Section 1: Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Comprehensive Education Planning (CEP) is a structured, data-driven process that guides schools in assessing their needs, identifying areas for growth, setting strategic goals and implementing targeted actions to improve student outcomes. Collaboratively developed by the School Leadership Team (SLT) in accordance with the requirements of Chancellor's Regulation A-655, the CEP meets New York State Education Department (NYSED) requirements under the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) and aligns with NYC Public Schools' (NYCPS) system-wide priorities. By engaging all stakeholders—school leaders, teachers, families, students and community members—schools can create a data-informed, equity-focused roadmap for student success and continuous improvement.

Schools should focus their CEP on the five system-wide priorities below, connecting their planning to the data discussions and conversations with stakeholders held as part of the school's needs assessment:

- Priority 1: All students learn to read well
- Priority 2: All students are physically and emotionally safe
- Priority 3: All students have a high-quality academic experience
- Priority 4: All students graduate college and career ready and have a strong plan and pathway to economic security
- Priority 5: All districts and schools are more inclusive and responsive for parents and families, including having more families choose NYC Public Schools

The Education Planning Process

The CEP follows an equity-driven, continuous improvement cycle, rooted in the system-wide priorities. This begins with a comprehensive needs assessment of the school's most current data to identify priority needs and root causes. Next, the SLT establishes specific, measurable, attainable, relevant, and timely—SMART goal(s) aligned to each priority and determines targets to measure progress toward meeting the annual goals.

The SLT and instructional leaders define key evidence-based key strategies, professional learning activities and parent, family and community empowerment efforts. They monitor the implementation of those strategies and activities and track progress through measurable targets. Then, the SLT aligns the school-based budget with human and instructional resources to support action plans.

As schools set goals, develop key strategies, and plan action steps, they provide opportunities for all children to meet NYSED's proficient and advanced levels of student academic achievement. These include evidence based instructional strategies that address the educational needs of historically underserved populations and tackle structural inequities. Schools indicate how the plan addresses the needs of Multilingual/English Language Learners (ML/ELL) through development of the school's Language Allocation Policy (LAP) & Title III Application (if applicable) and the Language Translation and Interpretation (LTI) Plan, that are required as part of the CEP. Schools also address the needs of Students with Disabilities (SWD) through the High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities section of the plan. SLTs also develop a plan to improve attendance and reduce chronic absenteeism.

Guidance on Conducting a Comprehensive Needs Assessment

Directions: Conduct a comprehensive needs assessment for each Priority. The information below provides guidance for reviewing and analyzing student and school performance trends to uncover root causes for low student achievement.

1. Review Multiple Data Sources: Use the most current and available information including, but not limited to, the following sources of formative and summative data, as applicable:

- Qualitative and quantitative data, including enrollment and class size trends
- 2024-25 ESSA Accountability Data
- Instructional Leadership Framework (ILF), Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) Inventories, and NYC School Survey results
- Quality Review Reports, NYSED and NYCPS CSI or A/TSI Support Visits, Receivership Quarterly Reports, and Diagnostic Tool for School and District Effectiveness Framework (DTSDE)
- NYC School Quality Guide, Insight, New Visions, NWEA MAP and/or other formative assessment data, IEP Review Survey Data, Progress on IEP Goals Data, Program (SESIS-STARS Linkage) Reports, Mandated (Related) Services Reports, and NYCPS Tools for Understanding Your Data for student subgroup information

2. Analyze Data Trend(s) to Identify Areas of Strength and Need: Identify data trends by grade, cohort, and content area(s) to surface gaps and inequities. Compare data sets to identify instructional and school practices that are impacting student performance. Guiding questions to consider:

- What does the data reveal about improving and declining student performance trends within grades, cohorts, and student subgroups?
- What inequities are evident between highest and lowest performing student subgroups? Which subgroup(s) scored at Level 1 based on NYSED ESSA accountability indicators?
- What does the data suggest regarding the effectiveness (or ineffectiveness) of current school programs, practices, and/or strategies/initiatives? What areas may need to be strengthened?
- Are there any differences in student performance between program delivery models for ML/ELL and SWD? (e.g., for special education: special class, ICT, SETSS, related services only; for ML/ELL: Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) vs. Dual Language, etc.)
- How does delivery of instruction factor into data trends? What are the implications for teacher quality and professional learning?
- What inequities in special education referral and school disciplinary practices (e.g. suspensions, removals) are evident between student subgroups with IEPs?

3. Identify Root Cause(s): After analyzing the data, engage in a process for uncovering root causes or contributing factors for low student and school performance. Develop theories or hypotheses to explain why these needs exist and why your school is getting its current outcomes. Root causes could be related to gaps and inequities in areas such as curriculum & instruction, school systems & structures, student support services, school climate & safety, and family & community engagement. Focus on the causes, rather than the symptoms. Use the 5 Whys Method or other methods for identifying root causes. Consider the questions below:

- What theories or hypotheses explain the current student and school outcomes?
- Are there root causes specific to certain subgroups, grades, cohorts, or content area(s)?

Additional resources and supports are available below.

- Use this CEP Needs Assessment Worksheet to help your SLT and stakeholders identify appropriate data sources, data trends, root causes and priority needs.
- For guidance and best practices on engaging stakeholders in a comprehensive needs assessment and root cause analysis, see this deck.
- A current list of all CEP/Title I resources can be found on the iPlan Portal Public Resources Page.

Section 4: School Summary

Accountability Status

Accountability Status: LSI

School Summary

Directions: Complete this CEP Summary to serve as the "at-a-glance" narrative that provides contextual information about your school's unique characteristics. This summary and the entire Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) should be shared with your school community. Please note that this summary and the CEP will be made available to the public through the iPlan Portal, an online space where school stakeholders can go to collaborate in the development of the school's education plans.

Provide your school's mission statement:

The Lexington Academy seeks to maintain an educational environment in which the entire school community, in partnership with community based organizations and families, works to ensure that all students are provided with the skills to become lifelong learners. Through collaboration and standards-driven instructional curricular, we will engage all students and assist them in achieving high standards that will teach them to become competent, compassionate, committed, conscientious, and competitive contributing citizens of the world.

Develop a narrative summary that includes contextual information about your school's community and its unique/important characteristics and partnerships:

Include demographic information about your school's student population.

The Lexington Academy PS/MS 72 is located on 104th Street between Lexington and Park Avenues in the heart of East Harlem; serving a multicultural, multilingual community. Our school serves 481 students in grades 3K through 8th grade and is an ethnically diverse community comprised of 78% Hispanic, 16% Black, and 4% White. 18.3% of the students are English language learners and 27% are students with disabilities.

Collaborations:
At the Lexington Academy we recognize that in order to meet the needs of the whole child, we must partner with community based organizations to support students and their families in their social and emotional development as well as through enriching experiences (before, during, and after school). Some of our biggest supporters include: Manchester City Football Club--City in the Community, El Museo Del Barrio, Midori & Friends, Cycle Kids, Randall's Island Park Alliance, East Harlem Asthma Center for Excellence, Union Settlement, and Children's Aid Society. Students receive additional family support services, arts and cultural enrichment, as well as sports and academic supports beyond what the school is able to provide.

Glows:
The school creates a welcoming environment for families and takes advantage of community resources to enrich the civic life of the school, this is an area of celebration for the Lexington Academy. Visitors to our school often comment that our school is a warm and welcoming place. Teachers and administrators have been extremely creative in ways to maximize parental engagement. Instruction is customized, inclusive, motivating, and aligned to the Next Generation Common Core Standards. High expectations are set in every classroom. Students are actively engaged in ambitious intellectual activity and developing critical thinking skills.

Instructional Overview:
The Foundation of Literacy
At The Lexington Academy, we take a balanced approach to literacy. To reach that balance, teachers in 3K, 4K, Kindergarten, 1st, 2nd, and 3rd grades, incorporate a research-based approach to phonics instruction. We implement a multi-instructional approach to the science of reading development using, Wiley Blevins', Heggerty's, and Jan Richardson's research-based reading lessons. The lessons focus on carefully sequenced skills that include print knowledge, alphabet awareness, phonological awareness, phonemic awareness, decoding, vocabulary, fluency, and spelling. In the middle elementary grades and in the middle school grades Anita Archer's research-based program, Phonics for Reading is implemented as needed.

The Writer's Workshop Model:
At The Lexington Academy, writing begins with a commitment to structuring our literacy day so that students have time to write, both long chunks and quick bursts of time (to work as professional authors do, cycling through the stages of the writing process and receiving the feedback that is essential to student growth). Through the writing workshop, students are invited to live, work, and learn as writers. They learn to observe their lives and the world around them while collecting, drafting, revising, editing, and publishing well-crafted narrative and expository texts. Students receive direct instruction in the form of a mini-lesson and a mid-workshop teaching point. The teacher explicitly names a skill that proficient writers use that is within reach for most of the class, then demonstrates the skill and provides students with a brief interval of guided practice using the skill. Students are also given time to write, as they apply the skills and strategies they've learned. As students write, the teacher provides feedback that is designed to move students along trajectories of development. The feedback is given through one-to-one conferences and small group instruction, and includes instructional compliments and teaching. The teacher helps the writer to imagine what the next challenge is, and equips that writer with the skills and strategies necessary to begin tackling increasingly more difficult writing projects, ultimately striving for student independence in the writing process.

The Reading Workshop Model
At The Lexington Academy, students in Grades K-5 engage in daily standards-aligned, skill-based lessons from HMH Into Reading Curriculum. Students in Grades 6-8 learn from HMH Into Literature Curriculum. Each HMH module is aligned to a cross-curricular topic which allows students to build reading skills and gain knowledge simultaneously. In order to improve educational outcomes, the HMH curriculum is culturally responsive in that it incorporates attributes and knowledge from students' cultural backgrounds. The whole group reading lessons build knowledge and language through knowledge maps, explicit instruction of critical vocabulary, and collaborative discussion protocols. Whole group lessons are based on developing reading skills by utilizing high-quality texts and systematic skill instruction. Throughout the whole group lessons, students engage in instructional routines and discussion protocols to build collective understandings and construct meaning. Following the whole group lesson, students are put into targeted small groups where they receive scaffolded instruction to reinforce and extend comprehension skills and strategies taught during whole group reading lessons. A variety of formal and informal assessments will be utilized to assess students' levels and respond to student needs accordingly.

Mathematics:
At The Lexington Academy, we use the Envision2020 curriculum school-wide to support teaching and learning. Envision2020 is a math curriculum designed to meet the goals of the Next Generation Common Core State Standards for Mathematics. The Standards for Mathematical Practice are integrated throughout the program. Students and teachers are supported as they advance from concrete to abstract content through the use of models and accountable Math Talk. The flexibility, comprehensiveness, and rigor of Envision2020 provides personalized and adaptive 21st-century instruction to ensure success. Acknowledging that no single "program" can meet all the needs of all learners, we also use components of Georgia Math and our teaching is grounded in the math progressions identified by the University of Arizona. Teachers engage students in "Cognitively Guided Instruction" word problems engaging students in interesting complex mathematics stories. Our teachers use Number Talks regularly as introductions to the day's mathematical practice, as "warm ups" for other lessons, or as stand-alone extended engagements with mathematical concepts. Students engage in guided differentiated math games, aligned to the standard and informed by classroom data/assessments.

Social Studies
As described in Raising the Bar, the New York City Department of Education is dedicated to making all students college- and career-ready. In Social Studies, The Lexington Academy works toward achieving this goal through rich content, unifying themes and big ideas in history, geography, economics, civics, citizenship and government, integrated with Next Generation Common Core literacy standards. The Next Generation Common Core Learning Standards requires students to ground reading, writing, and discussion in evidence from text. At the Lexington Academy, our teachers use mentor text to support the learning of Social Studies. We use the K-8 Social Studies Scope and Sequence to align our instructions, projects, and field trips to the New York State Common Core Learning Standards. The middle school grades utilize the My World Interactive Social Studies program.

Teachers implement activities that allow our students to engage in culturally and historically responsive literacy. Through culturally responsive literacy and activities, our scholars identify themselves and their identities from a positive perspective within texts. Through the practice of culturally responsive pedagogy, students are exposed to the five-layered framework (Dr. Gholdy Muhammad, Ph.D.) of identity, joy, skills development, intellect, and criticality.

Science & Health
Science process skills are based on a series of discoveries, implemented through the Amplify Science Core Curriculum. We believe that students learn most effectively when they have a central role in the discovery process. Inquiry and process skills are an integral part of each unit of study found in the Amplify curriculum. The application of these skills allows students to investigate important issues in the world around them. These process skills are incorporated into students' instruction as developmentally appropriate. The health of our students is of the utmost importance. At The Lexington Academy, children partake in a range of activities including weekly physical education classes, programs such as Mighty Milers, tennis, soccer, swimming, cycling, basketball, lacrosse, and Move to Improve in the classrooms, and trips to the farmers' market. Our health initiatives have led us to become the multiple recipient of the Platinum Award for Excellence in School Wellness for several consecutive years.

Arts
The Lexington Academy is proud to provide a solid and well-rounded foundation in the arts, preparing our students with creative constructive thinking skills as well as the ability to see the world through the beauty of the arts. The Blueprint provides a standards-based rigorous approach to teaching the arts. Our students are given the opportunity to delve deeply into a variety of subjects, while giving their teachers the latitude to create an instructional program that demonstrates student learning over time and in varied dimensions. More importantly, the sequential study of art, music, dance, and cheerleading helps our students achieve both a vocation and an avocation. Their ongoing work enables them to apply for advanced study for jobs in the arts-related industries that are so important to the economy of New York City. It also provides them with a source of lifelong enjoyment as they become the future audience and performers for and of the arts. At the Lexington Academy, the arts motivates students to go beyond the walls of the classroom and encourages them to take advantage of the rich resources available across New York City in museums, concert venues, galleries, performance spaces (including in school performances/assemblies), and theaters, many of which our students have been active participants and presenters as well as award winners.

Briefly summarize the key initiatives your school will implement this school year.

Section 5: Priority 1 – All students learn to read well

Priority 1 Data Trends, Root Causes and Priority Needs

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

1. Data Trend(s) (Cite Data Source & Year)	2. Root Cause(s)	3. Priority Needs

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing school data trends, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for literacy outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Schools are encouraged to think critically and strategically when considering resources that can support progress towards CEP goals for students with IEPs. This includes utilizing Title I funding for at-risk speech and/or counseling services, all-staff training in supporting students with autism, sensory materials, summer institute geared at the development of executive functioning skills, and/or inclusion coaching support. Section 6: Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS)

Academic Support

NYCPS Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) align with NYSED guidelines for providing Academic Intervention Services (AIS) to students who have not yet met state standards or are considered to be at-risk of not meeting state standards. The Multi-tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) framework, organizes supports into three tiers:

Tier 1 provides schoolwide, high-quality programming for all students, including SWDs;

Tier 2 offers data informed small-group interventions for at-promise students; and

Tier 3 delivers intensive, individualized support for students with persistent needs.

This facilitates the strategic planning and necessary resource alignment to ensure their school community appropriately and adequately serves all students well, in partnership with students and families.

MTSS identifies the academic support services to be provided and ensures that students receive Response to Intervention (RtI) and Positive Behavioral Interventions and Support (PBIS) strategies as needed. See NYSED's memo to view the criteria for determining AIS services. The Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) offers a wide range of evidence-based Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions and supports for student social-emotional, behavioral, physical and mental wellness, with particular attention to the unique needs of students in Temporary Housing and/or Foster Care, who may face additional challenges related to school stability, trauma and access to educational resources. A culturally responsive-sustaining approach to intervention embeds culturally relevant texts and historical narratives into literacy and social studies interventions, ensuring students receive the support that reflects their identities and lived experiences, increasing engagement and achievement.

Use the charts below and a Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) to match academic, social/emotional, behavioral and instructional resources with student needs to provide targeted support for all learners, especially at-risk students who experience difficulty meeting state standards, including those living in Temporary Housing and/or residing in Foster Care placements. Indicate specialized materials, technology-based tools and/or extra instruction, including Expanded Learning Time that supplement school-wide systems & supports and/or classroom level supports. Ensure that interventions address the unique social-emotional, behavioral and academic challenges faced by culturally and linguistically diverse students, as well as those impacted by housing instability and child welfare system involvement.

Directions: Complete the chart and identify Tier 2 or 3 MTSS Academic supports. Any Tier 2/3 interventions should be in addition to the foundational work being done at Tier 1.

Students in Temporary Housing (STH) Support

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-STH Section and in accordance with the federal McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act and Chancellor's Regulation A-780, schools must identify, serve, and report on students living in temporary housing (STH). All Title I and non-Title I schools receive a Title I allocation for STH students. The Students in Temporary Housing (STH) website provides guidance on STH pupils and how these funds can be used to meet their needs, as well as restrictions. For more information on acceptable uses of the mandated Title I, Part A set-aside to support your STH population, please refer to the Title I STH Funds Toolkit.

Identify the number of Students in Temporary Housing who are currently attending your school and provide a breakdown of their temporary housing status. Since the number of STH children can change regularly, schools must carefully track this number to determine whether there has been an increase in need.

Number of students in temporary housing who are:

- Doubled up (with friends or relatives because they cannot find or afford housing):
- Living in a shelter or transitional shelter:
- Living in a hotel/motel:
- Other

*Note: In keeping with established practices regarding personally identifiable information, use the letter "s" to identify a number less than five (5).

The number of students in temporary housing who are currently attending our school is 45.

After a careful analysis of historical demographic, attendance and achievement data for your STH population, what trends do you notice, and how can these trends inform the services and support provided for this population?

One of the biggest demographic changes in our school this year has been the welcoming our Newest New Yorkers. As a result of the demographic change, we have had to revamp our dual language program including the hiring new teachers with bilingual Spanish licenses and restructuring our English as a Second Language program.

Describe the services you are planning to provide to the STH population. How were those services selected to best meet students' needs? How will you (or did you) utilize the STH Title I Survey to select services aligned to need?

PS/MS 72 - The Lexington Academy will provide our students in temporary housing with the following:

• Food (Community Feed, and Pantries)

• Items of clothing and shoes necessary for participation in classes

• Personal school supplies such as backpacks, notebooks, and remote learning devices

• Refer STH for medical, dental services, eyeglasses, and hearing aids

• Student fees that are necessary to participate in the general education program, such as school trips.

• Counseling services related to homeless issues that are impeding learning, via guidance counselors, social workers, Children's Aid (CBO), and other mental health services

• Tutoring services available, via Children's Aid

• Transportation provided to students in temporary housing. Shelter variances completed for students in temporary housing, not mandated for transportation through their most current IEP. Metrocards provided to students in temporary housing.

Prioritizing Students in Foster Care

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-Child Child Abuse and Neglect Intervention and Prevention School Plan and in accordance with the federal Education Law 3244 – Education of Children in Foster Care (Effective 2018) establishes the rights of students placed, or moved, in foster care to:

- Continue attending school of origin if determined to be in their best interest, or, if not, attend school near foster care placement,
- Immediate enrollment, and
- Transportation, if necessary to attend school of origin

Please respond to the questions below.

How many students in foster care are currently enrolled at your school? Provide a detailed breakdown of the social-emotional and academic supports available to them.

10; students receive counseling, bussing, caseworker assignment and check-ins regularly; modifications are made to assignments if there is an IEP

What targeted supports are in place for students in foster care, including those newly transitioning into the foster care system? How does your school ensure these students receive the necessary interventions to promote stability and success?

Students receive counseling, bussing, caseworker assignment and check-ins regularly; modifications are made to assignments if there is an IEP

After analyzing historical demographic, attendance, and achievement data for students in foster care, what trends have emerged? How can these insights be used to improve the services and support provided to this population?

Attendance for students in temporary housing is not consistent due to the fact that many of students move around and may change housing frequently. This impacts their achievement and overall performance in school. These insignts help inform the support we need to develop for students.

What specific strategies does your school implement to ensure students in foster care, particularly those in transitional grades, receive targeted Social-Emotional Learning (SEL) support? How do these strategies help address academic and behavioral challenges?

The work with assigned counselors ensures that students received targeted Social-Emotional Learning support. SEL is a major part of the counseling that students receive on a regular basis. These strategies help address academic and behavioral challenges and help inform support staff next steps.

Section 7: Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Directions: The Parent and Family Engagement Policy should describe how your school will plan and implement effective parent and family engagement activities and/or strategies to improve student academic achievement and school performance. The School-Parent Compact (SPC) is a component of the Parent and Family Engagement Policy (PFEP) that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share this responsibility.

The activities and/or strategies included in your school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy should align with current Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) goals for improving student achievement and should be developed or updated with input and feedback from parent leaders and the Parent Coordinator. In addition, if the school community will be engaged in central parent engagement initiatives, such as Parent Academy, which will provide training for school communities to help strengthen family-school partnerships, please be sure to include these activities in the school's policy.

In Title I schools, the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) represents the Title I parent community in supporting parent and family engagement. The Title I PAC Chairperson will serve in a consultative role with the SLT representing the school's Title I parents. Schools are encouraged to use the sample Parent and Family Engagement and SPC templates below (which meet federal Title I parent and family engagement requirements) as guidance for updating the school's current policy.

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental engagement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent and family engagement policy that will establish expectations and objectives for meaningful parent and family engagement in the school community. The Lexington Academy, in compliance with Section 1116 of Title I, Part A of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), is responsible for creating and implementing a parent and family engagement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between the school and the families. The school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), and Title I Parent Advisory Council as trained volunteers and welcomed members of the school community.

Support for Parents and Family Members of Title I Students

The Lexington Academy will support parents and family members of Title I students by:
• Providing materials and training to help parents work with their children to improve their achievement level, e.g., literacy, math and use of technology;
• Providing parents with the information and training needed to effectively become involved in planning and decision making in support of the education of their children;
• Fostering a caring and effective home-school partnership to ensure that parents can effectively support and monitor their child’s progress;
• Providing assistance to parents in understanding City, State and Federal standards and assessments;
• Sharing information about school and parent related programs, meetings and other activities in a format, and in languages that parents can understand;
• Providing professional learning opportunities for school staff with the assistance of parents to improve outreach, communication skills and cultural competency in order to build stronger ties between parents and other members of the school community.

Parental Involvement and School Quality

The school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy was designed based upon a careful assessment of the needs of all parents/guardians, including parents/guardians of Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners (ML/ELL), and students with disabilities. The school community, with the meaningful involvement of parents and family members, will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent and family engagement policy with Title I parents to improve the academic quality of the school. The findings of the evaluation through school surveys and feedback forms will be used to design strategies to more effectively meet the needs of parents and family members and enhance the school's Title I program. This information will be maintained by the school.

In developing the Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy, parents of Title I participating students, parent members of the school's Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), as well as parent members of the School Leadership Team, were consulted on the proposed Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and asked to survey their members for additional input. To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, the school will:
• Actively involve and engage parents and family members in the planning, review and evaluation of the effectiveness of the school's Title I program as outlined in the School Comprehensive Education Plan, including the implementation of the school's Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact;
• Engage all parents in discussion and decisions regarding the required Title I, 1% set-aside funds, which are allocated directly to the school to supplement parent and family engagement activities, including family literacy and parenting skills;
• Ensure that the Title I funds allocated for parent and family engagement are utilized to implement activities and strategies as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and the School-Parent Compact;
• Support school-level committees that include parents who are members of the School Leadership Team, the Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Advisory Council. This includes providing technical support and ongoing professional learning, especially in developing leadership skills;
• Maintain a Parent Coordinator (or a dedicated staff person) to serve as a liaison between the school and families. The Parent Coordinator or a dedicated staff person will provide parent workshops based on the assessed needs of the parents of children who attend the school and will work to ensure that the school environment is welcoming and inviting to all parents. The Parent Coordinator will also maintain a log of events and activities planned for parents each month and file a report with the central office.;
• Conduct parent workshops with topics that may include: parenting skills, understanding educational accountability grade-level curriculum and assessment expectations; literacy, accessing community and support services; and technology training to build parents' capacity to help their children at home;

• Provide opportunities for parents to help them understand the accountability system, e.g., ESSA/State accountability system, student proficiency levels, Annual School Report Card, School Quality Report, Quality Review Report, Learning Environment Survey Report;
• Host the required Annual Title I Parent Meeting each school year to advise parents of children participating in the Title I program about the school's Title I funded program(s), their right to be involved in the program and the parent and family engagement requirements under Title I, Part A, Section 1116 and other applicable sections under ESSA;
• Schedule additional parent meetings, e.g., quarterly meetings, with flexible times, such as meetings in the morning or evening, to share information about the school's educational program and other initiatives of the Chancellor and allow parents to provide suggestions;
• Translate all critical school documents and provide interpretation during meetings and events as needed.

Encouraging School-Level Parental Involvement

The school will further encourage school-level parent and family engagement by:
• Hosting educational family events/activities during Parent-Teacher Conferences and throughout the school year;
• Encouraging meaningful parent participation on School Leadership Teams, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Advisory Council;
• Supporting or hosting Family Day events;
• Establishing a Parent Resource Center/Area or lending library; instructional materials for parents;
• Encouraging more parents to become trained school volunteers;
• Providing written and verbal progress reports that are periodically given to keep parents informed of their children's progress;
• Developing and distributing a school newsletter or web publication designed to keep parents informed about school activities and student progress;
• Providing school planners/folders for regular written communication between /teacher and the home in a format, and to the extent practicable in the languages that parents can understand.

Title I Program Information

Part 1: Title I Program Type

Title I Requirements and Strengthening Title I Parent Involvement: Under USDOE's Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), Title I schools are required to address professional learning and parent and family engagement in the Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP). To strengthen parent leadership in Title I schools, and increase the involvement of all parents of Title I eligible children in improving students' academic outcomes, all Title I schools are required to establish a Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) that will serve as the consultative and representative body for all Title I parents in the school to provide voice into the spending of Title I funds.

The SLT is responsible for facilitating consultation with the Title I Parent Advisory Council regarding the joint development of the CEP, Parent and Family Engagement Policy, School Parent Compact (SPC) and the use of the 1% parent involvement set-aside in Title I schools. The Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) Chairperson (or alternate) is expected to attend all regular meetings of the School Leadership Team (SLT). Title I parents, as represented by the Title I PAC Chairperson, must be consulted regarding the use of the Title I 1% set-aside for parent and family engagement. The Title I 1% set-aside funding is used to supplement parent and family engagement activities as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and must be aligned with student achievement goals as outlined in the CEP. For additional guidance on the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC), go to the Protocols and Timeline for Title I Parent and Family Engagement Activities document.

Directions:

- All schools must indicate their Title I status in Part 1.
- All elements of the All Title I Schools section must be completed in Part 2.
- All Targeted Assistance (TA) Schools must also complete the TA Schools Only section in Part 3.
- All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools must also complete the SWP Schools Only section in Part 4.
- If a required component is addressed elsewhere in this plan, you may refer to the section or Priority where the response can be found.
- For additional information, visit the Title I Program Description (US Department of Education).

High Quality and Ongoing Professional Learning: Please list below the Priority or section(s) that indicate strategies and activities for high quality professional learning for teachers, principals, staff, and paraprofessionals to enable all students to meet state standards.

Lexington Academy will utilize Data Teams for each grade level to analyze universal screeners, formative assessments, to inform instruction and meet the diverse needs of all learners. Based on the data analyzes, as a school we will focus on academic achievement to help our students reach proficiency in their grade level.

To enable all students to meet state standards, professional Learning trainings provided by in-house literacy coaches, outside staff developers, and trained staff. The literacy coach and TCRWP will provide high quality, research-based professional learning for ELA/Literacy as well as strategies in phonics. Math staff developers and trained staff will provide high quality, research-based professional learning for Math. The attendance team of trained staff will develop strategies and interventions to increase attendance and support families. Staff developers and virtual workshops provide research-based strategies for elementary and middle school science teachers related to STEAM activities. All staff members receive technology training by staff developers from the UFT Teacher Center and DOE virtual workshops. Continue training focusing on differentiating for SWDs an ELLs provided by the Manhattan Borough Field Support staff developers, literacy coach, and trained staff. Data team will receive professional learning on how to analyze summative and formative assessments to inform instruction and intervention strategies to improve students' achievement. Staff developers, trained staff and counselors will provide training on mental health awareness, social emotional learning, bullying prevention, and PBIS strategies.

Part 4: Schoolwide Program (SWP)

Transition Plans to Assist Preschool Children (Elementary Schools Only): Describe the transition plans used to assist preschool children from early childhood programs to the elementary school program (e.g. aligned curriculum, joint PD & parent involvement activities, sharing of records/information, early intervention services, etc.).

Lexington Academy has a transition plan to assist preschool children from early childhood programs to elementary program in partnership for parents, Pre-K and Kindergarten teachers, and school community. The transition plan coordinates the professional development activities of preschool and kindergarten teachers in order to align Pre-K and kindergarten curricula and goals. Administration staff arranges for kindergarten and preschool teachers to visit each other's classrooms. Pre-k teachers provide the future kindergarten teacher with portfolios for each student or a written record of their learning during preschool. Sharing information about a students' experience in preschool is particularly important in cases where a child may need extra support in order to experience success in school. In the portfolio, Pre-k teachers include information for children who are having particular difficulty with spoken language or cognitive skills upon entry to kindergarten. The Pre-K teacher provides the kindergarten teacher with the students' history, which would likely include documentation of steps taken to help the student progress toward his or her program goals, and a discussion of areas where the student is still experiencing difficulty.

Teachers and parents are partners in preparing children for future school success and transition from Pre-k to Kindergarten. Teachers engage in consistent and meaningful sharing of information with parents/guardians, including meeting with parents to talk about any areas in which their child is experiencing difficulties. In addition, by sharing specific information about the topics children are learning, and the skills they are developing, teachers strengthen a parents' ability to support their child's learning at home. Teachers also communicate and provide information and resources in the parents/guardian's preferred language as mandated by Title 1 regulations.

Part 5: “Conceptual” Consolidation of Funds in SWP Schools

Directions: All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools in NYC are conceptually consolidating their Federal, State, and Local funds, even though the Galaxy system reports the allocations in separate accounting codes1. To be eligible for the flexibility consolidation of Federal funds, a Schoolwide Program school must identify in its Schoolwide plan (CEP) which programs are included in its consolidation and the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool. Additionally, the school plan must document that it has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated2. On the chart below, indicate which Federal, State, and/or local Tax Levy program funds that are consolidated in your school’s Schoolwide Program, the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool, and verification that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated.
For the last two columns of this table: Place an (X) in Column A below to verify that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated. Indicate in Column B, the Priority or section that references where a related program activity has been described in this plan.

Explanation/Background

1. Explanation/Background:

Title I Schoolwide Program schools are expected to use the flexibility available to them to integrate services and programs with the aim of enhancing the entire educational program and helping all students reach proficient and advanced levels of achievement. In addition to coordinating and integrating services, Schoolwide Program schools may combine most Federal, State and local funds to provide those services. By consolidating funds from Federal, State, and local sources, a Schoolwide Program school can address its needs using all its available resources. This gives a school more flexibility in how it uses available resources to meet the identified needs of all its students.

Consolidating funds in a Schoolwide Program means that a school treats the funds it is consolidating like they are a single “pool” of funds. In other words, the funds from the contributing programs in the school lose their individual identity and the school has one flexible pool of funds. The school uses funds from this consolidated Schoolwide pool to support any activity of the Schoolwide Program without regard to which program contributed the specific funds used for a particular activity – so long as the use of funds meets the intent and purposes of the programs from which the funds originate. To consolidate funding in a Schoolwide Program, the school does not literally need to combine funds in a single account or pool with its own accounting code. Rather, the word “pool” is used conceptually to convey that a Schoolwide Program school has the use of all consolidated funds available to it for the dedicated function of operating a Schoolwide Program without regard to the identity of those funds.

Consolidating Federal funds in a Schoolwide Program has the following additional advantages:

- Consolidating Federal funds eases the requirements for accounting for funds from each specific program separately, because a Schoolwide school is not required to distinguish among funds received from different sources when accounting for their use.
- A school that consolidates Federal funds in its Schoolwide Program is not required to meet most of the statutory and regulatory requirements of the specific Federal programs included in the consolidation (e.g., semi-annual time and effort reporting for Title I). However, the school must ensure that it meets the intent and purposes of the Federal programs included in the consolidation so that the needs of the intended beneficiaries are met.

2. The intent and purposes of the Federal programs indicated on the chart above (Part 4c of this section) are as follows:

- Title I, Part A – Schoolwide Programs: To upgrade the entire educational program in the school in order to improve the academic achievement of all students, particularly the lowest-achieving students. This includes provision of services for Students in Temporary Housing (STH).
- Title I 1003(a), School Improvement: Comprehensive Support and Improvement (CSI), Additional Targeted Support and Improvement (ATSI) and Targeted Support and Improvement (TSI) Funding:

Support implementation of school improvement plans that aims to improve instruction and address the identified needs

Title II, Part A: Supplementary funding to improve student academic achievement by reducing class size in grades K, 1, 2, and 3, with an emphasis on grades with an average register greater than 20. If space is not available to form additional classes, funds may support push-in teacher(s) to supplement the instructional program. For schools that choose to reduce class size, priority must be given to reducing class size in general education settings and must demonstrate the following:

- Reduce class sizes to 15-18 students or fewer (including the use of co-teaching and floating teachers that bring the student to teacher ratio to one teacher per 15-18 students);
- Be accompanied by a rigorous curriculum, effective teachers, and a sustained, job-embedded professional development plan.

- Title III, Part A: To help ensure that children with limited English proficiency become proficient in English, develop high academic attainment in English, and meet the same challenging State academic content and achievement standards in the core academic subjects that all other children are expected to meet. Another purpose of this program is to increase the capacity of schools to establish, implement and sustain high-quality language instruction programs and English language development programs that assist schools in effectively teaching students with limited English proficiency. Title III, Part A is also designed to promote the participation of parents and communities of limited English proficient children in English language instruction programs.
- Title III Immigrant: Supplementary and enhanced services to immigrant students, in the areas of English language acquisition and content area achievement. Immigrant children and youth are defined as individuals who are aged 3 through 21, have not been attending school in any one or more states for more than three (3) full academic years, and were not born in any state. "State" means the 50 states of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Children born to U.S. citizens abroad, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or any other U.S. territory that is not D.C. or Puerto Rico are to be considered immigrants.
- Title IV, Part A: Title IV funds are for schools that are among those with the greatest needs, have the highest numbers of students from low-income families, are identified for CS, ATSI or TSI, or are identified as persistently dangerous public schools. Allowable uses of funds under well-rounded education, safety and health, and educational technology include direct services for students, professional development for teachers and administrators, and supplemental educational resources. School allocations have been provided for well-rounded education, social emotional learning, cultural responsiveness awareness, professional development to support implementation of technology and blended learning environments, and community coordinators in schools with high rates of students in temporary housing

- Students in Temporary Housing (STH): Schools must describe their use of Title I STH funds in their consolidated application.

Important Note: The following funds may not be consolidated:

- Title I Parent Involvement Set-aside: Title I, Part A funds must support parent involvement activities and programs. Chancellor's Regulation A-655 requires School Leadership Teams to consult with Title I parent representatives regarding the Title I program and the use of these funds. Parent involvement activities funded through Title I must be included in the Parent and Family Engagement Policy and aligned with student achievement goals in the school comprehensive educational plan.
- IDEA: To ensure that all children with disabilities have available to them a free appropriate public education designed to meet their individual needs.
- Grant funds awarded via a competitive process: These funds must be used for the purposes specified by the Grantor, as described in the school's approved grant application.

Stand-alone ENL:

ELLs receive stand-alone instruction as mandated by CR Part 154 for each proficiency level. All ENL and Dual Language Bilingual Education classes travel together as a group and are mixed proficiency levels in one class. Instruction is provided by the ENL TESOL certified teachers, and Bilingual certified teachers. All proficiency levels receive stand-alone ENL instruction with the exception of expanding and commanding students. Students receive small group instruction and support in reading and writing strategies. These groups are heterogeneous. ELLs have the opportunity to interact and discuss content with other students.

Integrated ENL:

ELLs receive integrated instruction as mandated by CR Part 154 for each proficiency level. ELA and ENL certified teachers will work together to provide the required amount of minutes for each proficiency level as indicated by CR Part 154. ELLs have the opportunity to interact and discuss content with other students in the classroom. Integrated ELA and ENL teachers plan weekly and use a variety of strategies to differentiate instruction and provide multiple opportunities to meet the language needs of ELLs and Former ELLs. These groups are heterogenous.

b. Bilingual Education (If applicable)
Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE):

Lexington Academy does not have a TBE program.

Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE):

Dual Language Bilingual Program includes both native English speakers and ELLs. The teacher provides instruction in both English and Spanish. In the K-4 Dual Language Bilingual Education Program, the students receive half of their instruction in Spanish and the remainder of their instruction in English language. The DLBE program is heterogeneous.

2. How does your school ensure the mandated number of instructional minutes are provided according to students' English language proficiency levels in each program model?

At Lexington Academy, in September of each year, each teacher is required to submit a detailed program schedule to the administration. The program schedules outline the days of the week and the amount of instructional time dedicated to explicit ENL, and content-area instruction. The program schedules are reviewed to ensure that all eligible students in Dual Language Bilingual Education, and stand-alone ENL programs receive the mandated number of instructional minutes according to proficiency level. The following are the ENL, and ELA instructional minutes for each program model:

English as a New Language program varies for each proficiency level. Entering students receive a total of 360 minutes per week. They receive one unit of study in ENL for 180 minutes, and one unit of study in ENL/ELA for 180 minutes. Emerging students receive a total of 360 minutes per week. Emerging students receive .5 unit of study in ENL for 90 minutes, one unit of study in ENL/ELA for 180 minutes and .5 unit of study of integrated ENL/Core Content Area for 90 minutes. Transitioning students receive 180 minutes per week. Transitioning students receive .5 unit of study in ENL/ELA for 90 minutes, .5 unit of study of integrated ENL/Core Content Area for 90 minutes. Expanding students receive 180 minutes per week. Expanding students receive one unit of study in ENL/ELA. Commanding students, as former ELLs, receive 90 minutes per week. Commanding students receive .5 unit of study in integrated ELA/Core Content Area.

3. How are ENL, English Language Arts (ELA) and if applicable, Home Language Arts (HLA) instructional minutes delivered in each program model?

Dual language Bilingual Education program is designed to have students spend 50% of their instructional time is taught in the home language (HLA). The remaining part of the time the teacher instructs only in English. In kindergarten to first-grade, 50% of instruction is in the target language (HLA) and 50% of instruction in English.

DLBE Teachers provide a balance of target language and teacher to student interaction. DLBE teachers utilize a variety of tools that can best support teaching and learning goals for all students. They have a structured learning environment that establishes what tools students will engage with on a daily basis.

We currently utilize the HMH curriculum and the Heggerty Phonics curriculum. The teachers also receive extensive professional development by staff developers from HMH, workshops provided by the Office of Multilingual Learners, and our own literacy coaches. Writing and math instruction are provided in both Spanish and English in DLBE classrooms. All grades use Envision Math Curriculum and Number Talks. Math is also provided in both Spanish and English.

The ENL teachers use the HMH curriculum, Phonics to Reading, Building Reading Success, Finish Line Bilingual, Measuring Up for English Language Learners curriculum to support the development of English oral language and academic skills during ENL instruction. ELLs engage in technology websites such as Readworks, Newsela, Starfall, Duolingo, etc to promote speaking, listening, reading, and writing. Each student in grades K-8 has access to an Ipad or laptop computer that can be used in the classroom. Students can work independently on the computers during literacy and math stations.

All of our classrooms are equipped with smart boards that are used to maximize comprehensible input during all instructional periods, in particular during ENL/ELA instructional time. In DLBE classrooms, home language support is provided in all subject areas including ELA, writing, math, science, and social studies.

Content areas are generally taught in English in grades 5-8, providing scaffolding and support as needed. Newcomers are provided with content area instruction in their home language in small groups whenever possible. Dual Language Bilingual Education K-4 classes provide content area instruction in English and Spanish. Curriculum materials are available in both languages. In addition, all DLBE classes are equipped with a variety of genres in their classroom libraries in both languages.

4. For schools with Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) programs:

a. Which Dual Language Bilingual Education model is implemented? Explain how much of the instructional day (percentage) English proficient students and ELLs are integrated.

Dual language Bilingual Education program (DLBE) is designed to have students spend 50% of their instructional time with a target language teacher who uses only the target language. The remaining part of the time the teacher instructs only in English. In kindergarten through 4th grade, 50% of instruction is in the target language and 50% of instruction in English on alternate days.

DLBE Teachers provide a balance of target language and teacher to student interaction. DLBE teachers utilize a variety of tools that can best support teaching and learning goals for all students. They have a structured learning environment that establishes what tools students will engage with on a daily basis.

b. In which language(s) is each core content area taught?

We currently utilize the HMH curriculum program for reading, and writing. The Heggerty and Phonics for Reading curriculum is used for phonics instruction. Writing and math instruction are provided in both Spanish and English in DLBE classrooms. All grades use Envision Math Curriculum and Number Talks.

5. For schools with Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs:

a. Which core content areas are taught bilingually?

We do not have a TBE program.

Part IV: Data Analysis

Data Analysis

After reviewing and analyzing school demographic and assessment data, answer the following questions. The ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) provided by the Office of Multilingual Learners can assist with identifying these data points.

For additional information, refer to Data Analysis Professional Learning Module and ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) Professional Learning Module.

1. What is the composition of the ELL subgroups at your school?
What percentage of ELLs are Newcomers? How does effective instruction for Newcomers differ from those provided to Developing or Long-Term ELLs?

According to the EDAT report, 15.3% are ELLs, 93.5% are Newcomers, 3.7% are Former ELLs, 1.6% are Long-term ELLs and 4.8% are Developing. Newcomers receive the mandated 360 minutes per week as outlined in CR Part 154, in an ENL stand alone or Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) program. Newcomers receive one unit of study of ENL for 180 minutes and one unit of study in ENL/ELA for 180 minutes per week. Students placed in the Dual Language Bilingual Education program benefit from the support of a licensed Dual Language Bilingual Education teacher. Therefore, they have access to home language support across the content areas and access to a teacher who has a sense of respect for the home language and culture of origin. The Dual Language Bilingual Education program teacher works to maintain and develop additional skills in the students' home language while also teaching English Language Arts and English as a New Language. For newcomers who are not in our Dual Language Bilingual Education Program, our ENL teachers service them through our ENL stand-alone program. Newcomers are provided with various scaffolds to differentiate instruction and enhance English language development. Teachers use conversational role plays in pairs or small groups. Newcomers use a think, pair, share strategy, provided with time for buddy reading of texts, cooperative learning projects, adequate wait time to help an ELL formulate a response and the use of learning centers for literacy, math, science, or social studies. ENL and Dual Language Bilingual Education teachers help students to decode words, provide instruction in phonics/high frequency words, read text to build fluency, use readings to teach tier 2 and tier 3 vocabulary, use language functions to create units of study, and HMH scaffolds and support.

Developing students have received four to six years of services. Developing students receive .5 unit of study in ENL/ELA for 90 minutes, .5 unit of study of integrated ENL/Core Content Area for 90 minutes. In addition, the students receive small group instruction and support in reading and writing strategies following the Next Generation Learning Standards and the Learning Standards for English as a New Language.

What percentage of ELLs are Students with Inconsistent/Interrupted Formal Education (SIFE)? How do you differentiate effective instruction for SIFE?

According to the EDAT report, we currently do not have students designated as SIFE.

What percentage of ELLs are Long-Term ELLs? How does effective instruction for Long-Term ELLs differ from instruction designed for Developing ELLs?

According to the EDAT 1.6% of ELLs are long-term. For Long-term ELLs, we will look carefully at our formal and informal data in order to determine areas of instruction for targeted intervention. We aim to determine why students have not yet reached proficiency (diagnostic) in English and then tailor our instruction to meet the English language needs of long-term ELLs. Some of our long-term ELLs are ELLs-SWDs. They work with their related service providers to improve English language skills via small groups or one-to- one instruction.
Since our long-term ELLs need more time and support to develop English and content knowledge, teachers provide modeling, visual and verbal scaffolds and opportunities for cooperative learning and partner work. Scaffolds and differentiation of instruction includes guided instruction, graphic organizers, teacher modeling that provides opportunities for feedback.

What percentage of students are former ELLs? How is your school providing mandated instruction to former ELLs?

According to the EDAT, 6.4% of ELLs are Former ELLs. Former ELLs receive at least .5 units of study or its equivalent of Integrated English as a New Language (ENL) in English Language Arts (ELA)/Core Content Area. The plan for former ELLs in years one and two after testing proficient, is to provide as much support as possible, where needed. ENL instruction and regular consultation between the ENL teacher and content area teachers is ongoing to provide support to former ELLs.

For grades K-5, small-group support provides language use, collaboration, problem-solving, and targeted content-based learning for 90 minutes a week. Differentiated instruction includes guided writing, grammar/vocabulary, and content area work.

For grades 6-8, ENL teachers provide individualized instruction and targeted instruction providing opportunities for more focused content and language learning within a small or large group in the classroom for 90 minutes a week. Differentiated instruction includes individualized content area work, support in academic vocabulary/grammar, writing workshop, and interactive inquiry-based projects.

2. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of ELLs at your school?

The at-risk indicator that affects the ELLs at our school is ELLs in temporary housing. Our students who are currently in temporary housing are chronically absent which results in them missing core instruction and mandated services. These students struggle with social/emotional development and language development as well. When students are in temporary housing we notice that they don't have access to necessary resources to continue learning outside of the classroom. Another impact of students living in temporary housing is food insecurity. This results in students sleeping in the classroom, behavior outbursts, lack of focus, and lack of motivation.

3. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect former ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of former ELLs at your school?

After examining all at-risk levels that affect former ELLs at Lexington Academy we notice that former ELLs still face challenges in reading, writing, and math skills. According to the EDAT report, 53.7% of former ELLs scored level 1 or 2 on the ELA test and 41.5% scored level 1 or 2 on the Math test last year. We notice that these scores could be a result of the new demands of the ELA curriculum. These trends tell us that as a school we should continue to analyze data to strengthen our targeted small group instruction.

4. What are the home languages of ELLs with the largest representation at your school? What staff, structures, and processes does your school have to support communication and learning that values these home languages?

The home language of ELLs at Lexington Academy is Spanish, Russian, Haitian Creole, Wolof, and French. Many of our school staff, including administration, teachers, clerical, and support services, are bilingual. School verbal and written communication is offered in a family's home language and language of their choice. Interpreters are also available to help communicate with families and students.

5. What are the racial and ethnic classifications of ELLs at your school? How are ELLs being included in planning and delivery of Culturally Responsive and Sustaining Education (CR-SE)?

Most families and students at Lexington Academy identify as Hispanic or Latino. At Lexington Academy we value the background, views, and needs of all students. All students including ELLs are included in the planning and delivery of Culturally Responsive and Sustaining Education (CR-SE). Classroom curriculum, activities, and materials reflect our diverse population. Students see themselves reflected in the classroom and have developed strong relationships with their teachers. Teachers engage students in literacy and across all content areas that connect with their diverse backgrounds, thereby building on this knowledge.

6. What trends do you notice in reviewing English Language Proficiency (ELP) growth at your school? How many students met ELP sufficient progress? How many students did not meet ELP sufficient progress?

In reviewing the ELP growth at Lexington Academy, we notice that 51.7% of students met the ELP progress by exiting ELL status and 20.7 % met the annual progress target and are on track to exit ELL services. Additionally, 24.1% have not met sufficient progress.

7. When you look at the results of the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT), what stands out? What trends are there for each modality?

The ENL, DLBE teams and Literacy Coaches review and interpret the results of the NYSESLAT for each student to guide instruction in the four modalities, Speaking, Listening, Reading, and Writing. We review the NYSESLAT Targets of Measurement documents which describe what students should be able to do at each grade band level, linked to specific targets of measurement and their linguistic purposes. We use this resource to ensure that instruction and formative assessments are aligned with these targets. Additionally, we analyze the results to group students that are Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, and Expanding.

Upon review of the results, we noticed that in 2023 and 2024 students in grades K-8 demonstrated strength in all modalities. However, when compared to the areas where students need strengthening the only modalities present are speaking and writing. With the amount of newcomers this supports the idea that these students are still developing their new language skills. When comparing the modalities of speaking and writing, students struggled more demonstrating their ability to speak. This could be a result of students still in the silent period of their language acquisition process.

8. What is the relationship between students' performance on the NYSESLAT and other state assessments such as the ELA assessment, the Math assessment, and the Regents exams?

According to the EDAT, Commanding students scored a level 2 on the ELA state assessment. Transitioning and Expanding students scored a level 1. This data suggests that students who are further along in their language proficiency still require targeted small group instruction on a daily basis. This also demonstrates that commanding students have English language skills to express themselves, but they still need practice using grade level academic language. When analyzing the state math assessment we noticed that the Emerging, Transitioning, and Commanding students scored a level 3. Entering, Expanding, and Commanding students scored a level 2 on the math state assessment. This demonstrates that students have strong math skills in their native language. This suggests to us that we as teachers need to continuously provide purposeful small group instruction. These students demonstrate that they have the ability to score 3's and 4's on the state math assessment with more targeted instruction.

9. What are trends reflected in the NYSESLAT results of ELL subgroups such as ELLs with IEPs and SIFE? What do you think is impacting the results for these subgroups?

A trend reflected in the NYSESLAT is that ELLs with IEPs are meeting the linguistic demands to demonstrate English language proficiency. They have developed the skills to work on academic content in their grade level. Depending on the student's English language proficiency level, some will need limited support and structure in place to develop their academic language skills. ELLs with IEPs benefit from a print-rich environment, hands-on learning, activating prior knowledge, explaining new concepts and building vocabulary. This will provide opportunities to demonstrate understanding. Another trend we notice is that ELLs with IEPs at the Entering level may become long-term ELLs or will take longer to become proficient in English.

10. (For grades 9-12 only) Please review your data in the Insight Tool and STARS to answer the following questions:

Part V: ML/ELL Instruction

Tier 1: Core Instruction

For additional information, refer to ML/ELL Instruction Professional Learning Module.

Tier 1 Core Instruction

1. How does your school provide ELLs with a high-quality academic experience that leads to deeper learning?

Lexington Academy provides ELLs with a high-quality academic experience that leads to deeper learning by incorporating best practices. Schools that have English language learners (ELLs) benefit from collaborative work between classroom and ENL teachers. Classroom and ENL teachers encourage ELLs to share their experiences, and cultural values that motivates students to learn from each other and brings them closer together in supportive and meaningful ways.

To ensure our students become strong teachers will use assessment data to help make instructional decisions that will best meet the needs of their students. All curriculum programs will provide both formative and summative assessments. All students will be administered a universal screener such as Acadience Reading for students in grades K-2, iReady Reading and Math for students in grades K-8, HMH End of Module, Envision End of Module, Phonics to Reading high frequency word and comprehension assessment, ECAM Math grades K-2, and the NYS ELA/Math assessments.

To provide high-quality experience for ENL students, teachers utilize a variety of strategies, group or paired work, and multi-media. In order to introduce a strategy and academic content teachers use modeling, clear directions, and comprehension checks to ensure students understand. All classroom and ENL teachers differentiates instruction, provides scaffolds, paraphrasing, or sentence frames and sentence stems.

Literacy coaches work in collaboration with classroom teachers and ENL teams to provide professional learning on how to provide all students including ELLs with a high-leveled academic curriculum.

2. How does your school's leadership team ensure ELLs have access to core instruction/curriculum?

The school's leadership ensures ELLs have access to core instruction/curriculum based on the needs of each student. Leadership and teachers review and use assessment data to help make instructional decisions that will best meet the needs of their students. Additionally, leadership and teachers review the NYSESLAT scores and school based assessments to determine how best to support our ELLs. The ENL program follows an integrated and stand-alone model. We have three licensed ENL teachers who service all students in the ENL program. Students receive small group instruction and support in reading and writing strategies following the Next Generation Learning Standards and the Learning Standards for English as a New Language.

3. Describe how core content is delivered in each program model. Specify language, and the instructional approaches and methods to foster language development and meet the demands of the Next Generation Learning Standards.

All dual language classrooms in grades K-4 follow the Dual Language model, one way self-contained where 50% of the instructional time is taught in Spanish and 50% of the instructional time is taught in English. The language of the day alternates daily. In this model, English proficient and ELL students are integrated in all contents in two languages and supported with all necessary scaffolds and differentiation of the new language.

4. What instructional strategies and grade-level materials, including technology, do teachers of MLs/ELLs use to provide access to grade level academic content areas and accelerate English language development? Include core content area and language materials with consideration to specific ELL subgroups.

a. ELLs with IEPs

Students in grades K-8 have regular access to computers in their classrooms and take turns working independently on the computer during literacy and math stations.

The strategies that are used are modifying the content to meet the needs of our students, lots of visual support, use of graphic organizers in writing, rephrasing, and translated texts when needed.

ELLs and ELLs with IEPs, have the opportunity to practice what is taught in class and develop their English by using literacy based online programs such as IReady, Newsela, Starfall, Readworks.org, etc. These programs provide ELLs with Speaking, Listening, Reading, and Writing opportunities. These programs engage students in the classroom and in the home.

b. SIFE

We currently do not have any SIFE students.

c. Newcomers

Students placed in the DLBE benefit from the support of a licensed Dual Language Bilingual Education teacher. Therefore, they have access to home language support across the content areas and access to a teacher who has a sense of respect for the home language and culture of origin. The DLBE teacher works to maintain and develop additional skills in the students' home language while also teaching English Language Arts and English as a New Language.

For newcomers who are not in our Dual Language Bilingual Education Program, our ENL teachers service them through our ENL stand-alone/integrated program. Newcomers are provided with the various scaffolds to differentiate instruction and enhance English language development. Some instructional strategies that we use are translated versions of texts, heavy visual support, use of the computer program Starfall, wordbanks, sentence frames and stems, texts and videos in home language, and preteaching vocabulary.

d. Long Term ELLs

Our plan for Long-term ELLs is to carefully look at our formal and informal data to determine areas of instruction for targeted intervention. We aim to determine why students have not yet reached proficiency (NYSESLAT) in English and then tailor our instruction to meet the English language needs of long-term ELLs. Some of our long-term ELLs are ELLs with IEPs. Long-term ELLs that have an IEP work with their related service providers to improve their English language skills via small groups or one-on-one instruction. When appropriate, we consider whether our ELLs with IEPs should have their language of instruction changed on their IEPs. Specifically when working in writing small groups the areas of focus are coherence of responses (organization of writing), quality of language (word choice), and the complexity of language (sentence structures).

5. What supports does your school provide to ELLs with IEPs to achieve their IEP goals and attain English language proficiency within the least restrictive environment?

Our school uses curricular, instructional, and scheduling flexibility to meet the diverse needs of ELLs with IEPs within the least restrictive environment. Our ELLs with IEPs follow the same curriculum as our general education students. Teachers adapt and supplement the curriculum as needed. Reading and Writing are taught using HMH Into Reading or HMH Into Literature. Math units are designed by grade level teams using Envision. Examples of supplemental programs that teachers of ELLs with IEPs at Lexington Academy use include Heggerty Phonemic Curriculum, Phonics to Reading, Getting Ready for the NYSESLAT, Measuring Up NYSESLAT and Finish line New York ELL Bilingual Common Core.

Instruction is differentiated across the content areas to meet the needs of our ELL-SWDs. Teachers design units and lessons that give our learners multiple points of access to content to include visual aids, appropriately leveled texts and native language instruction. Our ELLs with IEPs are made aware of their learning goals via ongoing independent conferences that take place with the teacher on a regular basis.
We have a bilingual SETSS teacher that offers both push-in and pull-out services to ELLs with IEPs at our school. We also have a bilingual counselor and a bilingual guidance counselor that supports the emotional needs of our students. Additionally, we have one bilingual speech therapists on staff.

6. How is home language assessed in each program model (DLBE, TBE, and ENL)?

In Dual Language Bilingual Education and ENL programs, home language support is offered through a variety of methods including, scaffolding and small flexible groups. Home language support is provided in all subject areas including ELA, writing, math, science, and social studies.

In the DLBE program, students receive half of their instruction in their home language, and the remainder of their instruction in the targeted language.

In a Stand-alone ENL class, students receive English language development instruction taught by ENL certified teachers in order to acquire the English language needed for success in core content areas. This program typically serves ELLs from many different backgrounds.

7. (For grades 6-12 only) What language electives are offered to MLs/ELLs? How is your school preparing MLs/ELLs to obtain the New York State Seal of Biliteracy?

At this time no language electives are offered to our 6th through 8th graders.

8. Describe systems and structures for supporting co-teaching and collaboration among teachers for all ELL program models available at your school (e.g. integrated co-teaching, Dual Language Bilingual Education teacher partnerships, etc.).

At Lexington Academy, the ENL teachers provide integrated co-teaching and partner with the Dual Language Bilingual Education teacher (DLBE) during ELA. They collaborate with the classroom or content area teacher to deliver instruction to meet both content and English language and literacy development by following the HMH pacing calendar.

Teachers create language and content goals, and develop learning activities, and plan for appropriate scaffolds and supports to be in place. The ENL and content teacher vary their approaches based on student needs.

9. Describe how your overall, annual professional learning plan ensures that all staff – including administrators, teachers and -non-pedagogical staff – incorporates learning specifically related to the academic and social emotional needs of MLs/ELLs. Professional learning topics might include co-teaching strategies, or integrating language and content instruction.

Our professional development plan includes setting aside time to address the specific needs of our ELL students and the strategies needed for ELL students to access grade-level curriculum. Teachers address strategies and best practices that best help address listening, speaking, reading, and writing modalities. The Dual language Bilingual Education and ENL teachers continue to grow professionally through outside professional development opportunities (UFT Teacher Center) and school-based professional development. Teachers attend various workshops that focus on the fundamental elements of classroom instruction and effective pedagogy for ELLs.

10. Describe your school's professional development plan in order to meet the mandated Continuing Teacher and Leader Education (CTLE) ELL specific hours for certification renewal as per CR Part 154 (15% of total hours for all certified faculty [holders of professional certificates in the classroom teaching service, educational leadership service and level III teaching assistant certificate holders] and 50% of total hours for bilingual education/ENL teachers receive ELL-specific professional development).

All staff receive CTLE approved ELL training in-house as well as off-site. All CTLE professional developments are aligned to meet the requirements as required by CR Part 154. The professional development is structured to ensure that 15% of the total hours are for all certified faculty and that 50% of total hours are for bilingual education/ENL teachers. All approved CTLE professional developments are dedicated to topics related to ELLs including understanding the NYSESLAT exam, language acquisition and adapting lessons to make input more comprehensible for all learners. Teachers attend ELL related workshops that are then shared with the entire staff.

The Lexington Academy is an approved CTLE UFT Teacher Center. The UFT Teacher Center provides opportunities for all teachers to engage in professional learning that ensures that all staff have the most up to date best practices.

Faculty are actively engaged in professional learning through Edweb.net. EdWeb.net is an award-winning professional learning network that makes it easy for faculty to collaborate, engage in peer-to-peer learning, and share innovative ideas and resources. Edweb's edWebinars provide anytime learning that also provides CTLE credits and certificates for PD hours.

Assessment

SCREENERS

11. Which screening assessments (e.g.iReady, MAP Growth, Acadience, or STAR Reading) does your school use to guide instructional planning for your ELLs?

In conjunction with the NYSITELL, LAB-R, and NYSESLAT assessments, Lexington Academy implements a variety of assessments to guide instructional planning for ELLs. The NYSESLAT data indicates that students at Lexington Academy reach proficiency in speaking and listening prior to achieving proficiency in reading and writing; these findings are consistent with research in second language acquisition. Across grades and across proficiency levels, and with both special education, and general education students, students perform better on the speaking/listening portion of the NYSESLAT than on the reading/writing portion of the exam.

In the beginning, middle, and end of the year, teachers in K-8 teachers administer the following assessments:
-Heggerty Phonic Assessments (K-3)
-Comprehensive Phonics Survey (1-3)
-iReady Diagnostic in Reading and Math (K-8)
-Acadience (K-2)
-Authentic Assessment: Writing on Demand (3-8)
- ECAM (K-2 Math)
-HMH End of Module Assessment (K-8)
Envision End of Module Assessment (K-8)

12. For all grades, list and describe your targeted intervention programs for ELLs in ELA, Math, and other core content areas (specify ELL subgroups targeted). Include the language(s) in which the intervention services are offered.

Lexington Academy provides extensive targeted intervention programs for our ELLs in all academic areas including math, literacy, and content areas in the classroom. Academic intervention for ELLs comes in several forms. Students receive targeted instruction in a small group or one to one. Interventions for ELLs include our Dual Language Bilingual Education program, MTSS (Multi-Tiered Support System), and ENL program. Furthermore, students are provided with small group academic intervention during the school day in reading and math and an afterschool enrichment program to improve the four modalities.

Our clinical staff is also well equipped to support the socio-emotional needs of our ELLs. We have a bilingual social worker, guidance counselor, speech therapists, and psychologist. Intervention programs are taught primarily in English; however, newcomers and students in our DLBE program receive instruction in Spanish and English.

13. For all grades, describe how your school uses data to guide instruction for ELLs within a Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS). Refer to the Instructional Leadership Tool for MLs and ELLs and MTSS Guide for MLs and ELLs to help in the development and implementation of your school's plan for MLs/ELLs.

Data is used to guide instruction for our ELLs. AIS is provided by the classroom teacher to our ELLs who are encountering academic difficulties. Students' improvements are measured by reliable and valid assessments. In implementing AIS with ELLs, we use the data to determine students' knowledge and skills. Sub-groups and lessons are created after analyzing students' data focusing on improving any skills deficiencies which have been identified from the data. The teacher will implement learning activities and teaching strategies that have proven successful in students' learning to improve students' academic skills in listening, speaking, reading, and writing.
The AIS model is based on three tiers of instruction and intervention support in the classroom. These instructional supports help to differentiate instruction and meet individual students' needs. Students can be placed into Tier II or Tier III if the teacher recommends that more rigorous and intensive academic support is needed.

Through Tier II and Tier III interventions, ELLs and non-ELLs will receive targeted instruction to meet a specific need that has been identified by the teacher. The AIS framework is as follows:
Tier II framework provides support to a small group of 3-5 students, three to four days a week. The duration of the intervention is 6-8 weeks. The interventionist provides ongoing formal and informal assessment and targeted interventions and instructional strategies. Tier III framework provides support to a group of 1-2 students, five times a week. The duration of the intervention is 6-12 weeks. The goal is to provide accelerated learning that enables students to return to the regular classroom.

For Tier II intervention for ELLs, the teacher provides intensive reading interventions to ELLs in grades 3-8 demonstrating low reading skills immediately when needed. These interventions can be effectively implemented as early as 1st grade, as well as for more mature readers with reading difficulties. Intervention includes the use of appropriate practices for building oral skills and vocabulary development as well as reading skills.

Tier III Intervention for ELLs is provided by a classroom teacher or an ENL teacher understanding the educational needs of ELLs. ELLs are provided with highly individualized reading instruction and strategies that considers factors such as language and vocabulary development. ELLs are provided with highly intensive and extensive reading interventions that will continue until the student is able to adequately benefit from reading instruction provided within classroom instruction demonstrated through the various data points collected.

FORMATIVE

14. Which formative assessments (e.g. NYC performance Tasks, ELL Periodic Assessment, HLA Assessment, DRA, teacher-created assessments, etc.) are used to inform and drive instruction?

Lexington Academy uses a variety of assessments, to maintain data and assessment information for all students including MLLs/ELLs. Assessments for K-2 include Writing on Demand, Acadience, Heggerty Phonics Assessment, iReady, HMH End of Module Assessment in ELA and Math in the beginning, middle, and end of the year, and teacher created assessments.

Assessments for grades 3-8 include iReady reading and math benchmark assessments. Students in grades 3-8 perform Writing on Demand at the beginning and end of each unit of study. Narrative Writing is administered in the beginning, middle, and end of school year. Students are assessed using Phonics to Reading assessments and HMH

End of Module assessments.

15. How do you ensure that MLs/ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their home languages throughout the year?

Students are assessed by the Dual Language Bilingual Education teachers to support interventions as necessary. Teachers assess students comprehension and reading ability in their home language through the use of Arriba la Lectura End of module assessments.

SUMMATIVE

16. Which summative assessments (e.g. NYSESLAT, ELA, Math, Regents, etc.) are used to evaluate the effectiveness of your ML/ELL programs and how does it inform instructional design and curricular decisions? (Refer to the ELL Data Analysis Tool).

We evaluate the success of our programs for ELLs in a variety of ways. We use both formal and informal data to assess our students and their growth over time. We examine student progress in our Stand-alone ENL program, and DLBE program. The formal data includes the number of students passing the NYSESLAT and meeting proficiency in ELA, Math, and Science. In grades K-2, formal assessments include the NYSESLAT. In grades 3-8 formal assessments include NYSESLAT, NYS ELA Test, and NYS Math Test. Our 5th and 8th grade students also take the NYS Science Test. NYS Math and Science Test, if available, are offered in a students' home language.

The combined data provides for a holistic picture of the performance of each student, and in turn, allows for reflective professional practice around targeted instruction and next steps.

17. What is your NYSESLAT administration plan? How does your school ensure that all ELLs are tested with the NYSESLAT annually? Include the titles of the staff that will administer and score the assessment. Please describe your plan to ensure that all ELLs and former ELLs continue to receive mandated instruction during the testing period.

The NYSESLAT is administered and scored by certified teachers. All school personnel administering any session of the NYSESLAT or overseeing the administration and scoring of the NYSESLAT are provided with orientation based on information from the NYSED training materials and webinar. Lexington Academy schedules an orientation session allowing test examiners to become familiar with the manual and to provide test examiners with training in the administration and scoring of the test.

Our ENL team will continue to provide stand-alone and integrated services to ELLs and former ELLs as mandated by CR Part 154.2 during testing.

18. How does your school ensure that current and former ELLs receive necessary accommodations for state assessments, including the Specialized High School Admissions Test (SHSAT) if applicable?

Lexington Academy ensures that current and former ELLs receive necessary accommodations for state assessments. As stated in the NYCPS website, MLLs/ELLs may receive the following testing accommodations on New York State and New York City assessments:
-Flexible setting (1:1 or small group; separate location)
-Bilingual glossary: direct word translations, not definitions
-Test form: use of English and alternate language test forms at the same time
-Oral translation, only available for New York State tests that do not have alternate language forms
-Written responses in native language, if using alternate language test forms or receiving oral translations

Part VI: Family Partnership

Family Partnership

Required Meetings Under CR Part 154

Describe your schools' plan to ensure families of ELLs are provided with the required meetings specified below as per CR Part 154. Include:

- Topics discussed during these meetings
- How your school ensures families receive necessary translation/interpretation supports to meaningfully engage in the meetings
- How your school schedules these meetings to facilitate attendance, and how your school maintains evidence of these meetings as required per the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs.

a. ELL Program Orientation to inform parents/guardians of newly identified ELLs of ELL program options, including the program goals and requirements for all three ML/ELL program models: Dual Language Bilingual Education, Transitional Bilingual Education and English as a New Language regardless of whether the school currently has either type of bilingual program and provide a high-quality orientation section on the Next Generation Learning Standards, assessments, and school expectations for English Language Learners.

During the enrollment process, the ENL teachers determine the student's home language based on the HLIS results, which include an interview with the student and parent in their preferred language as mandated in CR Part 154. Lexington Academy provides a parent orientation 1 on 1, at the beginning of the school year to inform parents about the Dual Language Bilingual Education and ENL programs. At the orientation, the following information is provided:
1. Description of the Dual Language Bilingual Education and ENL programs
2. Discussion about the NYSITELL and NYSESLAT
3. Academic and language supports available for ELL students
4. Parent Orientation Video

Families that are unable to attend the orientation are afforded the opportunity to schedule an individualized meeting with the ENL teachers. Translation via the DOE's Translation department, or in-house bilingual staff, is available to all families. Parents continue to have the opportunity to learn about their child's progress during parent teacher conferences and one to one individualized meetings to discuss progress of the students during the year. To document attendance a phone log and attendance sheet is maintained in the ENL Compliance Book kept in the ENL Classroom.

b. Annual Individual Meeting to discuss goals of the program, language development progress, language proficiency assessment results, and language development needs in all content areas. Note: this meeting is separate from and does not include the mandated ELL program orientation meeting and DOE-scheduled parent-teacher conferences.

ENL teachers hold annual individual meetings with parents to discuss the goals of the program, and language development progress.
During the annual meeting, the ENL teachers inform parents of their child's academic and language progress in school. This is an opportunity for parents to meet individually with members of the staff to discuss the child's progress as well as the services the school is providing.

At the Annual Individual Parent Meeting, ENL teachers will discuss with parents their child's language development progress, the results of the NYSESLAT, and update them of the services and program entitlement for their child. Additionally, the ENL teachers will provide parents with different strategies to help improve language proficiency.

Parents are also encouraged to schedule an appointment throughout the year to discuss their child's progress.

Family Engagement

2. Beyond the mandated meetings and orientations, describe how your school:

a. Ensures families receive all school communications and documents in the language they best understand. How are families able to respond or initiate communications in languages other than English?

During enrollment, the ENL teachers assist in the enrollment of any new ELL students. The registration packet is administered in the parent's preferred language. The main office calls the ENL teachers to properly process and identify the students' home language. The ENL teacher will review the HLIS with the parent in their preferred language. A DOE interpreter will be called if necessary. In order for parents to receive communication from the school and DOE in their preferred language, the ENL teacher will help parents answer the questions "In what language would you like to receive written information from the school?" and "In what language would you prefer to communicate orally with school staff?" in part III of the Home Language Identification Survey.

ATS allows administration, Language Access Coordinators, parent coordinator, and other pertinent staff to generate the data reports to assess the language preferences of our parent community. All communication from Lexington Academy is distributed in the parents preferred language.

b. Develops activities that foster empowerment for families of MLs/ELLs. Include how your school determines the needs of your community.

Our parents participate in our annual Dual Language Bilingual Education and ENL meetings, which are offered in both English and Spanish. Translation of the meetings is provided in the parent's preferred language other than Spanish as well.

Families play an active role in our school community and their voices are valued. Throughout the school year, the parent coordinator sends home a variety of surveys. These include the Title I and Title III needs assessments in which the parent coordinator solicits parents' active participation. Parents also participate in the Scholastic Book Fair in which books are available in both English and multi-languages. Lexington Academy is also hosting a Lexington Reads, Free Book Giveaway. Families have the opportunity to take free books and workbooks to encourage reading at home.

Our guidance counselor, parent coordinator, teachers and ENL teachers are available to assist parents and students with the middle and high school application process and availability of programs and services in different high schools. Several informational meetings are held prior to the start of the application period. In an effort to better advocate for their children at the middle and high school levels, families of ELLs are informed of the services that their children are entitled to.

In addition, the school counselors advise and guide the families of Newcomers and immigrant families where they can go for different services. The school counselors also provide resources from community-based organizations for services available in the community. In partnership with the community, Lexington Academy provides free dental and vision examinations at the school.

c. Ensures families of MLs/ELLs are aware of family leadership opportunities (such as Parent Association (PA), School Leadership Team (SLT), Community Education Council (CEC), etc.)

Lexington Academy ensures that families of MLs/ELLs are aware of family leadership opportunities (such as Parent Association (PA), School Leadership Team (SLT), Community Education Council (CEC), etc.). The PTA coordinator, support staff and administration presents information through a wide array of platforms, such as traditional mail, email, telephone calls, texting, and social media. Information is distributed in the parent's preferred language.

During PTA meetings, families are informed about the opportunities to participate in the School Leadership Team, parent association, etc. when a position is available in one of these teams.

3. What culturally and linguistically responsive partnerships do you currently have that support the needs of your school community?

Lexington Academy has culturally and linguistically responsive partnerships in the community. Know Your Right workshops are presented to families at Lexington Academy. The school has partnered with the Children's Aid organization to provide a free afterschool program and summer camp program. Lexington Academy has also partnered with the community to provide free dental and vision examinations at the school during the year. The school informs families about free family literacy fairs available in the community. Interpretation services are always available to families. In partnership with the NYPD, the NYPD participates in our yearly Field Day by bringing the NYPD horses and a rock climbing wall and engaging with our families.

Part VII: Additional Information

Additional Information

Include any additional information that is relevant to your LAP and would further explain and highlight how your school supports MLs/ELLs. This form does not allow graphics and charts to be pasted.

Lexington Academy supports MLs/ELLs throughout the year by providing the Title III funded Afterschool Enrichment program In the Afterschool Enrichment Program, ENL teachers provide different strategies in Speaking, Reading, Listening, and Writing.

Part VIII: ELL Identification Attestation and Principal Certification

Identification Plan

For additional information, refer to ELL Identification Attestation Professional Learning Module.

1. What are the titles of the members of your ELL identification team? Note: Members of the ELL identification team must be pedagogues.

Each school year, the IEP Teacher, the Bilingual SETSS teacher and the two ENL teachers, are assigned to the task of enrolling any new ELL students. They ensure that all newly enrolled ELL students are properly processed and identified. The identification team will complete the HLIS with parents and interview the student to ensure the student(s) is properly identified.

2. Describe the structures and process in place for identification of ELLs year-round as required by the NYC DOE Policy & Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, including your school's identification plan for any incoming students with an Individualized Education Plan (IEP). Include:

- How your school proactively plans for the ELL identification process so that it does not interrupt the provision of mandated ENL and/or bilingual instruction to current, former and potential ELLs,
- Who is responsible for each step of the ELL identification process, and
- School's plan for ensuring ELLs and former ELLs will continue to receive mandated instruction.

Newly enrolled students and families are greeted every morning by our staff as they enter the building. Staff in our main office are bilingual as well as the teachers that are part of the enrollment team. The enrollment team includes our IEP Teacher, bilingual school counselor and social worker, and our bilingual ENL teachers. Enrollment information and school announcements are offered in the families home language. The school has access to DOE interpreters, if needed. Newly enrolled and current ELLs are informed of school activities and information in their home language. This information is also posted on our social media sites and school website. Enrollment is coordinated with the enrollment team, therefore there is no disruption in mandated instruction.
When a new family registers at Lexington Academy, one of the ENL teachers is part of the intake process to appropriately identify ELLs. The ENL teachers assist parents in completing the HLIS and interviews the student to be able to identify their language.

For Newly identified ELLs the ELL Team implements the ELL Identification process within 10 days as mandated by CR Part 154. The identification process includes administration of the HLIS, student interview, and NYSITELL eligibility.

Within the first 10 days of administering the NYSITELL and Spanish Lab for those that qualify, ENL teachers will then print out a new RLAT and review all proficiency levels for all students. Once the RLAT is reviewed by the ENL teachers, they will send a copy of the continuation of service letters, exit letters, and NYSESLAT individual reports to parents/guardians. In the case a student is a possible SIFE, a member of the ENL team will administer the SIFE assessment. Parent Orientation is conducted one to one by all three ENL teachers. During a meeting with the parent/guardian, they are informed of the programs available at the school and in the district, the parent/guardian signs the Parent Survey and Agreement form, and students are placed in the appropriate class.

Principal Certification

In accordance with New York State's Commissioner's Regulations Part 154 as outlined and implemented in the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, I, attest that the following ELL identification procedures and activities are adhered to, and staff are trained on the items listed below.

- The ELL Identification Process is completed for each student within 10 school days of enrollment (20 school days for students entering with IEPs).
- Enrollment status of each newly admitted student is determined:
  a. If a student has been in New York State public schools within the past 2 years, our school contacts the previous school to obtain ELL status, relevant assessment scores, and English language proficiency level.
  b. If a student has been outside of New York State public schools for more than 2 years, our school administers the ELL Identification Process as part of reentry.

- The home language of the student is determined by a trained and licensed pedagogue.
  a. The parent completes the Home Language Identification Survey in the parent's preferred language; translation services are provided by a bilingual staff member, the DOE's over-the-phone translation services, or an alternative, high quality translation service.

- An interview with parents and students in English and the home language is conducted. This includes reviewing documents, prior assessments, and academic experience. An assessment of the student's abilities and/or work samples determines the student's literacy and math level in his/her home language.
- Eligibility for the NYSITELL is determined.
  a. If the newly enrolled student is entering with an IEP, the school's Language Proficiency Team (LPT) recommends eligibility to the principal, who obtains final approval from the superintendent.

- Students are administered the NYSITELL, if eligible.
- Notification letters are sent to the parent/guardian in their preferred language.
  a. Parent is notified of their child's ELL status and results of the NYSITELL.

- If the student is identified as an ELL and the student's home language is Spanish, the student is administered the Spanish Language Assessment Battery (LAB).
- Student with Interrupted/Inconsistent Formal Education (SIFE) status is determined using New York State's resources.
- If a student is a newly identified ELL, the parent is invited to the parent orientation meeting.
  a. The parent orientation meeting provides parents/guardians with an explanation of each ELL program model offered in NYC; the parent video describing the three programs is presented (in parent's preferred language); parents/guardians are encouraged to ask questions so that they are informed about all ELL programs; translation and interpretation services are provided throughout the meeting.

- ELL is placed in the ELL program that the parent selected.
  a. If the bilingual program that the parent selected is not available, the parent is offered a transfer to a school with that bilingual program in accordance with NYC DOE transfer policies.
  b. If the ELL remains in the school, the ELL is placed in English as a New Language and our school keeps track of parent selection so that when minimum thresholds are met, we can open the ELL program of choice.

- Parents are notified that they have 45 days to appeal the ELL status of their child (ELL Re-identification Process).
- If the ELL Re-identification Process is implemented for any student, the principal reviews the decision of any student whose ELL status was changed because of the ELL Re-identification Process within 6 to 12 months.
- Copies of documentation regarding ELL identification, including letters and parent notifications are kept in the students' cumulative files.

Title III Outline

Title III Supplemental Program for ELLs for SY 2025-26

REQUIREMENTS

Title III supplemental services for English Language Learners (ELLs) must include the following three components:

- Direct instruction activities must be used to support language development, English and home language instruction, high academic achievement in math, and/or high academic achievement in other core academic areas. The Title III supplemental instructional services must be based on student need. These supplemental services should complement core bilingual and ENL services required under CR Part 154. Direct supplemental services should be provided for before school, after school, and Saturday programs. Teachers providing the services must be bilingual education and/or English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) certified teachers.
- High quality professional development that is "of sufficient intensity and duration to have a positive and lasting impact on the teachers' performance in classrooms." Professional development activities should be well-planned, ongoing events rather than one-day or short-term workshops and conferences.
- Parent engagement and supports must ensure that there are appropriate translation and interpretation services to meet community needs. These are in addition to mandated activities, such as parent orientation during ELL identification process or annual ELL parent meetings.

Note: The Title III ELL program planning ratio is as follows: 60% to direct instruction, 10% to professional development (if funded using Title III ELL funds), 10% to parent engagement (if funded using Title III ELL funds), and 20% to OTPS (if funded using Title III ELL funds).

For more information on Title III requirements, please see the School Allocation Memo or contact your ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance and Performance Specialist. Any updates or revisions to this plan must be made through the iPlan portal.

Title III ELL Summary

Provide a summary of each program funded under Title III ELL for SY 25-26: For each program, describe:

- When the program takes place (i.e., after school, before school, Saturday academy)

- Activities ELLs will engage in and how these activities will enhance instructional opportunities for ELLs
- How ELLs will be grouped for instruction and specify the number of student groups. Include total number of student groups and total number of ELLs in each group, for each program
- How instruction will be delivered (e.g., team teaching, parallel teaching, etc.)
- How the program will be supervised and whether this will be funded by Title III ELL. Please note: If supervision will be funded using Title III ELL funds, you must include the supervisor's regular work day hours and the hours the supervisor will get paid per session.

Lexington Academy, a K–8 school implements an integrated and stand-alone ENL program in accordance with CR Part 154 and Title III guidelines for approximately 80 students. All students are provided with programs that will enable them to meet the Next Generation Learning Standards.

The Title III program will take place during afterschool hours, twice a week. Students will engage in learning activities to foster the use of oral language, and develop their writing skills, and the four modalities, Speaking, Listening, Reading, and Writing.

ELLs are grouped by proficiency and grade levels. The newcomer kindergarten group will have an average of ten students. In the transitioning and expanding group, students will have an average of ten students. The middle school group, transitioning and expanding group, will average about six students. Each group has one ENL teacher assigned to the group.

The program is funded by money allocated from Title III ELL funding. The program is supervised by the Assistant Principal.

Rationale for Title III ELL Funded Programs

Describe the rationale for each Title III ELL funded program. For each program, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis that support the need for program, and
- Data sources used to justify the need for the program

Our Title III program will provide English Language Learners with supplemental instruction in an afterschool program according to the data from NYSESLAT, iReady, Acadience assessment, Writing on Demand, Heggerty Phonics Inventory and NYS exams. Our English-Language Learners (ELLs) students' will develop their academic, social, and personal skills, through literacy-building activities by providing opportunities for students to develop their leadership skills, work on teamwork skills, and discuss what it means to be respectful and responsible.

In analyzing the results of the Spring 2025 NYSESLAT, the data indicates that a high percentage of our ELLs who attended the afterschool program, achieved Expanding or Commanding proficiency in English. This indicates how essential the Title III after school program is in the development of language acquisition and their academic development.

Students and Grade Levels to be Served

For each Title III ELL funded program, describe the students that will be served. Include:

- Total number of ELLs for each program,
- Grade levels for ELLs in program, and
- ELL Subgroups (e.g., Newcomer) and/or proficiency levels (e.g., Entering, Emerging, etc.).

The Lexington Academy after school program will provide ELLs in grades 1-8, with instruction on Thursdays and Fridays. The program will begin in January 2026 through the end of April 2026 from 2:45 pm-4:45 pm. The after school program will provide ELLs with an additional 120 minutes of small-group, targeted instruction to address the needs of ELLs by building their academic language in reading comprehension, vocabulary acquisition, writing strategies and structures for composing evidenced-based responses.

Three teachers will work with four groups of students ranging in varied levels of language proficiency (Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, and Expanding).
