Section 1: Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Comprehensive Education Planning (CEP) is a structured, data-driven process that guides schools in assessing their needs, identifying areas for growth, setting strategic goals and implementing targeted actions to improve student outcomes. Collaboratively developed by the School Leadership Team (SLT) in accordance with the requirements of Chancellor's Regulation A-655, the CEP meets New York State Education Department (NYSED) requirements under the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) and aligns with NYC Public Schools' (NYCPS) system-wide priorities. By engaging all stakeholders—school leaders, teachers, families, students and community members—schools can create a data-informed, equity-focused roadmap for student success and continuous improvement.

Schools should focus their CEP on the five system-wide priorities below, connecting their planning to the data discussions and conversations with stakeholders held as part of the school's needs assessment:

- Priority 1: All students learn to read well
- Priority 2: All students are physically and emotionally safe
- Priority 3: All students have a high-quality academic experience
- Priority 4: All students graduate college and career ready and have a strong plan and pathway to economic security
- Priority 5: All districts and schools are more inclusive and responsive for parents and families, including having more families choose NYC Public Schools

The Education Planning Process

The CEP follows an equity-driven, continuous improvement cycle, rooted in the system-wide priorities. This begins with a comprehensive needs assessment of the school's most current data to identify priority needs and root causes. Next, the SLT establishes specific, measurable, attainable, relevant, and timely—SMART goal(s) aligned to each priority and determines targets to measure progress toward meeting the annual goals.

The SLT and instructional leaders define key evidence-based key strategies, professional learning activities and parent, family and community empowerment efforts. They monitor the implementation of those strategies and activities and track progress through measurable targets. Then, the SLT aligns the school-based budget with human and instructional resources to support action plans.

As schools set goals, develop key strategies, and plan action steps, they provide opportunities for all children to meet NYSED's proficient and advanced levels of student academic achievement. These include evidence based instructional strategies that address the educational needs of historically underserved populations and tackle structural inequities. Schools indicate how the plan addresses the needs of Multilingual/English Language Learners (ML/ELL) through development of the school's Language Allocation Policy (LAP) & Title III Application (if applicable) and the Language Translation and Interpretation (LTI) Plan, that are required as part of the CEP. Schools also address the needs of Students with Disabilities (SWD) through the High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities section of the plan. SLTs also develop a plan to improve attendance and reduce chronic absenteeism.

Guidance on Conducting a Comprehensive Needs Assessment

Directions: Conduct a comprehensive needs assessment for each Priority. The information below provides guidance for reviewing and analyzing student and school performance trends to uncover root causes for low student achievement.

1. Review Multiple Data Sources: Use the most current and available information including, but not limited to, the following sources of formative and summative data, as applicable:

- Qualitative and quantitative data, including enrollment and class size trends
- 2024-25 ESSA Accountability Data
- Instructional Leadership Framework (ILF), Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) Inventories, and NYC School Survey results
- Quality Review Reports, NYSED and NYCPS CSI or A/TSI Support Visits, Receivership Quarterly Reports, and Diagnostic Tool for School and District Effectiveness Framework (DTSDE)
- NYC School Quality Guide, Insight, New Visions, NWEA MAP and/or other formative assessment data, IEP Review Survey Data, Progress on IEP Goals Data, Program (SESIS-STARS Linkage) Reports, Mandated (Related) Services Reports, and NYCPS Tools for Understanding Your Data for student subgroup information

2. Analyze Data Trend(s) to Identify Areas of Strength and Need: Identify data trends by grade, cohort, and content area(s) to surface gaps and inequities. Compare data sets to identify instructional and school practices that are impacting student performance. Guiding questions to consider:

- What does the data reveal about improving and declining student performance trends within grades, cohorts, and student subgroups?
- What inequities are evident between highest and lowest performing student subgroups? Which subgroup(s) scored at Level 1 based on NYSED ESSA accountability indicators?
- What does the data suggest regarding the effectiveness (or ineffectiveness) of current school programs, practices, and/or strategies/initiatives? What areas may need to be strengthened?
- Are there any differences in student performance between program delivery models for ML/ELL and SWD? (e.g., for special education: special class, ICT, SETSS, related services only; for ML/ELL: Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) vs. Dual Language, etc.)
- How does delivery of instruction factor into data trends? What are the implications for teacher quality and professional learning?
- What inequities in special education referral and school disciplinary practices (e.g. suspensions, removals) are evident between student subgroups with IEPs?

3. Identify Root Cause(s): After analyzing the data, engage in a process for uncovering root causes or contributing factors for low student and school performance. Develop theories or hypotheses to explain why these needs exist and why your school is getting its current outcomes. Root causes could be related to gaps and inequities in areas such as curriculum & instruction, school systems & structures, student support services, school climate & safety, and family & community engagement. Focus on the causes, rather than the symptoms. Use the 5 Whys Method or other methods for identifying root causes. Consider the questions below:

- What theories or hypotheses explain the current student and school outcomes?
- Are there root causes specific to certain subgroups, grades, cohorts, or content area(s)?

Additional resources and supports are available below.

- Use this CEP Needs Assessment Worksheet to help your SLT and stakeholders identify appropriate data sources, data trends, root causes and priority needs.
- For guidance and best practices on engaging stakeholders in a comprehensive needs assessment and root cause analysis, see this deck.
- A current list of all CEP/Title I resources can be found on the iPlan Portal Public Resources Page.

School Summary

Directions: Complete this CEP Summary to serve as the "at-a-glance" narrative that provides contextual information about your school's unique characteristics. This summary and the entire Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) should be shared with your school community. Please note that this summary and the CEP will be made available to the public through the iPlan Portal, an online space where school stakeholders can go to collaborate in the development of the school's education plans.

Provide your school's mission statement:

At Leadership Through Multimedia and the Arts Magnet School PS116, we foster creativity, ambition, resilience, and empowerment. We achieve this through critical thinking skills, collaboration, entrepreneurship, curiosity and imagination. We strive to create a school culture that embraces the limitless leadership potential of every steward.

Develop a narrative summary that includes contextual information about your school's community and its unique/important characteristics and partnerships:

Include demographic information about your school's student population.

P.S. 116K-The Leadership Through Multimedia and the Arts Magnet School is an elementary school located in Bushwick, Brooklyn with a total population of 316 students. The diversity of our student body encompasses: 95% Hispanic, 0% American Indian/Alaskan, .6% Asian, 3 % Black, .9 % White and .3 % Multiracial. Multi-Language Learners comprise 52% and Students with Disabilities make up 16%. Boys account for 52% of students enrolled and girls account for 48 %.

We are entering into our 4th year as a Magnet school. We are deepening the work around Problem Based Learning and STEAM. We have a vibrant 3K-5 Dual Language Program. As an extension of classroom learning we are partnered with; Studio in the School, Ballroom Basix, Marquis Studio, Brooklyn Botanical Garden, Take Two Films, Center for Technology and School Change, Paideia Institute, Disney Musicals in School and strings orchestra.

LMA has a number of strategic collaborations and partnerships that are being implemented in order to impact student learning after school. We have partnered with the Coalition for Hispanic Family Services, Arts and Literacy Program division. Arts and Literacy provides an after school program for our students, "that builds their literacy skills... through creative writing, the visual arts, theater, photography, video, creative movement and dance, music, martial arts, media literacy, gardening, fashion design, comic book design, sports and Yoga".

The school has created and sustained many afterschool programs and clubs. These include Math Club, Steam Club, Gardening Club, Orchestra, Disney, Soccer Club, Champs, Newsletter, Podcast, Chess Club, Yearbook Club, and Glam & Gents Squad.

Briefly summarize the key initiatives your school will implement this school year.

At Leadership Through Multimedia and the Arts Magnet School, we will be infusing opportunities for students to build their leadership skills in all school events and activities, including instructional time daily. We will be diving into the Media Arts standards this year by building student knowledge and use of the media arts in the HMH Into Reading Curriculum. The culturally responsive and social emotional learning will be imbedded into daily instruction with the use of intentional activities and conversations. Our Problem Based Learning will allow students to tackle an issue that is currently plaguing their community and work together in order to solve it.

Teachers will use HMH Into Reading Curriculum to imbed station work that provides students with small group work to gain a deeper understanding of their module and answer the essential question. In math, teachers will utilize a paper progress monitoring survey to support planning to support students in building strong foundational math skills.

What are the primary digital and/or print curricula/programs used for ELA and Math:

Indicate the content area, grade band and any adaptations made.

Content Area (Indicate ELA and Math Only)	Grade Band	Digital and/or Print Curricula/Program	Adaptations
ELA	K-5	HMH Into Reading, I-Ready	Digital/Print
Math	K-5	Imagine Learning Illustrative Math, I-Ready	Digital/Print

Section 5: Priority 1 – All students learn to read well

Priority 1 Data Trends, Root Causes and Priority Needs

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

1. Data Trend(s) (Cite Data Source & Year)	2. Root Cause(s)	3. Priority Needs
iReady Reading EOY Grades K-5 26% of students are on grade level	Many students have foundational gaps in their reading skills, requiring more intensive instruction and support.	Teachers must use BOY data to provide targeted instruction in reading and writing and utilize progress monitoring to plan and execute lessons specific to the needs of all students.
Acadience assessment EOY 45% are on grade level (blue and green).	Students entered the grade lacking foundational skills.	The acadience data may suggest that a large percentage of students are not meeting benchmark for phonemic awareness. Provide targeted interventions to address learning gaps and foundational skills.

Priority 1

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing school data trends, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for literacy outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Systemwide Focus Areas for Literacy

- Implement the strategies outlined in NYC Reads, including foundational phonics curriculum for grades K-2
- Implement dyslexia screening, professional learning, and program pilots (as applicable)
- Support literacy development through the integration of culturally responsive-sustaining texts and content

Priority 1 SMART Goal(s)

Target Population	Baseline Data	SMART Goal
All Students	26%	By June, 2026, literacy for All Students will improve, as measured by a 15% Increase, from 26% to 41%, of Students performing at grade level on the iReady ELA exam .
All Students	45%	By June, 2026, literacy for All Students will improve, as measured by a 12% Increase, from 45% to 57%, of Students performing at grade level on the Acadience assessment .

Priority 1 Progress Measures and Targets

Directions: It is expected that progress monitoring, based on interim outcome data, occurs at three progress monitoring periods during the school year. Priority 1 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Teachers will continue to participate in Professional Development around the Science of Reading.
Teachers will continue to progress monitor iReady / Acadience data every six weeks.
Teachers will use data to plan HMH stations during the reading block.

Root Cause Addressed:

Students have holes in their learning, makes it harder to progress and achieve grade-level expectations.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Teachers in grades 3-5 will progress monitor students using assigned iReady lessons based on their diagnostic data.
Teachers in grades K-2 will progress monitor for Acadience based on students' instructional need.
Teachers will use secondary screeners to inform individualized instruction.
Grade teacher teams will meet weekly to discuss data.
Supervisors will monitor daily instruction and provide feedback with actionable next steps to advance student learning outcomes.

Core survey assessments will be collected and analyzed by teachers and supervisors every six weeks.
The use of the SPIRE program to support SWDs.
All students will engage in HMH Into Reading stations daily.
Utilizing all teachers, paraprofessionals, and out of classroom staff to support foundational skills period.
Increase teacher capacity by providing plc's and planning support before and after the school day.

Key Strategy 2 (Optional):

Root Cause Addressed:

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps

Implementation Monitoring: Indicate your primary structures to progress monitor implementation of key strategies and action steps. Include specific data/evidence you will collect and use to determine progress and impact on instruction, student learning, and achievement.

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

Priority 2

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing school data trends, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for physical and emotional safety outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Systemwide Focus Areas for Physical and Emotional Safety

- Develop safety infrastructure and systems, including staff training, collaboration with external partners, and implementation of safety and security best practices
- Expand social emotional and mental health supports via restorative justice, Project Pivot, screeners, and other district or school-based initiatives (as applicable)
- Expand implementation of physical and mental wellness supports, including Physical and Health Education that meets NYSED requirements and related initiatives
- Improve supports and outcomes for socially vulnerable student populations (Students in Temporary Housing, Students in Foster Care)

Priority 2 SMART Goal(s)

Target Population	Baseline Data	SMART Goal
All Students	32%	By June, 2026, physical and mental wellness for All Students will improve, as measured by a 22% Decrease, in Number of level 4 infractions from 32% to 10%, per the 2024-2025 OORS Report.
All Students	62	By June, 2026, physical and mental wellness for All Students will improve, as measured by a 16% Increase, in percentage of positive responses to survey question regarding social emotional opportunities from 62 to 88, per the School Survey.

Priority 2 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Incorporate the SEL topics from HMH into daily reading lessons to teach Conflict Resolution & Anger Management Skills. Embed lessons on conflict resolution and anger management into the curriculum, using role-playing and other activities to practice de-escalation techniques. Plan using "Focusing on the Whole Child" section of the digital Teacher's Guide can help teachers withe the integration of SEL with HMH Texts.

Root Cause Addressed:

Students are struggling with managing and controlling their emotions and students who lack language skills to express themselves may resort to aggression to communicate their needs or emotions.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
PD provided to staff on how to implement daily SEL instruction into their HMH Into Reading lessons that promote self awareness, empathy, self control and positive social interactions, using "Focusing on the Whole Child" section of the digital Teacher's Guide to help teachers plan for the integration of SEL with HMH Texts.
Students will use a mood meter daily.
Lunch period SEL games
HMH Module launch to include SEL slides

SEL connections provided to teacher for each story to include in lessons
Restorative circle practices held for students in need
SEL based problem solving strategies tied to HMH lessons

Implementation Monitoring: Indicate your primary structures to progress monitor implementation of key strategies and action steps. Include specific data/evidence you will collect and use to determine progress and impact on instruction, student learning, and achievement.

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

For the 2025-2026 school year, LMA teachers will incorporate a daily SEL connection into their HMH lessons. These topics are for grades K-5 include the topics of self-awareness, social awareness, self-management, relationship skills and responsible decision making. The teachers will include the SEL slides into the module launch lessons, and end the module with a SEL short response bulletin board assignment. These SEL lessons will incorporate problem solving skills that are tied to the SEL topic. The bulletin board work will begin in October 2025 and be changed bi-monthly, or as the modules are completed. Parents will engage in restorative circle parent workshops held by the guidance counselor, once every 2 months. SEL based parent workshops will also be given about problem solving skills with their children while at home. These sessions will touch on the topics of self-awareness and social awareness. During all lunch periods, the students will have a choice of playing SEL related games that focus on self-management and responsible decision making. The school will have a monthly school-wide SEL topic to celebrate during the monthly award assemblies. School will use a mood meter to monitor students daily during morning arrival and then discuss the data school wide with students. Progress monitoring will occur using the Online Occurrence Reporting System to track data. Progress monitoring will also occur for teachers using a quarterly teacher survey.

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

1. Data Trend(s) (Cite Data Source & Year)	2. Root Cause(s)	3. Priority Needs
I-Ready Math June 2025 grades K-5 32% (EOY) overall proficiency in math	Inadequate analysis of the new curriculum's end of unit assessments. Students have not mastered earlier concepts (e.g., fractions, decimals), they will likely struggle with more advanced topics.	Math -increase the percentage of students who are performing at or above grade level.

Priority 3

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing school data trends, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for high-quality academics outlined below. - Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Teachers will monitor student progress on i-Ready every six weeks to ensure they are on track with their learning goals. Teachers will use Illustrative Math end of unit assessments, as well as daily check-ins (formative assessments), to ascertain the quality of instruction and student mastery During this time, teachers will also meet one-on-one with students to review their data and help them set individual academic goals. These student conferences encourage ownership of learning and help build motivation.

Following these data chats, supervisors will conduct walkthroughs to observe how the insights from i-Ready are being used to strengthen math instruction in the classroom. In addition, dedicated time will be built into the schedule for teachers to collaboratively unpack upcoming math units. During this time, teachers will identify potential misconceptions and plan strategies to address them using data from unit assessments. This process ensures that instruction is proactive, targeted, and supportive of all learners, especially our ELLs and Special Education.

Root Cause Addressed:

Students lack the foundational math skills that is needed to build on more advanced math skills. Additionally, students are not consistently given enough time to deeply understand and practice each math concept, which affects their ability to retain the material and become fluent in applying it.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps

Priority 5 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Schedule events at night and during the day to accommodate all parents. Plan students centered events which require parent attendance. Provide agendas before meetings to inform parents of the expectations.

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Work with the CBO to create a mentor program that connects students in temporary housing with a CBO person. Mentors will provide a weekly check in with the student / family. They will also provide information to the attendance team for their weekly attendance chat using the attendance checklist.

Work with members of the attendance team to create monthly celebrations that include small gifts and certificates. Invitations are sent out to students and families. These celebrations happen in the auditorium or library depending on the amount of students who are celebrated.

Attendance team member will reach out to STH support personnel in temporary housing facilities to create relationships to support students and families.

Continue monitoring our daily systems and protocols to pinpoint supports to parents and students who have chronic absences. Continue with the added support personnel early and late day outreach to secure student participation. Continue with weekly or as needed basis, parent tech sessions to support with digital curriculum.

Partner with District 32 Dream Team to engage in on going professional learning for staff and on different ways to increase attendance, build home school connections and address continual barriers to attendance.

09/05/2025-01/31/2026 Connect chronically absent STH students with school base or CBO mentor to provide support and encouragement to improve attendance. Weekly student attendance chat with members of the Attendance Team using an attendance checklist.
11/30/25-01/30/26 Implement various clubs during morning and during lunch time aimed at reimagining the student and teacher relationship to foster and reduce student social and emotional stress and cultivate a positive mindset and sense of self efficacy.
01/04/2026-01/29/2026 Award students with attendance improvements at monthly family attendance celebrations. Special care packet awards to our STH students with improved attendance.
02/02/2026-05/03/2026- Reach out to shelters and establish relationships with coordinators at those sites to support the work.
09/05/2025-06/26/26 AM morning calls as per parent requests.
02/01/2026-03/31/2026- Partner with District 32 Dream Team to engage in ongoing professional learning for staff on different ways to increase attendance, build home - school connections and address continual barriers to attendance.

During our attendance meetings, we will use the Insight Tool and New Visions to review students attendance data and compare this data with student assessment data (Core survery) in our WIN program. We will also use data AIS data to show student growth or lack of growth in 6 week cycles. We will also use Acadience and iReady data to show BOY and MOY progress. We will check in classroom teachers to determine student overall progress in all content areas. The attendance team will create a list of students and folders with their data. Based on attendance we will determine if the child is in need of additional cycles. Letters will be sent home and meeting will be scheduled with families to discuss student lack of progress and how attendance is having a negative impact on their progress.

Schools are encouraged to think critically and strategically when considering resources that can support progress towards CEP goals for students with IEPs. This includes utilizing Title I funding for at-risk speech and/or counseling services, all-staff training in supporting students with autism, sensory materials, summer institute geared at the development of executive functioning skills, and/or inclusion coaching support. Schools may also consider utilizing Title II funds to reduce the ratio of students with IEPs to typically developing peers in ICT classes.

Section 6: Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS)

Academic Support

NYCPS Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) align with NYSED guidelines for providing Academic Intervention Services (AIS) to students who have not yet met state standards or are considered to be at-risk of not meeting state standards. The Multi-tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) framework, organizes supports into three tiers:

Tier 1 provides schoolwide, high-quality programming for all students, including SWDs;

Tier 2 offers data informed small-group interventions for at-promise students; and

Tier 3 delivers intensive, individualized support for students with persistent needs.

This facilitates the strategic planning and necessary resource alignment to ensure their school community appropriately and adequately serves all students well, in partnership with students and families.

MTSS identifies the academic support services to be provided and ensures that students receive Response to Intervention (RtI) and Positive Behavioral Interventions and Support (PBIS) strategies as needed. See NYSED's memo to view the criteria for determining AIS services. The Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) offers a wide range of evidence-based Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions and supports for student social-emotional, behavioral, physical and mental wellness, with particular attention to the unique needs of students in Temporary Housing and/or Foster Care, who may face additional challenges related to school stability, trauma and access to educational resources. A culturally responsive-sustaining approach to intervention embeds culturally relevant texts and historical narratives into literacy and social studies interventions, ensuring students receive the support that reflects their identities and lived experiences, increasing engagement and achievement.

Use the charts below and a Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) to match academic, social/emotional, behavioral and instructional resources with student needs to provide targeted support for all learners, especially at-risk students who experience difficulty meeting state standards, including those living in Temporary Housing and/or residing in Foster Care placements. Indicate specialized materials, technology-based tools and/or extra instruction, including Expanded Learning Time that supplement school-wide systems & supports and/or classroom level supports. Ensure that interventions address the unique social-emotional, behavioral and academic challenges faced by culturally and linguistically diverse students, as well as those impacted by housing instability and child welfare system involvement.

Directions: Complete the chart and identify Tier 2 or 3 MTSS Academic supports. Any Tier 2/3 interventions should be in addition to the foundational work being done at Tier 1.

Students in Temporary Housing (STH) Support

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-STH Section and in accordance with the federal McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act and Chancellor's Regulation A-780, schools must identify, serve, and report on students living in temporary housing (STH). All Title I and non-Title I schools receive a Title I allocation for STH students. The Students in Temporary Housing (STH) website provides guidance on STH pupils and how these funds can be used to meet their needs, as well as restrictions. For more information on acceptable uses of the mandated Title I, Part A set-aside to support your STH population, please refer to the Title I STH Funds Toolkit.

Identify the number of Students in Temporary Housing who are currently attending your school and provide a breakdown of their temporary housing status. Since the number of STH children can change regularly, schools must carefully track this number to determine whether there has been an increase in need.

Number of students in temporary housing who are:

- Doubled up (with friends or relatives because they cannot find or afford housing):
- Living in a shelter or transitional shelter:
- Living in a hotel/motel:
- Other

*Note: In keeping with established practices regarding personally identifiable information, use the letter "s" to identify a number less than five (5).

After a careful analysis of historical demographic, attendance and achievement data for your STH population, what trends do you notice, and how can these trends inform the services and support provided for this population?

We previously used our attendance data and parent conference information to determine needs. We will implement the STH Title 1 Survey to collect data from our STH population to determine the needs of the students and the families.

Describe the services you are planning to provide to the STH population. How were those services selected to best meet students' needs? How will you (or did you) utilize the STH Title I Survey to select services aligned to need?

The following are the services we are currently providing:
Provide resources to address basic environmental needs.
Provide basic school supplies.
Provide basic hygiene supplies.

Coordinate with NYPCC to provide family support.
Coordinate with Arts and Literacy to provide After School Services.

Prioritizing Students in Foster Care

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-Child Child Abuse and Neglect Intervention and Prevention School Plan and in accordance with the federal Education Law 3244 – Education of Children in Foster Care (Effective 2018) establishes the rights of students placed, or moved, in foster care to:

- Continue attending school of origin if determined to be in their best interest, or, if not, attend school near foster care placement,
- Immediate enrollment, and
- Transportation, if necessary to attend school of origin

Please respond to the questions below.

How many students in foster care are currently enrolled at your school? Provide a detailed breakdown of the social-emotional and academic supports available to them.

One student in foster care. Guidance counselor provides daily check-ins. The attendance team and Family worker communicates with the family often.

What targeted supports are in place for students in foster care, including those newly transitioning into the foster care system? How does your school ensure these students receive the necessary interventions to promote stability and success?

PS 116 provides enrichment programs through the Magnet Grant. Guidance counselor provides families with daily SEL check ins.

After analyzing historical demographic, attendance, and achievement data for students in foster care, what trends have emerged? How can these insights be used to improve the services and support provided to this population?

Attendance Team meets every two weeks to analyze attendance trends. Foster care students have had great attendance.
The following are the services we are currently providing:
Provide resources to address basic environmental needs.
Provide basic school supplies.
Provide basic hygiene supplies.
Coordinate with NYPCC to provide family support.
Coordinate with Arts and Literacy to provide After School Services.

What specific strategies does your school implement to ensure students in foster care, particularly those in transitional grades, receive targeted Social-Emotional Learning (SEL) support? How do these strategies help address academic and behavioral challenges?

Daily SEL instruction using the HMH curriculum. & PBL Unit of Study. Classroom environment designated space of a cozy/calming area with sensory tools and resources to support students in self-regulation and self-expression strategies.

Section 7: Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Directions: The Parent and Family Engagement Policy should describe how your school will plan and implement effective parent and family engagement activities and/or strategies to improve student academic achievement and school performance. The School-Parent Compact (SPC) is a component of the Parent and Family Engagement Policy (PFEP) that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share this responsibility.

The activities and/or strategies included in your school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy should align with current Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) goals for improving student achievement and should be developed or updated with input and feedback from parent leaders and the Parent Coordinator. In addition, if the school community will be engaged in central parent engagement initiatives, such as Parent Academy, which will provide training for school communities to help strengthen family-school partnerships, please be sure to include these activities in the school's policy.

In Title I schools, the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) represents the Title I parent community in supporting parent and family engagement. The Title I PAC Chairperson will serve in a consultative role with the SLT representing the school's Title I parents. Schools are encouraged to use the sample Parent and Family Engagement and SPC templates below (which meet federal Title I parent and family engagement requirements) as guidance for updating the school's current policy.

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental engagement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent and family engagement policy that will establish expectations and objectives for meaningful parent and family engagement in the school community. PS116K The Elizabeth Farrell, in compliance with Section 1116 of Title I, Part A of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), is responsible for creating and implementing a parent and family engagement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between the school and the families. The school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), and Title I Parent Advisory Council as trained volunteers and welcomed members of the school community.

Support for Parents and Family Members of Title I Students

PS116K The Elizabeth Farrell, will support parents and family members of Title I students by:

Parental Involvement and School Quality

The school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy was designed based upon a careful assessment of the needs of all parents/guardians, including parents/guardians of Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners (ML/ELL), and students with disabilities. The school community, with the meaningful involvement of parents and family members, will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent and family engagement policy with Title I parents to improve the academic quality of the school. The findings of the evaluation through school surveys and feedback forms will be used to design strategies to more effectively meet the needs of parents and family members and enhance the school's Title I program. This information will be maintained by the school.

In developing the Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy, parents of Title I participating students, parent members of the school's Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), as well as parent members of the School Leadership Team, were consulted on the proposed Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and asked to survey their members for additional input. To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, the school will:

- actively involve and engage parents and family members in the planning, review and evaluation of the effectiveness of the school's Title I program as outlined in the School Comprehensive Education Plan, including the implementation of the school's Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact;

Title I Program Information

Part 1: Title I Program Type

Title I Requirements and Strengthening Title I Parent Involvement: Under USDOE's Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), Title I schools are required to address professional learning and parent and family engagement in the Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP). To strengthen parent leadership in Title I schools, and increase the involvement of all parents of Title I eligible children in improving students' academic outcomes, all Title I schools are required to establish a Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) that will serve as the consultative and representative body for all Title I parents in the school to provide voice into the spending of Title I funds.

The SLT is responsible for facilitating consultation with the Title I Parent Advisory Council regarding the joint development of the CEP, Parent and Family Engagement Policy, School Parent Compact (SPC) and the use of the 1% parent involvement set-aside in Title I schools. The Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) Chairperson (or alternate) is expected to attend all regular meetings of the School Leadership Team (SLT). Title I parents, as represented by the Title I PAC Chairperson, must be consulted regarding the use of the Title I 1% set-aside for parent and family engagement. The Title I 1% set-aside funding is used to supplement parent and family engagement activities as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and must be aligned with student achievement goals as outlined in the CEP. For additional guidance on the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC), go to the Protocols and Timeline for Title I Parent and Family Engagement Activities document.

Directions:

- All schools must indicate their Title I status in Part 1.
- All elements of the All Title I Schools section must be completed in Part 2.
- All Targeted Assistance (TA) Schools must also complete the TA Schools Only section in Part 3.
- All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools must also complete the SWP Schools Only section in Part 4.
- If a required component is addressed elsewhere in this plan, you may refer to the section or Priority where the response can be found.

The areas of concentration that indicate strategies and activities for high quality professional learning to enable all students to meet state standards are:

* Advance Literacy Hallmark 4 - Academic Vocabulary and Language - focusing on Explicit Vocabulary Instruction.
*Advance Literacy Hallmark 2 - Classroom Discussion - focusing on Explicit discussion routines including debate.

Part 4: Schoolwide Program (SWP)

Transition Plans to Assist Preschool Children (Elementary Schools Only): Describe the transition plans used to assist preschool children from early childhood programs to the elementary school program (e.g. aligned curriculum, joint PD & parent involvement activities, sharing of records/information, early intervention services, etc.).

Teachers engaged students and families in conversations regarding moving up to Kindergarten and PreK (for 3K students). Discussions were embedded into center time and whole groups lessons. Teachers shared transition information from DECE social worker and Instructional coaches with families.

Part 5: "Conceptual" Consolidation of Funds in SWP Schools

Directions: All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools in NYC are conceptually consolidating their Federal, State, and Local funds, even though the Galaxy system reports the allocations in separate accounting codes1. To be eligible for the flexibility consolidation of Federal funds, a Schoolwide Program school must identify in its Schoolwide plan (CEP) which programs are included in its consolidation and the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool. Additionally, the school plan must document that it has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated2. On the chart below, indicate which Federal, State, and/or local Tax Levy program funds that are consolidated in your school's Schoolwide Program, the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool, and verification that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated.
For the last two columns of this table: Place an (X) in Column A below to verify that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated. Indicate in Column B, the Priority or section that references where a related program activity has been described in this plan.

Explanation/Background

1. Explanation/Background:

Title I Schoolwide Program schools are expected to use the flexibility available to them to integrate services and programs with the aim of enhancing the entire educational program and helping all students reach proficient and advanced levels of achievement. In addition to coordinating and integrating services, Schoolwide Program schools may combine most Federal, State and local funds to provide those services. By consolidating funds from Federal, State, and local sources, a Schoolwide Program school can address its needs using all its available resources. This gives a school more flexibility in how it uses available resources to meet the identified needs of all its students.

Consolidating funds in a Schoolwide Program means that a school treats the funds it is consolidating like they are a single "pool" of funds. In other words, the funds from the contributing programs in the school lose their individual identity and the school has one flexible pool of funds. The school uses funds from this consolidated Schoolwide pool to support any activity of the Schoolwide Program without regard to which program contributed the specific funds used for a particular activity – so long as the use of funds meets the intent and purposes of the programs from which the funds originate. To consolidate funding in a Schoolwide Program, the school does not literally need to combine funds in a single account or pool with its own accounting code. Rather, the word "pool" is used conceptually to convey that a Schoolwide Program school has the use of all consolidated funds available to it for the dedicated function of operating a Schoolwide Program without regard to the identity of those funds.

Consolidating Federal funds in a Schoolwide Program has the following additional advantages:

- Consolidating Federal funds eases the requirements for accounting for funds from each specific program separately, because a Schoolwide school is not required to distinguish among funds received from different sources when accounting for their use.
- A school that consolidates Federal funds in its Schoolwide Program is not required to meet most of the statutory and regulatory requirements of the specific Federal programs included in the consolidation (e.g., semi-annual time and effort reporting for Title I). However, the school must ensure that it meets the intent and purposes of the Federal programs included in the consolidation so that the needs of the intended beneficiaries are met.

2. The intent and purposes of the Federal programs indicated on the chart above (Part 4c of this section) are as follows:

- Title I, Part A – Schoolwide Programs: To upgrade the entire educational program in the school in order to improve the academic achievement of all students, particularly the lowest-achieving students. This includes provision of services for Students in Temporary Housing (STH).
- Title I 1003(a), School Improvement: Comprehensive Support and Improvement (CSI), Additional Targeted Support and Improvement (ATSI) and Targeted Support and Improvement (TSI) Funding:

Support implementation of school improvement plans that aims to improve instruction and address the identified needs

Title II, Part A: Supplementary funding to improve student academic achievement by reducing class size in grades K, 1, 2, and 3, with an emphasis on grades with an average register greater than 20. If space is not available to form additional classes, funds may support push-in teacher(s) to supplement the instructional program. For schools that choose to reduce class size, priority must be given to reducing class size in general education settings and must demonstrate the following:

- Reduce class sizes to 15-18 students or fewer (including the use of co-teaching and floating teachers that bring the student to teacher ratio to one teacher per 15-18 students);
- Be accompanied by a rigorous curriculum, effective teachers, and a sustained, job-embedded professional development plan.

- Title III, Part A: To help ensure that children with limited English proficiency become proficient in English, develop high academic attainment in English, and meet the same challenging State academic content and achievement standards in the core academic subjects that all other children are expected to meet. Another purpose of this program is to increase the capacity of schools to establish, implement and sustain high-quality language instruction programs and English language development programs that assist schools in effectively teaching students with limited English proficiency. Title III, Part A is also designed to promote the participation of parents and communities of limited English proficient children in English language instruction programs.
- Title III Immigrant: Supplementary and enhanced services to immigrant students, in the areas of English language acquisition and content area achievement. Immigrant children and youth are defined as individuals who are aged 3 through 21, have not been attending school in any one or more states for more than three (3) full academic years, and were not born in any state. "State" means the 50 states of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Children born to U.S. citizens abroad, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or any other U.S. territory that is not D.C. or Puerto Rico are to be considered immigrants.
- Title IV, Part A: Title IV funds are for schools that are among those with the greatest needs, have the highest numbers of students from low-income families, are identified for CS, ATSI or TSI, or are identified as persistently dangerous public schools. Allowable uses of funds under well-rounded education, safety and health, and educational technology include direct services for students, professional development for teachers and administrators, and supplemental educational resources. School allocations have been provided for well-rounded education, social emotional learning, cultural responsiveness awareness, professional development to support implementation of technology and blended learning environments, and community coordinators in schools with high rates of students in temporary housing

- Students in Temporary Housing (STH): Schools must describe their use of Title I STH funds in their consolidated application.

Important Note: The following funds may not be consolidated:

- Title I Parent Involvement Set-aside: Title I, Part A funds must support parent involvement activities and programs. Chancellor's Regulation A-655 requires School Leadership Teams to consult with Title I parent representatives regarding the Title I program and the use of these funds. Parent involvement activities funded through Title I must be included in the Parent and Family Engagement Policy and aligned with student achievement goals in the school comprehensive educational plan.
- IDEA: To ensure that all children with disabilities have available to them a free appropriate public education designed to meet their individual needs.
- Grant funds awarded via a competitive process: These funds must be used for the purposes specified by the Grantor, as described in the school's approved grant application.

Part II: Bilingual Programs

Does your school have a bilingual program (Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) or Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE)?

Yes

Provide the number of classrooms for each bilingual program, by grade, at your school for the 2025-26 school year. If submitted before the 2025-26 school year begins, this should be the anticipated number of classrooms based on anticipated enrollment. Each language and program model--Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) or Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE)--is considered a separate program. In the second column, please indicate if the program is General Education (GE), Integrated Co-Teaching (ICT) special education, Special Class (SC), or Mixed-Group Class (MGC) special education. If a classroom bridges two grades, list as 0.5 classrooms for both grades.
Please include the total number of classrooms for each bilingual program in the last column.

Part III: ML/ELL Programming

Please refer to New York State Commissioner's Regulation (CR) Part 154 Units of Study Tables as you describe academic programming for MLs/ELLs at your school below. Please do not leave any fields blank and indicate "N/A" for any fields that are not applicable.

Describe your English as a New Language (ENL), and if applicable Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE), and Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs. For each program, include:

- How stand-alone ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How integrated ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How students are grouped (e.g., block [class travels together as a group], ungraded [all students regardless of grade are in one class], heterogeneous [mixed proficiency levels], homogenous [proficiency level is the same in one class]).

a. English as a New Language (ENL)
Stand-alone ENL:

At PS116K LMA, we follow CR Part 154-2 to guide how we provide mandated English as a New Language (ENL) instruction. In our Stand-alone ENL program, students receive focused English language instruction from a New York State certified ESOL teacher. This instruction uses a pull-out model to help students build the English skills they need to succeed in their core subjects.

Students who are at the Entering and Emerging levels are grouped together for their required 180 minutes per week of Stand-alone ENL for each grade from K-5, along with 180 minutes of Integrated ELA. We use the DOE ENL Stand-Alone Units of Study, organized by grade level and specifically designed for Entering and Emerging students. Lessons are scheduled in 50-minute sessions. During these lessons, students work in groups to read short texts and answer WH questions, using visuals and graphic supports to help with understanding.

Integrated ENL:

At PS116K LMA, ENL teachers group students heterogeneously within their integrated classrooms to best support language development.

Kindergarten: One class is taught by a bilingual-certified teacher, while the other is taught by a certified teacher with a common branch license and bilingual extension, supported by the ENL teacher during push-in sessions. Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, and Expanding students receive 180 minutes of ENL instruction in ELA per week, delivered four times a week in 45-minute blocks.

Grade 1: One class is taught by a bilingual-certified teacher, while the ICT class is taught by two teachers working in partnership, with additional support from the ENL teacher. Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, and Expanding students receive 180 minutes of ENL instruction in ELA per week, delivered four times a week in 45-minute blocks.

Grade 2: One class is taught by a bilingual-certified teacher. The ICT class is taught by two teachers working in partnership, supported by the ENL teacher. Another class is taught by a general education teacher, also supported by the ENL teacher. Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, and Expanding students receive 180 minutes of ENL instruction in ELA per week, delivered four times a week in 45-minute blocks.

Grade 3: One class is taught by a bilingual-certified teacher, and the other by a certified general education teacher, with ENL push-in support. Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, and Expanding students receive 180 minutes of ENL instruction in ELA per week, delivered four times a week in 45-minute blocks.

Grade 4: One class is taught by a bilingual-certified teacher. The ICT class is taught by two teachers working in partnership, supported by the ENL teacher. There is also an ESL class taught by an ENL teacher with bilingual and common branch licenses. Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, and Expanding students receive 180 minutes of ENL instruction in ELA per week, delivered four times a week in 45-minute blocks.

Grade 5: One class is taught by a bilingual-certified teacher. The ICT class is taught by two teachers working in partnership, with ENL push-in support. Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, and Expanding students receive 180 minutes of ENL instruction in ELA per week, delivered four times a week in 45-minute blocks. Commanding students receive 90 minutes of ENL instruction in ELA per week, also delivered four times a week in 45-minute block

b. Bilingual Education (If applicable)

Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE):

Our school does not have a TBE program.

Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE):

PS116K LMA offers a strong Dual Language (DL) program for students in grades K–5. The program is designed to support students in becoming bilingual, biliterate, and bicultural while developing strong academic skills. Instruction is delivered 50% in English and 50% in Spanish, with students alternating every other day between the two languages. All content areas, including ELA, Math, Social Studies, and Science, are taught in both English and Spanish to ensure balanced language development and content mastery.

For literacy instruction, students receive English instruction using HMH Into Reading and Spanish instruction using Arriba la Lectura. Spanish phonics is taught using Heggerty Spanish in grades K–5. Additionally, K–2 students receive 50 minutes daily of Heggerty phonemic awareness/UFLI, and grades 3–5 receive Phonics for Reading instruction and Heggerty in English during 1st period every day. Therefore, ENL Entering and Emerging students in the Dual Language program receive 180 minutes of stand-alone ENL weekly. In the Integrated ENL program, students receive instruction in all content areas in English every other day. They are heterogeneously grouped for all content area instruction and receive a total of 180 minutes of Integrated ENL services.

In addition, core content areas such as Math, Social Studies, and Science are taught using Illustrative Math, Passport to Social Studies, and Amplify Science, in both English and Spanish.

2. How does your school ensure the mandated number of instructional minutes are provided according to students' English language proficiency levels in each program model?

PS116K LMA makes sure all students get the required ENL instructional minutes based on their English proficiency. We follow CR Part 154 to schedule both stand-alone and integrated ENL lessons. All ENL students are programmed on STARS by the ENL teacher and ENL coordinator.

For stand-alone ENL, Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, and Expanding students receive 180 minutes per week in 45–50 minute lessons.

In integrated ENL, ENL teachers work with classroom teachers to support English language development during regular lessons in ELA, Math, Science, and Social Studies. We keep track of schedules and attendance to make sure students get their required minutes.

For students in the Dual Language program, instruction is half in English and half in Spanish, alternating each day. They also receive stand-alone ENL lessons to support English development. English literacy is taught with Heggerty/UFLI or Phonics for Reading, and Spanish literacy with Arriba la Lectura or Estrellita.

3. How are ENL, English Language Arts (ELA) and if applicable, Home Language Arts (HLA) instructional minutes delivered in each program model?

At PS 116K LMA, English Language Learners (ELLs) are grouped by grade level and receive instructional services based on their English language proficiency levels.

Entering and Emerging ELLs receive a total of 180 minutes of Stand-Alone ENL instruction and 180 minutes of Integrated English Language Arts (ELA) instruction each week.

Transitioning and Expanding ELLs receive 180 minutes of Integrated ELA instruction each week.

ELLs are placed in a general education class, a dual language classroom, or a 4th-grade ESL self-contained class, with the exception of students in Integrated Co-Teaching (ICT) settings or those receiving related services.

Integrated ENL instruction is provided using the push-in model, where ENL teachers collaborate with classroom teachers to support ELLs within content area classes such as ELA, Math, Science, or Social Studies. Both Integrated and Stand-Alone ENL instruction occur during the students' scheduled ELA blocks.

In Dual Language classrooms, ELLs receive Home Language Arts (HLA) instruction across all content areas, which supports the development of both English and their home language skills.

4. For schools with Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) programs:

a. Which Dual Language Bilingual Education model is implemented? Explain how much of the instructional day (percentage) English proficient students and ELLs are integrated.

The Dual Language classes follow a 50/50 self-contained immersion program. Both English-proficient students and ELL students are fully integrated 100 percent of the day. Our 50/50 model follows an alternate-day schedule, where instruction is delivered in Spanish one day and English the next, and then alternates throughout the week.

We use a two-way model, which provides a balanced mix of English-proficient students and ELLs. This structure allows all students to develop bilingual, biliterate, and academic skills in both languages while learning alongside peers at different proficiency levels.

b. In which language(s) is each core content area taught?

Dual Language Immersion Program - Reading, Writing, Math, Social Studies, and Science are taught in English and Spanish. One day, reading, writing, math, social studies, and science are taught in English. Then, the next day, reading, writing, math, social studies, and science are taught in Spanish.

5. For schools with Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs:

a. Which core content areas are taught bilingually?

N/A

Part IV: Data Analysis

Data Analysis

After reviewing and analyzing school demographic and assessment data, answer the following questions. The ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) provided by the Office of Multilingual Learners can assist with identifying these data points.

For additional information, refer to Data Analysis Professional Learning Module and ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) Professional Learning Module.

1. What is the composition of the ELL subgroups at your school?
What percentage of ELLs are Newcomers? How does effective instruction for Newcomers differ from those provided to Developing or Long-Term ELLs?

At PS116K LMA, our ELL students are made up of two groups: Newcomers and Developing ELLs. Most of our ELLs, 94 students, or 67.6% are Newcomers. The rest, 45 students or 32%, are Developing ELLs. We don't currently have any students with interrupted or inconsistent formal education (SIFE).

The support we give to Newcomers and Developing ELLs is different based on how long they've been learning English. Newcomers, who are at the entering and emerging levels, get 180 minutes of small group instruction in stand-alone ENL (English as a New Language) plus 180 minutes of integrated English Language Arts each day. Developing ELLs, who are at the transitioning and expanding levels, receive 180 minutes of integrated instruction.

We regularly collect and analyze data to compare how ELL students are doing compared to their grade-level peers. This helps us group students based on their needs, identify those who might be at risk, and use MTSS to give them the right instruction. We also track their progress to make sure they're getting the support they need.

During literacy time, teachers include lots of scaffolding activities in both English and Spanish. This includes clear vocabulary instruction in small groups that helps students build their English skills. Classrooms have bilingual libraries with many interesting books at different levels that connect to students' culture, language, and experiences. Students are put in different stations for each literacy period to meet their needs.

Additionally, Newcomers get extra help in their native language to support their understanding and make connections as they learn English. Instruction is focused on building foundational English skills, including survival vocabulary, simple sentence structures, and oral language development. These students benefit from daily oral language practice and sentence frames. Teachers use strategies such as visuals, gestures, modeling, and translation support to help Newcomers access content and participate in the classroom.

On the other hand, Developing or Long-Term ELLs get instruction that emphasizes academic language development, content-specific vocabulary, and more complex reading and writing tasks. While scaffolds such as sentence frames and visuals can still be helpful, instruction will promote more independence through academic discussions, text analysis, and structured writing opportunities. These students participate in partner discussions, reading comprehension tasks, and text-based writing, but still need support such as sentence starters, graphic organizers, and word banks.

What percentage of ELLs are Students with Inconsistent/Interrupted Formal Education (SIFE)? How do you differentiate effective instruction for SIFE?

At PS116K LMA, there are no SIFE students at this time, which is 0% of our ELL population. If SIFE students enroll in the future, teachers will give small-group and one-on-one help to build reading, writing, and language skills. Lessons will use pictures, sentence frames, and hands-on activities to support understanding. Teachers will also help students build background knowledge and vocabulary while giving social and emotional support. Classroom teachers, ENL teachers, and counselors will work together to meet each student's needs.

What percentage of ELLs are Long-Term ELLs? How does effective instruction for Long-Term ELLs differ from instruction designed for Developing ELLs?

At PS116K LMA, there are no ELLS identified as Long-Term English Language Learners. If there are Long Term ELLS, effective instruction for them would focus on advancing academic language and literacy skills needed for grade-level success. Instruction includes explicit vocabulary development, extended speaking and writing opportunities, and targeted support in reading comprehension and grammar in context. Unlike Developing ELLs, who may still be acquiring basic English and foundational skills, Long Term ELLS often understand social English but need support in academic language and content-specific vocabulary. Teachers provide differentiated instruction through collaborative discussions, writing scaffolds, and content-based lessons to help Long Term ELLs meet the demands of academic English and progress toward proficiency.

Effective instruction for Developing ELLs focuses on helping students learn English and grade-level content at the same time. Teachers explicitly teach vocabulary, grammar, and language structures using visuals, gestures, and sentence frames to make lessons easier to understand. Students work in small groups and do interactive activities like partner talk, role-play, and shared writing to practice speaking, reading, and writing. Teachers also connect lessons to students' experiences and give regular feedback to help them grow in English and confidence.

What percentage of students are former ELLs? How is your school providing mandated instruction to former ELLs?

At PS116K LMA, we currently have 5 former ELLs, which is about 1.97% of our student population. These students have tested out by earning a commanding score on the NYSESLAT.

According to CR Part 154, Former ELLs are students who were previously identified as ELLs but have exited ELL status within the past two school years. After exiting, we continue to support their English language development and academic progress by providing at least 0.5 units of study (about 90 minutes a week) or an equal amount of integrated English as a New Language instruction in English Language Arts (ELA) and other core content subjects.

Our ENL teacher works closely with classroom teachers to design lessons that meet the specific needs of former ELLs. Teachers provide language support by modeling language and encouraging student interaction. Students work in small groups where they practice speaking skills using sentence frames and word banks with targeted vocabulary.

In the Dual Language classrooms, teachers provide language support by modeling language and encouraging student interaction. Students work in small groups where they practice speaking skills using sentence frames and word banks with targeted vocabulary.

2. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of ELLs at your school?

At PS116K LMA, one of the most significant risk factors is that 110 or 79.7% of our ELLs are Newcomers, meaning they are still developing English proficiency and adjusting to a new school system and culture.

Additionally, 41 ELLs (48.8%) did not meet their expected ELP progress, indicating a need for targeted language support.

Another major concern is that 57.2% of our ELL population lives in temporary housing, which can lead to instability that negatively impacts attendance, focus, and access to academic resources.

3. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect former ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of former ELLs at your school?

At PS116K LMA, we have observed that 1 former English Language Learner (ELL) continue to need academic support after exiting ENL services. In 2025, approximately one out of four former ELLs who took the New York State ELA assessment scored at Level 2, indicating that these students may still face challenges with reading comprehension and academic language. Although these students are not living in temporary housing, their performance data suggests a need for continued academic and language development support through interventions such as AIS, small-group instruction, and targeted literacy strategies.

4. What are the home languages of ELLs with the largest representation at your school? What staff, structures, and processes does your school have to support communication and learning that values these home languages?

At PS116K LMA, the largest group of English Language Learners speaks Spanish. About 137 ELL students (99.3%) speak Spanish. We work hard to make our school a welcoming place where families feel respected and included. Our staff celebrates different cultures and languages.

We have clear systems to keep families informed and connected. All important messages are translated into English, Spanish, Nepali and Chinese. An iPad at the front desk helps with quick translations, and signs at the entrance let families know that translation help is available.

Many of our staff speak Spanish, which helps with daily communication. Teachers talk to families in their home language whenever they can, with help from school translators or the Language Interpretation Unit (LIT). During parent-teacher conferences, staff members help translate so families can understand and be involved in their child's education.

5. What are the racial and ethnic classifications of ELLs at your school? How are ELLs being included in planning and delivery of Culturally Responsive and Sustaining Education (CR-SE)?

Based on registration data and the Spring 2025 EDAT report, most of the ELLs at PS116K LMA come from diverse racial and ethnic backgrounds. A total of 130 students (79.3%) identify as both American Indian or Alaskan Native and Hispanic. Seven students (4.3%) identify as both Black and Hispanic, and three students (1.8%) identify as Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander. In addition, one Black and one White student are classified as Non-Hispanic.

To meet the needs of our diverse ELL students, all teachers are trained in strategies to support English language learning and academic growth. Teachers have weekly common planning time to work together. They use this time to plan culturally responsive lessons that match students' language levels and backgrounds.

We hold high expectations for all students, including ELLs. Teachers create lessons that include rich conversations, where students can ask questions, share ideas, and listen to others. This helps build both language skills and critical thinking.

Our classrooms also include hands-on activities, real-life objects from different cultures, and books that reflect students' backgrounds. This helps students feel proud of their identity and learn about others. We aim to create a welcoming, respectful, and student-centered environment that supports both learning and personal growth.

6. What trends do you notice in reviewing English Language Proficiency (ELP) growth at your school? How many students met ELP sufficient progress? How many students did not meet ELP sufficient progress?

When reviewing the English Language Proficiency (ELP) growth at our school based on the Spring 2024 NYSESLAT results, we observed that only 17 ELLs (18.5%) met their annual ELP sufficient progress goals. Additionally, 7 ELLs (7.6%) met progress by exiting ELL status, and 6 ELLs (6.5%) met the safe harbor cumulative growth measure. In total, approximately 62 ELLs (67.4%) did not meet their expected progress, indicating that the majority of our ELLs were not developing their English language skills at the pace needed to meet state benchmarks.

In comparison, the Spring 2025 NYSESLAT results show an improvement in overall language progress. Of the 83 ELLs tested for the growth , 37 ELLs (45%) met their annual ELP progress, and 8 ELLs (9.6%) met the safe harbor cumulative growth measure. However, 38 ELLs (46%) did not meet their expected ELP progress.

This data indicates a positive upward trend in the percentage of ELLs making sufficient progress compared to the previous year (from 18.5% to 40.5%).

7. When you look at the results of the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT), what stands out? What trends are there for each modality?

When reviewing the results of the 2025 New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT), several key trends show regarding student performance in the speaking and writing modalities.

One key observation from the test results is that younger students experience the most difficulty with speaking skills. In Grade 1, 95% of students (19 out of 20) struggled with speaking, indicating that oral language development remains a significant challenge for early ELL learners. This trend continues into Grade 2, where 62.5% of students (15 out of 24) had difficulty with speaking and 67% (16 out of 24) struggled with writing. These results suggest that both speaking and writing are early areas of need that require targeted support and explicit language instruction.

As students progress to higher grades, speaking proficiency improves; however, writing remains a challenge. In Grade 3, 44% of students (11 out of 25) struggled with speaking, while 80% (20 out of 25) had difficulty with writing. This shows that although some students make progress in oral communication, written expression remains an area of concern.

In Grade 4, 37.5% of students (9 out of 24) struggled with speaking, while 28.6% (8 out of 28) had difficulty with writing. By Grade 5, 34.8% of students (8 out of 23) struggled with speaking, and 39.1% (9 out of 23) continued to face challenges in writing.

In summary, the results of the 2025 NYSESLAT show that speaking tends to improve with age, especially from Grade 1 through Grade 5, as evidenced by the decreasing percentages of students struggling with speaking. On the other hand, writing continues to be difficult for students, particularly in the earlier grades, but also in higher grades. The data highlights the importance of providing targeted writing support, especially in the lower grades, while also maintaining support for speaking skills across all grade levels.

8. What is the relationship between students' performance on the NYSESLAT and other state assessments such as the ELA assessment, the Math assessment, and the Regents exams?

There is a connection between how well students do on the NYSESLAT and their scores on the ELA and Math state tests. As students' English improves, their scores on ELA and Math tests also get better.

ELA Exam:

Students with low English levels (Entering and Emerging) usually scored Level 1 on the ELA test. As their English got better (Transitioning and Expanding), they were more likely to score Level 2 or higher. Students with the highest English level (Commanding) did the best, often scoring Level 3 or 4 on the ELA test.

Math Exam:

The same pattern was seen on the Math test. Students in the Entering group mostly scored Level 1. Emerging students did a little better, scoring at Levels 1 and 2. Students in the Transitioning, Expanding, and Commanding groups did the best, with many scoring Level 3 or 4. Commanding students had the highest scores, with some reaching Level 4.

Observations:
The data suggests that students' English proficiency, as measured by the NYSESLAT, has a strong influence on their performance in both the ELA and Math exams. As students move from Entering to Commanding proficiency levels on the NYSESLAT, their performance on other state assessments tends to improve. While the pattern is more clear in the ELA exam, it is also visible in the Math exam. This shows that language proficiency plays a role in understanding and responding to questions in Math.

9. What are trends reflected in the NYSESLAT results of ELL subgroups such as ELLs with IEPs and SIFE? What do you think is impacting the results for these subgroups?

At PS116K LMA, Out of 45 students with IEP, there are 8 students with an IEP and are ELLs. 6 students are either entering or emerging on the NYSESLAT.

For ELLs with IEPs:
Many students in this group are in the lower English proficiency levels (Entering and Emerging). This shows that they often struggle more with learning English compared to other ELLs. Their challenges come from having both a disability and the task of learning a new language at the same time. These students may have difficulties with skills like reading, listening, writing, and speaking.

In addition, the NYSESLAT test may not always fully reflect their abilities, since it may not be designed to match their specific learning needs. Limited access to specially designed instruction or consistent support can also affect their progress.

Overall, ELLs with IEPs need more individualized support that connects language learning strategies with their IEP goals. When instruction and accommodations are better aligned, these students are more likely to show growth on assessments like the NYSESLAT. These students benefit most when instruction and interventions are coordinated between ENL and special education teachers to meet both their language and learning goals.

Part V: ML/ELL Instruction

Tier 1: Core Instruction

For additional information, refer to ML/ELL Instruction Professional Learning Module.

Tier 1 Core Instruction

1. How does your school provide ELLs with a high-quality academic experience that leads to deeper learning?

At PS116K LMA, our instructional approach is centered on supporting language development for all English Language Learners (ELLs). Language instruction is input across content areas to ensure that students are developing both academic language and content knowledge.

We use the HMH Into Reading program in all grades, which integrates language and content objectives to promote meaningful language development. For students in dual-language classes, we implement Arriba la Lectura as the native language curriculum. This program explicitly teaches comprehension strategies using the gradual release model ("I do, we do, you do").

Students are exposed to a wide range of complex, content-rich, and culturally relevant texts. Target vocabulary is introduced and reinforced to deepen comprehension and support engagement with the theme of each unit. Building background knowledge before reading a text is important for comprehension. Foundational reading skills, including phonics and fluency, are also taught during the reading block.

Teachers use both formative and summative assessments to monitor student progress. Based on this data, they group students strategically and provide targeted, small-group instruction. These small groups focus on all literacy components, including phonics, spelling, comprehension, vocabulary, fluency, grammar, and writing.

To further support ELLs, we provide a variety of accommodations, such as Thinking Maps, explicit vocabulary instruction (with visuals when needed), texts in students' first languages (L1), and glossaries. These tools help make academic content more accessible and support language acquisition.

Additionally, our school incorporates Project-Based Learning (PBL). Through PBL, students engage in hands-on projects that foster critical thinking, collaboration, problem-solving, and real-world application. These projects motivate students and allow them to apply newly acquired skills in meaningful and personally relevant ways.

2. How does your school's leadership team ensure ELLs have access to core instruction/curriculum?

At PS 116K LMA, the School-Based Staff Development Committee (SDC) works collaboratively to ensure that all students, especially English Language Learners (ELLs), have access to the resources and instruction they need to succeed. The team includes school administrators, teachers from every grade level, special education teachers, ENL teachers, and the instructional coach. This diverse group of voices and expertise allows the committee to make informed decisions that address the unique needs of our ELLs.

The main goal of the SDC is to improve teaching and learning so that every student can reach their highest potential. The team reviews data, shares effective practices, and collaborates to ensure that all students are supported academically and socially. The SDC meets regularly—usually once a month or as needed—to monitor progress, make necessary adjustments, and provide professional development for teachers based on data, observations, and feedback.

Supporting ELLs in Core Instruction
To make sure our ELLs have access to the core curriculum, the ILT works in several ways:

Looking at Data Together:
We regularly dig into student data like NYSESLAT scores, ELA and Math tests, i-Ready assessments, and student work samples. This helps us understand how our ELLs are doing and where we can offer extra support. By looking at the data, we can figure out how to tailor our teaching to meet the needs of each student.

Adapting the Curriculum:
Teacher teams at each grade level work collaboratively to develop curriculum maps and pacing calendars that include differentiated instruction for all students, including ELLs. We ensure that all materials and lessons are accessible by incorporating visuals, vocabulary support, sentence starters, and clearly stated language objectives alongside content objectives. This approach allows ELLs to fully engage with grade-level curriculum while simultaneously developing their English language skills.

Using Best Teaching Practices:
The team works together to share and promote strategies that work well for ELLs, like using sheltered instruction (e.g., the SIOP model) and project-based learning. These practices help students learn content while also developing their English skills, so they’re not just learning about the subject, but also learning through the subject.

Teamwork Across Subjects:
We know that collaboration is key, so the Teacher teams encourage close teamwork between general education teachers, ENL/Dual language teachers, and special education teachers. This way, everyone is on the same page when it comes to planning lessons, and ELLs get the support they need. Co-teaching models, push-in/pull-out services, and planning time together all help make sure ELLs have access to grade-level content.

Ongoing Reflection and Action:
As part of our continuous improvement process, the the School-Based Staff Development Committee (SDC) regularly checks the effectiveness of our programs and strategies. We use progress monitoring, feedback from teachers, and student work to decide what’s working and what needs improvement. Based on these evaluations, we create action plans and offer professional development to help teachers strengthen their practices.

Focusing on Social-Emotional Learning (SEL):
We also recognize that social-emotional learning (SEL) is crucial for all students, and ELLs benefit from it as much as anyone. That's why we’ve made sure to incorporate SEL into our curriculum. For example, in our HMH Reading Curriculum, each story includes SEL-related questions that encourage students to reflect on how the story connects to their own lives. This helps them not only relate to the material but also grow in their emotional awareness and empathy.

Sharing Resources and Best Practices:
School based staff development committee members share key strategies, curriculum updates, and instructional protocols with the rest of the school. This helps ensure that everyone, from teachers to support staff, is on the same page when it comes to supporting ELLs and using best practices.

3. Describe how core content is delivered in each program model. Specify language, and the instructional approaches and methods to foster language development and meet the demands of the Next Generation Learning Standards.

At PS116K LMA, we offer different program models to support ELLs and MLLs, ensuring they receive a balanced mix of academic content and language development. In our Stand-alone ENL classes, all academic lessons are taught in English, using strategies like sheltered instruction and vocabulary support to help students learn both the content and the language. We also offer tools like sentence starters and native language resources to support their learning. The goal of this program is to immerse students in English, helping them become fluent while mastering core subjects like ELA, math, science, and social studies.

In our Integrated ENL classes, students receive instruction in both core subjects and English language development from certified teachers. This model emphasizes a dual focus on content learning and language acquisition, ensuring that students get the academic knowledge they need while also improving their English skills. Teachers use a variety of strategies to support language development, like collaborative learning and tiered tasks, so every student can participate meaningfully. We also offer tools like sentence starters, native language resources to support their learning. The goal of this program is to immerse students in English, helping them become fluent while mastering core subjects like ELA, math, science, and social studies.

In our Dual Language Program, students receive instruction in English one day and in Spanish the next, alternating each day, allowing them to become bilingual and biliterate. This program fosters collaboration between native English speakers and native Spanish speakers, creating an inclusive learning environment.

Across all our programs, we emphasize helping students become active learners by promoting academic language and encouraging critical thinking. We focus on strategies like questioning techniques and Universal Design for Learning (UDL) to make lessons accessible and engaging for all learners. By using these methods, we help students not only meet the Next Generation Learning Standards (NGLS) but also develop the language skills needed for success in school and beyond.

4. What instructional strategies and grade-level materials, including technology, do teachers of MLs/ELLs use to provide access to grade level academic content areas and accelerate English language development? Include core content area and language materials with consideration to specific ELL subgroups.
a. ELLs with IEPs

At PS116K LMA, our instructional strategies are based on the Danielson Framework and aligned with the Next Generation Standards (NGS). We use research-based approaches, including the Science of Reading, Universal Design for Learning (UDL), and Depth of Knowledge (DOK), to create a supportive learning environment for ELLs, especially in writing.

For writing, we use HMH Into Writing to teach composition skills. Teachers also provide sentence frames and sentence starters to help ELLs structure their writing. School-wide vocabulary protocols, like the Frayer Model and word banks, help students understand and use key vocabulary in all subjects. We also use Thinking maps to help students organize their thoughts.

For reading, we implement HMH Into Reading and ¡Arriba la Lectura! in Spanish. These programs offer scaffolds for multilingual learners and provide culturally relevant texts to engage students while building literacy skills. We also use Epic: Digital Library for Kids, which offers fiction and nonfiction books in English and other languages, and i-Ready reading lessons to support reading and language development digitally. There are also i-Reading Spanish lessons in math and reading to support ELL/ENL students.

In math, we use the Illustrative Math K–5 curriculum, which is problem-based, rigorous, and aligned with standards. This curriculum ensures students build a strong foundation in math while developing critical thinking and problem-solving skills.

Instructional strategies and materials are similar in General Education and Special Education classrooms. Students with IEPs receive grade-level instruction in English with support in their native language (L1) when needed. All students benefit from small group instruction and services tailored to their needs. For ELLs with IEPs, we provide differentiated instruction with a focus on reading and writing strategies that promote English language acquisition across all subjects.

b. SIFE

Currently, we do not have SIFE students at our school. However, if we do, we have a plan to support their needs. SIFE students will use the same instructional materials as other students, but ENL teachers, general education teachers, special education teachers, and service providers will work together to provide extra support and scaffolding so they can access the curriculum and succeed academically and socially.

We will use strategies such as modeling, guided reading and writing, pacing adjustments, graphic organizers, and thinking maps to meet the needs of SIFE students. These strategies help teachers address gaps caused by interrupted formal education and guide students' growth.

We will also use Escalera, a curriculum designed for new arrivals and students with interrupted education, to provide extra literacy support. Small group instruction will give students focused help with decoding, fluency, and comprehension. Our goal is to help SIFE students catch up academically and build the skills they need to succeed.

c. Newcomers

Newcomer students at our school follow the same curriculum as their peers. ENL teachers help them access the content by using their knowledge and experiences. We also provide materials in students' native language as a support until they can fully use English. This helps students learn the content while improving their English skills.

Our ENL teacher works with all teachers, parents, and the community to support newcomer ELLs. We focus on teaching vocabulary using strategies like the Frayer Model, word study, and cognate walls. In the classroom, ENL, general education and special education teachers work together to make lessons understandable and connect students' home language and experiences to English learning.

We also use graphic organizers and thinking maps to help students understand complex topics and organize their writing.

Newcomers in General Education and Special Education get 360 minutes per week of stand-alone ENL and integrated ELA instruction. In Dual Language classes, newcomers get the same ENL minutes plus instruction from a dually certified teacher. During literacy blocks, students work in small groups and use HMH reading stations. Instruction focuses on phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary, and comprehension to build strong reading skills.

Across all grades, we follow the core curriculum and provide supports in students' native language (L1). This ensures newcomer ELLs can access the same academic content as their peers while learning English.

One of the most essential strategies is scaffolding instruction. This involves breaking tasks into manageable steps and providing support along the way. Teachers often use sentence starters, word banks, and graphic organizers to help students access content and build confidence in their language use. Modeling tasks before asking students to complete them independently is also an effective scaffolding tool.

One of the most essential strategies is scaffolding instruction. This involves breaking tasks into manageable steps and providing support along the way. Teachers often use sentence starters, word banks, and graphic organizers to help students access content and build confidence in their language use. Modeling tasks before asking students to complete them independently is also an effective scaffolding tool.

Vocabulary instruction is also a critical component of ENL support. Teachers intentionally pre-teach academic vocabulary before reading or content lessons and reinforce new words through repetition, context clues, and word mapping. For Spanish-speaking students, identifying and using cognates—words that look and sound similar in both languages—can improve vocabulary acquisition.

To foster language development through interaction, ENL teachers implement interactive speaking activities. These include think-pair-share, turn-and-talks, and small-group discussions that provide opportunities for oral language practice in meaningful contexts. Language-rich tasks like role-plays and interviews also encourage students to speak and listen in English. During PBL (Project-Based Learning), students work in groups and have the opportunity to present their projects to the community.

Total Physical Response (TPR) is another effective technique, especially for students in the early stages of language acquisition. By connecting physical movement to language (e.g., acting out verbs), students are better able to internalize vocabulary and sentence structures in a fun and memorable way.

d. Long Term ELLs

Currently at PS116K LMA, we do not have any long-term ELLs. If we do in the future, we have a plan to support them. Long-term ELLs will use the same instructional materials as their peers and receive targeted small group instruction. ENL teachers and classroom teachers will plan together to scaffold lessons and provide extra support.

We will use a variety of instructional strategies to help students succeed academically and socially. These include modeling, guided reading and writing, pacing adjustments, graphic organizers, and thinking maps. These strategies are designed to help students make progress and eventually exit ELL status.

5. What supports does your school provide to ELLs with IEPs to achieve their IEP goals and attain English language proficiency within the least restrictive environment?

At LMA PS116K, we support ELLs with IEPs so they can reach their goals and learn English while staying in the least restrictive environment. Teachers use scaffolding, differentiation, and flexible scheduling to meet students' needs, including small group work.

ENL-certified teachers work closely with classroom teachers to adjust schedules and provide help based on each student's abilities. Teachers meet regularly to review student work and plan instruction. ENL support is usually given in the classroom, so students can learn with their peers while getting extra help.

We use standards-aligned materials like HMH Into Reading and Illustrative Math, which include activities for struggling students. Teachers also use i-Ready, EPIC, and Google Classroom to give personalized lessons and interactive reading activities. Student progress is monitored weekly, and teachers adjust instruction as needed.

Students who need flexible scheduling receive core subjects in ICT or General Education settings. IEP providers give SETSS and other supports to help students succeed academically and build English skills.

6. How is home language assessed in each program model (DLBE, TBE, and ENL)?

In Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) programs, the goal is for students to develop full bilingualism and biliteracy in both English and their home language. Teachers use standardized native language assessments—such as i-Ready Spanish—as well as curriculum-based and classroom assessments to evaluate students' skills in their home language. This ongoing assessment ensures that students are developing literacy in both languages and allows teachers to design instruction to support balanced bilingual growth.

In the ENL program, home language is assessed by interviewing the students to see what they know and to provided appropriate support or translation when necessary.

7. (For grades 6-12 only) What language electives are offered to MLs/ELLs? How is your school preparing MLs/ELLs to obtain the New York State Seal of Biliteracy?

Not applicable

8. Describe systems and structures for supporting co-teaching and collaboration among teachers for all ELL program models available at your school (e.g. integrated co-teaching, Dual Language Bilingual Education teacher partnerships, etc.).

At PS116K LMA, teachers work together in a variety of ways to ensure that instruction is thoughtful, well-planned, and responsive to student needs.

One of the main ways we collaborate is during common prep periods. These dedicated times allow co-teachers to meet, share ideas, and plan lessons together for the day or the week. Teacher team meetings are held weekly for each grade level. Additionally, Monday afternoons are reserved for Other Professional Work (OPW), providing further time for teachers to collaborate, review student progress, and improve instructional strategies.

To stay organized and aligned, our teachers use shared Google Drive folders where they upload pacing calendars, lesson plans, and other helpful resources. This shared space encourages transparency and helps ensure that everyone is on the same page when it comes to instruction and goals for our ELL students.

Finally, all Bilingual and ENL teachers are strongly encouraged to attend the ML/ELL Instructional Task Force monthly sessions. These gatherings are a fantastic opportunity to collaborate with educators across the district, share experiences, and learn practical strategies that help support our Multilingual Learners.

9. Describe how your overall, annual professional learning plan ensures that all staff – including administrators, teachers and -non-pedagogical staff – incorporates learning specifically related to the academic and social emotional needs of MLs/ELLs. Professional learning topics might include co-teaching strategies, or integrating language and content instruction.

Our annual professional learning plan is designed to ensure that all staff members—including administrators, classroom teachers, ENL teachers, and non-pedagogical personnel—receive targeted training to support the academic achievement and social-emotional well-being of Multilingual Learners (MLLs). The plan includes a variety of ongoing learning opportunities throughout the school year, delivered through workshops, collaborative meetings, and turnkey sessions.

Teachers take part in weekly PD sessions focused on the Next Generation Learning Standards for English Language Arts, as well as literacy in science and social studies. These sessions help teachers learn how to use ENL teaching strategies that make lessons more accessible and meaningful for English learners. In addition, teachers are invited to attend monthly professional development sessions through the district, where they share ideas, brainstorm strategies, and learn from one another's experiences supporting ELLs.

In line with CR Part 80, at least 15% of professional development hours for all teachers are dedicated to language acquisition. This includes training on co-teaching and how to effectively combine language learning with content instruction. For bilingual and ENL teachers, that number increases to at least 50% of their PD hours. New teachers receive the same focus as part of their 175 required hours, helping them start strong with strategies tailored to support English learners from day one.

We also make sure our support staff like paraprofessionals, service providers, guidance counselors, and office staff are included in the learning process. These team members are invited to attend sessions that help them better communicate with students and families whose home language is not English. We offer a variety of PD options throughout the year, including online resources like OTIS for Educators and edWeb.net, so that everyone can learn at their own pace. Teachers also can use the UFT's LearnUFT Program or SOLVED Consulting to attend the state approved professional development for CTLE hours. ENL teachers participate in monthly Multilingual Learner Leadership (MLL) meetings hosted by the district, bringing back best practices and updates to share during turnkey sessions with the wider staff. This approach ensures continuous professional growth and a consistent, school-wide commitment to supporting MLs both academically and socially.

Our ENL teachers stay up to date by attending sessions on CR Part 154 and NYSESLAT updates. They use EDAT and NYSESLAT to guide instruction. During common prep times, ENL and classroom teachers can come together to look at student data and plan instruction.

New teachers also receive extra support from mentors who help them develop strong content and language goals for their lessons. They're encouraged to attend workshops from the Division of Multilingual Learners, district, and other trusted sources to keep building their skills.

Professional development sessions focus on effective co-teaching strategies between ENL and General Education teachers, such as parallel teaching, station teaching, and team teaching models.

To address the social-emotional needs of MLs, our guidance counselor leads professional development focused on social-emotional learning (SEL), cultural responsiveness, and trauma-informed practices, ensuring that all staff understand the unique challenges faced by multilingual learners and can create supportive, inclusive environments.

Overall, our professional development plan reflects our school's belief in the power of teamwork, shared learning, and continued growth. By supporting all staff with targeted training and meaningful collaboration, we ensure that our English learners get the academic support and emotional care they need to succeed.

10. Describe your school's professional development plan in order to meet the mandated Continuing Teacher and Leader Education (CTLE) ELL specific hours for certification renewal as per CR Part 154 (15% of total hours for all certified faculty [holders of professional certificates in the classroom teaching service, educational leadership service and level III teaching assistant certificate holders] and 50% of total hours for bilingual education/ENL teachers receive ELL-specific professional development).

To meet the mandated Continuing Teacher and Leader Education (CTLE) requirements as outlined in CR Part 154, our school has developed a comprehensive professional development plan that supports the growth of all staff members while ensuring compliance with state regulations.

In alignment with CR Part 154, a minimum of 15% of the required CTLE hours for all certified staff—including classroom teachers, administrators, and Level III teaching assistants—is dedicated to English Language Learner (ELL)-specific professional development. This includes a focus on language acquisition, best practices for co-teaching, and strategies for integrating language and content instruction.

For our bilingual and ENL teachers, the plan is even more focused. At least 50% of their required CTLE hours are specifically geared toward language acquisition, with professional learning aligned to core content area instruction. These sessions emphasize strategies that promote both content mastery and English language development, ensuring that our multilingual learners (MLLs) are fully supported in all subject areas.

Our professional development plan also includes these requirements within the 175 hours of new teacher training. New teachers receive targeted support that helps them create rigorous content and language objectives for MLLs from the start of their careers.

We maintain detailed records of all professional development activities through our school's shared Google Drive. Each session includes a formal agenda and attendance records that are also stored in physical binders for easy access and accountability.

Professional development is ongoing and collaborative. Teachers are encouraged to participate in school learning visits where they can observe best practices in action and bring back new strategies to share with their colleagues. Teachers also use platforms like edWeb.net to watch edWebinars, exchange ideas, and earn CTLE certificates, making learning flexible and accessible.

All bilingual and ENL teachers are encouraged to attend monthly ML/ELL Instructional Task Force sessions. These meetings provide valuable tools, resources, and updates to help teachers better support our MLLs both academically and socially. The ENL teacher or ENL coordinator attends monthly MLL meetings from the district and then turnkey to the staff.

Through a combination of in-school workshops, external learning opportunities, coaching, and peer collaboration, our school's professional development plan ensures that every staff member is well-equipped to meet the academic and social-emotional needs of our multilingual learners while staying compliant with CTLE and CR Part 154 requirements.

Assessment

SCREENERS

11. Which screening assessments (e.g.iReady, MAP Growth, Acadience, or STAR Reading) does your school use to guide instructional planning for your ELLs?

We work collaboratively to ensure our ELLs receive the targeted instruction they need to thrive. Our ENL coordinator or ENL teacher partners closely with general education, special education, and bilingual teachers to collect and analyze student data using a variety of screening tools. These assessments help us identify student strengths and areas for growth, allowing us to plan meaningful, differentiated instruction.

i-Ready (Reading and Math in Spanish and English): This comprehensive assessment identifies student strengths and areas in need of support in both reading and math. It generates personalized learning paths aligned with grade-level standards and curriculum. i-Ready is available in both English and Spanish, which is especially helpful for ELLs and ELLs with IEPs. We also use Lexile levels from i-Ready to group students by instructional reading level and provide tailored small-group instruction.

Acadience (Grades K–2): Acadience helps us monitor the development of early literacy skills and flags students, including ELLs, who may be at risk for reading difficulties. It is used for both screening and ongoing progress monitoring.

Wilson Fundations (Grades K): As a phonics-based program, Fundations serves as a progress monitoring tool and supports Tier 1 and Tier 2 instruction. It helps us track the foundational literacy development of our youngest learners, including ELLs.

i-Ready Reading (Spanish): This assessment is used for screening, progress monitoring, and instructional planning in Spanish. It is a valuable tool for our Spanish-speaking ELLs.

Core Phonics Survey: This tool helps teachers identify students' specific phonics needs. The results are used to group students and plan targeted instruction through our MTSS (Multi-Tiered System of Supports) framework.

UFLI Check-in: This assessment monitors a student’s progress in reading and literacy skills using the UFLI program. Phonics for Reading Assessment: It is to measure students’ progress in decoding after instruction.

12. For all grades, list and describe your targeted intervention programs for ELLs in ELA, Math, and other core content areas (specify ELL subgroups targeted). Include the language(s) in which the intervention services are offered.

Our school provides targeted intervention programs specifically designed to support Spanish-speaking ELLs across all grades and core content areas. In English Language Arts, Entering and Emerging Spanish-speaking students receive small-group literacy instruction using bilingual materials, leveled texts, and scaffolded supports such as visuals, sentence frames, and Spanish-English vocabulary glossaries.

After analyzing data, we noticed many students needed stronger phonemic awareness skills. To address this, we implemented the WIN (What I Need) phonics action plan within our MTSS framework. During a dedicated foundational skills block, students are grouped by skill level and receive targeted phonemic awareness instruction using programs like Decoder and HMH. Progress is tracked weekly, and instruction is adjusted as needed through a six-week cycle to ensure steady growth.

Finally, we offer High Impact Tutoring, a one-on-one pull-out program that provides individualized support to struggling students, helping them catch up and build confidence in their learning.

All intervention services are offered in English, with supports available in students' home languages when appropriate to ensure clarity and understanding.

There is the morning WIN program during 1st period to target the basic foundational skills, such as phonics, decoding, and dictation.

Afterschool math programs are being taught to target the ELLs that need the support. There is also a morning reading program for grades K–2 that provides lessons tailored to students' specific needs. Additionally, the school offers a Saturday Success Academy for students in grades 3–5 designed to support the development of speaking, listening, reading, and writing across all ELL proficiency levels.

Academic Intervention Services (AIS) Program

In addition to ENL supports, our school provides Academic Intervention Services (AIS) to help students strengthen their literacy skills. The ELA/AIS teacher works with students through both whole-group instruction and small-group targeted lessons designed to improve reading comprehension, vocabulary, and foundational literacy skills. These sessions provide additional opportunities for students—especially English Language Learners—to receive focused instruction and practice in reading and language development aligned with grade-level standards.

We also use technology to boost learning. Programs like BrainPop and social studies lessons have engaging, interactive content. Our students often work in small groups, which helps ELLs practice their verbal and listening skills. They also get chances to present their work, building confidence and communication skills. Teachers carefully unpack units to select scaffolds and supports that encourage active thinking and class discussions, making sure every student can access the material.

To support language development, we follow the Danielson Framework and differentiate lessons using multiple entry points, ensuring all students can engage meaningfully. Academic vocabulary is a priority in our curriculum, and we reinforce it through strategies like using the Frayer Model, word walls, accountable talk, and writing activities.

Our ELL students also benefit from enrichment programs such as Technology Club (Podcast), Disney Kids, Immigrant ELL programs, extended day, after-school activities, and morning Academy. These opportunities provide extra academic and social-emotional support in welcoming environments.

13. For all grades, describe how your school uses data to guide instruction for ELLs within a Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS). Refer to the Instructional Leadership Tool for MLs and ELLs and MTSS Guide for MLs and ELLs to help in the development and implementation of your school's plan for MLs/ELLs.

For students in grades K-2, teachers use Acadience three times a year, at the beginning, middle, and end of the year to track progress and identify what each student needs. Along with Acadience, they use end-of-module assessments from the HMH units and i-Ready Math assessments. By combining these results with ongoing classroom checks, teachers create small groups tailored to student needs and provide accommodations that help every child keep moving forward.

In grades K-5, teachers rely on i-Ready Reading three times a year to monitor progress and find students' strengths and challenges. Teachers in grades 4 and 5 also use the previous year's ELA and Math state test scores to inform their planning. They use HMH end-of-module assessments, Illustrative Math end-of-unit assessments, and regular formative assessments to adjust instruction and group students based on their needs.

Across all grades, our ELL students are assessed in their native language using the it, helping us better understand their language and academic skills.

Our WIN program uses the Core Phonics Survey, UFLI placement assessment, and Phonics for Reading placement test to identify students' foundational reading skills. Based on the results, students are placed in small groups of approximately 10, grouped according to their skill levels in areas such as alphabet knowledge, segmenting and blending sounds, fluency, and comprehension. This targeted grouping allows teachers to provide instruction that meets each student's specific needs.

This careful use of data ensures that instruction is always focused on meeting the individual needs of our ELLs, helping them grow academically and develop strong language skills.

FORMATIVE

14. Which formative assessments (e.g. NYC performance Tasks, ELL Periodic Assessment, HLA Assessment, DRA, teacher-created assessments, etc.) are used to inform and drive instruction?

We use a variety of curriculum-based and formative assessments to guide instruction and support our English Language Learners (ELLs). For grades K–2, we use Acadience to track early literacy skills. For grades K–5, we administer i-Ready at the beginning, middle, and end of the year to monitor growth in reading and math.

We also use weekly and unit/module assessments from HMH Into Reading and Arriba la Lectura, along with Illustrative Math benchmarks for grades K–5. For Spanish-speaking students in the Dual Language program, the i-Ready Spanish helps track reading progress in their home language.

In addition, we review NYSESLAT scores, student work samples, and performance tasks in writing and math. These tools are used throughout the year to check progress and identify areas where students may need extra support.

The ENL/Dual Language teachers, and classroom teachers meet weekly during common planning time to review student work in Teacher Teams. They analyze trends and create small instructional groups so teaching can be focused and responsive, helping every student grow.

15. How do you ensure that MLs/ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their home languages throughout the year?

To make sure ELLs are correctly assessed in their home languages, our school has established clear protocols. During initial ELL identification, students participate in an individual interview, which includes an assessment in their native language. For Spanish-speaking students, the Spanish Language Assessment Battery (LAB) is used as part of this process.

In both our Dual Language programs and Stand-Alone ENL classes, students can take unit assessments in reading, writing, and math in the language they are most comfortable with, including their native language. This option also applies to state assessments, such as the New York State Math and Science exams.

We also use i-Ready Spanish to monitor students' reading progress in their home language within the Dual Language classes, supporting bilingual literacy development. These practices help us gain a more accurate understanding of each student's skills and ensure they receive the right support for their learning.

SUMMATIVE

16. Which summative assessments (e.g. NYSESLAT, ELA, Math, Regents, etc.) are used to evaluate the effectiveness of your ML/ELL programs and how does it inform instructional design and curricular decisions? (Refer to the ELL Data Analysis Tool).

We evaluate the success of our ENL programs using the ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) along with key assessments such as the NYSESLAT, Acadience (grades K–2), and i-Ready Reading and Math (grades K–5). We also review student performance on ELA and Math exams through item analysis to identify areas where students are excelling or need additional support.

Teachers regularly monitor how many MLLs are reading at or above grade level and look for patterns across these assessments. This ongoing review helps guide instructional decisions and curricular adjustments to better meet student needs.

For example, data from the 2025 NYSESLAT showed that the biggest area of need for our students was writing. This information helped us focus on strengthening writing instruction and targeted support for our ELLs.

17. What is your NYSESLAT administration plan? How does your school ensure that all ELLs are tested with the NYSESLAT annually? Include the titles of the staff that will administer and score the assessment. Please describe your plan to ensure that all ELLs and former ELLs continue to receive mandated instruction during the testing period.

Our ENL teachers work closely with General Education and Special Education teachers to develop a detailed testing schedule for the NYSESLAT during the designated testing window. This schedule ensures that all ELLs receive their required NYSESLAT assessments annually without missing their mandated instruction, as outlined in CR Part 154.

Trained staff members including the ENL Coordinator, Special Education providers, and ENL teachers collaborate to both administer and score the assessment. The Listening, Reading, and Writing sections of the NYSESLAT are given to students in grade-level bands, allowing for efficient group administration. The Speaking portion is conducted individually, with students tested one-on-one while scoring happens simultaneously.

To make sure that instruction continues uninterrupted during testing, the schedule is designed so that ELLs and former ELLs receive their mandated ENL or content-area services outside of their testing times, ensuring consistent support throughout the assessment period.

18. How does your school ensure that current and former ELLs receive necessary accommodations for state assessments, including the Specialized High School Admissions Test (SHSAT) if applicable?

Our school ensures that current and former ELLs receive the necessary accommodations for state assessment by carefully reviewing the School Administrator's Manual and following all guidelines. Testing accommodations are provided to current ELLs and to former ELLs for up to two years after they exit the program, ensuring they have the support needed to fully access the assessments.

Part VI: Family Partnership

Family Partnership

Required Meetings Under CR Part 154

Describe your schools' plan to ensure families of ELLs are provided with the required meetings specified below as per CR Part 154. Include:

- Topics discussed during these meetings
- How your school ensures families receive necessary translation/interpretation supports to meaningfully engage in the meetings
- How your school schedules these meetings to facilitate attendance, and how your school maintains evidence of these meetings as required per the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs.

a. ELL Program Orientation to inform parents/guardians of newly identified ELLs of ELL program options, including the program goals and requirements for all three ML/ELL program models: Dual Language Bilingual Education, Transitional Bilingual Education and English as a New Language regardless of whether the school currently has either type of bilingual program and provide a high-quality orientation section on the Next Generation Learning Standards, assessments, and school expectations for English Language Learners.

Our school is committed to meeting the requirements of Commissioner's Regulation (CR) Part 154 by ensuring that families of English Language Learners (ELLs) receive timely and comprehensive information regarding their child's language development services.

To this end, we schedule a Parent Orientation within ten school days of a student's enrollment. During this orientation, families receive critical information about the ELL program models, services, and expectations. To ensure equitable access, we provide interpretation and translation support through bilingual staff members or professional interpreters, as needed. All materials and documents are translated into the home languages spoken by our ELL families.

The ENL teacher meets with parents in person during September's Meet the Teacher Night to conduct the orientation. Attendance is taken at this event. For families who are unable to attend, the ENL teacher personally follows up with phone calls to schedule an individual orientation meeting.

During the orientation, a video presentation outlines the goals and requirements of all three Multilingual Learner (ML)/ELL program models. The school maintains documentation of these sessions, including agendas and signed attendance sheets, to ensure compliance and accountability.

b. Annual Individual Meeting to discuss goals of the program, language development progress, language proficiency assessment results, and language development needs in all content areas. Note: this meeting is separate from and does not include the mandated ELL program orientation meeting and DOE-scheduled parent-teacher conferences.

In addition to the mandated ELL Program Orientation and the regularly scheduled DOE Parent-Teacher Conferences, our school conducts an Annual Individual Meeting with the families of English Language Learners (ELLs). This meeting is designed to review and discuss the goals of the ELL program, each student's progress in English language development, the results of language proficiency assessments (e.g., NYSITELL, NYSESLAT), and the student's linguistic and academic needs across all content areas.

These meetings provide an opportunity for families to engage in meaningful dialogue about their child's progress and to collaborate with school staff in planning next steps to support continued growth. Interpretation and translation services are available to ensure that all families can fully participate and understand the information shared. The ENL teacher conducts the meetings in person and extends an invitation to parents in advance.

Family Engagement

2. Beyond the mandated meetings and orientations, describe how your school:
a. Ensures families receive all school communications and documents in the language they best understand. How are families able to respond or initiate communications in languages other than English?

During the initial intake and screening process, parents are asked to indicate their preferred language for communication. This information is recorded and used to ensure that all written notices, announcements, and documents are delivered in the appropriate language.

We utilize a combination of in-house bilingual staff and professional interpreters to provide interpretation services at school events, allowing families to fully understand presentations and participate in discussions. For families who speak languages other than English and Spanish, we access the DOE's free over-the-phone interpretation services, which are available in over 350 languages. This allows staff members to communicate effectively with all families, regardless of their home language.

Families are also encouraged to initiate communication with the school in their preferred language. They may do so by leaving phone messages, sending emails to their child's teacher or school administrators, contacting the PTA, or reaching out to the DOE directly. This multi-channel approach helps ensure that families remain informed and engaged in their child's education.

b. Develops activities that foster empowerment for families of MLs/ELLs. Include how your school determines the needs of your community.

During professional work time, teachers of ELLs reach out to parents to discuss the child's progress as well as their language development. We send home their NYSESLAT assessment levels at the beginning of the year and parents are afforded the opportunity to make appointments if they have any concerns. They receive notes and progress reports throughout the year from the ENL teachers. Additionally, our school encourages parents to attend events by sending invitations home with students, via Google Classroom and Class Dojo. Translated posters are placed outside the digital board, flyers posted on school website and social media. To determine the needs of our community, the school ask families to fill out surveys throughout the year and have one-on-one interviews to determine various topics that are of interest to the members of the community.

Members of the Magnet Team host a monthly parent event which include: September 2025- Dads Bring Your Child to School Day,- October 2024 - Hispanic Heritage Celebration - November 2024 - Giving Thanks- book making - December 2024 - Family Falcon Day - January 2025 - Student writing celebration - February 2025 - Virtual meeting - Guidance- Taking Care of Yourself. The Parent Coordinator holds monthly workshops which include: Mental Health Brooklyn Public Library - Parent Visit Exploring STEAM and Maker Space Immigrant Education Workshops 3K and PreK Family Literacy Night - empowering parents with literacy skills.

c. Ensures families of MLs/ELLs are aware of family leadership opportunities (such as Parent Association (PA), School Leadership Team (SLT), Community Education Council (CEC), etc.)

Our school actively ensures that families of Multilingual Learners (MLs)/English Language Learners (ELLs) are aware of and encouraged to participate in family leadership opportunities such as the Parent Association (PA), School Leadership Team (SLT), and Community Education Council (CEC).

To promote awareness and engagement, our Parent Coordinator communicates regularly with families through multiple channels, including emails, automated text messages, newsletters, and direct outreach. Information is provided in families' preferred languages whenever possible to ensure accessibility and inclusivity. These communications include details on how to get involved, upcoming meetings, and the roles and responsibilities associated with various leadership opportunities.

By maintaining consistent communication and offering multilingual support, our school fosters a welcoming environment where all families, especially those of MLs/ELLs, feel empowered to take on leadership roles and contribute meaningfully to the school community.

3. What culturally and linguistically responsive partnerships do you currently have that support the needs of your school community?

We partner with NYPCC and Coalition for Hispanic Family Services which offers the Arts and Literacy After School and Summer Program that addresses the educational needs of Latino parents and children in our community. The program activities build literacy through creative writing, the visual arts, theater, photography, video, creative movement, and music. They also offer art therapy, monthly Family Arts Nights with family literacy workshops, support for families, family educational trips, homework assistance for ELL students, and comprehensive services through the agency's other programs. These partnerships have impacted our school community by empowering children and families with opportunities for success while reinforcing their sense of culture and self identity. They have helped to build a stronger connection between our school and the community and they've made a lasting impact in our Latino community. We partner with Ballroom Basix, Marquis Studio and Studio in a School, and Allergic to Salad to provide a family workshop component.

Part VII: Additional Information

Additional Information

Include any additional information that is relevant to your LAP and would further explain and highlight how your school supports MLs/ELLs. This form does not allow graphics and charts to be pasted.

Our Parent Coordinator will continue to assist in increasing parental involvement by translating letters in the parent's native languages, providing interpreters to assist in meetings, and sending a monthly newsletter backpacked and via email about school events and activities to parents in different languages. Parents are invited to monthly meetings and workshops. We also have important information and resources available to them in the community either by flyer, email, or telephone messenger service.

Part VIII: ELL Identification Attestation and Principal Certification

Identification Plan

For additional information, refer to ELL Identification Attestation Professional Learning Module.

1. What are the titles of the members of your ELL identification team? Note: Members of the ELL identification team must be pedagogues.

The following members form part of our ELL identification team:
Ms. Kim - ENL Teacher
Ms. Paulino - Grade 3 Dual Language Teacher
Ms. Acosta - IEP Bilingual Teacher
Ms. Almonte - Science/Bilingual Teacher
Ms. Amezquita - Bilingual Social Worker (She is a support staff that helps to create smoother systems and structures for the ELL identification process.)

2. Describe the structures and process in place for identification of ELLs year-round as required by the NYC DOE Policy & Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, including your school's identification plan for any incoming students with an Individualized Education Plan (IEP). Include:

- How your school proactively plans for the ELL identification process so that it does not interrupt the provision of mandated ENL and/or bilingual instruction to current, former and potential ELLs,
- Who is responsible for each step of the ELL identification process, and
- School's plan for ensuring ELLs and former ELLs will continue to receive mandated instruction.

At LMA PS116K, we have established clear structures to ensure that the identification of English Language Learners is conducted smoothly and consistently throughout the year. Our goal is to prevent any interruption in mandated ENL services. The identification and registration process is collaborative and involves multiple staff members with designated responsibilities.

When a parent arrives to register a student, the Pupil Accounting Secretary notifies the ELL Identification Team. A trained and licensed pedagogue then initiates the ELL identification process.

Step-by-Step ELL Identification Process:

Step 1:
Determine whether the enrolling student has attended a New York State public school within the past two years.

Step 2:
A trained pedagogue administers the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS), which includes an interview with the student and parent to determine the student's home language. Once completed:
The ENL teacher updates the Home Language Code in ATS.
The HLIS field in the ATS BIOU screen is set to “Y.”

Step 3:

If the student's home language is other than English, determine eligibility for the NYSITELL:
If the student has an existing IEP, convene the Language Proficiency Team (LPT) to determine NYSITELL eligibility. A schedule is created to conduct the NYSITELL within the required 10-day window. This planning allows ENL and bilingual teachers to continue providing uninterrupted instruction to current and former ELLs, even as new students are being screened.
If eligible, the trained pedagogue administers the NYSITELL.

Step 4:

Notify parents of the NYSITELL results:

If the student is eligible for ELL services, send the Entitlement Letter and invite the parent to a Parent Orientation Meeting.
If the student is not eligible, send the Non-Entitlement Letter.
All letters must be sent in the parent’s preferred language.

Step 5:

Administer the Spanish LAB to eligible students.

Step 6:
Identify Students with Interrupted or Inconsistent Formal Education (SIFE).

Step 7:
After the Parent Orientation Meeting, provide the parent with the Parent Agreement and Program Placement Form, allowing them to select an ELL program.

Step 8:
Place the student in the ELL program based on the parent’s program choice.

Step 9:
File copies of all documentation in the student’s cumulative record.

To ensure that both ELLs and former ELLs continue receiving mandated instruction, our school maintains an updated ENL roster and monitors students’ proficiency levels regularly. ENL and classroom teachers collaborate to plan both stand-alone and integrated ENL instruction. Former ELLs who are entitled to support under the two-year monitoring period are tracked and receive academic intervention or ENL push-in support as needed.

Principal Certification

In accordance with New York State's Commissioner's Regulations Part 154 as outlined and implemented in the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, I, attest that the following ELL identification procedures and activities are adhered to, and staff are trained on the items listed below.

- The ELL Identification Process is completed for each student within 10 school days of enrollment (20 school days for students entering with IEPs).
- Enrollment status of each newly admitted student is determined:
  a. If a student has been in New York State public schools within the past 2 years, our school contacts the previous school to obtain ELL status, relevant assessment scores, and English language proficiency level.
  b. If a student has been outside of New York State public schools for more than 2 years, our school administers the ELL Identification Process as part of reentry.

- The home language of the student is determined by a trained and licensed pedagogue.
  a. The parent completes the Home Language Identification Survey in the parent's preferred language; translation services are provided by a bilingual staff member, the DOE's over-the-phone translation services, or an alternative, high quality translation service.

- An interview with parents and students in English and the home language is conducted. This includes reviewing documents, prior assessments, and academic experience. An assessment of the student's abilities and/or work samples determines the student's literacy and math level in his/her home language.
- Eligibility for the NYSITELL is determined.
  a. If the newly enrolled student is entering with an IEP, the school's Language Proficiency Team (LPT) recommends eligibility to the principal, who obtains final approval from the superintendent.

- Students are administered the NYSITELL, if eligible.
- Notification letters are sent to the parent/guardian in their preferred language.
  a. Parent is notified of their child's ELL status and results of the NYSITELL.

- If the student is identified as an ELL and the student's home language is Spanish, the student is administered the Spanish Language Assessment Battery (LAB).
- Student with Interrupted/Inconsistent Formal Education (SIFE) status is determined using New York State's resources.
- If a student is a newly identified ELL, the parent is invited to the parent orientation meeting.
  a. The parent orientation meeting provides parents/guardians with an explanation of each ELL program model offered in NYC; the parent video describing the three programs is presented (in parent's preferred language); parents/guardians are encouraged to ask questions so that they are informed about all ELL programs; translation and interpretation services are provided throughout the meeting.

- ELL is placed in the ELL program that the parent selected.
  a. If the bilingual program that the parent selected is not available, the parent is offered a transfer to a school with that bilingual program in accordance with NYC DOE transfer policies.
  b. If the ELL remains in the school, the ELL is placed in English as a New Language and our school keeps track of parent selection so that when minimum thresholds are met, we can open the ELL program of choice.

- Parents are notified that they have 45 days to appeal the ELL status of their child (ELL Re-identification Process).
- If the ELL Re-identification Process is implemented for any student, the principal reviews the decision of any student whose ELL status was changed because of the ELL Re-identification Process within 6 to 12 months.
- Copies of documentation regarding ELL identification, including letters and parent notifications are kept in the students' cumulative files.

LTI Overview and Part A: Designation of a LAC

Chancellor's Regulation A-663 establishes procedures for ensuring that Limited-English-Proficient (LEP) parents of students enrolled in the New York City public schools are provide with a meaningful opportunity to participate in and have access to programs and services critical to their child's education. To this end, schools must review and complete the annual LTI Plan to address its language assistance needs consistent with the requirements of this regulation.

The LTI Plan requires information on the following:

- Name of person designated as the Language Access Coordinator (LAC).
- Identification and assessment of LEP parent population.
- Identification of Critical Communications and standing, in-person meetings throughout the school year that require language assistance services and how the school plans to respond to these needs.
- Plan to ensure staff awareness of language access requirements and available resources.
- Provision of notice to parents on the available language assistance services.

Methods for the school to solicit and implement feedback on its provision of language assistance services.

Designation of a LAC
Name of person designated and trained as the LAC.
At the start of each school year, each principal is required to designate at least one staff member to serve as the Language Access Coordinator (LAC), responsible for overseeing language assistance services within the school.

We have pre-populated the following information based on our records. Please confirm that the designated staff member(s) are your school's Galaxy-designated LAC(s) and provide the date(s) they attended the OLA Language Access Coordinator Training. Note that this training is in addition to the mandatory asynchronous NYCPS Language Access Training for School-based Staff on the WeLearnNYC learning platform. If any information is missing, please provide the requested details.

As a reminder, LACs are internal staff designations and are not meant to serve as the primary point of contact for families regarding language access-related matters. The Parent Coordinator, or another designated staff member, should remain the main contact for families regarding all issues, including language access.

Part B: Parents' Preferred Languages

Parents' Preferred Languages

Language identification and assessment of parent population.

1. Check the resources your school staff uses to identify parents' preferred languages:

,Part III of the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS),Surveys conducted by your school,Other (Please specify in the next question)

If Other was selected, describe the resource here:

The Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS) is used by the NYC Department of Education to identify parents' language preferences for written and oral communication, ensuring effective communication with families of Limited English Proficiency (LEP). Based on data from ATS reports such as RAPL and RHLA, the school community has a majority preference for Spanish (77.37%) followed by English (21.71%), and a small percentage for Chinese (0.92%) for written communication. This information helps school staff, including the Principal, Assistant Principals, and Parent Coordinator, to tailor communication, provide translated materials, and arrange interpretation services. The process begins with ENL teachers conducting interviews during registration and continues throughout the year with ongoing reviews of language preferences. Communication is facilitated through tools like the School Messenger system for announcements and translated emergency contact cards. This approach ensures that all parents, regardless of language proficiency, can effectively engage in their children's education.

2. We have pre-populated the following information from the Parent's Preferred Language Report (RCPL) in ATS. For the last two columns, please indicate the number of school staff members who are comfortable using their language skills to communicate with parents and regularly assist other staff members and families with translation and/or interpretation. If none, enter "0".

Language (Description within RCPL)	Written Preferred Count	Written Preferred Percentage	Oral Preferred Count	Oral Preferred Percentage	No. of Staff to Help with Written Translation	No. of Staff to Help with Oral Interpretation

3. Describe the resources and processes your school will use to communicate with parents who speak a language other than English during an emergency (e.g., lockdown, fire, student attendance, nurse/hospital visit, etc.), or when a parent needs to contact the school in an emergency, ensuring communication is in their preferred language.

At PS116K LMA, we are committed to ensuring that all families, regardless of language spoken, receive timely and accurate information during emergencies or in situations where immediate contact with the school is needed (e.g., lockdowns, fires, student attendance, nurse or hospital visits, etc.).

To achieve this, we utilize a combination of resources and processes to ensure communication is delivered in the parent's preferred language:

School Messenger System
The primary communication method during emergencies is the School Messenger system. This system can deliver voice messages in both English and Spanish, depending on the language preference indicated by the family in the school's ATS records. This ensures that parents will be reached in a language they understand.

Translation & Interpretation Services
For families who speak languages other than English or Spanish, LMS PS 116 utilizes a Translation & Interpretation Services line. This over-the-phone service provides immediate access to trained interpreters, who can assist with translating critical information during an emergency or urgent situation. This ensures that non-English-speaking parents are fully informed and can communicate with the school when needed.

Bilingual Staff Members
In situations where direct communication is required, the school will ensure that bilingual staff members, who speak the parent's preferred language, will contact the family. This allows for clear and personal communication during emergencies. Staff members are trained to handle these sensitive situations with care and professionalism.

ClassDojo with Translation Capabilities
If phone communication is not possible, the school may use the ClassDojo messaging app to communicate with families. ClassDojo includes translation features, enabling messages to be sent in the parent's preferred language, ensuring that families are kept informed, especially when oral communication is not feasible.

Email and Text Messaging
In cases where immediate verbal contact is not possible, the school will send an email or text message to the parent. These messages will be translated into the parent's preferred language, as indicated on the emergency contact form. This ensures that essential information is shared promptly, even if direct verbal communication is delayed.

Emergency Contact Information
It is crucial that parents keep their emergency contact information up-to-date, including their language preference. The "blue" emergency contact card allows families to specify their preferred language of communication, so the school can use the appropriate resources when contacting them during an emergency.

Part D: Staff Awareness

Staff Awareness

Plan to ensure staff awareness of language access requirements and available resources.

1. Describe how your school will ensure that all staff members complete the required asynchronous NYCPS Language Access Training for School-based Staff on the WeLearnNYC learning platform, and are familiar with the Best Practices for When to Provide Translation of Critical Written Communications to Parents and Best Practices for When to Provide Interpretation for Critical Oral Communications with Parents. Additionally, explain how your Galaxy-designated LAC will disseminate future language access resources and updates to all staff members.

PS116K LMA will ensure that all staff members are fully informed about the goals of Chancellor's Regulation A-663 and are equipped with the resources necessary to meet compliance. Our school will implement the following processes:

Staff Meeting at the Start of the School Year
At the beginning of each school year, all staff members will be provided with an overview of Chancellor's Regulation A-663 during a mandatory staff meeting. This will include a discussion on the importance of language access and the specific responsibilities of staff in ensuring equitable communication with families who speak languages other than English.

Distribution of Memorandum
All staff members will receive a memorandum that includes:

The name and contact information of the designated Language Access Coordinator (LAC) at our school.

A summary of Chancellor's Regulation A-663, explaining the regulation's requirements and the school's commitment to providing language access for all families.

Written Instructions on Interpretation Services
Staff members will receive clear, written instructions on how to access the over-the-phone interpretation services provided by the Department of Education (DOE). This will include step-by-step guidance on how to make use of these services during parent communications, ensuring that all non-English-speaking families can access accurate, timely information in their preferred language.

Access to DOE Language Access Resources
Staff will also be provided with information on how to access the DOE's Translation page on the InfoHub website, where they can find links to resources and guidelines regarding language access services. This will empower staff members to independently access further resources as needed.

Class Listing with Preferred Languages

To facilitate ongoing language access, teachers will be provided with a class roster (RAPL) at the start of the school year. This will include each family's preferred language of communication, both oral and written. This allows teachers and staff to ensure that communications are sent in the appropriate language and that language preferences are respected throughout the year.

Bilingual Communication
All official communications, including newsletters, event notices, and emergency messages, will be provided in English and Spanish (and in additional languages when DOE translations are available). This ensures that families are consistently informed in their preferred language.

School will ensure staff complete the required asynchronous NYCPS Language Access Training for School-based Staff on the WeLearnNYC learning platform through Monday's professional development time.

Part E: Parental Notification

Parental Notification

Provision of notice to parents on the available language assistance services.

1. Describe how your school will inform parents about available language assistance services in their preferred language. Include any of the following:

- Translated signage
- Brochures, flyers, or letters shared with parents
- Parent engagement events where language assistance services are highlighted (e.g., PTA meetings, international parents' night, etc.)
- Messaging applications

- Language Access for NYC Public Schools Families brochure

At LMA PS116K, we use a variety of methods to reach parents, including translated signage, informational materials, events, and personalized communication strategies:

1. Translated Signage
Posters will be displayed in high-traffic areas of the school, including the main entrance, main office, and other areas where parents and visitors are likely to see them. These posters will inform parents of their right to receive school information in their preferred language. The posters will include instructions on how to access language support services.

Language ID Guide will be prominently posted near the security desk and main office. This guide helps security and main office personnel identify the preferred languages of parents who speak languages other than English or Spanish. The guide allows staff to quickly direct families to the appropriate language access resources.

2. Brochures/Flyers/Letters
Informational brochures, flyers, and letters will be distributed to parents, especially at the start of the school year, explaining their right to receive communications in their preferred language. These materials will be available in multiple languages, including English, Spanish, and other commonly spoken languages in our school community.

The Parents' Bill of Rights and the Parents' Guide to Language Access will be prominently displayed in a designated area in the first-floor school lobby. These documents will be available in the families' preferred languages, ensuring all parents can understand the services available to them.

3. Parent Engagement Events
At parent engagement events, such as PTA meetings and International Parents' Nights, we will emphasize the school's commitment to language access. At these events, parents will be informed about their rights to receive communication in their preferred language. We will have bilingual staff available to assist, as well as interpretation services if needed.

4. Messaging Phone Applications
The school will utilize messaging apps like ClassDojo to send important updates and announcements to parents. These apps offer built-in translation capabilities, allowing messages to be sent in the parent's preferred language, whether it's Spanish or another language.

5. Parent's Guide to Language Access & NYC Public School Guidebook
The Parent's Guide to Language Access and NYC Public School Guidebook will be made available to all parents. These documents clearly outline parents' rights to language support and how to access interpretation and translation services. These guides will be distributed at key points of contact, such as during new student enrollment or back-to-school nights, and will be available in various languages based on the school's population.

6. Documenting Language Preferences
In collaboration with the Pupil Personnel Secretary and the Language Access Coordinator, we will ensure that the language preferences for each family are documented within the first 30 days of school. This data will be collected through surveys and updated through the ATS RHLA report, which will be kept on file in both the main office and Principal's office.

We will also regularly update the HLIS and RAPL reports to reflect accurate language preferences for all families. This will help ensure that all school communications are sent in the preferred language of the family.

7. Critical Documents
Centrally Produced Critical Documents and Student Critical Documents will be sent home in the language preference of the family. These documents include key forms, permission slips, emergency procedures, and other important information that must be communicated clearly.

8. Interpretation Services
School-based interpretation services will be provided in Spanish and Chinese for in-person meetings and communications. For other languages, phone interpretation services will be available, as indicated on posters in the main office and security desk.

When school-based translation or interpretation is not available for a specific language, we will request services from the NYC DOE Translation and Interpretation Unit. These services will be requested in advance to ensure timely and accurate communication.

9. Parent Coordinator's Role
The Parent Coordinator will play a key role in ensuring that written messages and emails are sent out to parents in their preferred language. The Parent Coordinator will monitor communication to ensure all families are reached and receive necessary information in an accessible format.

Part F: Monitoring

Monitoring

Methods for soliciting and implementing feedback on language assistance services.

1. In addition to the feedback received from parents via OLA's Translation & Interpretation Feedback Survey, describe the methods your school will use to gather feedback from parents regarding the language assistance services they receive in their preferred language.

PS116K LMA, we place great importance on gathering feedback from parents regarding the language assistance services they receive to ensure ongoing improvement and effectiveness. In addition to the feedback collected through the OLA's Translation & Interpretation Feedback Survey, we actively seek input from parents through multiple channels. On a monthly basis, feedback is gathered during our School Leadership Team (SLT) and Parent-Teacher Association (PTA) meetings. Verbal feedback is also solicited during monthly parent workshops, as well as through daily parent intake forms, which are reviewed by the Parent Coordinator and grade-specific supervisors. Furthermore, we utilize formal methods such as the Parent Learning Environment Survey (City School Survey) and parent feedback surveys distributed after parent workshops or meetings, including Parent-Teacher Conferences (PTC). These surveys help us assess the effectiveness of language services and identify any areas for improvement. All feedback is taken seriously, and it plays a critical role in continuously improving the language assistance services we offer to ensure they meet the needs of our diverse parent community.

2. How has your school worked to improve its language assistance services? Share any feedback results and outline your plans for further improvements in the upcoming school year.

At PS116K LMA, we take parent feedback and use it to improve how we support families, especially with language services. For example, during a School Leadership Team (SLT) meeting, parents share their thoughts on how to improve the language assistance services.
We heard from parents that they would like more regular updates in their preferred language. In response, we plan to provide staff with tools and training to send translated messages more consistently, using apps like ClassDojo and translation features in Google. Next school year, we will continue to send out surveys, gather feedback after events, and make sure all families know about the language services available to them. Our goal is to make sure every parent feels informed and supported, no matter what language they speak.

Title III Outline

Title III Supplemental Program for ELLs for SY 2025-26

REQUIREMENTS

Title III supplemental services for English Language Learners (ELLs) must include the following three components:

- Direct instruction activities must be used to support language development, English and home language instruction, high academic achievement in math, and/or high academic achievement in other core academic areas. The Title III supplemental instructional services must be based on student need. These supplemental services should complement core bilingual and ENL services required under CR Part 154. Direct supplemental services should be provided for before school, after school, and Saturday programs. Teachers providing the services must be bilingual education and/or English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) certified teachers.
- High quality professional development that is "of sufficient intensity and duration to have a positive and lasting impact on the teachers' performance in classrooms." Professional development activities should be well-planned, ongoing events rather than one-day or short-term workshops and conferences.
- Parent engagement and supports must ensure that there are appropriate translation and interpretation services to meet community needs. These are in addition to mandated activities, such as parent orientation during ELL identification process or annual ELL parent meetings.

Note: The Title III ELL program planning ratio is as follows: 60% to direct instruction, 10% to professional development (if funded using Title III ELL funds), 10% to parent engagement (if funded using Title III ELL funds), and 20% to OTPS (if funded using Title III ELL funds).

For more information on Title III requirements, please see the School Allocation Memo or contact your ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance and Performance Specialist. Any updates or revisions to this plan must be made through the iPlan portal.

Title III ELL Summary

Provide a summary of each program funded under Title III ELL for SY 25-26: For each program, describe:

- When the program takes place (i.e., after school, before school, Saturday academy)

- Activities ELLs will engage in and how these activities will enhance instructional opportunities for ELLs
- How ELLs will be grouped for instruction and specify the number of student groups. Include total number of student groups and total number of ELLs in each group, for each program
- How instruction will be delivered (e.g., team teaching, parallel teaching, etc.)
- How the program will be supervised and whether this will be funded by Title III ELL. Please note: If supervision will be funded using Title III ELL funds, you must include the supervisor's regular work day hours and the hours the supervisor will get paid per session.

LMA-PS 116K will use Title III funds to provide direct instruction to support ELLs of all proficiency levels. We will have a MLL instruction supplemental Morning Program for grades K-2 and The MLL Stewards of the Future Success Academy Saturday Program for grades 3-5.

The ELL morning program will begin on November 18, 2025 and end in May 13, 2026 at 7:05 am -7:55 am with a total of 43 sessions. The students will be broken into the following groups (see below):

Group 1-Grade K, 10-15 students; Group 2-Grade 1, 10-15 students; Group 3-Grade 2, 10-15 students. The language of instruction will be English with support in Spanish. The program will be supervised by the Principal and Assistant Principal at no cost to Title III. We will have 3 certified ENL or Bilingual teachers. Instruction sessions will take place every Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 7:05-8:00am for a total of 43 Sessions. The teachers will use Decodable Readers. and Goalbook toolkit to vary the levels of instructional support. They will also use content based resources such as phonics lessons from Into Reading. The materials will be at no cost to Title III funds. Students were tested using the Core Survey which is a secondary screener that digs deeper to help us identify foundational skills that students need. The data shows that our students lack the following foundational skills: phonemic awareness, phonics, and vocabulary. We will strategically target these foundational skills to strengthen decoding and language comprehension which are necessary for students to be successful readers.

The MLL Stewards of the Future Success Academy Saturday Program will begin November 8th, 2025 and end in May 23, 2026 from 8:30- 12:00 pm with a total of 22 sessions.

The students will be broken into the following groups (see below):
Group 1- Grades 3,4, and 5 Entering and Emerging students, 20-25 students; Group 2-Grades 3,4, and 5 Transitioning students, 20-25 students; Group 3- Grades 3,4, and 5 Expanding students, 20-25 students. There will be a total of 75 students for The MLL Stewards of the Future Success Academy Saturday Program.

This program is at cost to the Title III LEP.
