morphology and providing targeted small group lessons during WIN periods. Similarly, during discussions in Advanced Literacy Hallmarks meetings, protocols were selected and implemented to specifically support ELLs in enhancing their literacy skills. To address overall underperformance in math, SLT discussions in Instructional Leadership Team (ILT) meetings have focused on developing new routines, enhancing content vocabulary, and implementing visual supports tailored to support ELLs. We have also identified a subgroup of ELLs upper elementary ELLs who excel at phonemic awareness and high frequency words, but struggle with fluency and phonics, inhibiting their ability to access core instruction and curriculum successfully.  Our SLT is initiating a small study group to plan for the creation of materials that will support these ELLs.  Additionally, plans for an after-school math tutoring program aim to provide targeted support for both ELLs and the broader student body. Through these collaborative efforts and data-informed decisions, our SLT ensures that ELLs have equitable access to core instruction and curriculum, supporting their academic success and overall growth.

3. Describe how core content is delivered in each program model. Specify language, and the instructional approaches and methods to foster language development and meet the demands of the Next Generation Learning Standards.

At PS101K, we employ two primary program models to deliver core content instruction tailored to the needs of our English Language Learners (ELLs): the integrated ENL (English as a New Language) model and stand-alone ENL classes, along with HLA (Heritage Language Acquisition) Mandarin classes for dual language learners. We also recognize the three tenets put forth by NYSED as best practices for MLs/ELLs and the NGLS: (1) Emphasizing the critical relationship between speaking and listening and literacy development , (2) encouraging language and metalinguistic awareness, and (3) grouping students in flexible partnerships (small and large groups, including whole-class groups).

In our integrated ENL classes, core content instruction is embedded within ENL lessons during the Push In portion of our Freestanding ENL model. ENL strategies and methods scaffold content area instruction, ensuring academic rigor without simplifying content. Teachers trained in the Orton-Gillingham approach integrate Tier II/III words and texts from ELA (Into Reading), Science, and Social Studies to enhance metalinguistic awareness. Students analyze word meanings, word parts (roots/cognates), and language structures (parts of speech, transitional words), fostering mastery of English language structures and cross-cultural elements, otherwise known as generative vocabulary. Themes in each unit build background knowledge, supporting richer conversations and repeated exposure to new vocabulary. Furthermore, CSR protocols like reading for gist and think-pair-share from teach Advanced Literacy skills, while flexible, heterogeneous groupings facilitate holistic language development among ELLs and fluent English-speaking peers. We incorporate Culturally Responsive and Sustaining Education (CR-SE) strategies such as linking vocabularies across languages and integrating culturally appropriate texts into daily lessons, fostering situationally appropriate language use.

In stand-alone ENL classes, instruction is similarly structured but progresses at a slower pace to support entering and emerging ELLs. Emphasis is placed on speaking and interacting with academic vocabulary introduced during ELA blocks, in order to support their efforts when writing for comprehension.

For HLA Mandarin classes, dual language teachers blend Mandarin and English speakers in flexible groups to practice oral language skills. While cognates are absent in Chinese, lessons focus on radicals to enhance metalinguistic understanding. Teachers utilize "The Grammar Wiki for Chinese" and the HSK list of frequent characters to teach grammar and sight words, supplementing content area instruction with Better Immersion texts aligned to our Science and Social Studies units.

Across all programs, our approach aligns with the Next Generation Learning Standards by integrating content-rich, culturally responsive instruction that builds language proficiency and academic skills essential for ELLs' success.

4. What instructional strategies and grade-level materials, including technology, do teachers of MLs/ELLs use to provide access to grade level academic content areas and accelerate English language development? Include core content area and language materials with consideration to specific ELL subgroups.

a. ELLs with IEPs

For ELLs with IEPs, differentiated instruction is crucial. Teachers tailor lessons to meet diverse learning needs by using multiple representations of content, such as visual, auditory, and kinesthetic methods. Scaffolded support is also essential, breaking tasks into smaller, manageable steps with clear instructions and visual aids. Collaborative learning strategies, where students work in pairs or groups, can foster peer support and collaborative problem-solving. The integration of technology is used to provide MLs/ELLs with IEPs access to grade level academic content. This can include a 1:1 device such as an iPad or Chromebook, which has multiple features like translation, foreign keyboards and text-to-speech support. Google Workspace apps are capable of translating uploaded grade level worksheets and documents. We also provide translation pens that both provide translation and definition, as well as dictation. This is in addition to providing access to the internet through which students and look up supportive videos, images and websites to better understand the materials taught. Additionally, using inclusive materials that accommodate various reading levels and include adaptive features ensures all students can access the content.

b. SIFE

SIFE students would be provided with extra support within the general education classrooms and during the child's ESL/ENL program. ESL/ENL providers and classroom teachers create special goals for each student and monitor his or her progress along the second language acquisition continuum. Depending on the child, they may also focus on teaching the SIFE student's socialization skills so that they may adapt more comfortably to the American school environment. During class time, differentiation occurs in the process, product and content. For instance, ENL providers use interactive white boards to provide visual support for more difficult concepts in a highly engaging manner. Homework assignments are tailored to their readiness levels. Reading and math club teachers may pick them up to increase their time spent in smaller group settings. Buddies and heterogeneous grouping may be used to facilitate learning. Furthermore, SIFE students are encouraged to enroll in after school programs to help them log in extra learning time to make up for deficits. Allowing flexible pacing is essential to accommodate the varied educational backgrounds and learning speeds of SIFE students. Our school also has numerous technology programs that can be tailored for individualized support and language/math development for our students, and many of these programs can be used at home. These include iReady, Microsoft Reading Coach, and RAZ Kids.

c. Newcomers

Newcomers are identified as ELLs who have spent three years or less in the NYC school system, which makes up a majority of our ELL population. Typically, they arrive with extremely limited literacy skills (according to their NYSITELL results) and need targeted instruction in phonemic awareness and decoding. They benefit the most from a welcoming and supportive classroom environment that helps them acclimate to their new surroundings. Both the ENL provider and classroom teacher use the Orton-Gillingham approach to meet this need. Furthermore, vocabulary and content area instruction starts immediately since research proves that students do not need to be able to read or write fluently prior to learning the subject matter. They do not even need basic language skills to interact with higher level concepts if there are certain scaffolds implemented (i.e. translations, pictures, nonverbal response methods). This is especially important since ELLs receive only one grace year prior to taking the ELA state exam, and ENL providers must therefore work conscientiously and effectively with the student to ensure that they have necessary skills to be successful on the ELA exam within two years. Where possible, the test language is used during the regular school day to help familiarize students with the jargon. This can be seen when answering text dependent questions in discussions and during the production of evidence-based writing in both literacy and content area instruction. Cloze passages, color coding and sentence frames have been especially helpful. Newcomers are also assigned a bilingual student ambassador by the guidance counselor and a language buddy by the classroom teacher.

d. Long Term ELLs

PS 101K currently does not have an ELL who fits this population, but for any long-term ELLs, who may have plateaued in their language development, targeted academic language instruction is key. We would arrange for individualized tutoring sessions to support a child that falls into this category. Sessions would focus on the specific academic vocabulary and language structures needed for success in various content areas. Teachers should provide opportunities for extended discourse, encouraging students to engage in discussions, debates, and presentations on topics that are high interest. Using complex texts and providing explicit instruction on how to analyze and interpret them can help these students develop higher-level language skills. Technology, such as online discussion forums and educational software that challenges their language skills, can also be beneficial.

5. What supports does your school provide to ELLs with IEPs to achieve their IEP goals and attain English language proficiency within the least restrictive environment?

To support English Language Learners (ELLs) with Individualized Education Programs (IEPs) in achieving their goals and attaining English language proficiency within the least restrictive environment, our school implements a comprehensive approach. ELL educators may refer students to the school psychologist or social worker to assess needs beyond language acquisition.

Our school uses rigorous, research-based curriculums, including Into Reading, enVisions, and My World. If a student needs support accessing the grade level material, the ENL teacher, classroom teacher, and Special Education teacher collaborate to adapt it, but ensure it remains aligned with the New York State Next Generation Learning Standards (NGLS) to ensure grade-level expectations responsive to IEP goals.

The IEP guides instructional decisions to maintain the least restrictive environment. Regular parent meetings involve and support families, fostering a collaborative academic experience. The ENL teacher, special education teacher, and general education teacher work together to differentiate and scaffold content, determine effective small group configurations, and identify helpful technology supports for English language access.

Additionally, ongoing professional development equips educators with effective instructional techniques and resources. This holistic, collaborative approach ensures students receive the necessary support to succeed academically and develop English proficiency.

6. How is home language assessed in each program model (DLBE, TBE, and ENL)?

In classrooms where our ELLs participate in our Freestanding ENL program, the native language support is provided whenever needed by the ELL with the mode of support up to the pedagogue. We find it more helpful if we can create a profile about the student's knowledge of the native language before proceeding. If the child becomes an ELL as per the NYSITELL results and speaks Spanish at home, an ENL pedagogue and a translator administer the Spanish LAB. If the child speaks another language besides Spanish, a pedagogue or staff member who can speak the same home language as the child will interview the child to informally assess their knowledge of the native language and welcome them to our school. In this way, that child has knowledge of who speaks their language in the school should a need arise. We also interview the parents at registration for the child's literacy and fluency in the first language. A student's native language is very useful for developing English language skills. When meeting with parents, we stress that they continue exposing their child to their home language. Even if parents are unable to assist with homework, we encourage them to ask students questions about the school day, stories they have read and what they learned in their classes. Additionally, if at intake a parent provides an academic history for the ELL that may indicate a child had interrupted access to school, our team uses the Multilingual Literacy SIFE Screener (MLS) Portal to assess them in their native language. This data is used to uncover knowledge gaps and to drive instruction, and instructional decisions regarding after school programs.

Furthermore, ENL and regular education classes incorporate the use of bilingual dictionaries and glossaries during instructional periods, test administration and many times during class projects. Students are also encouraged to include the translation on their vocabulary cards if they are able to write in their first language. Students who are English proficient and speak the ELL's first language are often assigned as a buddy to help the ELL learn the rules and routines of a classroom. Technology is another element that helps support ELLs' native languages since there are many bilingual apps to download into an iPod touch iPad and/or laptops, and translation services are even more substantial online than in physical dictionaries.

In our Dual Language Mandarin classes, our dual language teachers administer teacher-created Mandarin assessments for each of the four modalities to establish baseline data on students' knowledge. A similar test is administered again in January/February for the midyear assessment and again in June for the end-of-year assessment. These tests are also vertically-aligned among our Dual Language team during C6 meetings to ensure knowledge is consistently and intentionally being built in logical fashion year-after-year. Unit-based assessments are also given to students on a weekly or biweekly pace, and these are created using the Chinese Proficiency Test (HSK) Level 1 high frequency word list as guidance.

7. (For grades 6-12 only) What language electives are offered to MLs/ELLs? How is your school preparing MLs/ELLs to obtain the New York State Seal of Biliteracy?

Not applicable as PS101K is an elementary school.

8. Describe systems and structures for supporting co-teaching and collaboration among teachers for all ELL program models available at your school (e.g. integrated co-teaching, Dual Language Bilingual Education teacher partnerships, etc.).

Our school supports co-teaching and collaboration among teachers in all ELL program models through structured systems and dedicated planning periods. ENL teachers have designated planning periods to coordinate with general education and special education teachers, fostering integrated co-teaching and effective instructional strategies. Curriculum maps and materials are regularly updated on Google Workspace with access made available to all teachers of ELLs. Dual Language (DL) teachers receive an additional planning period each week to vertically align their efforts, ensuring consistency and coherence across grade levels.

To further enhance co-teaching practices, our school partners with G&R Inclusive Group for professional development centered around co-teaching strategies and best practices. This training equips teachers with the skills and knowledge needed to effectively collaborate and support ELL students. Additionally, we utilize various resources to support these efforts, ensuring that our teachers are well-prepared to meet the diverse needs of our students.

9. Describe how your overall, annual professional learning plan ensures that all staff – including administrators, teachers and -non-pedagogical staff – incorporates learning specifically related to the academic and social emotional needs of MLs/ELLs. Professional learning topics might include co-teaching strategies, or integrating language and content instruction.

Our annual professional learning plan is designed to lift the whole staff (pedagogues and non-pedagogues alike) in order to meet the academic and social emotional needs of the whole child, and this includes our MLs/ELLs.

Internally, our ELL department runs workshops during a Learn and Learn or staff meetings to discuss the various tools and strategies that can support our MLs/ELLs academically. Recently, we have provided PDs on AI tools like CoPilot, Gemini, Magic School, Canva, Kahoot and Microsoft Reading Coach. Additionally, other apps like PearDeck, Google Translate and Project Read are highlighted to complement ELL strategies that can be applied by teachers during OG lessons, and other content area lessons. Other PD topics have included Successful Co-Teaching for ELLs strategies and Newcomer Support strategies. Topics are chosen according to staff interest as well by administrator request. Additionally, as we become more proficient with HMHCO's Into Reading program, we have been working with our staff to develop separate language objectives for our ELLs.

External DOE workshops on topics like Implicit Bias help every staff member take a deeper look into how personal biases can affect our students, better understand how to address implicit bias and develop culturally responsive practices. Every student has a unique story and the cultural backgrounds of our MLs/ELLs are to be viewed as an asset by our staff, so that they too can value their personal identities, histories, and experiences. After working through this workshop, our guidance counselor and staff developed a five-day Respect for ALL/Civics Week curriculum for our students. A cornerstone of this project was to meet with staff first over two professional learning days to help them explore the materials and articulate their concerns and hopes for their students, so that the staff felt equipped with a list of resources and empowered with a better understanding of implicit biases and civics to work with our students.

NYSCATE and edWeb also provides CTLE professional development for educators of Multilingual Learners. The workshops are highly encouraged by administration for staff to attend.

10. Describe your school's professional development plan in order to meet the mandated Continuing Teacher and Leader Education (CTLE) ELL specific hours for certification renewal as per CR Part 154 (15% of total hours for all certified faculty [holders of professional certificates in the classroom teaching service, educational leadership service and level III teaching assistant certificate holders] and 50% of total hours for bilingual education/ENL teachers receive ELL-specific professional development).

At PS 101K, we strive to maintain high standards for our students and our teachers. Part of this effort includes sending our staff members to a multitude of professional developments (PDs) that are designed to help ELLs succeed in the academic setting or by providing them in-house during Monday Professional Development times. Our PDs are also not just limited to ENL pedagogues, but are attended by all teachers of ELLs.

Intentionally, ENL pedagogues and oftentimes a regular education classroom teacher are paired off to attend a PD offered by the Division of MLL, ML Services Administrator, or another established institution. In the past, this has included Literacy for Life, Goldmansour and Rutherford, Fordham University, NYU, Hofstra, Google for Education, etc. This information is then turn keyed to the appropriate teachers during our Instruction Leadership Team meeting, grade meetings and/or common preps. PDs are attended by ENL pedagogues (and/or their classroom teachers) on a rotating basis through the year as they are offered.

If specific information is deemed vital for the entire staff to learn (including non-pedagogic staff), administration will choose the appropriate ENL teacher to turnkey the information during a Lunch & Learn, orientation meeting, or after school presentation on Mondays.

Specific PD offerings have included but are not limited to topics such as: Orton-Gillingham, Advanced Literacy, CR-SE, iReady, Google Classroom, eChalk, RAZ-Kids, Hochman Writing Revolution, metacognition, metalinguistic awareness, implicit bias, BIPs, etc. Additional PDs are held by the BSBSO for non-pedagogic staff such as our pupil accountant secretary and STARS personnel. We send out a representative each of these meetings as they happen.

Assessment

SCREENERS

11. Which screening assessments (e.g.iReady, MAP Growth, Acadience, or STAR Reading) does your school use to guide instructional planning for your ELLs?

Our screening assessments include iReady (whole school), Acadience, Branching Minds, Into Reading assessments, approved secondary screeners and the NYSITELL when appropriate. The reading levels and noted areas of weakness(es) are used to guide both our ENL and classroom teacher's planning. These assessments provide data that is essential to our schools instructional plan as it helps us decide on the goals for each individual student and reveals the weaknesses for which support is necessary. The SLOSSON, teacher-made Into Reading assessments, Acadience, and even the results of the NYSITELL are the most helpful for revealing what our entering and emerging ELLs need. iReady, beginning-of-the-year grade-level assessments and classwork, and the prior year's NYSESLAT results are used to help inform our work for transitioning, expanding and commanding students. The results help us determine the area to focus on the language continuum (which could be phonemic awareness, vocabulary, fluency or comprehension) and/or language modality (speaking, listening, reading or writing) to enhance.

Results are shared between the classroom teacher and the ENL staff during grade meetings or informal teacher meetings to guide instructional planning. We look for patterns of strengths and weaknesses to address in lessons and projects, and this is done frequently throughout the year in an ongoing cyclical basis. For teacher-made curriculum-embedded Into Reading assessments, ENL staff attend major planning sessions at the end of the year to have input over the overall curriculum map and plan. More specifically, the integrated curriculum for commanding, expanding and transitioning ELLs is often modified or supported with the help of ENL teachers in response to their ability levels when possible. For entering and emerging ELLs, we often substitute grade-level work with related activities that develop and build their burgeoning language development.

12. For all grades, list and describe your targeted intervention programs for ELLs in ELA, Math, and other core content areas (specify ELL subgroups targeted). Include the language(s) in which the intervention services are offered.

The targeted intervention programs at PS 101K for ELLs are all offered in English as follows:

• Newcomer ELLs After School Support Program: This program uses the “Newcomer ELL” program by Continental to guide ELLs through basic language skills in the beginning of the year, and then moves on to the Reading A-Z ELL Component towards the middle of the year. It has been very supportive of students with less than two years of English language instruction obtain the foundations of the English language. This includes but is certainly not limited to phonics, decoding, oral expression and sight words. Text topics covered span all content areas with increasing difficulty as the curriculum progresses. This program will meet twice a week for 45 minutes in the afternoon.
• Mandarin Language After School Program: A few of our English-dominant students in the program and non-literate Mandarin ELLs require additional support and practice as they graduate to higher grade levels. Since time in the target HL is crucial to development comfortability and fluency, we will be creating this program to support our struggling Mandarin learners. .
• After-School/Saturday ELL Math Academy: A component of out after school and Saturday program will be focused on providing ELLs content-area support for math. The program will be given in small groups with intense scaffolding and feedback.

• After-School/Saturday Test Prep for ELLs: ELLs often require explicit instruction in test-taking strategies and language in order to succeed on their state exams. Materials like New York ELLs by Continental and Focused Reading were utilized.
• OG Tutoring: There is a subset of intermediate-level students who plateau in their progress. These students are often level 2 on the ELA and/or Expanding on the NYSESLAT. We've found that targeted small group instruction helps them gain the fluency needed to progress to higher levels of academic English and literacy.

13. For all grades, describe how your school uses data to guide instruction for ELLs within a Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS). Refer to the Instructional Leadership Tool for MLs and ELLs and MTSS Guide for MLs and ELLs to help in the development and implementation of your school's plan for MLs/ELLs.

In our school, we've adopted a structured approach to help our Multilingual Learners (MLs) and English Language Learners (ELLs) who may be facing challenges in their education. This step-by-step problem-solving model allows us to use data effectively to guide our instruction and interventions, ensuring every student receives the support they need.

Step 1: Universally Screen - Assessing Classroom Instruction
We begin by looking closely at our Tier I instruction, which is the core curriculum. The aim here is to evaluate how effective it is in supporting language and literacy development among MLs/ELLs. We use data from a universal screening assessment (Acadience for grades K-2/iReady for 3-5), alongside qualitative observations, to identify students who might be struggling. Key questions our Instructional Leadership team asks include: Are the difficulties a student faces unusual compared to their peers? Are most of their peers, especially those with similar backgrounds, performing well? If most MLs/ELLs in a classroom are underperforming, we focus on improving the core instruction. We also consider factors like the cultural and linguistic backgrounds of our students, providing opportunities for peer collaboration, and tailoring instruction to meet their specific needs.

Step 2: Identify and Analyze Strengths and Needs - Examining Multiple Data Sources
If most MLs/ELLs are making progress comparable to their peers, we dig deeper into other data sources. We analyze formative assessments, diagnostic assessments, and factors like attendance, health, and home-community characteristics. Secondary screeners helps us pinpoint specific skills that students need to work on to reach academic benchmarks in phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary and/or reading comprehension. We also emphasize the importance of comparing students to their "true peers" – those with similar language proficiency, exposure to English, experiential backgrounds, language of service, and culture.

Step 3: Plan and Implement Supports - Developing Action Plans
Once we've identified areas for improvement, we create action plans. These plans detail the type of intervention needed, who will provide it, how long and how frequently it will be delivered, the student-to-teacher ratio, and the criteria for success. Through articulation periods and frequent communication, we ensure that classroom teachers, RtI personnel and the ENL team understand what adjustments they need to make within their instruction to support struggling students or groups based on the screeners. It is through this Multi-tiered System of Support for MLs/ELLs (MTSS) and regular assessment that we can ensure we catch any early signs of difficulty. For about 15% of students, including MLs/ELLs, who may need more targeted help, we offer evidence-based interventions through Tier II, all while maintaining the core curriculum. Additionally, for the smallest percentage (about 5%) who may require individualized interventions through Tier III. Our focus is on data-driven decision-making, tailored support, and continuous improvement to help every student succeed, with special attention to the needs of our MLs/ELLs. This tiered system is not synonymous with special education; instead, it's a comprehensive framework that allows us to adapt and intensify support as needed, keeping a close eye on each student's progress. We believe that by maintaining a strong data-driven culture and involving parents and the community, we can provide the right support at the right time to help all our students thrive academically, including those who face language and learning challenges.

Step 4: Monitor Progress and Evaluate Outcomes - Continuous Improvement Progress monitoring is an ongoing process throughout the MTSS approach. We use assessments, qualitative teacher observations, and other data to make sure our interventions are effective. If a student continues to struggle despite these interventions, we may consider a formal evaluation for additional services like special education. We always remain sensitive to the unique needs of our MLs/ELLs. While we aim to support them within our regular instructional framework, we're also aware of the importance of providing resources, whether in the regular classroom, through targeted interventions, or in special education when needed.

This model empowers our school to make informed decisions, provide tailored support, and ensure the success of our Multilingual and English Language Learners, all while considering their cultural and linguistic assets in a holistic manner.

FORMATIVE

14. Which formative assessments (e.g. NYC performance Tasks, ELL Periodic Assessment, HLA Assessment, DRA, teacher-created assessments, etc.) are used to inform and drive instruction?

Acadience and Branching Minds are used for grades K-2 and iReady for grades 3-5 as our primary screeners. Based on their results, if a child is performing below grade level, a secondary screener is applied: GE Coding for phonemic awareness/phonics, Acadience for fluency (grades 3-5 only), Core Vocabulary Screening for vocabulary, and the Acadience for Reading Comprehension. In class, formative assessments used include HMHCO Into Reading's module assessments and writing pieces. For our ENL pull out classes, OG quizzes and teacher-created assessments are used to monitor progress.

For our Dual Language students, teacher-created HLA assessments are used to establish a baseline at the beginning of the year, monitor progress mid-year and then assess the Mandarin language gains at the end of the year. Weekly teacher-created assessments are also used to assess vocabulary and grammar gains. Phonics assessments like the GE COding, online iReady assessments and teacher-created Into Reading assessments are being used to guide instructional planning for our early childhood ELLs. Online iReady assessments and Into Reading assessments are used for our ELLs in grades 3 to 5. The data collected is used to analyze our ELLs' abilities and to inform our teachers of student weaknesses and strengths.

For our Dual Language students, teacher-created HLA assessments are also used to establish a baseline at the beginning of the year, monitor progress mid-year and then assess the Mandarin language gains at the end of the year. Weekly teacher-created assessments are also used to assess vocabulary and grammar gains.

15. How do you ensure that MLs/ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their home languages throughout the year?

ELLs are evaluated in the native languages when appropriate and available. If the child becomes an ELL as per the NYSITELL results and speaks Spanish at home, an ENL pedagogue and a translator on staff administer the Spanish Lab. For other languages, if a pedagogue or staff member is on hand that speakers the same home language as the child, that person will speak with the child to informally assess their knowledge of the native language and welcome them to our school. In this way, that child has knowledge of who speaks their language in the school should a need arise.

For school-wide assessments, ELLs have hard copies of bilingual word-to-word glossaries, as well as tools like Google Translate on their laptops.

During state exams, translated versions of the tests are made available to Chinese-, Spanish-, Arabic- and Russian-speaking ELLs. ELLs are encouraged to write their responses in their native languages if it is more suitable for them. In addition, bilingual glossaries are printed out in the languages made available by the DOE testing website and distributed. If a child speaks a language for which we do not have an in-house translator, we will contact the Language Translation and Interpretation Unit to provide language access to the state exam.

For our Dual Language students, the DL creates the HLA assessments. An overall assessment that covers the four modalities is given three times a year: beginning, middle and end. A weekly assessment for Mandarin vocabulary and grammar is also utilized to track student progress as they complete the Better Immersion units. Additionally, at the entrance of this program before a child starts their Kindergarten year in our DL Mandarin program, an ELL is also informally interviewed and assessed in Mandarin by a Mandarin-speaking pedagogue.

SUMMATIVE

16. Which summative assessments (e.g. NYSESLAT, ELA, Math, Regents, etc.) are used to evaluate the effectiveness of your ML/ELL programs and how does it inform instructional design and curricular decisions? (Refer to the ELL Data Analysis Tool).

We take a three-pronged approach to this by comparing our previous year's NYSESLAT data, state exam/end of (prior) year curriculum assessments, and our iReady assessment data. With the prior year NYSESLAT data, we use the EDAT tool to look for patterns in our ELLs' strengths and weaknesses to establish a partial picture of their baseline data. We also look for students who have multiple risk factors so that we can apply tailored instructional supports for this group, and/or invite them into Title III programs for extra support. If necessary and when appropriate, we also refer them for at-risk support services. With our iReady data, we identify their baseline and progress data to analyze for areas of need. These tests are given in September (baseline), January (progress), March/April (progress) and June (summative). It is able to capture information on student progress and needs in phonemic awareness, high frequency words, phonics, vocabulary, fluency and comprehension in both informative texts and literature. Our teachers also complement this data with information from Into Reading curriculum-embedded assessments and data points from OG, Acadience and WRAP as appropriate. (For example, if a child is making limited progress in the reading modality, iReady can be used to narrow down whether the weakness is in phonemic awareness, phonics, vocabulary, high frequency words, fluency, or comprehension. Then OG can be used to figure what specific skill deficit there is if it's based on decoding concerns, WRAP if for vocabulary and fluency, and Into Reading tests if a weakness in comprehension is detected.)

17. What is your NYSESLAT administration plan? How does your school ensure that all ELLs are tested with the NYSESLAT annually? Include the titles of the staff that will administer and score the assessment. Please describe your plan to ensure that all ELLs and former ELLs continue to receive mandated instruction during the testing period.

The NYSESLAT is administered by the ENL/DL department with help from classroom teachers. For classrooms with a high ELL register such as in Kindergarten and first grade, a classroom teacher (other than the child's own teacher) administers the NYSESLAT to the child. In grades where ELLs are spread out, an ENL teacher(other than the child's own teacher) administers the NYSESLAT in mixed groups. During the speaking portion of the example, two ENL teachers are involved in giving the test: the child's own ENL teacher reads the test while a second ENL teacher scores. After the NYSESLAT administration window is closed, the ENL teachers work together to score the writing portion of the test as a team. Only teachers who do not work with the child directly are allowed to score that child's test. Staff included in administration include Jessica Rivera, Maria Lupo, Patricia DeMarco, Melanie Hornstein, Alessia Tartamella, Connie Alleo, Leslie Zhu, Kelsey Castricone, Emily Tan, and Margorzata Szacherska.

ELLs and former ELLs continue to receive mandated services during the test period via asynchronous assignments and prerecorded lessons by the ENL teacher. During office hours, ENL teachers provide feedback and grades (as relevant) on assignments completed by their students. Progress on RAZ-Kids is also monitored continuously. ELLs who continue to reach their weekly goal earn incentives.

18. How does your school ensure that current and former ELLs receive necessary accommodations for state assessments, including the Specialized High School Admissions Test (SHSAT) if applicable?

Our school ensures that current and former ELLs receive necessary accommodations for state assessments by adhering to the protocols outlined in the NYS School Administrator's Manual for ELA and Math along with specific accommodations provided by NYSED. Our AP, Kevin Damiano, spearheads the effort with the collaboration of every staff member involved in state testing.

Separate Location (All Exams): ELLs can be tested individually or in small groups in a separate location. This accommodation ensures a quieter environment conducive to concentration and reduces test anxiety. Classroom teachers and ENL staff provide input on the student groups, for which afterwards Mr. Damiano assigns a separate room and proctor.

Bilingual Dictionaries and Glossaries (All Exams Except Foreign Languages): ELLs are allowed to use bilingual glossaries that provide direct word-to-word translations without definitions or explanations. This helps students better understand test questions and vocabulary without altering the test's intended rigor. The ENL staff assigns every ELL and two-year FELL a bilingual glossary in October, with a second inventory taken again in February to ensure each child entitled is equipped.

Oral Translation for Low Incidence Languages (All Exams Except ELA): For languages that do not have a translated exam edition, we survey our ELLs of their desire for a translator. These translators can provide ELLs with oral, direct translations of the exam and are strictly instructed to not provide clarifications or explanations, maintaining the integrity of the test.

Writing Responses in the Home/Primary Language (All Exams Except ELA): ELLs may write their responses in their home language. In-house bilingual staff or the LTI unit's translators translate these responses into English for scoring, ensuring that language barriers do not hinder students' ability to express their knowledge.

Simultaneous Use of English and Alternative Language Editions (All Exams Except ELA): ELLs may use both English and an alternative language edition of the exam simultaneously but must respond in only one language edition. This dual access allows students to cross-reference and better understand the test content. Every ELL eligible is provided a translated edition. Our APs are all involved in the packaging and responsible distribution of these editions.

Individualized Accommodations: We implement specific testing accommodations as detailed in each student's Individualized Education Plan (IEP) or 504 Plan. This includes extended time, separate locations, test read, among others, to ensure accessibility and fairness during the assessments. Here, groups are established by the Special Education teacher with input from the ENL teacher, and then they are assigned a room and proctor by Mr. Damiano.

Use of Technology: For computer-based testing, we utilize the Nextera Admin platform, as described in the manual, to set up accommodations. This includes configuring settings for extended time and other necessary modifications to align with students' needs.

Professional Development: Our educators receive regular training on the latest guidelines and procedures for administering state assessments, ensuring they are well-prepared to provide the required accommodations at least two ahead of each state exam.

Parent and Student Communication: We proactively communicate with parents and students to explain the accommodations and ensure they understand how these will be applied during the state assessments. Frequent outreach across our various platforms to ensure parents are informed of their rights. including Google Classroom, Remind, ps101k.com website, etc.

Monitoring and Support: During the testing periods, we have dedicated staff to monitor the implementation of accommodations and provide immediate support if any issues arise. These include school aides in the hallways, each of our administrators in a command post and our technology support person, Ms. Tina Sum.

These steps ensure that our ELL students are fully supported and can perform to the best of their abilities on state assessments, maintaining compliance with the NYS guidelines and promoting equitable testing conditions. These accommodations are implemented through meticulous planning and collaboration among educators, ensuring that ELL students are provided with the support they need to succeed.

Part VI: Family Partnership

Family Partnership

Required Meetings Under CR Part 154

Describe your schools' plan to ensure families of ELLs are provided with the required meetings specified below as per CR Part 154. Include:

- Topics discussed during these meetings
- How your school ensures families receive necessary translation/interpretation supports to meaningfully engage in the meetings
- How your school schedules these meetings to facilitate attendance, and how your school maintains evidence of these meetings as required per the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs.

a. ELL Program Orientation to inform parents/guardians of newly identified ELLs of ELL program options, including the program goals and requirements for all three ML/ELL program models: Dual Language Bilingual Education, Transitional Bilingual Education and English as a New Language regardless of whether the school currently has either type of bilingual program and provide a high-quality orientation section on the Next Generation Learning Standards, assessments, and school expectations for English Language Learners.

At the ELL Program Orientation Meetings, ELL teachers explain the 3 ENL models offered by the city, and in turn how they are rolled out at PS101. This includes detailed information on the goals and requirements of the three recognized models: Dual Language Bilingual Education, Transitional Bilingual Education, and English as a New Language (ENL), regardless of whether our school currently offers bilingual programs.

The orientation also provides a high-quality overview of the Next Generation Learning Standards, the assessments ELLs will participate in, and the academic and behavioral expectations for students. Our goal is to ensure families are fully informed and empowered to support their child's language development and academic success.

The Parent Survey is then meticulously reviewed to ensure parent voice is fairly accounted for in their child's learning. Translators are available and the Parent Orientation Video is shown in their native language. We also review the NGLS expectations, ELL supports their child is entitled to at school, upcoming parent-child workshop opportunities, after school supports, and assessments related to the growth and progress monitoring of their child.

At least 3 parent orientation meetings are scheduled within the first ten days of school, with one being hybrid. To facilitate attendance, one is scheduled during Back-To School Night, one close to dismissal time to be conveniently timed for student pick up, and one shortly after student arrival in the morning for the same reasons. Once scheduled, in-house translators or translators from the LTI are scheduled and secured using translation/interpretation funds. Parents are notified of the orientations via the distribution of the translated and English versions of the Entitlement letters, and the Remind app (which provides translation of all messages sent). If any of these times are inconvenient, parent outreach is made by phone (using translation services when necessary) to conduct a one-on-one visit. Parents are required to sign in an attendance form at all Parent Orientations to document their participation. These sign-in sheets are kept with our compliance documents in the ENL Department's files.

b. Annual Individual Meeting to discuss goals of the program, language development progress, language proficiency assessment results, and language development needs in all content areas. Note: this meeting is separate from and does not include the mandated ELL program orientation meeting and DOE-scheduled parent-teacher conferences.

At PS 101, we ensure families of English Language Learners (ELLs) receive all required meetings in alignment with CR Part 154. Each year, we hold an Annual Individual Meeting—separate from the mandated ELL orientation and DOE parent-teacher conferences—to discuss ELL program goals, the student's English language development, proficiency assessment results (NYSITELL/NYSESLAT), and language needs across content areas.

To promote meaningful engagement, all communication is translated into families' preferred languages, and interpretation is provided during meetings. We schedule these meetings at the end of January using Calendly to offer flexible time slots. Families are notified through Remind and direct, translated phone calls.

Attendance and meeting records, including communication and minutes, are maintained in our ENL Compliance Binder. Signed Annual Individual Meeting Agendas are placed in student CUMs.

Family Engagement

2. Beyond the mandated meetings and orientations, describe how your school:

a. Ensures families receive all school communications and documents in the language they best understand. How are families able to respond or initiate communications in languages other than English?

We ensure families receive all communications in the language they best understand. During registration, families complete the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS) with support from an ELL pedagogue to determine their preferred written and oral languages. This information is entered into ATS by our pupil accountant, Ms. Josephine Tartamella, and referenced using RCPL and RPOB reports for ongoing outreach.

Each year, we also send out a digital Student Emergency Contact Form via Remind and Google Classroom, which allows families to update their preferred oral and written languages. This allows our staff to be aware of our families' linguistic diversity, with fluency in multiple Chinese dialects, Spanish, Russian, Uzbek, Arabic, Urdu, and etc. Parents may also initiate communication in languages other than English by utilizing the Language Identification Card posted at the security desk and main office to request in-person support of their language.

For ongoing communication, families use the Remind app, which automatically translates messages to and from their preferred language, allowing for seamless two-way communication with school staff. We also maintain an internal staff language inventory to quickly identify staff members who can assist with interpretation when needed.

b. Develops activities that foster empowerment for families of MLs/ELLs. Include how your school determines the needs of your community.

At PS 101, we foster empowerment for families of Multilingual Learners (MLs) and English Language Learners (ELLs) through inclusive, responsive programming grounded in community input.

We assess the needs of our families through annual parent surveys, translated and distributed both digitally and on paper, to gather feedback on priorities, challenges, and interests. This data informs the design of after-school programs, parent workshops, and community resource partnerships.

Our principal, Mr. Korrol, hosts “Coffee with Mr. Korrol” sessions—both in-person and virtual—by grade level throughout the year. These seasonal gatherings offer parents a consistent platform to ask questions, share concerns, and influence school decisions.

We encourage active parent involvement through the PTA and School Leadership Team (SLT), ensuring ML/ELL families have a voice in school governance. All events and meetings offer translation and interpretation services as needed, which families can request during registration.

At all meetings, we provide translation and interpretation services because we recognize the diverse linguistic backgrounds of our families. Registration for each our meetings and workshops provide an opportunity for parents to request such services.
By listening intentionally and creating spaces for collaboration, we empower our families to be active partners in their children’s education.

c. Ensures families of MLs/ELLs are aware of family leadership opportunities (such as Parent Association (PA), School Leadership Team (SLT), Community Education Council (CEC), etc.)

We are committed to ensuring that families of Multilingual Learners (MLs) and English Language Learners (ELLs) are fully informed about family leadership opportunities such as the Parent Association (PA), School Leadership Team (SLT), and Community Education Council (CEC).

We communicate these opportunities through multiple multilingual channels, including translated newsletters, our school website (ps101k.com), Instagram, and the Remind app. Regular updates highlight upcoming elections, meetings, and how to get involved.

Our PTA plays an active role in encouraging parent participation and connecting families with leadership roles. Additionally, our parent coordinator and ENL team make personal outreach efforts to ensure ML/ELL families understand how to engage, contribute, and lead within the school community.

3. What culturally and linguistically responsive partnerships do you currently have that support the needs of your school community?

We prioritize culturally and linguistically responsive partnerships to support the diverse needs of our school community. At the start of each year, we survey families—via Google Classroom, Remind, and our website—to gather input on parent engagement events and identify cultural assets and areas of interest. Surveys are available in families' preferred languages to ensure broad participation. We also use this survey as an invitation for families to share any community resources and contacts with us.

Our school partners with a variety of community-based organizations that reflect and celebrate our multilingual, multicultural student body. These include Marquis Studios, Ulmer Branch Brooklyn Public Library, Brooklyn Book Bodega, Book Fairies of Freeport, First Book, Angel Center After School Care, ExpandED, Elite Learning Center, and NYU Metro Center. These partnerships provide access to culturally-relevant enrichment programs, literacy resources, academic support, and community connections that enhance learning for all students and families.

2. Describe the structures and process in place for identification of ELLs year-round as required by the NYC DOE Policy & Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, including your school's identification plan for any incoming students with an Individualized Education Plan (IEP). Include:

- How your school proactively plans for the ELL identification process so that it does not interrupt the provision of mandated ENL and/or bilingual instruction to current, former and potential ELLs,
- Who is responsible for each step of the ELL identification process, and
- School's plan for ensuring ELLs and former ELLs will continue to receive mandated instruction.

At PS 101, we have a comprehensive, year-round ELL identification process in place that aligns with NYC DOE Policy and the Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs. This process is designed to ensure timely identification without interrupting mandated ENL and bilingual instruction for current, former, or newly enrolling students, including those with IEPs.

Proactive Planning and Continuity of Services
To maintain uninterrupted services, we prioritize scheduling and staffing to ensure that ENL and bilingual instruction continue as new students are identified. Our ENL teachers are not pulled from instructional time to administer assessments. Instead, new students are screened during their prep periods or after school hours. This allows the school to meet identification deadlines while preserving instructional time for all students.

Identification Process and Roles
At registration, all incoming students are screened by our pupil accountant secretary, Ms. Josephine Tartamella, and an ENL teacher. The Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS) and interview are administered to determine NYSITELL eligibility. When applicable, the SLAB is also administered. If eligible, the NYSITELL is given within 10 school days.

If a student qualifies for ENL services, the parent is invited for a one-on-one orientation to complete the Parent Survey and select a program model. A translated orientation and program placement discussion are provided. For students interested in a Transitional Bilingual program not available at PS 101, the DOE's Family Request for Transfer process is initiated. Program placements are finalized through parent placement letters and documented in ATS screens (ELPC and BNDC) within 20 school days.

IEP and LPT Considerations
For students with IEPs, the IEP is reviewed by the school psychologist and special education staff. If appropriate, an LPT (Language Proficiency Team) meeting is scheduled to determine whether ELL services should be maintained. The team includes the ENL teacher, classroom teacher, school psychologist, IEP teacher, and parent, with interpretation services provided as needed.

Ongoing Midyear Identification
For midyear enrollments, the same procedures apply. The pupil accountant coordinates with an ENL teacher to complete screening, ideally on the day of registration. If NYSITELL testing is required, it is scheduled within the 10-day window, along with orientation and SLAB (if applicable). Parents are invited back within 1–3 days if needed to complete the process.

Documentation and Monitoring
All documentation—including HLIS, Parent Surveys, placement letters, and LPT meeting notes—is filed in the student's cumulative record. A school-wide checklist system is maintained to track each step, ensuring compliance with deadlines and transparency across teams. Intake information is also shared with relevant staff (classroom teachers, SPOC, guidance counselor, and parent coordinator) to support a smooth onboarding experience and continuity of instruction for all ELLs and former ELLs.

This structured approach allows PS 101 to identify, serve, and support our MLs/ELLs effectively throughout the school year.

Principal Certification

In accordance with New York State's Commissioner's Regulations Part 154 as outlined and implemented in the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, I, attest that the following ELL identification procedures and activities are adhered to, and staff are trained on the items listed below.

- The ELL Identification Process is completed for each student within 10 school days of enrollment (20 school days for students entering with IEPs).
- Enrollment status of each newly admitted student is determined:
  a. If a student has been in New York State public schools within the past 2 years, our school contacts the previous school to obtain ELL status, relevant assessment scores, and English language proficiency level.
  b. If a student has been outside of New York State public schools for more than 2 years, our school administers the ELL Identification Process as part of reentry.

- The home language of the student is determined by a trained and licensed pedagogue.
  a. The parent completes the Home Language Identification Survey in the parent's preferred language; translation services are provided by a bilingual staff member, the DOE's over-the-phone translation services, or an alternative, high quality translation service.

- An interview with parents and students in English and the home language is conducted. This includes reviewing documents, prior assessments, and academic experience. An assessment of the student's abilities and/or work samples determines the student's literacy and math level in his/her home language.
- Eligibility for the NYSITELL is determined.
  a. If the newly enrolled student is entering with an IEP, the school's Language Proficiency Team (LPT) recommends eligibility to the principal, who obtains final approval from the superintendent.

- Students are administered the NYSITELL, if eligible.
- Notification letters are sent to the parent/guardian in their preferred language.
  a. Parent is notified of their child's ELL status and results of the NYSITELL.

- If the student is identified as an ELL and the student's home language is Spanish, the student is administered the Spanish Language Assessment Battery (LAB).
- Student with Interrupted/Inconsistent Formal Education (SIFE) status is determined using New York State's resources.
- If a student is a newly identified ELL, the parent is invited to the parent orientation meeting.
  a. The parent orientation meeting provides parents/guardians with an explanation of each ELL program model offered in NYC; the parent video describing the three programs is presented (in parent's preferred language); parents/guardians are encouraged to ask questions so that they are informed about all ELL programs; translation and interpretation services are provided throughout the meeting.

- ELL is placed in the ELL program that the parent selected.
  a. If the bilingual program that the parent selected is not available, the parent is offered a transfer to a school with that bilingual program in accordance with NYC DOE transfer policies.

b. If the ELL remains in the school, the ELL is placed in English as a New Language and our school keeps track of parent selection so that when minimum thresholds are met, we can open the ELL program of choice.

- Parents are notified that they have 45 days to appeal the ELL status of their child (ELL Re-identification Process).
- If the ELL Re-identification Process is implemented for any student, the principal reviews the decision of any student whose ELL status was changed because of the ELL Re-identification Process within 6 to 12 months.
- Copies of documentation regarding ELL identification, including letters and parent notifications are kept in the students' cumulative files.

Part C: Parent Communications and Engagement

Parent Communication and Engagement

Identification of written critical communications and in-person meetings throughout the school year that require language assistance services and how the school plans to respond to these needs.

1. List the documents your school typically distributes each year that require translation, along with your plan for translating these documents.

| Document Type (e.g. parent flyers, IEPs, etc.) | How do you plan to implement the translation process? Please include procedures and resources to ensure the timely delivery of translated documents to parents. |
|---|---|
| All ENL Compliance documents (Entitlement Letter, Non-Entitlement Letter, Continuation Letters, Parent Survey) | DOE-provided templates are used, otherwise if a translation is not available, then the English version is used and an interpreter is provided to allow the parent to ask questions either with an in-house translator or through OPI services through OLA. |
| Parent Engagement Workshop Flyers | In-house bilingual staff members translate when available, in-app Canva translation tool, and when necessary, translation services through the Office of Language Access for non-covered languages. |
| IEPs | In-house bilingual school psychologists for Chinese and Spanish IEPs, or otherwise interpreter services through the Office of Language Access for non-covered languages |
| PT Conference Announcements | In-house bilingual staff members to translate announcements when available, Remind in-app translation services, and the Office of Language Access for non-covered languages |
| Parent School Surveys | In-house bilingual staff members translate when available, and translation services through the Office of Language Access for non-covered languages |

2. List the meetings, both in-person and virtual, that your school typically holds with parents throughout the school year, along with your plans for providing interpretation services at those meetings.

| Meeting Type (e.g. parent workshops, PTCs) | How do you plan to offer interpretation services? Please outline the procedures and resources in place to ensure timely access to interpretation for parents. |
|---|---|
| PTC and Open School Nights | We ask our in-house bilingual, non-pedagogical staff members to sign up to translate for our teachers and families 2 weeks in advance. We also push out PTC registration to families over Remind and Calendly 2 weeks in advance so that they may request translation and interpretation services in a timely fashion. The OPI services through the Office of Language Access is used in situations when a parent speaks a non-covered language. |
| Family Workshops | Parents are surveyed through a Calendly registration for their language translation needs at least 2 weeks in advance. In-house translators are secured for the event. If necessary, OPI services through the Office of Language Access is used in situations when a parent speaks a non-covered language. |

3. Describe the resources and processes your school will use to communicate with parents who speak a language other than English during an emergency (e.g., lockdown, fire, student attendance, nurse/hospital visit, etc.), or when a parent needs to contact the school in an emergency, ensuring communication is in their preferred language.

Protocols and multilingual resources are in place to ensure effective communication with families who speak languages other than English during emergencies.

School-Wide Emergencies (e.g., lockdown, fire, etc.):
In the event of a school-wide emergency, we communicate with families through multiple platforms: School Messenger, Remind, and our school website. All platforms offer in-app translation to ensure messages are received in families' preferred languages. For less commonly spoken languages such as Uzbek or Ukrainian, we utilize the OPI through OLA. When possible, our bilingual staff also assist by making direct calls using our updated parent contact list.

Student-Specific Emergencies (e.g., attendance, nurse/hospital visit):
In the case of individual student emergencies, school staff—including teachers, the nurse, or administration—first rely on available in-house bilingual staff for immediate communication. Our assigned nurse also speaks fluent Russian. If staff support is unavailable for a family's preferred language, we promptly contact OPI services through OLA to ensure accurate and timely interpretation.

When a Parent Needs to Contact the School in an Emergency:
Parents may call the main office, where Cantonese- and Italian-speaking staff are available. Our Parent Coordinator, Ms. Bing Xing Lin, also supports Mandarin-speaking families. For other languages, we connect parents with available bilingual staff or use OLA's OPI services for live interpretation. Parents may also message staff through Remind, which automatically translates their messages, ensuring accessible two-way communication.

These layered supports ensure that language is never a barrier to urgent or important communication between the school and our families.

Part D: Staff Awareness

Staff Awareness

Plan to ensure staff awareness of language access requirements and available resources.

1. Describe how your school will ensure that all staff members complete the required asynchronous NYCPS Language Access Training for School-based Staff on the WeLearnNYC learning platform, and are familiar with the Best Practices for When to Provide Translation of Critical Written Communications to Parents and Best Practices for When to Provide Interpretation for Critical Oral Communications with Parents. Additionally, explain how your Galaxy-designated LAC will disseminate future language access resources and updates to all staff members.

We are committed to ensuring that families receive clear, accessible communication in their preferred language, especially when it involves critical information. Staff are trained annually on the NYCPS best practices for providing interpretation for critical oral communications and translation of critical written communications at the beginning of the school year, and we embed these guidelines into our schoolwide communication protocols as per our staff handbook.

For oral communications, interpretation is offered for any discussion related to health, safety, academic progress, legal matters, remote learning, or schedule changes. Staff proactively check ATS and blue cards to identify families who prefer a language other than English and offer interpretation in advance. During meetings, if a parent shows signs of misunderstanding, has limited responses, or requests support, interpretation is arranged immediately. If unavailable at that moment, the meeting is rescheduled to ensure full language access.

For written communications, we provide translated versions of all critical documents—such as permission slips, academic updates, safety notices, and disciplinary letters—either from centrally-produced DOE resources or by request through the LTI Unit. Translations are sent alongside the English version whenever possible, and staff are trained to follow up with translations promptly if the parent's language preference is identified later.

Our Language Access Coordinator (LAC) monitors compliance, ensures all staff complete required training on WeLearnNYC, and disseminates language access updates through staff meetings and a shared Google Drive. These systems ensure that our communication remains inclusive, timely, and in full alignment with DOE policy.

Part E: Parental Notification

Parental Notification

Provision of notice to parents on the available language assistance services.

1. Describe how your school will inform parents about available language assistance services in their preferred language. Include any of the following:

- Translated signage
- Brochures, flyers, or letters shared with parents
- Parent engagement events where language assistance services are highlighted (e.g., PTA meetings, international parents' night, etc.)
- Messaging applications

- Language Access for NYC Public Schools Families brochure

PS 101K actively informs parents about available language assistance services in their preferred language through multiple, accessible channels.

Translated signage is posted in visible areas throughout the school, including the main office and security desk, indicating the right to free interpretation and translation services. We also provide language identification cards to help families easily request support in their preferred language.

At the start of the school year and during key events, parents receive translated brochures and flyers outlining available language access services, including how to request interpretation or document translation.

We highlight these services during parent engagement events, such as PTA meetings, Coffee with Mr. Korrol, curriculum night, and our annual Open School Night. At these events, staff explain how families can access interpretation and translated materials, and bilingual staff are available to assist.

Additionally, we use messaging applications like Remind, which automatically translates communication between staff and families, ensuring that language is never a barrier to engagement or support.

Part F: Monitoring

Monitoring

Methods for soliciting and implementing feedback on language assistance services.

1. In addition to the feedback received from parents via OLA's Translation & Interpretation Feedback Survey, describe the methods your school will use to gather feedback from parents regarding the language assistance services they receive in their preferred language.

In addition to the feedback collected through OLA's Translation & Interpretation Feedback Survey, PS 101 uses multiple methods to gather input from families about the language assistance services they receive. Each September, we distribute an in-house parent feedback survey—translated into families' preferred languages—to gather insights on how they prefer to receive communication, how they wish to engage with the school, and what services they find most helpful or lacking. The School Leadership Team (SLT) and PTA also serve as ongoing forums for parent voice, regularly highlighting family needs and preferences related to language access.

Many families at PS 101 are familiar with and trust our bilingual staff, often requesting them by name for in-person or phone interpretation. While some parents prefer to bring a family member or friend to assist with translation, they consistently express appreciation for having trained bilingual staff and official language assistance available when needed.

2. How has your school worked to improve its language assistance services? Share any feedback results and outline your plans for further improvements in the upcoming school year.

we have taken several steps to improve our language assistance services based on ongoing parent feedback and staff reflection. In response to a growing need for multilingual support, we have hired additional bilingual staff fluent in our most commonly spoken home languages. These staff members assist with interpretation during meetings, translate key documents, and serve as trusted liaisons for families.

We also seek out parent volunteers to support non-critical events, such as workshops, school tours, and cultural celebrations. This fosters community engagement while expanding informal language support in a culturally responsive way.

Feedback from parent surveys and SLT/PTA discussions shows that families feel more confident and welcomed when they can communicate in their preferred language, and many have expressed appreciation for having familiar bilingual staff available.

Looking ahead, we plan to offer more translated digital content (videos, slideshows) via AI to improve accessibility, streamline communication platforms to ensure consistent translation across all tools, and continue training staff on best practices for identifying language needs and offering assistance.

These improvements aim to ensure every family has equitable access to information and feels empowered to participate fully in school life.

Title III Outline

Title III Supplemental Program for ELLs for SY 2025-26

REQUIREMENTS

Title III supplemental services for English Language Learners (ELLs) must include the following three components:

- Direct instruction activities must be used to support language development, English and home language instruction, high academic achievement in math, and/or high academic achievement in other core academic areas. The Title III supplemental instructional services must be based on student need. These supplemental services should complement core bilingual and ENL services required under CR Part 154. Direct supplemental services should be provided for before school, after school, and Saturday programs. Teachers providing the services must be bilingual education and/or English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) certified teachers.
- High quality professional development that is "of sufficient intensity and duration to have a positive and lasting impact on the teachers' performance in classrooms." Professional development activities should be well-planned, ongoing events rather than one-day or short-term workshops and conferences.
- Parent engagement and supports must ensure that there are appropriate translation and interpretation services to meet community needs. These are in addition to mandated activities, such as parent orientation during ELL identification process or annual ELL parent meetings.

Note: The Title III ELL program planning ratio is as follows: 60% to direct instruction, 10% to professional development (if funded using Title III ELL funds), 10% to parent engagement (if funded using Title III ELL funds), and 20% to OTPS (if funded using Title III ELL funds).

For more information on Title III requirements, please see the School Allocation Memo or contact your ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance and Performance Specialist. Any updates or revisions to this plan must be made through the iPlan portal.

Rationale for Title III ELL Funded Programs

Describe the rationale for each Title III ELL funded program. For each program, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis that support the need for program, and
- Data sources used to justify the need for the program

At PS 101, our Title III ELL-funded programs are designed to provide small-group, targeted support that gives English Language Learners additional practice beyond the school day to strengthen their academic language skills and confidence. Each program is grounded in both qualitative and quantitative data to ensure services address identified student needs.

Our Newcomer Program offers recently arrived ELLs in grades 2–5 extra time to build foundational English skills, receive homework help, and adjust socially and culturally. Data from ATS enrollment, NYSITELL proficiency levels, and initial teacher observations highlight the growing number of Entering and Emerging ELLs needing additional language acquisition time in a supportive environment.

The Grades 3–5 ELL Test Preparation Program targets Transitioning and Expanding ELLs who struggle with academic language on state assessments. NYSESLAT scores, iReady progress monitoring, classroom writing samples, and NYS ELA/Math test results show persistent gaps in vocabulary, reading comprehension, and constructed writing. Small-group sessions allow students to receive scaffolded instruction and test-taking strategies aligned to their needs.

Our Morning Phonics Program supports early-grade ELLs with decoding, phonemic awareness, and fluency. iReady diagnostic data, and the SLOSSON phonics screener reveal students in need of structured phonics reinforcement. This small-group, multisensory program uses Orton-Gillingham-based instruction to close foundational literacy gaps.

The Mandarin Language Support & Enrichment Program is designed for Dual Language students who joined the program midstream and require additional help developing Mandarin literacy. Internal assessments, review of an ELL's academic and social history, classroom performance data, and teacher input show that these students benefit from structured, small-group instruction using scaffolded resources like Chinese Made Easy to build foundational vocabulary, grammar, and comprehension.

By analyzing a range of data sources—including NYSITELL, NYSESLAT, iReady, state test scores, classroom assessments, and teacher feedback—we ensure each Title III program delivers meaningful, small-group learning opportunities that directly support ELL student success.

Students and Grade Levels to be Served

For each Title III ELL funded program, describe the students that will be served. Include:

- Total number of ELLs for each program,
- Grade levels for ELLs in program, and
- ELL Subgroups (e.g., Newcomer) and/or proficiency levels (e.g., Entering, Emerging, etc.).

We will arrange classes based on performance and grade level: (1) Grade 2-5 After School Newcomer ELLs with less than 2 years of service and performing at Entering/Emerging levels will be invited to the Newcomer Program, (2) Transitioning and Expanding ELLs with 2 years or more of service. In each of these programs, students will be further divided into Grades 2-3 and Grades 4-5 for the test prep program, depending on ELL teacher availability. Priority enrollment will be given to ELLs who did not make at least one year's worth of progress on the 2024 NYSESLAT. Furthermore, our third program (3) will be designed for Emerging/Transitioning ELLs who are functioning at two or more grades below level in Phonics on their assessments (i.e. iReady, SLOSSOn, etc.) for over two years.  (4) Two classes for Grades 2-3 and Grades 4-5 Remedial Mandarin Dual Language Program for students who entered the Mandarin Program later and are 2-3 years behind in the Mandarin Curriculum.

Implementation Plan and Maintaining Records

- Describe your school's plan for implementation (e.g. when and how parents/guardians will be notified about the program(s)).
- Describe how your school will maintain records of your school's Title III ELL funded program, including evidence of parent notification in their preferred languages, student attendance records, evidence of teacher certifications for teachers supporting the program, record of parent engagement activities, records of professional development activities, purchase orders and invoices to date. For additional information, please refer to the Title III ELL FAQ.

Records of ELLs served in this program will be handled through ATS attendance reports.

Copies of notifications, translated letters, responses and pertinent student data are kept and/or noted in our After School Programs folder on Google Workspace for staff-wide use.

Invitations begin mid-September, after the administration of our Beginning of the Year assessments and secondary screeners. From this data, we will design the appropriate student groups, announce the posting for teachers, apply for permits and assign rooms. Once our resources have been identified and assigned, personalized student invitations with translations will go out by Remind, Google Classroom and backpack letters. (Copies are kept and notes on dates of when each are sent are kept on our Google Workspace.) If we do not receive confirmation from the parents with the above methods, outreach by phone will be done through bilingual staff members or with support from the LTI Unit. The programs will begin on or around October 15th.

Part C: Professional Development

Professional Development Summary

Provide a summary of your school's plan for professional development under your Title III ELL program. Please make sure to describe:

- Professional development to be provided,
- Activities that teachers will engage with by topic, and
- Whether the professional development provided will be funded by Title III ELL funds. Please note: If PD will be funded by Title III ELL funds, vendor cost is calculated as part of OTPS and must not exceed 20% of the total allocation; teacher per-session is calculated as part of PD and must not exceed 10% of the total allocation.

Our professional development (PD) plan under the Title III ELL program is designed to equip K–5 educators with the necessary skills and strategies to support English Language Learners effectively. The goal is to enhance language acquisition, improve academic writing, integrate innovative tools, and ensure data-driven instruction that meets diverse learner needs. Presentation slides will be provided for each Professional Development program.

We will offer a range of PD sessions throughout the year, including:
Orton-Gillingham: Multisensory literacy strategies for phonics and decoding.
The Writing Revolution: Structured writing techniques to build academic language.
AI in Instruction: Practical use of AI tools to support ELL learning.
Civics for All: Integrating civics into content areas to build civic and language literacy.
HMH Into Reading: Curriculum-aligned literacy strategies for multilingual learners.
ENL PDs: Focus on scaffolding, co-teaching, and differentiation for ELLs.
Branching Minds: MTSS tools for tracking ELL progress and targeting support.
Gold Mansour Station Teaching: Differentiated instruction through small group stations.
We All Write: Peer writing strategies to support collaborative language development.
Data PD: Using ELL subgroup data to inform instruction.
i-Ready PD: Leveraging diagnostic data to support small group ELL instruction.

Rationale for Professional Development

Describe the rationale for the professional development to be provided. For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., patterns and trends identified) that support the need for the professional development, and
- Data sources (e.g., school survey teacher responses, in-house teacher surveys, teacher observation data) used to justify the professional development.

ELL teaching and strategies are updated as new research emerges.  To ensure that appropriate protocols (for HMH Into Reading, CRSE, Advanced Literacy) are adhered to with fidelity, at least one ENL pedagogue is mandated to attend all ML/ELL Services Administrator (MESA)-led professional development meetings. Topics covered include text engineering, scaffolding, and bilingualism.  Analysis of our EDAT report show that ELLs often lag at the Expanding level, meaning they need explicit instruction to engage with complex, grade-level texts successfully.

Our screeners have also revealed a subgroup of struggling Emerging/Transitioning ELLs in our DL program in grades 4 and 5.  They have achieved notable success in phonemic awareness and high frequency words, but continue to struggle in Phonics of .  Since our DL teachers at this grade level do no engage at the phonics level during ELA instruction, they have not been trained.  Therefore, this set of teachers will be placed in Orton-Gillingham training to provide them the skill set to target this subgroup's needs during Tier 2 instruction.  PD will be provided the DOE vendor, Literacy for Life.

Other workshops attended throughout the year are at a needs-basis contingent on student data as mid-year assessments are rolled out.  Topics covered have historically included PBLs, scaffolding, SIOP, etc. and have been provided by China Institute, G&R Inclusive Group, Imagine Learning, etc.  This is so that our teachers can receive PD that is responsive to their students' needs and relevant to their skill set.

Teachers to Receive Professional Development

Include information on the teachers to receive professional development. Please specify how all teachers working in the Title III ELL program will receive ongoing professional development related to the Title III ELL program.

Our school's Title III ELL program includes a comprehensive plan for ongoing professional development to support educators working with English Language Learners (ELLs). Throughout the year, teachers will participate in PD focused on literacy, language acquisition, data use, and instructional strategies aligned with best practices. Topics include Orton-Gillingham, The Writing Revolution, use of AI tools, Civics for All, HMH Into Reading, ENL-specific practices, Branching Minds, Station Teaching (Gold Mansour), We All Write, and data-driven instruction using i-Ready.

All teachers serving ELLs—including ENL and content-area teachers—will receive regular, job-embedded PD. Learning is integrated into existing structures such as ELL team meetings, instructional planning sessions, and Monday PD time. This ensures consistent training that supports classroom instruction.

A key component of our model includes participation in ML/ELL Services Administrator (MESA)-led sessions. At least one ENL teacher (ideally two) attends each session and turnkeys the information and materials during weekly ELL or instructional meetings. This helps build internal capacity and spreads best practices across our teaching staff.
For Orton-Gillingham, Grade 4 and 5 Dual Language teachers will complete Level 1 training, while the ENL team attends a two-day refresher. These targeted sessions ensure staff directly involved in Title III ELL instruction receive relevant, ongoing PD that enhances their impact in the classroom.

Selected PD sessions—such as Gold Mansour, We All Write, and The Writing Revolution—will be funded through Title III, staying within the 20% OTPS cap. Per-session teacher payments will be used as needed and kept within the 10% limit. Curriculum-based PDs (e.g., HMH Into Reading and i-Ready) will be funded through general or other sources.

This approach ensures that Title III ELL educators receive meaningful, consistent support that translates into stronger instruction and improved outcomes for multilingual learners.

Part D: Family Engagement Activities

Family Engagement Summary

Provide a summary of your school's family engagement activities under your Title III ELL program. Describe the activities that families of ELLs will engage with by topic. Please make sure to include whether the activities will be funded by Title III ELL funds.
Please note: If family engagement activities will be funded by Title III ELL funds, vendor cost is calculated as part of OTPS and must not exceed 20% of the total allocation; teacher per-session is calculated as part of family engagement and must not exceed 10% of the total allocation.

We will be hosting a Home Library Building Workshop again for our parents. This will be the fourth year we lead this workshop due to high demand. The cost to Title III ELL will include per session for participating staff members leading the workshop and providing translation.

Rationale for Family Engagement Activities

Describe the rationale for the family engagement activities to be provided: For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., reasons for topics, time activities will be offered), and
- Data sources (e.g., parent survey responses, in-house parent surveys, PTA/PA request, etc.) used to justify the need for activities.

This workshop will be held by our ENL Department with Laura O'Leary, head librarian of Brooklyn's Ulmar Branch, to equip our families with a free library card and Culture Pass, as well as provide them an opportunity to shop over 1,000 free books provided by Book Fairies. Many of our families do not have the resources to provide a rich library of their own and research as shown that print-rich environments are critical to success of our students. The survey results have revealed positive feedback for this specific workshop, and an ongoing demand for each subsequent school year.

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III ELL family engagement activity, include:

- Start and end dates/months,
- Total number of sessions,
- Days of sessions, and
- Time and duration of sessions.

The workshop is held over two hours on a Saturday morning. It will be held twice - once in November and once in March. There is no cost to the Title III program. Agendas and invitations in parents' preferred languages are kept on our Google Drive staff folder, while attendance sign-ins are kept with our Parent Coordinator.

Topics to be Covered

For each Title III ELL family engagement activity, include topics to be covered.

Topics to be covered include signing up for a library card, library classes and resources, Culture Pass benefits, resources to access free books through First Book and Brooklyn Bodega.

Name(s) and Title(s) of Provider(s)

For each Title III ELL family engagement activity, include name and title of provider(s) (e.g., vendor, community-based organization, school staff name in charge of facilitating the parent engagement activities described in this section).

Our own staff will lead and translate the workshop in conjunction with Ulmer Branch Librarian, Laura O'Leary.

Family Notification of Activities and Translation and Interpretation Supports:

Describe:

- How families will be notified of Title ELL family engagement activities (e.g., phone calls, emails),
- How notification of activities will be translated into parent/guardians' preferred language, and
- How interpretation supports will be provided at events.

Parents will be sent a message on Remind and Google Classroom, which can both be translated into the parent's home language. We will also send home a translated backpack letter in case parents prefer that mode of communication.

Maintaining Records

Describe how your school will maintain documentation (e.g. agendas, attendance sheets) of family engagement activities and notifications to families.

Documentation of professional development is kept by the supervising assistant principal, Elisa Kane, in our Google Workspace. Items maintained in our family engagement activities folder may include but are not limited to workshop agendas, attendance records, flyers in English and translated, presentation slides, etc.

Title III Immigrant Outline

Title III Application for Immigrant Funding

REQUIREMENTS

Title III, Part A - Immigrant Funds can be used for activities that provide enhanced instructional opportunities for immigrant students, which include:

- Identification and acquisition of curricular materials, educational software and technologies to be used in the program.
- Family literacy, parent outreach and training activities designed to assist parents in becoming active participants in the education of their children and understand their rights and the benefits of multilingualism.
- Support for personnel, including teacher aides, parent coordinators, and school counselors who have been specifically trained, or are being trained, to provide services to immigrant students and families.
- Provision of tutorials, mentoring, and academic or career counseling for immigrant students, as well as engagement in pre-college and work-based learning experiences.
- Basic instructional services directly attributable to the aforementioned school districts, including costs for additional classroom supplies, transportation costs, or other costs directly attributable to such services.
- Other instructional services that are designed to assist immigrant students to achieve in elementary schools and secondary schools in the United States, such as programs of introduction to the educational system and civics education.
- School activities, coordinated with community-based organizations, institutions of higher education, private sector entities, or other entities with expertise in working with immigrants, to assist families of immigrant students by offering comprehensive community services.

Funding follows similar guidelines for Title III funds established by the Office of Multilingual Learners (OML) and can only be used to provide supplementary services to immigrant students, who may or may not be English Language Learners (ELLs).

Please note: Immigrant students are not necessarily English Language Learners (ELLs), and ELLs may or may not be immigrants. For the purpose of this funding, immigrant students are defined as individuals who were not born in any U.S. state (this includes the District of Columbia and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico); and have not been attending one or more schools in any one or more states for more than three full, academic years (the months need not be consecutive).

Priority areas for the use of Title III, Part A - Immigrant Funds are as follows:

- Extended day programming (e.g., before school, after school, Saturday program) to provide targeted, small-group instruction, credit recovery support, and postsecondary preparation.
- Implementing strong student supports to increase graduation rates.

Provide a summary of each program funded under Title III immigrant for SY 25-26:

For each program, describe:

- When the program takes place (i.e., after school, before school, Saturday academy).
- Activities the students will engage in and how these activities will enhance instructional opportunities for immigrant students (including ELLs).
- How students will be grouped for instruction and specify the number of student groups. Include total number of student groups and total number of ELLs in each group, for each program.
- How instruction will be delivered (e.g., team teaching, parallel teaching, etc.).
- How the program will be supervised and whether this is at cost to Title III Immigrant. Please note: If supervision will be funded using Title III Immigrant funds, you must include the supervisor's regular workday hours and the hours the supervisor will get paid per session.

With this funding, PS101K implement at least two Reading Strategy Book Clubs for the 2025–2026 school year. These programs will run from the first week of January through mid-May and will be offered twice weekly on Tuesdays and Wednesdays to maximize access for immigrant students, including English Language Learners (ELLs).

The first Book Club will take place before school, from 7:15 AM–8:00 AM, and the second will take place after school, from 2:20 PM–4:20 PM. These two sessions allow teachers to provide targeted literacy support to students who may not otherwise have extended learning opportunities.

Students will engage in a structured, grade-level Book Club led by a teacher using a selected focus text. Each session will include shared reading, guided discussion, and skill-based practice centered on the 7 cognitive reading strategies (monitoring comprehension, making connections, visualizing, questioning, inferring, determining importance, and synthesizing). Through sustained, dialogue-rich conversations, students will develop deeper comprehension, expand academic vocabulary, and improve their ability to talk about text using grade-appropriate language.

These activities provide immigrant students with enhanced instructional opportunities by giving them extended time to read grade-level texts in a small, supportive environment where teachers can scaffold language, model comprehension strategies, and offer individualized feedback. The structured conversations allow students to practice oral language in a low-stress setting while building confidence and fluency.

Students will be invited based on teacher recommendations, with priority for ELLs at levels 2–3 , who would benefit from intensive support and who are not already enrolled in another after-school program. Each Book Club will function as a separate group, resulting in two total heterogeneously grouped Book Clubs. Each group will include approximately 8-10 students. This small-group structure allows teachers to tailor instruction to students' proficiency levels and provide sustained interaction around text.

The program will be supervised by Assistant Principal Elisa Kane. Her supervision will not incur costs to Title III Immigrant funding; her after school hours are already funded through another program. She will provide ongoing oversight for both Book Club sessions, ensuring implementation fidelity, monitoring attendance, and supporting instructional staff as needed.

Rationale for Title III Immigrant Funded Programs

Describe the rationale for each Title III Immigrant funded program:

For each program, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis that support the need for program, and
- Data sources used to justify the need for the program

Data analysis indicates a clear need for extended literacy support for immigrant students. Fall 2025 i-Ready Reading diagnostics show many Level 2–3 ELLs and immigrant peers with three years or less in the United States performing below grade level in vocabulary and comprehension. Acadience results also reveal below-benchmark Oral Reading Fluency and retell scores.

Qualitative observations confirm that these students often struggle to access grade-level texts during core instruction and benefit from small-group, strategy-focused support. Many are not enrolled in other after-school programs, limiting opportunities for extended practice.

The before- and after-school Book Clubs will address these gaps by providing guided reading with grade-level texts, and structured dialogue and practice with the seven cognitive reading strategies. Both quantitative (i-Ready, Acadience, NYSITELL/NYS ELA) and qualitative (teacher observations, ENL reports) data support the program as a targeted, evidence-based intervention for immigrant students.  Furthermore, data through the NYSESLAT, iReady and Acadience have historically proven that ELLs in these programs make significant gains over their peers who do not participate in an after school program.

Students and Grade Levels to be Served

For each Title III Immigrant funded program, describe the students that will be served:

Include:

- Total number of students for each program,
- Grade levels for students in program, and
- If ELLs are also included in these programs, (e.g., Newcomer).

Each of the two Book Clubs will accommodate a minimum of 8 and as many as 12 students, ensuring a standard of high-quality, personalized instruction. Our two target grades will be 2 and 3 and students will be grouped heterogeneously within their grade levels. ELLs will be prioritized but any child of immigrant status will also be invited.

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III Immigrant funded program, include:

- Start and end dates/months,
- Total number of sessions,
- Days of the week the program will be offered, and
- Time and duration of sessions.

The Reading Strategy Book Clubs will run from the first week of January through mid-May. Each Book Club will meet twice weekly on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, with a before-school session from 7:15–8:00 AM and an after-school session from 2:20–4:20 PM. Each program will offer approximately 25-30 sessions per group over the course of the program.

Language of Instruction

For each Title III Immigrant funded program, include language of instruction and how home language support is provided:

Each Title III Immigrant funded program will be held in English. Support for HL will be given through bilingual dictionaries, translated texts and use of technology tools like Google Translate, Duolingo, etc.

Number and Types of Certified Teachers
For each Title III Immigrant funded program, include number and type(s) of certified teachers.

Each program will be staffed by a ENL-certified teacher, if possible. If not, then we will provide a general education certified pedagogue who is familiar with working with ELLs. Two teachers will be hired.

Types of Materials
For each Title III Immigrant funded program, include:

- Types of materials,
- Titles and publishers of main supplemental materials,
- Location where purchased materials will be stored, and
- Whether materials will be purchased using Title III Immigrant funds. Please note: If materials are purchased using Title III Immigrant funds, they cannot exceed 20% of the total allocation.

For the Book Clubs, students will use grade-level focus books as the primary instructional materials. Titles will be selected from the school's existing CRSE library and multicultural book collection, with additional student copies purchased as needed. Supplemental materials may include discussion guides, graphic organizers, and comprehension strategy sheets aligned to the seven cognitive reading strategies. All purchased materials will be stored in the school library or classroom resource area. If any materials need to be purchased using Title III Immigrant funds, they will be kept under the 20% allocation limit.

Implementation Plan and Maintaining Records

- Describe your school's plan for implementation (e.g. when and how parents/guardians will be notified about the program(s)).
- Describe how your school will maintain records of your school's Title III Immigrant funded program, including evidence of parent notification in their preferred languages, student attendance records, teachers that support the program, record of parent engagement activities, records of professional development activities, purchase orders and invoices to date. For additional information, please refer to the Title III Immigrant FAQ.

The Reading Strategy Book Clubs will be implemented following a structured plan to ensure parent notification, student participation, and program accountability. Classroom teachers in grades 2–3 will submit student recommendations via a Google Form by November 26. Based on these recommendations, letters of invitation and permission forms will be sent home by December 5 in each parent's preferred language through backpack letters. In addition, parents will receive reminders via Remind messages, and follow-up phone calls will be made using over-the-phone interpretation services as needed. Once permission forms are returned, class rosters will be finalized and shared with teachers.

Records for the program will be meticulously maintained to ensure compliance with Title III Immigrant requirements. Student attendance will be tracked in STARS by the assigned teachers, with oversight and monitoring by Assistant Principal Elisa Kane, who supervises the program in conjunction with other after-school offerings. The school secretary, Josephine Tartamella, will maintain records of parent notifications, attendance, teacher assignments, parent engagement activities, professional development, purchase orders, and invoices. This systematic recordkeeping ensures transparency, accountability, and readiness for any Title III review.

ENL pedagogues and teachers of ELLs are sent to PDs offered by the BSBSO, Division of MLL, ML Services Administrator, or another established institution. In the past, this has included Literacy for Life, Goldmansour and Rutherford, Fordham University, NYU, Hofstra, Google for Education, etc. This year, refresher training through Literacy for Life was acquired for three 90 minute sessions for the 25/26 school year in October, November and December. However, these courses will be provided without cost to T3 Immigrant funds. Additionally, our assistant principal, Patricia Percaccio, will be offering Lunch-and-Learn courses to refresh teachers on how to engage students when reading using the 7 Cognitive Reading Strategies for two dates in January. This is also provided at no cost to the T3 Immigrant funds.

Specific PD offerings have included but are not limited to topics such as: text engineering, HMHCO's Into Reading ELL Supports, scaffolding and differentiation for ELLs, Orton-Gillingham, Advanced Literacy, CR-SE, iReady, Google Classroom, eChalk, RAZ-Kids, Hochman Writing Revolution, metacognition, metalinguistic awareness, implicit bias, BIPs, etc.

For each activity include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis that support the need for the professional development
- Data sources used to justify the professional development

Training for use of our online curriculums for both Reading A-Z ELL Component and Continental Press is necessary for our new after school teachers since it will be their first time using the programs. These asynchronous courses will help our educators become more intentional and effective as they proceed through the coursework with their Newcomer ELLs.

Data sources include progress reports from Reading A-Z, iReady and Acadience. Teachers and students complete 40% more lessons at a higher rate of success when educators are trained.

Teachers to Receive Professional Development

Include information on the teachers to receive professional development. Please specify how all teachers working in the Title III Immigrant program will receive ongoing professional development related to the Title III Immigrant program.

Each of our teachers in this program will receive professional development. They will be able to take these classes asynchronously on-demand through edWeb. They will be required to take the workshops by the end of the first week of this program. The two courses will be "Oral Language and Vocabulary Strategies to Develop Confident, Capable Learners" and "Building Text Sets that Elevate Knowledge, Understanding, and Critical Thinking."

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III Immigrant professional development activity, include:

- Start and end dates/months,
- Total number of sessions,

Part D: Family Engagement Activities

Family Engagement Summary

Provide a summary of your school's family engagement activities under your Title III Immigrant program. Describe the activities that families of immigrant students (including ELLs) will engage with by topic. Please make sure to include whether the activities will be funded by Title III Immigrant funds.
Please note: If family engagement activities will be at funded by Title III Immigrant funds, vendor cost is calculated as part of OTPS and must not exceed 20% of the total allocation; teacher per-session is calculated as part of family engagement and must not exceed 10% of the total allocation.

As an integral component of our Leader in Me initiatives and CR-SE (Cultural Responsiveness and Social-Emotional Learning) best practices, we are excited to announce our forthcoming ELL Parent Fair scheduled for the end of Feburary. This event is designed to foster parent engagement with their child's language acquisition process and promote student cultural awareness within our community.

Parents will be encouraged to participate in mini-workshops held throughout the day held at various stations throughout our ELL classrooms. Topics to be covered will include NYSESLAT study resources, understanding iReady and Acadience data, community resources available to immigrant families, and AI-powered tools for online language learning.

We will utilize Title III Immigrant funds to provide artifacts, leaflets and decorations for the event. We will be repeating this event this year.

Rationale for Family Engagement Activities

Describe the rationale for the family engagement activities to be provided:

For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., reasons for topics, time activities will be offered), and
- Data sources (e.g., parent survey responses, in-house parent surveys, PTA/PA request) used to justify the need for activities.

CR-SE requires staff to employ "high expectations for all students... who can examine their own personal beliefs around identity, while giving professional learning and support" as well as "build partnerships with families and communities." (https://www.schools.nyc.gov/about-us/vision-and-mission/culturally-responsive-sustaining-education) An informational fair would be an excellent way to cultivate this relationship while empowering parents and their child to achieve academic and personal success. During PTC and individual conversations with parents, we have noted an underlying theme: parents are sometimes at a loss for how to engage with the child. Since many do not speak English themselves, they are unaware of how to support their child, access community resources, technology or retrieve their child's data in their home languages. This is qualitative data that affirms the need for an information sessions.

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III Immigrant family engagement activity, include:

- Start and end dates/months,
- Total number of sessions,
- Days of sessions, and
- Time and duration of sessions.

The fair will happen in at the end of January. Planning sessions with stakeholders and staff are already underway for a total of 3 45-minute long sessions. Sessions will be held over Google Meets to maximize outreach and announced two weeks in advance.

Topics to be Covered

For each Title III Immigrant family engagement activity, include topics to be covered.

The planning sessions will allow for staff to have space to build materials and share best practices. It's a platform designed to foster open dialogue on our students' successes, ensuring that our families have the opportunity to engage and feel empowered with their child's learning. Topics to be covered will include NYSESLAT study resources, understanding iReady and Acadience data, community resources available to immigrant families, types of ENL and Bilingual programs as well as how to access them, and AI-powered tools for online language learning.

Name(s) and Title(s) of Provider(s)

For each Title III Immigrant family engagement activity, include name and title of provider(s) (e.g., vendor, community-based organization, school staff name in charge of facilitating the parent engagement activities described in this section).

Our school will provide this family engagement activity in partnership with our PTA. Our Leader In Me Cultural Diversity Team and Family Ties Team as well as our ENL Department are excited to support this event as well.

Family Notification of Activities and Translation and Interpretation Supports

Describe:

- How families will be notified of Title III Immigrant family engagement activities (e.g., phone calls, emails),
- How notification of activities will be translated into parent/guardians' preferred language, and
- How interpretation supports will be provided at events.

The event will be announced on our website and all of our school's social media avenues, including Instagram, Google Classroom and Remind. Both our school website and Remind have the capacity to translate our posts into multiple languages. We will also provide the fair's flyer in Russian, Chinese and Spanish.

Maintaining Records

Describe how your school will maintain documentation (e.g. agendas, attendance sheets) of family engagement activities and notifications to families.

Ms. Bing, our parent coordinator, maintains an attendance log and agendas for the family engagement activities within our Google Drive folder containing our other parent notification and outreach efforts.
