Section 1: Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Comprehensive Education Planning (CEP) is a structured, data-driven process that guides schools in assessing their needs, identifying areas for growth, setting strategic goals and implementing targeted actions to improve student outcomes. Collaboratively developed by the School Leadership Team (SLT) in accordance with the requirements of Chancellor's Regulation A-655, the CEP meets New York State Education Department (NYSED) requirements under the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) and aligns with NYC Public Schools' (NYCPS) system-wide priorities. By engaging all stakeholders—school leaders, teachers, families, students and community members—schools can create a data-informed, equity-focused roadmap for student success and continuous improvement.

Schools should focus their CEP on the five system-wide priorities below, connecting their planning to the data discussions and conversations with stakeholders held as part of the school's needs assessment:

- Priority 1: All students learn to read well
- Priority 2: All students are physically and emotionally safe
- Priority 3: All students have a high-quality academic experience
- Priority 4: All students graduate college and career ready and have a strong plan and pathway to economic security
- Priority 5: All districts and schools are more inclusive and responsive for parents and families, including having more families choose NYC Public Schools

The Education Planning Process

The CEP follows an equity-driven, continuous improvement cycle, rooted in the system-wide priorities. This begins with a comprehensive needs assessment of the school's most current data to identify priority needs and root causes. Next, the SLT establishes specific, measurable, attainable, relevant, and timely—SMART goal(s) aligned to each priority and determines targets to measure progress toward meeting the annual goals.

The SLT and instructional leaders define key evidence-based key strategies, professional learning activities and parent, family and community empowerment efforts. They monitor the implementation of those strategies and activities and track progress through measurable targets. Then, the SLT aligns the school-based budget with human and instructional resources to support action plans.

As schools set goals, develop key strategies, and plan action steps, they provide opportunities for all children to meet NYSED's proficient and advanced levels of student academic achievement. These include evidence based instructional strategies that address the educational needs of historically underserved populations and tackle structural inequities. Schools indicate how the plan addresses the needs of Multilingual/English Language Learners (ML/ELL) through development of the school's Language Allocation Policy (LAP) & Title III Application (if applicable) and the Language Translation and Interpretation (LTI) Plan, that are required as part of the CEP. Schools also address the needs of Students with Disabilities (SWD) through the High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities section of the plan. SLTs also develop a plan to improve attendance and reduce chronic absenteeism.

Guidance on Conducting a Comprehensive Needs Assessment

Directions: Conduct a comprehensive needs assessment for each Priority. The information below provides guidance for reviewing and analyzing student and school performance trends to uncover root causes for low student achievement.

1. Review Multiple Data Sources: Use the most current and available information including, but not limited to, the following sources of formative and summative data, as applicable:

- Qualitative and quantitative data, including enrollment and class size trends
- 2024-25 ESSA Accountability Data
- Instructional Leadership Framework (ILF), Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) Inventories, and NYC School Survey results
- Quality Review Reports, NYSED and NYCPS CSI or A/TSI Support Visits, Receivership Quarterly Reports, and Diagnostic Tool for School and District Effectiveness Framework (DTSDE)
- NYC School Quality Guide, Insight, New Visions, NWEA MAP and/or other formative assessment data, IEP Review Survey Data, Progress on IEP Goals Data, Program (SESIS-STARS Linkage) Reports, Mandated (Related) Services Reports, and NYCPS Tools for Understanding Your Data for student subgroup information

2. Analyze Data Trend(s) to Identify Areas of Strength and Need: Identify data trends by grade, cohort, and content area(s) to surface gaps and inequities. Compare data sets to identify instructional and school practices that are impacting student performance. Guiding questions to consider:

- What does the data reveal about improving and declining student performance trends within grades, cohorts, and student subgroups?
- What inequities are evident between highest and lowest performing student subgroups? Which subgroup(s) scored at Level 1 based on NYSED ESSA accountability indicators?
- What does the data suggest regarding the effectiveness (or ineffectiveness) of current school programs, practices, and/or strategies/initiatives? What areas may need to be strengthened?
- Are there any differences in student performance between program delivery models for ML/ELL and SWD? (e.g., for special education: special class, ICT, SETSS, related services only; for ML/ELL: Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) vs. Dual Language, etc.)
- How does delivery of instruction factor into data trends? What are the implications for teacher quality and professional learning?
- What inequities in special education referral and school disciplinary practices (e.g. suspensions, removals) are evident between student subgroups with IEPs?

3. Identify Root Cause(s): After analyzing the data, engage in a process for uncovering root causes or contributing factors for low student and school performance. Develop theories or hypotheses to explain why these needs exist and why your school is getting its current outcomes. Root causes could be related to gaps and inequities in areas such as curriculum & instruction, school systems & structures, student support services, school climate & safety, and family & community engagement. Focus on the causes, rather than the symptoms. Use the 5 Whys Method or other methods for identifying root causes. Consider the questions below:

- What theories or hypotheses explain the current student and school outcomes?
- Are there root causes specific to certain subgroups, grades, cohorts, or content area(s)?

Additional resources and supports are available below.

- Use this CEP Needs Assessment Worksheet to help your SLT and stakeholders identify appropriate data sources, data trends, root causes and priority needs.
- For guidance and best practices on engaging stakeholders in a comprehensive needs assessment and root cause analysis, see this deck.
- A current list of all CEP/Title I resources can be found on the iPlan Portal Public Resources Page.

School Leadership Team (SLT) Signature Page

All School Leadership Team (SLT) members are expected to sign this page to confirm their participation in the development of this Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) and that they have been consulted regarding the alignment of the school-based budget to support this school's educational program, which includes annual goals and action plans, Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS), the Parent and Family Engagement Policy (PFEP) and the School-Parent Compact (SPC). The SLT must include an equal number of parents and staff and have a minimum of 10 and a maximum of 17 members, in accordance with Chancellor's Regulation A-655. The SLT also serves as the Core Community Engagement Team (CET) for Receivership Schools. Additional information and resources are available on the School Leadership Team Resources page. Under the Federal Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), NYS Education Law and Commissioner's Regulations, stakeholder participation in the development of the CEP must include multiple constituencies who represent the school community. Background

The CEP must be developed in consultation with parents, school staff, and in secondary schools, students, and in accordance with §100.11 of Commissioner's Regulations and Chancellor's Regulation A-655. All schools are expected to engage stakeholder representatives (via the School Leadership Team/Community Engagement Team) at every step of CEP development. Follow the guidelines outlined in Assembling Your Team.

The School Leadership Team will engage in a five-part needs assessment before developing the CEP. Writing the plan is the last step.

School Summary

Directions: Complete this CEP Summary to serve as the "at-a-glance" narrative that provides contextual information about your school's unique characteristics. This summary and the entire Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) should be shared with your school community. Please note that this summary and the CEP will be made available to the public through the iPlan Portal, an online space where school stakeholders can go to collaborate in the development of the school's education plans.

Provide your school's mission statement:

At Bedford Park Elementary School, staff, parents, students and the community work collaboratively to provide our diverse student body with a high quality, standards based education in two languages. Through an environment that is supportive of the needs of the whole child, we will help students grow to become confident individuals, creative thinkers and problem solvers, prepared to succeed in our global community.

Develop a narrative summary that includes contextual information about your school's community and its unique/important characteristics and partnerships:

Include demographic information about your school's student population.

Bedford Park Elementary School is a PK-5 school located in the Norwood section of the Bronx. The school opened in 2014 with two grade (PK & K), and it reached full capacity, serving 500 students from grades PK-5, in 2020.

Since opening in 2014, BPES has offered a dual language program with Spanish as the target language. Serving a population of over 36% English Language Learners school-wide, and another 16% Spanish Language Learners that participate in the dual language program, we offer programs that formally support second language acquisition for over 50% of our population. Consistent with the goals of the dual language program, we offer an enrichment model of education that prepares students to demonstrate high levels of language proficiency and literacy in both languages, high levels of academic achievement, and develop an understanding and appreciation of diverse cultures. Additional enrichment opportunities are offered through our Civics for All PK-5 cluster program and after school opportunities.

The student population is comprised of 31% Multilingual/English Language Learners and 22% Special Education population.
We strive to provide an inclusive environment in which all students can learn and thrive; and through our partnership with our co-located District 75 school, P469, we are able to provide a more inclusive and enriching form of special education support services to a larger population of students, while also providing valuable opportunities and experiences to students from the D75 partner school.
We currently serve the needs of our students with IEPs by offering the following:
SETSS services in K-5, integrated co-teaching models in Kindergarten through fifth grade --along with the Collaborative Communities program (i.e. ICT integrating D75 students). We also offer 12:1:1 classes to serve the needs of our K-5 population. To give further honor to the individual needs and strengths of each child, since 2022, we have provided flexible scheduling, ensuring effective and appropriate special educations supports for all students.

At our school, we take immense pride in the richness of the cultural and individual diversity that exists within our community. Our students, families, and staff come from a wide range of backgrounds, traditions, and perspectives, which we celebrate as integral to the fabric of our school culture. By lifting and honoring our students' identities, we create a welcoming, inclusive environment for all stakeholders, where everyone feels valued and heard. This focus on diversity is not just something we acknowledge but actively integrate into our daily practices, ensuring that we offer an educational experience that is both equitable and enriching.

Central to our mission is providing an anti-bias, culturally responsive education. We do this by weaving the Social Justice Standards throughout our curriculum. These standards serve as a foundation in our unit plans and lesson designs, ensuring that students engage with the themes of identity, diversity, justice, and action. Whether immersing themselves in fictional and biographical stories within the ELA curriculum, analyzing social studies topics integrating history, geography, and civics, or exploring scientific phenomenons students are encouraged to reflect on their own identity, understand the diverse identities of others, and examine ways to make the world a more just place. Our teachers actively promote these standards, creating lessons that not only build academic skills but also cultivate social-emotional growth and a sense of responsibility to the wider community.

Since 2015, we have embraced the Leader in Me process as our guiding framework for school improvement. This initiative has been instrumental in fostering a strong social-emotional curriculum, while also providing a comprehensive school-wide structure that supports academic growth, leadership development, and overall well-being. In 2023, we achieved Lighthouse School status, which was renewed in 2025, further solidifying our commitment to providing a well-rounded education that empowers all stakeholders. Through Leader in Me, our students are encouraged to take ownership of their learning, engage in leadership roles, and contribute meaningfully to the culture of the school. This holistic approach has helped us create an environment where students are not only academically successful but are also equipped to lead with confidence and compassion.

One of the highlights of our school's development has been the amplification of student voice and leadership. Starting in the 2021-2022 school year, we made a concerted effort to create more opportunities for students to hold formal leadership roles, including becoming Lighthouse Ambassadors—members of the Lighthouse Team who work directly with staff and administrators to lead schoolwide events and drive school improvement. These student leaders are empowered to contribute to decision-making processes, plan initiatives, and mentor their peers. The success of this initiative has shown us the incredible impact that can be achieved when students are given the space to lead and when they feel that their voices are heard and valued.

In addition to leadership roles, we offer a variety of after-school enrichment programs, lunch clubs, and other student-driven activities, many of which are initiated by staff members passionate about creating more opportunities for student involvement. Through these programs, we encourage students to explore their interests, develop new skills, and connect with their peers in meaningful ways.

Our commitment to shared leadership extends to our staff as well. Through our Impact Teams, which focus on the core principles of the Leader in Me framework: Academics, Culture, and Leadership, our teachers and staff members play an active role in promoting existing initiatives and recommending new ideas for school improvement. These teams foster a sense of collective responsibility, ensuring that all staff members have a voice in shaping the direction of our school and promoting goals such as academic rigor, distributive leadership, and a strong school culture.

Our approach to academic learning is also deeply embedded in inquiry-based practices. In particular, we emphasize the Five Mathematical Practices, ensuring that students engage in deep, critical thinking and problem-solving. This approach encourages students to develop a strong conceptual understanding of mathematics, while also honing their ability to communicate their thinking clearly and collaborate with others. In addition, we emphasize language development in all subject areas by integrating language objectives that explicitly teach skills related to the language demands of specific lessons, ensuring that all students, regardless of their language background, can fully engage with the curriculum.

We are also proud of the partnerships we have cultivated with a variety of organizations that enrich our students' educational experiences. These partnerships include:

Leader in Me, promoting schoolwide leadership by through the timeless principles of the The 7 Habits of Highly Effective People and the 4 Disciplines of Execution.

Music and the Brain, which provides piano and keyboarding instruction to our Pre-K through 2nd-grade students, helping to develop their cognitive and emotional skills through music education.

Studio in a School, which offers 6-8 week residencies for different grade levels to increase arts instruction and give students a chance to explore creativity through visual arts.

Ballroom Basix, which supports artistic expression and social emotional wellbeing by teaching the art of social art through dance.

Brain Power Wellness, offering additional social-emotional training to students and staff, promoting emotional wellness and overall health.

Teaching Matters, which offers high-quality professional development for our staff, helping us continue to develop culturally responsive teaching practices that lead to more equitable outcomes for all our students.

Together, these partnerships help us create an environment where every student can thrive—academically, socially, and emotionally. We believe that by empowering our students and staff, nurturing leadership at all levels, and remaining committed to equity, we are creating a school culture that is both inclusive and inspiring.

Briefly summarize the key initiatives your school will implement this school year.

Student Interviews are essential to fully understand what this past year has meant for students by providing opportunities for students to share their experiences and their hopes for school moving forward. To make sure that the student experience is at the center of the Comprehensive Education Plan:

Describe how Student Interviews informed the development of the plan.

In the Spring of 2025, we surveyed parents and students. To ensure we had a cross section of students that represented all demographics, we selected an even number of males and females, and we also ensured that all ethnicities and subgroups were represented in the group.
We invited 7 staff members to conduct group interviews, all asking the following questions:
Our mission statement says....How do you see/feel this in our school?
Do you feel successful at school? How do you know you are successful at the end of each lesson?
How would you describe this school? Why? What would make learning at this school better?
What practices should we stop/start/ continue doing as a school?
How do you think we should address bullying or negative behaviors at our school?
What is one highlight of your time at PS 77?

What is the biggest difference between this year and last year?
What is something you miss about previous years/grades? If you are in 3rd grade or beyond, what do you miss about 2nd, 1st, or Kindergarten?
Does the school treat every gender and race equally?
Is there anything you would like the school to improve ?
Do you think this school to offer a wide enough variety of program classes, and activities? If not, what would you recommend we add?

After collecting student responses, the TSI planning team met to analyze these to later incorporate them into our goals and action steps for the2024-25 school year. Members of the TSI planning team were diligent in recording student feedback and considering this data as we triangulated other data sets as we conducted the needs assessment that ultimately informed our goals and action plans. June PD day included a reflection exercise where this was shared along with other data. Teachers and other staff members were given an opportunity to reflect on this information to identify needs, root causes and next steps. One particular theme that surfaced was around bullying and students' desire to be more directly involved in addressing these matters. For example, when asked "How do you think we should address bullying or negative behaviors at our school?", possible solutions included more student-led assemblies, Green Team or other student led team that could create a guidebook to help others understand the difference between bullying and conflict.
Further analysis of the results of the student interviews reveals the same: students want more leadership opportunities.

Information gained through the student interviews was used by teachers to complete the CRSE School Self-Assessment and come up with key strategies and activities that can be found throughout this CEP; some examples include:
Priority 1 & 4: Key strategy identified was to increase teacher to student and peer to peer feedback
Priority 2: Need identified was that students need to feel cared about and understood by people in their school.
Priority 3: Key strategy lists 5 Mathematical Practices as a structure for math lessons, giving students more control of the lessons by promoting student discussion.

Evidence-Based Intervention

Every school identified for Comprehensive Support and Improvement (CSI), Additional Targeted Support and Improvement, or Targeted Support and Improvement (TSI) must implement at least one evidence-based intervention (EBI) as part of its CEP. The intervention identified must meet the criteria of a Tier 1, Tier 2, or Tier 3 evidence-based intervention under ESSA. Schools should indicate all of the EBIs meeting the federal definition that will be pursued during the upcoming school year.

Priority 1 Data Trends, Root Causes and Priority Needs

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

Students need more explicit and systematic instruction in phonics and decoding

EOY 2024 # of black students at or above- 9 # of students 1 level below- 10 # of students 2 or more levels below- 7 Data Trends: The EOY 2024 iready reading data showed that a significant number of Black students were performing below grade level, which aligned with low performance on the 2024 NYS ELA exam. As a result of targeted instruction and intervention throughout 2024–2025, the 2025 NYS results demonstrate substantial growth. -Level 1 performance among Black students decreased by 89%, and proficiency doubled. -Schoolwide data also shows reductions in Level 1 and increases in Level 3 and 4. However, iReady 2025 results indicate that foundational reading skill gaps persist, supporting our new root cause and priority need: Black students require sustained, explicit instruction in decoding, comprehension, and grade-level text engagement to continue the upward trajectory in literacy performance.
By MOY 2025, only 35% (69 students) met their typical growth goal in iReady Reading, indicating that most students were not progressing at the rate needed to reach end-of-year proficiency targets. However, by EOY 2025, the same 35% (69 students) were performing early on, at, or above grade level, demonstrating that when student progress is consistently monitored and instruction is adjusted in real time, students are more likely to sustain growth and meet proficiency benchmarks.	Progress monitoring is inconsistent	Students need to receive targeted support in comprehension of information text in order to make more adequate progress towards goals from BOY to MOY to EOY.

comprehension, along with consistent opportunities to access grade-level text, in order to continue their improvement in literacy achievement.

Priority 1

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing school data trends, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for literacy outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Systemwide Focus Areas for Literacy

- Implement the strategies outlined in NYC Reads, including foundational phonics curriculum for grades K-2
- Implement dyslexia screening, professional learning, and program pilots (as applicable)
- Support literacy development through the integration of culturally responsive-sustaining texts and content

Priority 1 SMART Goal(s)

Target Population	Baseline Data	SMART Goal
All Students	70	By June, 2026, literacy for All Students will improve, as measured by a 10 Increase, from 70 to 80, of number of students scoring at Levels 3 & 4 on the NYS ELA exam 2025.
Students with Disabilities (SWD)	23	By June, 2026, literacy for Students with Disabilities (SWD) will improve, as measured by a 7 Decrease, from 23 to 16, of number of students scoring at Level 1 on the NYS ELA exam 2025 results.
Black Students	1	By June, 2026, literacy for Black Students will improve, as measured by a 1 Decrease, from 1 to 0, of number of students scoring at Level 1 on the NYS ELA exam results.

Priority 1 Progress Measures and Targets

Directions: It is expected that progress monitoring, based on interim outcome data, occurs at three progress monitoring periods during the school year. Priority 1 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Structured Lessons: HMH and Science of Reading
Explicit Instruction

Root Cause Addressed:

Lack of early, structured, and targeted phonics instruction
Progress monitoring is inconsistent
Limited opportunities to engage with a variety of texts/topics.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
As part of UBD planning process in common planning, teachers will analyze the content and identify the vocabulary words and language structures that students will need to understand and use effectively, and will identify this in Stage 1 of the unit plan, which will then inform stage 3.
In weekly ILT meetings, use the Paul Bambrick Santoyo's See it-Name it-Do it protocol, teachers dissect standards to identify the gaps and prepare to teach these.
Communicate expectations for literacy block that includes protected time for structured, and targeted phonics instruction

Work with ILT to implement school wide MTSS structures with consistency, by collecting formal data to assess students' performance, to gauge students' progress and evaluate effectiveness of the supports.
PLC are meeting to review and discuss typical annual growth, and plan targeted small group instruction to support students that are not making adequate progress.
analyzing language demands in academic tasks to then explicitly teach the vocabulary and language functions needed for the learning task. -delivery of explicit instruction characterized by structured lessons that include the gradual release model: I Do-You Do- We Do Academic discourse and student to student discussion Data driven instruction -Frequent cycles of observations Inter-visitation Thinking Maps to enhance visible learning
In weekly grade teams, teachers will plan explicit instruction using the workshop model--inclusive of small group instruction.
Teachers hold WIG Setting Sessions with students after benchmark assessments
PDs will be provided to support teachers in planning for and delivering explicit and systematic instruction in phonics and decoding.
Teachers will provide targeted support in comprehension of information text using the CAFE menu for one to one conferences and Daily 5 for small group instruction.
New Vision Portal pd will be provided to ensure that teachers have access to data and can monitor students' progress to ensure more adequate progress towards goals from BOY to MOY to EOY.
Implementation of the professional learning plan for NYC Reads

The slight decline in 5th grade highlights a need to investigate curriculum alignment or differentiated supports for upper elementary students.	Across all classrooms, pacing in math curriculum varied, leaving limited time for deep understanding and fluency development.	Teachers need to focus on enhancing students' fluency and automaticity with computations in order to improve students' confidence and success in math problem-solving.

- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Structured Lessons

Root Cause Addressed:

Deliver student centered lessons so that instruction is no longer predominantly teacher directed.
Stick to pacing calendar and consistent use of 5 Mathematical Practices and Inquiry based lessons across all classrooms in order to increase time for deep understanding and fluency development.

Use of high quality materials and fluency drills in math lessons Math Daily 3 for Differentiated Instruction
In grade teams, teachers will use the "See it, Name it, Do it, protocol to identify the skills and knowledge gaps for each standard/topic, and will adjust the units of study according to the needs of their students.
One to One Conferences: Wildly Important Goals. After every benchmark period, teacher engage in data chats with administration, and will also engage in WIG Setting Sessions with students to identify and support the needs of black students and students performing at level one so that they make appropriate gains.

Cycle 1 of Monday PLC focused on implementing Thinking Maps and Kate Kinsella's work around language functions and vocabulary instruction, contributing to explicit vocabulary instruction, including in math.
Implementation of the professional learning plan for NYC Solves (5 Mathematical Practices)

Priority 5 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Communication and Outreach
Branding

Root Cause Addressed:

Families receive ample support from the school, in the form of tools and resources to help them make decisions about which programs would benefit their children and how they can support their children at home.
Families receive information and support through multiple means and exposures.
Families receive clear communication from the school about available programs, their benefits, and how they align with individual student needs.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Class Dojo messages and Weekly HW calendar with message to families providing information and support through multiple means
Student Led Conferences
Monthly Parent Walkthroughs and other individual or small-group conferences to discuss program fit and next steps.
Parent Orientations and Workshops where they receive tools and resources to help them make decisions about which programs would benefit their children and how they can support their children at home.

Update School Website and use GAMA to communicate with families.m
Lack of clear communication from the school about available programs, their benefits, and how they align with individual student needs.
Provide parent friendly, multilingual guide (print and digital) that outlines each program, goals, benefits, and student eligibility requirements. Include video recordings whenever possible.
Offer in-person and virtual sessions at various times to accommodate different family schedules.
Assign Language Access Coordinators--trained staff or family coordinators--to serve as direct points of contact for families, helping them understand offerings and match programs to their child's strengths or needs.
Regularly survey families about communication preferences and their understanding of programs.

Section 6: Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS)

Academic Support

NYCPS Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) align with NYSED guidelines for providing Academic Intervention Services (AIS) to students who have not yet met state standards or are considered to be at-risk of not meeting state standards. The Multi-tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) framework, organizes supports into three tiers:

Tier 1 provides schoolwide, high-quality programming for all students, including SWDs;

Tier 2 offers data informed small-group interventions for at-promise students; and

Tier 3 delivers intensive, individualized support for students with persistent needs.

This facilitates the strategic planning and necessary resource alignment to ensure their school community appropriately and adequately serves all students well, in partnership with students and families.

MTSS identifies the academic support services to be provided and ensures that students receive Response to Intervention (RtI) and Positive Behavioral Interventions and Support (PBIS) strategies as needed. See NYSED's memo to view the criteria for determining AIS services. The Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) offers a wide range of evidence-based Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions and supports for student social-emotional, behavioral, physical and mental wellness, with particular attention to the unique needs of students in Temporary Housing and/or Foster Care, who may face additional challenges related to school stability, trauma and access to educational resources. A culturally responsive-sustaining approach to intervention embeds culturally relevant texts and historical narratives into literacy and social studies interventions, ensuring students receive the support that reflects their identities and lived experiences, increasing engagement and achievement.

Use the charts below and a Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) to match academic, social/emotional, behavioral and instructional resources with student needs to provide targeted support for all learners, especially at-risk students who experience difficulty meeting state standards, including those living in Temporary Housing and/or residing in Foster Care placements. Indicate specialized materials, technology-based tools and/or extra instruction, including Expanded Learning Time that supplement school-wide systems & supports and/or classroom level supports. Ensure that interventions address the unique social-emotional, behavioral and academic challenges faced by culturally and linguistically diverse students, as well as those impacted by housing instability and child welfare system involvement.

Directions: Complete the chart and identify Tier 2 or 3 MTSS Academic supports. Any Tier 2/3 interventions should be in addition to the foundational work being done at Tier 1.

Family and Community Engagement Around MTSS

Describe how the school's essential components of MTSS are shared with families.

At PS 77 we use a variety of ways to inform families about our MTSS offerings.
These include, but are not limited to:

-PTA Meetings: At PTA meetings, information about the AIS/MTSS programs are shared with parents.

-Back to School Night in September: The school pre-identifies students that would benefit from MTSS using EOY data and NYS exam results prior to the first day of school. With this information, the school prepares to invite eligible students to the first round of MTSS which includes AIS during the school day and after school, and enrichment opportunities after school. Parents of eligible students receive a letter the first week of school, extending an invitation for their child to participate in the AIS/MTSS program, and inviting them to attend the Back to School Night AIS/MTSS information session during the Back to School Night event.

-Targeted and Individualized Sessions: With the help of classroom teachers, related service providers, and other specialists, we hold regular meeting with parents of students who are identified in the top priority group to receive these services.

-MTSS eligibility letter for families describing the service to be provided and method of identification.

Describe how families receive updates on the progress of their child(ren) who receive Tier 2 targeted, or Tier 3 intensive interventions.

Parents at our school receive Progress Reports at 3 points throughout the year. That is in addition to the fall and spring report card periods.

In the 2025-26 school year, we will be using the DOE Grade, Attendance, and Messaging app schoolwide to provide families with more immediate access to their children's grades and progress.

In addition to the invitation letter students who receive Tier 2 and 3 support receive once they are identified, they will receive an AIS progress report at the end which will include information about their strengths/weaknesses upon completion as well as the recommended transitional support.

Describe how families are involved during decision making regarding the progress of students receiving Tier 3 intensive intervention.

We offer a team-approach in making decisions regarding the progress of students receiving intervention.
By providing regular progress reports, parents are kept in the loop about their children's needs. Depending on the progress students make with the intervention, we either recommend a transition plan or we recommend additional supports in the form of other AIS methods or an evaluation for special education.
If an evaluation is being recommended, this is determined in consultation with the students' teacher and the schoolwide PPT/RTI team.
Once the team reviews the data and makes a determination about what additional supports and intervention will be offered to the student, a meeting the AIS provider (if it is someone other than the teacher), the teacher, a member of the administrative team, and the parent takes place.

Students in Temporary Housing (STH) Support

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-STH Section and in accordance with the federal McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act and Chancellor's Regulation A-780, schools must identify, serve, and report on students living in temporary housing (STH). All Title I and non-Title I schools receive a Title I allocation for STH students. The Students in Temporary Housing (STH) website provides guidance on STH pupils and how these funds can be used to meet their needs, as well as restrictions. For more information on acceptable uses of the mandated Title I, Part A set-aside to support your STH population, please refer to the Title I STH Funds Toolkit.

Identify the number of Students in Temporary Housing who are currently attending your school and provide a breakdown of their temporary housing status. Since the number of STH children can change regularly, schools must carefully track this number to determine whether there has been an increase in need.

Number of students in temporary housing who are:

- Doubled up (with friends or relatives because they cannot find or afford housing):
- Living in a shelter or transitional shelter:
- Living in a hotel/motel:
- Other

*Note: In keeping with established practices regarding personally identifiable information, use the letter "s" to identify a number less than five (5).

Doubled Up= 37
Living in Shelter= 5
Other=3
45 Total Students in Temporary Housing.

After a careful analysis of historical demographic, attendance and achievement data for your STH population, what trends do you notice, and how can these trends inform the services and support provided for this population?

ELA Data for STH Population:
Level 1 decreased from 59% (2024) to 54% (2025), while Level 2 increased from 21% to 27%.
There's a slight decrease in Level 3 (from 21% to 15%) and a small increase in Level 4 (0% to 3%).

Math Data for STH Population
Level 1 increased (46% to 50%), Level 2 decreased (33% to 15%), and Level 3 jumped (21% to 37%).

Given the significant number of students performing far below grade level, intensive remediation, targeted support, and progress monitoring is required.
These families would benefit from workshops to help strengthen social emotional supports and routines at home.

Describe the services you are planning to provide to the STH population. How were those services selected to best meet students' needs? How will you (or did you) utilize the STH Title I Survey to select services aligned to need?

Students in temporary housing are provided with additional resources in the form of school supplies, uniforms, and instructional material.
Presently, 96% of this population is doubled-up, living with extended families.

In order to address their needs we will provide support in the form of:
daily to weekly check-ins with students frequent check-in and needs assessment calls office hours (in-persona and virtual) referral to community agencies and information regarding rental assistance programs and affordable housing transportation.
parent workshop: parenting classes, Leader in Me, to empower parents

Additionally, we recognize that the needs and circumstances surrounding the students identified as STH can be widely diverse and will require a culturally responsive approach.

Prioritizing Students in Foster Care

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-Child Child Abuse and Neglect Intervention and Prevention School Plan and in accordance with the federal Education Law 3244 – Education of Children in Foster Care (Effective 2018) establishes the rights of students placed, or moved, in foster care to:

- Continue attending school of origin if determined to be in their best interest, or, if not, attend school near foster care placement,
- Immediate enrollment, and
- Transportation, if necessary to attend school of origin

Please respond to the questions below.

How many students in foster care are currently enrolled at your school? Provide a detailed breakdown of the social-emotional and academic supports available to them.

Three student in foster care attend our school.

In addition to the PBIS supports for social emotional learning, and instructional supports for academics, these students receive support from our school social worker and other staff member.
Support includes:
-Regular check-ins with dedicated staff members
-Assigned to a mentor as needed based on attendance and other factors
-Provided with school uniforms and other supplies to ensure they are ready for school
-Regular distribution of meals, laundry detergent, toiletries, and other essentials
-Trips to movie theatre and cultural institutions throughout the city
-Access to computer lab(i.e. iReady Lab) from 7:10 am to 8 am, and from 2:30 pm to 3:30 pm

What targeted supports are in place for students in foster care, including those newly transitioning into the foster care system? How does your school ensure these students receive the necessary interventions to promote stability and success?

During the registration process, our pupil accounting secretary identifies a family in temporary housing, the parent coordinator and/or social worker are brought in to welcome the family to our school, and immediately assess their needs.

After analyzing historical demographic, attendance, and achievement data for students in foster care, what trends have emerged? How can these insights be used to improve the services and support provided to this population?

Attendance patterns have uncovered the need to educate the parents further about the importance of coming to school regularly and on time, and of the impact of chronic absences on student achievement.
In order to support students and their families, we have implemented structures such as:
-Success Mentors
-One on one meeting between parents and members of the counseling team.

What specific strategies does your school implement to ensure students in foster care, particularly those in transitional grades, receive targeted Social-Emotional Learning (SEL) support? How do these strategies help address academic and behavioral challenges?

As part of our PBIS, all students have a Leadership Binder they use to set and track their goals. Students in foster care, along with any other student that exhibits a need are supported in identifying a personal goal. With the help of their success mentor or an accountability partner within the classroom, these students celebrate their successes and work together to "clear the path" when progress is not made.

Our counselors and social workers are committed to ensuring that our students in foster care and other temporary housing situations receive the supports and interventions they need and deserve to thrive. In addition to identifying students for AIS based on performance data, our team also makes sure that these students are well represented in all enrichment opportunities by doubling up on outreach efforts and sharing information with guardians as many times as necessary.

Section 7: Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Directions: The Parent and Family Engagement Policy should describe how your school will plan and implement effective parent and family engagement activities and/or strategies to improve student academic achievement and school performance. The School-Parent Compact (SPC) is a component of the Parent and Family Engagement Policy (PFEP) that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share this responsibility.

The activities and/or strategies included in your school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy should align with current Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) goals for improving student achievement and should be developed or updated with input and feedback from parent leaders and the Parent Coordinator. In addition, if the school community will be engaged in central parent engagement initiatives, such as Parent Academy, which will provide training for school communities to help strengthen family-school partnerships, please be sure to include these activities in the school's policy.

In Title I schools, the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) represents the Title I parent community in supporting parent and family engagement. The Title I PAC Chairperson will serve in a consultative role with the SLT representing the school's Title I parents. Schools are encouraged to use the sample Parent and Family Engagement and SPC templates below (which meet federal Title I parent and family engagement requirements) as guidance for updating the school's current policy.

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental engagement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent and family engagement policy that will establish expectations and objectives for meaningful parent and family engagement in the school community. in compliance with Section 1116 of Title I, Part A of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), PS 77 is responsible for creating and implementing a parent and family engagement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between the school and the families. The school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), and Title I Parent Advisory Council as trained volunteers and welcomed members of the school community.

Support for Parents and Family Members of Title I Students

P.S.77 will support parents and family members of Title I students by:
- providing materials and training to help parents work with their children to improve their achievement level, e.g., literacy, math and use of technology;
- providing parents with the information and training needed to effectively become involved in planning and decision making in support of the education of their children;
- fostering a caring and effective home-school partnership to ensure that parents can effectively support and monitor their child's progress;

- providing professional learning opportunities for school staff with the assistance of parents to improve outreach, communication skills and cultural competency in order to build stronger ties between parents and other members of the school community;

Parental Involvement and School Quality

The school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy was designed based upon a careful assessment of the needs of all parents/guardians, including parents/guardians of Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners (ML/ELL), and students with disabilities. The school community, with the meaningful involvement of parents and family members, will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent and family engagement policy with Title I parents to improve the academic quality of the school. The findings of the evaluation through school surveys and feedback forms will be used to design strategies to more effectively meet the needs of parents and family members and enhance the school's Title I program. This information will be maintained by the school.

In developing the Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy, parents of Title I participating students, parent members of the school's Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), as well as parent members of the School Leadership Team, were consulted on the proposed Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and asked to survey their members for additional input. To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, the school will:
- actively involve and engage parents and family members in the planning, review and evaluation of the effectiveness of the school's Title I program as outlined in the School Comprehensive Education Plan, including the implementation of the school's Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact;
- engage all parents in discussion and decisions regarding the required Title I, 1% set-aside funds, which are allocated directly to the school to supplement parent and family engagement activities, including family literacy and parenting skills;
- ensure that the Title I funds allocated for parent and family engagement are utilized to implement activities and strategies as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and the School-Parent Compact;
- support school-level committees that include parents who are members of the School Leadership Team, the Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Advisory Council. This includes providing technical support and ongoing professional learning, especially in developing leadership skills;
- maintain a Parent Coordinator (or a dedicated staff person) to serve as a liaison between the school and families. The Parent Coordinator or a dedicated staff person will provide parent workshops based on the assessed needs of the parents of children who attend the school and will work to ensure that the school environment is welcoming and inviting to all parents. The Parent Coordinator will also maintain a log of events and activities planned for parents each month and file a report with the central office.;
- conduct parent workshops with topics that may include: parenting skills, understanding educational accountability grade-level curriculum and assessment expectations; literacy, accessing community and support services; and technology training to build parents' capacity to help their children at home;

- provide opportunities for parents to help them understand the accountability system, e.g., ESSA/State accountability system, student proficiency levels, Annual School Report Card, School Quality Report, Quality Review Report, Learning Environment Survey Report;
- host the required Annual Title I Parent Meeting each school year to advise parents of children participating in the Title I program about the school's Title I funded program(s), their right to be involved in the program and the parent and family engagement requirements under Title I, Part A, Section 1116 and other applicable sections under ESSA;
- schedule additional parent meetings, e.g., quarterly meetings, with flexible times, such as meetings in the morning or evening, to share information about the school's educational program and other initiatives of the Chancellor and allow parents to provide suggestions;
- translate all critical school documents and provide interpretation during meetings and events as needed.

Encouraging School-Level Parental Involvement

The school will further encourage school-level parent and family engagement by:
- hosting educational family events/activities during Parent-Teacher Conferences and throughout the school year;
- encouraging meaningful parent participation on School Leadership Teams, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Advisory Council;
- supporting or hosting Family Day events;
- establishing a Parent Resource Center/Area or lending library; instructional materials for parents;
- encouraging more parents to become trained school volunteers;
- providing written and verbal progress reports that are periodically given to keep parents informed of their children's progress;
- developing and distributing a school newsletter or web publication designed to keep parents informed about school activities and student progress;
- providing school planners/folders for regular written communication between /teacher and the home in a format, and to the extent practicable in the languages that parents can understand.

School-Parent Compact (SPC)

School-Parent Compact (SPC)

in compliance with the Section 1116 of Title I, Part A of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), PS 77 is implementing a School-Parent Compact to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between the school and the families. Staff and parents of students participating in activities and programs funded by Title I, agree that this Compact outlines how parents, the entire school staff and students will share responsibility for improved academic achievement and the means by which a school-parent partnership will be developed to ensure that all children achieve State Standards on assessments.

Title I Program Information

Part 1: Title I Program Type

Title I Requirements and Strengthening Title I Parent Involvement: Under USDOE's Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), Title I schools are required to address professional learning and parent and family engagement in the Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP). To strengthen parent leadership in Title I schools, and increase the involvement of all parents of Title I eligible children in improving students' academic outcomes, all Title I schools are required to establish a Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) that will serve as the consultative and representative body for all Title I parents in the school to provide voice into the spending of Title I funds.

The SLT is responsible for facilitating consultation with the Title I Parent Advisory Council regarding the joint development of the CEP, Parent and Family Engagement Policy, School Parent Compact (SPC) and the use of the 1% parent involvement set-aside in Title I schools. The Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) Chairperson (or alternate) is expected to attend all regular meetings of the School Leadership Team (SLT). Title I parents, as represented by the Title I PAC Chairperson, must be consulted regarding the use of the Title I 1% set-aside for parent and family engagement. The Title I 1% set-aside funding is used to supplement parent and family engagement activities as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and must be aligned with student achievement goals as outlined in the CEP. For additional guidance on the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC), go to the Protocols and Timeline for Title I Parent and Family Engagement Activities document.

Directions:

- All schools must indicate their Title I status in Part 1.
- All elements of the All Title I Schools section must be completed in Part 2.
- All Targeted Assistance (TA) Schools must also complete the TA Schools Only section in Part 3.
- All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools must also complete the SWP Schools Only section in Part 4.
- If a required component is addressed elsewhere in this plan, you may refer to the section or Priority where the response can be found.
- For additional information, visit the Title I Program Description (US Department of Education).

High Quality and Ongoing Professional Learning: Please list below the Priority or section(s) that indicate strategies and activities for high quality professional learning for teachers, principals, staff, and paraprofessionals to enable all students to meet state standards.

All Priority Areas include strategies for high quality professional learning for teachers, principals, staff, and paraprofessionals.
For example, by offering ongoing training with the Leader in Me, staff members are acquire skills across the 3 principles of the Leader in Me process: Academics, Culture, and Leadership, as follows:
Priority Area 1: All students learn to read well.
By focusing on the principle of Academics, the staff utilizes resources from the Leader in Me online platform that promote goal setting and progress monitoring habits (i.e. WIGs) .
Priority Area 2: All students are physically and emotionally safe
Through the principle of Culture, the staff receives training in how to leverage the 7 Habits resources to target the social emotional skills students require support with.
Through the principle of Leadership, the staff receives training on how to create more opportunities for students to lead (i.e. Student Leadership Roles, Leadership Day Events, etc.)
Priority Area 3: All students have high quality academic experiences
Through the principles of Academics, Culture, and Leadership, the staff is provided with training on how to incorporate service learning opportunities into the curriculum, offering a more enriching learning experience.
Priority Area 4: All students graduate college and career ready and have a strong plan and pathway to economic security
The 4 Disciplines of Execution promote goal setting habits of highly effective and successful students. Teacher receive training in implementing this goal setting model and Priority Area 5 All districts and schools are more inclusive and responsive for parents and families, including having more families choose NYC Public Schools.
By preparing for Leader in Me Leadership Day Events the staff engages in rigorous planning and preparation to showcase the leadership skills of all members of our school community, providing the staff a highly meaningful and rewarding professional learning experience.

Our partnership with Teaching Matters also provides opportunities for high quality professional development across all priority areas. Through our partnership with Teaching Matters, teachers receive training in backwards planning, resulting in stronger core instruction, thereby ensuring that students read well (Priority Area 1) and that they have high quality learning experiences (Priority Area 3),.
Teaching Matters also provides us with PD in assessment practices, leading to more accurate determination of students' needs and subsequently richer differentiation and targeted instruction opportunities for students.

Lastly, thanks to our partnership with Fordham University's Education program, the staff participates in Mental Health Awareness Training, which also targets Priority Area 2: all students are physically safe and emotionally well.

Part 4: Schoolwide Program (SWP)

Transition Plans to Assist Preschool Children (Elementary Schools Only): Describe the transition plans used to assist preschool children from early childhood programs to the elementary school program (e.g. aligned curriculum, joint PD & parent involvement activities, sharing of records/information, early intervention services, etc.).

Our transition plan to assist preschool students is yearlong, and begins with hosting weekly Open Classroom activities in which parents come into the classroom and participate in learning experiences along with their children. These opportunities give parents a chance to see their children within a structured learning environment allowing them to learn more about strategies they can use at home to support their children's learning.
Transition support continues with vertical planning sessions in which PK teachers come together with K-5 teachers to discuss the learning progressions across content areas and the implication for the interdisciplinary approach that is used in PK.
In addition to this, PK students also have an opportunity to interact with students from other grades. These opportunities include, but are not limited to:
-participation in school wide Monthly Assemblies
-buddy classrooms
-activities with siblings
-Student Lighthouse Team

Part 5: "Conceptual" Consolidation of Funds in SWP Schools

Directions: All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools in NYC are conceptually consolidating their Federal, State, and Local funds, even though the Galaxy system reports the allocations in separate accounting codes1. To be eligible for the flexibility consolidation of Federal funds, a Schoolwide Program school must identify in its Schoolwide plan (CEP) which programs are included in its consolidation and the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool. Additionally, the school plan must document that it has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated2. On the chart below, indicate which Federal, State, and/or local Tax Levy program funds that are consolidated in your school's Schoolwide Program, the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool, and verification that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated.
For the last two columns of this table: Place an (X) in Column A below to verify that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated. Indicate in Column B, the Priority or section that references where a related program activity has been described in this plan.

Explanation/Background

1. Explanation/Background:

Title I Schoolwide Program schools are expected to use the flexibility available to them to integrate services and programs with the aim of enhancing the entire educational program and helping all students reach proficient and advanced levels of achievement. In addition to coordinating and integrating services, Schoolwide Program schools may combine most Federal, State and local funds to provide those services. By consolidating funds from Federal, State, and local sources, a Schoolwide Program school can address its needs using all its available resources. This gives a school more flexibility in how it uses available resources to meet the identified needs of all its students.

Consolidating funds in a Schoolwide Program means that a school treats the funds it is consolidating like they are a single "pool" of funds. In other words, the funds from the contributing programs in the school lose their individual identity and the school has one flexible pool of funds. The school uses funds from this consolidated Schoolwide pool to support any activity of the Schoolwide Program without regard to which program contributed the specific funds used for a particular activity – so long as the use of funds meets the intent and purposes of the programs from which the funds originate. To consolidate funding in a Schoolwide Program, the school does not literally need to combine funds in a single account or pool with its own accounting code. Rather, the word "pool" is used conceptually to convey that a Schoolwide Program school has the use of all consolidated funds available to it for the dedicated function of operating a Schoolwide Program without regard to the identity of those funds.

Consolidating Federal funds in a Schoolwide Program has the following additional advantages:

- Consolidating Federal funds eases the requirements for accounting for funds from each specific program separately, because a Schoolwide school is not required to distinguish among funds received from different sources when accounting for their use.
- A school that consolidates Federal funds in its Schoolwide Program is not required to meet most of the statutory and regulatory requirements of the specific Federal programs included in the consolidation (e.g., semi-annual time and effort reporting for Title I). However, the school must ensure that it meets the intent and purposes of the Federal programs included in the consolidation so that the needs of the intended beneficiaries are met.

2. The intent and purposes of the Federal programs indicated on the chart above (Part 4c of this section) are as follows:

- Title I, Part A – Schoolwide Programs: To upgrade the entire educational program in the school in order to improve the academic achievement of all students, particularly the lowest-achieving students. This includes provision of services for Students in Temporary Housing (STH).
- Title I 1003(a), School Improvement: Comprehensive Support and Improvement (CSI), Additional Targeted Support and Improvement (ATSI) and Targeted Support and Improvement (TSI) Funding:

Support implementation of school improvement plans that aims to improve instruction and address the identified needs

Title II, Part A: Supplementary funding to improve student academic achievement by reducing class size in grades K, 1, 2, and 3, with an emphasis on grades with an average register greater than 20. If space is not available to form additional classes, funds may support push-in teacher(s) to supplement the instructional program. For schools that choose to reduce class size, priority must be given to reducing class size in general education settings and must demonstrate the following:

- Reduce class sizes to 15-18 students or fewer (including the use of co-teaching and floating teachers that bring the student to teacher ratio to one teacher per 15-18 students);
- Be accompanied by a rigorous curriculum, effective teachers, and a sustained, job-embedded professional development plan.

- Title III, Part A: To help ensure that children with limited English proficiency become proficient in English, develop high academic attainment in English, and meet the same challenging State academic content and achievement standards in the core academic subjects that all other children are expected to meet. Another purpose of this program is to increase the capacity of schools to establish, implement and sustain high-quality language instruction programs and English language development programs that assist schools in effectively teaching students with limited English proficiency. Title III, Part A is also designed to promote the participation of parents and communities of limited English proficient children in English language instruction programs.
- Title III Immigrant: Supplementary and enhanced services to immigrant students, in the areas of English language acquisition and content area achievement. Immigrant children and youth are defined as individuals who are aged 3 through 21, have not been attending school in any one or more states for more than three (3) full academic years, and were not born in any state. "State" means the 50 states of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Children born to U.S. citizens abroad, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or any other U.S. territory that is not D.C. or Puerto Rico are to be considered immigrants.
- Title IV, Part A: Title IV funds are for schools that are among those with the greatest needs, have the highest numbers of students from low-income families, are identified for CS, ATSI or TSI, or are identified as persistently dangerous public schools. Allowable uses of funds under well-rounded education, safety and health, and educational technology include direct services for students, professional development for teachers and administrators, and supplemental educational resources. School allocations have been provided for well-rounded education, social emotional learning, cultural responsiveness awareness, professional development to support implementation of technology and blended learning environments, and community coordinators in schools with high rates of students in temporary housing

- Students in Temporary Housing (STH): Schools must describe their use of Title I STH funds in their consolidated application.

Important Note: The following funds may not be consolidated:

- Title I Parent Involvement Set-aside: Title I, Part A funds must support parent involvement activities and programs. Chancellor's Regulation A-655 requires School Leadership Teams to consult with Title I parent representatives regarding the Title I program and the use of these funds. Parent involvement activities funded through Title I must be included in the Parent and Family Engagement Policy and aligned with student achievement goals in the school comprehensive educational plan.
- IDEA: To ensure that all children with disabilities have available to them a free appropriate public education designed to meet their individual needs.
- Grant funds awarded via a competitive process: These funds must be used for the purposes specified by the Grantor, as described in the school's approved grant application.

Language Allocation Policy Outline

Language Allocation Policy Outline

2025-26 Language Allocation Policy (LAP)

This submission form supports schools with organizing a well-conceived school-based Language Allocation Policy (LAP) that describes high quality programs for Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners (MLs/ELLs). This is an annual plan of how your school will support the linguistic and academic needs of MLs/ELLs and must be completed yearly. The Language Allocation Policy (LAP) is a part of schools' Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP).

This is a living document. Any school-wide changes involving the instruction of MLs/ELLs, such as the addition or expansion of a Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) or Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) program, should be updated in this form.

Agenda, minutes of LAP meetings, and LAP team members' attendance at meetings should be kept readily available on file in the school with all other ML/ELL critical documents. When preparing your school's submission, provide extended responses in the available spaces.

For additional information, refer to the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs. For additional support with ML/ELL policy, please reach out to your respective ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance Performance Specialist; for support with ML/ELL instruction, please contact your ML/ELL Services Administrator.

Part III: ML/ELL Programming

Please refer to New York State Commissioner's Regulation (CR) Part 154 Units of Study Tables as you describe academic programming for MLs/ELLs at your school below. Please do not leave any fields blank and indicate "N/A" for any fields that are not applicable.

Describe your English as a New Language (ENL), and if applicable Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE), and Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs. For each program, include:

- How stand-alone ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How integrated ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How students are grouped (e.g., block [class travels together as a group], ungraded [all students regardless of grade are in one class], heterogeneous [mixed proficiency levels], homogenous [proficiency level is the same in one class]).

a. English as a New Language (ENL)
Stand-alone ENL:

Stand-alone English as a New Language (ENL) program consists of students receiving English language development instruction from certified ESOL teacher.

At Bedford Park Elementary School, mandated stand alone units are programmed in STARS according to each student's current proficiency level. Students from Kindergarten to 5th grade receive the required units of instruction based on their proficiency levels as determined by the NYSELSAT. Once the results of the spring administration of the NYSESLAT are released, the RLAT report is generated to determine how many students remain eligible for ENL services in order to begin planning groupings, etc.

Entering and emerging students from Kindergarten to 5th grade are provided with standalone instruction. Newcomer students receive additional small group instruction centered around basic English skills. Home language is used to support learners during stand alone ENL when possible using strategies such as translations provided by teacher, peers, or digital tools, books in the native language, etc. Additional examples of how language acquisition is supported during stand-alone instruction include tools and resources such as graphic organizers, thinking maps, buddy system, sentence stems, scaffolding, discussion prompts etc.

Entering and emerging level students also receive push-in integrated ENL service by a certified ENL teacher 200 minutes a week.
Mandated stand alone units are programmed in STARS according to each student's current proficiency level.

Integrated ENL:

Integrated ENL takes place within the students' classrooms for 200 minutes a week, based on the students' language proficiency levels. Minimum number of integrated ENL/ELA minutes per week are as follows:

ENTERING: 180 mins. minimum of integrated ENL/ELA required per week
EMERGING: 180 mins. minimum of integrated ENL/ELA required per week
TRANSITIONING: 180 mins. minimum of integrated ENL/ELA required per week
EXPANDING: 180 mins. minimum of integrated ENL in ELA/Core Content Area required per week
COMMANDING: 90 mins. minimum of integrated ENL in ELA/Core Content Area and/or other approved Former ELL services for two additional years.

Lessons are co-planned and co-taught with the classroom teacher, using strategies that help ELLs understand the content. Home language is used to support learners during integrated ENL when possible.

b. Bilingual Education (If applicable)

Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE):

n/a

Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE):

Bilingual Education (If applicable)
Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) program: n/a Dual Language (DL) program

In the Dual Language program, ENL instruction is provided to ELLs according to their language proficiency levels:

ENTERING: 180 mins. minimum of integrated ENL/ELA required per week
EMERGING: 180 mins. minimum of integrated ENL/ELA required per week
TRANSITIONING: 180 mins. minimum of integrated ENL/ELA required per week
EXPANDING: 180 mins. minimum of integrated ENL in ELA/Core Content Area required per week
COMMANDING: 90 mins. minimum of integrated ENL in ELA/Core Content Area and/or other approved Former ELL services for two additional years.

Students receiving English language development instruction from the Dual Language Teacher within the classroom during the social studies and science periods on English days.

2. How does your school ensure the mandated number of instructional minutes are provided according to students' English language proficiency levels in each program model?

In the ENL program at Bedford Park Elementary School, each classroom with ELL students receives a minimum of four- 50 minute periods of push-in instruction a week. In addition, Entering and Emerging students are taken out for standalone ENL classes four times a week for a total of 200 minutes a week. Students are grouped by grade in order for lessons to be tailored to the material covered in their classes and their curriculum. Former-ELL students are serviced during push-in instruction.STARS programming is done according to the proficiency levels of all ML/ELL identified students.

In the dual language program students receive 50 minutes of mathematics and 100 minutes of literacy instruction, alternating languages daily. Students are guided to speak, listen, read and write in both languages and are provided with appropriate support.
Students receive HLA supports 2-3 times per week on the Spanish days.

3. How are ENL, English Language Arts (ELA) and if applicable, Home Language Arts (HLA) instructional minutes delivered in each program model?

Home Language Supports are provided during ENL instruction in the classroom whenever possible, in the following manners:

o Materials and resources in the home language such as hard copy and/or online dictionaries, encyclopedias, books, and other media.
o Pairing students of various language proficiencies to support each other in the home language and English.
o Teachers who are bilingual use the student's home language to clarify concepts/content whenever possible.

4. For schools with Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) programs:

a. Which Dual Language Bilingual Education model is implemented? Explain how much of the instructional day (percentage) English proficient students and ELLs are integrated.

The Dual Language model implemented at our school is the self contained, 50:50 language allocation model.

b. In which language(s) is each core content area taught?

All core content areas are taught in English and Spanish.

5. For schools with Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs:

a. Which core content areas are taught bilingually?

NA

Part IV: Data Analysis

Data Analysis

After reviewing and analyzing school demographic and assessment data, answer the following questions. The ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) provided by the Office of Multilingual Learners can assist with identifying these data points.

For additional information, refer to Data Analysis Professional Learning Module and ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) Professional Learning Module.

1. What is the composition of the ELL subgroups at your school?
What percentage of ELLs are Newcomers? How does effective instruction for Newcomers differ from those provided to Developing or Long-Term ELLs?

According to the Spring 2025 EDAT, the percentage of ELLs that are newcomers (0-3 Years of ELL Service) at our school is 81.9% (122).
At PS 77, effective instruction for Newcomers builds foundational language and content knowledge simultaneously, and is characterized by the following practices:
- strong emphasis on vocabulary (Tier 1 and 2), use of thematic walls and knowledge maps to build vocabulary
-use of sentence stems and word banks to develop vocabulary
- strategic use of home language to support acquisition of content knowledge
-opportunities to access reading materials through different modalities: read aloud, audible book, repeated reads, etc. , to provide scaffolds towards reading fluency and improved comprehension.
- heterogeneous pairing for peer modeling
- use of visuals (i.e. Thinking Maps) to help process complex concepts

At PS 77, effective instruction for Developing and Long-Term ELLs focuses on expanding academic vocabulary (Tier 2 and 3), metalinguistic awareness, and flexible grouping to meet the diverse needs of students at higher stages of language acquisition. Instruction for Developing and Long-Term ELLs is characterized by the following practices:
-Focus on teaching academic vocabulary through contextualized examples, rich discussions, and multiple exposures
-Use of graphic organizers, concept maps, and sentence frames to deepen understanding
-Integrating vocabulary instruction into content areas and promoting application in real-world tasks
-Providing explicit instruction in Tier 2 and Tier 3 vocabulary to expand oral and written language skills
-Use of flexible grouping strategies that allow students to collaborate with peers at different proficiency levels, providing peer support and language modeling.
-Rotate groups frequently based on students' language needs or content understanding to build both linguistic and content knowledge.
-Promote cooperative learning activities like jigsaw, think-pair-share, or peer teaching to facilitate language practice in authentic contexts.
Provide sentence stems, structured opportunities for oral language practice, and writing templates to help students access academic content.

-Use visuals, videos, and hands-on activities to support understanding of complex language and concepts.
-Offer differentiated tasks, such as simplified texts or modified assignments, to ensure students can engage meaningfully at their proficiency level.

The following practices are more common in Dual Language classrooms:
-Integrating opportunities for students to compare and contrast their native language with English to build awareness of language structures, syntax, and meaning
-Providing opportunities for reflection on language use, such as identifying cognates or discussing nuances in word choice.
-Use of contrastive analysis and language transfer activities to help students identify similarities and differences between languages.

Instruction provided to Developing and Long-Term ELLs differs from that provided to Newcomers in the following ways:
-Instruction shifts towards enhancing metalinguistic awareness by encouraging students to compare and contrast linguistic structures in English with their home language.
-Instruction involves more Tier 2 and 3 vocabulary as well as academic content, with a focus on academic language structures and critical thinking.
-In addition to continued use of paired or small group work, flexible grouping is used to allow students to collaborate with peers at various language proficiency levels, providing opportunities to practice both academic content and language.

What percentage of ELLs are Students with Inconsistent/Interrupted Formal Education (SIFE)? How do you differentiate effective instruction for SIFE?

According to the Spring 2025 EDAT, 0.7% of our ELL population (1 student) are identified as SIFE. Targeted, intensive interventions are implemented to address the gaps in foundational literacy and math skills.

Differentiated Instruction and Support: Differentiation is a key component of instruction, with SIFE students receiving tailored materials based on their current proficiency levels. This may include the use of native language resources, visual aids, and hands-on learning materials. Instruction is scaffolded to ensure that content is accessible, while also being sufficiently challenging to support growth in academic language and concepts. In literacy, this consists of instruction that focuses on the 5 Pillars of Reading, with an emphasis on on developing phonemic awareness, phonics, vocabulary, and basic reading comprehension. Through the use of decodable texts and explicit phonics instruction, instruction is adjusted based on individual needs and progress of each student.

Additional Support and Intervention Services: SIFE students are identified for additional intervention and may be provided with both before and after school in a small group or 1:1 setting.

Frequency of Monitoring and Goal Setting: Consistent with our focus on progress monitoring, SIFE students' progress is monitored bi-weekly using formative assessments such as Acadience reading fluency checks, math diagnostic tests, and individual goal-setting conferences. Based on these assessments, adjustments to instruction are made every 4–6 weeks to ensure that the student's specific learning gaps are being addressed. The goal is for all students, including SIFE students, to demonstrate measurable growth in both academic content and language acquisition, with clear, individualized benchmarks set for phonics mastery, number sense, and comprehension.

What percentage of ELLs are Long-Term ELLs? How does effective instruction for Long-Term ELLs differ from instruction designed for Developing ELLs?

According to the Spring 2025 EDAT, the percentage of ELLs that are long term ELLs is 0%.

What percentage of students are former ELLs? How is your school providing mandated instruction to former ELLs?

According to the Spring 2025 EDAT, the percentage of ELLs that are former ELLs is 3.5% (14 students).
Former ELLs receive at least .5 units of study or its equivalent of integrated ENL or other such services that monitor and support their language development and academic progress for two years once they have exited from ELL status. New this year as part of our student leadership initiatives, former ELLs will be invited to become mentors to newcomers. As part of our Dual Language Program, students that demonstrate proficiency in both languages are recognized and awarded the Dual Language Distinction certificate. In 5th grade, the top student receives the Distinction Award--top honor for students in the dual language program.

2. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of ELLs at your school?

According to the Spring 2025 EDAT report:

ELLs Who Did Not Demonstrate Sufficient ELP Progress (Spring 2024 NYSESLAT): 63 STUDENTS
Math: ELLs Who Scored Level 1 or 2 Last School Year (Spring 2024) : 35 STUDENTS
Math: ELLs Who Scored Level 1 or 2 in SY 2022-23 and 2023-24: 33 STUDENTS

3. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect former ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of former ELLs at your school?

Given the structure of our ENL/Bilingual program, former ELLs do not face significant transitions, other than the cessation of annual testing.
In the case of former ELLs that receive ENL services, they may experience the separation of the standalone services, as a result of not being pulled out for services anymore, but the ENL team continues to collaborate with classroom teachers, and maintain presence throughout the school, allowing the relationship to continue.

4. What are the home languages of ELLs with the largest representation at your school? What staff, structures, and processes does your school have to support communication and learning that values these home languages?

Our ELL population is linguistically diverse, with home languages including
Spanish:114
Bengali: 18
Arabic: 9
Urdu:4
French: 2
Haitian Creole: 1

Serbo-Croatian: 1
Turkish: 1
Our staff is as diverse as our student population, and thanks to this we are able to call upon in-house translation by a staff member for families who speak the following languages:
Spanish
Bengali
Arabic
Albanian
To effectively support these students and their families, we have established systematic structures to leverage home language as a powerful tool for learning and communication.
We are fortunate to have a diverse staff that reflects the linguistic diversity of our student body. This allows us to provide in-house translation services through staff members who are fluent in Spanish, Bengali, Arabic, and Albanian.
Specific staff members are designated as language ambassadors for each of these languages. They collaborate closely with classroom teachers and ENL specialists to ensure that content is accessible in students' home languages, helping to bridge language gaps in real time. These ambassadors are also called upon to provide after school enrichment opportunities like the Heritage Book Club after school program.
Teachers and instructional aides work alongside multilingual staff to incorporate home-language materials, including bilingual glossaries, visual aids, and translated texts, during lessons. This promotes meaning-making and content retention, allowing students to build academic skills in both their home language and English.
We use a variety of bilingual resources (e.g., books, videos, and websites) in Spanish, Bengali, Arabic, and other common home languages. These materials are strategically integrated into curriculum units, allowing students to access content in both languages simultaneously.
Teachers explicitly guide students in recognizing cognates, language structures, and academic vocabulary in their home language and English. This supports metalinguistic awareness and helps students transfer skills across languages, strengthening overall academic development.
We integrate translation devices and digital tools into daily instruction. Tools like Google Translate and language learning apps help students translate key vocabulary and concepts between English and their home language.
Our ENL educators receive regular professional development on how to effectively integrate students' home languages into their learning. This includes training on culturally responsive pedagogy, leveraging scaffolded instruction, and using home language resources strategically.
Teachers work with students and families to set language personal and academic goals (i.e. Wildly Important Goals) that include English proficiency and home language literacy, ensuring that students maintain strong skills in both languages.

5. What are the racial and ethnic classifications of ELLs at your school? How are ELLs being included in planning and delivery of Culturally Responsive and Sustaining Education (CR-SE)?

The racial and ethnic classification of ELLs at our school include the following:
American Indian or Alaskan Native: 47.7% (71)
Asian: 16.1% (24)
Black: 8.1% (12)
Multiracial 0%: (0)
Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander:1.3% (2)
White: 26.8% (40)

At our school, we prioritize Culturally Responsive and Sustaining Education (CR-SE) to ensure the inclusion and success of all students, particularly ELLs.
Here are key strategies and their impact:

Student Lighthouse Team: As part of our Leader in Me initiative, all students, including ELLs, are encouraged to apply for the Student Lighthouse Team, which serves as a student council. This team is responsible for informing school-wide activities, events, and improvement efforts from the student perspective.
Impact: By allowing ELLs to participate, we ensure they have a voice in shaping their school experience, fostering a sense of belonging and empowerment. Over the years we've seen how students' confidence grows, allowing them to pursue school-wide leadership roles and other extra curricular activities.

Social Justice Standards Integration: We integrate social justice standards into all lessons, making sure that students engage with topics around identity, justice, diversity, and action. For instance, in social studies or language arts, students explore issues related to equity and inclusion, while considering diverse cultural perspectives.
Impact: ELL students, especially those from underrepresented ethnic backgrounds, are able to see themselves reflected in the curriculum, which helps them connect more deeply to the content and fosters a more inclusive classroom environment. Students show greater pride and confidence in their heritage, as evidenced by their willingness to share about their culture through our annual Holiday Candle activity, wear their cultural garb for the Annual Multicultural Fashion Shows, and share about their customs and traditions more widely through the Heritage Book Club showcase.

Teachers receive ongoing CR-SE training that emphasizes differentiated instruction for ELLs, culturally relevant pedagogies, and strategies for fostering an inclusive classroom environment. The training encourages educators to reflect on their own biases and develop practices that support equity for all students, with a particular focus on ELL needs. This professional development has led to an increase in the use of scaffolded instruction and home language resources, improving ELL engagement and academic achievement.

By embedding CR-SE strategies into everyday practice, we ensure that ELL students not only develop academically but also thrive in an environment that recognizes and values their cultural identities. These initiatives create a learning space where all students, regardless of their background, can succeed.

6. What trends do you notice in reviewing English Language Proficiency (ELP) growth at your school? How many students met ELP sufficient progress? How many students did not meet ELP sufficient progress?

When reviewing English Language Proficiency growth at our school based on the 2024 NYSESLAT, and 92 with sufficient exam data and therefore eligible for progress measure, we notice the following:
1. 15.2% (14) met progress by existing ELL status
2. 20.7% (19) met annual progress target
3. 12% (11) met safe harbor cumulative growth
4. 48% (52.2) did not meet progress
The number of ELLs that tested out of ENL status in 2024 increased by 7 compared to those that tested out in 2023.

7. When you look at the results of the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT), what stands out? What trends are there for each modality?

When reviewing the 2024 NYSESLAT results, we noticed the following:
#44 (33.3%) ELLs were expanding
#28 (21.2%) ELLs were transitioning
#28 (21.2%) ELLs were emerging
#18 (13.6%) ELLs were entering
#14 (10.6%) tested out

When analyzing the data by modalities of strength, we noticed the following:
According to the 2023 NYSESLAT, 4th and 5th graders demonstrated greater strength in speaking over all the other grades.
According to the 2024 NYSESLAT, 3rd graders demonstrated greater strength in speaking and writing over all the other grades and 4th grade improved in speaking from 2023.
According to the 2024 NYSESLAT, 1st and 2nd graders demonstrated greater needs across modalities than the other grades.
In 2024, students showed greater needs in writing, reading, and listening.

8. What is the relationship between students' performance on the NYSESLAT and other state assessments such as the ELA assessment, the Math assessment, and the Regents exams?

2024 NYSESLAT compared to 2024 ELA shows the following:
28 ELLs scored a level 1, of these, 1 scored commanding, 13 scored expanding, 9 transitioning, 2 emerging, and 3 entering
6 ELLs scored level 2, of these, 5 scored commanding, and 1 scored expanding
2 ELLs scored level 3, of these, 2 were commanding.

There is a direct correlation between ELLs that pass the ELA and ELLs that test out of ELL status.
ELLs who score higher on NYSESLAT (especially with scores of expanding and transitioning) tend to also pass the ELA.

ELLs who remain in Level 1 (especially with scores of Entering or Emerging) are likely to need additional support, particularly in developing academic language and reading comprehension.

ELLs that score at Entering and Emerging are likely to need focused interventions in language development, specifically in reading and writing comprehension.

Transitioning students could benefit from additional support in academic English to move toward proficiency and exit ELL status.

2024 NYSESLAT compared to 2024 math shows the following:
23 ELLs scored a level 1, of these, 9 scored expanding, 7 transitioning, and 3 emerging, 4 entering 12 ELLs scored level 2, of these, 1 scored commanding, 4 scored expanding, 2 scored transitioning, and 5 scored emerging
8 ELLs scored level 3, of these, 7 were commanding, 1 was expanding
1 ELLs scored level 4, and scored commanding.

ELLs who scored Commanding on NYSESLAT tend to score higher on both ELA and Math, indicating stronger academic language and literacy skills.
ELLs at Level 1 (particularly Entering, Emerging) show significant difficulty in both Math and English language development.

Students at Level 1 (Entering, Emerging) across both NYSESLAT and Math need additional interventions to build language proficiency and numeracy skills.
Students in the Expanding and Transitioning ranges may have stronger math skills but still need support in language acquisition to understand academic language in math contexts.

ELLs who exit ELL status often show strong mathematical vocabulary skills, including the ability to comprehend word problems and express mathematical reasoning.

Targeted interventions should prioritize language development, academic vocabulary, and comprehension strategies to move students through the proficiency levels and out of ELL status.

9. What are trends reflected in the NYSESLAT results of ELL subgroups such as ELLs with IEPs and SIFE? What do you think is impacting the results for these subgroups?

Of 132 ELLs who took the NYSESLAT IN 2024, 31 of them had an IEP. These students scored as follows:
Entering: 3
Emerging: 8
Transitioning: 10
Expanding: 10
Commanding: 0
The performance of ELLs with IEPs on the 2024 NYSESLAT, where no students scored at the Commanding level and the majority scored in the Entering to Expanding ranges—may be influenced by a variety of factors that are unique to both their language learning needs and disability-related challenges. Factors may include:
Language acquisition delays due to compounded learning barriers due to the disability. This could slow down language acquisition as well as a students' ability to process and understand new content.
Lack of appropriate differentiation and targeted support for language development and content knowledge may increase the challenges of students scoring at commanding levels. Accommodations may not take into consideration language development needs and goals.

Tier 1 Core Instruction

1. How does your school provide ELLs with a high-quality academic experience that leads to deeper learning?

At BPES all students receive a high-quality standards based academic experience. By implementing evidence-based practices to provide targeted instruction based on data across the content areas, our students are supported with instruction that is responsive to their needs.

We further ensure ELLs receive the high quality academic experience they deserve by using NYSESLAT data as well as formative assessments to identify their specific language development needs and provide the appropriate scaffolds. A hallmark of our lesson planning and delivery practices is the existence of the language objectives.

By identifying the specific linguistic demands of a standards-based learning task and providing scaffolds that support students in developing the language skills needed, we ensure students are able to engage in the lesson successfully. Language demands are explicitly addressed through language objectives--which are central to our instructional approach. Every lesson contains a content objective as well as a language objective. These objectives help define the specific language skills students need in order to master and engage meaningfully with content. By identifying these in advance, teachers are better able to monitor progress towards these skills and provide immediate feedback.

An example of how a language objective would look in a typical reading lesson would be as follows:
Content Objective: Students will be able to describe the sequence of events and character motivations by using transition words.
Language Objective: Students will be able to use transition words (e.g., "first," "next," "finally")to describe the sequence of events in a story.

This language objective allows ELLs to explicitly acquire the skill describing the sequence of events by using transition phrases in both oral and written forms, reflecting greater language proficiency and engagement in the lesson.

Teachers also use Think-Pair-Share to encourage students to orally practice the skills, reinforcing both content knowledge and language production. This technique providers a low-risk environment for students to practice academic language, build on each other's ideas, and grow the confidence needed to present to whole class at a later opportunity.

Flexible grouping is used to provide opportunities for peer collaboration and cooperative learning experiences, where ELLs work with students at various proficiency levels to engage in reciprocal teaching. ELLs are paired with more advanced peers to model language use and practice academic discourse.

Since the beginning of 2024, we have implemented Thinking Maps school-wide to teach cognitive processing skills and address language demands. By linking language development to cognitive processing, these maps help students organize their thoughts and articulate complex ideas in both oral and written formats.

We use both formative assessments and NYSESLAT data to closely monitor the language development needs of ELLs. These assessments help teachers adjust instruction to ensure students are making progress and receiving the right amount of support.

By integrating language objectives, using Thinking Maps, and closely monitoring student progress with formative assessments and NYSESLAT data, we provide targeted support for ELLs, ensuring that all students receive a high-quality, standards-based academic experience.

The impact of these strategies results in increased student engagement, improved language proficiency, and deeper academic understanding, all of which empower our ELLs to succeed academically and develop the skills needed for future success. These practices will continue to evolve and expand into the next school year, further enhancing the learning experience for all students, especially ELLs.

2. How does your school's leadership team ensure ELLs have access to core instruction/curriculum?

Our school's leadership team is deeply committed to ensuring that English Language Learners (ELLs) have full access to high-quality, standards-based core instruction across all subject areas. We employ several strategies and structures to guarantee that ELLs can engage with the curriculum meaningfully and receive the support they need to succeed:

Data-Driven Decision Making:
The Instructional Leadership Team (ILT), which includes representatives from each grade level and subgroup at our school, meets weekly to review student performance data. This includes data from NYSELAT, iReady, Acadience, and formative assessments. The ILT uses this data to identify specific learning needs for ELLs and collaborates with other school teams to design and implement multi-tiered supports. This ensures that ELLs have targeted interventions while still engaging with the core curriculum.

Collaborative Planning Structures:
We have established structured opportunities for grade-level teams and Monday PLCs (Professional Learning Communities) to meet regularly and discuss instructional practices. During these meetings, the representatives from the ILT ensure that core instruction is aligned with state standards and appropriately differentiated to support ELLs. Common planning time also allows the team to plan for language objectives, scaffolded materials, and formative assessments that align with the curriculum, ensuring all students, including ELLs, can meet grade-level expectations.

Understanding by Design Framework:
Each year our new teachers are trained in the Understanding by Design (UbD) framework, ensuring that we build capacity in backward design planning. This is the framework that is used for instructional planning across all subjects. This approach ensures that lessons are designed with clear learning goals, and that language objectives are integrated with content objectives. In every unit, we focus on addressing the curriculum, assessment, and instructional practices so that ELLs have access to grade-level content while being supported in their language development.

Strategic Language Identification and Support:
At the beginning of each year, the leadership team reviews eligibility data for incoming ELLs and establishes a plan to complete the identification process with minimal disruption to ENL instruction. By carefully managing the language identification process, we ensure that ELLs are placed in the appropriate program models, allowing them to receive targeted support while continuing to engage with the core curriculum. For example, students who speak the same home language may be assigned to teachers who speak their language, which increases opportunities for language support and strengthens their connection to the curriculum.

Access to Home Language Support:
To further ensure equitable access to core instruction, we strategically assign students to teachers who speak their home language when possible. This practice helps to bridge language gaps, ensuring that ELLs can access content while receiving additional support in their native language. By integrating this support, students can more effectively engage with the curriculum, allowing for smoother transitions into English language acquisition.

Through these structured processes and focused strategies, the ILT ensures that ELLs are not only exposed to but actively engage with core instruction in a way that is aligned to their language and academic needs. These efforts result in greater academic success and language proficiency for our ELLs.

3. Describe how core content is delivered in each program model. Specify language, and the instructional approaches and methods to foster language development and meet the demands of the Next Generation Learning Standards.

PS 77 ensures that teachers across grade bands have structured opportunities for collaborative planning and professional learning. Through common planning time, teachers can design rigorous lessons tailored to the needs of MLs/ELLs while ensuring consistency in content delivery across program models. Key elements of this planning include:

Analyzing Student Work:
Teachers regularly analyze student work to identify academic strengths and language development needs, ensuring that instruction is differentiated and aligned to both content standards and language objectives.

Developing Language Objectives:
During planning sessions, teachers identify the linguistic demands of lessons and establish language objectives that align with content standards. For example, in a social studies lesson on colonialism, the language objective might be for students to describe the economic impact of colonization using key vocabulary like “trade,” “colony,” and “resource.”

ENL CO-TEACHING MODEL:
In the ENL co-teaching model, the primary language of instruction is English, with native language support provided when possible to scaffold students’ understanding. This model is particularly effective for ELLs in the transitioning and expanding stages of language acquisition. Here’s how we integrate language objectives, scaffolding, and outcomes into this model:

Language Objectives:

Example: In a math lesson on fractions, the language objective could be for students to explain the process of comparing fractions using appropriate mathematical language such as “numerator,” “denominator,” and “greater than.”

Scaffolds:
Teachers provide visual aids like fraction bars and sentence frames to support students in constructing mathematically accurate responses (e.g., “The fraction _ is greater than _ because _”).

Instructional Strategies:
Vocabulary Instruction: Teachers integrate explicit vocabulary instruction into every lesson, ensuring that key terms are defined and modeled for students. For example, graphic organizers are used to support students in categorizing and defining terms in science or math.

Videos & Visuals: Videos and interactive visuals help reinforce concepts and provide contextualized language input for beginning or emerging ELLs.

By the end of the unit, ELLs are able to articulate their understanding of mathematical concepts in complete sentences and use academic language in both oral and written responses. Student engagement increases as students can make real-world connections to the content through visuals and videos.

DUAL LANGUAGE PROGRAM:
In our DL program, students receive instruction in both English and Spanish through a 50:50 model. The goal of this biliteracy approach is to develop proficiency in both languages, ensuring that students become competent in academic language across disciplines.
Teachers explicitly highlight cognates (e.g., "ecosistema" and "ecosystem") to help students make connections between languages and deepen their understanding of key concepts.

Instructional Strategies:
-Teachers provide bilingual resources (e.g., charts, bilingual dictionaries, sentence starters) to ensure that students can access content in both languages.

-Students work in pairs or small groups to discuss content in both languages, promoting language transfer and deeper understanding of academic concepts.

-Students in the DL program demonstrate biliteracy by being able to apply academic vocabulary in both English and Spanish with increasing fluency.

Our collaborative planning structures ensure coherence across grade bands and program models by integrating content objectives, language objectives, and social justice objectives. Each lesson is designed with these three elements in mind to ensure that:

Content Objectives: Teachers align academic standards (e.g., Next Generation Science Standards) with lesson goals.

Language Objectives: Teachers identify the specific language functions (e.g., explaining, comparing, summarizing) and language demands (e.g., academic vocabulary, grammatical structures) required for the task.

Social Justice Objectives: Teachers incorporate social justice standards into each lesson to promote an understanding of diversity, equity, and inclusion, ensuring that students’ identities are affirmed and that they engage in critical thinking about the world around them.

To foster independence and metacognitive skills, we use Wildly Important Goals (WIGs) in every classroom. These goals, set collaboratively by students and teachers, help students take ownership of their learning.

Here's how this approach supports ELLs:
Setting Goals:
Students, including ELLs, set language goals alongside academic goals. For example, a student might set a WIG to improve academic vocabulary related to math or reading comprehension.

Regular Conferences:
Teachers meet with students regularly to reflect on their progress, adjust their Lead Measures (strategies that will help them reach their WIGs), and ensure that language development remains a primary focus in their learning.

ELLs gain deeper metacognitive awareness of their language learning process, increasing engagement and self-efficacy.

For example, an ELL student might reflect on their ability to use math-related vocabulary accurately during small group activities, setting a new goal to incorporate these words more frequently in writing.

The Writing Process and 6 + 1 Traits framework support ELLs in developing their writing skills across disciplines. In the Writing Workshop structure, students receive instruction on the stages of writing—prewriting, drafting, revising, editing, and publishing—with explicit language instruction to scaffold their progress.

Example: In a narrative writing lesson, students might be asked to plan their stories using graphic organizers, then draft their writing, focusing on the traits of organization and word choice.

ELLs show increased fluency and coherence in their writing, as evidenced by improvements in their ability to produce organized and well-supported written responses using grade-level vocabulary.

By implementing a variety of instructional strategies across our program models (ENL co-teaching and Dual Language), we ensure that ELLs receive a rigorous, high-quality academic experience that is responsive to their language development needs. Through collaborative planning, targeted language objectives, scaffolded supports, and a focus on social justice, we provide our ELLs with the tools they need to succeed academically and develop into independent learners who are equipped with both language skills and the ability to think critically about the world around them.

4. What instructional strategies and grade-level materials, including technology, do teachers of MLs/ELLs use to provide access to grade level academic content areas and accelerate English language development? Include core content area and language materials with consideration to specific ELL subgroups.

a. ELLs with IEPs

To ensure that ELLs, particularly those with IEPs, have access to grade-level academic content while simultaneously accelerating their English language development, we implement a variety of targeted instructional strategies, differentiated materials, and scaffolding techniques designed to meet their unique needs.

We make intentional adjustments in instructional strategies and materials to ensure they have access to grade-level academic content while developing English language skills, particularly in social studies and writing.

Explicit Vocabulary Instruction is a priority, with a focus on Tier 2 and Tier 3 vocabulary. For ELLs with IEPs, modified vocabulary instruction is used, including personalized word walls, bilingual glossaries, and multi-sensory approaches such as interactive digital tools (e.g., Google Translate) that support both language development and academic growth.

Teachers use leveled texts, and Thinking Maps to provide ELLs with diverse entry points to grade-level content. For ELLs with IEPs, we make adjustments to these materials, offering simplified texts, read-alouds, and audio versions to support comprehension. These materials are also available in multiple languages when necessary, enabling students to connect their home language to the content.

Close Reading and the 3-Read Protocol are utilized across subjects to help students engage deeply with grade-level texts. For ELLs with IEPs, we provide sentence starters, graphic organizers, and visual aids to break down complex texts into more manageable chunks. Additionally, small group instruction is used to focus on specific needs, such as comprehension or vocabulary development, based on individual IEP goals.

Think-Pair-Share and Partner Talk are incorporated into lessons to allow ELLs to practice language in a supportive environment. For students with IEPs, we adjust the complexity of prompts and provide peer support and visual cues to facilitate communication, ensuring that all students have the opportunity to engage meaningfully in discussions.

5 Mathematical Practices and Number Talks are used in math instruction to encourage students to explain their reasoning. For ELLs with IEPs, manipulatives, visual representations, and step-by-step problem-solving guides are incorporated to reinforce understanding, helping students overcome language barriers while developing critical math skills.

In our dual language program, instruction is delivered in both English and Spanish (or other home languages where applicable), helping students develop biliteracy. For ELLs with IEPs, we incorporate visual supports, cognates, and language-specific scaffolds to ensure that both languages are integrated effectively, meeting students where they are in their language development.

Assistive technology such as speech-to-text tools, audio books, and translation apps (e.g., Google Translate, Read&Write for Google) are provided to ELLs with IEPs, allowing them to access content independently and at their own pace. These tools are particularly beneficial in supporting both language development and the completion of academic tasks.

b. SIFE

Zero percent of our ELLs are SIFE students, yet in the event there were any students that meet this criteria, the structures for collaborative planning across grades would afford teachers time time to collaborate on lesson planning for ELLs to ensure instruction promotes transfer of knowledge and skills across languages and grades. SIFE students would be in classes with peers their own age and would receive small group or individual instruction as needed to help with academic and school-specific skills. By working with consultants from Teaching Matters, teachers are further supported in planning and delivering lessons that are aligned with the backward design for planning, which inherently promotes transference of knowledge and skills across disciplines and thanks to the use of language objectives, skills are transferred across languages too.

c. Newcomers

Students with less than two years in the country, particularly newcomers, receive targeted support focused on basic English language acquisition. To ensure all students' needs are met, teachers engage in collaborative planning during grade-level team meetings to modify lessons and incorporate specific language supports.

Evidence-based strategies are employed to address language gaps and promote academic growth, such as:

Scaffolded Lessons: Teachers adjust content delivery using visual aids, sentence frames, and native language supports where possible, enabling newcomers to access academic content while developing English proficiency.

Differentiated Instruction: Lessons are designed to meet students where they are in their language development, with tiered scaffolds and differentiated materials that provide gradual language support.

Additionally, we use data-driven practices and specific evaluation protocols, such as the North Star Curriculum Evaluation Rubric, to assess and improve the quality of units and lesson plans. This ensures that every lesson offers high-quality, targeted opportunities for newcomers to develop both language skills and academic content knowledge, directly supporting their progress toward language proficiency and academic success.

By consistently refining instructional practices and using data to guide decisions, students make measurable progress in language acquisition and academic achievement, with outcomes showing increased engagement and mastery of grade-level content.

d. Long Term ELLs

According to the 2024 EDAT report, the school currently does not have any long-term ELLs. However, should this population arise, they would be supported through grade-level curriculum and targeted small group instruction.

Evidence-based strategies for supporting long-term ELLs include:

Small Group Instruction: Focused lessons targeting specific language gaps and academic needs.

Frequent Progress Monitoring: Regular use of tools such as one-on-one conferences, exit slips, turn and talks, and the 5 Mathematical Practices to track language development and academic progress.

This data-driven instruction ensures that long-term ELLs receive the necessary scaffolds and supports to accelerate their language development and academic success, leading to measurable improvements in both language proficiency and content mastery.

5. What supports does your school provide to ELLs with IEPs to achieve their IEP goals and attain English language proficiency within the least restrictive environment?

ELLs with IEPs are assessed using the same assessments as General Education students, but may receive more intensive assessment based on their ability. For example, an upper-grade ELL who has an IEP that affects their reading ability will also receive letter-sound assessments and other early reading skill assessments. Based on these results, additional curricula may be used with ELLs with IEPs (ex: Fundations, Reading Rescue, etc.) All teachers of ELLs are informed of which students have IEPs and what their specific goals are, and are encouraged to collaborate with other service providers (Speech, OT, etc.) to create a consistency in instruction. Students who have proficiency in specific subject areas may be invited to participate in a less restrictive class for that subject. Where allowed by the IEP, ELL SWDs will be invited to participate in integrated ENL in a less restrictive environment.

6. How is home language assessed in each program model (DLBE, TBE, and ENL)?

ENL: For Spanish speaking ELLs, the Spanish LAB (SLAB) is given at the time of identification as an ELL to determine a baseline of Spanish ability. While the majority of Spanish-dominant ELLs are placed in the DL program, two of the ENL teachers are fluent in Spanish and able to use their Spanish ability to support students who remain in the ENL program. For students of other languages, the approach for home language assessment and support will differ based on the language. For example, Bedford Park Elementary School has a staff member who speaks Bengali and who can help determine the linguistic ability of Bengali-speaking students. In addition, for students of literate ages, texts in their home language are provided, and understanding can be assessed by a variety of means depending on their English proficiency level. Students who speak minimal English are also allowed to write in their home language, and their writing can be translated either via computer software like Google Translate or by human translator.

7. (For grades 6-12 only) What language electives are offered to MLs/ELLs? How is your school preparing MLs/ELLs to obtain the New York State Seal of Biliteracy?

NA

8. Describe systems and structures for supporting co-teaching and collaboration among teachers for all ELL program models available at your school (e.g. integrated co-teaching, Dual Language Bilingual Education teacher partnerships, etc.).

Collaboration is a cornerstone of our instructional approach. To ensure alignment and coherence across grade levels, we utilize a variety of collaborative structures, including common grade team meetings and Monday PLCs (Professional Learning Communities). Here's how we ensure that ENL teams and content teachers work together to enhance student learning:

CO-TEACHING STRATEGIES

Push-In & Pull-Out Support: In our co-teaching model, the ENL team collaborates with classroom teachers to provide differentiated instruction during lessons. For example, during a social studies lesson, the ENL teacher pushes in to support language development by providing visual supports, vocabulary reinforcement, and sentence frames to help students engage with the content. In contrast, for small group support, the ENL teacher pulls out students to focus on targeted language skills, such as academic vocabulary related to the lesson.

Shared Planning and Team Teaching: During common planning sessions, teachers work together to co-plan lessons, ensuring that both content objectives and language objectives are met. For example, in a writing lesson, the ENL teacher and classroom teacher may plan together to introduce key language demands and then co-teach the lesson, with the ENL teacher providing real-time language support as students practice independent writing.

STRUCTURES FOR COLLABORATIVE PLANNING:

Grade-Level Meetings: In addition to weekly PLCs, ENL team members join grade-level planning sessions to ensure that language support is fully integrated into content instruction. This collaboration results in stronger coherence between push-in and pull-out services, ensuring students receive consistent, aligned support across all settings.

Dual Language Committee Meetings: To further support our Dual Language (DL) teachers, we have scheduled additional time every other week for DL educators to meet and plan together. These meetings focus on strategies to foster biliteracy, integrate cognates, and plan bilingual resources for upcoming lessons, ensuring students develop language skills in both English and their home language.

Teachers have reported increased student engagement and language proficiency as a result of these collaborative efforts. Specifically, in co-taught classrooms, students have shown improvements in academic language use and the ability to apply content-specific vocabulary in both oral and written forms.

In our Dual Language program, students demonstrate measurable growth in reading and writing in both languages, with assessments showing improved content understanding and language development in both English and Spanish.

By prioritizing collaborative planning, co-teaching strategies, and consistent communication between content and language teachers, we ensure that our students receive a rigorous and language-supportive education that meets their academic and linguistic needs.

9. Describe how your overall, annual professional learning plan ensures that all staff – including administrators, teachers and -non-pedagogical staff – incorporates learning specifically related to the academic and social emotional needs of MLs/ELLs. Professional learning topics might include co-teaching strategies, or integrating language and content instruction.

Professional learning at our school is specifically designed to address the academic and social-emotional needs of ELLs, ensuring alignment with the Leader in Me framework and the SEAD (Social-Emotional and Academic Development) model.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT TOPICS:

Academic Needs of ELLs: Training includes strategies for supporting language acquisition (e.g., stages of language development), differentiation for diverse learners, and academic vocabulary instruction.

Social-Emotional Support for Newcomers: Focus on understanding the emotional needs of newcomers and providing trauma-informed practices, helping teachers support adjustment to a new culture and school environment. Through tools from The Ruler Approach, such as: the mood meter, metamoment, class charter, we foster a positive, supportive school climate that helps newcomers develop the emotional skills necessary to navigate their adjustment.

Integration with Leader in Me: Teachers are trained to incorporate student voice, leadership skills, and goal setting into their classroom practices to promote student agency.

Attendance: To ensure strong support for our students, particularly newcomers and ELLs, we assign Success Mentors—both adults and peers—who play a critical role in fostering relationships and guiding students through their academic and social-emotional adjustment.
All teachers (PK-5) and ENL staff participate in this ongoing professional learning.

PD occurs on a weekly basis through grade-level meetings, Monday PLCs, and cross-content planning sessions.
6th Prep and PLCs: Teachers have dedicated time during their weekly prep to collaborate in grade-level teams for planning. Additionally, Monday PLCs are structured to allow vertical planning (PK-5) and cross-content collaboration. This fosters alignment in curriculum sequencing, helps identify gaps in knowledge, and ensures that rigorous instructional progression supports ELLs' language development.

Teachers report increased alignment in lesson planning and a clear progression of skills across grade levels, directly resulting in improved language acquisition and academic outcomes for ELLs.

Students show growth in language proficiency and social-emotional adjustment through consistent PDSA (Plan-Do-Study-Act) cycles, with data showing improvements in engagement, academic language use, and social-emotional skills over time.

This structured, collaborative approach to PD ensures that ELLs receive consistent, high-quality instruction that addresses both academic rigor and emotional well-being, leading to measurable growth in their academic performance and overall success.

10. Describe your school's professional development plan in order to meet the mandated Continuing Teacher and Leader Education (CTLE) ELL specific hours for certification renewal as per CR Part 154 (15% of total hours for all certified faculty [holders of professional certificates in the classroom teaching service, educational leadership service and level III teaching assistant certificate holders] and 50% of total hours for bilingual education/ENL teachers receive ELL-specific professional development).

Our CTLE requirements ensure that all certified staff, particularly bilingual and ENL teachers, receive targeted professional development aligned with CR Part 154 to support ELLs. Specifically, 15% of total hours for all faculty and 50% of total hours for bilingual/ENL teachers are dedicated to ELL-specific PD, directly linking professional learning to ELL student growth.

Bilingual Expert Series & RBERN Workshops:
Teachers participate in the Bilingual Expert Series and workshops offered by the Regional Bilingual Education Resource Network (RBERN). These sessions focus on practical strategies that drive improvements in ELL instruction. For example, in the first RBERN training session, teachers will:

-Use data analysis tools to organize and analyze NYSESLAT data, enabling data-driven decisions and targeted interventions for ELLs.
-Incorporate IEPs to inform planning for ELLs with disabilities, ensuring that instructional strategies are tailored to meet the needs of all learners.
-Modify instructional strategies to better support targeted groups, such as beginner or intermediate ELLs.
-Implement vocabulary development strategies to accelerate academic language acquisition and support academic progress for ELLs.

These workshops will lead to improved use of data in instructional planning, particularly for ELLs, helping ensure that language development and academic achievement are closely aligned with students' needs.

Our ENL Liaison attends training with district instructional leads and then turnkey the information to the rest of the staff. This multifaceted approach allows for widespread implementation of best practices across the school. As a result of these trainings, in the upcoming school year, teachers will:

Analyze data to make direct connections to instructional shifts, ensuring that teaching practices align with student needs and language development goals.

Understand Tier 2 and Tier 3 vocabulary, specifically focusing on how these vocabulary levels can be integrated into daily instruction, supporting academic language proficiency for ELLs.

Explicitly teach academic vocabulary, with a focus on MLL/ELL students, to help increase content comprehension and language skills.

Develop an understanding of language functions and how to identify the language demands of tasks across content areas, ensuring that ELLs have the support they need to access content and build both language and academic skills.

These PD initiatives lead to measurable improvements in ELL student outcomes, particularly in areas such as academic vocabulary, language proficiency, and content mastery, fostering student engagement and academic discourse.

Teachers' ability to use data effectively, modify instruction, and target vocabulary instruction directly contributes to increased ELL engagement, accelerated language development, and higher academic performance in core content areas.

Assessment

SCREENERS

11. Which screening assessments (e.g.iReady, MAP Growth, Acadience, or STAR Reading) does your school use to guide instructional planning for your ELLs?

Instructional planning for ELLs is guided by results from screening assessments such as Acadience and iReady, which help teachers identify student needs and tailor instruction to accelerate learning. Based on these results, teachers make strategic adjustments to groupings, instruction, and intervention services to support academic and language growth.

Data-Informed Grouping & Instructional Adjustments: Screening data helps teachers group students according to their needs. For example:

Low-Scoring ELLs who score below benchmark on Acadience or iReady may be placed in small, targeted intervention groups for focused instruction on foundational skills, such as phonemic awareness or basic vocabulary development. Teachers may use decodable texts or native language materials to bridge gaps.

Intermediate ELLs who demonstrate some proficiency in English but need more support with academic language may receive instruction in small groups focused on Tier 2 vocabulary and content-area-specific language. These groups might incorporate strategies like word walls, language scaffolds, and interactive vocabulary games to reinforce key concepts.

Advanced ELLs who show strong language proficiency may be grouped for enrichment opportunities where they can engage in higher-order thinking tasks like writing tasks or academic discussions that challenge their language skills and content understanding.

Teachers may also adjust groupings periodically based on progress. For instance, if a group of students is showing mastery of certain vocabulary, they might be moved to a more advanced group for deeper content discussions or reading comprehension tasks.

By using data-driven decisions, ongoing progress monitoring, and targeted interventions, we ensure that ELLs receive instruction tailored to their individual learning needs, leading to measurable improvements in both language proficiency and academic performance.

12. For all grades, list and describe your targeted intervention programs for ELLs in ELA, Math, and other core content areas (specify ELL subgroups targeted). Include the language(s) in which the intervention services are offered.

Our school uses a data-driven approach to assess the academic and language development needs of English Language Learners (ELLs), ensuring that targeted interventions are in place for students who need additional support. We offer a range of intervention programs and support structures for ELLs based on their unique academic needs and language proficiency levels, as identified through regular screening and progress monitoring. Below is an overview of our intervention programs with specific focus on different ELL subgroups.

ELLs at the Entering, Emerging, and Transitioning levels of language proficiency who struggle with decoding and fluency.

ELLs in the Transitioning and Expanding stages who are at risk of not meeting grade-level expectations.
Weekly small group sessions provided in 10-day cycles, focus on language development through speaking, listening, and academic discourse. These groups engage in activities such as sentence frames, role-playing, and discussion prompts to practice academic language.

Teachers regularly review data and create 6-week plans with specific progress monitoring checkpoints. Based on progress, teachers adjust the intervention strategies to meet individual needs.

By integrating these targeted intervention programs, we ensure that ELLs have access to grade-level academic content while simultaneously accelerating their English language development. Whether students need intensive Tier 3 support in foundational literacy, preventive Tier 2 services for academic language, or enrichment services to extend their learning, our approach is comprehensive and tailored to the unique needs of each student. Through regular data analysis and progress monitoring, we continually refine our interventions to maximize student success.

13. For all grades, describe how your school uses data to guide instruction for ELLs within a Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS). Refer to the Instructional Leadership Tool for MLs and ELLs and MTSS Guide for MLs and ELLs to help in the development and implementation of your school's plan for MLs/ELLs.

Our robust assessment calendar provides the framework for a data driven culture that serves as a guide for instruction for all students, including ELLs.
The detailed calendar includes time for implementing assessments, analyzing results, adjusting the curriculum to address the needs we identify, and to re-teach lessons as needed to support learning.
Through collaborative planning practices that include engaging in lesson study protocols as grade teams, teachers are able to borrow and build upon best practices to deliver strong tier 1 instruction.
Students who are 1 level below or approaching grade level performance qualify for Tier 2 instruction and are provided with this level of support during the school day. We ensure this is possible by calendaring our small group instruction in reading, writing, and math, ensuring that students that are 1 level below or approaching grade level performance are seen 2-3 times a week for targeted instruction. Students performing two or more grade levels below are seen 3-5 times a week.

FORMATIVE

14. Which formative assessments (e.g. NYC performance Tasks, ELL Periodic Assessment, HLA Assessment, DRA, teacher-created assessments, etc.) are used to inform and drive instruction?

To ensure effective instruction for our ELLs, we utilize a variety of formative assessments that inform our teaching strategies. Each assessment is strategically selected to provide data on student progress, identify areas of need, and inform the specific instructional adjustments required. These assessments and their connections to ELL subgroups include:

Acadience Measures, Words Their Way, and Fundations (Reading and Phonics)

ELL Subgroups Targeted: Emerging (Entering, Emerging, Transitioning)

These assessments measure early literacy skills such as phonemic awareness, phonics, and decoding skills.

Instructional Actions:
For students with significant gaps in phonics (often entering or emerging ELLs), additional phonics instruction is provided using multisensory techniques, such as Fundations tiles, to build foundational literacy skills.

Teachers adjust reading group sizes and focus areas based on individual student progress, such as offering more intensive small-group or one-on-one phonics sessions for students who are struggling.

HMH Module Assessments for reading

Instructional Actions:
For ELLs in Tier 1, especially those in the Transitioning and Expanding subgroups, teachers use results from these assessments to differentiate instruction. For example, if an ELL student struggles with academic language or vocabulary, teachers will focus on vocabulary-building exercises (e.g., using sentence frames, Thinking Maps, and academic word walls).

Results are also used to form strategy groups during Daily 5 (reading) or Daily 3 (math), where students are grouped by specific needs, such as comprehension, problem-solving, or mathematical vocabulary.

Writer’s Workshop On-Demand Pieces (Writing)

ELL Subgroups Targeted: All ELL subgroups (Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, Expanding)

On-demand writing assessments give insights into students’ writing abilities, specifically their use of academic language, grammar, and writing conventions.

For students with emerging or developing writing skills, teachers provide additional writing supports, such as graphic organizers, sentence starters, and peer feedback activities. This ensures that students have access to scaffolded support and can work toward higher-level writing tasks.

Teachers also track specific areas of need, such as sentence structure, vocabulary usage, and cohesion in writing. Based on these areas, individualized writing mini-lessons are incorporated to address specific challenges.

Estrellita and Palabras a Su Paso (Dual Language Program)

ELL Subgroups Targeted: Spanish-speaking ELLs (Entering, Emerging, Transitioning)
Data Provided: These assessments evaluate students' acquisition of Spanish literacy, including phonemic awareness and decoding.

Instructional Actions:

For ELLs in the Dual Language program, these assessments guide adjustments to both the Spanish and English instruction. For example, if an ELL student struggles with Spanish phonics (a foundational literacy skill), teachers provide targeted phonics support in Spanish through activities that reinforce letter-sound correspondence, vocabulary, and writing.

The data helps determine if additional reinforcement in Spanish is needed before progressing to complex academic tasks in English.

Exit Slips, Turn-and-Talks, and Quick Writes (Ongoing Formative Assessments)

ELL Subgroups Targeted: All ELL subgroups, with a focus on language functions and content mastery
These informal assessments provide immediate feedback on students' comprehension and ability to articulate their thinking.

Instructional Actions:
If students show gaps in understanding content or academic language during these quick checks, teachers immediately adjust their instruction. For example, if an ELL student struggles to explain a math concept using academic language, the teacher may provide additional vocabulary support, such as a language frame (e.g., "In this equation, the [term] represents...").

Data from these quick assessments also helps inform the grouping of students for small-group instruction. For instance, if a group of students consistently struggles with the same language function (e.g., describing a scientific process), they may be pulled into a strategy group for targeted practice.

Every lesson is designed with clear content objectives, language objectives, and social justice objectives to ensure that all students, especially ELLs, have access to high-quality, standards-based learning.

By using a variety of assessments to gather data, teachers can adjust instruction in real-time and implement strategies that target specific needs for different ELL subgroups.

Small group instruction is a key strategy in meeting ELLs' needs, with the Daily 5 (reading) and Daily 3 (math) models allowing for flexible grouping based on the results of formative assessments. These differentiated groups enable students to receive personalized attention, practice targeted skills, and engage in content-specific academic discourse.

Through these intentional practices, formative assessments not only help teachers monitor students' progress but also inform the necessary instructional actions to ensure accelerated English language development and academic content mastery for ELLs across all grade levels.

15. How do you ensure that MLs/ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their home languages throughout the year?

The dual language program assesses ELLs in Spanish using Estrellita and Palabras a Su Paso. Writing on-demands are used throughout the year to assess students' written proficiency.

SUMMATIVE

16. Which summative assessments (e.g. NYSESLAT, ELA, Math, Regents, etc.) are used to evaluate the effectiveness of your ML/ELL programs and how does it inform instructional design and curricular decisions? (Refer to the ELL Data Analysis Tool).

NYSESLAT, ELA, Math exams are used to evaluate the effectiveness of ELL instruction. By analyzing the data we see which modalities students are struggling most with and adjust instruction accordingly. For example, after seeing students struggle with writing on the 2023 NYSESLAT, the ENL team made a concentrated effort to emphasize writing in their instruction for the following year.

17. What is your NYSESLAT administration plan? How does your school ensure that all ELLs are tested with the NYSESLAT annually? Include the titles of the staff that will administer and score the assessment. Please describe your plan to ensure that all ELLs and former ELLs continue to receive mandated instruction during the testing period.

NYSESLAT administration will be done by trained pedagogical staff, including the ENL Team and members of the Dual Language Team. Teachers will not score their own students' work. ELLs in the Dual Language program will continue to receive their mandated minutes in their classrooms. ELLs receiving remote instruction will also continue to receive their minutes.

18. How does your school ensure that current and former ELLs receive necessary accommodations for state assessments, including the Specialized High School Admissions Test (SHSAT) if applicable?

Part VI: Family Partnership

Family Partnership

Required Meetings Under CR Part 154

Describe your schools' plan to ensure families of ELLs are provided with the required meetings specified below as per CR Part 154. Include:

- Topics discussed during these meetings
- How your school ensures families receive necessary translation/interpretation supports to meaningfully engage in the meetings
- How your school schedules these meetings to facilitate attendance, and how your school maintains evidence of these meetings as required per the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs.

a. ELL Program Orientation to inform parents/guardians of newly identified ELLs of ELL program options, including the program goals and requirements for all three ML/ELL program models: Dual Language Bilingual Education, Transitional Bilingual Education and English as a New Language regardless of whether the school currently has either type of bilingual program and provide a high-quality orientation section on the Next Generation Learning Standards, assessments, and school expectations for English Language Learners.

PS 77's plan to ensure families of ELLs are provided with the required meetings specified below as per CR Part 154 include the use of the language access team and support staff that speak the parents' home language.

During the parent orientation for parents of ELLs, families are invited to watch a video which describes the 3 programs that are offered in the New York City Public Schools. After the video, the ENL teacher answers questions about the program in our school and informs parents of their right to request a transfer when the preferred program is not available. Our goal is for families to make an informed choice on the survey.

Parents are invited to complete the ELL Parent Survey and Program Agreement during the orientation meeting.

b. Annual Individual Meeting to discuss goals of the program, language development progress, language proficiency assessment results, and language development needs in all content areas. Note: this meeting is separate from and does not include the mandated ELL program orientation meeting and DOE-scheduled parent-teacher conferences.

Annual Individual meeting are held to inform parents of ELLS about their academic and language progress in school. Each family meets individually with school staff to discuss the students' level of language proficiency assessment results, the progress made, and what services will be provided to discuss goals of the program, language development progress.

The meeting is scheduled during Tuesday Parent Engagement documented with sign in sheet and agenda (see details below), areas of strength and needs across the 4 modalities for each ELL identified student.

Meeting Agenda
Goals of the Program (ENL, TBE or DL)
Language Development progress
Language Proficiency results
Language development needs across content areas
Parent/Guardian Q & A

Family Engagement

2. Beyond the mandated meetings and orientations, describe how your school:
a. Ensures families receive all school communications and documents in the language they best understand. How are families able to respond or initiate communications in languages other than English?

In addition to the translation services provided by the DOE, we offer parents the following:
-Communication via Class Dojo which allows translation in the language of choice.
-Over the phone translation unit

b. Develops activities that foster empowerment for families of MLs/ELLs. Include how your school determines the needs of your community.

In addition the NYC school survey, we also share a Leader in Me survey with families 2 times per year. The Parent Coordinator is also involved in surveying parent interests and needs. During Monthly Coffee Chats with the parent coordinator, parents are provided with important information and systems training to equip them with the skills needed to be stronger advocates for their children.

c. Ensures families of MLs/ELLs are aware of family leadership opportunities (such as Parent Association (PA), School Leadership Team (SLT), Community Education Council (CEC), etc.)

Families of MLs/ELLs are informed of leadership opportunities during Parent Association (PA) meetings, School Leadership Team (SLT) meetings, Community Education Council (CEC), etc.
All information is provided in multiple languages.

3. What culturally and linguistically responsive partnerships do you currently have that support the needs of your school community?

-NYU CRSE
-Anchor Services

Part VII: Additional Information

Additional Information

Include any additional information that is relevant to your LAP and would further explain and highlight how your school supports MLs/ELLs. This form does not allow graphics and charts to be pasted.

na

Part VIII: ELL Identification Attestation and Principal Certification

Identification Plan

For additional information, refer to ELL Identification Attestation Professional Learning Module.

1. What are the titles of the members of your ELL identification team? Note: Members of the ELL identification team must be pedagogues.

M. Roman- ENL Teacher
A. Burgos- ENL Teacher
D. Bedus- ENL Teacher

2. Describe the structures and process in place for identification of ELLs year-round as required by the NYC DOE Policy & Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, including your school's identification plan for any incoming students with an Individualized Education Plan (IEP). Include:

- How your school proactively plans for the ELL identification process so that it does not interrupt the provision of mandated ENL and/or bilingual instruction to current, former and potential ELLs,
- Who is responsible for each step of the ELL identification process, and
- School's plan for ensuring ELLs and former ELLs will continue to receive mandated instruction.

Parents begin the registration process with the pupil account secretary. Then the ENL providers or a trained pedagogue administer the Home Language Survey to all new students. After completion, a copy is kept on file at the school and the original is placed in the student's cumulative record. An Individual Interview is conducted in English and in the student's home language by qualified personnel with students and parents/guardians. The results of the individual interview confirm that the student's home or primary language is other than English. If the primary language is English, then the process ends. If the student's primary language is something other than English, a mandated interview is conducted to determine NYSITELL eligibility. The NYSITELL is administered right after the interview, if the student does not have an IEP. If the student does have an IEP, the Language Proficiency Team comes together to determine if the student has second language needs. The LPT is made up of administrators,a school psychologist, ENL provider, Special Education teacher, and parent. If the LPT recommends to the principal that the student with an IEP does not have second language acquisition needs, and the principal agrees, the principal notifies the superintendent and the parents/guardians.The superintendent then has ten days to agree or disagree. If the superintendent agrees, the parents/guardians are notified within five days of the final determination if the student will not take the NYSITELL and thus not be designated as an ELL, and their right to request a review and their screening for ELL Identification stops. Interview notes, academic and assessment history, work samples, and record of LPT considerations are to be collected and maintained in each student's cumulative record. If they are recommended to take the NYSITELL, the students can be given accommodations during the NYSITELL test. ENL teachers administer the NYSITELL and the results will determine the student's ELL designation. Once they have an ELL designation or they have passed the NYSITELL, parents are notified with a letter. A copy of this letter is placed in the cumulative file. If the student's Home Language denotes Spanish as the home language, then the SLAB is administered as well.

Potential ELL students are programmed in STARS pending the completion of the ELL identification process. Once ELL status is confirmed, STARS is updated as per the proficiency level achieved on the NYSITELL.

Principal Certification

In accordance with New York State's Commissioner's Regulations Part 154 as outlined and implemented in the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, I, attest that the following ELL identification procedures and activities are adhered to, and staff are trained on the items listed below.

- The ELL Identification Process is completed for each student within 10 school days of enrollment (20 school days for students entering with IEPs).
- Enrollment status of each newly admitted student is determined:
  a. If a student has been in New York State public schools within the past 2 years, our school contacts the previous school to obtain ELL status, relevant assessment scores, and English language proficiency level.
  b. If a student has been outside of New York State public schools for more than 2 years, our school administers the ELL Identification Process as part of reentry.

- The home language of the student is determined by a trained and licensed pedagogue.
  a. The parent completes the Home Language Identification Survey in the parent's preferred language; translation services are provided by a bilingual staff member, the DOE's over-the-phone translation services, or an alternative, high quality translation service.

- An interview with parents and students in English and the home language is conducted. This includes reviewing documents, prior assessments, and academic experience. An assessment of the student's abilities and/or work samples determines the student's literacy and math level in his/her home language.
- Eligibility for the NYSITELL is determined.
  a. If the newly enrolled student is entering with an IEP, the school's Language Proficiency Team (LPT) recommends eligibility to the principal, who obtains final approval from the superintendent.

- Students are administered the NYSITELL, if eligible.
- Notification letters are sent to the parent/guardian in their preferred language.
  a. Parent is notified of their child's ELL status and results of the NYSITELL.

- If the student is identified as an ELL and the student's home language is Spanish, the student is administered the Spanish Language Assessment Battery (LAB).
- Student with Interrupted/Inconsistent Formal Education (SIFE) status is determined using New York State's resources.
- If a student is a newly identified ELL, the parent is invited to the parent orientation meeting.
  a. The parent orientation meeting provides parents/guardians with an explanation of each ELL program model offered in NYC; the parent video describing the three programs is presented (in parent's preferred language); parents/guardians are encouraged to ask questions so that they are informed about all ELL programs; translation and interpretation services are provided throughout the meeting.

- ELL is placed in the ELL program that the parent selected.
  a. If the bilingual program that the parent selected is not available, the parent is offered a transfer to a school with that bilingual program in accordance with NYC DOE transfer policies.
  b. If the ELL remains in the school, the ELL is placed in English as a New Language and our school keeps track of parent selection so that when minimum thresholds are met, we can open the ELL program of choice.

- Parents are notified that they have 45 days to appeal the ELL status of their child (ELL Re-identification Process).
- If the ELL Re-identification Process is implemented for any student, the principal reviews the decision of any student whose ELL status was changed because of the ELL Re-identification Process within 6 to 12 months.
- Copies of documentation regarding ELL identification, including letters and parent notifications are kept in the students' cumulative files.

LTI Overview and Part A: Designation of a LAC

Chancellor's Regulation A-663 establishes procedures for ensuring that Limited-English-Proficient (LEP) parents of students enrolled in the New York City public schools are provide with a meaningful opportunity to participate in and have access to programs and services critical to their child's education. To this end, schools must review and complete the annual LTI Plan to address its language assistance needs consistent with the requirements of this regulation.

The LTI Plan requires information on the following:

- Name of person designated as the Language Access Coordinator (LAC).
- Identification and assessment of LEP parent population.
- Identification of Critical Communications and standing, in-person meetings throughout the school year that require language assistance services and how the school plans to respond to these needs.
- Plan to ensure staff awareness of language access requirements and available resources.
- Provision of notice to parents on the available language assistance services.

Methods for the school to solicit and implement feedback on its provision of language assistance services.

Designation of a LAC
Name of person designated and trained as the LAC.
At the start of each school year, each principal is required to designate at least one staff member to serve as the Language Access Coordinator (LAC), responsible for overseeing language assistance services within the school.

We have pre-populated the following information based on our records. Please confirm that the designated staff member(s) are your school's Galaxy-designated LAC(s) and provide the date(s) they attended the OLA Language Access Coordinator Training. Note that this training is in addition to the mandatory asynchronous NYCPS Language Access Training for School-based Staff on the WeLearnNYC learning platform. If any information is missing, please provide the requested details.

As a reminder, LACs are internal staff designations and are not meant to serve as the primary point of contact for families regarding language access-related matters. The Parent Coordinator, or another designated staff member, should remain the main contact for families regarding all issues, including language access.

1. List the documents your school typically distributes each year that require translation, along with your plan for translating these documents.

Document Type (e.g. parent flyers, IEPs, etc.)	How do you plan to implement the translation process? Please include procedures and resources to ensure the timely delivery of translated documents to parents.
Parent Handbook	Translated by parent coordinator in Spanish
Event flyers	Translated by parent coordinator in Spanish

2. List the meetings, both in-person and virtual, that your school typically holds with parents throughout the school year, along with your plans for providing interpretation services at those meetings.

Meeting Type (e.g. parent workshops, PTCs)	How do you plan to offer interpretation services? Please outline the procedures and resources in place to ensure timely access to interpretation for parents.

Annual Back to School Fair	Staff members provide translation; translation unit is consulted as needed.

3. Describe the resources and processes your school will use to communicate with parents who speak a language other than English during an emergency (e.g., lockdown, fire, student attendance, nurse/hospital visit, etc.), or when a parent needs to contact the school in an emergency, ensuring communication is in their preferred language.

Part D: Staff Awareness

Staff Awareness

Plan to ensure staff awareness of language access requirements and available resources.

1. Describe how your school will ensure that all staff members complete the required asynchronous NYCPS Language Access Training for School-based Staff on the WeLearnNYC learning platform, and are familiar with the Best Practices for When to Provide Translation of Critical Written Communications to Parents and Best Practices for When to Provide Interpretation for Critical Oral Communications with Parents. Additionally, explain how your Galaxy-designated LAC will disseminate future language access resources and updates to all staff members.

Guidance outlining Chancellor's Regulation A-663 is included in the Staff Handbook that each staff member receives at the beginning of the year. In addition to this, teachers are provided with regular reminders of the guidance right before each of the four Parent Teacher Conferences. A training is also provided to the staff in October. The training includes information about accessing translation and over-the-phone interpretation services from the Translation and Interpretation Unit, location of translated signs for posting and Language Identification Cards for identifying parent's primary language, Resources and support available from the Translation and Interpretation unit, and who the school's LAC is. Lastly where they can locate the Language Access Handbook, list of bilingual staff, and LTI services.

Part E: Parental Notification

Parental Notification

Provision of notice to parents on the available language assistance services.

1. Describe how your school will inform parents about available language assistance services in their preferred language. Include any of the following:

- Translated signage
- Brochures, flyers, or letters shared with parents
- Parent engagement events where language assistance services are highlighted (e.g., PTA meetings, international parents' night, etc.)
- Messaging applications

- Language Access for NYC Public Schools Families brochure

The following steps are taken to ensure that limited English proficient parents are aware of their rights to receive information in their preferred language:
Translated signage posted in the lobby
Brochures/flyers/letters shared with parents
Any parent engagement events where this is expressed (i.e. PTA meetings, international parent's night, etc..)
Messaging phone applications
Parent's Guide to Language Access
NYC Public School Guidebook

Part F: Monitoring

Monitoring

Methods for soliciting and implementing feedback on language assistance services.

1. In addition to the feedback received from parents via OLA's Translation & Interpretation Feedback Survey, describe the methods your school will use to gather feedback from parents regarding the language assistance services they receive in their preferred language.

We utilize the Home Language Survey to update ATS and use the RCPL report to gather data on parent preferred languages. With this data, we then translate any documents that limited English-proficient parents need. We conduct outreach to parents via phone, email, and dojo messages to make sure parents are satisfied with the language services they receive. In addition to these measures, we also seek feedback through the Annual NYC School Survey and Bi Annual Leader in Me Survey.

2. How has your school worked to improve its language assistance services? Share any feedback results and outline your plans for further improvements in the upcoming school year.

We strive to meet the needs of all speakers of other languages so everyone in our school community is able to communicate with school staff and feel welcomed. We post materials in English and in Spanish and using DOE translation services, we offer translation in the 9 major language spoken by families. Using the translation and Interpretation unit as needed as well as translations using multiple technology sources such as Google app translations and pocket translators. We will explore new options for language services using technology in the upcoming school year.

Title III Outline

Title III Supplemental Program for ELLs for SY 2025-26

REQUIREMENTS

Title III supplemental services for English Language Learners (ELLs) must include the following three components:

- Direct instruction activities must be used to support language development, English and home language instruction, high academic achievement in math, and/or high academic achievement in other core academic areas. The Title III supplemental instructional services must be based on student need. These supplemental services should complement core bilingual and ENL services required under CR Part 154. Direct supplemental services should be provided for before school, after school, and Saturday programs. Teachers providing the services must be bilingual education and/or English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) certified teachers.
- High quality professional development that is "of sufficient intensity and duration to have a positive and lasting impact on the teachers' performance in classrooms." Professional development activities should be well-planned, ongoing events rather than one-day or short-term workshops and conferences.
- Parent engagement and supports must ensure that there are appropriate translation and interpretation services to meet community needs. These are in addition to mandated activities, such as parent orientation during ELL identification process or annual ELL parent meetings.

Note: The Title III ELL program planning ratio is as follows: 60% to direct instruction, 10% to professional development (if funded using Title III ELL funds), 10% to parent engagement (if funded using Title III ELL funds), and 20% to OTPS (if funded using Title III ELL funds).

For more information on Title III requirements, please see the School Allocation Memo or contact your ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance and Performance Specialist. Any updates or revisions to this plan must be made through the iPlan portal.

BEFORE SCHOOL MATH ENL SUPPLEMENTAL SUPPORT (1 teacher/8 -10 3rd-5th grade students)
Bilingual teacher will support 24-30 ELLs from 3rd-5th grade. Through this program, ELLs will develop procedural fluency and conceptual understanding, engaging in the gradual release model. Teacher will present a range of mathematical problems, from simple algorithms to develop fluency, to open ended questions, to multistep problems that require students to show their work and explain their thinking.
Lesson structure will include a minilesson where the teacher demonstrates the strategy by modeling it using think alouds and visual aides in the form of charts and manipulatives. This approach will also serve to model accountable talk and mathematical discourse that students can then use when explaining their problem solving strategies.
Students will be invited to practice the strategy with support from the teacher and peers, before going off to work independently.
The program will take place from November 12th to January 16th , from 7 am to 8 am, for 24 sessions.
Assistant Principal will supervise the morning program, at no cost to Title III ELL

AFTER SCHOOL FOUNDATIONAL LITERACY SKILLS:
3 Bilingual Teachers will provide support to groups of students from Kindergarten to 3rd grade (10 students in each group).
Teachers will focus on building students' decoding skills, providing targeted support that ranges from teaching letter names and sounds, initial/final sounds, blending sounds, decoding cvc to multisyllabic words.
Students will also have opportunities to read decodable texts and produce written responses. Every lesson will target the 4 modalities, with opportunities for students to read, write, speak, and listen.
Assistant Principal will supervise the morning program, at no cost to Title III ELL.

Program will serve ENL and dual language students in grades K-5, at all levels of language proficiency, Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays, from 2:20 p.m. to 3:50 p.m., in 6 week cycles as follows:
Cycle 1: November 13th- December 19th (12 sessions)
Cycle 2: January 8th - February 14th (12 sessions
Cycle 3: March 5th - April 10th (12 sessions)

54 hours of instruction + 18 hours of planning x 7 teachers= 504 hours.
Title III funding will be used to cover the cost of 33 sessions.

Rationale for Title III ELL Funded Programs

Describe the rationale for each Title III ELL funded program. For each program, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis that support the need for program, and
- Data sources used to justify the need for the program

At PS 77, we pride ourselves in being a culturally and language diverse school community. 38% of our students speak another language at home, collectively speaking over 10 different languages. Our ENL population constitutes approximately 38% of our student body; the percentage of non-ells participating in our dual language program is also 30%. Over half of our student body is learning a second language, therefore, it is of utmost importance that we provide high quality instruction inclusive of teacher training, and supplemental support that will ensure that our second language learners succeed in achieving language proficiency, academic progress, and cultural competence.

Our school currently serves 130 ELLs and 27 former ELLs.

The results of the 2024 NYSESLAT (148 ELLs) indicate that our students' levels of language proficiency are as follows:
ENTERING =38
EMERGING = 32
TRANSITIONING = 31
EXPANDING = 47
COMMANDING = 22
The results of the 2025 NYSESLAT (130 ELLs) indicate that our students' levels of language proficiency are as follows:
ENTERING =18
EMERGING = 32
TRANSITIONING = 24
EXPANDING = 56
COMMANDING = 27

Compared to the 2023-24 NYSESLAT results, in 2024-25, the number of ELLs that tested out (commanding) increased by 5% (from 22 to 27); the number of ELLs that tested at Expanding, increased by 611% (from 47 to 56). The overall proficiency level of students has improved, with a significant drop in students performing at the entering level and the biggest improvement in the expanding level.

While the 2024-25 NYSESLAT results show steady progress in language acquisition, both ELA and mathematics achievement data indicate the continued need for targeted, extended-day academic support, particularly for students still developing foundational English skills.

NYS math Exam Data 2025 (ELLs)
students level 1: 37
students level 2: 22
students level 3: 11
students level 4: 0

ELL students experienced a decline in proficiency, highlighting a critical priority area for targeted instructional support and tailored resources.

Approximately 20% of students two or more levels below on iReady corresponds with those at the lowest proficiency levels on the NYS exam, reinforcing the connection between foundational skill gaps and state test outcome.

The majority of ELLs are performing at Levels 1 and 2 on the NYS math exam, with many two or more levels below in reading according to iReady. These factors reinforce the need for additional support to accelerate progress and close the achievement gap.

Students and Grade Levels to be Served

For each Title III ELL funded program, describe the students that will be served. Include:

- Total number of ELLs for each program,
- Grade levels for ELLs in program, and

Our ELL proficiency levels are as follows:
ENTERING =18
EMERGING = 32
TRANSITIONING = 24
EXPANDING = 56
COMMANDING = 27

Through the supplemental program we will support 46% of our ELLs as follows:
K-2 (30 students)
3rd-5th Entering (30 students)
Program will target ELLs in need of Tier 2 and Tier 3 support (i.e. 2 or more risk factors), as well as potential Long Term ELLs.
Attendance and rosters will be maintained on file.

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III ELL funded program, include:

- Start and end dates/months,
- Total number of sessions,
- Days of the week the program will be offered, and

Cycle 1: November 13th- December 19th (12 sessions)
Cycle 2: January 8th - February 14th (12 sessions

Cycle 3: March 5th - April 10th (12 sessions)

Because the lessons will have to be tailored to the needs of the students based on their levels of language proficiency, as well as diagnostic data, teachers will engage in 2 hours of planning and preparation per week.

Given our emphasis on empowering all members of our school community, there is an increased need for student agency and executive functioning skills. Our program will also include opportunities for students to engage in collaborative learning activities and project based/service learning experiences that will allow them to develop skills in these areas. To achieve the instructional goals mentioned above, teachers will explicitly teach language functions and skills across modalities when designing the lessons in and learning experiences. Books will be purchased using other funding sources for supplemental texts from the reading curriculum to be used for this program, along with targeted lessons (based on needs identified through diagnostic) from iReady.

Materials will be at no cost to Title III funding.

Part D: Family Engagement Activities

Family Engagement Summary

Provide a summary of your school's family engagement activities under your Title III ELL program. Describe the activities that families of ELLs will engage with by topic. Please make sure to include whether the activities will be funded by Title III ELL funds.
Please note: If family engagement activities will be funded by Title III ELL funds, vendor cost is calculated as part of OTPS and must not exceed 20% of the total allocation; teacher per-session is calculated as part of family engagement and must not exceed 10% of the total allocation.

BPES believes firmly in the importance of collaborating with parents and the community, to support the whole child; and we are committed to provide a welcoming and supporting environment for students, their families, and all other stakeholders. The purpose of parent engagement activities for parents of ELLs will be to equip parents with the skills they need in order to be strong advocates for their children.
We will offer parent workshops to help them understand grade level expectations and how they can support their children, raise awareness about resources available to enrich the lives and academic experiences of our students and their families. With the move to computer based testing, topics about digital literacy, citizenship, and safety are growing in importance. Workshops tailored to 5th grade families will be provided to help them with the application process. As a Leader in Me school, we will also provide 7 Habits for Families workshops throughout the year, and as part of our School Leadership Team structures, we will engage parents in a book study around a book of popular choice.

Parent activities will be at no cost to the Title III funds.

Rationale for Family Engagement Activities

Describe the rationale for the family engagement activities to be provided: For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., reasons for topics, time activities will be offered), and
- Data sources (e.g., parent survey responses, in-house parent surveys, PTA/PA request, etc.) used to justify the need for activities.

According to the 2025 NYC School Survey results, 80% of the responses from families related to questions about Building Families' Capacity as their Child's Primary Advocates, were favorable. The question specifically asks parents about how the school supports parents/caregivers with making decisions about which schools or programs would be best for their child in the following school-year.

The Leader in Me Measurable Results Survey results for the element of Family and Community Engagement, shows a score of 66 out of 100, indicating a need for more families/caregivers to engage as partners in their child's learning. Upon further analysis of this data we have identified the following possible root causes:
-language barriers that pose obstacles in meaningful engagement
-competing priorities preventing families from attending events

Offering parent engagement activities in person as well as virtually, and offering the following topics: the 8 Habits, book study around The Four Agreements, and monthly Coffee Chats with the Parent Coordinator can support in addressing these root causes.

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III ELL family engagement activity, include:

- Start and end dates/months,
- Total number of sessions,
- Days of sessions, and
- Time and duration of sessions.

Family Notification of Activities and Translation and Interpretation Supports:

Describe:

- How families will be notified of Title ELL family engagement activities (e.g., phone calls, emails),
- How notification of activities will be translated into parent/guardians' preferred language, and
- How interpretation supports will be provided at events.

Parent activities will be at no cost to the Title III funds.
Agendas and sign in sheets will be maintained on file.

Please note: Immigrant students are not necessarily English Language Learners (ELLs), and ELLs may or may not be immigrants. For the purpose of this funding, immigrant students are defined as individuals who were not born in any U.S. state (this includes the District of Columbia and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico); and have not been attending one or more schools in any one or more states for more than three full, academic years (the months need not be consecutive).

Part C: Professional Development

Professional Development Summary
Provide a summary of your school's plan for professional development under your Title III Immigrant program. Please make sure to describe:

- Professional development to be provided,
- Activities that teachers will engage with by topic, and
- Whether the professional development provided will be funded by Title III Immigrant funds. Please note: If PD will be funded by Title III Immigrant funds, vendor cost is calculated as part of OTPS and must not exceed 20% of the total allocation; teacher per-session is calculated as part of PD and must not exceed 10% of the total allocation.

Please make sure to describe:

- Professional development to be provided
- Activities that teachers will engage with by topic
- Whether the professional development provided will be at cost to Title III Immigrant funds

This year teachers will engage in a total of 1-2 cycles of professional development during the Monday Professional Learning time, with an underlying theme of language demands and cognitive skills linked to language development to improve the quality of students' oral discourse and writing By maintaining these two topics through all PD opportunities, all teachers--including those that serve ELLs will be better prepared to support our diverse learners. This professional development opportunity will be provided at no cost to Title III Immigrant funds.

In addition to this PD, teachers will also receive training around how to use Thinking Maps to support students in developing cognitive thinking skills.

Dual Language Teachers will also engage in robust professional development with Teaching Matters Consultant to focus on metalinguistic awareness and cross linguistic teaching strategies.

Through our partnership with the Office of Multilingual Learners and our Bilingual Teacher Leader program, teacher capacity will be strengthened with professional development, collaboration, and providing resources to improve skills and effectiveness.

Although professional development will not offer per session, professional books will be purchased for teachers using the balance of OTPS. This will not exceed the 20% allocation for materials.

Materials will stored in room 212.

Rationale for Professional Development
Describe the rationale for the professional development to be provided. For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., patterns and trends identified) that support the need for the professional development, and
- Data sources (e.g., school survey teacher responses, in-house teacher surveys, teacher observation data) used to justify the professional development.

For each activity include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis that support the need for the professional development
- Data sources used to justify the professional development

According to the Spring 2024 EDAT, the percentage of ELLs that are newcomers at our school is 85% (142).

Effective instruction for Newcomers includes:
-explicit instruction in Tier 1 and Tier 2 vocabulary and emphasis on oral language development
-simultaneous development of oral language skills, content knowledge, and critical thinking/analysis
-more frequent use of native language to promote native language skills development and transference of skills
- visuals and non-verbal cues used for instructional purposes and accepted as evidence of learning
-screening for SIFE and support with foundational skills in literacy and numeracy
- stronger culturally responsive practices that promote a safe and supportive environment

As a result of this, teachers of ELLs would benefit from professional development that will support them in improving their practices around teaching vocabulary and cognitive skills linked to language development.
