Section 1: Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Comprehensive Education Planning (CEP) is a structured, data-driven process that guides schools in assessing their needs, identifying areas for growth, setting strategic goals and implementing targeted actions to improve student outcomes. Collaboratively developed by the School Leadership Team (SLT) in accordance with the requirements of Chancellor's Regulation A-655, the CEP meets New York State Education Department (NYSED) requirements under the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) and aligns with NYC Public Schools' (NYCPS) system-wide priorities. By engaging all stakeholders—school leaders, teachers, families, students and community members—schools can create a data-informed, equity-focused roadmap for student success and continuous improvement.

Schools should focus their CEP on the five system-wide priorities below, connecting their planning to the data discussions and conversations with stakeholders held as part of the school's needs assessment:

- Priority 1: All students learn to read well
- Priority 2: All students are physically and emotionally safe
- Priority 3: All students have a high-quality academic experience
- Priority 4: All students graduate college and career ready and have a strong plan and pathway to economic security
- Priority 5: All districts and schools are more inclusive and responsive for parents and families, including having more families choose NYC Public Schools

The Education Planning Process

The CEP follows an equity-driven, continuous improvement cycle, rooted in the system-wide priorities. This begins with a comprehensive needs assessment of the school's most current data to identify priority needs and root causes. Next, the SLT establishes specific, measurable, attainable, relevant, and timely—SMART goal(s) aligned to each priority and determines targets to measure progress toward meeting the annual goals.

The SLT and instructional leaders define key evidence-based key strategies, professional learning activities and parent, family and community empowerment efforts. They monitor the implementation of those strategies and activities and track progress through measurable targets. Then, the SLT aligns the school-based budget with human and instructional resources to support action plans.

As schools set goals, develop key strategies, and plan action steps, they provide opportunities for all children to meet NYSED's proficient and advanced levels of student academic achievement. These include evidence based instructional strategies that address the educational needs of historically underserved populations and tackle structural inequities. Schools indicate how the plan addresses the needs of Multilingual/English Language Learners (ML/ELL) through development of the school's Language Allocation Policy (LAP) & Title III Application (if applicable) and the Language Translation and Interpretation (LTI) Plan, that are required as part of the CEP. Schools also address the needs of Students with Disabilities (SWD) through the High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities section of the plan. SLTs also develop a plan to improve attendance and reduce chronic absenteeism.

Guidance on Conducting a Comprehensive Needs Assessment

Directions: Conduct a comprehensive needs assessment for each Priority. The information below provides guidance for reviewing and analyzing student and school performance trends to uncover root causes for low student achievement.

1. Review Multiple Data Sources: Use the most current and available information including, but not limited to, the following sources of formative and summative data, as applicable:

- Qualitative and quantitative data, including enrollment and class size trends
- 2024-25 ESSA Accountability Data
- Instructional Leadership Framework (ILF), Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) Inventories, and NYC School Survey results
- Quality Review Reports, NYSED and NYCPS CSI or A/TSI Support Visits, Receivership Quarterly Reports, and Diagnostic Tool for School and District Effectiveness Framework (DTSDE)
- NYC School Quality Guide, Insight, New Visions, NWEA MAP and/or other formative assessment data, IEP Review Survey Data, Progress on IEP Goals Data, Program (SESIS-STARS Linkage) Reports, Mandated (Related) Services Reports, and NYCPS Tools for Understanding Your Data for student subgroup information

2. Analyze Data Trend(s) to Identify Areas of Strength and Need: Identify data trends by grade, cohort, and content area(s) to surface gaps and inequities. Compare data sets to identify instructional and school practices that are impacting student performance. Guiding questions to consider:

- What does the data reveal about improving and declining student performance trends within grades, cohorts, and student subgroups?
- What inequities are evident between highest and lowest performing student subgroups? Which subgroup(s) scored at Level 1 based on NYSED ESSA accountability indicators?
- What does the data suggest regarding the effectiveness (or ineffectiveness) of current school programs, practices, and/or strategies/initiatives? What areas may need to be strengthened?
- Are there any differences in student performance between program delivery models for ML/ELL and SWD? (e.g., for special education: special class, ICT, SETSS, related services only; for ML/ELL: Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) vs. Dual Language, etc.)
- How does delivery of instruction factor into data trends? What are the implications for teacher quality and professional learning?
- What inequities in special education referral and school disciplinary practices (e.g. suspensions, removals) are evident between student subgroups with IEPs?

3. Identify Root Cause(s): After analyzing the data, engage in a process for uncovering root causes or contributing factors for low student and school performance. Develop theories or hypotheses to explain why these needs exist and why your school is getting its current outcomes. Root causes could be related to gaps and inequities in areas such as curriculum & instruction, school systems & structures, student support services, school climate & safety, and family & community engagement. Focus on the causes, rather than the symptoms. Use the 5 Whys Method or other methods for identifying root causes. Consider the questions below:

- What theories or hypotheses explain the current student and school outcomes?
- Are there root causes specific to certain subgroups, grades, cohorts, or content area(s)?

Additional resources and supports are available below.

- Use this CEP Needs Assessment Worksheet to help your SLT and stakeholders identify appropriate data sources, data trends, root causes and priority needs.
- For guidance and best practices on engaging stakeholders in a comprehensive needs assessment and root cause analysis, see this deck.
- A current list of all CEP/Title I resources can be found on the iPlan Portal Public Resources Page.

Section 5: Priority 1 – All students learn to read well

Priority 1 Data Trends, Root Causes and Priority Needs

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

1. Data Trend(s) (Cite Data Source & Year)	2. Root Cause(s)	3. Priority Needs
Based on the iReady Reading BOY assessment in 2025 the students (Grades 3-5) tested at 48% on or above grade level for Comprehension: Overall (iReady EOY 2025 (Approximately 87% of Students with Disabilities performed below grade level in	Students in this cohort have not had consistent exposure to all components of the NYC Reads programs (Fundations, Heggerty, and HMH Into Reading) throughout their K–5 experience. Since the students in this cohort have not been exposed to all of the NYC Reads inititives and programs since they have been in Kindergarten we feel that by continuing to provide tier 1 core curriculum instruction we can support our students with overall comprehension of texts. Based on i-Ready Reading assessment data, our greatest area of need is reading comprehension. Students in grades 3–5 are demonstrating difficulty understanding and analyzing complex texts. To address this, we will continue to strengthen Tier 1 core instruction through the implementation of evidence-

Based on the iReady Reading BOY assessment in 2025 the students (Grade 3-5) tested at 43% on or above grade level for Vocabulary (iReady EOY 2025)	Students have limited prior knowledge and inconsistent exposure to explicit vocabulary instruction and strategies for using context clues. This has hindered their ability to infer meaning, make connections across texts, and access grade-level content.	Based on assessment data and classroom observations, our priority need is in vocabulary development. Many students struggle to determine the meaning of unfamiliar words and phrases, particularly when relying on context clues. Targeted instruction that builds background knowledge, expands academic vocabulary, and teaches explicit strategies for using context will be essential to strengthening overall reading comprehension and content understanding.
Based on the iReady Reading BOY assessment in 2025 the students (Grades 3-5) tested at 44% on or above grade level on Comprehension: Informational Text (iReady EOY 2025)	Students exhibit foundational reading delays and a lack of prior knowledge about key topics and concepts presented in informational texts. This has limited their ability to make connections, draw conclusions, and fully comprehend grade-level nonfiction materials.	Based on i-Ready Reading assessment data, our priority area is comprehension of informational text. Many students demonstrate difficulty understanding and analyzing informational passages due to limited background knowledge on a range of topics and gaps in foundational reading skills. To address this, we will strengthen early literacy instruction through consistent implementation of Heggerty and Fundations in the primary grades and increase students' exposure to diverse, content-rich topics across all grade levels. This approach will help build both foundational literacy skills and the background knowledge necessary for comprehending informational texts.

Priority 1

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing school data trends, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for literacy outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Systemwide Focus Areas for Literacy

- Implement the strategies outlined in NYC Reads, including foundational phonics curriculum for grades K-2
- Implement dyslexia screening, professional learning, and program pilots (as applicable)
- Support literacy development through the integration of culturally responsive-sustaining texts and content

Priority 1 SMART Goal(s)

Target Population	Baseline Data	SMART Goal
All Students	60%	By June, 2026, literacy for All Students will improve, as measured by a 10% Increase, from 60% to 70%, of Percentage of students scoring on or above grade level for Reading Comprehension: Overall on the i-Ready Reading Diagnostic.
Students with Disabilities (SWD)	13%	By June, 2026, literacy for Students with Disabilities (SWD) will improve, as measured by a 12% Increase, from 13% to 25%, of Percentage of student scoring at grade level or above. on the iReady Reading Diagnostic.
English Language Learners (ELL)	10%	By June, 2026, literacy for English Language Learners (ELL) will improve, as measured by a 12% Increase, from 10% to 22%, of Percentage of student scoring at grade level or above on the iReady Reading Diagnostic.

Priority 1 Progress Measures and Targets

Directions: It is expected that progress monitoring, based on interim outcome data, occurs at three progress monitoring periods during the school year. Identify what your school would expect to see at the end of each period to know if you are on track to reach the identified goal(s). The progress monitoring targets can be a percentage or a number and should reflect a sufficient improvement in outcomes to meet the goal. Note that all schools are required to enter results in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) on the iPlan Portal.

Priority 1 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Support students through Tier 1 core curriculum instruction. For students that need further support we will analyze data from baseline assessments to create appropriate instructional small groups based on specific standards and skills.

Root Cause Addressed:

Students not being fully exposed to NYC Reads programs, (Fundations, Heggerty, HMH Into Reading) in all years of their K-5 education.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Use the school wide TACO strategy to access the 2025-2026 Instructional focus of increasing student engagement through the use of the accountable talk.
Use digital tools as a a resource for staff collaboration on Checks for Understanding Establish a 2025-2026 Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS) team to review i-Ready and formative assessment data to identify students in need of targeted reading interventions.
Utilize the 2025-2026 WIN teacher to provide small-group instruction focused on foundational reading skills, vocabulary acquisition, and comprehension strategies

Refine implementation of Fundations and Heggerty in the early grades to strengthen foundational reading skills through support of our Phonics teacher
Create small groups based on data to support students in the skills and standards they need further support in.
Create Tier 2 and Tier 3 groups to support students utilizing the SPIRE program to address gaps in literacy.

Key Strategy 2 (Optional):

We will also use the Acadience and iReady Screener assessment results to see which students need further Tier 2 and Tier 3 support. We will create groups and provide AIS to students who scored in the 40th percentile or lower in the iReady Reading and Acadience screener assessments. We will then utilize the SPIRE program to address gaps in literacy.

Root Cause Addressed:

Lack of prior knowledge and lack of use of context clues when learning new vocabulary.
Foundational delays in reading.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Create small groups for MTTS / AIS to focus instruction for students needing further support in vocabulary development.
Utilize SPIRE curriculum to address gaps in foundational phonics and literacy skills.
Have MTSS / AIS teachers provide Tier 2/Tier 3 support.

Implementation Monitoring: Indicate your primary structures to progress monitor implementation of key strategies and action steps. Include specific data/evidence you will collect and use to determine progress and impact on instruction, student learning, and achievement.

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

Teachers will analyze i-Ready Reading data during grade level meetings to identify which students need more support. Teachers will discuss strategies to help support Tier II and Tier III students in comprehension. Teachers will look at their i-Ready data throughout the year to identify new Tier II and Tier III students who will need additional reading support. Teachers will also need to identify Tier II and Tier III SWDs and ELLs that need additional support and discuss how to best support each student. Administration will review data in New Visions, i-Ready, and Acadience after each diagnostic window.

Priority 1 Family and Community Engagement

Family and Community Engagement

Directions: Indicate the strategies/activities that will be implemented to support and engage families (including foster and birth parents) and community collaboration in the implementation of this action plan.

Start Date	End Date	Strategies to Support Family & Community Engagement	Partners/CBOs Leveraged
09/04/2025	01/31/2025	Parent Involvement	Families will be invited to attend at least two in-person school event each semester that showcases student learning and growth in reading and writing. These events will highlight student projects, performances, and classroom work, allowing families to actively engage in their child's academic progress and celebrate accomplishments.
02/01/2026	06/26/2026	Parent Involvement	Families will join a literacy workshop and showcase where students model strategies learned in the classroom, such as summarizing, making inferences, or using context clues. During the event, families will receive guidance on supporting these skills at home and participate in interactive activities to reinforce comprehension and vocabulary development.
09/04/2025	06/26/2026	Inform parents of Reading screener assessment results as well as which students will recieve Tier 2 / 3 MTSS / AIS	Families will be informed of their child's reading screener results, including identification for Tier 2 and Tier 3 supports through MTSS or AIS. Communication will include a clear explanation of the interventions their child will receive, expected outcomes, and strategies families can use at home to support their child's growth. The MTSS team and classroom teachers will ensure that this information is shared in a timely, understandable, and supportive manner, including opportunities for families to ask questions and discuss individualized plans for their child.

Priority 1 Budget and Resources

Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Systemwide Focus Areas for Physical and Emotional Safety

- Develop safety infrastructure and systems, including staff training, collaboration with external partners, and implementation of safety and security best practices
- Expand social emotional and mental health supports via restorative justice, Project Pivot, screeners, and other district or school-based initiatives (as applicable)
- Expand implementation of physical and mental wellness supports, including Physical and Health Education that meets NYSED requirements and related initiatives
- Improve supports and outcomes for socially vulnerable student populations (Students in Temporary Housing, Students in Foster Care)

Target Population	Baseline Data	SMART Goal
All Students	130	By June, 2026, physical and mental wellness for All Students will improve, as measured by a 2% Decrease, in number of reports filed from 130 to 127, per the OORS reports.

Priority 2 Progress Measures and Targets

Directions: It is expected that progress monitoring, based on interim outcome data, occurs at three progress monitoring periods during the school year. Identify what your school would expect to see at the end of each period to know if you are on track to reach the identified goal(s). The progress monitoring targets can be a percentage or a number and should reflect a sufficient improvement in outcomes to meet the goal. 2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

1. Data Trend(s) (Cite Data Source & Year)	2. Root Cause(s)	3. Priority Needs
Based on the iReady EOY Math assessment in 2025 45% of students were on or above grade level in numbers and operations. (iReady EOY 2025)	Lack of a deeper understanding of numbers and operation.	Our priority need is addressing the number of students who lack an understanding in the area of Numbers and Operations.
Based on the iReady EOY Math assessment in 2025, 21% of SWIEPs tested at or above grade level. (iReady EOY 2025)	Lack of foundational skills	Our need is to increase overall Math performance of SWIEPs. The SWIEPs have a lack of foundational math skills that need to be addressed in all grades.

Based on the iReady EOY Math assessment in 2025, 10% of ELLs tested at or above grade level. (iReady EOY 2025)	Language barrier, trauma of assimilation process to the school and country.	Our need is to increase overall Math performance of ELLs. The ELLs have a language barrier so we need to support ELLs in language development and specifically in understanding math vocabulary words to better understand math concepts and standards.

Priority 3 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

As a school we will analyze the data of the Numbers and Operation skills and standards from iReady BOY & MOY math assessments to support all students. We will also use grade level data from these assessments to discuss what can be done at each grade level during data inquiry analysis cycles.

Root Cause Addressed:

This will address the lack of a deeper understanding of numbers and operations for students from Kindergarten to 5th grade.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
During grade team meeting, teachers will ensure that all classes follow the curriculum pacing that has been established so that all areas are covered throughout the course of the year.
Analyze data from BOY and MOY assessments to use as a guideline for the needs and weaknesses of each class and student; teachers to use this data to formulate instruction and intensify small group instruction as needed.
Support classroom teachers and WIN (What I Need) Teacher in identifying Tier II and Tier III students in Numbers and Operations that need more support and interventions through iReady and New Visions data analysis.
Review MOY and EOY results to identify progress made on targets set and to identify which best practices worked best for our student.

Key Strategy 2 (Optional):

We will analyze the data of SWIEP and ELL subgroup performance on specific math skills and standards. This will help us in seeing which specific foundational skills we can support our SWIEPs in. Furthermore we will support ELLs in vocabulary development specific to the math curriculum.

Root Cause Addressed:

The lack of foundational math skill for SWIEPs. Also the language barrier and trauma of assimilation process to the school and country for ELLs.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Analyze data from BOY and MOY iReady Math assessments to see which foundational math skills and standards we can focus on to better support SWIEsPs.
Analyze data from end of unit math assessments to further support SWIEPs in the math skill and standards that need support in.
Provide professional learning for the staff to analyze data of different assessments (iReady and End of Unit Envisions assessments). PL will also review resources within iReady to utilize with specific groups of students to address deficiencies for specific skills they need support in.

Implementation Monitoring: Indicate your primary structures to progress monitor implementation of key strategies and action steps. Include specific data/evidence you will collect and use to determine progress and impact on instruction, student learning, and achievement.

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

During grade level team data meetings teachers will analyze iReady Math data to identify students who need more support with Numbers and Operation. In these meetings teachers will discuss strategies they will use to help support Tier III

students in Numbers and Operation. Throughout the year teachers will look at their class iReady data to identify new Tier III students who need additional support. Teachers will also identify Tier III SWDs and ELLs that need additional support and discuss how to best support these students in grade level team meetings. Teachers will also communicate with administration which students would benefit in working with WIN (What I need) teacher to support their growth on specific skills and standards in math. Administration will reviewthe data in New Visions and iReady after each diagnostic window as well.

The 2024 School Engagement	Continued growth is needed to ensure that feedback accurately represents the entire school community.	Strengthening communication is essential so that all stakeholders

Survey received 41 responses, representing strong participation from students, families, and staff. In 2025, participation increased to 49 responses, an approximate 20% increase, indicating growing engagement and involvement in the survey process.	Families and staff require clear and consistent communication about the survey's purpose, timing, and the ways in which results inform school programs and decision-making. Additionally, equitable access must be ensured for all families, including ELL families and those with limited digital access, through translations, multiple submission options, and clear instructions. Strengthening outreach and demonstrating the impact of prior survey results will increase engagement and motivate stakeholders to provide meaningful feedback, allowing the school to make data-driven decisions that support student learning and community involvement	understand the purpose of the survey, the timelines for completion, and how the data will be used to improve school programs. Equitable access must also be prioritized, with multiple submission options, translations, and guidance for families with limited digital access to ensure that every voice is heard. Finally, demonstrating the value of participation by sharing results and highlighting actions taken based on prior feedback will encourage continued engagement and investment in the survey process.

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing the school data, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for parent, family, community and system responsiveness outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Focus Areas for System Responsiveness to Parents, Families and Communities

- Engage more deeply with families to understand their needs and plan new, high-quality programs
- Build community trust and bolster engagement, including via improved language access and increased family engagement and participation
- Implement the newly updated NYCPS School Wellness Policy, which provides a framework for all members of the school community, including families and students, to come together and assess and coordinate wellness efforts for their community
- Implement and lead strategies that support community involvement and increase Minority and Women Owned Business Enterprises (MWBE) utilization

OORS Reports for 2023–2024 and 2024–2025 show that suspension and removal rates at PS 166Q are low and proportionate across all student demographics, with no overrepresentation of any racial, gender, or disability subgroup. Specifically, there were 141 incidents in 2023–2024 and 130 incidents in 2024–2025, reflecting a 7.8% decrease year-to-year. These data indicate a stable and equitable trend in school discipline, suggesting that behavioral expectations, classroom management practices, and Tier 1 supports are being implemented consistently across all student groups. The proportionality and overall low rates are likely due to the consistent application of clear behavioral expectations, proactive social-emotional supports, and Tier 2/3 interventions for students needing additional guidance, as well as school-wide initiatives that reinforce positive behavior.	ATS and OORS reports for 2023–2024 and 2024–2025 confirm that no student subgroup—by race, gender, or disability status—was overrepresented in incidents resulting in suspensions or removals. Specifically, there were 141 incidents in 2023–2024 and 130 incidents in 2024–2025, reflecting a 7.8% decrease in major behavioral incidents year-to-year. The school's proactive approach, including the consistent implementation of restorative practices, social-emotional learning lessons, and a tiered system of behavioral supports, has contributed to this decline and ensures that disciplinary responses are fair, consistent, and tailored to individual student needs. These strategies have reinforced positive behavior, maintained equitable discipline practices, and supported students in remaining engaged in the classroom.	Equity in School Discipline

High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities Action Plan

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Use i-Ready diagnostic and progress monitoring data to inform differentiated and accessible instruction for students with disabilities, supported by targeted professional development and collaborative planning between general and special education staff.

Root Cause Addressed:

Lack of consistent use of data-driven instructional practices, particularly i-Ready data, limits teachers' ability to tailor instruction and interventions that meet the diverse needs of students with disabilities in inclusive settings.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
At PS 166Q, we will strategize through collaboration between general and special education teams to analyze diagnostic data, planning targeted lessons aligned with IEP goals, and regularly reflecting on student progress and instructional practices. We will implement differentiated, accessible instruction and personalized i-Ready pathways. Families will be notified of student progress during IEP meetings to promote transparency and engagement. Finally, student growth will be continuously tracked through monthly i-Ready reports and documented in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) to monitor progress toward academic goals.

Section 6: Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS)

Academic Support

NYCPS Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) align with NYSED guidelines for providing Academic Intervention Services (AIS) to students who have not yet met state standards or are considered to be at-risk of not meeting state standards. The Multi-tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) framework, organizes supports into three tiers:

Tier 1 provides schoolwide, high-quality programming for all students, including SWDs;

Tier 2 offers data informed small-group interventions for at-promise students; and Tier 3 delivers intensive, individualized support for students with persistent needs.

This facilitates the strategic planning and necessary resource alignment to ensure their school community appropriately and adequately serves all students well, in partnership with students and families.

MTSS identifies the academic support services to be provided and ensures that students receive Response to Intervention (RtI) and Positive Behavioral Interventions and Support (PBIS) strategies as needed. See NYSED's memo to view the criteria for determining AIS services. The Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) offers a wide range of evidence-based Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions and supports for student social-emotional, behavioral, physical and mental wellness, with particular attention to the unique needs of students in Temporary Housing and/or Foster Care, who may face additional challenges related to school stability, trauma and access to educational resources. A culturally responsive-sustaining approach to intervention embeds culturally relevant texts and historical narratives into literacy and social studies interventions, ensuring students receive the support that reflects their identities and lived experiences, increasing engagement and achievement.

Use the charts below and a Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) to match academic, social/emotional, behavioral and instructional resources with student needs to provide targeted support for all learners, especially at-risk students who experience difficulty meeting state standards, including those living in Temporary Housing and/or residing in Foster Care placements. Indicate specialized materials, technology-based tools and/or extra instruction, including Expanded Learning Time that supplement school-wide systems & supports and/or classroom level supports. Ensure that interventions address the unique social-emotional, behavioral and academic challenges faced by culturally and linguistically diverse students, as well as those impacted by housing instability and child welfare system involvement.

Directions: Complete the chart and identify Tier 2 or 3 MTSS Academic supports. Any Tier 2/3 interventions should be in addition to the foundational work being done at Tier 1.

Family and Community Engagement Around MTSS

Describe how the school's essential components of MTSS are shared with families.

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental engagement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent and family engagement policy that will establish expectations and objectives for meaningful parent and family engagement in the school community. PS 166Q The Henry Gradstein School, in compliance with Section 1116 of Title I, Part A of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), is responsible for creating and implementing a parent and family engagement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between the school and the families. The school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), and Title I Parent Advisory Council as trained volunteers and welcomed members of the school community. Parents receive weekly emails outlining all important information and happenings within the school building and surrounding community. The school will communicate with the families of students that qualify for Tier 2 or tier 3 intervention services to inform them of the services and supports being provided.

Describe how families receive updates on the progress of their child(ren) who receive Tier 2 targeted, or Tier 3 intensive interventions.

Families receive updates via Class Dojo messages, face-to-face meetings, emails, or notes sent home.

Describe how families are involved during decision making regarding the progress of students receiving Tier 3 intensive intervention.

Teachers contact families if they see that the child is in need of more support. Teachers and families work together to support, assist, and guide the students.

Students in Temporary Housing (STH) Support

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-STH Section and in accordance with the federal McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act and Chancellor's Regulation A-780, schools must identify, serve, and report on students living in temporary housing (STH). All Title I and non-Title I schools receive a Title I allocation for STH students. The Students in Temporary Housing (STH) website provides guidance on STH pupils and how these funds can be used to meet their needs, as well as restrictions. For more information on acceptable uses of the mandated Title I, Part A set-aside to support your STH population, please refer to the Title I STH Funds Toolkit.

Identify the number of Students in Temporary Housing who are currently attending your school and provide a breakdown of their temporary housing status. Since the number of STH children can change regularly, schools must carefully track this number to determine whether there has been an increase in need.

Number of students in temporary housing who are:

- Doubled up (with friends or relatives because they cannot find or afford housing):
- Living in a shelter or transitional shelter:
- Living in a hotel/motel:
- Other

*Note: In keeping with established practices regarding personally identifiable information, use the letter "s" to identify a number less than five (5).

PS 166Q currently has 92 students in temporary housing.

40 students who are doubled up
52 students living in a shelter

After a careful analysis of historical demographic, attendance and achievement data for your STH population, what trends do you notice, and how can these trends inform the services and support provided for this population?

After reviewing our school's chronic absenteeism report, we noticed that the 18% of first grade students that scored low in the EOY iReady assessment, live in temporary housing.

Describe the services you are planning to provide to the STH population. How were those services selected to best meet students' needs? How will you (or did you) utilize the STH Title I Survey to select services aligned to need?

As we look to support students and their families who are in temporary housing, we will conduct outreach to families to assess their specific situations and needs. The school will provide any and all school supplies needed (including backpacks, pencils, notebooks, etc.) to any child who is in need. Through our PTA sponsored Equitable School Supplies Project, all students at PS 166 receive identical school supplies. No child will ever feel isolated for having an "off-brand" product. This service is provided at a low cost to families and fully supplemented by the PTA for families in need.

In addition, our school-based guidance team and community organization, Western Queens, will provide counseling services for students and families who find themselves in this difficult situation. Students will be provided with coping strategies for dealing with complex issues such as living in a shelter. Lessons will be conducted for all students on acceptance and patience for all personal family situations.
Services provided are buying school supplies for children in need (backpacks, school supplies).

Prioritizing Students in Foster Care

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-Child Child Abuse and Neglect Intervention and Prevention School Plan and in accordance with the federal Education Law 3244 – Education of Children in Foster Care (Effective 2018) establishes the rights of students placed, or moved, in foster care to:

- Continue attending school of origin if determined to be in their best interest, or, if not, attend school near foster care placement,
- Immediate enrollment, and
- Transportation, if necessary to attend school of origin

Please respond to the questions below.

How many students in foster care are currently enrolled at your school? Provide a detailed breakdown of the social-emotional and academic supports available to them.

We do not have any students in foster care, but if we did, we would do the following:
Social-emotional supports can include At-Risk counseling, check-ins and check-outs, sensory room, and Western Queens referral.

What targeted supports are in place for students in foster care, including those newly transitioning into the foster care system? How does your school ensure these students receive the necessary interventions to promote stability and success?

Communication with foster parents and preventative agency; link to community resources; engage essential staff such as mental health staff and attendance teacher; assist with transportation.

After analyzing historical demographic, attendance, and achievement data for students in foster care, what trends have emerged? How can these insights be used to improve the services and support provided to this population?

This will have to be determined if and when we have foster care students attending our school.

What specific strategies does your school implement to ensure students in foster care, particularly those in transitional grades, receive targeted Social-Emotional Learning (SEL) support? How do these strategies help address academic and behavioral challenges?

Social-emotional supports can include At-Risk counseling to address another transition students may be experiencing; check-ins and check-outs throughout the day as needed; Western Queens referral if continued support is needed after graduating/transitioning from our school; communication with new school to have supports in place once the student begins in their new location. By building a relationship in which the students feel safe and supported.

Section 7: Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Directions: The Parent and Family Engagement Policy should describe how your school will plan and implement effective parent and family engagement activities and/or strategies to improve student academic achievement and school performance. The School-Parent Compact (SPC) is a component of the Parent and Family Engagement Policy (PFEP) that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share this responsibility.

The activities and/or strategies included in your school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy should align with current Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) goals for improving student achievement and should be developed or updated with input and feedback from parent leaders and the Parent Coordinator. In addition, if the school community will be engaged in central parent engagement initiatives, such as Parent Academy, which will provide training for school communities to help strengthen family-school partnerships, please be sure to include these activities in the school's policy.

In Title I schools, the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) represents the Title I parent community in supporting parent and family engagement. The Title I PAC Chairperson will serve in a consultative role with the SLT representing the school’s Title I parents. Schools are encouraged to use the sample Parent and Family Engagement and SPC templates below (which meet federal Title I parent and family engagement requirements) as guidance for updating the school's current policy.

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental engagement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent and family engagement policy that will establish expectations and objectives for meaningful parent and family engagement in the school community. PS 166Q The Henry Gradstein School, in compliance with Section 1116 of Title I, Part A of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), is responsible for creating and implementing a parent and family engagement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between the school and the families. The school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), and Title I Parent Advisory Council as trained volunteers and welcomed members of the school community. Parents receive weekly emails outlining all important information and happenings within the school building and surrounding community.

Support for Parents and Family Members of Title I Students

Parental Involvement and School Quality

The school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy was designed based upon a careful assessment of the needs of all parents/guardians, including parents/guardians of Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners (ML/ELL), and students with disabilities. The school community, with the meaningful involvement of parents and family members, will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent and family engagement policy with Title I parents to improve the academic quality of the school. The findings of the evaluation through school surveys and feedback forms will be used to design strategies to more effectively meet the needs of parents and family members and enhance the school's Title I program. This information will be maintained by the school.

In developing the Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy, parents of Title I participating students, parent members of the school's Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), as well as parent members of the School Leadership Team, were consulted on the proposed Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and asked to survey their members for additional input. To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, the school will:

- actively involve and engage parents and family members in the planning, review, and evaluation of the effectiveness of the school's Title I program as outlined in the School Comprehensive Education Plan, including the implementation of the school's Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact;
- engage all parents in discussion and decisions regarding the required Title I, 1% set-aside funds, which are allocated directly to the school to supplement parent and family engagement activities, including family literacy and parenting skills;

The Parent Coordinator or a dedicated staff person will provide parent workshops based on the assessed needs of the parents of children who attend the school and will work to ensure that the school environment is welcoming and inviting to all parents. The Parent Coordinator will also maintain a log of events and activities planned for parents each month and file a report with the central office.;

- provide opportunities for parents to help them understand the accountability system, e.g., ESSA/State accountability system, student proficiency levels, Annual School Report Card, School Quality Report, Quality Review Report, Learning Environment Survey Report;
- host the required Annual Title I Parent Meeting each school year to advise parents of children participating in the Title I program about the school's Title I funded program(s), their right to be involved in the program, and the parent and family engagement requirements under Title I, Part A, Section 1116 and other applicable sections under ESSA;
- schedule additional parent meetings, e.g., quarterly meetings, with flexible times, such as meetings in the morning or evening, to share information about the school's educational program and other initiatives of the Chancellor and allow parents to provide suggestions;
- translate all critical school documents and provide interpretation during meetings and events as needed.

Encouraging School-Level Parental Involvement

The school will further encourage school-level parent and family engagement by:

Title I Program Information

Part 1: Title I Program Type

Title I Requirements and Strengthening Title I Parent Involvement: Under USDOE's Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), Title I schools are required to address professional learning and parent and family engagement in the Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP). To strengthen parent leadership in Title I schools, and increase the involvement of all parents of Title I eligible children in improving students' academic outcomes, all Title I schools are required to establish a Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) that will serve as the consultative and representative body for all Title I parents in the school to provide voice into the spending of Title I funds.

The SLT is responsible for facilitating consultation with the Title I Parent Advisory Council regarding the joint development of the CEP, Parent and Family Engagement Policy, School Parent Compact (SPC) and the use of the 1% parent involvement set-aside in Title I schools. The Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) Chairperson (or alternate) is expected to attend all regular meetings of the School Leadership Team (SLT). Title I parents, as represented by the Title I PAC Chairperson, must be consulted regarding the use of the Title I 1% set-aside for parent and family engagement. The Title I 1% set-aside funding is used to supplement parent and family engagement activities as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and must be aligned with student achievement goals as outlined in the CEP. For additional guidance on the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC), go to the Protocols and Timeline for Title I Parent and Family Engagement Activities document.

Directions:

- All schools must indicate their Title I status in Part 1.
- All elements of the All Title I Schools section must be completed in Part 2.
- All Targeted Assistance (TA) Schools must also complete the TA Schools Only section in Part 3.
- All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools must also complete the SWP Schools Only section in Part 4.
- If a required component is addressed elsewhere in this plan, you may refer to the section or Priority where the response can be found.

High Quality and Ongoing Professional Learning: Please list below the Priority or section(s) that indicate strategies and activities for high quality professional learning for teachers, principals, staff, and paraprofessionals to enable all students to meet state standards.

Teachers are provided with common planning time to collaborate with their colleagues and plan outpacing and curriculum to align with the Next Generation Standards.

Teachers form Data Inquiry groups to analyze and monitor student progress and growth.

Teachers are provided with professional development for the new district-wide curriculum.

Teachers and staff volunteer to lead professional development at various times of the school year so that they can show their colleagues various skills and strengths.

Teachers will also be provided with PLO schedules provided by District 30.

Part 5: "Conceptual" Consolidation of Funds in SWP Schools

Directions: All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools in NYC are conceptually consolidating their Federal, State, and Local funds, even though the Galaxy system reports the allocations in separate accounting codes1. To be eligible for the flexibility consolidation of Federal funds, a Schoolwide Program school must identify in its Schoolwide plan (CEP) which programs are included in its consolidation and the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool. Additionally, the school plan must document that it has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated2. On the chart below, indicate which Federal, State, and/or local Tax Levy program funds that are consolidated in your school's Schoolwide Program, the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool, and verification that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated.
For the last two columns of this table: Place an (X) in Column A below to verify that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated. Indicate in Column B, the Priority or section that references where a related program activity has been described in this plan.

Explanation/Background

1. Explanation/Background:

Title I Schoolwide Program schools are expected to use the flexibility available to them to integrate services and programs with the aim of enhancing the entire educational program and helping all students reach proficient and advanced levels of achievement. In addition to coordinating and integrating services, Schoolwide Program schools may combine most Federal, State and local funds to provide those services. By consolidating funds from Federal, State, and local sources, a Schoolwide Program school can address its needs using all its available resources. This gives a school more flexibility in how it uses available resources to meet the identified needs of all its students.

Consolidating funds in a Schoolwide Program means that a school treats the funds it is consolidating like they are a single "pool" of funds. In other words, the funds from the contributing programs in the school lose their individual identity and the school has one flexible pool of funds. The school uses funds from this consolidated Schoolwide pool to support any activity of the Schoolwide Program without regard to which program contributed the specific funds used for a particular activity – so long as the use of funds meets the intent and purposes of the programs from which the funds originate. To consolidate funding in a Schoolwide Program, the school does not literally need to combine funds in a single account or pool with its own accounting code. Rather, the word "pool" is used conceptually to convey that a Schoolwide Program school has the use of all consolidated funds available to it for the dedicated function of operating a Schoolwide Program without regard to the identity of those funds.

Consolidating Federal funds in a Schoolwide Program has the following additional advantages:

- Consolidating Federal funds eases the requirements for accounting for funds from each specific program separately, because a Schoolwide school is not required to distinguish among funds received from different sources when accounting for their use.
- A school that consolidates Federal funds in its Schoolwide Program is not required to meet most of the statutory and regulatory requirements of the specific Federal programs included in the consolidation (e.g., semi-annual time and effort reporting for Title I). However, the school must ensure that it meets the intent and purposes of the Federal programs included in the consolidation so that the needs of the intended beneficiaries are met.

2. The intent and purposes of the Federal programs indicated on the chart above (Part 4c of this section) are as follows:

- Title I, Part A – Schoolwide Programs: To upgrade the entire educational program in the school in order to improve the academic achievement of all students, particularly the lowest-achieving students. This includes provision of services for Students in Temporary Housing (STH).
- Title I 1003(a), School Improvement: Comprehensive Support and Improvement (CSI), Additional Targeted Support and Improvement (ATSI) and Targeted Support and Improvement (TSI) Funding:

Support implementation of school improvement plans that aims to improve instruction and address the identified needs

Title II, Part A: Supplementary funding to improve student academic achievement by reducing class size in grades K, 1, 2, and 3, with an emphasis on grades with an average register greater than 20. If space is not available to form additional classes, funds may support push-in teacher(s) to supplement the instructional program. For schools that choose to reduce class size, priority must be given to reducing class size in general education settings and must demonstrate the following:

- Reduce class sizes to 15-18 students or fewer (including the use of co-teaching and floating teachers that bring the student to teacher ratio to one teacher per 15-18 students);
- Be accompanied by a rigorous curriculum, effective teachers, and a sustained, job-embedded professional development plan.

- Title III, Part A: To help ensure that children with limited English proficiency become proficient in English, develop high academic attainment in English, and meet the same challenging State academic content and achievement standards in the core academic subjects that all other children are expected to meet. Another purpose of this program is to increase the capacity of schools to establish, implement and sustain high-quality language instruction programs and English language development programs that assist schools in effectively teaching students with limited English proficiency. Title III, Part A is also designed to promote the participation of parents and communities of limited English proficient children in English language instruction programs.
- Title III Immigrant: Supplementary and enhanced services to immigrant students, in the areas of English language acquisition and content area achievement. Immigrant children and youth are defined as individuals who are aged 3 through 21, have not been attending school in any one or more states for more than three (3) full academic years, and were not born in any state. "State" means the 50 states of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Children born to U.S. citizens abroad, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or any other U.S. territory that is not D.C. or Puerto Rico are to be considered immigrants.
- Title IV, Part A: Title IV funds are for schools that are among those with the greatest needs, have the highest numbers of students from low-income families, are identified for CS, ATSI or TSI, or are identified as persistently dangerous public schools. Allowable uses of funds under well-rounded education, safety and health, and educational technology include direct services for students, professional development for teachers and administrators, and supplemental educational resources. School allocations have been provided for well-rounded education, social emotional learning, cultural responsiveness awareness, professional development to support implementation of technology and blended learning environments, and community coordinators in schools with high rates of students in temporary housing

- Students in Temporary Housing (STH): Schools must describe their use of Title I STH funds in their consolidated application.

Important Note: The following funds may not be consolidated:

- Title I Parent Involvement Set-aside: Title I, Part A funds must support parent involvement activities and programs. Chancellor's Regulation A-655 requires School Leadership Teams to consult with Title I parent representatives regarding the Title I program and the use of these funds. Parent involvement activities funded through Title I must be included in the Parent and Family Engagement Policy and aligned with student achievement goals in the school comprehensive educational plan.
- IDEA: To ensure that all children with disabilities have available to them a free appropriate public education designed to meet their individual needs.
- Grant funds awarded via a competitive process: These funds must be used for the purposes specified by the Grantor, as described in the school's approved grant application.

This is an annual plan of how your school will support the linguistic and academic needs of MLs/ELLs and must be completed yearly. The Language Allocation Policy (LAP) is a part of schools' Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP).

This is a living document. Any school-wide changes involving the instruction of MLs/ELLs, such as the addition or expansion of a Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) or Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) program, should be updated in this form.

Agenda, minutes of LAP meetings, and LAP team members' attendance at meetings should be kept readily available on file in the school with all other ML/ELL critical documents. When preparing your school's submission, provide extended responses in the available spaces.

For additional information, refer to the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs. For additional support with ML/ELL policy, please reach out to your respective ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance Performance Specialist; for support with ML/ELL instruction, please contact your ML/ELL Services Administrator.

Part II: Bilingual Programs

Does your school have a bilingual program (Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) or Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE)?

Yes

Provide the number of classrooms for each bilingual program, by grade, at your school for the 2025-26 school year. If submitted before the 2025-26 school year begins, this should be the anticipated number of classrooms based on anticipated enrollment. Each language and program model--Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) or Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE)--is considered a separate program. In the second column, please indicate if the program is General Education (GE), Integrated Co-Teaching (ICT) special education, Special Class (SC), or Mixed-Group Class (MGC) special education. If a classroom bridges two grades, list as 0.5 classrooms for both grades.

Part III: ML/ELL Programming

Please refer to New York State Commissioner's Regulation (CR) Part 154 Units of Study Tables as you describe academic programming for MLs/ELLs at your school below. Please do not leave any fields blank and indicate "N/A" for any fields that are not applicable.

Describe your English as a New Language (ENL), and if applicable Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE), and Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs. For each program, include:

- How stand-alone ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How integrated ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How students are grouped (e.g., block [class travels together as a group], ungraded [all students regardless of grade are in one class], heterogeneous [mixed proficiency levels], homogenous [proficiency level is the same in one class]).

a. English as a New Language (ENL)
Stand-alone ENL:

Stand-alone English as a New Language

In this program, we emphasize English acquisition through the use of ENL strategies, methodologies, and techniques such as visuals, repetition, TPR, and graphic organizers. Our goal is to assist students in achieving the state-designated level of English proficiency for their grades and to help MLL/ELL students meet or exceed New York State Standards. Our students are grouped heterogeneously in a block class in each grade and are mixed in proficiency level. As per CR Part 154, all MLLs are provided ENL instruction time based on their proficiency level according to the NYSITELL or NYSESLAT. Students receive English language development instruction taught by an NYS TESOL licensed teacher in order to acquire the English language needed for success in core content areas (English Language Arts, Social Studies, Science, and Math.) This instruction is in all four modalities (listening, speaking, reading, and writing) of English. Data from the NYSESLAT, NYSITELL, iReady, Acadience Learning as well as end of unit ELA assessments from HMH's Into Reading are used to make instructional decisions to best support each ELL in each of the modalities. Based on the data student's needs are met using Heggerty, Fundations as well as different resources within HMH's Into Reading. Within HMH, Tabletop Mini lessons: English Language Development is used to support the growth of all four modalities ands to meet the students where they are. Rigby Readers and the Read and Response Journals are also utilized to provide students with easier texts while still teaching the grade level ELA and Language standards.

Integrated ENL:

Students receive core content areas (English Language Arts, Social Studies, Science, and Mathematics) and English language development instruction including home language supports and appropriate ELL scaffolds. Students are grouped in a block heterogeneously. Integrated ENL along with a subject area taught is dependent upon the student's proficiency level. Children in grades K-5 at levels entering and emerging are provided with integrated ENL with ELA. For transitioning and expanding levels, the integrated ENL is with any content area that best meets the needs of the individual child. English acquisition through the use of ENL strategies, methodologies, and techniques such as visuals, repetition, TPR, and graphic organizers. Our students are grouped by mixed proficiency levels. Students are grouped based on the skill and the lesson taught based on previous assessments or a mid lesson formative assessment to best support their language needs.

b. Bilingual Education (If applicable)
Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE):

N/A

Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE):

Our Dual Language Program is a developmental, heterogeneous, language-enriched bilingual education program that integrates native English speakers with native speakers of Spanish for all of the content areas of instruction. All students in our Dual Language Program develop their second-language skills while learning content knowledge in both languages. Both groups provide good linguistic models for each other and through their interactions, support language development in both languages. Students are expected to build academic skills in their first language and eventually transfer these skills to the second language. ELLs and English proficient students are linguistically integrated for all content area instruction in all grades. In our side-by-side configuration, there are two classes that receive instruction from two teachers. The two teachers plan all instruction together in order to meet the academic and linguistic objectives of all the students. Instruction in reading, writing, math, science, and social studies is delivered in both English and Spanish every other day. In grades K, 1, 2 and 3 students follow the Alternative Day Variant of the 50:50 Model. The classroom involves two teachers, two linguistically integrated classes, and two separate classrooms. In grades 4 and 5 there is only one teacher who will be teaching in English one day and Spanish the next. These grades will follow the Alternating Day Variant of 50:50 Models as well. All classes utilize the HMH Into Reading Curriculum for English and HMH ¡Arriba La Lectura! Curriculum for Spanish.

Stand-alone English as a New Language

In this program, we emphasize English acquisition through the use of ENL strategies, methodologies, and techniques such as visuals, repetition, TPR, and graphic organizers. Our goal is to assist students in achieving the state-designated level of English proficiency for their grades and to help MLL/ELL students meet or exceed New York State Standards. Our students are grouped heterogeneously in a block class in each grade and are mixed in proficiency level. As per CR Part 154, all MLLs are provided ENL instruction time based on their proficiency level according to the NYSITELL or NYSESLAT. Students receive English language development instruction taught by an NYS TESOL licensed teacher in order to acquire the English language needed for success in core content areas (English Language Arts, Social Studies, Science, and Math.) This instruction is in all four modalities (listening, speaking, reading, and writing) of English. Data from the NYSESLAT, NYSITELL, iReady, Acadience Learning as well as end of unit ELA assessments from HMH's Into Reading are used to make instructional decisions to best support each ELL in each of the modalities. Based on the data student's needs are met using Heggerty, Fundations as well as different resources within HMH's Into Reading. Within HMH, Tabletop Mini lessons: English Language Development is used to support the growth of all four modalities ands to meet the students where they are. Rigby Readers and the Read and Response Journals are also utilized to provide students with easier texts while still teaching the grade level ELA and Language standards.

2. How does your school ensure the mandated number of instructional minutes are provided according to students' English language proficiency levels in each program model?

Students in ENL classes receive all instruction in English. As per New York State CR Part 154 regulations, all MLLs/ELLs who score at the Entering or Emerging levels on the NYSESLAT receive 360 minutes of ENL weekly. Transitioning and Expanding receive 180 minutes of ENL and 180 minutes of ELA weekly. All of our students are provided with high-quality instruction using scaffolding strategies in the delivery of the lessons. To achieve this, instruction is differentiated depending on the needs of each individual student and the data from the NYSITELL, Spanish Lab, NYSESLAT, ELA, iReady, Acadience Learning, end of unit HMH Into Reading assessments, and other assessments. The classroom teacher is a certified ENL teacher who is providing the services and /or a certified ENL teacher is either providing stand-alone or Integrated ENL for the appropriate amount of minutes needed.

3. How are ENL, English Language Arts (ELA) and if applicable, Home Language Arts (HLA) instructional minutes delivered in each program model?

Depending on the model and class the student is in the ENL minutes are delivered in different ways. First, as per CR part 154 all ELL program minutes are determined by the NYSESLAT or NYSITELL results. Once the number of minutes is determined for each student then a program is created for them depending on their needs and their class. For students in a self-contained ENL class, instruction is delivered by an TESOL certified teacher. During their day they receive their mandated Stand Alone ENL instructional minutes as well as their Integrated ENL minutes. In these classrooms the teacher also provided ELA instruction using resources and teaching scaffolds that support all ELLs in the classroom to best meet their needs in English language acquisition. Other students may be in a class that does not have an TESOL certified teacher. These students have a TESOL certified ENL teacher provide push-in and or pull out ENL instruction depending on their mandated minutes which is determined by their proficiency level. We create a schedule so the ENL teacher pushes in during ELA lesson to support students with HMH Into Reading lessons.

4. For schools with Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) programs:

a. Which Dual Language Bilingual Education model is implemented? Explain how much of the instructional day (percentage) English proficient students and ELLs are integrated.

Depending on the grade and the number of students different models are implemented. In grades K,1, 2 and 3 our school implements a side-by-side configuration where there are two classes that receive instruction from two teachers in two different languages. One in English and one in Spanish. The classes then switch the next day and receive instruction in the other language. In grades 4 and 5 our school implements a self contained teaching model where the teacher will teach in English one day and then in Spanish the next. Classes are configured so that there is a balanced number of English proficient speakers and ELLs in each class. Therefore these students are integrated 100% of the day throughout the year.

b. In which language(s) is each core content area taught?

Each core content is taught in English and Spanish. One day all instruction is in English. The following day the lessons are in Spanish and a continuation of the previous day's lessons. ELA, Math, Science, and Social Studies are taught in English when it is an English day, and Spanish when it is a Spanish day.

5. For schools with Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs:

a. Which core content areas are taught bilingually?

N/A

Part IV: Data Analysis

Data Analysis

After reviewing and analyzing school demographic and assessment data, answer the following questions. The ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) provided by the Office of Multilingual Learners can assist with identifying these data points.

For additional information, refer to Data Analysis Professional Learning Module and ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) Professional Learning Module.

1. What is the composition of the ELL subgroups at your school?
What percentage of ELLs are Newcomers? How does effective instruction for Newcomers differ from those provided to Developing or Long-Term ELLs?

We have a total of 728 (not including 3K/Pre-K) students in our school. According to the Spring 2025 EDAT, the current ELLs for this year are 187 students. The ENL teacher provides content area support to the students using ENL methodologies, instructional strategies, and scaffolding techniques such as modeling, bridging, contextualization, schema building, text representation, and metacognitive development for all ELLs. In addition, the thematic alignment of modules from Into Reading will be used.
The percentage of ELLs that are Newcomers is 88%. While we provide supports for all ELLs such as Developing and Long Term ELLs there are additional supports for Newcomers. For Newcomers, ENL licensed teachers will use and provide more supports such as more wait time when asked a question, ensuring to use of multiple modalities within each lesson; native language supports are incorporated when possible. Other considerations may include, buddying these students up with other students with more academic experience. Social-emotional support is key for newcomers to thrive. . Also within HMH the additional resource of the Tabletop Minilessons: English Language Development along with the graphic organizers will be used to support ELLs during small group instruction. Newcomers also need more support learning basic language skills. It is for this reason that Newcomer receive more time and support learning phonics through Wilson's Fundations and are also provided phonemic awareness support with Heggerty. Newcomers are provided additional phonics instruction either during and stand alone ENL instruction or dug in small group instruction. Newcomers are also given access to Amira Learning Reading assistant both in the classroom and at home to help support their letter sound correspondence and to strengthen their reading ability, fluency, and overall comprehension. ENL teachers make instructional decisions based on diagnostic as well as periodic assessments to see how they can best serve each of their students.

What percentage of ELLs are Students with Inconsistent/Interrupted Formal Education (SIFE)? How do you differentiate effective instruction for SIFE?

Currently our school does not have any SIFE students. As a school we understand that SIFE students need more support since they have not been provided with the education that they should have been receiving. As a school we know that we must support the whole child. It is for this reason that SIFE students are provided with a partner student with more academic and English language knowledge. Their partner speaks their native language so they are provided with more time to practice their listening and speaking skills in both their native language and English. This also helps to support the social and emotional well being of the student so that they feel welcome and supported at our school. The student is also provided access to text in their home language in the classroom. To support the student's English language acquisition, the ENL teacher utilizes ENL methodologies, instructional strategies, and scaffolding techniques such as modeling, bridging, contextualization, schema building, text representation, and metacognitive development that are similar to what they would use with a Newcomer student. As a SIFE student they also need more support learning basic English language skills. They receive more time and support learning phonics through Wilson's Fundations and are also provided phonemic awareness support with Heggerty. They also are given access to Amira Learning Reading assistant both in the classroom and at home to help support their letter sound correspondence and to strengthen their reading ability, fluency, and overall comprehension. ENL teachers make instructional decisions based on diagnostic as well as periodic assessments to see how they can best serve each of their students.

What percentage of ELLs are Long-Term ELLs? How does effective instruction for Long-Term ELLs differ from instruction designed for Developing ELLs?

While we do not have any Long-Term ELLs, currently 0% of our ELL population are considered potential Long Term ELLs. For these students, the ENL teachers provides content area support to the students using ENL methodologies, instructional strategies, and scaffolding techniques such as modeling, bridging, contextualization, schema building, text representation, and metacognitive development. For our 3.8% potential long-term ELLs, we take preventative measures so they do not become long-term ELLs. First, these students are provided small group instruction when possible. In looking at the EDAT report most of these students have also scored a 1 or a 2 in Math over the last 2 years. Therefore these students are provided further support in Math as well as in ELA. In addition, RTI and AIS can be provided to cater to the student's individual needs based on the data from different assessments.
Also, while the school supports all four language modalities for every ELL, there will be a greater focus on explicit writing instruction for potential long-term ELLs since this has been a traditionally challenging modality. Finally, we continue to monitor these students through continuous progress monitoring of different skills to see how we can best support them throughout the year.

What percentage of students are former ELLs? How is your school providing mandated instruction to former ELLs?

The percentage of students who are former ELLs at our school at this time is 2.9%. For the next two years they are entitled to receive language support services, which can include integrated ENL i core subjects or AIS. The are provided testing accommodations on state assessments. Classroom teachers and ENL teachers meet to discuss and monitor students' progress. Former ELLs are regularly monitored for their language development and academic progress to ensure they can continue to succeed in their coursework without additional support.

2. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of ELLs at your school?

In looking at the at risk levels that might affect ELLs for our school, the highest percentage are the ELLs that are Newcomers at 87.2% which decreased 1.4% from the EDAT Fall of 2024. The At-risk levels for ELLs at our school can be influence by academic and linguistic challenges, like vocabulary and grammar. Socio-cultural barriers and socio-emotional issues can affect the ELLs at our school. We are supporting this population of students in numerous ways. For example, English Language Development is used to support the growth of all four modalities ands to meet the students where they are. Rigby Readers and the Read and Response Journals are also utilized to provide students with easier texts while still teaching the grade level ELA and Language standards. The second biggest risk factor is our ELLs in temporary housing which is 39.0% of ELLs which decreased from 44.3% according to the Fall 2024 EDAT. We provide our STH population with devices with internet that can be used in the shelters. Constant check-ins with families via email, WhatsApp, and our parent coordinator, family worker, and school social worker. Finally, the last trend that is noticeable is that 35.3% of our ELLs did not demonstrate sufficient ELP progress. This shows an increase of of 3.9% compared to the EDAT of Fall 2024 which was 31.4%. To support English language learners, we will continue to create a supportive environment by encouraging consistent practice in speaking, listening, reading, and writing through engaging activities like having conversations, and reading books.

3. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect former ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of former ELLs at your school?

In looking at the at risk level that might affect former ELLs at our school, the highest percentage is 9.5% as per the 2025 EDAT for former ELLs who scored Level 1 or 2 last year. The next highest percentage is 21% of Former ELLs who scored a level 1 or 2 on the New York State Math Exam. Teachers support these ELLs providing formative assessment to see if they are learning the grade level standards. When students are not learning the standards they are then provided further support such as small group instruction in both Math and ELA to help support their needs in both of these areas. 79% of former ELLs have 1 or fewer risk factors which shows that we are supporting or former ELLs in meeting their academic needs.

4. What are the home languages of ELLs with the largest representation at your school? What staff, structures, and processes does your school have to support communication and learning that values these home languages?

The home languages of ELLs with the largest representation at our school are Spanish at a total of 137, Arabic at 15, Bengali at 13, Russian at 5, Portuguese at 4, Albanian at 3, Chinese at 3, Pashto at 2, and German, Punjabi are at one each and two fall under Other
We have over a dozen staff that speak/read/write in Spanish and are readily available to provide verbal and written communication and support learning. We also have staff members who speak/read/write in Bengali that supports communication and learning. Blast emails go to families on a weekly basis in English and Spanish and are also available in all the languages represented in our school. In addition, all teachers use ClassDojo to communicate with their students' families in their home language. The school also has an English and Spanish Dual Language program which shows our commitment to our Spanish speaking stakeholder. Our school website is also available in our family's home language to provide easy access to important information.

5. What are the racial and ethnic classifications of ELLs at your school? How are ELLs being included in planning and delivery of Culturally Responsive and Sustaining Education (CR-SE)?

Based on our 2025 Spring EDAT, eight non-Hispanic ELLs (15.4%) and 87 (64.4%) Hispanic ELLs are American Indian or Alaskan Native making it a total of 95 ELLs (50.8%) . We have 18 (34.6%) Non-Hispanic ELLs who are Asian. Three (5.8 %) Non-Hispanic ELLs and four (3.0%) Hispanic ELLs are black, which is a total of seven (3.7%). Two (1.5%) Hispanic ELLs are Multiracial. One (1.9%) Non-Hispanic ELL is Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander.

Eight (5.9%) Hispanic ELLs are Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander with a total of nine (94.8%). We have 22 (42.3%) Non-Hispanic ELLs and 34 (25.2%) Hispanic ELLs with at total of 56 (29.9%) are White. Throughout the year we celebrate all ethnicities, culture and heritage with different celebrations and events. Some of these include but are not limited to spirit weeks where students wear colors or shirts to represent these cultures. We also incorporate culturally-themed assemblies where students learn about music and dances that represent our community. We have different programs such as CASA that come in to celebrate and teach about different cultures. This year students in the CASA program learned about the Chinese culture through songs and dance. Everyday we have morning announcements where cultures are represented and student read facts about these cultures so all students not only feel represented but learn about different cultures. Furthermore, there is a daily movement break and music from different countries are played depending on the culture that is being celebrated or recognized for that month. Classrooms are also encouraged to have lesson and celebrations where cultures that represent the class and school are taught and represented. All together all of these efforts created a welcoming and affirming environment where children can feel safe and represented. We encourage our teachers to have high expectations and rigorous instruction. Our school environment is academically rigorous and intellectually challenging, but at the same time acknowledge the different ways students learn. We promote an inclusive curriculum to elevate historically marginalized voices. Students can see themselves in the lessons through stories, and activities where they share their culture and traditions. In addition, we expect ongoing professional learning where learners develop and sharpen a critically conscious lens.

6. What trends do you notice in reviewing English Language Proficiency (ELP) growth at your school? How many students met ELP sufficient progress? How many students did not meet ELP sufficient progress?

We had 22 (21.3%) students who are on track to exit ELL services according to the 2025 EDAT. 12.6 % (13 students) met progress by exiting ELL status and 8.7% (9 students) met safe harbor cumulative growth. We have 66 students (64.1%) who did not meet ELP sufficient progress.

7. When you look at the results of the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT), what stands out? What trends are there for each modality?

When looking at the results of the NYSESLAT what stands out is that the first and second grade students, scored higher in reading than in writing, listening, and speaking. The third and fifth grade scored higher in speaking than in reading, writing and listening. The fourth grade scored the same for listening and speaking. The trend that is most noticeable is the writing is weak across all grades.

8. What is the relationship between students' performance on the NYSESLAT and other state assessments such as the ELA assessment, the Math assessment, and the Regents exams?

Most ELLs performed at a level one on the ELA (21 students) and Math (15 students) assessments. This includes, two entering ELLs, three Emerging ELLs, 11 Transitioning ELLs, five Expanding ELLs and zero Commanding ELLs for ELA. For Math, four Entering ELLs, one Emerging ELL, eight Transitioning ELLs, two Expanding ELLs and zero Commanding ELLs.

For level 2 on the ELA and Math assessments. there are five Expanding ELLs and one Commanding ELL that scored at a level 2 for ELA and seven Transitioning, four Expanding, and one Commanding for level 1 Math.

ELL students who scored a level 3 on the state assessments are as follows: one ELL commanding student for ELA and for Math, there were two Emerging ELLs, four Expanding, and one Commanding ELLs.

Lastly, for level 4 in ELA and Math state assessments, one Commanding ELL student performed at a level 4 for ELA and two Commanding ELL students performed at a level 4 for Math.

9. What are trends reflected in the NYSESLAT results of ELL subgroups such as ELLs with IEPs and SIFE? What do you think is impacting the results for these subgroups?

ELL students with IEPs did not perform as well as the students without IEPs. Out of the 32 students who are at an Entering proficiency level, four of them have IEPs. Out of 37 students who are at an Emerging proficiency level, nine have IEPs. Out of 40 ELL students at the Transitioning level, 12 of them have IEPs. Out of the 33 ELLs at the Expanding level, eight of them have IEPs. We do not have any students who are at the commanding level with IEPs.

We do not have any SIFE students.

Part V: ML/ELL Instruction

Tier 1: Core Instruction

For additional information, refer to ML/ELL Instruction Professional Learning Module.

Tier 1 Core Instruction

1. How does your school provide ELLs with a high-quality academic experience that leads to deeper learning?

Our school believes in supporting students' social-emotional well-being as well as providing academic support. This is especially true of ELLs since they or their families may not speak English. We start by making sure they feel welcome and represented in our school community. We celebrate many different cultures in many different ways so that all students and families feel welcome. Our school also supports the different languages of our stakeholders by having many staff members that speak different languages, by providing dual language classes and by supporting all families that speak different languages to make sure we are able to communicate with them and hear their needs.

To provide them with a high quality academic experience we offer an array of different programs and areas of study. In their classroom teachers provide differentiated instruction to meet the needs of all learners. Teachers provide all students, including ELLs with small group instruction as well as more supports to make sure they are getting support in the the learning standards that they struggle with. This is supported by providing different assessments throughout the year, analyzing data throughout the year and then creating differentiated groups. This is done for ELA, Math, Science and Social Studies.

Students also have the opportunity to learn about different things with their cluster teachers. We offer gym, library, theater, dance, art, science, math, phonics and health. In partnership with our PTA we also offer different enrichment programs such as chess, music, and architecture. All of this leads to a deeper learning of the core subject areas as well as in different subjects foster appreciation of learning.

2. How does your school's leadership team ensure ELLs have access to core instruction/curriculum?

The team meets to discuss data results from Acadience (K-2), iReady Math (K-5) iReady Reading (3-5) from BOY, MOY, and EOY. We look at the subgroups and use this information to drive our instructional approach for MLs/ELLs and other subgroups. We look for trends and compare our findings to previous years. The instructional design is created with the children's best interests in mind. We have certified teachers who service our MLs/ELLs. We provide plenty of resources for all our learners that support individual student needs. In addition, teachers use multiple entry points, scaffolding, graphic organizers, visuals, etc. to support our MLL/ELL children. In addition, iReady Reading in Spanish is used to assess our Dual Language classes at the beginning, middle, and end of the year.

Teachers decide how the children will be group depending on the lesson and needs of each individual student. There are times when students are working with peer that are the same English proficiency levels or heterogeneously grouped. The English language development needs of students addressed by their certified ENL classroom teacher, or by working with an ENL in a smaller group to receive integrated English Language Development within content area classes and/or at a designated/targeted time.

3. Describe how core content is delivered in each program model. Specify language, and the instructional approaches and methods to foster language development and meet the demands of the Next Generation Learning Standards.

All students in our Dual Language program develop their second-language skills while learning content knowledge in English and Spanish. The HMH Into Reading curriculum is used. Weekly and unit assessments are used to see if instruction is helping support students in meeting the grade level standards for both English and Spanish. Both groups provide effective linguistic models for each other and through their interactions, support language level and English proficiency. Students are linguistically integrated for all content area instruction in all grades. Additional instructional support above and beyond the units of study should be considered to ensure each ELL's individual needs are met. Scaffolding, differentiated instruction, interactive word walls, vocabulary with images/pictures, graphic organizers, and websites such as Starfall are an example of the approaches and methods used to foster language development and meet the demands of the Next Generation Learning Standards. The ENL classrooms' language of instruction is English. For the Dual Language classrooms, the language of instruction for the English classes is in English, and Spanish for the Spanish classrooms. For the classes where there is only one Dual Language class on the grade, the instruction is in English one day and the following day the instruction is in Spanish. The reading program used is Into Reading: Arriba la Lectura. HMH Into Reading has English Language Development lessons and Arriba la lectura is a trans adapted Spanish curriculum. Amplify Science, Passport Social Studies, and most Math curriculums also provide bilingual resources. Teachers promote language development in integrated and standalone ENL by using a mix of explicit instruction and hands-on activities.
This includes making content comprehensible through visuals, teaching key vocabulary, and building on students' background knowledge. In both settings, providing opportunities for peer interaction and language production through structured activities, discussions, and creative tasks like retelling stories is crucial

4. What instructional strategies and grade-level materials, including technology, do teachers of MLs/ELLs use to provide access to grade level academic content areas and accelerate English language development? Include core content area and language materials with consideration to specific ELL subgroups.

a. ELLs with IEPs

Special Education students not meeting proficiency levels in English are provided with Integrated ENL services which are provided by certified ENL teachers. Adults who serve students with IEPs always read what the child's IEP states and familiarize themselves with the child's goals. All parties involved are in constant communication with one another and provide their services in the least restrictive environment for the child. In other words, all service providers are in constant communication with the classroom teacher to ensure that ELL with an IEP achieves their IEP goals to attain English language proficiency within the least restrictive environment. If necessary a service provider might provide support in the classroom setting, one-on-one, or in a small group. This all depends on the IEP goals for each individual child. Furthermore, Into Reading has a feature that reads the text aloud for students on the HMH platform, providing access by leveraging listening skills while reading skills are developing. In addition, manipulatives may be used in mathematics to model situations concretely.

b. SIFE

For our SIFE children we will follow the proper steps that are indicated in the Policy and Reference Guide for Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners to provide instructional strategies and grade-level materials, including technology to support our learners. Some specific resources that we plan to leverage for these students are phonics instruction, home language support, a buddy program, SEL check-ins. Supports within the HMH into Reading curriculum are also used such as the Tabletop Mini-lessons: English Language Development, Rigby readers, Read and response journals and the Amira Learning reading assistant.

Instruction leverage MLs/ELLs' home language(s), cultural assets, and prior knowledge by creating a more inclusive, affirming, and successful learning environment. For example, Translanguaging allows students to use both English and their home language to make meaning, think critically, and express themselves. Visuals help scaffold comprehension and bridge to English proficiency. Peer collaboration can support learning through mutual assistance and explanation. Culturally Responsive Teaching validates students' identities and boosts engagement. Using stories and figures from diverse cultures helps students see themselves reflected in what they are learning. Activating prior knowledge is done through scaffolding such as sentence frames, graphic organizers, and breaking tasks into smaller parts. In addition, in order to make meaningful connections, teachers connect to students' experiences by using personal cultural, or linguistic backgrounds to help the children make connections to the content.

c. Newcomers

Many of our ELLs who have been in the country for less than three years receive small group instruction to help with reading, phonics, writing, and math. Highly qualified and certified ENL teachers provide high-quality instruction in English acquisition, ELA, and math using a variety of ENL methodologies. Including vocabulary instruction, integrated ENL & standalone ENL materials, and the Home language support- Into Reading/Arriba la Lectura. With CR-SE in mind, teachers make sure that all children are represented in the classroom through literature, activities, projects, etc. Because our newcomers are at different proficiency levels, the instruction is always differentiated according to the students' levels and abilities where remediation or acceleration is used accordingly. Supports within the HMH into Reading curriculum are also used such as the Tabletop Mini-lessons: English Language Development, Rigby readers, Read and response journals and the Amira Learning reading assistant.

d. Long Term ELLs

Long Term ELLs receive services for 7 or more years. These are ELLs identified under CR Part 154 who have received English as a new language instruction, as a component of their bilingual education or freestanding English as a new language program, for seven (7) or more enrolled school years in the NYC DOE. Instruction is focused on enriching and amplifying their vocabulary and strengthening their reading comprehension. Students who do not increase their NYSESLAT score from year to year receive MTSS. The following are considered when planning, adapting, and delivering instruction for long term ELLs or potential long term ELLs? These include: building background knowledge, targeting vocabulary development, increasing access to grade level texts, using home language supports, and using peers as resources. Test accommodations are made for all ELL students on the NYS exams where applicable. ELLs and former ELLs are given the allowable time and a half accommodation. With CR-SE in mind, teachers make sure that all children are represented in the classroom through literature, activities, projects, etc. Students will be provided with opportunities to participate in discussions with peers to practice their listening and speaking skills. They will brainstorm, organize, outline, and write about different themes based on the Into Reading curriculum. They will use subject-based vocabulary words to explain their thinking in math and ELA. The will use anchor charts, word walls, images, and technology as resources to deepen their understanding of the content.

5. What supports does your school provide to ELLs with IEPs to achieve their IEP goals and attain English language proficiency within the least restrictive environment?

Special Education students not meeting proficiency levels in English are provided with Integrated ENL services which are provided by certified ENL teachers. Adults who serve students with IEPs always read what the child's IEP states and familiarize themselves with the child's goals. All parties involved are in constant communication with one another and provide their services in the least restrictive environment for the child. In other words, all service providers are in constant communication with the classroom teacher to ensure that ELL with an IEP achieves their IEP goals to attain English language proficiency within the least restrictive environment. If necessary a service provider might provide support in the classroom setting, one-on-one, or in a small group. This all depends on the IEP goals for each individual child. our school uses curricular, instructional, and scheduling flexibility to support ELLs with IEPs with IEP goals and language acquisition. Our school uses curricular, instructional, and scheduling flexibility to support ELLs with IEPs with IEP goals and language acquisition. Integrated ENL leverages the resources provided by the literacy curriculum (Into Reading) for English Language Development so that students continue to be immersed in the themes and skills of focus for each module. Instructional support that Ells with IEP can receive are, Modified or scaffolded instruction, explicit vocabulary instruction, small-group or one-on-one instruction, multi-sensory instruction, use of native language when possible, visuals and graphic organizers, chunking content, repetition and rephrasing, opportunities to structured academic conversations, sentence stems or frames, use of gestures, visuals, and realia to aid in understanding.

6. How is home language assessed in each program model (DLBE, TBE, and ENL)?

We emphasize English language acquisition through the use of ENL strategies, methodologies, and techniques such as visuals, repetition, TPR, and graphic organizers. Our goal is to assist students in order to be able to achieve the New York State-designated level of English proficiency for their grade level. We hope for all students to meet each of the New Generation Learning Standards in all areas of core instruction. Home language support is provided in Spanish and in English and assessment is done in both languages. iReady for Reading in Spanish in all grades and Acadience for English for the lower grades.

7. (For grades 6-12 only) What language electives are offered to MLs/ELLs? How is your school preparing MLs/ELLs to obtain the New York State Seal of Biliteracy?

N/A

8. Describe systems and structures for supporting co-teaching and collaboration among teachers for all ELL program models available at your school (e.g. integrated co-teaching, Dual Language Bilingual Education teacher partnerships, etc.).

Our school currently has an ENL program and a Dual Language (Spanish) program to support our ELLs. For our ENL program the classroom teachers collaborate with the ENL teachers to help plan differentiated instruction for ELLs. ENL teachers help to provide supports and additional resources for ELLs during HMH, Heggerty, and Foundation instruction. Some of these supports and resources may include modified texts, additional vocabulary, graphic organizers, and sentence starters for class or group discussions. These resources may be in English or in a student's home language to provide a scaffold if needed. Teachers also collaborate to modify questions within the HMH curriculum to support classroom and small group discussion during a lesson. Therefore, ENL and classroom teachers collaborate when providing supports as well as to differentiate materials to make the curriculum more accessible to ELLs.

For our Dual Language program teachers are provided the same planning periods each day of the week so they can plan together. This is especially critical since the teachers need to communicate and work together to cover all the material for each lesson in the curriculum in each of the languages. During this time teacher work together to plan lessons as well as how they will differentiate instruction for all their students with the data from formative and summative assessments.

9. Describe how your overall, annual professional learning plan ensures that all staff – including administrators, teachers and -non-pedagogical staff – incorporates learning specifically related to the academic and social emotional needs of MLs/ELLs. Professional learning topics might include co-teaching strategies, or integrating language and content instruction.

There are multiple horizontal and vertical teacher teams within the building. This collaborative learning environment ensures that the academic and social-emotional needs of our ELLs are met. Teachers and other staff members are constantly working with each other to better address the needs of our students, specifically the ELLs. Teachers and other staff members are given the opportunity to attend District 30 PLOs throughout the year and turnkey the information to the rest of the staff on Monday afternoons. This provides them with constant resources to help them develop academically. Staff is provided with monthly SEL slide decks to review incorporate into their teaching.

10. Describe your school's professional development plan in order to meet the mandated Continuing Teacher and Leader Education (CTLE) ELL specific hours for certification renewal as per CR Part 154 (15% of total hours for all certified faculty [holders of professional certificates in the classroom teaching service, educational leadership service and level III teaching assistant certificate holders] and 50% of total hours for bilingual education/ENL teachers receive ELL-specific professional development).

All ENL and Bilingual teachers are provided with professional development opportunities provided by District 30, or OML (Office of Multilingual Learners). In addition, our staff participates in workshops/PLO provided by in-house staff who have attended PD and then turnkeys the information to the rest of our staff. These take place at least once a month on Monday afternoons. In addition, teachers participate in professional development once a week to meet the CR Part 154 requirements. Specific dates are forthcoming. All professional development opportunities are shared with our staff. They are encouraged to attend in order to meet the 15% ELL-specific professional development as well as the 50% ELL-specific professional development for ENL/bilingual teachers. Teachers monitor their own hours. The payroll secretary has documentation of which professional development teachers attend.

Assessment

SCREENERS

11. Which screening assessments (e.g.iReady, MAP Growth, Acadience, or STAR Reading) does your school use to guide instructional planning for your ELLs?

We are using Acadience, and iReady to guide our instructional planning for our ELLs. From that data, we noted that more focus and attention is needed in vocabulary building which in turn can improve reading comprehension. PS 166 has a curriculum that is aligned with the Next Generation Learning Standards and classroom teachers continuously use a tiered system of instructional support to cater to individual student's needs. Levels of intervention and instruction increase in duration, as needed, as benchmark assessments are given. Interventions are implemented in small groups or as one-to-one instruction. Students who are not succeeding with Tier 2 support are moved into Tier 3. Targeted instruction is given during the school day to reinforce skills, strategies, concepts, terminology, and problem-solving.

The screening assessment data guides instructional planning because the teachers see students' strengths and they use this information to support them with what needs to be developed. Using multiple entry points, scaffolding, and encouraging students' voices focuses on ILF priority 2.

DLBE Program how is Spanish literacy is assessed by iReady.

12. For all grades, list and describe your targeted intervention programs for ELLs in ELA, Math, and other core content areas (specify ELL subgroups targeted). Include the language(s) in which the intervention services are offered.

Students in ENL classes receive all instruction in English. As per NYS CR Part 154 regulations, all ELLs who score at the entering and emerging levels on the NYSITELL and NYSESLAT receive 360 minutes of ENL instructional support weekly. Students scoring in the transitional and expanding level receive 180 minutes of ENL support weekly; both integrated and stand-alone instruction. All of our students are provided with high-quality instruction using scaffolding strategies in the delivery of the lessons. This form of instruction is differentiated depending on the needs of the students and the data obtained from the NYSITELL, LAB-R, NYSESLAT, ELA, Just Right levels, and other summative assessments given in the classroom. Many of our English Language Learners who have been in the country for less than three years and are in need of additional support in English are offered the opportunity to attend our after-school program. During this time, they receive small group tutoring to help with reading, writing, and math. If funding is available, students will be offered the opportunity to participate in a Saturday program, where highly qualified and certified ENL teachers will provide high-quality instruction in ELA and math, using a variety of ENL methodologies. All ELLs receiving services for 4-6 years will focus on enriching and amplifying their vocabulary and strengthening their reading comprehension. Students who do not increase their NYSESLAT score from year to year receive RtI. Test accommodations are made for all ELL students on the NYS exams. ELLs and FELLs (former ELLs) are given the allowable time and a half, in addition to other services if eligible.

13. For all grades, describe how your school uses data to guide instruction for ELLs within a Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS). Refer to the Instructional Leadership Tool for MLs and ELLs and MTSS Guide for MLs and ELLs to help in the development and implementation of your school's plan for MLs/ELLs.

For all of our students, including ELLs, we use the beginning of the year screener exams, iReady and Acadience, to support which students qualify for MTSS services in ELA. Students who scored below the 40th percentile then take a diagnostic assessment. The diagnostic assessment that we are using this year is the WADE (Wilson Assessment of Decoding and Encoding.) We use this assessment to provide more data and to see if the students qualify for the MTSS services. After taking the assessment we plan to use the SPIRE reading program to support the students for Tier 2 and Tier 3 levels of support. SPIRE is a multisensory Orton-Gillingham-based reading program that utilizes the Science of Reading principles to teach students how to read and fill the gaps in their knowledge. We have five teachers that are on our MTSS team that will push in and pull out students to utilize the SPIRE program. One of the teachers is an ENL teacher that will support ELLs in SPIRE to support their growth in reading and English language development. Students will be in small groups of about six students and will be seen three times a week for twenty minutes each. This is integrated into ELLs mandated minutes. The students will be in these groups for an eight week cycle. During this time the students will be progress monitored to track their progress. If a student qualifies for MTSS but we are not able to fit them into the schedule for some reason then they will be in the next cycle.

For ELL students that are not utilizing the SPIRE program we will still use assessment data to provide us with information to support their instruction within their classroom. All students, including ELLs, receive Tier 1 whole-group teaching aligned to the core curriculum. If ELLs do not meet the intended learning objectives, teachers provide Tier 2 targeted small-group instruction. For students who continue to struggle, more intensive, individualized Tier 3 interventions are offered. Vertical and horizontal teacher teams engage daily and weekly to create curriculum-based assessments. Results from all assessments are used to identify individual student needs. We use an MTSS approach to determine levels of intervention that include whole class (Tier 1), small group (Tier 2), and one-to-one (Tier 3) instruction for English Language Learners. Reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills are reinforced and instruction is differentiated. Instruction is enhanced through the use of ENL methodologies such as TPR and visual reinforcements.

FORMATIVE

14. Which formative assessments (e.g. NYC performance Tasks, ELL Periodic Assessment, HLA Assessment, DRA, teacher-created assessments, etc.) are used to inform and drive instruction?

Along with the iReady and Acadience, the teachers also use Fundations Unit Assessments for phonics-focus, end-of-module assessments for HMH into Reading, scores from NYSITELL and NYSESLAT, NYS ELA and Math assessments, teacher-created assessments such as formative checks aligned with daily or weekly instruction (e.g., exit tickets, quizzes, writing prompts) which are used for immediate feedback for tailoring instruction in real time which helps with flexible grouping, re-teaching, and lesson pacing.

15. How do you ensure that MLs/ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their home languages throughout the year?

Native Spanish speakers in our Dual Language program are evaluated in their native language using the Spanish Lab-R and the Spanish language assessment in iReady during the BoY, MoY, EoY testing windows. Teachers use programs such as Estrellita and teacher-created tests to assess learning. Based on the results, small groups will be formed, allowing for differentiated instruction. Common planning time is built into the schedule to allow teachers to compare and analyze the results of all assessments. Horizontal data teams meet monthly to analyze trends and make adjustments to the curriculum. For the students who are taking the NYS exams, the assessments are provided in their home language where applicable. In addition, students are encouraged to identify cognates and read books in their home language to demonstrate what they already know about reading.

SUMMATIVE

16. Which summative assessments (e.g. NYSESLAT, ELA, Math, Regents, etc.) are used to evaluate the effectiveness of your ML/ELL programs and how does it inform instructional design and curricular decisions? (Refer to the ELL Data Analysis Tool).

Teacher teams (Dual Language Special Education, ENL, etc.) meet to participate in planning curricula and units of study utilizing the HMH reading program and Envisions Math. Activities include NYSESLAT, Math, ELA, Science, unit assessments, and teacher-created exams. The results are used to identify the needs of individual students. In addition, data reports are used to provide teachers with necessary data for differentiating instruction and forming AIS groups for students who need additional assistance. Furthermore, teachers keep running records of student progress. Rubrics and checklists are used to provide students with the necessary information to complete a task. Students are aware of their goals and what needs to be done to achieve them. Low-inference conference data is also collected by each teacher. The EDAT indicates that an area of need is writing, therefore we have implemented writing themes to be displayed on the hallway bulletin boards to display students' written work. This is our way of celebrating students' progress and accomplishments while improving their writing.

17. What is your NYSESLAT administration plan? How does your school ensure that all ELLs are tested with the NYSESLAT annually? Include the titles of the staff that will administer and score the assessment. Please describe your plan to ensure that all ELLs and former ELLs continue to receive mandated instruction during the testing period.

Our ENL team meets weekly to monitor our school's ELL population. They keep track of all the MLs/ELLs using a Google Sheet that is updated bi-monthly to add new admits, and remove students that have been discharged. Using this information, along with the ATS reports for years of services, and proficiency levels, the team ensures that all ELLs are testes with the NYSESLAT annually. Ms. Valdez, Ms. Morales, and Ms. Trizulino, are the three teachers that plan and organized the administration of the NYSESLAT. For scoring, the ENL team trains other certified teachers to score the NYSESLAT during the periods the ELLs and former ELLs receive mandated instruction. In addition, the other teachers will also score the NYSESLAT of students who the ELL team services.

18. How does your school ensure that current and former ELLs receive necessary accommodations for state assessments, including the Specialized High School Admissions Test (SHSAT) if applicable?

Each year a testing accommodations memo is created based on the previous year accommodations for each student. Throughout the year the memo is updated to reflect new students that are given updated testing accommodations. The testing coordinator along with the administration go over all testing accommodation for all students to make sure they are being provided. The school then creates a testing memo for each test and has a dry run for each test to make sure the proper accommodations are being followed correctly.

Part VI: Family Partnership

Family Partnership

Required Meetings Under CR Part 154

Describe your schools' plan to ensure families of ELLs are provided with the required meetings specified below as per CR Part 154. Include:

- Topics discussed during these meetings
- How your school ensures families receive necessary translation/interpretation supports to meaningfully engage in the meetings
- How your school schedules these meetings to facilitate attendance, and how your school maintains evidence of these meetings as required per the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs.

a. ELL Program Orientation to inform parents/guardians of newly identified ELLs of ELL program options, including the program goals and requirements for all three ML/ELL program models: Dual Language Bilingual Education, Transitional Bilingual Education and English as a New Language regardless of whether the school currently has either type of bilingual program and provide a high-quality orientation section on the Next Generation Learning Standards, assessments, and school expectations for English Language Learners.

Once a student is identified as an ELL then their families are invited to the ELL Program Orientation. Notices are sent out at least 5 schools days in advance so parents have notice of the orientation and to help facilitate attendance. At the orientation parent sign the attendance so that a record is maintained of which parents have attended the orientation as well as to show evidence of the orientation itself. During the orientation staff that speaks the preferred languages of the families that will attend are asked to attend as well so that families receive the necessary translation and interpretation supports so that they can have their questions answered. If no one on staff speaks the home language of a family that attends the meeting then the orientation staff calls the NYC DOE over-the-phone interpretation line so that the necessary information and questions can be interpreted.
At the orientation they watch the New York State ELL and ML program orientation video in the home language. Afterwards they are given time to ask questions in their home language about their choices and their right as the parent of an ELL. The staff member discusses the different programs that are offered at our school, the expectations and goals for each program as well as how the standards are taught in each program. Once the programs have been discussed the parent is provided time to ask questions and discuss the different program choices. The parent then fills out the ELL parent survey and program agreement. If our school offers the program that they want and if a seat is available then they are placed in the program of their choice. If our school is not able to provide the program of their choice and if they would like to then the attend another school that does offer the programs then we assist the family in finding a school that does offer the program that they would prefer for their child.

b. Annual Individual Meeting to discuss goals of the program, language development progress, language proficiency assessment results, and language development needs in all content areas. Note: this meeting is separate from and does not include the mandated ELL program orientation meeting and DOE-scheduled parent-teacher conferences.

The teachers will schedule individual meetings with each family of ELLs as required by CR-Part 154. During these meetings, the teacher shares the goals of the program, language development progress, English language proficiency assessment results, and language development needs in all content areas are discussed during annual individual meetings with the individual family. If meetings are virtual, the teacher can share her screen to show any important visuals that will help the parents better understand what the teacher is sharing. Again, if an interpreter is needed, the teacher uses Translation and Interpretation services. If it is a one-on-one meeting between the parent and teacher, the teacher documents the meeting on the student's record card. For meeting about the child's program and assessments, these documents are filed safely in the ELL coordinator's office plus included in the child's cumulative folder.

Family Engagement

2. Beyond the mandated meetings and orientations, describe how your school:

a. Ensures families receive all school communications and documents in the language they best understand. How are families able to respond or initiate communications in languages other than English?

Our school keeps a record of the parent preferred language of communication on a student emergency contact card. This information is also available in ATS and is shown on the RAPL report. Since the preferred languages of communication in our school are English and Spanish we send all communication, such as emails and notices, in both languages. Classroom teachers use Class Dojo to communicate with families and it can be translated into the preferred language by families. When families respond to or initiate communication via email or phone we have many people on staff who can read and speak both languages so we can communicate with families. If a parent emails or calls using another language then we can either get a staff member who speaks those languages or use the over the phone interpretation services provided by the DOE. If time allows then we schedule a meeting with the parent so we would be able to plan ahead and have a staff member in the meeting who speaks the parents preferred language to support communication with them.

b. Develops activities that foster empowerment for families of MLs/ELLs. Include how your school determines the needs of your community.

Families are invited to each classroom for various occasions. For example, to make a project, try a variety of cultural foods, or watch a presentation. Families participate in activities where they can share their expertise and bring knowledge and experience into the classroom to enlighten the students and enrich their learning. They share stories from their culture, baking, and cooking recipes, cultural dances, and special costumes or attire. These are just a few examples of how we foster ML/ELL family empowerment. In addition, we ask for parent volunteers to become class parents and be the link between the school and the families at home. Our Parent Coordinator is constantly reaching out to families and informing them about workshops and meetings that will provide them with information about their children. For example, NYC Kids Rise to Save for College program and PTA meetings and events. We invite families to our school for the Parent orientation meetings during the intake process. Our ELL teachers and parent coordinator will be sharing NYS ELL/ML Parent Resources and NYCDOE Helpful links for Families of ELLs. With the help of our parent coordinator, the PTA, and the SLT we determine the needs of our community by communicating with all stakeholders to see how we can best support them. All administrators attend the monthly PTA and SLT meetings so that we can best support our families and the needs of the school community.

c. Ensures families of MLs/ELLs are aware of family leadership opportunities (such as Parent Association (PA), School Leadership Team (SLT), Community Education Council (CEC), etc.)

Similar to any other notice families are made aware of PTA, SLT or CEC opportunities via email. These emails are sent in both English and Spanish which are the preferred languages of communication for our families. This ensures that families are made aware of these opportunities ahead of time. All administrators attend the monthly PTA and SLT meetings so that we can communicate with families to determine which activities are needed by our school community.

3. What culturally and linguistically responsive partnerships do you currently have that support the needs of your school community?

We are partnering with organizations that reflect and support the diverse needs of families in your school community. Usually, students get the opportunity to learn dances and songs from various cultures. One partnership in particular is the CASA (Cultural After School Adventures) which is run by Flushing Town Hall. This after school program supports cultural appreciation of different cultures. In the past students learned about Columbian songs, instruments, clothing and dance. This year students learned about Chinese songs, instruments, clothing, activities, and dance.

Part VII: Additional Information

Additional Information

Include any additional information that is relevant to your LAP and would further explain and highlight how your school supports MLs/ELLs. This form does not allow graphics and charts to be pasted.

n/a

Part VIII: ELL Identification Attestation and Principal Certification

Identification Plan

For additional information, refer to ELL Identification Attestation Professional Learning Module.

1. What are the titles of the members of your ELL identification team? Note: Members of the ELL identification team must be pedagogues.

Ms. Alevriadis (Special Ed. IEP Teacher)
Ms. Roerden (Special Ed. Teacher)
Ms. Ramirez (Dual Language Teacher)
Mr. Shannon (Cluster Teacher)
Ms. Morales (ENL Teacher)
Ms. Trizulino (ENL Teacher)
Ms. Valdez (ENL Teacher)
Ms. Tsimis (AP)

2. Describe the structures and process in place for identification of ELLs year-round as required by the NYC DOE Policy & Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, including your school's identification plan for any incoming students with an Individualized Education Plan (IEP). Include:

- How your school proactively plans for the ELL identification process so that it does not interrupt the provision of mandated ENL and/or bilingual instruction to current, former and potential ELLs,
- Who is responsible for each step of the ELL identification process, and
- School's plan for ensuring ELLs and former ELLs will continue to receive mandated instruction.

Ms. Trizulino and Ms. Morales are our MLLs/ELLs and Dual Language Coordinators. They are in charge of all necessary documents that go along with the identification process. When families come to our school for registration, they are greeted by the parent coordinator or a member of our office staff. All the necessary forms for registration are provided to the families and one of our licensed pedagogues conducts the interview and explains the documents to the families. We do our best to schedule these parent meeting after school or at a time when someone on the ELL identification team has an administrative period so that it does not interrupt ENL mandated instruction time. The HLIS is given to the families in their home language or in English if they request it by the licensed pedagogue. We use translation services to assist with any language needs of incoming families. Once the interview is complete and the paperwork is filled out, one of the teachers listed above determines if the child is a possible ELL and is eligible to take the NYSITELL. If so, the licensed pedagogue administers the NYSITELL. Families of students who were determined to be ELLs are then invited to the Parent Orientation meeting. The team sends home a letter in their home language for the family to attend the Parent Orientation meeting, (within 10 of the child coming to school). The team explains the why the families have been invited to this meeting and they share information about the NYSITELL score, levels, and the mandated hours their children are required to receive as English Language Learners. The paperwork is shared with the families in their preferred language. Each parent/caregiver watches the orientation video on the laptop with headphones in their home language or English, whichever they prefer. Then the families are given time to fill out the paperwork to determine which program they prefer their child to be in. The students who are continuing ELLs, get an entitlement letter. The ELL team looks at the mandated minutes for every ELL and creates a schedule to ensure that each student is receiving their mandated minutes of ENL instruction. All of the paperwork including the HLIS given to and stored by the ELL coordinators so the documents are secured in the same location.

Principal Certification

In accordance with New York State's Commissioner's Regulations Part 154 as outlined and implemented in the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, I, attest that the following ELL identification procedures and activities are adhered to, and staff are trained on the items listed below.

- The ELL Identification Process is completed for each student within 10 school days of enrollment (20 school days for students entering with IEPs).
- Enrollment status of each newly admitted student is determined:
  a. If a student has been in New York State public schools within the past 2 years, our school contacts the previous school to obtain ELL status, relevant assessment scores, and English language proficiency level.
  b. If a student has been outside of New York State public schools for more than 2 years, our school administers the ELL Identification Process as part of reentry.

- The home language of the student is determined by a trained and licensed pedagogue.
  a. The parent completes the Home Language Identification Survey in the parent's preferred language; translation services are provided by a bilingual staff member, the DOE's over-the-phone translation services, or an alternative, high quality translation service.

- An interview with parents and students in English and the home language is conducted. This includes reviewing documents, prior assessments, and academic experience. An assessment of the student's abilities and/or work samples determines the student's literacy and math level in his/her home language.
- Eligibility for the NYSITELL is determined.
  a. If the newly enrolled student is entering with an IEP, the school's Language Proficiency Team (LPT) recommends eligibility to the principal, who obtains final approval from the superintendent.

- Students are administered the NYSITELL, if eligible.
- Notification letters are sent to the parent/guardian in their preferred language.
  a. Parent is notified of their child's ELL status and results of the NYSITELL.

- If the student is identified as an ELL and the student's home language is Spanish, the student is administered the Spanish Language Assessment Battery (LAB).
- Student with Interrupted/Inconsistent Formal Education (SIFE) status is determined using New York State's resources.
- If a student is a newly identified ELL, the parent is invited to the parent orientation meeting.
  a. The parent orientation meeting provides parents/guardians with an explanation of each ELL program model offered in NYC; the parent video describing the three programs is presented (in parent's preferred language); parents/guardians are encouraged to ask questions so that they are informed about all ELL programs; translation and interpretation services are provided throughout the meeting.

  a. If the bilingual program that the parent selected is not available, the parent is offered a transfer to a school with that bilingual program in accordance with NYC DOE transfer policies.
  b. If the ELL remains in the school, the ELL is placed in English as a New Language and our school keeps track of parent selection so that when minimum thresholds are met, we can open the ELL program of choice.

- Parents are notified that they have 45 days to appeal the ELL status of their child (ELL Re-identification Process).
- If the ELL Re-identification Process is implemented for any student, the principal reviews the decision of any student whose ELL status was changed because of the ELL Re-identification Process within 6 to 12 months.
- Copies of documentation regarding ELL identification, including letters and parent notifications are kept in the students' cumulative files.

Designation of a LAC
Name of person designated and trained as the LAC.
At the start of each school year, each principal is required to designate at least one staff member to serve as the Language Access Coordinator (LAC), responsible for overseeing language assistance services within the school.

We have pre-populated the following information based on our records. Please confirm that the designated staff member(s) are your school's Galaxy-designated LAC(s) and provide the date(s) they attended the OLA Language Access Coordinator Training. Note that this training is in addition to the mandatory asynchronous NYCPS Language Access Training for School-based Staff on the WeLearnNYC learning platform. If any information is missing, please provide the requested details.

As a reminder, LACs are internal staff designations and are not meant to serve as the primary point of contact for families regarding language access-related matters. The Parent Coordinator, or another designated staff member, should remain the main contact for families regarding all issues, including language access.

Part C: Parent Communications and Engagement

Parent Communication and Engagement

Identification of written critical communications and in-person meetings throughout the school year that require language assistance services and how the school plans to respond to these needs.

1. List the documents your school typically distributes each year that require translation, along with your plan for translating these documents.

Document Type (e.g. parent flyers, IEPs, etc.)	How do you plan to implement the translation process? Please include procedures and resources to ensure the timely delivery of translated documents to parents.
IEPs	This is provided to parents and translated in the language the families need.
Weekly Email	Weekly emails are sent out by the school to inform parents regarding news and events. The email is translated in Spanish.
Event Flyers	The events are planned in advance and staff is used to translate the information in different languages.
Notices	All important information is shared with our community via mass email which allows the information to be translated
Website	Information is also posted on our website which can be translated in the families preferred language.

2. List the meetings, both in-person and virtual, that your school typically holds with parents throughout the school year, along with your plans for providing interpretation services at those meetings.

Meeting Type (e.g. parent workshops, PTCs)	How do you plan to offer interpretation services? Please outline the procedures and resources in place to ensure timely access to interpretation for parents.
PTC	Over the phone interpreter. Appointments are setup ahead of time.
Meet the Teacher	Over the phone interpreter. Times are prescheduled.
PTA / Student of the Month Meetings	Presentations are interpreted through the Microsoft Translation App. We offer iPads to use the app if a parent does not have a cellphone to access the app. Meetings are held monthly
Kindergarten Orientation	This is once a year and we use in-house interpreters.
Parent Workshops	We over different workshops throughout the year and we use in-house interpreters.
ELL Parent Orientation	This occurs once a year at the beginning of the school year, and we use in-house interpreters. We use the over-the-phone interpreter if needed.

3. Describe the resources and processes your school will use to communicate with parents who speak a language other than English during an emergency (e.g., lockdown, fire, student attendance, nurse/hospital visit, etc.), or when a parent needs to contact the school in an emergency, ensuring communication is in their preferred language.

During any school wide emergency an email is sent out to all families in English and in Spanish to inform them of the emergency in a timely manner. We also use Class Dojo which has the option to translate the message to the parents' preferred language.

In the case of a student specific emergency a phone call made using the contact information on the student's emergency contact card. The staff member who is contacting the family refers to the card to see the preferred language of communication and either gets a staff member who speaks that language or uses the over the phone translation service. If the parent cannot be reached by phone, our staff contacts them through email and/or ClassDojo.

Parents are welcome to call the school to relay information. They can also communicate in their preferred language via email to the schools email address or via Class Dojo where the messages go to the child's teacher. If a parent calls and there is someone on staff that can speak in the parents preferred language then we arrange a time when that person is available to help with interpretation. If the parent needs an interpreter then we arrange a time to have a meeting using the NYC DOE Over-The-Phone (OPI) interpretation service to communicate with the parent.

Part D: Staff Awareness

Staff Awareness

Plan to ensure staff awareness of language access requirements and available resources.

1. Describe how your school will ensure that all staff members complete the required asynchronous NYCPS Language Access Training for School-based Staff on the WeLearnNYC learning platform, and are familiar with the Best Practices for When to Provide Translation of Critical Written Communications to Parents and Best Practices for When to Provide Interpretation for Critical Oral Communications with Parents. Additionally, explain how your Galaxy-designated LAC will disseminate future language access resources and updates to all staff members.

Our school will ensure that all staff members complete the required asynchronous NYCPS Language Access Training for School-based staff on the WeLearnNYC learning platform, and are familiar with the Best Practices by providing the staff time to complete the training within the month of September.

Our LAC will provide future language access resources via Dojo, emails, digital folders, and workshops.

Part E: Parental Notification

Parental Notification

Provision of notice to parents on the available language assistance services.

1. Describe how your school will inform parents about available language assistance services in their preferred language. Include any of the following:

- Translated signage
- Brochures, flyers, or letters shared with parents
- Parent engagement events where language assistance services are highlighted (e.g., PTA meetings, international parents' night, etc.)
- Messaging applications

- Language Access for NYC Public Schools Families brochure

Upon entering the school building, visitors will see signs indicating where to go for translation and interpretation services. Every parent, regardless of the language they speak, is allowed in the building as long as they show valid identification to the safety agent at the main entrance. The parents are welcome to work with our parent coordinator to discuss any information they might need regarding their child's education or events at the school. Our parent coordinator is helpful and is always available to assist parents with getting the proper interpretation and translation services. She is aware of our parents' needs. Our staff is also very aware of using over-the-phone interpreters during scheduled meetings. Many of our staff members are also fluent in the languages our school community needs and they are willing to help interpret and translate as needed. Parents are given information regarding the DOE during PTA meetings and our school, particularly our parent coordinator, gives workshops informing parents of the DOE website and shows them how to access the information they need. We obtain translation of signs, notices, flyers, and forms in the languages that represent the school's population. These documents will be posted and provided in accordance with the Chancellor's Regulation A-663. For languages that represent less than 10% of the school's population, we will continue to provide our families with the necessary translation and interpretation services provided by the DOE's Office of Language Access.

Part F: Monitoring

Monitoring

Methods for soliciting and implementing feedback on language assistance services.

1. In addition to the feedback received from parents via OLA's Translation & Interpretation Feedback Survey, describe the methods your school will use to gather feedback from parents regarding the language assistance services they receive in their preferred language.

Our school will continue to gather feedback from the parents through open lines of communication. Parents may email us with any questions or feedback. Our PTA meetings are another way that parents can make suggestions or voice their opinions about our school's translation and interpretation services. The Parent Coordinator schedules a focus group of parents welcoming of all cultures and languages represented in our school community. During these focus groups, feedback and best practices are shared and communicated between the stakeholders so we are informed of how we can best service our families in meeting their needs

2. How has your school worked to improve its language assistance services? Share any feedback results and outline your plans for further improvements in the upcoming school year.

We also listened to the parents when they requested to have direct communication in a quick and easy way with their child's teacher. We will continue to use ClassDojo which is a platform that translates the information in their language preference.

Title III Outline

Title III Supplemental Program for ELLs for SY 2025-26

REQUIREMENTS

Title III supplemental services for English Language Learners (ELLs) must include the following three components:

- Direct instruction activities must be used to support language development, English and home language instruction, high academic achievement in math, and/or high academic achievement in other core academic areas. The Title III supplemental instructional services must be based on student need. These supplemental services should complement core bilingual and ENL services required under CR Part 154. Direct supplemental services should be provided for before school, after school, and Saturday programs. Teachers providing the services must be bilingual education and/or English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) certified teachers.
- High quality professional development that is "of sufficient intensity and duration to have a positive and lasting impact on the teachers' performance in classrooms." Professional development activities should be well-planned, ongoing events rather than one-day or short-term workshops and conferences.
- Parent engagement and supports must ensure that there are appropriate translation and interpretation services to meet community needs. These are in addition to mandated activities, such as parent orientation during ELL identification process or annual ELL parent meetings.

Note: The Title III ELL program planning ratio is as follows: 60% to direct instruction, 10% to professional development (if funded using Title III ELL funds), 10% to parent engagement (if funded using Title III ELL funds), and 20% to OTPS (if funded using Title III ELL funds).

For more information on Title III requirements, please see the School Allocation Memo or contact your ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance and Performance Specialist. Any updates or revisions to this plan must be made through the iPlan portal.

Title III ELL Summary

Provide a summary of each program funded under Title III ELL for SY 25-26: For each program, describe:

- When the program takes place (i.e., after school, before school, Saturday academy)

- Activities ELLs will engage in and how these activities will enhance instructional opportunities for ELLs
- How ELLs will be grouped for instruction and specify the number of student groups. Include total number of student groups and total number of ELLs in each group, for each program
- How instruction will be delivered (e.g., team teaching, parallel teaching, etc.)
- How the program will be supervised and whether this will be funded by Title III ELL. Please note: If supervision will be funded using Title III ELL funds, you must include the supervisor's regular work day hours and the hours the supervisor will get paid per session.

For the 2025-2026 school year, we will have a Saturday program to provide extra support to our ELL students.

Our Title III program will take place in person on Saturdays. Students in first through fifth grade will be invited. The program will service this year's ENL students. All MLs/ELLs in these grades will be invited to participate and classes will be designed to meet the needs of the students on each grade level. The teachers will provide a supplemental service that goes beyond the ELL mandates of the school day. Students will receive their required ELL services to improve their literacy and math skills using a multi-lingual approach. The materials that will be used are supplemental and distinct from those used for daily instruction. ELL Interim Assessments, NYSITELL, NYSESLAT, and ELA from 2025 are all used to identify the needs of individual students. In addition, teachers can use Acadience, and iReady to guide their instruction. Lessons will be designed according to student needs as indicated by the 2024-2025 ELL Data Analysis Tool from May 2025.

Our letters will be backpacked home/emailed in the family's home language, informing them of the dates, times, and expectations of the program. We will have about ten certified ENL or Bilingual teachers who will work with these students. There will be at least eight classes with approximately 15 students in each room. The language of instruction will be English. Each teacher will take class attendance using a Google Doc form. They will document who is present/absent. They will also have family contact information to keep records of communication for each student's progress in the program.

Based on the iReady data from EOY 2025, students scored low in the comprehension of informational text domains. Therefore, our goal is to use Reading for Comprehension as our program to address these needs. The materials used are exclusive to the Title III program.

The start of the program will be January 2026

Rationale for Title III ELL Funded Programs

Describe the rationale for each Title III ELL funded program. For each program, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis that support the need for program, and
- Data sources used to justify the need for the program

Our Title III program will take place in person on Saturday mornings for students in first through fifth grade. The program will service this year's ENL students. All MLs/ELLs in these grades will be invited to participate and classes will be designed to meet the needs of the students on each grade level. The teachers will provide a supplemental service that goes beyond the ELL mandates of the school day. The students who sign up for the Saturday Academy will receive their required ELL services to improve their literacy and math skills using a multi-lingual approach. The materials that will be used are supplemental and distinct from those used for daily instruction. ELL Interim Assessments, NYSITELL, NYSESLAT, and ELA from Spring 2024 are all used to identify the needs of individual students. In addition, teachers can use Acadience and iReady to guide their instruction. Lessons will be designed according to student needs as indicated by the 2024-2025 ELL Data Analysis Tool from May 2025.

Students and Grade Levels to be Served

For each Title III ELL funded program, describe the students that will be served. Include:

- Total number of ELLs for each program,
- Grade levels for ELLs in program, and
- ELL Subgroups (e.g., Newcomer) and/or proficiency levels (e.g., Entering, Emerging, etc.).

All ENL-mandated students will be offered the opportunity to participate in the morning program. The focus of the program will be on students in the second through fifth grades. All MLs/ELLs in these grades will be invited. This included children who scored Entering, Emerging, Developing, and Expanding on the Spring 2025 NYSESLAT or Fall NYSITELL. Newcomers, Long Term, SIFE (when applicable), FELL, ELL-SWD, including students at risk of not being promoted, are also invited to attend the Saturday program.

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III ELL funded program, include:

- Start and end dates/months,
- Total number of sessions,
- Days of the week the program will be offered, and
- Time and duration of sessions.

The Saturday program for the students will begin in January 2026, and run through the April 2026. The program will be from 8:30 am to 11:30 am on Saturday mornings.

Language of Instruction

For each Title III ELL funded program, include language of instruction and how home language support is provided.

The language of instruction will be English. Home language support will be provided by integrating home languages into instruction. For example, teachers can use students' home languages to support literacy instruction, especially for multilingual learners. This entails teachers recognizing and celebrating students' cultural backgrounds in literacy instruction. Language asset maps can be created by students to show the languages they speak, hear, or understand. This will help them showcase their multilingual abilities as strengths rather than be confused by them. Home languages will be used as learning tools like stepping stones to new learning. Translation services and documents can be used to assist students with understanding what is being taught.

Number and Types of Certified Teachers

For each Title III ELL funded program, include number and type(s) of certified teachers (e.g., ESOL, bilingual, content area):

We will have about ten ENL and or bilingual-certified teachers.

Types of Materials

For each Title III ELL funded program, include:

- Types of materials,
- Titles and publishers of main supplemental materials,
- Location where purchased materials will be stored, and
- Whether materials will be purchased using Title III ELL funds. Please note: If materials are purchased using Title III ELL funds, they cannot exceed 20% of the total allocation.

The materials used are exclusive to the Title III program. These materials will be stored in the classrooms used specifically for the Saturday Program. They will be labeled, and in a closet or draw so that they are not used during the day by others. Teacher-made and print-rich resources will be used to help reinforce English acquisition skills.

Implementation Plan and Maintaining Records

- Describe your school's plan for implementation (e.g. when and how parents/guardians will be notified about the program(s)).
- Describe how your school will maintain records of your school's Title III ELL funded program, including evidence of parent notification in their preferred languages, student attendance records, evidence of teacher certifications for teachers supporting the program, record of parent engagement activities, records of professional development activities, purchase orders and invoices to date. For additional information, please refer to the Title III ELL FAQ.

Students records will be maintained in folders by the classroom teacher. The folders will include the letter sent home and the signature of the family acknowledging the dates and time of the Saturday program. The attendance will be taken digitally using a Google Classroom Form.

Part C: Professional Development

Technology workshops have been provided to assist teachers with Apps and websites that will assist them with the students in their class.
Our math coach is available to meet with our DL/ENL teachers throughout the day in regard to online programs or websites where they can differentiate their instruction to meet the students' needs. Agendas and sign-in sheets from each PD are kept on file in our school's Google Folder.

These PD sessions will positively impact our ELLs because our staff will be trained in a variety of ways to be able to teach to each learning style. The ongoing professional development allows teachers to build on what they are learning and apply it to their teaching. The PD provides them with opportunities to learn something new or improve on what they are doing already.
Aside from workshops that teachers will sign up for outside of school, our staff will have in-house workshops, professional development sessions, and meetings on Mondays.

In addition, teachers will participate in PLOs provided by District 30, or the Department of Multilingual Learners (DML) MLs/ELL team. Topics and dates vary by topic. The Parent Coordinator is the link between the parents and the school community. She familiarizes the parents with the immediate community and informs them of resources such as local doctors, health care institutions, legal services, and any other services that may be needed by parents, such as immigration, citizenship, housing, food stamps, etc.

Additionally, the Parent Coordinator organizes and provides workshops with the help of outside agencies on topics ranging from nutrition, health, assessments, and information on how parents can help their children succeed. To assist newly enrolled ELL students, we begin by establishing a good working relationship with the parents, empowering them with as much knowledge as we can about their child's education so that they can take on an active role in their child's learning experiences.

All communication is done via email or letters/agendas are sent home in parents' preferred languages. Our Parent Coordinator keeps electronic and hard copies of all the workshops/events that take place in our building. She keeps the hard copies of all the invitations, agendas, and sign-in sheets filed in the Main Office. Our school also uses Over-the-phone Interpretation services, when needed. If we have events at school we request an interpreter or we have parent/community volunteers who assist the families that need this service. Most importantly our school website is the best resource for our families because everything is accessible to them including translated documents. We also send out weekly emails to communicate and provide updates to families. In our emails we provide links to documents in our Virtual Take-Home Folder. These documents are also translated.

Most importantly, our teachers are constantly reaching out to parents of ELLs to inform them of their child's progress and to share resources that will benefit the child's learning. Our teachers provide our ELL families with one-on-one support during parent engagement time. Parents are also invited to the classroom in person or via Zoom or Google Meet to participate in activities. Families are also encouraged to share information about their culture, holidays, etc. In addition, we hold Multicultural shows in our school each year to celebrate the various cultures represented in our building.

All this is based on feedback provided to us by parents. These workshops are not at a cost to our school's Title III program. These workshops will be scheduled in advance to give parents plenty of notice.

Rationale for Family Engagement Activities

Describe the rationale for the family engagement activities to be provided: For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., reasons for topics, time activities will be offered), and
- Data sources (e.g., parent survey responses, in-house parent surveys, PTA/PA request, etc.) used to justify the need for activities.

The Parent Coordinator is in constant communication with our school's community. She incorporates activities such as technology training, and guidance with digital platform navigation so that parents experience a variety of activities and learn the language skills needed for completing these activities. The Parent Coordinator also trains the parents to access the DOE website, student accounts, and Family Income Inquiry Forms. This could be a virtual meeting (zoom), phone conferencing, or in-person. In addition, she holds workshops for parents who need information and support with NYC Kids Rise. The Parent workshops are based on parent surveys.

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III ELL family engagement activity, include:

- Start and end dates/months,

Name(s) and Title(s) of Provider(s)

For each Title III ELL family engagement activity, include name and title of provider(s) (e.g., vendor, community-based organization, school staff name in charge of facilitating the parent engagement activities described in this section).

These events will be provided by our Guidance Counselor, our Parent Coordinator, ENL teacher, the ML/ELL coordinators, the school social worker, teachers, and the SAPIS worker.

Family Notification of Activities and Translation and Interpretation Supports:

Describe:

- How families will be notified of Title ELL family engagement activities (e.g., phone calls, emails),
- How notification of activities will be translated into parent/guardians' preferred language, and
- How interpretation supports will be provided at events.

All communication is done via email or letters/agendas are sent home in parents' preferred languages. Our Parent Coordinator keeps electronic and hard copies of all the workshops/events that take place in our building. She keeps the hard copies of all the invitations, agendas, and sign-in sheets filed in the Main Office. Our school also uses Over-the-phone Interpretation services when needed. If we have events at school we request an interpreter or we have parent/community volunteers who assist the families that need this service. Most importantly our school website is the best resource for our families because everything is accessible to them, including translated documents.

Maintaining Records

Describe how your school will maintain documentation (e.g. agendas, attendance sheets) of family engagement activities and notifications to families.

Notifications to families go home via weekly mass email distributions. Class Dojo messages (which are translated in families' preferred languages) are sent from teachers and our Parent Coordinator, she also uses WhatsApp to communicate with families. We used Signup Genius or sign-in sheets to record participation. These are kept digitally or hard copies in the office.

Please make sure to describe:

- Professional development to be provided

- Whether the professional development provided will be at cost to Title III Immigrant funds

We will continue to use the HMH Into Reading curriculum and teachers will be provided with professional development from Generation Ready. This component will be at no cost to the program. PD will be done by our teachers who have/will go to PD and then present the information to groups of teachers and/or to the whole staff during the Monday afternoons.
All our classroom teachers and ENL teachers will have the opportunity to participate in workshops that will provide them with strategies to achieve success. These workshops will be scheduled during Professional Development time. At least once a month the teachers will meet with their department, for example, ENL, DL, Special Education, etc. Teachers will also meet on their grade levels to look at data and discuss the problem of practice. Technology workshops will be provided to assist teachers with Apps and websites that will assist them with the students in their class. Agendas and sign-in sheets from each PD are kept on file in the Main Office.

These PD sessions will positively impact our ELLs because our staff will be trained in a variety of ways to be able to teach to each learning style. The ongoing professional development allows teachers to build on what they are learning and apply it to their teaching. The PD provides them with opportunities to learn something new or improve on what they are doing already.
Aside from workshops that teachers will sign up for outside of school, our staff will have in-house workshops, professional development sessions, and meetings on Monday mornings as well.

In addition, teachers will participate in PLOs provided by District 30, or the Department of Multilingual Learners (DML) MLs/ELL team. Topics and dates vary by topic. Dates and links are shared with the teachers in the program, they sign up for the training and attend on the assigned date. For each activity include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis that support the need for the professional development
- Data sources used to justify the professional development

Providing teachers and staff with learning opportunities gives teachers the tools and resources to better support their students. Especially with new admits, having constant support is important. Classroom teachers will attend various workshops provided by and present information to their colleagues.

According to the Spring 2025 ELL Data Analysis Tool and the 2025 ELL Data Update Report for October our ELL population has decreased from 25.7% to 22.50%. Our Former ELLs has increased from 2.9% to 3.73% therefore the Professional Development can be focused on providing support to our Former ELL students. Furthermore, our ELLs with IEPs have increased from 17.1% (EDAT Fall 2024) to 20.9% (EDAT Spring 2025). This is another reason for professional development.

The ongoing professional development allows teachers to build on what they are learning and apply it to their teaching. The PD provides them with opportunities to learn something new or improve on what they are doing already.
Aside from workshops that teachers will sign up for outside of school, our staff will have in-house workshops, professional development sessions, and meetings on Mondays.
