Section 1: Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Comprehensive Education Planning (CEP) is a structured, data-driven process that guides schools in assessing their needs, identifying areas for growth, setting strategic goals and implementing targeted actions to improve student outcomes. Collaboratively developed by the School Leadership Team (SLT) in accordance with the requirements of Chancellor's Regulation A-655, the CEP meets New York State Education Department (NYSED) requirements under the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) and aligns with NYC Public Schools' (NYCPS) system-wide priorities. By engaging all stakeholders—school leaders, teachers, families, students and community members—schools can create a data-informed, equity-focused roadmap for student success and continuous improvement.

Schools should focus their CEP on the five system-wide priorities below, connecting their planning to the data discussions and conversations with stakeholders held as part of the school's needs assessment:

- Priority 1: All students learn to read well
- Priority 2: All students are physically and emotionally safe
- Priority 3: All students have a high-quality academic experience
- Priority 4: All students graduate college and career ready and have a strong plan and pathway to economic security
- Priority 5: All districts and schools are more inclusive and responsive for parents and families, including having more families choose NYC Public Schools

The Education Planning Process

The CEP follows an equity-driven, continuous improvement cycle, rooted in the system-wide priorities. This begins with a comprehensive needs assessment of the school's most current data to identify priority needs and root causes. Next, the SLT establishes specific, measurable, attainable, relevant, and timely—SMART goal(s) aligned to each priority and determines targets to measure progress toward meeting the annual goals.

The SLT and instructional leaders define key evidence-based key strategies, professional learning activities and parent, family and community empowerment efforts. They monitor the implementation of those strategies and activities and track progress through measurable targets. Then, the SLT aligns the school-based budget with human and instructional resources to support action plans.

As schools set goals, develop key strategies, and plan action steps, they provide opportunities for all children to meet NYSED's proficient and advanced levels of student academic achievement. These include evidence based instructional strategies that address the educational needs of historically underserved populations and tackle structural inequities. Schools indicate how the plan addresses the needs of Multilingual/English Language Learners (ML/ELL) through development of the school's Language Allocation Policy (LAP) & Title III Application (if applicable) and the Language Translation and Interpretation (LTI) Plan, that are required as part of the CEP. Schools also address the needs of Students with Disabilities (SWD) through the High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities section of the plan. SLTs also develop a plan to improve attendance and reduce chronic absenteeism.

Guidance on Conducting a Comprehensive Needs Assessment

Directions: Conduct a comprehensive needs assessment for each Priority. The information below provides guidance for reviewing and analyzing student and school performance trends to uncover root causes for low student achievement.

1. Review Multiple Data Sources: Use the most current and available information including, but not limited to, the following sources of formative and summative data, as applicable:

- Qualitative and quantitative data, including enrollment and class size trends
- 2024-25 ESSA Accountability Data
- Instructional Leadership Framework (ILF), Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) Inventories, and NYC School Survey results
- Quality Review Reports, NYSED and NYCPS CSI or A/TSI Support Visits, Receivership Quarterly Reports, and Diagnostic Tool for School and District Effectiveness Framework (DTSDE)
- NYC School Quality Guide, Insight, New Visions, NWEA MAP and/or other formative assessment data, IEP Review Survey Data, Progress on IEP Goals Data, Program (SESIS-STARS Linkage) Reports, Mandated (Related) Services Reports, and NYCPS Tools for Understanding Your Data for student subgroup information

2. Analyze Data Trend(s) to Identify Areas of Strength and Need: Identify data trends by grade, cohort, and content area(s) to surface gaps and inequities. Compare data sets to identify instructional and school practices that are impacting student performance. Guiding questions to consider:

- What does the data reveal about improving and declining student performance trends within grades, cohorts, and student subgroups?
- What inequities are evident between highest and lowest performing student subgroups? Which subgroup(s) scored at Level 1 based on NYSED ESSA accountability indicators?
- What does the data suggest regarding the effectiveness (or ineffectiveness) of current school programs, practices, and/or strategies/initiatives? What areas may need to be strengthened?
- Are there any differences in student performance between program delivery models for ML/ELL and SWD? (e.g., for special education: special class, ICT, SETSS, related services only; for ML/ELL: Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) vs. Dual Language, etc.)
- How does delivery of instruction factor into data trends? What are the implications for teacher quality and professional learning?
- What inequities in special education referral and school disciplinary practices (e.g. suspensions, removals) are evident between student subgroups with IEPs?

3. Identify Root Cause(s): After analyzing the data, engage in a process for uncovering root causes or contributing factors for low student and school performance. Develop theories or hypotheses to explain why these needs exist and why your school is getting its current outcomes. Root causes could be related to gaps and inequities in areas such as curriculum & instruction, school systems & structures, student support services, school climate & safety, and family & community engagement. Focus on the causes, rather than the symptoms. Use the 5 Whys Method or other methods for identifying root causes. Consider the questions below:

- What theories or hypotheses explain the current student and school outcomes?
- Are there root causes specific to certain subgroups, grades, cohorts, or content area(s)?

Additional resources and supports are available below.

- Use this CEP Needs Assessment Worksheet to help your SLT and stakeholders identify appropriate data sources, data trends, root causes and priority needs.
- For guidance and best practices on engaging stakeholders in a comprehensive needs assessment and root cause analysis, see this deck.
- A current list of all CEP/Title I resources can be found on the iPlan Portal Public Resources Page.

Section 4: School Summary

Accountability Status

Accountability Status: LSI

School Summary

Directions: Complete this CEP Summary to serve as the "at-a-glance" narrative that provides contextual information about your school's unique characteristics. This summary and the entire Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) should be shared with your school community. Please note that this summary and the CEP will be made available to the public through the iPlan Portal, an online space where school stakeholders can go to collaborate in the development of the school's education plans.

Provide your school's mission statement:

P.S.82Q-The Hammond School's 2024-2025 Mission Statement:

At P.S.82Q, we promote relevant and rigorous expectations for all, encouraging students to reach their full potential. Working collaboratively, we build strong, trusting, positive relationships among students, teachers and parents. As a learning community, we continuously expand our knowledge and empower our students to take risks and apply their learning to real world experiences.

School Vision:

P.S.82Q is a collaborative school that fosters high expectations for all through a shared vision of creating future leaders who can think critically and problem solve.

Develop a narrative summary that includes contextual information about your school's community and its unique/important characteristics and partnerships:

Include demographic information about your school's student population.

At P.S.82Q is located in Jamaica Queens, we have a diverse population of students and families that bring many different talents to our school community. Our school consists of 629 active students; 89 are Students with Disabilities, 272 are E/MLLs, and 257 are Students in Temporary Housing.

We strive to identify the strengths of all our scholars regardless of their race, background, language, culture, or living status. Our focus is to ensure all students and families feel welcomed and provide them with multiple resources that support their individual needs in the language that they speak through different modalities. While many of our scholars come from insecure housing, we ensure they are equipped with the tools and resources necessary for their academic and social success. We strive to provide a welcoming and supportive environment for all. Our parent coordinator is in constant communication with parents and families from the moment they first enter our doors. Keeping in mind that many of our families have multiple jobs and responsibilities, our community partners with the Queens Community House CBO- After School which provides an after school and holiday camp for more than 150 of our scholars.

Most of our student population consist of SWD and M/ELL students who have similar needs, as a result, our school provides rotating RTI programs by trained teachers in both ELA and Math. We utilize research based RTI programs that are data driven to meet the needs of students and help close the learning gap. Developing the whole child is important to our school community. We offer enrichment programs during the day and after school. Our school understands that some programs have no language barriers and students are offered a variety of enrichment opportunities such as dance, technology, STEM, musical theater, Disney Collaborative, Chess, and our undefeated Soccer Team. Through These programs allow students to engage in opportunities allowing them to build upon their talents and interest.

As we strive to build a whole child, our students are provided with multiple opportunities and programs for success. Our dual-language team has grown and is now K-5. Our family participation continues to grow as more families are showing up to monthly family events, and informational meetings. They are asking more questions on how to close their child's learning gap. They are also attending workshops to learn how to create healthy meals at home. We pride ourselves on educating both our scholars and their families to better make school to home connections.

Our newly created partnership with Leader in ME has increased awareness, access and accountability for all, demonstrating that we all have what it takes to be a leader. It takes a community to support student success, and with our supportive families, staff, stakeholders and unique programs, our students are ready to compete and succeed in the 21st Century.

Briefly summarize the key initiatives your school will implement this school year.

For the 2025-26 school year we will expand on our Academic and Social Emotional school wide curriculum called Leader in Me. We will implement a new house system which will include all staff and all scholars. This program will allow us to create community among our students while encouraging student leadership and motivation to succeed in school. Through monthly house meetings and Leader in Me habits, we will celebrate student culture, success and leadership. Staff and scholars will engage in friendly academic competitions aimed at motivating scholars to succeed.

During the 2024-25 SY we piloted the EI Mathematics Problem Solving protocol in Grades 3-4. Due to the positive impact this initiative has on student learning, we will implement this Math problem solving protocol school wide for the 2025-26 school year. Students in all classes will engage in period of problem solving at the onset of their math block. This block is aimed at building students conceptual understanding and problem solving skills.

In an effort to promote college and career readiness, we will continue to have monthly spirit assemblies in which we highlight specific colleges through college tours and interviews, celebrate different habits and student successes, as well as inviting special guest to speak to students about different colleges and career paths they can take. Each grade will be referred to as a college or university and over the course of the school year, they will become experts in their assigned university.

What are the primary digital and/or print curricula/programs used for ELA and Math:

Indicate the content area, grade band and any adaptations made.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

To monitor the implementation and effectiveness of the key strategies and action steps tied to our SMART goal, P.S. 82Q will use several structured systems of review and data collection. The Family Engagement Team will meet monthly to review participation data from family workshops, toolkit distribution logs, and feedback forms. This team, which includes the assistant principal, parent coordinator, and grade team leaders, will identify trends and adjust outreach strategies to better support all families, especially those from underrepresented or multilingual backgrounds.

Additionally, usage logs and feedback surveys will be maintained for both the monthly Family Learning Workshops and bilingual Learning-at-Home Toolkits. These data points will provide insight into family engagement, satisfaction, and the relevance of the materials provided. Digital communication platform analytics (from tools such as ClassDojo or TalkingPoints) will be reviewed bimonthly to evaluate message reach, frequency, response rates, and language accessibility. This will help ensure that communication remains inclusive and responsive across the school community.

The Instructional Leadership Team (ILT) will conduct quarterly reviews of the implementation progress, using a combination of engagement data, parent feedback, and instructional reflections. These meetings will focus on identifying barriers, assessing the alignment of family engagement efforts with student learning outcomes, and making any necessary instructional adjustments.

Finally, the school will use the Leader in Me - MRA Survey results as a summative measure to assess progress toward the goal of increasing the percentage of families who report being “very satisfied” with how the school supports learning at home. This survey will be reviewed mid-year and again at the end of the school year to measure growth from the baseline of 59% to the target of 65% by June 2026. Together, these structures will ensure consistent monitoring, data-informed decision-making, and measurable progress toward a more inclusive and supportive learning environment for all families.

Attendance/Chronic Absenteeism Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Strengthen Family-School Partnerships through Consistent Communication and Outreach

Root Cause Addressed:

Many kindergarten families and STH families may lack awareness of the critical importance of daily attendance, or they may face challenges (such as transportation or health issues) that impact their ability to get their children to school consistently.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Monthly Family Outreach: Use phone calls, texts, and home visits (when appropriate) to connect personally with families of students with irregular attendance, emphasizing the importance of daily attendance for early learning success.
Parent Workshops: Host quarterly workshops focused on educating families about how regular attendance benefits their child's academic and social development, and provide practical tips to overcome common barriers.
Incentive Programs: Implement a recognition system (certificates, small rewards, class celebrations) to motivate and acknowledge students and families who demonstrate consistent or improved attendance.
Data Monitoring: Review attendance data monthly via the New Vision Data Portal and INSIGHT portals to track progress and tailor outreach efforts to families with ongoing attendance challenges.

Key Strategy 2 (Optional):

Root Cause Addressed:

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Implementation Monitoring: Indicate your primary structures to progress monitor implementation of key strategies and action steps. Include specific data/evidence you will collect and use to determine progress and impact on instruction, student learning, and achievement.

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

To monitor the implementation of our key strategies for improving kindergarten and STH attendance, we have established a structured, data-driven process involving monthly reviews and targeted communication. Our Instructional Leadership Team and Parent Engagement Team will conduct monthly analyses of attendance patterns using data from the New Vision Data Portal and INSIGHT portals. This allows us to identify students and families needing additional support and to measure the effectiveness of our interventions over time. Staff will maintain detailed logs of family outreach efforts—including phone calls, texts, home visits, and parent workshop attendance—which provide valuable qualitative evidence of engagement and help us refine our communication strategies. Additionally, we will track participation in attendance incentive programs to evaluate their impact on student motivation and attendance. Documentation of support services provided to families facing barriers such as transportation or health challenges will also be maintained to assess how these resources influence attendance outcomes.

We will collect and analyze multiple types of data, including monthly and cumulative attendance rates for kindergarten students, family engagement metrics, incentive program participation, and feedback from families and staff gathered through surveys or informal conversations. Progress will be determined by comparing attendance data over time against the baseline rate of 87% and the target of 91%. We will also examine the correlation between increased family engagement, resource utilization, and improvements in attendance. Qualitative feedback will be used to continuously improve outreach efforts and support services to ensure they effectively promote consistent school participation and student learning. By maintaining this ongoing cycle of data collection, review, and responsive action, we are committed to achieving sustained improvements in kindergarten attendance and supporting foundational academic success.

Section 6: Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS)

Academic Support

NYCPS Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) align with NYSED guidelines for providing Academic Intervention Services (AIS) to students who have not yet met state standards or are considered to be at-risk of not meeting state standards. The Multi-tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) framework, organizes supports into three tiers:

Tier 1 provides schoolwide, high-quality programming for all students, including SWDs;

Tier 2 offers data informed small-group interventions for at-promise students; and

Tier 3 delivers intensive, individualized support for students with persistent needs.

This facilitates the strategic planning and necessary resource alignment to ensure their school community appropriately and adequately serves all students well, in partnership with students and families.

MTSS identifies the academic support services to be provided and ensures that students receive Response to Intervention (RtI) and Positive Behavioral Interventions and Support (PBIS) strategies as needed. See NYSED's memo to view the criteria for determining AIS services. The Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) offers a wide range of evidence-based Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions and supports for student social-emotional, behavioral, physical and mental wellness, with particular attention to the unique needs of students in Temporary Housing and/or Foster Care, who may face additional challenges related to school stability, trauma and access to educational resources. A culturally responsive-sustaining approach to intervention embeds culturally relevant texts and historical narratives into literacy and social studies interventions, ensuring students receive the support that reflects their identities and lived experiences, increasing engagement and achievement.

Use the charts below and a Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) to match academic, social/emotional, behavioral and instructional resources with student needs to provide targeted support for all learners, especially at-risk students who experience difficulty meeting state standards, including those living in Temporary Housing and/or residing in Foster Care placements. Indicate specialized materials, technology-based tools and/or extra instruction, including Expanded Learning Time that supplement school-wide systems & supports and/or classroom level supports. Ensure that interventions address the unique social-emotional, behavioral and academic challenges faced by culturally and linguistically diverse students, as well as those impacted by housing instability and child welfare system involvement.

Directions: Complete the chart and identify Tier 2 or 3 MTSS Academic supports. Any Tier 2/3 interventions should be in addition to the foundational work being done at Tier 1.

Family and Community Engagement Around MTSS

Describe how the school's essential components of MTSS are shared with families.

The school shares the essential components of its Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS) with families through a variety of ongoing communication methods such as class dojo and google classroom. At the beginning of the school year, families are introduced to MTSS during Meet the teacher night, Come Learn with me, and through parent newsletters that outline the framework, including academic, behavioral, and social-emotional support systems. Throughout the year, the school conducts regular parent-teacher conferences where student progress is discussed, and individualized interventions are explained when applicable. This partnership ensures that families understand their child's support plan and are active participants in their child's success.

Describe how families receive updates on the progress of their child(ren) who receive Tier 2 targeted, or Tier 3 intensive interventions.

Families are updated on their child's Tier 2 or Tier 3 progress through progress reports, assessment data (iReady, Acadience, Fundations, Imagine Learning, SPIRE), and parent-teacher conferences. For Tier 3 supports, communication is more frequent and individualized, including meetings, phone calls, and data summaries. The school also provides family workshops and resources to help parents understand assessments and reinforce academic or social-emotional strategies at home.

Describe how families are involved during decision making regarding the progress of students receiving Tier 3 intensive intervention.

Teachers engage families weekly, and this dedicated time is used to share student progress, discuss intervention goals, and gather input from families. For students receiving Tier 3 support, these regular check-ins ensure that families are informed, involved, and able to contribute to decisions about instructional strategies, adjustments to interventions, and next steps. Progress monitoring data is shared in a clear, accessible way to support collaborative decision-making and align efforts between home and school.

Students in Temporary Housing (STH) Support

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-STH Section and in accordance with the federal McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act and Chancellor's Regulation A-780, schools must identify, serve, and report on students living in temporary housing (STH). All Title I and non-Title I schools receive a Title I allocation for STH students. The Students in Temporary Housing (STH) website provides guidance on STH pupils and how these funds can be used to meet their needs, as well as restrictions. For more information on acceptable uses of the mandated Title I, Part A set-aside to support your STH population, please refer to the Title I STH Funds Toolkit.

Identify the number of Students in Temporary Housing who are currently attending your school and provide a breakdown of their temporary housing status. Since the number of STH children can change regularly, schools must carefully track this number to determine whether there has been an increase in need.

After a careful analysis of historical demographic, attendance and achievement data for your STH population, what trends do you notice, and how can these trends inform the services and support provided for this population?

Students enrolled in school lack uniforms, school supplies, coats, clothes, food and after school activities for both students and parents.

Describe the services you are planning to provide to the STH population. How were those services selected to best meet students' needs? How will you (or did you) utilize the STH Title I Survey to select services aligned to need?

Instructional materials (book bags, paper, pencils etc) , devices, and uniforms are provided to each student in temporary housing. Guidance Counselors periodically check-in with students who are living in temporary housing and provide support when needed.

STH population will receive Tier 1, 2 and 3 services as appropriate.

Prioritizing Students in Foster Care

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-Child Child Abuse and Neglect Intervention and Prevention School Plan and in accordance with the federal Education Law 3244 – Education of Children in Foster Care (Effective 2018) establishes the rights of students placed, or moved, in foster care to:

- Continue attending school of origin if determined to be in their best interest, or, if not, attend school near foster care placement,

Section 7: Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Directions: The Parent and Family Engagement Policy should describe how your school will plan and implement effective parent and family engagement activities and/or strategies to improve student academic achievement and school performance. The School-Parent Compact (SPC) is a component of the Parent and Family Engagement Policy (PFEP) that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share this responsibility.

The activities and/or strategies included in your school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy should align with current Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) goals for improving student achievement and should be developed or updated with input and feedback from parent leaders and the Parent Coordinator. In addition, if the school community will be engaged in central parent engagement initiatives, such as Parent Academy, which will provide training for school communities to help strengthen family-school partnerships, please be sure to include these activities in the school's policy.

In Title I schools, the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) represents the Title I parent community in supporting parent and family engagement. The Title I PAC Chairperson will serve in a consultative role with the SLT representing the school's Title I parents. Schools are encouraged to use the sample Parent and Family Engagement and SPC templates below (which meet federal Title I parent and family engagement requirements) as guidance for updating the school's current policy.

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental engagement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent and family engagement policy that will establish expectations and objectives for meaningful parent and family engagement in the school community. [School Name], in compliance with Section 1116 of Title I, Part A of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), is responsible for creating and implementing a parent and family engagement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between the school and the families. The school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), and Title I Parent Advisory Council as trained volunteers and welcomed members of the school community.

Support for Parents and Family Members of Title I Students

PS 82 will support parents and family members of Title I students by:
- providing materials and training to help parents work with their children to improve their achievement level, e.g., literacy, math and use of technology;
- providing parents with the information and training needed to effectively become involved in planning and decision making in support of the education of their children;
- fostering a caring and effective home-school partnership to ensure that parents can effectively support and monitor their child's progress;
- providing assistance to parents in understanding City, State and Federal standards and assessments;

- providing professional learning opportunities for school staff with the assistance of parents to improve outreach, communication skills and cultural competency in order to build stronger ties between parents and other members of the school community;

Parental Involvement and School Quality

The school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy was designed based upon a careful assessment of the needs of all parents/guardians, including parents/guardians of Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners (ML/ELL), and students with disabilities. The school community, with the meaningful involvement of parents and family members, will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent and family engagement policy with Title I parents to improve the academic quality of the school. The findings of the evaluation through school surveys and feedback forms will be used to design strategies to more effectively meet the needs of parents and family members and enhance the school's Title I program. This information will be maintained by the school.

In developing the Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy, parents of Title I participating students, parent members of the school's Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), as well as parent members of the School Leadership Team, were consulted on the proposed Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and asked to survey their members for additional input. To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, the school will:
- actively involve and engage parents and family members in the planning, review and evaluation of the effectiveness of the school's Title I program as outlined in the School Comprehensive Education Plan, including the implementation of the school's Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact;
- engage all parents in discussion and decisions regarding the required Title I, 1% set-aside funds, which are allocated directly to the school to supplement parent and family engagement activities, including family literacy and parenting skills;
- ensure that the Title I funds allocated for parent and family engagement are utilized to implement activities and strategies as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and the School-Parent Compact;
- support school-level committees that include parents who are members of the School Leadership Team, the Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Advisory Council. This includes providing technical support and ongoing professional learning, especially in developing leadership skills;
- maintain a Parent Coordinator (or a dedicated staff person) to serve as a liaison between the school and families. The Parent Coordinator or a dedicated staff person will provide parent workshops based on the assessed needs of the parents of children who attend the school and will work to ensure that the school environment is welcoming and inviting to all parents. The Parent Coordinator will also maintain a log of events and activities planned for parents each month and file a report with the central office.;
- conduct parent workshops with topics that may include: parenting skills, understanding educational accountability grade-level curriculum and assessment expectations; literacy, accessing community and support services; and technology training to build parents' capacity to help their children at home;

- provide opportunities for parents to help them understand the accountability system, e.g., ESSA/State accountability system, student proficiency levels, Annual School Report Card, School Quality Report, Quality Review Report, Learning Environment Survey Report;
- host the required Annual Title I Parent Meeting each school year to advise parents of children participating in the Title I program about the school's Title I funded program(s), their right to be involved in the program and the parent and family engagement requirements under Title I, Part A, Section 1116 and other applicable sections under ESSA;
- schedule additional parent meetings, e.g., quarterly meetings, with flexible times, such as meetings in the morning or evening, to share information about the school's educational program and other initiatives of the Chancellor and allow parents to provide suggestions;
- translate all critical school documents and provide interpretation during meetings and events as needed.

Encouraging School-Level Parental Involvement

The school will further encourage school-level parent and family engagement by:
- hosting educational family events/activities during Parent-Teacher Conferences and throughout the school year;

Title I Program Information

Part 1: Title I Program Type

Title I Requirements and Strengthening Title I Parent Involvement: Under USDOE's Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), Title I schools are required to address professional learning and parent and family engagement in the Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP). To strengthen parent leadership in Title I schools, and increase the involvement of all parents of Title I eligible children in improving students' academic outcomes, all Title I schools are required to establish a Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) that will serve as the consultative and representative body for all Title I parents in the school to provide voice into the spending of Title I funds.

The SLT is responsible for facilitating consultation with the Title I Parent Advisory Council regarding the joint development of the CEP, Parent and Family Engagement Policy, School Parent Compact (SPC) and the use of the 1% parent involvement set-aside in Title I schools. The Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) Chairperson (or alternate) is expected to attend all regular meetings of the School Leadership Team (SLT). Title I parents, as represented by the Title I PAC Chairperson, must be consulted regarding the use of the Title I 1% set-aside for parent and family engagement. The Title I 1% set-aside funding is used to supplement parent and family engagement activities as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and must be aligned with student achievement goals as outlined in the CEP. For additional guidance on the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC), go to the Protocols and Timeline for Title I Parent and Family Engagement Activities document.

Directions:

- All schools must indicate their Title I status in Part 1.
- All elements of the All Title I Schools section must be completed in Part 2.
- All Targeted Assistance (TA) Schools must also complete the TA Schools Only section in Part 3.
- All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools must also complete the SWP Schools Only section in Part 4.
- If a required component is addressed elsewhere in this plan, you may refer to the section or Priority where the response can be found.
- For additional information, visit the Title I Program Description (US Department of Education).

High Quality and Ongoing Professional Learning: Please list below the Priority or section(s) that indicate strategies and activities for high quality professional learning for teachers, principals, staff, and paraprofessionals to enable all students to meet state standards.

High Quality and Ongoing Professional Learning activities that take place are monthly. Staff that attends Professional development outside of the schools turnkey the information to the rest of the staff and then work on a plan to implement learning with other teacher leaders. Teachers have the opportunity to attend Queens South professional learning sessions and then share strategies with colleagues. ENL and Bilingual teachers facilitate professional learning pertaining to questions and discussion specific to ELLs and development of language objectives for content area lessons. District support is also provided to the school and teachers participate in professional development from the District Achievement and Instructional Specialist with a focus on our ELL students. All of these professional development opportunities provide teachers with the strategies and tools to help students meet state standards and for students to be provided with grade level content with the same expectations as their peers.

Part 4: Schoolwide Program (SWP)

Transition Plans to Assist Preschool Children (Elementary Schools Only): Describe the transition plans used to assist preschool children from early childhood programs to the elementary school program (e.g. aligned curriculum, joint PD & parent involvement activities, sharing of records/information, early intervention services, etc.).

Once families are accepted into our school through MySchools, we call families to come pre-register their child at our school. The Dual language coordinator or ENL Coordinator administer the home language survey and at the same time get to know the child and family. They answer any initial questions the parents may have and explain next steps as far as the Kindergarten class and who their child's teacher will be. During the summer families are mailed welcome letters with addition information and administration holds townhall meetings to welcoming families to P.S. 82Q. Teachers provide meet the teacher opportunities and explain protocols, expectations and procedures to Kindergarten and introduce schoolwide communication platforms such as website, social media, and ClassDojo. throughout the year administration hold Coffee with the Principal sessions specifically for Kindergarten families to address any questions or concerns.

Part 5: “Conceptual” Consolidation of Funds in SWP Schools

Directions: All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools in NYC are conceptually consolidating their Federal, State, and Local funds, even though the Galaxy system reports the allocations in separate accounting codes1. To be eligible for the flexibility consolidation of Federal funds, a Schoolwide Program school must identify in its Schoolwide plan (CEP) which programs are included in its consolidation and the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool. Additionally, the school plan must document that it has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated2. On the chart below, indicate which Federal, State, and/or local Tax Levy program funds that are consolidated in your school’s Schoolwide Program, the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool, and verification that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated.
For the last two columns of this table: Place an (X) in Column A below to verify that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated. Indicate in Column B, the Priority or section that references where a related program activity has been described in this plan.

Explanation/Background

1. Explanation/Background:

Title I Schoolwide Program schools are expected to use the flexibility available to them to integrate services and programs with the aim of enhancing the entire educational program and helping all students reach proficient and advanced levels of achievement. In addition to coordinating and integrating services, Schoolwide Program schools may combine most Federal, State and local funds to provide those services. By consolidating funds from Federal, State, and local sources, a Schoolwide Program school can address its needs using all its available resources. This gives a school more flexibility in how it uses available resources to meet the identified needs of all its students.

Consolidating funds in a Schoolwide Program means that a school treats the funds it is consolidating like they are a single "pool" of funds. In other words, the funds from the contributing programs in the school lose their individual identity and the school has one flexible pool of funds. The school uses funds from this consolidated Schoolwide pool to support any activity of the Schoolwide Program without regard to which program contributed the specific funds used for a particular activity – so long as the use of funds meets the intent and purposes of the programs from which the funds originate. To consolidate funding in a Schoolwide Program, the school does not literally need to combine funds in a single account or pool with its own accounting code. Rather, the word "pool" is used conceptually to convey that a Schoolwide Program school has the use of all consolidated funds available to it for the dedicated function of operating a Schoolwide Program without regard to the identity of those funds.

Consolidating Federal funds in a Schoolwide Program has the following additional advantages:

- Consolidating Federal funds eases the requirements for accounting for funds from each specific program separately, because a Schoolwide school is not required to distinguish among funds received from different sources when accounting for their use.
- A school that consolidates Federal funds in its Schoolwide Program is not required to meet most of the statutory and regulatory requirements of the specific Federal programs included in the consolidation (e.g., semi-annual time and effort reporting for Title I). However, the school must ensure that it meets the intent and purposes of the Federal programs included in the consolidation so that the needs of the intended beneficiaries are met.

2. The intent and purposes of the Federal programs indicated on the chart above (Part 4c of this section) are as follows:

- Title I, Part A – Schoolwide Programs: To upgrade the entire educational program in the school in order to improve the academic achievement of all students, particularly the lowest-achieving students. This includes provision of services for Students in Temporary Housing (STH).
- Title I 1003(a), School Improvement: Comprehensive Support and Improvement (CSI), Additional Targeted Support and Improvement (ATSI) and Targeted Support and Improvement (TSI) Funding:

Support implementation of school improvement plans that aims to improve instruction and address the identified needs

Title II, Part A: Supplementary funding to improve student academic achievement by reducing class size in grades K, 1, 2, and 3, with an emphasis on grades with an average register greater than 20. If space is not available to form additional classes, funds may support push-in teacher(s) to supplement the instructional program. For schools that choose to reduce class size, priority must be given to reducing class size in general education settings and must demonstrate the following:

- Reduce class sizes to 15-18 students or fewer (including the use of co-teaching and floating teachers that bring the student to teacher ratio to one teacher per 15-18 students);
- Be accompanied by a rigorous curriculum, effective teachers, and a sustained, job-embedded professional development plan.

- Title III, Part A: To help ensure that children with limited English proficiency become proficient in English, develop high academic attainment in English, and meet the same challenging State academic content and achievement standards in the core academic subjects that all other children are expected to meet. Another purpose of this program is to increase the capacity of schools to establish, implement and sustain high-quality language instruction programs and English language development programs that assist schools in effectively teaching students with limited English proficiency. Title III, Part A is also designed to promote the participation of parents and communities of limited English proficient children in English language instruction programs.
- Title III Immigrant: Supplementary and enhanced services to immigrant students, in the areas of English language acquisition and content area achievement. Immigrant children and youth are defined as individuals who are aged 3 through 21, have not been attending school in any one or more states for more than three (3) full academic years, and were not born in any state. "State" means the 50 states of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Children born to U.S. citizens abroad, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or any other U.S. territory that is not D.C. or Puerto Rico are to be considered immigrants.
- Title IV, Part A: Title IV funds are for schools that are among those with the greatest needs, have the highest numbers of students from low-income families, are identified for CS, ATSI or TSI, or are identified as persistently dangerous public schools. Allowable uses of funds under well-rounded education, safety and health, and educational technology include direct services for students, professional development for teachers and administrators, and supplemental educational resources. School allocations have been provided for well-rounded education, social emotional learning, cultural responsiveness awareness, professional development to support implementation of technology and blended learning environments, and community coordinators in schools with high rates of students in temporary housing

- Students in Temporary Housing (STH): Schools must describe their use of Title I STH funds in their consolidated application.

Important Note: The following funds may not be consolidated:

- Title I Parent Involvement Set-aside: Title I, Part A funds must support parent involvement activities and programs. Chancellor's Regulation A-655 requires School Leadership Teams to consult with Title I parent representatives regarding the Title I program and the use of these funds. Parent involvement activities funded through Title I must be included in the Parent and Family Engagement Policy and aligned with student achievement goals in the school comprehensive educational plan.
- IDEA: To ensure that all children with disabilities have available to them a free appropriate public education designed to meet their individual needs.
- Grant funds awarded via a competitive process: These funds must be used for the purposes specified by the Grantor, as described in the school's approved grant application.

Part III: ML/ELL Programming

Please refer to New York State Commissioner's Regulation (CR) Part 154 Units of Study Tables as you describe academic programming for MLs/ELLs at your school below. Please do not leave any fields blank and indicate "N/A" for any fields that are not applicable.

Describe your English as a New Language (ENL), and if applicable Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE), and Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs. For each program, include:

- How stand-alone ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How integrated ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How students are grouped (e.g., block [class travels together as a group], ungraded [all students regardless of grade are in one class], heterogeneous [mixed proficiency levels], homogenous [proficiency level is the same in one class]).

a. English as a New Language (ENL)
Stand-alone ENL:

Stand-alone ENL instruction is provided by our TESOL and Bilingual certified teachers who serve Entering and Emerging English Language Learners (ELLs). These students receive targeted English language instruction designed to develop the skills necessary for success in grade-level core content areas.

Students are heterogeneously grouped by proficiency levels (Entering and Emerging), and instruction is aligned with grade-level content standards. For grades K-2, ENL teachers utilize the Benchmark Education Express Curriculum along with HMH Start Right Readers, which provide engaging, age-appropriate texts emphasizing foundational literacy and phonics skills. For grades 3-5, instruction incorporates HMH Language Launch, a program designed to build language development and academic vocabulary for older ELLs.

Teachers use the HMH Into Reading curriculum and associated ELL strategies to scaffold and differentiate instruction tailored to our students' needs. Grade-level collaboration allows ENL and classroom teachers to select content and texts that reinforce both content objectives and language goals. Instructional strategies include visual supports, graphic organizers, simplified language, and technology integration through programs such as Imagine Language and Literacy.

Stand-alone ENL instruction is provided for at least 180 minutes per week to Entering and Emerging students, in accordance with CR Part 154 mandates and based on proficiency levels identified through NYSESLAT or NYSITELL assessments.

The materials and resources employed are carefully chosen to be developmentally appropriate and motivating, supporting students as they build foundational reading and language skills. The Start Right Readers and Benchmark Education Express curricula support early literacy and phonetic development, while HMH Language Launch targets the language acquisition needs of upper elementary ELLs. These resources create a structured and supportive environment where students can grow as confident and proficient English language learners.

Integrated ENL:

Integrated ENL instruction is co-taught by certified Bilingual teachers and TESOL teachers alongside content area teachers, primarily during ELA or Social Studies periods. In classrooms where the teacher is dually certified in both the content area and ENL, integrated ENL services are provided during small group instruction.

The co-teaching team employs the parallel teaching model, an instructional strategy in which the class is divided into two smaller groups, allowing each teacher to simultaneously deliver the same lesson content to different groups. This approach enables teachers to tailor instruction to meet the diverse proficiency levels within the classroom, providing targeted support to ELLs.

Instructional and language objectives are closely aligned with the specific content area being taught, ensuring that ELLs acquire both grade-level knowledge and the language skills necessary to engage with that content. Language goals are developed based on the linguistic demands of the content and the individualized needs of our ELL students.

Students are grouped heterogeneously, encouraging collaborative learning where ELLs of varying proficiency levels work alongside non-ELL peers. This dynamic promotes language practice in a supportive environment and peer-to-peer learning opportunities.

Teachers utilize the HMH Into Reading curriculum to expose students to grade-level texts and content, incorporating HMH's ELL strategies to scaffold and differentiate instruction effectively. Additionally, Spanish-speaking students benefit from resources like Arriba la Lectura, which provides authentic, culturally relevant translated materials to support comprehension and engagement.

Content area teachers and ENL teachers co-plan regularly to ensure the linguistic and academic needs of our ELLs are met. Their planning incorporates purposeful scaffolds, including home language supports and cultural responsiveness, to optimize learning outcomes.

The amount of integrated ENL instruction provided is based on each student's English proficiency level as measured by NYSESLAT or NYSITELL assessments. Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, and Expanding students receive 180 minutes of integrated ENL instruction per week, while Commanding students (FELLs) receive 90 minutes per week.

Materials and resources supporting integrated ENL instruction include:

HMH Into Reading for grades K-5, supporting scaffolded access to grade-level texts

Arriba la Lectura, providing Spanish-translated authentic texts to support bilingual learners

Benchmark Education Express Curriculum for grades K-2, offering leveled readers and targeted literacy supports

HMH Language Launch for grades 3-5, designed to develop foundational language skills alongside content learning

The ENL program is progress monitored on a biweekly basis and discussed regularly in multiple forums to ensure alignment and accountability. The ILT and teacher/grade teams review student data biweekly, with particular attention to all subgroups and the progress of multilingual learners. During weekly teacher meetings, student performance data is analyzed to identify trends, needs, and next steps for instruction. Vertical teams meet monthly to ensure alignment across grade levels, and the ENL team meets weekly to focus specifically on language development goals and supports. At the whole-school level, progress monitoring and discussion occur continuously, embedded in schoolwide planning and instructional conversations to ensure that the needs of all students, especially ENL learners, are met.

During ILT ENL Programming is progress monitored weekly. Vertical Team meetings occur monthly and the whole school acquires this information twice a year during professional learning time.

b. Bilingual Education (If applicable)

Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE):

We do not have a transitional bilingual program at our school.

Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE):

Our school's Dual Language Program is a self-contained general education program serving one dual language class per grade level from Kindergarten through Grade 5. Each classroom is staffed by a teacher who holds both a Common Branch license and a Bilingual Extension license, ensuring specialized bilingual instruction. These classes include a balanced mix of English Language Learners (ELLs) and English proficient students.

The primary goal of our Dual Language Program is to develop students who are bi-literate, bilingual, and bicultural. Instruction alternates daily between English and Spanish: English instruction is provided on Mondays and Wednesdays, Spanish instruction on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and Fridays are split evenly between both languages.

Stand-alone ENL services are embedded during small group instruction within the foundational and small group portions of our ELA blocks. Integrated ENL services are delivered during small group instruction in writing, social studies, and math, allowing for targeted language development within content areas.

To support our dual language classrooms, we have three bilingual pupil services interns who assist with instruction. These interns work with English proficient groups while dually certified teachers provide the required stand-alone and integrated ENL instruction to eligible students in small groups.

The amount of stand-alone and integrated ENL instruction each student receives is based on their English proficiency levels as measured by NYSESLAT or NYSITELL scores. Entering and Emerging students receive a combined total of 180 minutes per week of stand-alone and integrated ENL services. Transitioning and Expanding students receive 180 minutes per week of integrated ENL instruction. Commanding students (FELLs) receive 90 minutes per week of integrated ENL instruction.

Our Dual Language program is designed to ensure equitable access to rigorous content instruction while fostering strong bilingual and biliteracy skills, preparing students to succeed academically and thrive culturally.

The Dual Language program is progress monitored on a biweekly basis and discussed regularly in multiple forums to ensure alignment and accountability. The ILT and teacher/grade teams review student data biweekly, with particular attention to all subgroups and the progress of multilingual learners. During weekly teacher meetings, student performance data is analyzed to identify trends, needs, and next steps for instruction. Vertical teams meet monthly to ensure alignment across grade levels, and the Dual Language team meets weekly to focus specifically on language development goals and supports. At the whole-school level, progress monitoring and discussion occur continuously, embedded in schoolwide planning and instructional conversations to ensure that the needs of all students, especially Dual Language learners, are met.

Our school utilizes a range of curricular resources and instructional absolutes to support Dual Language and ENL instruction. For literacy, we use Arriba La Lectura and Benchmark / Aprendo Leyendo for phonics and reading skills. I-ready spanish diagnostics. Math instruction is supported with Envision Matemáticas, and Spanish language learning is reinforced through Amplify. Estrellita is used in lower grades. In grades k-5 during small group time teachers utlize aprendo leyendo during Spanish phonics. In addition, Dual Language vertical teams collaborate regularly to ensure alignment of curriculum, instructional practices, and student supports across grade levels. These resources and structures help ensure consistent, high-quality instruction in both languages while addressing the needs of all learners on a weekly basis during common planning period.

During ILT ENL Programming is progress monitored weekly. Vertical Team meetings occur monthly and the whole school acquires this information twice a year during professional learning time.

2. How does your school ensure the mandated number of instructional minutes are provided according to students' English language proficiency levels in each program model?

Before the school year begins, our ENL and Bilingual teachers, together with the administration, carefully review each student's English proficiency level based on NYSESLAT and/or NYSITELL results. We utilize the ATS RLER and RLAT reports to accurately determine proficiency levels. Using this data, we develop student schedules that guarantee the mandated number of instructional minutes as required by CR Part 154.

In addition to these reports, we monitor the ELL data available in the STARS system and use the EDUR platform to access comprehensive information on proficiency levels, required minutes, and the composition of our ELL student population. This allows us to ensure all mandated services are correctly scheduled and provided.

For ENL services, Entering and Emerging students receive a total of 360 minutes per week of combined stand-alone and integrated instruction. Transitioning and Expanding students are scheduled for 180 minutes of integrated ENL services weekly, while Commanding students (FELLs) receive 90 minutes per week of integrated instruction.

In our Dual Language classes, students receive bilingual instruction daily with English instruction on Mondays and Wednesdays, Spanish on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and a split English/Spanish schedule on Fridays. Stand-alone ENL services are embedded during small group instruction within the foundational and small group portions of the ELA block. Integrated ENL services are provided during small group instruction in writing, social studies, and math. Our team of three bilingual pupil service interns supports the program by working with English proficient groups, allowing dually certified teachers to focus on delivering mandated ENL instruction to ELL students in small groups.

Throughout the school year, when new ELL students enroll, they are promptly assessed using the NYSITELL. Following assessment and a parent orientation, the appropriate classroom and ENL teachers are notified, and the student is added to the scheduled program to ensure they receive the required instructional minutes.

The STARS system serves as our primary scheduling tool, enabling administration and service providers to view and manage ELL scheduling for push-in and pull-out services in alignment with CR Part 154. Teachers can also access class rosters, student data, and enter grades through this platform, facilitating clear communication and accurate service delivery.

The EDUR tool provides valuable ELL data summaries accessible to administration and all staff working with ELLs. We regularly share this information during professional learning sessions to keep our staff informed about the number of ELL students, their proficiency levels, and instructional needs. This data also helps us identify focus groups for targeted programs such as our Saturday Academy.

Together, these systems and processes ensure that all ELL students receive the mandated instructional minutes tailored to their proficiency levels across all program models.

Our school has multiple systems and structures to ensure that all ENL students receive the mandated instructional minutes. A master schedule is carefully developed to include ENL service blocks, prep periods, and all classroom schedules, ensuring that both stand-alone and integrated instruction are consistently provided. ENL teachers and administration review student schedules regularly, and services are adjusted promptly when new ELL students enroll or when data indicates a change in instructional needs. Small group and integrated instruction are organized to maximize time on task, and additional supports, such as bilingual interns or targeted intervention groups, help ensure that students receive focused instruction. These systems, combined with ongoing monitoring and collaboration among ENL staff, grade teams, and administration, guarantee that all ENL students receive their required minutes and targeted support across the school year.

3. How are ENL, English Language Arts (ELA) and if applicable, Home Language Arts (HLA) instructional minutes delivered in each program model?

In our ENL program, instructional minutes for ENL and ELA are delivered through a combination of integrated and stand-alone services. ENL teachers are scheduled to provide targeted support to students either during the students' designated ELA block and/or during stand-alone ENL instruction. The ELA curriculum includes HMH Into Reading, Fundations, and Heggerty, with ELA blocks consisting of two 45-minute periods (totaling 90 minutes). Students meet with their ENL service providers approximately four times per week to ensure they receive 180 minutes of integrated instruction.

During integrated instruction, ENL teachers and content teachers co-teach using the parallel teaching model, which allows students to receive focused, small group support tailored to their proficiency levels while working on grade-level content.

Former ELL students (FELLs) continue to receive academic English support through programs that focus on refining academic language and content-area vocabulary. These supports include the use of technology platforms such as Imagine Learning to reinforce language development and academic skills as students progress.

In our Dual Language program, ENL, ELA, and Home Language Arts (HLA) instructional minutes are also delivered through both integrated and stand-alone services. ENL teachers provide services during the students' ELA block and/or during stand-alone instructional periods. Students receive ELA instruction using HMH Into Reading, Fundations, and Heggerty. For Home Language Arts, students receive Spanish instruction on Tuesdays and Thursdays using HMH Arriba la Lectura and Heggerty.

This blended approach ensures that students receive balanced exposure to both English and their home language, supporting bilingualism, biliteracy, and academic growth across all content areas.

4. For schools with Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) programs:

a. Which Dual Language Bilingual Education model is implemented? Explain how much of the instructional day (percentage) English proficient students and ELLs are integrated.

Our school implements a Spanish Dual Language One-Way 50/50 model. This is a self-contained general education program with one dual language class per grade from Kindergarten through Grade 5. Classes are heterogeneously mixed across English Language Learners (ELLs) and English proficient students.

This one-way model enrolls primarily Spanish-dominant ELLs alongside English-dominant students whose home language is Spanish. Throughout the instructional day, ELLs and non-ELLs are fully integrated and learn together.

We use a combination of whole group and small group teaching models. The teacher introduces concepts to the entire class and then breaks students into smaller groups based on their individual needs and proficiency levels. These groups are flexible and change according to content area and language of instruction.

Instruction is split evenly between the two languages, with a daily language rotation:

Monday and Wednesday: Instruction is delivered in English

Tuesday and Thursday: Instruction is delivered in Spanish

Friday: Instruction is split half-day English and half-day Spanish

This 50/50 instructional split ensures that students receive balanced exposure to both English and Spanish throughout the week, promoting bilingualism, biliteracy, and cross-cultural understanding.

Our school utilizes a range of curricular resources and instructional absolutes to support Dual Language and ENL instruction. For literacy, we use Arriba La Lectura and Benchmark / Aprendo Leyendo for phonics and reading skills. I-ready spanish diagnostics. Math instruction is supported with Envision Matemáticas, and Spanish language learning is reinforced through Amplify. Estrellita is used in lower grades. In grades k-5 during small group time teachers utlize aprendo leyendo during Spanish phonics. In addition, Dual Language vertical teams collaborate regularly to ensure alignment of curriculum, instructional practices, and student supports across grade levels. These resources and structures help ensure consistent, high-quality instruction in both languages while addressing the needs of all learners on a weekly basis during common planning period.

b. In which language(s) is each core content area taught?

On Monday and Wednesday ELA and Math are taught in English. On Tuesday and Thursday HLA and Math are taught in Spanish. On Friday ELA and Science are taught in English and Math and Social Studies are taught in Spanish. The language the content area is taught in is dependent on the language of instruction for the day.

5. For schools with Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs:

a. Which core content areas are taught bilingually?

N/A

Part IV: Data Analysis

Data Analysis

After reviewing and analyzing school demographic and assessment data, answer the following questions. The ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) provided by the Office of Multilingual Learners can assist with identifying these data points.

For additional information, refer to Data Analysis Professional Learning Module and ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) Professional Learning Module.

1. What is the composition of the ELL subgroups at your school?
What percentage of ELLs are Newcomers? How does effective instruction for Newcomers differ from those provided to Developing or Long-Term ELLs?

For the 2025-2026 school year, our school continues to serve a diverse group of English Language Learners (ELLs). Newcomers make up 93.4% of our ELL population, while the remaining students are Developing ELLs. Our newcomers are students who are in the early stages of learning English, and their needs are our primary focus as we continue to provide robust support for their language development.This year, 93.4% of our ELLs are Newcomers, reflecting the ongoing influx of students in their first year of exposure to the English language. These students need targeted support to develop their foundational language skills, as they work to build proficiency in both academic and social English.Effective instruction for Newcomers differs significantly from that provided to Developing or Long-Term ELLs in the following ways:

Instructional Focus: Newcomers focus on building a strong oral language base, which is essential for their continued language and literacy development. Instruction is often language-rich, prioritizing basic communication skills, phonics, and phonemic awareness. In contrast, Developing ELLs are moving toward more academic language and literacy skills, with a focus on reading comprehension, writing, and participating in academic discourse.

Home Language Support: One key way we support our newcomers is through rigorous implementation of home language instruction. ENL teachers provide translated materials and resources in students' home languages to ensure that students can make connections between new content and their native language. Dual Language teachers also offer instruction in both English and the home language. For Developing ELLs, while home language support is still important, the focus shifts more to building fluency in English for academic purposes, often through more integrated English instruction.

Intervention Strategies: For Newcomers, we continue offering small group interventions to strengthen phonics and phonemic awareness skills. These interventions are critical as newcomers work on developing the fundamental building blocks of reading and writing. Meanwhile, Developing ELLs engage in more complex activities, including writing-focused interventions like Dictado, which emphasizes spelling, grammar, and sentence structure through dictation exercises.

Extended Learning Opportunities: Newcomers also have access to our Saturday Academy and after-school programs, which are specifically designed for Multilingual Learners (MLLs). These programs provide additional language practice and academic support. For Developing ELLs, similar programs focus on expanding their English proficiency and academic knowledge, with the goal of pushing them to command the language in more formal academic settings.

Bridging and Translanguaging: As a school, we continue to use bridging and translanguaging strategies to connect new knowledge between English and the home language. For newcomers, these strategies help students grasp new concepts by relating them to language they already understand, making it easier to build new knowledge in English. Developing ELLs, having more exposure to English, utilize these strategies less frequently but still benefit from them when transitioning complex content from their home language to English.

Family Support: We are also committed to engaging newcomer families in their children's educational journey. Our monthly workshops for newcomer families, led by the teaching staff and the guidance team, aim to create a multilingual family support center. This helps foster stronger partnerships between the school and home, ensuring that families feel supported and involved in their child's learning.

What percentage of ELLs are Students with Inconsistent/Interrupted Formal Education (SIFE)? How do you differentiate effective instruction for SIFE?

This year, 3.6% of our ELLs are Students with Inconsistent/Interrupted Formal Education (SIFE). These students often face unique challenges due to gaps in their formal schooling, which can impact their academic and language development. To meet their needs, we provide tailored, intentional instruction designed to bridge these gaps and support their growth.

SIFE students receive access to Imagine Language and Literacy, which helps to develop both language and literacy skills. In addition to this program, students participate in stand-alone services and small group instruction, where they engage in explicit phonics and phonemic awareness lessons. These foundational skills are key in helping them connect English to their home language, ensuring they can apply what they know in both languages.

To further personalize instruction, SIFE students are assessed in both their home language and English, allowing teachers to identify strengths and areas for growth in both languages. This dual-language approach helps us make strong connections that guide targeted instruction for each student's unique needs.

In addition to academic support, we offer lunch with teachers to provide social, emotional, and academic support. This time also allows students to build relationships with their teachers, helping them feel connected to the school community. Our guidance team offers extra counseling support and works with students to address their emotional and social well-being. We also offer Social Emotional Learning (SEL) workshops tailored to the needs of SIFE students, which helps them develop the skills needed to manage emotions and interact positively with others.

Finally, monthly workshops are offered to SIFE families by both the teaching staff and the guidance team. These workshops are aimed at creating a multilingual family support center, where families can find resources, ask questions, and gain insight into how best to support their child's academic journey at home.

What percentage of ELLs are Long-Term ELLs? How does effective instruction for Long-Term ELLs differ from instruction designed for Developing ELLs?

Long Term ELLs - 0%

What percentage of students are former ELLs? How is your school providing mandated instruction to former ELLs?

This year, 2.3% of our students are former ELLs. These students have transitioned out of ELL status but still require ongoing support to ensure they maintain and further develop their language proficiency.

Former ELLs receive 90 minutes of integrated ELL services. This instruction is tailored to continue supporting their language and academic growth. In addition to the integrated services, former ELLs also engage in small group targeted instruction with both their classroom teachers and the ENL provider during these services. This allows for a more individualized approach to meet their needs.

During instruction, students are actively engaged in small group literacy activities at their level, where they also participate in comprehension discussions to strengthen their reading skills. In addition to reading and comprehension, students are provided with writing prompts and activities designed to further develop their communication skills through writing.

If additional support is needed, former ELLs also receive RTI services with the Reading Ready intervention program, which is aimed at strengthening their literacy skills. They also have access to academic afterschool support to continue their progress outside of regular school hours and Saturday Academy Project Based Learning projects.

2. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of ELLs at your school?

A significant at-risk factor affecting our ELL population is the high percentage of students who are in temporary housing, currently making up 68% of our ELLs. Students living in temporary housing situations, such as shelters, motels, or unstable living environments, face unique challenges that directly impact their academic performance. These challenges include frequent moves, lack of stability, and limited access to resources like consistent internet, quiet study spaces, or even basic school supplies. This instability often leads to emotional stress, missed school days, and difficulty maintaining consistent academic progress.

To better support these students, we have implemented several strategies aimed at addressing the needs of ELLs in temporary housing. First, we provide additional social-emotional support through counseling services and mentorship programs, helping students cope with the instability they are experiencing. We offer basic necessities such as clothing and food. We also prioritize consistent communication with families through multilingual resources to ensure they are aware of school updates, resources, and ways to support their children. In addition, we offer academic support through after-school programs and Saturday academy to help bridge the gap caused by missed instruction. Our goal is to create a more stable, supportive environment for these students and ensure they have the resources they need to succeed academically despite the challenges they face at home.

3. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect former ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of former ELLs at your school?

At our school, we continue to observe a trend where the highest at-risk levels for former ELLs are in Math. Specifically, we have noticed that Former ELLs who scored at Level 1 or Level 2 in Math last school year continue to face challenges in this area. This trend is prevalent school-wide, and we are actively addressing it with targeted strategies.

One key initiative that has made a positive impact is our EL Mathematics Program. This program is designed to help ELLs engage more deeply with math problems by using collaborative problem-solving and independent work. Through this approach, students not only develop better mathematical understanding but also build the necessary language skills to articulate their thought processes in solving math problems. The success of this program has been evident as students are now able to work together to grapple with complex math concepts, benefiting from peer collaboration and personalized guidance from their teachers.

This program has provided significant success for our ELLs, allowing them to build both math proficiency and confidence in their problem-solving skills. Moving forward, we plan to continue to monitor and support these students through targeted interventions, ensuring they receive the guidance they need to move beyond the Level 1 and 2 categories.

4. What are the home languages of ELLs with the largest representation at your school? What staff, structures, and processes does your school have to support communication and learning that values these home languages?

At our school, the largest representation of languages is Spanish, followed by Bengali as the second most represented language. In addition, our families speak a variety of other languages, including Russian, Fulani, Portuguese, Arabic, Chinese, French, Hindi, and Pashto. To ensure full access to communication, we translate all forms of communication, whether paper-based or electronic. Everything is translated to ensure all families can stay informed. Additionally, if needed, we have a translator available, and we also utilize translation devices to make communication more accessible.

Our dual language program supports ELLs in their native language while also helping with cultural assimilation. The bilingual teachers provide instruction that integrates both second language acquisition skills and native language support, using culturally responsive practices. These efforts, combined with the social-emotional learning (SEL) strategies employed by the staff, ensure that our students feel welcomed and supported throughout their learning journey. The ENL teachers, alongside the entire school staff, make sure that all lessons and activities are inclusive, responsive, and tailored to the cultural backgrounds of our students. We celebrate the diversity of our students and their families, honoring their customs, traditions, and values.

Additionally, we use a combination of native language supports, translated materials, and culturally relevant resources to ensure our ELL students' success. Our teachers employ a variety of second language strategies and scaffolding techniques to help students grasp academic content. In the upcoming school year, we have invested in translating pens for students and families, which will further assist with language barriers. These pens will help students understand both academic material and everyday communication, allowing them to have greater independence and confidence in their learning. By continuously supporting our ELL students in multiple ways, we aim to create an inclusive, culturally responsive environment where every student feels seen, heard, and empowered.

5. What are the racial and ethnic classifications of ELLs at your school? How are ELLs being included in planning and delivery of Culturally Responsive and Sustaining Education (CR-SE)?

The racial and ethnic classifications of ELLs at our school include Hispanic, Asian, and White students. We integrate Culturally Responsive Teaching (CRT) throughout all content area unit plans to ensure that our instruction reflects and respects the diversity of our students. Teachers use various strategies to embed CRT into lessons, and as part of this, we share a Book of the Month that illustrates CRT concepts, engaging students in direct lessons about cultural representation and understanding. In addition, this year, we are excited to adopt the Leader in Me program, which focuses on Social-Emotional Learning (SEL) and Culturally Responsive Social-Emotional Learning (CRSE). Through this program, we will dedicate each month to focusing on a different habit that encompasses important values like respect, responsibility, and empathy.

As part of our commitment to SEL, every morning we start the day with a morning meeting where students participate in SEL activities designed to foster positive relationships, emotional awareness, and a strong sense of community. Our guidance team also facilitates numerous workshops for our families to help them navigate challenges and provide strategies on how to best support their children's academic success at home. Additionally, teachers hold monthly workshops that engage families in understanding how to further support their children's learning outside of the classroom.

At the start of each school year, our students, including ELLs, engage in the implementation of the Leader in Me Program. During this week, students, along with their classrooms and the school as a whole, take time to learn about each other's unique qualities and what makes them an important part of the school community. This time also includes focusing on school and classroom expectations, fostering a sense of belonging and mutual respect among all students. Through these practices, we ensure that every student feels valued and empowered to contribute to our diverse and inclusive school community.

6. What trends do you notice in reviewing English Language Proficiency (ELP) growth at your school? How many students met ELP sufficient progress? How many students did not meet ELP sufficient progress?

When reviewing the NYSESLAT data, we noticed varying levels of English Language Proficiency (ELP) growth among our students. This year, 36 students made sufficient progress in ELP, while 65 students did not meet the expected progress. One key trend that emerged is that the majority of the students who did not make progress were newcomers or recently arrived students. These students, while still adjusting to a new language and culture, faced additional challenges in acquiring English proficiency at the same rate as their peers.

The newcomer students are often in the early stages of language acquisition, and while we continue to provide targeted interventions and supports, they require more time and resources to bridge the gap in both language and academic content. Many of these students come at different times of the school year and often times they leave abruptly. For these students, it is not uncommon to see slower growth in language proficiency, particularly in areas such as reading comprehension and written expression. However, with consistent support, including small group interventions, language scaffolding, and peer collaboration, we anticipate continued growth in the coming year.

7. When you look at the results of the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT), what stands out? What trends are there for each modality?

When looking at the NYSESLAT 2023 data, several trends stood out in terms of language proficiency across different modalities. Overall, our students demonstrated the greatest strength in the speaking and listening modalities. These areas consistently showed the highest levels of proficiency among our ELLs. However, the greatest need we observed across the grade levels was in writing, which remains a significant challenge for many of our students. Writing continues to be the most difficult skill for most of our ELLs to master, especially for those who are still in the early stages of language acquisition.

A significant portion of our ELLs scored at the Expanding level on the NYSESLAT, which indicates progress, though still with room for growth. Students with IEPs largely scored at the Emerging level, which is reflective of their individual learning needs and the additional supports required for language development. This trend is expected, given the varied backgrounds and levels of proficiency among our students.

The data also underscores the fact that the majority of our ELLs are newcomers, who often struggle the most with writing, as it is typically the last modality to fully develop for young language learners. While we continue to see progress in speaking and listening, targeted interventions will be necessary to improve writing proficiency across the board. We are committed to refining our strategies and providing additional support to ensure all students, especially newcomers, make continued progress in their writing skills.

8. What is the relationship between students' performance on the NYSESLAT and other state assessments such as the ELA assessment, the Math assessment, and the Regents exams?

When analyzing the relationship between student performance on various state assessments, such as the ELA assessments, the Math assessments, the NYSESLAT, and Regents exams, we observe that there is a direct correlation between language proficiency levels and academic performance. This year, 30 of our MLLs took the ELA state test, and 38 took the Math state test. In both assessments, the majority of students scored Level 1, especially those who are in the Entering and Emerging stages of language proficiency. These students face challenges with reading and writing in both English and their home language, which directly impacts their ability to perform on grade-level assessments.

For our students who scored higher, there is a noticeable trend: those who are classified as Expanding or Commanding on the NYSESLAT performed significantly better on the state assessments, with most of them scoring Level 3. This reflects their greater proficiency in language skills, allowing them to better understand the test material and demonstrate their knowledge in both ELA and Math assessments. The Expanding students, in particular, have made sufficient progress in language acquisition to begin bridging the gap to grade-level expectations, as seen in their ability to score at a Level 3.

Students' performance on the ELA and Math assessments is closely linked to their language proficiency, particularly in reading and writing. Those who are still in the early stages of language acquisition, such as Entering and Emerging, are more likely to struggle on these tests, while students at the Expanding and Commanding levels show better outcomes. This correlation underscores the importance of continued support in language development, especially in reading and writing, to help our ELLs perform at their highest potential on state assessments.

9. What are trends reflected in the NYSESLAT results of ELL subgroups such as ELLs with IEPs and SIFE? What do you think is impacting the results for these subgroups?

This year, we saw that 13 Entering and Emerging ELLs with IEPs are still struggling at the Emerging level, and 7 out of 10 SIFE students are at the Entering level. The challenges faced by these subgroups—such as the learning delays in ELLs with IEPs and gaps in formal education for SIFE students—are slowing their language development. While we've seen some progress, these students need more targeted, individualized supports to overcome barriers like sensory or processing delays and interrupted education. To help these subgroups advance, we must refine our strategies, including small group interventions, dual-language supports, and consistent academic content exposure.

a. How many ELLs are on-track towards graduation?

b. How many ELLs in grades 11-12 have a documented postsecondary plan in STARS or ATS?

c. What targeted strategies and interventions are in place to support ELLs who are currently off-track to graduate in four years?

d. What specific strategies, engaging approaches, and interventions are implemented to support and retain students who are not on track to graduate within four years, ensuring they remain enrolled and are guided towards a successful graduation in the future?

Part V: ML/ELL Instruction

Tier 1: Core Instruction

For additional information, refer to ML/ELL Instruction Professional Learning Module.

Tier 1 Core Instruction

1. How does your school provide ELLs with a high-quality academic experience that leads to deeper learning?

Our school continues to provide a high-quality academic experience for ELLs by implementing a Culturally Relevant Curriculum and teaching strategies, offering curriculum and resources in their home language, and ensuring opportunities for meaningful, authentic language experiences across all content areas. We focus on creating an inclusive environment where MLLs feel valued, supported, and empowered in their academic journey. By incorporating culturally responsive materials, we connect ELLs' personal experiences with the content, enhancing engagement and making learning more meaningful.

Teachers use differentiated instruction to tailor lessons that meet the diverse needs of ELLs, adjusting strategies, materials, and pacing to support various learning styles. We also employ continuous assessment through tools like Fundations, HMH, I-Ready, Acadience, performance-based assessments, and informal daily evaluations to monitor progress. These assessments allow teachers to provide timely feedback and adjust instruction to ensure that all ELLs make progress both in language acquisition and content mastery.

2. How does your school's leadership team ensure ELLs have access to core instruction/curriculum?

Our school's leadership team will continue to ensure that ELLs have access to core instruction and curriculum by prioritizing equity and inclusion in all learning experiences. The Instructional Leadership Team (ILT) remains committed to ensuring that every student, including multilingual learners (MLLs), has equitable access to engaging, grade-level content and rigorous instruction. We continued a Professional Learning Series for staff titled Supporting Multilingual Learners and Newcomers, which will continue to focus on key areas such as understanding our newcomers, creating a safe and welcoming environment, equity for MLLs, instructional strategies, scaffolds, engagement techniques, and the Science of Reading.

To maintain access to core instruction, MLLs will continue to engage with texts in both English and their home languages, using discussion starters and response tags to interact with peers. Teachers will serve as facilitators in these activities, providing students the opportunity to discuss read-aloud texts with peers and deepen their comprehension. Additionally, targeted small-group instruction will remain a staple across all content areas. The dual language and ENL teams will continue to collaborate weekly to ensure that students receive small-group instruction that is tailored to their specific needs. Grade-level teams will also maintain regular meetings to review data and plan targeted instruction.

We will also continue our Data-Driven Planning Days, where K-2 teachers will meet bi-weekly with the ILT to analyze Acadience data and plan individualized small-group instruction for MLLs. Furthermore, the ILT will ensure that culturally responsive instruction remains embedded in our planning process, reviewing materials such as texts and word problems to ensure they reflect the diverse backgrounds and experiences of our students. This approach will continue to make content relevant and engaging for all learners.

3. Describe how core content is delivered in each program model. Specify language, and the instructional approaches and methods to foster language development and meet the demands of the Next Generation Learning Standards.

For our Dual Language classes, content area subjects are taught in both English and Spanish using second language acquisition strategies such as bilingual sound walls, cognate charts, and home language support. Visual aids, along with content-rich resources, are integrated to support language development. The language of instruction alternates daily, allowing students to learn all core content areas in both languages. Additionally, students have access to Imagine Language and Literacy, a digital program designed to support English language acquisition. Academic language development at each level is aligned with both the core curriculum and the Next Generation Learning Standards, with collaborative planning among dual language teachers to ensure cohesive instruction.

In our ENL program, all content area instruction is delivered in English. ENL teachers use a variety of instructional strategies, including content-rich books, total physical response (TPR), visual aids, and realia to make learning more accessible. Teachers and related service providers collaboratively design unit plans and continuously revise them to meet students' needs. For example, when students in a particular grade are learning to calculate percentages or convert decimals, specific academic language support is provided to ensure comprehension. Instruction is highly differentiated, using various methods like scaffolded discussions, peer interactions, and interactive learning opportunities to meet the diverse needs of ELLs.

Free Standing ENL Instruction models, we provide a wide array of resources to support language development. These include guided reading through HMH Start Right readers, visual aids like graphic organizers and flashcards, auditory resources like songs and chants, and kinesthetic activities such as movement-based learning and hands-on activities. Instructional materials include programs such as HMH Into Reading, Leveled Literacy Intervention (SPIRE), Wilson, and digital tools like Imagine Learning. Technology is extensively integrated, with access to iPads and Chromebooks in all grades for interactive, language-focused activities. Teachers can also monitor student progress using platforms like I-ready and Acadience, which helps focus instruction on specific skills and areas of need.

4. What instructional strategies and grade-level materials, including technology, do teachers of MLs/ELLs use to provide access to grade level academic content areas and accelerate English language development? Include core content area and language materials with consideration to specific ELL subgroups.

a. ELLs with IEPs

MLs/ELLs at our school have their goals aligned with the Next Generation Standards, and they are held to the same academic expectations as general education students. For ELLs with IEPs, we ensure they have opportunities to work in less restrictive environments, as specified in their IEPs, particularly in content areas where they show strong proficiency. To address individual needs, specially designed instruction is implemented, where teachers adapt content, methodology, and delivery to meet the unique needs of students based on their disabilities. This ensures that they have access to the general curriculum and can meet grade-level standards.

Classroom teachers use the Gradual Release of Responsibility (GRR) model to support all learners. Initially, the whole class receives direct instruction, followed by small group sessions where more targeted, individualized instruction is provided. This ensures that students receive the necessary support based on their IEP goals and language proficiency levels. In addition to traditional instruction, every student has access to technology, including iPads or Chromebooks, with programs like Imagine Language and Literacy, Imagine Math, iReady (in both English and Spanish), Raz-Kids (in both languages), and the HMH Ed Platform.

For ELLs with IEPs, in addition to integrated and standalone ENL services, we continue to provide tailored support based on their academic and language needs. These students also have access to scaffolded materials like visual aids, graphic organizers, and interactive learning tools to help them access grade-level content and accelerate their English language development. These resources ensure they receive the support they need to succeed in both language acquisition and academic content.

b. SIFE

SIFE students are integrated into grade-level content across all core subjects, just like their peers, and are held to the same academic standards. Teachers use the Gradual Release Model to begin with whole-class instruction, followed by small group sessions to provide individualized support tailored to each student's language proficiency and academic needs. This model allows SIFE students to engage with content while receiving additional scaffolds in language development.

Every SIFE student has access to technology, including iPads or Chromebooks, and programs like Imagine Language and Literacy, Imagine Math, iReady (available in both English and Spanish for Reading and Math), Raz-Kids (also in both languages), and the HMH Ed Platform. These tools support both academic content mastery and English language development.

For SIFE students in Dual Language programs, they receive 50% of their core instruction in their home language, allowing them to engage deeply with content in both languages. Additionally, SIFE students have the opportunity to participate in our Saturday Academy ELL program, which provides additional language and academic support outside regular school hours. This comprehensive approach ensures that SIFE students receive the necessary resources and targeted instruction to succeed academically while developing language skills.

c. Newcomers

Newcomer students receive targeted scaffolds and support to ensure they can engage with grade-level content. These supports are customized to meet the individual needs of each student, recognizing that each newcomer has a unique language proficiency level and learning style. Some of the scaffolds used include translated activities, sentence starters/frames, visual aids, realia, and graphic organizers to help make content more accessible.

For newcomers in Dual Language classes, 50% of their core instruction is delivered in their home language, providing them with a strong foundation in both their native language and English. Additionally, every newcomer student has access to technology, including iPads or Chromebooks, and programs like Imagine Language and Literacy, Imagine Math, iReady (available in both English and Spanish for Reading and Math), Raz-Kids (in both languages), and the HMH Ed Platform. These tools support both language development and mastery of academic content.

Newcomers also have access to additional academic support through our Saturday Academy ELL Program, offering extra instruction outside of regular school hours. This comprehensive support system, including both in-class and after-school opportunities, helps newcomers accelerate their language development and academic progress.

d. Long Term ELLs

n/a we currently do not have any long term ELLs

5. What supports does your school provide to ELLs with IEPs to achieve their IEP goals and attain English language proficiency within the least restrictive environment?

Supports for ELLs with IEPs at our school are designed to ensure that these students receive the services and accommodations needed to meet both their IEP goals and attain English language proficiency, while learning in the least restrictive environment (LRE). Teachers are expected to have a comprehensive understanding of each student's needs, including their IEP. They participate in IEP meetings and provide feedback to ensure that instruction is tailored to the student's individual goals.

Modified small group instruction is a key support service, allowing teachers to address both language acquisition and academic content in a targeted way. Instruction is adapted based on the student's language proficiency and the specific goals outlined in the IEP. Teachers use Specially Designed Instruction (SDI) to modify the content, teaching methods, and delivery to best meet each child's needs, while always striving to keep students in the least restrictive environment.

We also ensure that students with IEPs are held to the same academic standards as their general education peers. Their goals are aligned with the Next Generation Standards, and they receive the necessary supports to help them progress toward both language proficiency and academic success. The entire educational team, including ENL teachers, special education staff, and classroom teachers, collaborate regularly to monitor progress and adjust instruction as needed.

6. How is home language assessed in each program model (DLBE, TBE, and ENL)?

In our Dual Language program (DLBE), students are assessed in both English and Spanish across all content areas to ensure a comprehensive understanding of their language proficiency. We use assessments such as Amira assessments in both languages, SIFE screeners (if necessary), HMH Arriba la Lectura phonics assessments, HMH writing unit assessments, and i-Ready assessments in both English and Spanish. This allows us to accurately gauge students' progress and proficiency in both languages.

In our ENL program, we assess students' English language proficiency, as well as their home language when applicable, using a variety of assessments. This includes benchmark assessments, Amira assessments in both languages, and SIFE screeners to better understand students' language development in both their native language and English. These assessments help guide instruction and ensure that students are receiving the necessary support to develop in both languages.

7. (For grades 6-12 only) What language electives are offered to MLs/ELLs? How is your school preparing MLs/ELLs to obtain the New York State Seal of Biliteracy?

n/a

8. Describe systems and structures for supporting co-teaching and collaboration among teachers for all ELL program models available at your school (e.g. integrated co-teaching, Dual Language Bilingual Education teacher partnerships, etc.).

To support co-teaching and collaboration among teachers for all ELL program models, including Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE), Integrated Co-Teaching (ICT), and ENL, our school establishes structured co-teaching teams, provides professional development workshops, and ensures collaborative planning time. Teachers work together to plan instruction, develop differentiated learning activities, and track student progress. Co-teachers, such as the Dual Language team and BPS interns, regularly meet to ensure alignment in content delivery and language support. Additionally, our ICT teachers collaborate with content-area teachers to create inclusive classrooms where all students, including ELLs, receive equitable access to grade-level content. The collaborative planning time is used to review data, adjust instructional strategies, and ensure that the needs of all learners, especially ELLs, are met effectively.

9. Describe how your overall, annual professional learning plan ensures that all staff – including administrators, teachers and -non-pedagogical staff – incorporates learning specifically related to the academic and social emotional needs of MLs/ELLs. Professional learning topics might include co-teaching strategies, or integrating language and content instruction.

Our school's annual professional learning plan ensures that all staff – including administrators, teachers, and non-pedagogical staff – are equipped with the knowledge and strategies to meet the academic and social-emotional needs of Multilingual Learners (MLs)/English Language Learners (ELLs). Teachers of ELLs participate in professional development through the Queens South MLL community and collaborate weekly with ENL and bilingual teachers to plan targeted supports and strategies. These meetings focus on incorporating ELL-specific strategies into daily instruction, ensuring that language acquisition needs are addressed across content areas.

To further support our staff, we offer professional development in programs such as HMH's Into Reading and Arriba La Lectura, as well as specialized training through Teaching Matters on Social Emotional Learning (SEL) and Culturally Responsive Education. Our guidance team also plays a key role by delivering workshops that focus on the social-emotional well-being of students. In addition, we continue to promote co-teaching strategies between classroom teachers, coaches, and model teachers, with opportunities for interclass and interschool visitations to explore best practices.

This year, our Instructional Leadership Team (ILT) introduced the Supporting Multilingual Learners and Newcomers Series, focusing on critical areas such as understanding newcomers, creating a safe environment, equity for MLLs, instructional strategies, and the Science of Reading. Our ongoing professional development will also include our new Leader in Me SEL program, ensuring that SEL continues to be a key part of our staff's growth and development, extending through the 2025-2026 school year.

10. Describe your school's professional development plan in order to meet the mandated Continuing Teacher and Leader Education (CTLE) ELL specific hours for certification renewal as per CR Part 154

(15% of total hours for all certified faculty [holders of professional certificates in the classroom teaching service, educational leadership service and level III teaching assistant certificate holders] and 50% of total hours for bilingual education/ENL teachers receive ELL-specific professional development).

Our school's professional development plan is designed to ensure that we meet the mandated Continuing Teacher and Leader Education (CTLE) ELL-specific hours for certification renewal, as outlined in CR Part 154. For all certified faculty members, including classroom teachers, educational leaders, and Level III teaching assistants, 15% of their total CTLE hours will be dedicated to ELL-specific professional development. For bilingual education and ENL teachers, 50% of their total hours will be focused specifically on ELL-related training.

To meet these requirements, our school offers a variety of professional learning opportunities aligned with CR Part 154. These include workshops, training sessions, and ongoing support that are centered around best practices in teaching ELLs, culturally responsive education, language acquisition strategies, co-teaching models, and assessment practices for multilingual learners. Our Instructional Leadership Team (ILT) will coordinate these opportunities, ensuring that they are scheduled throughout the year to provide ample time for faculty to complete the necessary CTLE hours.

Additionally, we continue to support bilingual and ENL teachers by providing them with dedicated training on the Science of Reading, ELL-specific scaffolding techniques, and strategies to support students with diverse needs, including SIFE (Students with Interrupted Formal Education) and newcomers. These training sessions are designed not only to fulfill certification requirements but also to enhance the teaching and learning experience for our ELLs. These workshops are offerent by Queens South, D28, Division of Multilingual Learners and this year we will partner with CITE.

By offering these targeted, ELL-specific professional development opportunities, we ensure that all faculty members are well-prepared to meet the needs of our multilingual learners while also fulfilling the CTLE requirements for certification renewal.

Assessment

SCREENERS

11. Which screening assessments (e.g.iReady, MAP Growth, Acadience, or STAR Reading) does your school use to guide instructional planning for your ELLs?

At our school, we use i-Ready and Acadience as the primary screening assessments to guide instructional planning for our ELL students. After administering the benchmark assessments, the Instructional Leadership Team (ILT) compiles the data and meets to analyze it in depth. This analysis helps set overall academic goals for the school year. Following this, the ILT collaborates with grade-level teacher teams to review the data within specific grade bands. Based on the results, we develop targeted interventions, which may include small group instruction, after-school programs, or our Saturday Academy and ENL Afterschool to support ELLs in their academic growth and language development. These screeners allow us to tailor our instruction to meet the individual needs of our multilingual learners and ensure they receive the appropriate support.

12. For all grades, list and describe your targeted intervention programs for ELLs in ELA, Math, and other core content areas (specify ELL subgroups targeted). Include the language(s) in which the intervention services are offered.

The following intervention programs are offered to ELLs in ELA: Phonics for Reading and Paralell universe, tier 3 fundations in English. In Spanish, we use the HMH Arriba la Lectura phonics program,. These program focus on core, foundational skills in English and Spanish, they are used for students at all proficiency levels. Targeted small group instruction during Guided Reading for ELLs of all proficiency levels is also use across all grade bands. In our Dual Language classes, targeted guided reading is also done in Spanish. ELLS also engage in Imagine Language and Literacy, this is an adaptive learning program that accelerates reading and language proficiency. This program has a native language component which allows students to hear directions in Spanish and English. Our Saturday Academy and ENL Afterschool program is another intervention we offer our students. This program focuses on the modalities of Speaking, Listening, Reading and Writing specifically. The classes are departmentalized by modalities and the teachers teach specific modalities to students and they switch throughout the day to be exposed to all modalities. As the teachers are focuses on the different modalities they focus on building and expanding students vocabulary and knowledge of different content areas. Teachers use Benchmark Education Express program for these afterschool intervention programs

13. For all grades, describe how your school uses data to guide instruction for ELLs within a Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS). Refer to the Instructional Leadership Tool for MLs and ELLs and MTSS Guide for MLs and ELLs to help in the development and implementation of your school's plan for MLs/ELLs.

Our school uses data to guide instruction for MLLs through the MTSS (Multi-Tiered System of Supports) framework. This involves a comprehensive data analysis process that includes ongoing assessments, progress monitoring, and regular data reviews to identify the specific needs of ELLs at each intervention tier. Teachers also conduct observations to track students' language acquisition progress and academic performance. All of this information is used to make informed instructional decisions both in the classroom and schoolwide.

Additionally, we have implemented Data Driven Planning days, where K-2 teachers meet bi-weekly with the Instructional Leadership Team (ILT) to review data specific to our multilingual learners. During these planning sessions, teachers analyze Acadience data and collaboratively design individualized, targeted small group instruction to best support the needs of our MLLs. This process ensures that instruction is tailored to the academic and language development needs of our students.

FORMATIVE

14. Which formative assessments (e.g. NYC performance Tasks, ELL Periodic Assessment, HLA Assessment, DRA, teacher-created assessments, etc.) are used to inform and drive instruction?

This year, we are using a variety of formative assessments to guide our instruction, including HMH and Arriba la Lectura assessments, Exemplars math problems adn EL mathematics probles in both languages, and Envisions Math Chapter assessments in English and Spanish. In addition, we use HMH Into Reading, reading and writing unit assessments, Fundations unit assessments, and HMH Arriba La Lectura phonics assessments. After each assessment, teachers record the scores on data sheets, allowing for consistent tracking of student progress.

Teachers, grade teams, and administrators review this data on a regular basis to update unit plans, adjust instruction, and plan targeted small group interventions. We also use the data to identify students who may benefit from additional support, such as after-school programs or intervention services. The analysis helps pinpoint specific areas of need in each subject, ensuring that instruction is responsive to student performance and language development.

15. How do you ensure that MLs/ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their home languages throughout the year?

This year, we ensure that MLLs and ELLs are evaluated in their home languages by offering translated math assessments when necessary. For Spanish-speaking students, we use HMH Into Reading assessments in both English and Spanish. Additionally, our Dual Language Program uses HMH Arriba la Lectura for Spanish phonics assessments and provides assessments in Spanish for writing, social studies, and science. ELLs also have the option to take the NYS Mathematics and Science Assessments in their native language.

SUMMATIVE

16. Which summative assessments (e.g. NYSESLAT, ELA, Math, Regents, etc.) are used to evaluate the effectiveness of your ML/ELL programs and how does it inform instructional design and curricular decisions? (Refer to the ELL Data Analysis Tool).

This year, we continue to use the NYSITELL, NYSESLAT, ELA, and Math State Tests as our summative assessments. We analyze the results in our Bilingual and ENL teacher meetings to develop strategies based on students' language proficiency and academic needs. After reviewing the ELL Data Analysis Tool, we observed strong performance in the speaking modality, likely due to the success of this year's Read Aloud initiative, which we will continue school-wide next year. However, our students still face challenges in the writing modality, as reflected in our ELA State Assessments. To address this, our curriculum planning team has integrated more writing tasks and prompts across lessons, ensuring students have more opportunities to practice writing. We will also continue to embed writing in math through Math Exemplars , EL Mathematics and Envisions Math curriculum.

17. What is your NYSESLAT administration plan? How does your school ensure that all ELLs are tested with the NYSESLAT annually? Include the titles of the staff that will administer and score the assessment. Please describe your plan to ensure that all ELLs and former ELLs continue to receive mandated instruction during the testing period.

For our NYSESLAT administration plan, we start by conducting a refresher training for the ENL/Dual Language teams and any staff involved in administering the test. A norming session is held for those administering the speaking and writing portions. The ENL Coordinator, Dual Language Coordinator, and Assistant Principal (Testing Coordinator) gather and distribute all testing materials on the designated days, following NYS testing protocols with sign-out and sign-in procedures.

The speaking portion is administered as soon as the testing window opens, and the Listening, Reading, and Writing assessments are scheduled accordingly. During the testing period, mandated instructional time is maintained, and providers make up missed minutes if necessary. ELLs with IEPs receive all required accommodations. Scoring and transcribing of the assessment is done by a team of ENL, Bilingual Teachers, and the Assistant Principal. All ELLs and former ELLs continue to receive mandated instruction throughout the testing period, with scheduling adjusted to ensure minimal disruption to services.

18. How does your school ensure that current and former ELLs receive necessary accommodations for state assessments, including the Specialized High School Admissions Test (SHSAT) if applicable?

Part VI: Family Partnership

Family Partnership

Required Meetings Under CR Part 154

Describe your schools' plan to ensure families of ELLs are provided with the required meetings specified below as per CR Part 154. Include:

- Topics discussed during these meetings
- How your school ensures families receive necessary translation/interpretation supports to meaningfully engage in the meetings
- How your school schedules these meetings to facilitate attendance, and how your school maintains evidence of these meetings as required per the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs.

a. ELL Program Orientation to inform parents/guardians of newly identified ELLs of ELL program options, including the program goals and requirements for all three ML/ELL program models: Dual Language Bilingual Education, Transitional Bilingual Education and English as a New Language regardless of whether the school currently has either type of bilingual program and provide a high-quality orientation section on the Next Generation Learning Standards, assessments, and school expectations for English Language Learners.

For the upcoming school year, our ELL program orientation is organized by our Parent Coordinator, who reaches out to families to schedule a convenient time for them to visit the school.

To facilitate attendance, our school schedules ELL parent orientations at flexible times based on families' availability. The Parent Coordinator contacts each family directly to offer appointment options during the school day or after school. This personalized scheduling approach helps ensure that families can attend at a time that works best for them.

Our school schedules the ENL Parent Orientation at multiple times and formats to maximize family participation. The event is typically held in the evening and during daytime hours to accommodate families' varying work schedules. Interpretation services are provided in the languages most commonly spoken by our ELL families.

During the meeting, our ENL Coordinator or Teachers or designated teachers meet with parents in a private setting to explain the available ELL program models, services offered at our school, and district and city-wide resources. We also discuss the Next Generation Standards, assessments, and school routines and expectations. A video provided by NYS is shown to parents, followed by a Q&A session.

If the parent speaks a language represented by our staff, we use a bilingual staff member for translation. If no staff member is available in the home language, we use Language Line Solutions for translation services.

At the end of the meeting, families sign an attendance sheet, which we keep for our records. All mandated paperwork is completed, filed in the student's cumulative folder, and copies are maintained by the ENL Coordinator for documentation. After the meeting, parents receive all required letters, such as the placement letter and the placement after NYSITELL letter.

b. Annual Individual Meeting to discuss goals of the program, language development progress, language proficiency assessment results, and language development needs in all content areas. Note: this meeting is separate from and does not include the mandated ELL program orientation meeting and DOE-scheduled parent-teacher conferences.

For the new school year, every teacher of ELLs schedules an annual meeting with each student's family to discuss important topics such as classroom expectations, assessments, NYSESLAT scores (if applicable), and expectations for the upcoming NYSESLAT exams. Teachers maintain a checklist to track which families have attended these individual meetings.

At the end of each meeting, families sign an attendance sheet, which is kept for our records. If the family speaks a language represented by our staff, a bilingual staff member will facilitate the meeting. If no bilingual staff member is available, we use Language Line Solutions for translation to ensure effective communication.

These annual meetings are scheduled once per year. Teachers are encouraged to collaborate with service providers to coordinate meeting times. Teachers are provided with NYSESLAT/NYSITELL score reports, along with other relevant data, to guide the discussion. They are also asked to maintain a log and sign-in sheets for each meeting to document attendance and progress.

Family Engagement

2. Beyond the mandated meetings and orientations, describe how your school:
a. Ensures families receive all school communications and documents in the language they best understand. How are families able to respond or initiate communications in languages other than English?

During the Home Language Interview, we ask families about their preferred language for school communication. We also use the RLER report on ATS to confirm each family's home language. Our Parent Coordinator works closely with teachers and administration to ensure that all school communications, both digital and printed, are provided in the family's preferred language. We utilize various methods, such as translated paper copies, ClassDojo (which offers translation features), and the DOE GAMA system to send information and documents to families.

Our Parent Coordinator, who is bilingual in English/Spanish, is available to address concerns for most of our families. Additionally, we maintain a list in the main office of all staff members who speak the languages of our students, ensuring we can provide translation when necessary. This approach allows us to make all families feel welcomed and supported in their native language.

Parents can also use ClassDojo to communicate with the school in their preferred language, ensuring seamless communication between home and school.

b. Develops activities that foster empowerment for families of MLs/ELLs. Include how your school determines the needs of your community.

This year, our teachers will continue the Family Engagement Committee, which meets monthly to brainstorm and plan strategies for involving families in school events. The committee surveys families to gather feedback on what they want to learn about and participate in, ensuring that the activities align with their interests and needs.

So far, the committee has organized successful events such as Family Math Night, STEM night, Literacy Night, and Fitness Night. They have also facilitated workshops on digital platforms, assessments, and ENL/MLL programs. This team is committed to continuing their work in the upcoming school year, expanding opportunities for families to be actively engaged in their children's education.

c. Ensures families of MLs/ELLs are aware of family leadership opportunities (such as Parent Association (PA), School Leadership Team (SLT), Community Education Council (CEC), etc.)

This year, our PTA, SLT, and Family Engagement Committee—which includes both teachers and administrators—connect with families through flyers, social media, ClassDojo, and in-person conversations. These efforts highlight the importance of parent leadership opportunities and provide clear information on how to join meetings.

The Family Engagement Committee meets monthly to gather input and ideas from families, discussing what activities and initiatives they would like to see in our school community. These meetings give families a voice in shaping the events and opportunities available to their children, ensuring their needs and interests are prioritized.

3. What culturally and linguistically responsive partnerships do you currently have that support the needs of your school community?

This year, our school has strengthened partnerships with several organizations to provide valuable services to our school community, particularly to our Newcomer and ELL families. We collaborate with Queens Community House, which offers afterschool and holiday camp programs, giving students access to academic support and enrichment activities when school is not in session.

Additionally, we collaborate with REDZ Inc., an organization offering SEL (Social Emotional Learning), arts, and fitness programs. Through REDZ, families and students can participate in activities like Paint and Motivate and Zumba.

We also work with Disney in Schools, which gives students the opportunity to rehearse and perform Aladdin at our school. Families are invited to watch the performance, and students even get to enjoy a Broadway show as part of the program.

Finally, we work closely with Wellness in Schools, who provide additional support for our families, ensuring a holistic approach to both the academic and emotional well-being of our students and their families.

Part VII: Additional Information

Additional Information

Include any additional information that is relevant to your LAP and would further explain and highlight how your school supports MLs/ELLs. This form does not allow graphics and charts to be pasted.

Our school continues to see an influx of newcomers, many of whom are in temporary housing, each bringing unique needs and life experiences. We pride ourselves on developing the whole child—socially, emotionally, and academically—ensuring that all students feel safe, valued, and supported.

For our MLLs and ELLs, we focus heavily on social-emotional learning (SEL) and culturally responsive education. These elements are embedded in our curriculum and are vital to our approach, helping students build emotional regulation, positive relationships, and language skills. The Leader in Me program will remain a cornerstone of our SEL efforts as we work to empower students to take ownership of their learning and growth.

Our bilingual and ENL programs continue to support language acquisition while honoring cultural identities. Teachers receive ongoing professional development to provide the best possible support to our MLL and ELL students. Additionally, we ensure that families are actively involved through culturally responsive communication and engagement opportunities.

As we move forward, building the whole child will remain at the forefront of our efforts to support MLLs and ELLs, ensuring every student is set up for success academically, socially, and emotionally.

Part VIII: ELL Identification Attestation and Principal Certification

Identification Plan

For additional information, refer to ELL Identification Attestation Professional Learning Module.

1. What are the titles of the members of your ELL identification team? Note: Members of the ELL identification team must be pedagogues.

Our identification team includes the following providers: Assistant Principal, Bilingual Teacher, ENL teachers

2. Describe the structures and process in place for identification of ELLs year-round as required by the NYC DOE Policy & Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, including your school's identification plan for any incoming students with an Individualized Education Plan (IEP). Include:

- How your school proactively plans for the ELL identification process so that it does not interrupt the provision of mandated ENL and/or bilingual instruction to current, former and potential ELLs,
- Who is responsible for each step of the ELL identification process, and
- School's plan for ensuring ELLs and former ELLs will continue to receive mandated instruction.

Newly enrolled students, current ELLs, and former ELLs receive their mandated services throughout the entire school year. At the start of the year, ENL and Dual Language teachers receive their schedules, which reflect both integrated and standalone services. Teachers continue to serve current and former ELLs throughout the year, and when a new student enrolls, the ENL or bilingual teacher is promptly notified via email with the student's NYSITELL score, allowing services to begin immediately.

Students also participate in a wide range of extracurricular activities throughout the year. Our school offers clubs and after-school programs like soccer, chess, Student Government, Broadway at Schools, and art enrichment activities. These activities are designed to help students engage socially and emotionally, with teachers facilitating these opportunities. Any ELL student interested in participating can take part in arts, sports, and enrichment activities.

Additionally, our guidance counselors run various workshops focused on SEL (social-emotional learning) and mindfulness. A staff member also works closely with our newcomers to provide extra support tailored to their specific needs, including SEL sessions during lunch and recess.

During recess, we partner with a program called Structured Recess, which engages students in play and social-emotional activities. This helps MLL students connect with their peers and acclimate socially.

Many of these activities take place before or after school, on weekends, or during non-instructional time, allowing students to stay engaged in academics while also benefiting from a well-rounded, supportive experience.

ELL Identification Process:
When a new family enters the building, they are greeted by the main office staff or pupil secretary, who serves as the first point of contact. The staff member welcomes the family, determines their home language preference, and notifies the ENL Coordinator or that a new student may require language support.

The Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS) is administered by a trained pedagogue—typically a certified ENL teacher or the ENL Coordinator. The trained pedagogue ensures that the family understands each question by providing translation or interpretation in the family's preferred language, either through bilingual staff, the DOE Translation & Interpretation Unit, or an available LanguageLine service.

If the HLIS indicates that the student may speak a language other than English, the ENL Coordinator arranges for the NYSITELL to be administered within 10 school days of enrollment, as required by regulation.

After testing, the ENL Coordinator share results and explain the program placement options,Families receive a Parent Notification Letter in their preferred language, and staff review program models, student support services, and next steps.

Documentation of the entire process—including the HLIS, NYSITELL results, and parent notification—is kept in the student's cumulative folder and in the school's ELL database. The ENL Coordinator monitors compliance to ensure that all steps are completed within required timelines and that every family receives clear communication.

P.S. 82Q has established clear systems to ensure that all English Language Learners (ELLs) and Former English Language Learners (FELLs) receive the mandated instructional services outlined in CR Part 154-2.

The Assistant Principal for ENL Services create and maintain an ELL Master Schedule that aligns instructional minutes with each student's proficiency level Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, Expanding, or Commanding. The schedule identifies both Stand-Alone ENL and Integrated ENL settings and ensures that services are provided.

For Former ELLs, P.S. 82Q implements a two-year monitoring plan to ensure continued academic success and language development. ENL teachers review report cards, formative assessments, and NYS testing data each marking period. If a Former ELL shows signs of academic difficulty, the student is referred to a MTSS system to additionally support language and content support.

Principal Certification

In accordance with New York State's Commissioner's Regulations Part 154 as outlined and implemented in the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, I, attest that the following ELL identification procedures and activities are adhered to, and staff are trained on the items listed below.

- The ELL Identification Process is completed for each student within 10 school days of enrollment (20 school days for students entering with IEPs).
- Enrollment status of each newly admitted student is determined:
  a. If a student has been in New York State public schools within the past 2 years, our school contacts the previous school to obtain ELL status, relevant assessment scores, and English language proficiency level.
  b. If a student has been outside of New York State public schools for more than 2 years, our school administers the ELL Identification Process as part of reentry.

- The home language of the student is determined by a trained and licensed pedagogue.
  a. The parent completes the Home Language Identification Survey in the parent's preferred language; translation services are provided by a bilingual staff member, the DOE's over-the-phone translation services, or an alternative, high quality translation service.

- An interview with parents and students in English and the home language is conducted. This includes reviewing documents, prior assessments, and academic experience. An assessment of the student's abilities and/or work samples determines the student's literacy and math level in his/her home language.
- Eligibility for the NYSITELL is determined.
  a. If the newly enrolled student is entering with an IEP, the school's Language Proficiency Team (LPT) recommends eligibility to the principal, who obtains final approval from the superintendent.

- Students are administered the NYSITELL, if eligible.
- Notification letters are sent to the parent/guardian in their preferred language.
  a. Parent is notified of their child's ELL status and results of the NYSITELL.

- If the student is identified as an ELL and the student's home language is Spanish, the student is administered the Spanish Language Assessment Battery (LAB).
- Student with Interrupted/Inconsistent Formal Education (SIFE) status is determined using New York State's resources.
- If a student is a newly identified ELL, the parent is invited to the parent orientation meeting.
  a. The parent orientation meeting provides parents/guardians with an explanation of each ELL program model offered in NYC; the parent video describing the three programs is presented (in parent's preferred language); parents/guardians are encouraged to ask questions so that they are informed about all ELL programs; translation and interpretation services are provided throughout the meeting.

- ELL is placed in the ELL program that the parent selected.
  a. If the bilingual program that the parent selected is not available, the parent is offered a transfer to a school with that bilingual program in accordance with NYC DOE transfer policies.
  b. If the ELL remains in the school, the ELL is placed in English as a New Language and our school keeps track of parent selection so that when minimum thresholds are met, we can open the ELL program of choice.

- Parents are notified that they have 45 days to appeal the ELL status of their child (ELL Re-identification Process).
- If the ELL Re-identification Process is implemented for any student, the principal reviews the decision of any student whose ELL status was changed because of the ELL Re-identification Process within 6 to 12 months.
- Copies of documentation regarding ELL identification, including letters and parent notifications are kept in the students' cumulative files.

LTI Overview and Part A: Designation of a LAC

Chancellor's Regulation A-663 establishes procedures for ensuring that Limited-English-Proficient (LEP) parents of students enrolled in the New York City public schools are provide with a meaningful opportunity to participate in and have access to programs and services critical to their child's education. To this end, schools must review and complete the annual LTI Plan to address its language assistance needs consistent with the requirements of this regulation.

The LTI Plan requires information on the following:

- Name of person designated as the Language Access Coordinator (LAC).
- Identification and assessment of LEP parent population.
- Identification of Critical Communications and standing, in-person meetings throughout the school year that require language assistance services and how the school plans to respond to these needs.
- Plan to ensure staff awareness of language access requirements and available resources.
- Provision of notice to parents on the available language assistance services.

Methods for the school to solicit and implement feedback on its provision of language assistance services.

Designation of a LAC
Name of person designated and trained as the LAC.
At the start of each school year, each principal is required to designate at least one staff member to serve as the Language Access Coordinator (LAC), responsible for overseeing language assistance services within the school.

We have pre-populated the following information based on our records. Please confirm that the designated staff member(s) are your school's Galaxy-designated LAC(s) and provide the date(s) they attended the OLA Language Access Coordinator Training. Note that this training is in addition to the mandatory asynchronous NYCPS Language Access Training for School-based Staff on the WeLearnNYC learning platform. If any information is missing, please provide the requested details.

As a reminder, LACs are internal staff designations and are not meant to serve as the primary point of contact for families regarding language access-related matters. The Parent Coordinator, or another designated staff member, should remain the main contact for families regarding all issues, including language access.

3. Describe the resources and processes your school will use to communicate with parents who speak a language other than English during an emergency (e.g., lockdown, fire, student attendance, nurse/hospital visit, etc.), or when a parent needs to contact the school in an emergency, ensuring communication is in their preferred language.

n the event of a school-wide emergency (such as a lockdown or fire), our school uses the School Messenger system to communicate with families. This system sends automated calls, emails, and text messages in the family's home language.

For student-specific emergencies, we first rely on bilingual school personnel—such as teachers, aides, or secretaries—for translation. If no in-house translator is available for the required language, we use Language Line Solutions to ensure immediate and accurate communication.

If a parent contacts the school during an emergency, we will communicate with them in their preferred language. If a bilingual staff member is available, they will assist with the conversation. If not, we will connect with Language Line Solutions to provide real-time translation support.

Part D: Staff Awareness

Staff Awareness

Plan to ensure staff awareness of language access requirements and available resources.

1. Describe how your school will ensure that all staff members complete the required asynchronous NYCPS Language Access Training for School-based Staff on the WeLearnNYC learning platform, and are familiar with the Best Practices for When to Provide Translation of Critical Written Communications to Parents and Best Practices for When to Provide Interpretation for Critical Oral Communications with Parents. Additionally, explain how your Galaxy-designated LAC will disseminate future language access resources and updates to all staff members.

On the first day of school, the Assistant Principal and the school's Language Access Coordinator (LAC) will review Chancellor's Regulation A-663 with all faculty members. Each staff member will receive a copy of Chancellor's Regulation A-662 as part of the school handbook. The handbook will also include the phone number for over-the-phone interpretation services, a step-by-step guide on how to access the Language Line, and guidelines for working with interpreters. In addition, staff will watch a training video on how to use the DOE's translation and interpretation services.

Part E: Parental Notification

Parental Notification

Provision of notice to parents on the available language assistance services.

1. Describe how your school will inform parents about available language assistance services in their preferred language. Include any of the following:

- Translated signage
- Brochures, flyers, or letters shared with parents
- Parent engagement events where language assistance services are highlighted (e.g., PTA meetings, international parents' night, etc.)
- Messaging applications

- Language Access for NYC Public Schools Families brochure

In accordance with Chancellor's Regulation A-663, posters informing families of the availability of translation and interpretation services upon request are prominently displayed in both the Main Office and at the school's main entrance. Language access ID cards are available in the Main Office to help identify a parent or guardian's preferred language, ensuring staff are aware of their translation needs.

Information about translation services is also shared during PTA meetings, on ClassDojo, the school website, and through our social media platforms. We are committed to providing all families with meaningful opportunities to engage with and access the full range of programs and services offered by our school.

Additionally, our school has purchased Pocket Translators, which are readily available to staff members to support real-time communication with families.

Part F: Monitoring

Monitoring

Methods for soliciting and implementing feedback on language assistance services.

1. In addition to the feedback received from parents via OLA's Translation & Interpretation Feedback Survey, describe the methods your school will use to gather feedback from parents regarding the language assistance services they receive in their preferred language.

Our school provides multiple opportunities for families to share their feedback, including during PTA meetings, Coffee with the Principal, town hall meetings, and designated parent engagement times. When translation is needed, we first utilize bilingual staff members. If no in-house translator is available, we use Language Line Solutions to ensure effective communication with families.

We maintain an open-door policy and welcome families to visit the school at any time to speak with a member of the guidance team or school administration regarding any questions or concerns. Pocket translators are also available for all staff members to support communication as needed.

Additionally, we use school-wide platforms such as ClassDojo and social media to engage with families. These platforms allow parents to provide feedback and automatically translate messages into their preferred language, further supporting inclusive communication.

2. How has your school worked to improve its language assistance services? Share any feedback results and outline your plans for further improvements in the upcoming school year.

We gather feedback on our translation and language services through the DOE parent survey and ongoing conversations with families. Our school's Instructional Leadership Team and Parent Engagement Team regularly review this feedback to identify areas for improvement in our language access efforts.

Over the past year, we observed an increase in parent communication through our social media platforms and ClassDojo. These tools allow parents to select their preferred language, with messages automatically translated—making communication more accessible. We will continue to use these platforms to keep families informed and engaged.

Additionally, we will maintain use of the DOE's Messenger system, which efficiently delivers messages to families in their documented home language.

To further support real-time communication, our school has purchased pocket translators, which have been well-received by families. We will continue to make this tool available to staff for on-the-spot translations in multiple languages.

Title III Outline

Title III Supplemental Program for ELLs for SY 2025-26

REQUIREMENTS

Title III supplemental services for English Language Learners (ELLs) must include the following three components:

- Direct instruction activities must be used to support language development, English and home language instruction, high academic achievement in math, and/or high academic achievement in other core academic areas. The Title III supplemental instructional services must be based on student need. These supplemental services should complement core bilingual and ENL services required under CR Part 154. Direct supplemental services should be provided for before school, after school, and Saturday programs. Teachers providing the services must be bilingual education and/or English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) certified teachers.
- High quality professional development that is "of sufficient intensity and duration to have a positive and lasting impact on the teachers' performance in classrooms." Professional development activities should be well-planned, ongoing events rather than one-day or short-term workshops and conferences.
- Parent engagement and supports must ensure that there are appropriate translation and interpretation services to meet community needs. These are in addition to mandated activities, such as parent orientation during ELL identification process or annual ELL parent meetings.

Note: The Title III ELL program planning ratio is as follows: 60% to direct instruction, 10% to professional development (if funded using Title III ELL funds), 10% to parent engagement (if funded using Title III ELL funds), and 20% to OTPS (if funded using Title III ELL funds).

For more information on Title III requirements, please see the School Allocation Memo or contact your ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance and Performance Specialist. Any updates or revisions to this plan must be made through the iPlan portal.

Title III ELL Summary

Provide a summary of each program funded under Title III ELL for SY 25-26: For each program, describe:

- When the program takes place (i.e., after school, before school, Saturday academy)

- Activities ELLs will engage in and how these activities will enhance instructional opportunities for ELLs
- How ELLs will be grouped for instruction and specify the number of student groups. Include total number of student groups and total number of ELLs in each group, for each program
- How instruction will be delivered (e.g., team teaching, parallel teaching, etc.)
- How the program will be supervised and whether this will be funded by Title III ELL. Please note: If supervision will be funded using Title III ELL funds, you must include the supervisor's regular work day hours and the hours the supervisor will get paid per session.

At P.S. 82Q, our Saturday Academy is a supplemental instructional program designed to support our English Language Learners (ELLs), with a particular focus on newcomers at the Entering and Emerging proficiency levels. To identify students with the greatest instructional need, we review NYSITELL, NYSESLAT, and EDAT data, examining language proficiency levels and assessment outcomes to strategically form instructional groups.

For the 2025–2026 school year, Saturday Academy will continue to serve our newcomer population and provide targeted support in reading, writing, listening, and speaking, aligned with the New York State ELA Standards and the Academic and Linguistic Demands released in SY 2023–2024, which are aligned to the Next Generation Learning Standards (NGLS). Instructional activities will include guided literacy, writing about reading, and structured speaking and listening practice through read-alouds and leveled passages. Lessons are collaboratively developed by ENL/Bilingual and Common Branch teachers, using both formative and summative assessments to ensure instruction is tailored to each student's specific learning needs.

An instructional rotation model is embedded in the schedule to promote student engagement and incorporate technology and the arts, supporting language acquisition through creative and interactive experiences. In alignment with our belief that families are essential partners in education, we offer parent workshops and trainings during the Saturday sessions to strengthen home-school collaboration and empower families to support language development at home.

The Saturday Academy program will be supervised by the principal and funded through Title III, as it operates outside the regular school day on Saturdays. The presence of a supervisor is essential to ensure program fidelity, instructional quality, and compliance with Title III guidelines. As an instructional leader, the principal provides direct oversight of curriculum implementation, supports teacher collaboration and professional growth, monitors student progress, and ensures that instructional practices align with the Academic and Linguistic Demands and New York State standards.

Supervisor per session will not be paid using Title III funding. Fair student funding will be used. The principal will be the instructional leader of this program and her schedule is from 8:00 A.M. - 1:00 P.M.

Rationale for Title III ELL Funded Programs

Describe the rationale for each Title III ELL funded program. For each program, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis that support the need for program, and
- Data sources used to justify the need for the program

During the 2025–2026 school year, English Language Learners (ELLs) at P.S. 82Q will participate in a supplemental Saturday Academy program designed to accelerate their growth in English language proficiency. Students will engage in targeted academic instruction that supports the development of reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills essential for success across content areas.

The goal of Saturday Academy is to provide ELLs with effective strategies and skills to become confident, capable readers and writers as they progress through the English proficiency levels. ENL/Bilingual and Common Branch teachers will work collaboratively to design instruction using research-based methodologies, ensuring that both academic and language acquisition needs are met.

Instruction is informed by summative and formative assessment data, including NYSESLAT score reports, i-Ready assessments, Acadience data, and HMH Into Reading benchmarks. This data-driven approach allows teachers to create flexible instructional groups and develop meaningful, literacy-rich learning experiences. The Saturday program also includes an instructional rotation that integrates the arts and technology, providing students with a well-rounded, engaging learning environment.

Students and Grade Levels to be Served

For each Title III ELL funded program, describe the students that will be served. Include:

- Total number of ELLs for each program,
- Grade levels for ELLs in program, and
- ELL Subgroups (e.g., Newcomer) and/or proficiency levels (e.g., Entering, Emerging, etc.).

For the 2025–2026 school year, eligibility for the Saturday Academy program will be based on NYSESLAT proficiency levels, with a focus on supporting English Language Learners (ELLs). The program will initially prioritize newcomer students at the Entering and Emerging levels across all grades, who will receive invitations to participate.

Each grade band will include two instructional groups of approximately 25 students, with the exception of Kindergarten, which will have one group due to enrollment size. If enrollment does not reach full capacity with newcomer ELLs, we will expand invitations to Developing-level ELLs to ensure all available seats are utilized.

Teachers will take attendance at each Saturday session, and a school aide will follow up with families of absent students to encourage consistent participation. The school aide support will be provided at no cost to Title III funds, ensuring that instructional resources remain focused on direct services to students.

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III ELL funded program, include:

- Start and end dates/months,
- Total number of sessions,
- Days of the week the program will be offered, and
- Time and duration of sessions.

The Saturday Academy for the 2025–2026 school year will run from October 25, 2025, to April 25, 2026 for a total of 17 sessions. The program will operate on Saturdays from 8:30 A.M. to 12:30 P.M., excluding holiday weekends. Each week, students will receive three hours of targeted academic instruction, with lessons focused on developing English language proficiency in reading, writing, listening, and speaking.

A 15-minute breakfast and 30-minute hot lunch will be provided for students to ensure a welcoming and supportive environment. Additionally, students will participate in a one-hour arts enrichment class led by REDZ Inc., a community-based organization recommended by the DOE Arts Office. These sessions integrate visual and performing arts with literacy, using storybooks as a foundation for creative expression. Students will showcase their learning in a culminating presentation at the end of the program. Title III funds will be used to support the arts enrichment component.

Language of Instruction

For each Title III ELL funded program, include language of instruction and how home language support is provided.

The Saturday Academy program for the 2025–2026 school year will provide English language instruction to students who speak a variety of home languages, including but not limited to Spanish, Bengali, Russian, and others. The program is supported by bilingual Spanish-speaking teachers to assist Spanish-speaking students, and all participating staff will engage in professional learning focused on ENL strategies to better support multilingual learners from diverse language backgrounds.

Instruction will be departmentalized by modality, with one teacher per grade band focusing on Reading and Writing, and another on Speaking and Listening. Each grade band will consist of two student groups of approximately 25 students each, with the exception of Kindergarten, which will have one group due to smaller enrollment. Teachers will rotate between groups after 1.5 hours, ensuring that each group receives comprehensive instruction across all four language domains.

Number and Types of Certified Teachers

For each Title III ELL funded program, include number and type(s) of certified teachers (e.g., ESOL, bilingual, content area):

The 2025–2026 Saturday Academy will serve English Language Learners across grade bands, with one class per grade band and approximately 25 students per class. The language of instruction is English, supporting students from a wide range of home languages enrolled in our English as a New Language (ENL) program. For students enrolled in our Dual Language Program who have a home language of Spanish and are at the Entering or Emerging proficiency levels, home language instructional support will be provided as needed to reinforce language development.

The instructional team will include six dually certified ENL/Bilingual teachers and two Common Branch teachers, all of whom will deliver targeted instruction based on students' language needs. Instruction is departmentalized by modality, with one teacher per grade band focusing on Reading and Writing, and another on Listening and Speaking. The exception is Kindergarten, where one teacher will provide integrated instruction across all four modalities. The common branch teachers will work with the additional first and 2nd grade teachers who are TESOL certified teachers.

In the grade bands K, 1–2, 3–4, and 5, each pair of teachers will collaborate to ensure that instruction is aligned to specific language domains. Additionally, a bilingual support teacher will push into different groups to offer supplemental ENL instruction and facilitate guided literacy groups to enhance foundational literacy skills. The program will be supervised on-site each Saturday by the principal, with support from the assistant principal, to ensure effective implementation and instructional quality.

The 8 teachers will work from 9:00 A.M. - 12:00 P.M. for a total of 3 hours.

Types of Materials

For each Title III ELL funded program, include:

- Types of materials,
- Titles and publishers of main supplemental materials,
- Location where purchased materials will be stored, and
- Whether materials will be purchased using Title III ELL funds. Please note: If materials are purchased using Title III ELL funds, they cannot exceed 20% of the total allocation.

The Saturday Academy for the 2025–2026 school year will utilize research-based instructional materials specifically designed to support language development and academic growth. These resources include HMH Into Reading decodable readers, authentic home language literature, and the Imagine Learning digital platform. Teachers will also integrate i-Ready and Imagine Learning tasks to provide students with personalized, technology-enhanced instruction that reinforces core literacy and language skills.

Interactive tools such as Smart Boards will be used to present visual aids, academic vocabulary, and background knowledge, helping students better understand content and strengthen language acquisition. These instructional materials are part of the school's existing core and small group instruction resources and will not require Title III funding, as they are already available and in regular use during the school week.

REDZ Inc., a community-based organization recommended by the DOE Arts Office. These sessions integrate visual and performing arts with literacy, using storybooks as a foundation for creative expression. Students will showcase their learning in a culminating presentation at the end of the program. OTPS allocation will be used for this.

In addition, we will use OTPS funds to purchase art materials on Amazon with this vendor. We will purchased paint, paper goods, brushes, clay and markers.

Implementation Plan and Maintaining Records

- Describe your school's plan for implementation (e.g. when and how parents/guardians will be notified about the program(s)).

- Describe how your school will maintain records of your school's Title III ELL funded program, including evidence of parent notification in their preferred languages, student attendance records, evidence of teacher certifications for teachers supporting the program, record of parent engagement activities, records of professional development activities, purchase orders and invoices to date. For additional information, please refer to the Title III ELL FAQ.

For the 2025–2026 Saturday Academy, the Assistant Principal/ program coordinator will be responsible for preparing and distributing permission slips and parent notification letters regarding the program. Parents will be notified the week of October 27, 2025. Once forms are collected, the coordinator will develop an attendance tracking spreadsheet to monitor student participation across all sessions. Teachers will take attendance each Saturday, and school aides will follow up with families of absent students to encourage consistent attendance.

To monitor student progress, teachers will administer foundational skills assessments and reading assessments at the beginning, midpoint, and end of the program. Assessment data will be entered into designated data tracking sheets to inform instruction and guide interventions.

Part C: Professional Development

Professional Development Summary

Provide a summary of your school's plan for professional development under your Title III ELL program. Please make sure to describe:

- Professional development to be provided,
- Activities that teachers will engage with by topic, and
- Whether the professional development provided will be funded by Title III ELL funds. Please note: If PD will be funded by Title III ELL funds, vendor cost is calculated as part of OTPS and must not exceed 20% of the total allocation; teacher per-session is calculated as part of PD and must not exceed 10% of the total allocation.

For the 2025–2026 school year, the purpose of providing professional development to teachers participating in the Saturday Academy program is to ensure that students receive high-quality, targeted instruction aligned to their language development needs. These training sessions aim to promote consistency in instructional practices and equip teachers with effective, research-based strategies tailored specifically for English Language Learners.

Professional development will focus on supporting teachers in delivering instruction across all language modalities—reading, writing, speaking, and listening—as well as on how to effectively implement the instructional programs and resources used during Saturday Academy. These sessions will be funded through Title III, reinforcing our commitment to building instructional capacity and improving outcomes for multilingual learners.

Teacher per session for Professional Development will be paid with OTPS funds and the PD will be held on one Saturday for 3 hours.

Rationale for Professional Development

Describe the rationale for the professional development to be provided. For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., patterns and trends identified) that support the need for the professional development, and
- Data sources (e.g., school survey teacher responses, in-house teacher surveys, teacher observation data) used to justify the professional development.

We would like for our teachers to be knowledgeable in all ELL strategies, along with policy guidelines. It is also important for teachers to be trained in all curricula as well to be in alignment with classroom standards. Teachers will use foundational skills programs such a Heggerty, Fundations and the science of reading during the Saturday academy program and ensuring they are trained in these programs will help our students attain the foundational skills they need for reading and writing. Our iReady and Acadience data shows that our ELL students' greatest needs are in the area of reading and writing. Providing teachers with professional development in foundational skills will help them identify the trends and the specific areas of need for our student. When working with ELLs are teachers have voiced during their IPC meetings that they want training in how to best support ells.

Teachers to Receive Professional Development

Include information on the teachers to receive professional development. Please specify how all teachers working in the Title III ELL program will receive ongoing professional development related to the Title III ELL program.

During the 2025–2026 school year, bilingual and Common Branch teachers participating in the Saturday Academy program will receive targeted professional development to enhance instruction for English Language Learners. Training will focus on ELL instructional strategies, as well as effective implementation of key literacy programs including Fundations, Heggerty, Imagine Learning, and approaches rooted in the Science of Reading.

Additionally, teachers will receive support in building academic vocabulary, implementing differentiated instruction, and managing small group instruction to meet the diverse language and literacy needs of their students. This professional development is designed to ensure all instructional staff are equipped with the tools and knowledge necessary to promote meaningful language acquisition and academic growth.

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III ELL professional development activity, include:

- Start and end dates/months,
- Total number of sessions,
- Days of sessions, and
- Time and duration of sessions.

For the 2025–2026 school year, it is essential that all Saturday Academy teachers are well-versed in ELL instructional strategies and current policy guidelines to ensure effective, equitable instruction for our multilingual learners. In addition, teachers must be fully trained in the curricula used during the program to maintain alignment with classroom standards and best practices.

Instructional resources such as Heggerty, Fundations, and materials grounded in the Science of Reading will be used to strengthen students' foundational literacy skills. Ensuring that teachers receive targeted professional development in these programs will empower them to deliver instruction that directly addresses the needs of our English Language Learners. Based on i-Ready and Acadience data, our ELL students show the greatest need in reading and writing; providing PD in foundational literacy will enable teachers to identify skill gaps, recognize trends, and deliver the interventions necessary for student growth.

The teacher PD will take place on October 25, 2025 and the teachers will engage in 2hours of professional development on the topics discussed above. The parent workshops will take place on 4 Saturdays sessions and will be 1 hour long.

Topics to be covered

For each Title III ELL professional development activity, include topics to be covered.

Teachers will receive professional development on ELL strategies, fundations, heggerty, imagine language, the science of reading and literacy, building vocabulary and differentiation in small groups. This professional development will include a review of how to teach a fundations and heggerty lesson using the teacher's guide, how to access imagine language and literacy and use the program to obtain targeted vocabulary lessons for their students and assign students targeted lessons based off their screener data. We will engage in learning around sound walls in the science of reading and how to use sound walls during instruction.

Name(s) and Title(s) of Provider(s)

For each Title III ELL professional development activity, include name(s) and title(s) of provider(s).

Professional Development will be provided on Saturdays by the Assistant Principal/ program coordinator.

Maintaining Records

Describe your school's plan for maintaining documentation (e.g., agendas, attendance sheets) of all professional development provided as part of your Title III ELL plan; please specify which activities were funded by Title III ELL funds.

During the 2025-2026 school year the Assistant Principal/ program coordinator will keep a google drive folder with attendance sheets, agendas and presentations from the professional development sessions they facilitate.

Part D: Family Engagement Activities

Family Engagement Summary

Provide a summary of your school's family engagement activities under your Title III ELL program. Describe the activities that families of ELLs will engage with by topic. Please make sure to include whether the activities will be funded by Title III ELL funds.
Please note: If family engagement activities will be funded by Title III ELL funds, vendor cost is calculated as part of OTPS and must not exceed 20% of the total allocation; teacher per-session is calculated as part of family engagement and must not exceed 10% of the total allocation.

P.S. 82 believes in engaging parents in the teaching and learning process. It is our mission to build home/school partnerships that will support student learning at home thus promoting student success. We have parent engagement activities targeted towards parents and families of ELLs/MLLs that will impact higher achievement for ELLs such as an overview of what it means to be an English Language Learner and NYSESLAT assessment, digital platforms available to our English Language Learners and how parents can access them at home to help their children excel academically.

All parent workshops support our Multilingual families through culturally responsive resources and will be translated as needed. These workshops will be provided using Title III funding and will be facilitated by a teacher.

Rationale for Family Engagement Activities

Describe the rationale for the family engagement activities to be provided: For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., reasons for topics, time activities will be offered), and
- Data sources (e.g., parent survey responses, in-house parent surveys, PTA/PA request, etc.) used to justify the need for activities.

At P.S. 82Q, we are committed to actively engaging parents in the teaching and learning process, with a strong focus on building home-school partnerships that support student achievement. Our goal is to empower families—especially those of English Language Learners (ELLs)/Multilingual Learners (MLLs)—with the knowledge and tools they need to support learning at home and promote academic success.

Throughout the 2025–2026 school year, we will offer a series of parent engagement workshops specifically designed for families of ELLs/MLLs. Topics will include an overview of what it means to be an ELL, understanding the NYSESLAT assessment, and how to navigate digital learning platforms available to their children. All workshops will be delivered with culturally responsive materials, and translations will be provided as needed to ensure accessibility for all families. These workshops will be facilitated by a teacher and funded through Title III. We used our leader in me parent MRA survey to understand which types of programs parents wanted. Based off the survey parents wanted more inhouse, hands on workshops that will help them with their child's overall academic development.

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III ELL family engagement activity, include:

- Start and end dates/months,

For each Title III ELL family engagement activity, include name and title of provider(s) (e.g., vendor, community-based organization, school staff name in charge of facilitating the parent engagement activities described in this section).

The providers that will host these parent workshops are an ESOL/ bilingual Teacher who is not teaching the program, ENL Coordinator, Guidance Counselors, Social Workers and Parent Coordinator.

Family Notification of Activities and Translation and Interpretation Supports:

Describe:

- How families will be notified of Title ELL family engagement activities (e.g., phone calls, emails),
- How notification of activities will be translated into parent/guardians' preferred language, and
- How interpretation supports will be provided at events.

During the 2025-2026 school year we will notify parents about these activities by providing the information through Monthly Newsletters / Calendars, Flyers sent home, Flyers posted on social media and websites, ClassDojo, DOE Messenger emails and text messages. We will send information in parents' home language. This information will be translated by our in house translators and also using Language Line Solutions translations or translations resources provided to us by the Language and Translations department. We will have in house staff translate for Spanish, French and Bengali and use the translation pocket talk device for other languages.

Maintaining Records

Describe how your school will maintain documentation (e.g. agendas, attendance sheets) of family engagement activities and notifications to families.

Our Assistant Principal/ program coordinator will keep sign in sheets, invitations, materials resources, copies of the slide decks and agendas of parent engagement activities in a Google Drive folder.

Funding follows similar guidelines for Title III funds established by the Office of Multilingual Learners (OML) and can only be used to provide supplementary services to immigrant students, who may or may not be English Language Learners (ELLs).

Please note: Immigrant students are not necessarily English Language Learners (ELLs), and ELLs may or may not be immigrants. For the purpose of this funding, immigrant students are defined as individuals who were not born in any U.S. state (this includes the District of Columbia and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico); and have not been attending one or more schools in any one or more states for more than three full, academic years (the months need not be consecutive).

Priority areas for the use of Title III, Part A - Immigrant Funds are as follows:

- Extended day programming (e.g., before school, after school, Saturday program) to provide targeted, small-group instruction, credit recovery support, and postsecondary preparation.
- Implementing strong student supports to increase graduation rates.
- Community-based and school-based programming (e.g., before school, after school, Saturday program) to strengthen partnerships between immigrant families and schools.
- Developing new and/or enhancing existing programs for newcomers (meeting criteria defined above).
- Supplementing the opening or growth of Transitional Bilingual Education programs and/or Dual Language Bilingual Education programs serving immigrant students.
- Professional learning on meeting the needs of immigrant students, creating a welcoming and inclusive school environment, and effective instructional practices.

For more information on Title III requirements, refer to NYSED's guidance on allowable and unallowable expenditures for Title III. For specific allocation amounts per school, see the School Allocation Memo or contact your ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance and Performance Specialist.

DIRECTIONS

Please complete the application below. Schools must use the funds to support their immigrant students by developing a plan that has each of the following components:

- Direct instruction, supplemental program for immigrant students,
- Professional development that bolsters the instructional practice of teachers of immigrant students, and

Provide a summary of each program funded under Title III immigrant for SY 25-26:

For each program, describe:

- When the program takes place (i.e., after school, before school, Saturday academy).
- Activities the students will engage in and how these activities will enhance instructional opportunities for immigrant students (including ELLs).
- How students will be grouped for instruction and specify the number of student groups. Include total number of student groups and total number of ELLs in each group, for each program.
- How instruction will be delivered (e.g., team teaching, parallel teaching, etc.).
- How the program will be supervised and whether this is at cost to Title III Immigrant. Please note: If supervision will be funded using Title III Immigrant funds, you must include the supervisor's regular workday hours and the hours the supervisor will get paid per session.

For SY 2025–2026, the Title III Immigrant–funded program will consist of an after-school writing workshop run in partnership with the outside vendor 826NYC. The program will take place once per week after school for 2 hours per day. Students will participate in structured writing activities, including narrative, informational, and argumentative writing tasks; vocabulary development; targeted grammar and syntax practice; collaborative writing projects; and individualized feedback through small-group conferencing. These activities are designed to enhance immigrant and multilingual learners' instructional opportunities by strengthening writing proficiency, building academic vocabulary, and improving overall English language development. Students will be grouped by grade band and English language proficiency, with two groups in total: Grades 3–5 Entering/Emerging (approximately 20 students), Grades 3–5 Transitioning / Commanding and Non-Ells (approximately 20 students), , serving an estimated total of 40 ELL/immigrant students. Instruction will be delivered through parallel teaching, small-group workshop models, and team-teaching collaboration with 826NYC teaching artists. The program will be supervised by a designated our Assistant Principal who will monitor attendance, coordinate with 826NYC, and ensure compliance with Title III Immigrant requirements. The supervisor will be compensated per session for hours worked beyond their regular workday in accordance with program guidelines. Overall, this writing program aims to provide targeted, high-quality literacy support that accelerates English language development for immigrant students. The Assistant Principal in charge's work hours are from 7:15 A.M. - 3:00 P.M. They will get per session from 3:00 P.M. - 4:20 P.M.

Rationale for Title III Immigrant Funded Programs

Describe the rationale for each Title III Immigrant funded program:

For each program, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis that support the need for program, and
- Data sources used to justify the need for the program

The need for this after-school writing program is supported by both qualitative and quantitative data that highlight persistent challenges our learners face with writing. Our school's instructional focus—aligned with the district's priority—is explicitly centered on improving writing instruction, as writing continues to be an area of need across grade levels. Quantitative data from recent state ELA assessments show that a significant percentage of students, particularly English Language Learners, scored below proficiency in the writing portions of the exam, demonstrating difficulty with organizing ideas, using academic language, and producing extended written responses. Similarly, NYSESLAT results indicate that many of our multilingual learners remain at the Entering or Emerging levels in the Writing modality, and student-level analysis shows limited growth in written expression compared with other language domains. Qualitative data, including teacher observations, writing samples, and feedback from classroom teachers, further confirm that students struggle with sentence structure, grammar, vocabulary usage, and developing coherent paragraphs. These combined data sources—state ELA scores, NYSESLAT performance, classroom assessments, and teacher observations—justify the need for a targeted writing program that provides additional instructional time and focused support. The after-school partnership with 826NYC directly addresses these documented gaps by offering structured, high-quality writing instruction designed to accelerate progress for immigrant and multilingual learners.

Students and Grade Levels to be Served

For each Title III Immigrant funded program, describe the students that will be served:

Include:

- Total number of students for each program,
- Grade levels for students in program, and
- If ELLs are also included in these programs, (e.g., Newcomer).

There will 40 immigrant students serviced in this program in grades 3-5. The English Language Learners participating in the program range from Entering to commanding proficiency levels. All students participating in this program whether ELLs or Non-ELLs are immigrant students.

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III Immigrant funded program, include:

- Start and end dates/months,
- Total number of sessions,
- Days of the week the program will be offered, and
- Time and duration of sessions.

The afterschool program will start on Tuesday January 13, 2026 to Tuesday March 24, 2026. It will take place on Tuesday's and there will be a total of 10 sessions. The sessions will be approximately 2 hours each and the program will run from 2:20 P.M. - 4:20 P.M.

Language of Instruction

For each Title III Immigrant funded program, include language of instruction and how home language support is provided:

The language of instruction will be English.

Number and Types of Certified Teachers
For each Title III Immigrant funded program, include number and type(s) of certified teachers.

The teaching artist from 826NYC will teach the program under the supervision of the Assistant Principal

Types of Materials
For each Title III Immigrant funded program, include:

- Types of materials,
- Titles and publishers of main supplemental materials,
- Location where purchased materials will be stored, and
- Whether materials will be purchased using Title III Immigrant funds. Please note: If materials are purchased using Title III Immigrant funds, they cannot exceed 20% of the total allocation.

All materials used for this Title III Immigrant–funded after-school writing program will be provided directly by the vendor, 826NYC. The materials will include supplemental writing resources such as student workbooks, graphic organizers, mentor texts, writing prompts, and instructional guides specifically designed to support multilingual learners in developing their writing skills. Titles and publishers of the supplemental materials will align with 826NYC's established curriculum and instructional resources, which are proprietary to the organization and utilized across their literacy programs. Since all materials are supplied by the vendor as part of the contracted service, the school will not independently purchase additional materials using Title III Immigrant funds. Any materials that students use or take home will be distributed during the program, while reusable instructional materials will be stored on-site in the main program storage cabinet/classroom designated for after-school programming. Because the materials are included within the vendor's service package, no portion of the Title III Immigrant allocation will be used to purchase separate materials, ensuring compliance with the requirement that materials not exceed 20% of the total allocation.

Implementation Plan and Maintaining Records

- Describe your school's plan for implementation (e.g. when and how parents/guardians will be notified about the program(s)).
- Describe how your school will maintain records of your school's Title III Immigrant funded program, including evidence of parent notification in their preferred languages, student attendance records, teachers that support the program, record of parent engagement activities, records of professional development activities, purchase orders and invoices to date. For additional information, please refer to the Title III Immigrant FAQ.

Our Assistant Principal will create permission slips for the program and letter for parents informing them of the program in parents home languages. These slips will be sent to parents the week of 1/5/26. Then the AP will collect slips and then create a spreadsheet with attendance for each session. Teaching artist will capture the attendance each session and then assistant principal will follow up with parents of absent students. All of this information will be housed digitally in a google drive folder.

Part C: Professional Development

Professional Development Summary

Provide a summary of your school's plan for professional development under your Title III Immigrant program. Please make sure to describe:

- Professional development to be provided,
- Activities that teachers will engage with by topic, and
- Whether the professional development provided will be funded by Title III Immigrant funds. Please note: If PD will be funded by Title III Immigrant funds, vendor cost is calculated as part of OTPS and must not exceed 20% of the total allocation; teacher per-session is calculated as part of PD and must not exceed 10% of the total allocation.

Please make sure to describe:

- Professional development to be provided
- Activities that teachers will engage with by topic
- Whether the professional development provided will be at cost to Title III Immigrant funds

As part of the Title III Immigrant program, professional development will be provided specifically for school administration to ensure strong oversight and alignment of the after-school writing program with the school's instructional focus on improving writing outcomes for multilingual learners. Since the program will be facilitated entirely by 826NYC teaching artists and not by classroom teachers, the PD will focus on familiarizing administrators with the instructional approaches, writing strategies, scaffolds, and student tasks used by the vendor so they can effectively monitor program quality and coherence with schoolwide goals. Administrators will review the 826NYC writing framework, examine sample materials, and connect program activities to NYSESLAT writing expectations and state ELA standards. This professional development will take place during the school day, using administrators' regular work hours, so no per-session funds will be needed. As a result, the PD will not be funded by Title III Immigrant funds, ensuring that no portion of the allocation is used for PD costs and that the program remains fully compliant with fiscal guidelines.

Rationale for Professional Development

Describe the rationale for the professional development to be provided. For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., patterns and trends identified) that support the need for the professional development, and
- Data sources (e.g., school survey teacher responses, in-house teacher surveys, teacher observation data) used to justify the professional development.

For each activity include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis that support the need for the professional development

- Data sources used to justify the professional development

The professional development for school administration is needed to ensure strong oversight and alignment of the 826NYC after-school writing program with the school's instructional goals. Quantitative data from state ELA assessments and NYSESLAT Writing scores show that many multilingual learners are performing below proficiency and demonstrating limited growth in written expression. Qualitative data, including teacher observations, walkthrough notes, and student writing samples, further indicate challenges with organization, academic vocabulary, and coherent paragraph development. School survey feedback also reflects a need for greater consistency in how writing supports for ELLs are understood and monitored. These data sources collectively justify the need for PD that familiarizes administrators with the instructional strategies and scaffolds used by 826NYC so they can effectively monitor and support the program.

Teachers to Receive Professional Development

Include information on the teachers to receive professional development. Please specify how all teachers working in the Title III Immigrant program will receive ongoing professional development related to the Title III Immigrant program.

No teachers will receive professional development under the Title III Immigrant program because classroom teachers are not working or delivering this program; all instruction will be provided exclusively by 826NYC teaching artists. Therefore, the required ongoing professional development related to the Title III Immigrant program will be provided only to school administration, who are responsible for supervising, monitoring, and ensuring alignment between the vendor's writing instruction and the school's instructional goals. Administrators will receive ongoing PD during the school day to deepen their understanding of the 826NYC instructional model, review student tasks and materials, and support oversight of program implementation. Since teachers are not involved in delivering the program, no teacher-specific PD is required or planned.

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III Immigrant professional development activity, include:

- Start and end dates/months,
- Total number of sessions,
- Days of sessions, and
- Time and duration of sessions.

Professional development will take place on January 6 , 2026 and again towards the end of the program on March 10, 2026

Topics to be Covered

For each Title III Immigrant professional development activity, include topics to be covered.

The professional development for school administration will cover an outline of the 826NYC after-school writing program, the teaching methods and instructional strategies used by the vendor, expected student outcomes, examples of student writing tasks and materials, and guidance on monitoring and supporting program implementation to ensure alignment with the school's writing goals for multilingual learners.

Name(s) and Title(s) of Provider(s)

For each Title III Immigrant professional development activity, include name(s) and title(s)of provider(s).

Professional Development will be provided by 826NYC Teaching Artists and Project Managers.

Maintaining Records

Describe your school's plan for maintaining of all professional development (e.g., agendas, attendance sheets) provided as part of your Title III Immigrant plan; please specify which activities were funded by Title III Immigrant funds.

Including your school's plan for maintaining documentation of professional development provided using Title III Immigrant funds.

During the 25-26 school year for each professional development session we will have an agenda, slide deck and attendance sheet.

Part D: Family Engagement Activities

Family Engagement Summary

Provide a summary of your school's family engagement activities under your Title III Immigrant program. Describe the activities that families of immigrant students (including ELLs) will engage with by topic. Please make sure to include whether the activities will be funded by Title III Immigrant funds. Please note: If family engagement activities will be at funded by Title III Immigrant funds, vendor cost is calculated as part of OTPS and must not exceed 20% of the total allocation; teacher per-session is calculated as part of family engagement and must not exceed 10% of the total allocation.

For the 25-26 SY the Title III after school program, the school will host a culminating family engagement activity where parents and families of immigrant students, including ELLs, are invited to a publishing party to celebrate and share their child's writing from the 826NYC after-school program. Families will have the opportunity to view student work, discuss writing progress with their children, and engage in conversations about strategies that support literacy development at home. Refreshments will be provided to create a welcoming environment for all families. This activity will be funded by Title III Immigrant funds, as we will purchase food and refreshments for families to encourage participation.

Rationale for Family Engagement Activities

Describe the rationale for the family engagement activities to be provided:

For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., reasons for topics, time activities will be offered), and
- Data sources (e.g., parent survey responses, in-house parent surveys, PTA/PA request) used to justify the need for activities.

For the 25-26 SY The rationale for the family engagement activity is based on both qualitative and quantitative data demonstrating the importance of involving parents in supporting their child's writing development. Quantitative data from state ELA assessments and NYSESLAT writing scores indicate that many immigrant and ELL students struggle with writing, highlighting the need for reinforcement at home. Qualitative data, including parent survey responses, our LIM MRA family Survey and requests from the PTA/PA, show that families are eager for opportunities to engage directly with their child's academic progress and learn strategies to support literacy development. Offering a culminating publishing party allows parents to celebrate student achievements, view samples of their child's writing, and gain practical strategies for supporting writing at home. Scheduling the activity after the program ensures all participating families can attend and meaningfully interact with the students' work. These data sources collectively justify the design and timing of the family engagement activity as a meaningful way to extend learning and strengthen the home-school connection.

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III Immigrant family engagement activity, include:

- Start and end dates/months,
- Total number of sessions,
- Days of sessions, and
- Time and duration of sessions.

The family symposium will be scheduled to take place on the last class date which is March 24, 2026 from 2:20 P.M -4:20 P.M.

Topics to be Covered

For each Title III Immigrant family engagement activity, include topics to be covered.

Writing Workshop Culminating activity will showcase the writing projects our students engaged in.

Name(s) and Title(s) of Provider(s)

For each Title III Immigrant family engagement activity, include name and title of provider(s) (e.g., vendor, community-based organization, school staff name in charge of facilitating the parent engagement activities described in this section).

The teaching artist, students will host the Publishing party along with the Principal.

Family Notification of Activities and Translation and Interpretation Supports

Describe:

- How families will be notified of Title III Immigrant family engagement activities (e.g., phone calls, emails),
- How notification of activities will be translated into parent/guardians' preferred language, and
- How interpretation supports will be provided at events.

For the 25-26 SY Families will be notified of Title III afterschool culminating publishing party, through multiple channels such as emails, automated phone calls, and printed flyers sent home with students to ensure broad outreach. All notifications will be translated into parents' preferred languages based on information collected through HLIS and family surveys to ensure accessibility for non-English–speaking families. During the event, interpretation support will be provided by bilingual staff so that parents can fully engage with their child's work, ask questions, and participate in discussions, ensuring that all families can meaningfully participate regardless of language proficiency.

Maintaining Records

Describe how your school will maintain documentation (e.g. agendas, attendance sheets) of family engagement activities and notifications to families.

For our Publishing Party the assistant principal will keep all documentation such as student list parent attendance list, student work and agenda in a google drive folder.
