Section 1: Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Comprehensive Education Planning (CEP) is a structured, data-driven process that guides schools in assessing their needs, identifying areas for growth, setting strategic goals and implementing targeted actions to improve student outcomes. Collaboratively developed by the School Leadership Team (SLT) in accordance with the requirements of Chancellor's Regulation A-655, the CEP meets New York State Education Department (NYSED) requirements under the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) and aligns with NYC Public Schools' (NYCPS) system-wide priorities. By engaging all stakeholders—school leaders, teachers, families, students and community members—schools can create a data-informed, equity-focused roadmap for student success and continuous improvement.

Schools should focus their CEP on the five system-wide priorities below, connecting their planning to the data discussions and conversations with stakeholders held as part of the school's needs assessment:

- Priority 1: All students learn to read well
- Priority 2: All students are physically and emotionally safe
- Priority 3: All students have a high-quality academic experience
- Priority 4: All students graduate college and career ready and have a strong plan and pathway to economic security
- Priority 5: All districts and schools are more inclusive and responsive for parents and families, including having more families choose NYC Public Schools

The Education Planning Process

The CEP follows an equity-driven, continuous improvement cycle, rooted in the system-wide priorities. This begins with a comprehensive needs assessment of the school's most current data to identify priority needs and root causes. Next, the SLT establishes specific, measurable, attainable, relevant, and timely—SMART goal(s) aligned to each priority and determines targets to measure progress toward meeting the annual goals.

The SLT and instructional leaders define key evidence-based key strategies, professional learning activities and parent, family and community empowerment efforts. They monitor the implementation of those strategies and activities and track progress through measurable targets. Then, the SLT aligns the school-based budget with human and instructional resources to support action plans.

As schools set goals, develop key strategies, and plan action steps, they provide opportunities for all children to meet NYSED's proficient and advanced levels of student academic achievement. These include evidence based instructional strategies that address the educational needs of historically underserved populations and tackle structural inequities. Schools indicate how the plan addresses the needs of Multilingual/English Language Learners (ML/ELL) through development of the school's Language Allocation Policy (LAP) & Title III Application (if applicable) and the Language Translation and Interpretation (LTI) Plan, that are required as part of the CEP. Schools also address the needs of Students with Disabilities (SWD) through the High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities section of the plan. SLTs also develop a plan to improve attendance and reduce chronic absenteeism.

Guidance on Conducting a Comprehensive Needs Assessment

Directions: Conduct a comprehensive needs assessment for each Priority. The information below provides guidance for reviewing and analyzing student and school performance trends to uncover root causes for low student achievement.

1. Review Multiple Data Sources: Use the most current and available information including, but not limited to, the following sources of formative and summative data, as applicable:

- Qualitative and quantitative data, including enrollment and class size trends
- 2024-25 ESSA Accountability Data
- Instructional Leadership Framework (ILF), Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) Inventories, and NYC School Survey results
- Quality Review Reports, NYSED and NYCPS CSI or A/TSI Support Visits, Receivership Quarterly Reports, and Diagnostic Tool for School and District Effectiveness Framework (DTSDE)
- NYC School Quality Guide, Insight, New Visions, NWEA MAP and/or other formative assessment data, IEP Review Survey Data, Progress on IEP Goals Data, Program (SESIS-STARS Linkage) Reports, Mandated (Related) Services Reports, and NYCPS Tools for Understanding Your Data for student subgroup information

2. Analyze Data Trend(s) to Identify Areas of Strength and Need: Identify data trends by grade, cohort, and content area(s) to surface gaps and inequities. Compare data sets to identify instructional and school practices that are impacting student performance. Guiding questions to consider:

- What does the data reveal about improving and declining student performance trends within grades, cohorts, and student subgroups?
- What inequities are evident between highest and lowest performing student subgroups? Which subgroup(s) scored at Level 1 based on NYSED ESSA accountability indicators?
- What does the data suggest regarding the effectiveness (or ineffectiveness) of current school programs, practices, and/or strategies/initiatives? What areas may need to be strengthened?
- Are there any differences in student performance between program delivery models for ML/ELL and SWD? (e.g., for special education: special class, ICT, SETSS, related services only; for ML/ELL: Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) vs. Dual Language, etc.)
- How does delivery of instruction factor into data trends? What are the implications for teacher quality and professional learning?
- What inequities in special education referral and school disciplinary practices (e.g. suspensions, removals) are evident between student subgroups with IEPs?

3. Identify Root Cause(s): After analyzing the data, engage in a process for uncovering root causes or contributing factors for low student and school performance. Develop theories or hypotheses to explain why these needs exist and why your school is getting its current outcomes. Root causes could be related to gaps and inequities in areas such as curriculum & instruction, school systems & structures, student support services, school climate & safety, and family & community engagement. Focus on the causes, rather than the symptoms. Use the 5 Whys Method or other methods for identifying root causes. Consider the questions below:

- What theories or hypotheses explain the current student and school outcomes?
- Are there root causes specific to certain subgroups, grades, cohorts, or content area(s)?

Additional resources and supports are available below.

- Use this CEP Needs Assessment Worksheet to help your SLT and stakeholders identify appropriate data sources, data trends, root causes and priority needs.
- For guidance and best practices on engaging stakeholders in a comprehensive needs assessment and root cause analysis, see this deck.
- A current list of all CEP/Title I resources can be found on the iPlan Portal Public Resources Page.

Section 3: CEP SLT/Stakeholder Signature Page

School Leadership Team (SLT) Signature Page

All School Leadership Team (SLT) members are expected to sign this page to confirm their participation in the development of this Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) and that they have been consulted regarding the alignment of the school-based budget to support this school's educational program, which includes annual goals and action plans, Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS), the Parent and Family Engagement Policy (PFEP) and the School-Parent Compact (SPC). The SLT must include an equal number of parents and staff and have a minimum of 10 and a maximum of 17 members, in accordance with Chancellor's Regulation A-655. The SLT also serves as the Core Community Engagement Team (CET) for Receivership Schools. Additional information and resources are available on the School Leadership Team Resources page. Under the Federal Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), NYS Education Law and Commissioner's Regulations, stakeholder participation in the development of the CEP must include multiple constituencies who represent the school community. Note: Stakeholders participating in the development of the CEP who are not listed on the SLT page sign the section below entitled Additional Stakeholder Participation on CEP Development.

Directions: List the names of each SLT member in the first column on the chart below.

- Specify the position and constituent group represented, e.g., parent-PTA, staff-UFT, student. Note: Two student minimum required for high schools; SED requires Middle Schools identified for the CSI/ATSI/TSI support model to have student representation.

Section 4: School Summary

Accountability Status

School Summary

Directions: Complete this CEP Summary to serve as the "at-a-glance" narrative that provides contextual information about your school's unique characteristics. This summary and the entire Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) should be shared with your school community. Please note that this summary and the CEP will be made available to the public through the iPlan Portal, an online space where school stakeholders can go to collaborate in the development of the school's education plans.

Provide your school's mission statement:

The motto of P.S./I.S. 229K is "Home , School , Community." These three supports are the necessary elements to educate the whole child academically, socially and emotionally. We are a school community that shows respect for all stakeholders, including administration, teachers, support staff, parents, and our students. We respect diverse cultures, adversities, and active voices. We believe that developing students' critical thinking, clear communication, continuous reflection, and collaboration skills is vital in the goal of becoming global citizens. We will help students achieve these skills through content-rich curriculum and the integration of technology which enables us to focus on the learning process and growth of all children in this evolving world.

Develop a narrative summary that includes contextual information about your school's community and its unique/important characteristics and partnerships:

Include demographic information about your school's student population.

Situated in Dyker Beach, a scenic part of Brooklyn close to the Verrazano Bridge, PS/IS 229K is a large school with an intimate, small school charm. Our teachers and staff get to know the children well, both as students and as people. Our student population is comprised of 61% children of Asian descent, 19% White, 17% Latino, and 2% Black. There are a number of native languages spoken at home and in the community, with the most prevalent being Chinese (Mandarin and/or Cantonese), Spanish, Arabic, and Russian.

We have realized that performance plus continued growth is what equals true success. Knowing that 21st century skills are not an option but a necessity in todays' global economy and ever-changing world, we continue to update and adjust. Technology certainly plays a large role. We continue to move towards one-to-one computing, with the new devices that are now in our students' hands. In 2025-2026, every student in GradesK-2 will have their own iPad and every students in Grades 3-8 will have their own Chromebook. The school library is complete. It has been upgraded to better support our burgeoning Digital Media and Journalism program. Included is a brand-new studio space for audio/video recording and editing, along with a pod-casting room. Needing to ensure safe opportunities for active learning and participation online, we have added Go Guardian and Pear Deck to our Google Classrooms. We continue to utilize IXL, which through real-time diagnostic assessment provides personalized online learning for students. Combined with i-Ready's online assessment and instruction suite, this provides teachers with the data and aligned resources they need to help all students grow and succeed in reading and mathematics.

The school now has three dedicated STEAM teachers, who work with classes through project-based learning focusing on Science-Technology-Engineering-Arts-Mathematics. Understanding that for students to truly excel academically and grow as individuals, social-emotional development is supported as well, our devoted guidance counselors facilitate "Respect for All" groups, where students work together to maintain a positive social environment. We have a dedicated, motivated Math Olympiad team made up of third grade to fifth grade students. They took great pride in achieving first place in individual and group contests at the District 20 Competition. A Calming Center on the third floor, is accessible to assist students and staff in maintaining a positive learning environment. Our Math Coach has implemented a Math Tutoring Program that continues to expand, where 4th and 5th grade students visit first through second grade classrooms to assist struggling students with math concepts. We have a "Mindful Monitor" program, where Middle School Students assist Elementary Teachers in their classrooms during the students' lunch periods.

With an over 15-year partnership with community-based organization, the Neighborhood Improvement Association (NIA), we continue to be able to provide a seamless day from approximately 8:00 AM – 6:00 PM. Being able to provide supplemental learning and recreational activities after school, during the summer, and even during vacations, has helped us achieve PS/IS 229K feeling like home for our students and our community.

Briefly summarize the key initiatives your school will implement this school year.

PS/IS 229K continues to provide an academically rigorous education, while at the same time offering diverse opportunities for acceleration and enrichment. For the 2025-26 school year, we once again had an over 95% pass rate for the Algebra I Regents and for the Biology Regents. Grade 8 students at PS/IS 229K also have the opportunity to earn foreign language credit, taking the Spanish Proficiency Exam. Most recently, over 30% of our grade eight students received offers for Specialized High Schools or to competitive specialized programs at other top high schools, including Stuyvesant, LaGuardia, and Goldstein. We are further enhancing our offerings in accelerated coursework by adding the U.S. History sequence in grades 7-8 this year, culminating with the U.S. History Regents in 2026.

In addition to the opportunity for high school credit through Regents-level coursework in mathematics and science, students have top-notch instruction in ELA, social studies, and the arts, which also serves as a springboard for specialized high schools and college preparation. We continue to offer additional electives including Civics, Pre-Med and STEAM. For the upcoming 2025-26 school year and beyond, we are continuing to develop a 21st century Digital Media and Journalism program. Our library has undergone a tremendous upgrade, turning the space into a true multi-media center to include 3-D printing, digital editing room, and podcast studio.
Partnering with both PBS News Hour's Student Reporting Labs and Story Maker, along with local colleges/universities, our staff and students will be more than able to raise their voices and be heard on a variety of topics and issues. Our students and staff have launched the Tiger New Network (TNN), broadcasting on school-related topics, along with current community and world issues.

Our school continues to have a strong community service focus, with staff, students, and families alike, giving back. We recently donated over 140 pounds of canned and packaged foods through our "Souper Bowl" drive. We participated in the St. Jude Children's Hospital Math-a-Thon for the past three years, raising over $44,000 in donations. Our first year, we had an established goal of raising $4,000. The amazing students, families, and staff exceeded that goal five times over, by raising just over $20,000!!! The next year, our goal was $5,000. We exceeded that goal by raising another $14,000!!! This past year, our goal was $5,000. We raised $10,000!

We are renewing our partnership with Junior Achievement NYC to provide financial literacy support to our students in the upper grades. Our former two-period/week Enrichment Groups are being reconfigured to an after-school model to include for example: chess, Pre-Med, SHSAT Prep, Sports (basketball, soccer, volleyball), and Community Helpers. We will have a continued partnership with the Sanitation Foundation's Youth Education Team. Our staff and students completed the Climate Action Challenge, and our school was awarded $2,500 for a future sustainability project. We used these funds and an additional grant to partner with the NY Horticultural Society and collaboratively planted a school garden. This continuing partnership also provides education on nutrition and healthy living.

Our students and staff are also proud to take part in a number of District 20 initiatives that also shine a light on their many talents. These include the district STEAM Expo, in which all of our third grade through eighth grade students develop a project by going through the engineering and design process. We have had a group of students meet and exceed the challenge of participating in the MOEMS' Math Olympiad. With the Project Soapbox introduced in grades one, four, and eight, we will be expanding participation to all grades. Students engage in a multi-step process to identify and research an issue of interest, with the goal of developing a short speech to motivate the community to act for change.

Theater is returning this year, with students and staff preparing to present a theatrical performance of Newsies, the musical.

Section 5: Priority 1 – All students learn to read well

Priority 1 Data Trends, Root Causes and Priority Needs

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

1. Data Trend(s) (Cite Data Source & Year)	2. Root Cause(s)	3. Priority Needs
SWD's compared to All Students shows 36.5% less On or Above grade level for Acadience Reading (K-2) and 29.1% more Well Below. SWD's compared to All Students shows 27.7% less On or Above grade level for i-Ready Reading(3-8) and 26.0% more Well Below.	Small class settings (self-contained) have not consistently used Really Great Reading to support foundational literacy skills and were not using Heggerty for phonemic awareness.	Training and materials for Really Great Reading and Heggerty need to be provided to both self-contained special education teachers and ICT teachers. Improved progress monitoring is a key need.
ENL's compared to All	When non-English proficient students	Foundational skills support from ENL

Students shows 34.7% less On or Above grade level for Acadience Reading (K-2) and 33.1% more Well Below. ENL's compared to All Students shows 44.2% less On or Above grade level for i-Ready Reading(3-8) and 39.3% more Well Below.	move into the upper grades an/or newly arrived ENL students enter upper grades, the focus has been on content-area learning, with not enough time and instruction to ensure strong foundational skills in English.	teacher and/or other trained staff needs to be provided for all Entering, Emerging, and Transitioning students in grades 3-8.
On i-Ready Math (K-8), SWD's compared to All Students were 28.6% less On or Above grade level and15.9% more Well Below. ENL's compared to All Students were 35.1% less On or Above grade level and 15.3% more Well Below.	ICT teachers in grades 4-8 have not been departmentalized like their grade-level colleagues, meaning they have had to focus on ELA, Math, Science and Social Studies. The majority of our ENL students have been concentrated in a single class on each grade level, meaning that teacher or teachers has had an extra heavy load with that one class per grade.	ICT teachers in grades 4-8 need to be departmentalized, meaning one teacher is responsible for supporting ELA/Social Studies, and the other is responsible for supporting Math/Science. As a school, we need to move away from specified ELL classes in grades 3-8, so as to provide more proficient models and to relieve the burden on specific classroom teachers.

Priority 1

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing school data trends, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for literacy outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Systemwide Focus Areas for Literacy

- Implement the strategies outlined in NYC Reads, including foundational phonics curriculum for grades K-2
- Implement dyslexia screening, professional learning, and program pilots (as applicable)
- Support literacy development through the integration of culturally responsive-sustaining texts and content

Priority 1 SMART Goal(s)

Target Population	Baseline Data	SMART Goal
Students with Disabilities (SWD)	49	By June, 2026, literacy for Students with Disabilities (SWD) will improve, as measured by a 3 percent Increase, from 49 to 52, of percentage of students scoring at or above proficiency on the NYS ELA exam results.
English Language Learners (ELL)	48	By June, 2026, literacy for English Language Learners (ELL) will improve, as measured by a 6 students Decrease, from 48 to 42, of number of students scoring below proficiency on the NYSELA exam results.
All Students	74	By June, 2026, literacy for All Students will improve, as measured by a 3 Increase, from 74 to 77, of percentage of students scoring at or above proficiency on the NYS ELA exam results.

Priority 1 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

All six special education teachers in our six self-contained, small class settings will be trained both Really Great Reading and Heggerty to be able to implement RGR effectively with their respective classes and use Heggerty to support those students needing additional sup[port with phoneminc awareness.

Root Cause Addressed:

Small class settings (self-contained) have not consistently used Really Great Reading to support foundational literacy skills and were not using Heggerty for phonemic awareness.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Schedule RGR and Heggerty training before school starts on September 4th, 2025
Specify daily/weekly times in schedule that students in classes 017, 106, 5305, 506, 605, and 805, will receive foundational skills instruction with RGR.
Through initial screener and secondary screener, determine which students would benefit from phonemic awareness with Heggerty.
Ensure additional RGR student materials are purchased, received, and in those classrooms.

Key Strategy 2 (Optional):

A "What I Need Now" period will be built into the schedule three times/week for grades K-5.

Root Cause Addressed:

Not enough time during the school day devoted to individual student needs, aside from core instruction (Tier 1) and small group instruction.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Identify three periods per week when zero classes on a grade have cluster/quota teachers, therefore all teachers and students available.
Ensure sixteen staff members are trained in Phonics for Reading, S.P.I.R.E., or REWARDS.
Use BOY Screener data and Acadience Survey (secondary diagnostic) to identify those students needing Tier 3 Intervention Plan WINN periods to include Tier 3 Intervention for a few, Structured Reteach for some, and Enriched & Expanded learning for others.

Implementation Monitoring: Indicate your primary structures to progress monitor implementation of key strategies and action steps. Include specific data/evidence you will collect and use to determine progress and impact on instruction, student learning, and achievement.

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

RGR and Acadience progress monitoring will be employed in between BOY i-Ready Reading and MOY i-Ready Reading, and again in between MOY i-Ready Reading and EOY i-Ready Reading.

MTSS Team will review and analyze ongoing progress monitoring data to make determinations as to students in Tier 3 Intervention, Tier 2 Support, and Enriched/Expanded learning.

Priority 2 Data Trends, Root Causes and Priority Needs

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

1. Data Trend(s) (Cite Data Source & Year)	2. Root Cause(s)	3. Priority Needs
On the NYC School Survey, 8 out of 9 questions under the topic of Personal Attention and Support had the Favorable Response percentage go down from previous year. 4 out of 8 questions under the topic of Social-Emotional had the Favorable Response percentage go down from the previous year, with one question having only a 13% Favorable Response rate and another only a 24% Favorable Response rate.	Middle school students do not have a clear understanding of what specific questions are asking.	The school needs to create a more clearly worded survey/ questionnaire to more accurately gauge students views and feelings regarding the personal attention and support they are receiving.
The lowest Favorable Response rate from Families on the NYC School Survey related to the Safety and	Addressing and resolving conflicts when they occur is	Use both staff and students to have a clear

Use this understanding to engage in preventative measures, in addition to continuing to fairly and successfully resolve them when they occur.
The questions with the lowest Favorable Response rate from Teachers on the NYC School Survey related to the Safety and School Climate category were, "At this school, students harass, bully, or intimidate other students," which was 72%, representing a positive increase of 5 points. The second lowest was, "How many adults at this school...recognize disruptive behavior as social-emotional learning opportunities," at 78%, representing a negative decrease of 3 points.	Addressing and resolving conflicts when they occur is being done fairly and successfully, but as a school we are not necessarily as proactive in preventing conflict and bullying.	A focus group of both staff and students needs to be formed to look more closely at bullying and conflict and to action plan.
Teachers gave a 92% Favorable Responses to, "At this school there is a positive school culture where students feel respected and listened to," however, students gave only 38% Favorable Responses to, "Adults at my school check in with me frequently about how I'm doing personally, and only 42% Favorable Responses to, "In how many of your classes this school year do you feel the following statement is True? My teachers...support me when I am upset."	Middle school teachers are more concerned with and more adept at planning content than they are at cultivating engagement, interest and purpose. If students are not outwardly exhibiting signs of being upset or sharing that they are stressed or worried about something, teachers are not asking.	The UbD Framework for designing aligned curriculum, instruction and assessment needs to be used to improve engagement and increase interest. An SEL period at least 1x/week should be required.

Priority 2

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing school data trends, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for physical and emotional safety outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Systemwide Focus Areas for Physical and Emotional Safety

- Develop safety infrastructure and systems, including staff training, collaboration with external partners, and implementation of safety and security best practices
- Expand social emotional and mental health supports via restorative justice, Project Pivot, screeners, and other district or school-based initiatives (as applicable)
- Expand implementation of physical and mental wellness supports, including Physical and Health Education that meets NYSED requirements and related initiatives
- Improve supports and outcomes for socially vulnerable student populations (Students in Temporary Housing, Students in Foster Care)

Priority 2 SMART Goal(s)

Target Population	Baseline Data	SMART Goal
All Students	58	By May, 2026, physical and mental wellness for All Students will improve, as measured by a 12 points Increase, in % of favorable responses for Personal Attention and Support from 58 to 70, per the NYC Schools Survey.
All Students	54	By May, 2026, physical and mental wellness for All Students will improve, as measured by a 12 point Increase, in % of favorable responses for Preventing Bullying from 54 to 66, per the NYSC School Survey.
All Students	55	By May, 2026, physical and mental wellness for All Students will improve, as measured by a 12 point Increase, in % of favorable responses for Social-Emotional from 55 to 67, per the NYC School Survey.

Priority 2 Progress Measures and Targets

Directions: It is expected that progress monitoring, based on interim outcome data, occurs at three progress monitoring periods during the school year. Identify what your school would expect to see at the end of each period to know if you are on track to reach the identified goal(s). The progress monitoring targets can be a percentage or a number and should reflect a sufficient improvement in outcomes to meet the goal. Note that all schools are required to enter results in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) on the iPlan Portal.

Priority 2 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Use the previous NYC School Survey questions as a reference in creating a school-based survey that includes questions regarding Personal Attention & Support, Bullying & Conflict, and Social-Emotional, in language written to be easily understood by middle school students (and younger). Have students complete the survey a first time in November.

Root Cause Addressed:

Middle school students do not have a clear understanding of what specific questions are asking.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Identify language in the NYC School Survey questions that could be ambiguous, confusing, or lacking conciseness.
Rewrite a significant number of questions (at least 3 per) for each of the three topics.
Share with teachers and staff for input.
Determine and schedule a window of dates to have students complete the survey.
Tabulate the percentages of favorable results.

Key Strategy 2 (Optional):

Establish a focus group of staff and students to look more closely at bullying and conflict and to action plan for prevention.

Root Cause Addressed:

Addressing and resolving conflicts when they occur is being done fairly and successfully, but as a school we are not necessarily as proactive in preventing conflict and bullying.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Identify approximately six teachers/staff and nine students who are willing and able to look more closely at bullying and conflict.
Determine a consensus understanding of what conflict is and what causes it. Determine a consensus understanding of what bullying is and what causes it.
Action plan for both adults and students to take steps towards addressing each cause in order to better prevent conflict and bullying from happening.
Ask student body for additional suggestions for prevention.

Implementation Monitoring: Indicate your primary structures to progress monitor implementation of key strategies and action steps. Include specific data/evidence you will collect and use to determine progress and impact on instruction, student learning, and achievement.

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

Check the number of OORS incidents that involve infractions related to bullying and conflict on a bi-monthly basis, including October 31, 2025, December 23, 2025, February 27, 2026, and April 30, 2026.

Priority 2 Family and Community Engagement

Human Resources

At least six staff members for focus group

Instructional Resources

Materials on bullying, conflict, and conflict resolution from OSYD and other reliable sources

Schedule Adjustments

Other Resources Needed

Possible trainers/experts in bullying, conflict, and conflict resolution

Teachers responded on the NYC Schools Survey question, "How many students in your class...have to work hard to do well," with a 73% Favorable Response rate. 14 teachers (27%) said, "Some." For the question, "How many students in your classes...respond to challenging questions in class, " 63% of teachers gave Favorable Responses and 22 (37%) said, "Some." For the topic of Quality of Student Discussion, which included five questions, the overall average of Favorable Responses by teachers was 69%, representing a 2 point decrease from previous year. Under the topic of Strong Core Instruction, teachers responded to the question, "In planning my last instructional unit, I had the resources and tools I needed to include multiple opportunities for...students to interact with complex grade-level texts and tasks, using scaffolding where appropriate," with a 100% Favorable Response rate for ELA and 96% Favorable Response rate for Math. That is an average Favorable Response rate of 98%. For Social Studies the Favorable Response rate dipped to 80% and for Science was an even lower 74%. That is an average Favorable Response rate of 77%. There was a 21 point negative difference in Favorable Responses between Social Studies/Science and that of ELA/Math.	Much more time and attention has been spent providing training and curricular resources for ELA and Math, than has been for Social Studies and Science.	Identify and utilize internal/external individuals with expertise in Science (including Amplify) and Social Studies (including Passport, Civics For All) to train and support staff.
For the topic of Quality of Professional Development, which included three questions, the overall average of Favorable Responses by teachers was 83%, representing a 1 point decrease from previous year.	The teachers individual and collective wants and needs were surveyed, but the PL offerings were still too one-size-fits-all.	Provide targeted professional learning for whole staff, groups, and individuals based on current wants/needs.

Priority 3

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing school data trends, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for high-quality academics outlined below. - Elevate health and physical education and activities for a reimagined and engaged student academic experience promoting social, emotional, and physical wellness and wellbeing
- Ensure teachers attend Physical Education and Health Education professional learning in order to provide quality instruction to be able to support and address the physical, mental, social, and emotional needs of the whole child in a safe and supportive learning environment
- Strengthen Early Childhood Education program utilization, quality, and ability to serve all students
- Elevate arts and civics for a reimagined and more engaged student academic experience
- Increase school staff diversity and retention
- Create new programs/schools in response to community need; expand high quality seats

Student responses to the NYC Survey topic, "Personal Attention and Support" showed an overall average Favorable Response rate of only 58%. For the question, "In general, my teachers make their lessons relevant to my everyday life experiences," there was a71% Favorable Response rate, with 79 students (24%) either Disagreeing or Strongly Disagreeing. For the question, "My teachers take into consideration how my background and identity affect my learning and interests," students provided a Favorable Response rate of 63%, with 79 students (24%) Disagreeing or Strongly Disagreeing. On the additional question, "Adults at this school teach me important skills about money, like earning it, saving it, and spending it wisely," students gave 53% Favorable Responses, with 139 (41%) Disagreeing or Strongly Disagreeing.	Middle school teachers are more concerned with and more adept at planning content than they are at cultivating engagement, interest and purpose.	Use of the UbD Framework for planning, along with continued inclusion of Hidden Voices materials is needed.
Families responded to the survey question, "This school provides resources to me and my child to prepare my child for college, career, and success in life after high school," with a Favorable Response rate of 83% and 127 (17%) Disagreeing or Strongly Disagreeing. For the question, "This school helps to prepare my child for college, career, and success in life after high school," families gave a Favorable Response at a rate of 88%. However, 67 (9%) Disagreed or Strongly Disagreed, and another 207 (27%) said, "I don't know."	The school has not done a good enough job of engaging parents/ families in understanding steps needed for college and career readiness.	Look for both internal and external individuals/resources that can promote and inform on College and Career Readiness. Have families involved in selecting, planning and participating in college visits.

Priority 4

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing school data trends, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for college and career readiness outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Systemwide Focus Areas for College and Career Readiness

- Expand career pathways and work-based learning, opportunities for early college credit and industry credentials, and college/career advising and awareness, including via the Career Readiness Modern Youth Apprenticeship and FutureReadyNYC (as applicable)
- Schools serving students in early childhood, elementary, and middle school settings should consider how they expose students to and prepare them for advanced (Regents-level) coursework, Specialized High School Admission Test (SHSAT) preparation, college awareness, career studies, etc.
- Integrate historical and contemporary contributions of culturally diverse professionals, scholars, and entrepreneurs into career readiness programs, ensuring students see diverse pathways to success
- Incorporate lessons on wealth-building strategies, cooperative economics, and financial independence to equip students with tools for long-term economic security
- Ensure the implementation of specialized support programs tailored for Students in Temporary Housing and/or Foster Care, addressing their unique educational needs and challenges

Priority 4 Progress Measures and Targets

Directions: It is expected that progress monitoring, based on interim outcome data, occurs at three progress monitoring periods during the school year. The progress monitoring targets can be a percentage or a number and should reflect a sufficient improvement in outcomes to meet the goal. Note that all schools are required to enter results in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) on the iPlan Portal.

Priority 4 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Train and support k-2 teachers and staff in the NYC Kids Rise/Save for College enrollment process and the benefits, so that the teachers/staff are better prepared to encourage families to enroll and participate. Ensure that these same teachers are after training, including the financial literacy content in their math lessons.

Root Cause Addressed:

Grade 2 students/families are at the highest rate of participation, 68.3%. Grade 1 has next highest rate at 66.1%. Kindergarten is much lower, at only 52.6%.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Leverage Central and District experts to train and support K-2 teachers/staff.
Draft universal language that all of our K-2 teachers/staff are to use when communicating with families about NYC Kids Rise/Save for College.
Have technology (laptops/I-pads) available whenever parents/guardians are in the building to support them in enrolling/participating.

Key Strategy 2 (Optional):

Create a College and Career Readiness focus group of parents, students and staff.

Root Cause Addressed:

The school has not done a good enough job of engaging parents/ families in understanding steps needed for college and career readiness.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Create a focus group for College & Career Readiness.
Determine a time and location to hold a College & Career Readiness Fair.
Invite parents/guardians and their children to attend the fair.
Have families involved in selecting, planning and participating in college visits.

Implementation Monitoring: Indicate your primary structures to progress monitor implementation of key strategies and action steps. Include specific data/evidence you will collect and use to determine progress and impact on instruction, student learning, and achievement.

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

Survey the families 3x per year, regarding Satisfaction with Child's Education.
Survey students 3x per year, regarding the school teaching important skills about money, like earning it, saving it, and spending it wisely.

Priority 4 Family and Community Engagement

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

Families responded to the survey question, "Since the beginning of the school year, how often have you... communicated with your child's teachers about your child's performance," with a Favorable Response rate of 85% and 121 (15%) said, "Rarely/Never." question, "During the school year, have you... attended a school meeting, school event, or parent-teacher conference (virtual or in-person)," families gave a Favorable Response at a rate of 84%, with 123 (16%) saying, "No." In response to the question, "I know how to contact the Parent Coordinator at my child's school," families had a 84% Favorable Response rate, with 120 (16%) saying, "No."	parents/guardians that rely on working multiple jobs to make ends meet. That makes it more challenging to get those family members into the school building.	They need to be given enough notice prior to make arrangements to attend. Meetings, events, conferences need to be scheduled in a more flexible manner.
Teachers responded to the NYC School Survey question, "How many teachers at this school... take responsibility for improving the school," with a 75% Favorable Response rate and 15 (25%) saying, "Some." For the question, "How many teachers at this school.. are eager to try new ideas," the teachers provided a 72% Favorable Response rate and with 17 (28%) saying, "Some."	25 - 30% of the teachers are either senior staff that are close to retirement or younger teachers that have young children needing them after the regular school day ends.	More events need to be planned and organized in a way that adults can attend and childcare or child-friendly activities occur simultaneously.
Student enrollment appears steady, at approximately a total of 1,150 students in Pre-K to Grade 8.	We are a well performing school, in a relatively safe neighborhood.	We must increase promotion of all of the things we offer and all of the successes.

Priority 5

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing the school data, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for parent, family, community and system responsiveness outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Focus Areas for System Responsiveness to Parents, Families and Communities

- Engage more deeply with families to understand their needs and plan new, high-quality programs
- Build community trust and bolster engagement, including via improved language access and increased family engagement and participation
- Implement the newly updated NYCPS School Wellness Policy, which provides a framework for all members of the school community, including families and students, to come together and assess and coordinate wellness efforts for their community
- Implement and lead strategies that support community involvement and increase Minority and Women Owned Business Enterprises (MWBE) utilization

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Use the previous NYC School Survey questions as a reference in creating a school-based survey that includes questions regarding Parent Involvement in School, in the languages that parents/guardians understand. Have families complete the survey a first time in Fall 2025.

Root Cause Addressed:

Translations for families and notification in their necessary languages of understanding has been inconsistent.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Identify language in the NYC School Survey questions that could be ambiguous, confusing, or lacking conciseness.
Rewrite a significant number of questions (at least 3) for the topic of Parent Involvement in School and provide translations.
Determine and schedule a window of dates for parents/guardians to complete the survey.
Continue Family Fridays and add other events based on survey responses.
More consistently use technology such as Pocket Talk handheld devices, Timekettle and Listentech translation earbuds during school events.

Key Strategy 2 (Optional):

Include parents/guardians as a focus group to be a part of the Wellness Committee.

Root Cause Addressed:

25 - 30% of the teachers are either senior staff that are close to retirement or younger teachers that have young children needing them after the regular school day ends.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Create a parent/guardian focus group interested in the improved wellness of all community members (students, families, and staff).
As a Wellness Committee, determine which activities or events to continue with and which activities or events can/should be added.
Ask families which dates/times are most feasible for them to attend/participate.
Schedule flexibly and accordingly.
Ensure translation/interpretation are provided.

Implementation Monitoring: Indicate your primary structures to progress monitor implementation of key strategies and action steps. Include specific data/evidence you will collect and use to determine progress and impact on instruction, student learning, and achievement.

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

Attendance/Chronic Absenteeism Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Celebrate publicly and/or privately, both students who have 95% and above period attendance AND students chronically absent students who have shown at least a 5% improvement over the previous attendance period.

Root Cause Addressed:

Approximately 1,068 out of 1,124 students present each day on average, yet a clear connection between absence and academic progress/performance has not resonated with students and their families.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Establish an attendance committee consisting of students, parents/guardians, and staff members.
The school's attendance team will share school level attendance data with the committee for analysis and discussion.
The committee will make recommendation for action steps to the attendance team.
Plan and schedule regular attendance celebrations to be both public and private (individual student's preference).

Key Strategy 2 (Optional):

Establish the Students Talking Attendance Realities (STAR) partnerships and check-ins for the approximately 25% of SWDs and approximately 26% of ELL/ML who have shown to be chronically absent.

Root Cause Addressed:

ELL/ML students in grades 6-8 at 35% and SWDs in grades K-5 at 26% are the subgroups with the highest percentage of chronically absent students.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Identify the approximately 50 SWDs and approximately 43 ELL/ML students who have exhibited chronic absenteeism previously.
Establish a clear and concise check-in and support protocol for chronically absent students.
Determine the 8-10 staff members that will be paired up with the between 9-12 students having showed chronic absenteeism.
Conduct an initial introductory STAR luncheon to start on a positive.
The 8-10 STAR staff members report on progress and challenges to the attendance team/committee.

Implementation Monitoring: Indicate your primary structures to progress monitor implementation of key strategies and action steps. Include specific data/evidence you will collect and use to determine progress and impact on instruction, student learning, and achievement.

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

Analysis and discussion of ATS period attendance reports and New Visions chronically absent reports will be a part of the ongoing Attendance Team meetings. Does Acadience, i-Ready Reading and i-Ready Math screener data (BOY, MOY, EOY) show progress for identified students?

High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities Data Trends, Root Causes and Priority Needs

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

1. Data Trend(s) (Cite Data Source & Year)	2. Root Cause(s)	3. Priority Needs (NYCPS Systemwide Needs for all schools noted below.)

All IPRs were completed for our grades 6-8 students this year. 84% of them (308 out of 368) were completed before the end of April.	With 368 students to meet with face-to-face and go through the IPR process with, two guidance counselors have the responsibility for approximately 184 each.	Transition Planning and Compliance
In response to the four questions under the NYC School Survey topic, "Inclusive Learning Environment," teachers provided an overall average of Favorable Responses at 97%.	As a school, we continue to prioritize both moving students to the least restrictive environment and also providing flexible programming.	Referral Process and Equity
In response to NYC School Survey question, "At this school, students with disabilities are included in all school activities," students provided a Favorable Response at a rate of 79%, with 45 students Disagreeing or Strongly Disagreeing, and another 125 responding, "I don't know."	It may be both a positive and a negative that as a school we seamlessly integrate our SWD's in the daily activities of the school and the unique offerings/events that occur less regularly. High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities Action Plan

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Both family and student voice will be cultivated and included in IEP creation, with an emphasis on where and when the student would like to see an increased amount of participation with peers not having IEPs.

Root Cause Addressed:

There has not been enough consistent and ongoing family involvement in IEP creation, implementation, and progress monitoring.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Administration meets with special education teachers, related service providers, and SBST team to place greater focus on family and student involvement in IEP development.
Administration, special education teachers, related service providers, and SBST team communicate with parent to invest them in the IEP development and implementation process.
A form will be developed to be used during IEP meetings to gather input on where/when the student and the parent/guardian expect to see the inclusion with peers without IEPs.
Where necessary, create additional events and activities to facilitate opportunities for increased involvement with the student's peers.

Key Strategy 2 (Optional):

Section 6: Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS)

Academic Support

NYCPS Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) align with NYSED guidelines for providing Academic Intervention Services (AIS) to students who have not yet met state standards or are considered to be at-risk of not meeting state standards. The Multi-tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) framework, organizes supports into three tiers:

Tier 1 provides schoolwide, high-quality programming for all students, including SWDs;

Tier 2 offers data informed small-group interventions for at-promise students; and

Tier 3 delivers intensive, individualized support for students with persistent needs.

This facilitates the strategic planning and necessary resource alignment to ensure their school community appropriately and adequately serves all students well, in partnership with students and families.

MTSS identifies the academic support services to be provided and ensures that students receive Response to Intervention (RtI) and Positive Behavioral Interventions and Support (PBIS) strategies as needed. See NYSED's memo to view the criteria for determining AIS services. The Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) offers a wide range of evidence-based Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions and supports for student social-emotional, behavioral, physical and mental wellness, with particular attention to the unique needs of students in Temporary Housing and/or Foster Care, who may face additional challenges related to school stability, trauma and access to educational resources. A culturally responsive-sustaining approach to intervention embeds culturally relevant texts and historical narratives into literacy and social studies interventions, ensuring students receive the support that reflects their identities and lived experiences, increasing engagement and achievement.

Use the charts below and a Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) to match academic, social/emotional, behavioral and instructional resources with student needs to provide targeted support for all learners, especially at-risk students who experience difficulty meeting state standards, including those living in Temporary Housing and/or residing in Foster Care placements. Indicate specialized materials, technology-based tools and/or extra instruction, including Expanded Learning Time that supplement school-wide systems & supports and/or classroom level supports. Ensure that interventions address the unique social-emotional, behavioral and academic challenges faced by culturally and linguistically diverse students, as well as those impacted by housing instability and child welfare system involvement.

Directions: Complete the chart and identify Tier 2 or 3 MTSS Academic supports. Any Tier 2/3 interventions should be in addition to the foundational work being done at Tier 1.

Any Tier 2/3 interventions should be in addition to the foundational work being done at Tier 1.

Family and Community Engagement Around MTSS

Describe how the school's essential components of MTSS are shared with families.

School website, Meet the Teacher Night, Student-Family Handbook, P-T conferences

Describe how families receive updates on the progress of their child(ren) who receive Tier 2 targeted, or Tier 3 intensive interventions.

Progress reports every 6-8 weeks, along with in-person and/or virtual meetings with teachers, staff, and administration as needed

Describe how families are involved during decision making regarding the progress of students receiving Tier 3 intensive intervention.

After sharing evidence and data sources showing amount of progress made, staff will ask for parent/guardian input as to whether the family is seeing similar progress or not. The staff recommendation will be shared and parent/guardian will be asked if they are in agreement or not.

Students in Temporary Housing (STH) Support

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-STH Section and in accordance with the federal McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act and Chancellor's Regulation A-780, schools must identify, serve, and report on students living in temporary housing (STH). All Title I and non-Title I schools receive a Title I allocation for STH students. The Students in Temporary Housing (STH) website provides guidance on STH pupils and how these funds can be used to meet their needs, as well as restrictions. For more information on acceptable uses of the mandated Title I, Part A set-aside to support your STH population, please refer to the Title I STH Funds Toolkit.

Identify the number of Students in Temporary Housing who are currently attending your school and provide a breakdown of their temporary housing status. Since the number of STH children can change regularly, schools must carefully track this number to determine whether there has been an increase in need.

Number of students in temporary housing who are:

- Doubled up (with friends or relatives because they cannot find or afford housing):
- Living in a shelter or transitional shelter:
- Living in a hotel/motel:
- Other

*Note: In keeping with established practices regarding personally identifiable information, use the letter "s" to identify a number less than five (5).

After a careful analysis of historical demographic, attendance and achievement data for your STH population, what trends do you notice, and how can these trends inform the services and support provided for this population?

13 of 17 students have 90% or better attendance.
4 of 17 have attendance below 85%.
Five of the the seventeen students are On or Above grade-level in reading.
Twelve are below grade-level in reading.

Describe the services you are planning to provide to the STH population. How were those services selected to best meet students' needs? How will you (or did you) utilize the STH Title I Survey to select services aligned to need?

Working with our CBO partner, the Neighborhood Improvement Association (NIA), our STH pupils will continue to be prioritized for the after-school program (which also includes daily activities during some holiday breaks).

We will be providing our STH pupils with technology and resources to use, including digital alarm clock, laptop or Chromebook, and backpack containing both grade-level academic materials and personal care items.

Ongoing outreach with the student's family via phone, email, written communication, and in-person (with translation/interpretation) will be used to ascertain if there are any other needs, so that we can connect the family with the necessary resources.

Prioritizing Students in Foster Care

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-Child Child Abuse and Neglect Intervention and Prevention School Plan and in accordance with the federal Education Law 3244 – Education of Children in Foster Care (Effective 2018) establishes the rights of students placed, or moved, in foster care to:

- Continue attending school of origin if determined to be in their best interest, or, if not, attend school near foster care placement,
- Immediate enrollment, and
- Transportation, if necessary to attend school of origin

Please respond to the questions below.

Section 7: Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Directions: The Parent and Family Engagement Policy should describe how your school will plan and implement effective parent and family engagement activities and/or strategies to improve student academic achievement and school performance. The School-Parent Compact (SPC) is a component of the Parent and Family Engagement Policy (PFEP) that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share this responsibility.

The activities and/or strategies included in your school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy should align with current Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) goals for improving student achievement and should be developed or updated with input and feedback from parent leaders and the Parent Coordinator. In addition, if the school community will be engaged in central parent engagement initiatives, such as Parent Academy, which will provide training for school communities to help strengthen family-school partnerships, please be sure to include these activities in the school's policy.

In Title I schools, the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) represents the Title I parent community in supporting parent and family engagement. The Title I PAC Chairperson will serve in a consultative role with the SLT representing the school's Title I parents. Schools are encouraged to use the sample Parent and Family Engagement and SPC templates below (which meet federal Title I parent and family engagement requirements) as guidance for updating the school's current policy.

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental engagement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent and family engagement policy that will establish expectations and objectives for meaningful parent and family engagement in the school community. PS/IS 229, in compliance with Section 1116 of Title I, Part A of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), is responsible for creating and implementing a parent and family engagement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between the school and the families. The school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), and Title I Parent Advisory Council as trained volunteers and welcomed members of the school community.

Support for Parents and Family Members of Title I Students

P.S./I.S. 229K - Dyker will support parents and family members of Title I students by:

- providing materials and training to help parents work with their children to improve their achievement level, e.g., literacy, math and use of technology;
- providing parents with the information and training needed to effectively become involved in planning and decision making in support of the education of their children;
- fostering a caring and effective home-school partnership to ensure that parents can effectively support and monitor their child's progress;
- providing assistance to parents in understanding City, State and Federal standards and assessments;
- sharing information about school and parent related programs, meetings and other activities in a format, and in languages that parents can understand;
- providing professional learning opportunities for school staff with the assistance of parents to improve outreach, communication skills and cultural competency in order to build stronger ties between parents and other members of the school community;

Parental Involvement and School Quality

PS/IS 229's Parent and Family Engagement Policy was designed based upon a careful assessment of the needs of all parents/guardians, including parents/guardians of Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners (ML/ELL), and students with disabilities. The school community, with the meaningful involvement of parents and family members, will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent and family engagement policy with Title I parents to improve the academic quality of the school. The findings of the evaluation through school surveys and feedback forms will be used to design strategies to more effectively meet the needs of parents and family members and enhance the school's Title I program. This information will be maintained by the school.

In developing the Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy, parents of Title I participating students, parent members of the school's Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), as well as parent members of the School Leadership Team, were consulted on the proposed Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and asked to survey their members for additional input. To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, the school will:

- actively involve and engage parents and family members in the planning, review and evaluation of the effectiveness of the school's Title I program as outlined in the School Comprehensive Education Plan, including the implementation of the school's Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact;
- engage all parents in discussion and decisions regarding the required Title I, 1% set-aside funds, which are allocated directly to the school to supplement parent and family engagement activities, including family literacy and parenting skills;
- ensure that the Title I funds allocated for parent and family engagement are utilized to implement activities and strategies as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and the School-Parent Compact;
- support school-level committees that include parents who are members of the School Leadership Team, the Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Advisory Council. This includes providing technical support and ongoing professional learning, especially in developing leadership skills;
- maintain a Parent Coordinator (or a dedicated staff person) to serve as a liaison between the school and families. The Parent Coordinator or a dedicated staff person will provide parent workshops based on the assessed needs of the parents of children who attend the school and will work to ensure that the school environment is welcoming and inviting to all parents. The Parent Coordinator will also maintain a log of events and activities planned for parents each month and file a report with the central office.;
- conduct parent workshops with topics that may include: parenting skills, understanding educational accountability grade-level curriculum and assessment expectations; literacy, accessing community and support services; and technology training to build parents' capacity to help their children at home;

- provide opportunities for parents to help them understand the accountability system, e.g., ESSA/State accountability system, student proficiency levels, Annual School Report Card, School Quality Report, Quality Review Report, Learning Environment Survey Report;
- host the required Annual Title I Parent Meeting each school year to advise parents of children participating in the Title I program about the school's Title I funded program(s), their right to be involved in the program and the parent and family engagement requirements under Title I, Part A, Section 1116 and other applicable sections under ESSA;
- schedule additional parent meetings, e.g., quarterly meetings, with flexible times, such as meetings in the morning or evening, to share information about the school's educational program and other initiatives of the Chancellor and allow parents to provide suggestions;
- translate all critical school documents and provide interpretation during meetings and events as needed.

Encouraging School-Level Parental Involvement

PS/IS 229 will further encourage school-level parent and family engagement by:
- hosting educational family events/activities during Parent-Teacher Conferences and throughout the school year;
- encouraging meaningful parent participation on School Leadership Teams, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Advisory Council;
- supporting or hosting Family Day events;
- establishing a Parent Resource Center/Area or lending library; instructional materials for parents;
- encouraging more parents to become trained school volunteers;
- providing written and verbal progress reports that are periodically given to keep parents informed of their children's progress;
- developing and distributing a school newsletter or web publication designed to keep parents informed about school activities and student progress;
- providing school planners/folders for regular written communication between /teacher and the home in a format, and to the extent practicable in the languages that parents can understand.

School-Parent Compact (SPC)

School-Parent Compact (SPC)

P.S./I.S. 229K - Dyker , in compliance with the Section 1116 of Title I, Part A of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), is implementing a School-Parent Compact to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between the school and the families. Staff and parents of students participating in activities and programs funded by Title I, agree that this Compact outlines how parents, the entire school staff and students will share responsibility for improved academic achievement and the means by which a school-parent partnership will be developed to ensure that all children achieve State Standards on assessments.

I. School Responsibilities: High Quality CurriculumI. School Responsibilities: High Quality Curriculum

The school will communicate with students, families, and staff about the school-created survey and its purpose. The school will disseminate the results of the survey, particularly in regards to Personal Attention & Support, Preventing Bullying, and Social-Emotional.

The school will notify families of the chronically absent status of their child(ren). Recruit interested parents/Guardians to be a part of the Attendance Committee.

I. School Responsibilities: Providing Parents Reasonable Access to Staff

Provide parents reasonable access to staff by:
- ensuring that staff will have access to interpretation services in order to effectively communicate with limited English speaking parents;
- notifying parents of the procedures to arrange an appointment with their child's teacher or other school staff member;
- arranging opportunities for parents to receive training to volunteer and participate in their child's class, and to observe classroom activities;
- planning activities for parents during the school year, e.g., Parent-Teacher Conferences.

I. School Responsibilities: Providing General Support to Parents

Provide general support to parents by:
- creating a safe, supportive and effective learning community for students and a welcoming respectful environment for parents, and guardians;

- ensuring that the Title I funds allocated for parent involvement are utilized to implement activities as described in this Compact and the Parent and Family Engagement Policy;
- advising parents of their right to file a complaint under the Department's General Complaint Procedures and consistent with the Title I requirement for Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) and Title I programs.

The school will communicate with families about joining the College & Career Readiness focus group. The focus group will help prepare for fair and families are invited for date/time TBD.

Communicate with families in understood languages to identify parents/guardians willing/able to join focus group on Wellness. Use Title I translation funding for invitation and information documents. Employ interpretation earbuds during meetings. Establish feasible dates/times for the Wellness Committee to meet and plan.

After administration meets with them, special education teachers, related service providers, and SBST team will contact families and communicate the new expectations for student and parent input during the IEP development/implementation process. IEP meetings and IPRs will use the new resources to include family/student voice as to where and when increased inclusion with peers will and has taken place.

Title I Program Information

Part 1: Title I Program Type

Title I Requirements and Strengthening Title I Parent Involvement: Under USDOE's Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), Title I schools are required to address professional learning and parent and family engagement in the Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP). To strengthen parent leadership in Title I schools, and increase the involvement of all parents of Title I eligible children in improving students' academic outcomes, all Title I schools are required to establish a Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) that will serve as the consultative and representative body for all Title I parents in the school to provide voice into the spending of Title I funds.

The SLT is responsible for facilitating consultation with the Title I Parent Advisory Council regarding the joint development of the CEP, Parent and Family Engagement Policy, School Parent Compact (SPC) and the use of the 1% parent involvement set-aside in Title I schools. The Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) Chairperson (or alternate) is expected to attend all regular meetings of the School Leadership Team (SLT). Title I parents, as represented by the Title I PAC Chairperson, must be consulted regarding the use of the Title I 1% set-aside for parent and family engagement. The Title I 1% set-aside funding is used to supplement parent and family engagement activities as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and must be aligned with student achievement goals as outlined in the CEP. For additional guidance on the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC), go to the Protocols and Timeline for Title I Parent and Family Engagement Activities document.

Directions:

- All schools must indicate their Title I status in Part 1.
- All elements of the All Title I Schools section must be completed in Part 2.
- All Targeted Assistance (TA) Schools must also complete the TA Schools Only section in Part 3.
- All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools must also complete the SWP Schools Only section in Part 4.
- If a required component is addressed elsewhere in this plan, you may refer to the section or Priority where the response can be found.

CITE (Center for Integrated Training & Education) for teachers and ENL providers.

Part 5: "Conceptual" Consolidation of Funds in SWP Schools

Directions: All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools in NYC are conceptually consolidating their Federal, State, and Local funds, even though the Galaxy system reports the allocations in separate accounting codes1. To be eligible for the flexibility consolidation of Federal funds, a Schoolwide Program school must identify in its Schoolwide plan (CEP) which programs are included in its consolidation and the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool. Additionally, the school plan must document that it has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated2. On the chart below, indicate which Federal, State, and/or local Tax Levy program funds that are consolidated in your school's Schoolwide Program, the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool, and verification that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated.
For the last two columns of this table: Place an (X) in Column A below to verify that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated. Indicate in Column B, the Priority or section that references where a related program activity has been described in this plan.

Program Name	Fund Source (i.e. Federal, State or Local)	Funding Amount: Indicate the amount contributed to Schoolwide pool. (Refer to Galaxy for school allocation amounts)	Column A Verify with an (X)	Column B Section/Priority Reference(s)

Explanation/Background

1. Explanation/Background:

Title I Schoolwide Program schools are expected to use the flexibility available to them to integrate services and programs with the aim of enhancing the entire educational program and helping all students reach proficient and advanced levels of achievement. In addition to coordinating and integrating services, Schoolwide Program schools may combine most Federal, State and local funds to provide those services. By consolidating funds from Federal, State, and local sources, a Schoolwide Program school can address its needs using all its available resources. This gives a school more flexibility in how it uses available resources to meet the identified needs of all its students.

Consolidating funds in a Schoolwide Program means that a school treats the funds it is consolidating like they are a single "pool" of funds. In other words, the funds from the contributing programs in the school lose their individual identity and the school has one flexible pool of funds. The school uses funds from this consolidated Schoolwide pool to support any activity of the Schoolwide Program without regard to which program contributed the specific funds used for a particular activity – so long as the use of funds meets the intent and purposes of the programs from which the funds originate. To consolidate funding in a Schoolwide Program, the school does not literally need to combine funds in a single account or pool with its own accounting code. Rather, the word "pool" is used conceptually to convey that a Schoolwide Program school has the use of all consolidated funds available to it for the dedicated function of operating a Schoolwide Program without regard to the identity of those funds.

Consolidating Federal funds in a Schoolwide Program has the following additional advantages:

- Consolidating Federal funds eases the requirements for accounting for funds from each specific program separately, because a Schoolwide school is not required to distinguish among funds received from different sources when accounting for their use.
- A school that consolidates Federal funds in its Schoolwide Program is not required to meet most of the statutory and regulatory requirements of the specific Federal programs included in the consolidation (e.g., semi-annual time and effort reporting for Title I). However, the school must ensure that it meets the intent and purposes of the Federal programs included in the consolidation so that the needs of the intended beneficiaries are met.

2. The intent and purposes of the Federal programs indicated on the chart above (Part 4c of this section) are as follows:

- Title I, Part A – Schoolwide Programs: To upgrade the entire educational program in the school in order to improve the academic achievement of all students, particularly the lowest-achieving students. This includes provision of services for Students in Temporary Housing (STH).
- Title I 1003(a), School Improvement: Comprehensive Support and Improvement (CSI), Additional Targeted Support and Improvement (ATSI) and Targeted Support and Improvement (TSI) Funding:

Support implementation of school improvement plans that aims to improve instruction and address the identified needs

Title II, Part A: Supplementary funding to improve student academic achievement by reducing class size in grades K, 1, 2, and 3, with an emphasis on grades with an average register greater than 20. If space is not available to form additional classes, funds may support push-in teacher(s) to supplement the instructional program. For schools that choose to reduce class size, priority must be given to reducing class size in general education settings and must demonstrate the following:

- Reduce class sizes to 15-18 students or fewer (including the use of co-teaching and floating teachers that bring the student to teacher ratio to one teacher per 15-18 students);
- Be accompanied by a rigorous curriculum, effective teachers, and a sustained, job-embedded professional development plan.

- Title III, Part A: To help ensure that children with limited English proficiency become proficient in English, develop high academic attainment in English, and meet the same challenging State academic content and achievement standards in the core academic subjects that all other children are expected to meet. Another purpose of this program is to increase the capacity of schools to establish, implement and sustain high-quality language instruction programs and English language development programs that assist schools in effectively teaching students with limited English proficiency. Title III, Part A is also designed to promote the participation of parents and communities of limited English proficient children in English language instruction programs.
- Title III Immigrant: Supplementary and enhanced services to immigrant students, in the areas of English language acquisition and content area achievement. Immigrant children and youth are defined as individuals who are aged 3 through 21, have not been attending school in any one or more states for more than three (3) full academic years, and were not born in any state. "State" means the 50 states of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Children born to U.S. citizens abroad, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or any other U.S. territory that is not D.C. or Puerto Rico are to be considered immigrants.
- Title IV, Part A: Title IV funds are for schools that are among those with the greatest needs, have the highest numbers of students from low-income families, are identified for CS, ATSI or TSI, or are identified as persistently dangerous public schools. Allowable uses of funds under well-rounded education, safety and health, and educational technology include direct services for students, professional development for teachers and administrators, and supplemental educational resources. School allocations have been provided for well-rounded education, social emotional learning, cultural responsiveness awareness, professional development to support implementation of technology and blended learning environments, and community coordinators in schools with high rates of students in temporary housing

- Students in Temporary Housing (STH): Schools must describe their use of Title I STH funds in their consolidated application.

Important Note: The following funds may not be consolidated:

- Title I Parent Involvement Set-aside: Title I, Part A funds must support parent involvement activities and programs. Chancellor's Regulation A-655 requires School Leadership Teams to consult with Title I parent representatives regarding the Title I program and the use of these funds. Parent involvement activities funded through Title I must be included in the Parent and Family Engagement Policy and aligned with student achievement goals in the school comprehensive educational plan.
- IDEA: To ensure that all children with disabilities have available to them a free appropriate public education designed to meet their individual needs.
- Grant funds awarded via a competitive process: These funds must be used for the purposes specified by the Grantor, as described in the school's approved grant application.

Language Allocation Policy Outline

Language Allocation Policy Outline

2025-26 Language Allocation Policy (LAP)

This submission form supports schools with organizing a well-conceived school-based Language Allocation Policy (LAP) that describes high quality programs for Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners (MLs/ELLs). This is an annual plan of how your school will support the linguistic and academic needs of MLs/ELLs and must be completed yearly. Part III: ML/ELL Programming

Please refer to New York State Commissioner's Regulation (CR) Part 154 Units of Study Tables as you describe academic programming for MLs/ELLs at your school below. Please do not leave any fields blank and indicate "N/A" for any fields that are not applicable.

Describe your English as a New Language (ENL), and if applicable Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE), and Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs. For each program, include:

- How stand-alone ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How integrated ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How students are grouped (e.g., block [class travels together as a group], ungraded [all students regardless of grade are in one class], heterogeneous [mixed proficiency levels], homogenous [proficiency level is the same in one class]).

a. English as a New Language (ENL)
Stand-alone ENL:

Stand-alone students will receive instruction in a pull-out method with other Entering and Emerging ELLs either in the same grade or in two contiguous grades. ELLs will receive instruction in reading, writing, listening and speaking to ensure that they are continually moving towards their English language acquisition and instructional goals. Students will work on scaffolded content-based assignments that best support their current academic needs and current English proficiency levels. Communication and collaboration will take place between classroom teachers and ENL teachers through common planning to ensure the work provided is aligned to the current class curriculum and the Next Generation Learning Standards. Teaching and language objectives will be planned for the stand-alone groups. ENL teacher will use all four hallmarks of Advanced Literacy in planning reading and writing lessons so that ELLs of all proficiency levels will have access to the curriculum. In addition, ELLs will have access to technology programs such as Imagine Learning, Raz-Kids (ELL Edition), IXL and Epic to ensure they have additional resources at home to continue their English language development. In planning for speaking and listening lessons, ENL teachers will assign, but are not limited to Flipgrid, Peardeck, Imagine Learning and Raz-Kids. For the phonics component, ENL teachers will utilize Really Great Reading Blast/HD Word curriculum during stand-alone ENL instruction. RGR Blast/HD Word will provide Entering and Emerging ELLs with interactive, explicit, structured and multisensory phonics instruction. With increased phonemic awareness, Entering and Emerging ELLs will be able to move toward their English language acquisition goals.

A certified ENL teacher will provide 180 minutes of stand-alone instruction to entering and emerging ELLs in a culturally responsive learning environment.

Integrated ENL:

Integrated ENL students will receive instruction in a push-in method with other ELLs in a heterogeneous group. ELLs will receive instruction in reading, writing, listening and speaking to ensure that they are continually moving toward their English language acquisition. Students will work on scaffolded content-based assignments that best fit their current academic needs and current English proficiency levels. Communication and collaboration will take place between classroom teachers and ENL teachers through common planning to ensure the work provided is aligned to the current class curriculum and the Next Generation Learning Standards.

Teaching and language objectives will be planned for integrated ENL instruction. ENL teacher will use all four hallmarks of Advanced Literacy in planning reading and writing lessons so that ELLs of all proficiency levels will have access to the curriculum. In addition, ELLs will have access to technology programs such as Imagine Learning, Raz-Kids (ELL Edition), IXL and Epic to ensure they have additional resources at home to continue their English language development. In planning for speaking and listening lessons, ENL teachers will assign, but are not limited to Flipgrid, Peardeck, Imagine Learning, and Raz-Kids. In addition, we have implemented Really Great Reading phonics program in our kindergarten through second grade classrooms. Really Great Reading is a research-based reading curriculum. It will provide our ELLs with interactive, explicit, structured and multisensory phonics instruction.

Our ELLs will have the opportunity to acquire all the skills that are needed in order to become successful readers and writers.

A certified ENL teacher will provide 180 minutes of integrated ENL instruction to entering, emerging, transitioning, and expanding ELLs. Former ELLs who have tested out of the NYSESLAT within the last two years will receive 90 minutes of integrated ENL instruction. Integrated ENL instruction will be implemented using the co-teaching model. The ENL teacher will co-teach with the homeroom teacher (grades K to 3) or ELA teacher (grades 4 to 8) for 180 minutes a week. The classes all consist of mixed groups of ELLs and non-ELLs. ENL teachers will have planning time with their co-teachers built into their weekly schedules.

b. Bilingual Education (If applicable)

Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE):

N/A

Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE):

ELLs are grouped heterogeneously along with English-proficient students in the Chinese Mandarin Dual Language Bilingual Education program. ELLs are given the opportunity to develop their home language, as well as English language skills. Chinese Mandarin Dual Language Bilingual Education program will serve both ELLs in need of English language development and English-proficient students who are interested in learning Chinese Mandarin. Both groups provide good linguistic role models for each other through their interactions. ELLs will develop skills in listening, speaking, reading and writing in English with home language supports. Math is taught bilingually in English and Chinese Mandarin. ELLs will receive discreet English as a New Language. Since both of our dual language classes are alternate day model, with an English teacher and a Chinese teacher, there are opportunities to service ELLs. Our bilingual teacher is licensed in TESOL. She will service as both the bilingual and TESOL teacher.

Bilingual teacher will use all four hallmarks of Advanced Literacy in planning reading and writing lessons so that ELLs of all proficiency levels will have access to the curriculum. For the phonics component, bilingual teacher will utilize Really Great Reading curriculum during small group instruction. Really Great Reading will provide ELLs with interactive, explicit, structured and multisensory phonics instruction. With increased phonemic awareness, ELLs will be able to move toward their English language acquisition goals. In addition, ELLs will have access to technology programs such as Imagine Learning and Raz-Kids (ELL Edition) to ensure they have additional resources at home to continue their English language development. The goal of the Chinese Mandarin Dual Language Bilingual Education program is the development of grade-level-appropriate bilingual and biliterate academic skills in both English and Chinese Mandarin.

The certified bilingual education teacher will be responsible for providing ENL instruction to ELLs in their DLBE class. Our Dual Language Program utilizes the Alternate Day Model, there is a bilingual teacher and an English teacher attached to each DLBE class. The ENL periods are built into the bilingual teachers' weekly schedules. On Chinese Days, the bilingual teacher is responsible for teaching the entire class. On English Days, the English teacher is responsible for teaching the entire class, while the bilingual teacher provides integrated ENL instruction to all ELLs in the class, in addition to stand-alone ENL instruction to Entering and Emerging ELLs in a small group setting.

2. How does your school ensure the mandated number of instructional minutes are provided according to students' English language proficiency levels in each program model?

As per CR Part 154, entering students will receive 180 minutes of stand alone ENL instruction and 180 minutes of integrated ENL instruction. Emerging students will receive 180 minutes of stand alone ENL instruction and 180 minutes of integrated ENL instruction. Transitioning students will receive 90 minutes of stand alone ENL instruction and 90 minutes of integrated ENL instruction, or 180 minutes of integrated ENL instruction, depending on the individual needs of the student. Expanding students will receive 180 minutes of integrated ENL instruction. Commanding students will receive 90 minutes of integrated ENL instruction for two years after they have tested out of the NYSESLAT. All current and former ELLs are placed in the same class based on their grade level to receive the mandated minutes of ENL instruction.

The ENL Coordinator will periodically run and cross-reference reports such as ATS RFSF and RLAT to ensure the mandated number of instructional minutes are provided according to students' English language proficiency levels in each program model. The monthly EDUR and the STARS Classroom "Action Items" will also be utilized to ensure all CR Part 154 mandates are met.

3. How are ENL, English Language Arts (ELA) and if applicable, Home Language Arts (HLA) instructional minutes delivered in each program model?

ENL Model:
A certified ENL teacher will provide 180 minutes of stand-alone instruction to entering and emerging ELLs in a culturally responsive learning environment in a separate location.
A certified ENL teacher, along with the ELA teacher, will provide 180 minutes of integrated ENL instruction during ELA periods to entering, emerging, transitioning, and expanding ELLs in a heterogeneous setting.
A certified ENL teacher, along with the ELA teacher, will provide 90 minutes of integrated ENL instruction during ELA periods to commanding students who have tested out of the NYSESLAT within the last two years.

DLBE Model:
The certified bilingual education teacher will be responsible for providing ENL instruction to ELLs in their DLBE class. Our Dual Language Program utilizes the Alternate Day Model, there is a bilingual teacher and an English teacher attached to each DLBE class. The ENL periods are built into the bilingual teachers' weekly schedules. On Chinese Days, the bilingual teacher is responsible for teaching the entire class, including the Home Language Arts instructional minutes. On English Days, the English teacher is responsible for teaching the entire class, while the bilingual teacher provides integrated ENL instruction to all ELLs in the class, in addition to stand-alone ENL instruction to Entering and Emerging ELLs in a small group setting. As a result, ENL methodologies are embedded across all content areas on both English and Chinese Days.

4. For schools with Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) programs:

a. Which Dual Language Bilingual Education model is implemented? Explain how much of the instructional day (percentage) English proficient students and ELLs are integrated.

The Two-Way Dual Language program model in a self-contained setting will be implemented. English-proficient students and ELLs will be integrated 100% of the instructional day. Our Chinese Mandarin Dual Language Bilingual Education program will follow the alternate day model. For example, on day 1, students will receive instruction in Chinese by Teacher A, then on day 2, students will receive instruction in English by Teacher B.

Week 1:
Days 1, 3, and 5 will be taught full day in Chinese by Teacher A.
Days 2 and 4 will be taught full day in English by Teacher B.

Week 2:
Days 1, 3, and 5 will be taught full day in English by Teacher B.
Days 2 and 4 will be taught full day in Chinese by Teacher A.

b. In which language(s) is each core content area taught?

In addition to Chinese Language Arts and English Language Arts, Math will be taught in both English and Chinese for all grades.
In Kindergarten, Social Studies will be taught in Chinese and Science will be taught in English. In 1st Grade, Science will be taught in Chinese and Social Studies will be taught in English. In 2nd grade, Social Studies will be taught in Chinese and Science will be taught in English.

5. For schools with Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs:

a. Which core content areas are taught bilingually?

N/A

After reviewing and analyzing school demographic and assessment data, answer the following questions. The ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) provided by the Office of Multilingual Learners can assist with identifying these data points.

For additional information, refer to Data Analysis Professional Learning Module and ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) Professional Learning Module.

1. What is the composition of the ELL subgroups at your school?
What percentage of ELLs are Newcomers? How does effective instruction for Newcomers differ from those provided to Developing or Long-Term ELLs?

According to the P.S./I.S. 229 ELL Data Analysis Tool, the ELL subgroups showed that 81.4% of ELLs are Newcomers.

Newcomers receive instruction on phonics, vocabulary building and grammar skills. They are able to utilize the Imagine Learning English interactive computer program and will have access to technology such as iPads and Chromebooks for more interactive learning to enhance their listening and speaking skills. The ENL teacher is also able to track their English language progress through these programs. Social-emotional activities are also embedded as best practices for newcomers to ensure that the child feels comfortable and the classroom environment is conducive to the acquisition of English language skills. Discussions are held with the general education teacher to ensure the child's needs are being best supported when the ENL teacher isn't present. For upper grade newcomers who are literate in their native language, they are provided with laptops, glossaries and dictionaries in the classroom to help translate the content into their native language. In addition, our school uses Really Great Reading for phonics to provide remedial support for both newcomers and developing and long-term ELLs. We've determined through Acadience data that students in this subgroup are struggling with phonemic awareness.

What percentage of ELLs are Students with Inconsistent/Interrupted Formal Education (SIFE)? How do you differentiate effective instruction for SIFE?

According to the P.S./I.S. 229 ELL Data Analysis Tool, 0% of ELLs are students with inconsistent/interrupted formal education (SIFE).

If a student is identified as SIFE during the intake interview, we will administer the Multilingual Literacy SIFE Screener which is available in 19 languages. We will use the data from this screener to identify the loss of learning in core areas such as reading comprehension, math and vocabulary. We will work collaboratively with classroom teachers and ENL teachers to create an individualized plan to differentiate instruction for each SIFE student based on their individual needs. AIS services will also be provided for students identified as SIFE.

What percentage of ELLs are Long-Term ELLs? How does effective instruction for Long-Term ELLs differ from instruction designed for Developing ELLs?

According to the P.S./I.S. 229 ELL Data Analysis Tool, the ELL subgroups showed that 3.8% of ELLs are Long-Term ELLs.

Developing ELLs are generally able to perform grade appropriate work with intensive scaffolding support during instruction such as explicit vocabulary instruction, visual aids, background knowledge builders, graphic organizers, answer frames, adaptive texts, language prompts and models. Long-Term ELLs require motivation and need to be challenged academically in class. Analyzing academic data trends and conversations with the student's prior teachers help isolate the reasons why the child hasn't attained English proficiency. We will continue to follow the Chancellor's Priorities using the Instructional Leadership Framework to strengthen our core instruction, know every student well and use a shared and inclusive curriculum to provide effective services to our Long-Term ELLs. In addition, we will focus on the Chancellor's Four Pillars to ensure that both the home and the school community can work together for our Long-Term ELLs to attain English proficiency.

What percentage of students are former ELLs? How is your school providing mandated instruction to former ELLs?

According to the P.S./I.S. 229 ELL Data Analysis Tool, the ELL subgroups showed that 6.2% are former ELLs.

As per CR Part 154, some former ELLs in our school will receive 90 minutes of integrated ENL instruction, while other former ELLs will receive small-group language support, depending on the needs of the former ELLs. The small-group language support will be provided by the ELA teacher while the 90 minutes of integrated ENL instruction will be provided by the certified ENL teacher. ELA teachers who will providing the small-group language support will have regular communication with the ENL teacher on the grade. In addition, former ELLs will receive testing accommodations for an additional two years after exiting ELL status.

2. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of ELLs at your school?

According to the P.S./I.S. 229 ELL Data Analysis Tool's At-Risk Indicators for ELLs, 81.4% are Newcomers, 8.1% are Potential Long-Term ELLs and 3.8% are Long-Term ELLs. The numbers in each of these subgroups remain about the same when compared to the previous year.

In ELA, 24.3% of ELLs scored Level 1 or 2 last school year and 8.6% of ELLs scored Level 1 or 2 during the previous two years. In Math, 21.4% of ELLs scored Level 1 or 2 last school year and 7.6% of ELLs scored Level 1 or 2 during the previous two years.

3.3% of ELLs are in temporary housing which has increased from 1% the previous year.

30.5% of ELLs did not demonstrate sufficient ELP progress following the Spring 2024 NYSESLAT.

The one at-risk indicator for ELLs that was significantly higher than the other at-risk indicators was the "Newcomers (0-3 Years of ELL Service)" indicator at 81.4%. There has been an influx of Newcomers to our school for the past few years. We will continue to focus on instruction on phonics, vocabulary building and grammar skills. Newcomers are able to utilize the Imagine Learning English interactive computer program and have access to technology such as iPads for more interactive learning to enhance their listening and speaking skills. For upper grade newcomers who are literate in their native language, they are provided with laptops, glossaries and dictionaries in the classroom to help translate the content into their native language.

In addition, the attendance of ELLs also influence their academic achievement. When ELLs are not consistent in their attendance, they will miss the mandated days/times to meet with their ENL teacher thus losing out on valuable ENL instruction. When ELLs are not present during the mandated ENL instructional periods, they are adversely affected.

3. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect former ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of former ELLs at your school?

According to the P.S./I.S. 229 ELL Data Analysis Tool's At-Risk Indicators for former ELLs, 34.3% of former ELLs scored level 1 or 2 in ELA last school year and 23.9% of former ELLs scored level 1 or 2 in ELA during the previous two years. In Math, 17.9% of former ELLs scored level 1 or 2 last school year and 13.4% of former ELLs scored level 1 or 2 during the previous two years.

The one at-risk indicator for former ELLs that was much higher than the other at-risk indicators was the "ELA: Former ELLs Who Scored Level 1 or 2 Last School Year" indicator at 34.3%. This at-risk indicator shows that former ELLs who tested out of the NYSESLAT the previous spring need more support than former ELLs who tested out of the NYSESLAT two years prior. We will continue to provide 90 minutes of integrated instructional support to former ELLs who tested out of the NYSESLAT the previous spring. Former ELLs who tested out of the NYSESLAT two years prior will continue with one of three options available: integrated ENL, small-group language support or project-based learning, depending on the need of the individual student.

4. What are the home languages of ELLs with the largest representation at your school? What staff, structures, and processes does your school have to support communication and learning that values these home languages?

According to the P.S./I.S. 229 ELL Data Analysis Tool, Chinese is the largest language representation among our ELLs at approximately 51%.

We have 9 staff members who can communicate orally in Chinese, 8 of the 9 staff members are also literate in Chinese. Our school utilizes our own multilingual staff and the Translation and Interpretation Unit for documents that need to be translated into multiple languages. Our staff regularly uses the over-the-phone interpreter services and communication platforms such as ClassDojo and Remind to effectively communicate with families. Our school has also purchased PockeTalk handheld translation devices for office staff and ENL teachers to use while communicating with students and families. In school, students have access to iPads and laptops so they can utilize Google Translate which supports the communication and learning that values their home languages. Our school has also invested in X1 AI Interpreter Hubs for use during parent orientations and classroom visits. The X1 AI Interpreter Hubs can simultaneously interpret English into 5 different languages for up to 20 participants.

5. What are the racial and ethnic classifications of ELLs at your school? How are ELLs being included in planning and delivery of Culturally Responsive and Sustaining Education (CR-SE)?

According to the P.S./I.S. 229 ELL Data Analysis Tool, 59.5% of ELLs are Asian, 1% of ELLs are Black, 1.9% of ELLs are Multiracial, 13.3% of ELLs are American Indian/Alaskan Native (Hispanic), 1.9% of ELLs are Native Hawaiian/Other Pacific Islander (Hispanic) and 15.2% of ELLs are White.

All ELLs are being included in the planning and delivery of Culturally Responsive and Sustaining Education (CR-SE). We have identified how the HMH Into Reading and HMH Into Literature curriculums focus on CR-SE. We will ensure that classes across all grades have opportunities to explore diversity by the use of authentic and culturally responsive materials that reflect and validate the diverse backgrounds, cultures and experiences of all our students. Themes such as respect for all, empathy and integrity are addressed throughout the year. Teachers will also continue to scaffold their lessons to provide advanced learning for ELLs. The HMH Into Reading and HMH Into Literature curriculums' alignment with Advanced Literacies also include protocols that help students understand character portrayals in texts. ELLs will be able to see themselves reflected in these texts and stories. All students, including ELLs, are encouraged to celebrate diverse voices and perspectives.

The four principles of CR-SE are grounded in a cultural view of learning and human development in which multiple expressions of diversity, such as race and ethnicity, are recognized and regarded as assets for teaching and learning. We will continue to focus on these four principles: welcoming and affirming environment, high expectations and rigorous instruction, inclusive curriculum and assessment, and ongoing professional learning when addressing the needs of the ELLs at our school, thus promoting equity and excellence for all.

6. What trends do you notice in reviewing English Language Proficiency (ELP) growth at your school? How many students met ELP sufficient progress? How many students did not meet ELP sufficient progress?

According to the P.S./I.S. 229 ELL Data Analysis Tool, out of the 139 progress eligible students, 33 met ELP sufficient progress by Method 1: Met Progress by Exiting ELL Status, 32 met ELP sufficient progress by Method 2: Met Annual Progress Target, 10 met ELP sufficient progress by Method 3: Met Safe Harbor Cumulative Growth. A total of 75 progress eligible students met ELP sufficient progress but 64 progress eligible students did not meet ELP sufficient progress.

Based on the summary of students' 2024 NYSESLAT proficiency levels and the number of points needed for students to have scored at the next higher proficiency level on the 2024 NYSESLAT, the trend we noticed is that almost half of our Entering and Emerging ELLs are less than 10 points from the next proficiency level. 5 out of the 11 Entering students are within 10 points of scoring at the Emerging level. 10 out of the 29 Emerging students are within 10 points of scoring at the Transitioning level. A significant number of Transitioning ELLs and Expanding ELLs are also within 10 points of scoring at the next proficiency level. 13 Transitioning ELLs are within 10 points of scoring at the Expanding level and 15 of the Expanding ELLs are within 10 points of scoring at the Commanding level.

7. When you look at the results of the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT), what stands out? What trends are there for each modality?

According to the spring 2023 & 2024 NYSESLAT modality analysis, the trends showed that the modality of highest need is writing in both 2023 and 2024, where students answered less than 15% of questions correctly. The modality of some need is speaking in both 2023 and 2024. This concludes that our ELLs generally perform better in productive skills (reading and listening) than receptive skills (writing and speaking). The trend reflects the nature of language acquisition in which receptive skills are documented to typically develop at a fast rate than productive skills.

In order to enhance our ELLs' receptive skills, we will continue to use the four hallmarks of Advanced Literacy. Developing more academic language will help students in all four modalities. ELLs will also utilize the Raz-Kids program to improve their reading and writing skills, and the Imagine Learning program will be used to help ELLs improve their skills in all four modalities.

In fall 2025, we will continue to have two full time writing/literacy clusters and one literacy coach, all of whom will focus on building students' English language skills, with a focus on writing. We will also devote more focus on developing academic vocabulary to use in conversation so that ELLs can apply it to extended writing. Partnerships between ENL teachers and classroom teachers will be strengthened. Weekly common planning time will be provided in order for ENL teachers and classroom teachers to work together collaboratively and effectively.

Our school will continue to utilize the HMH Into Reading/Into Literature curriculum as per the Chancellor's city-wide implementation, which allows us to dive deeper into Advanced Literacy and the Science of Reading. As students are receiving the core instruction in the classroom, ENL teachers work alongside the classroom teachers to provide integrated services to our ELLs by incorporating necessary scaffolds using HMH materials such as: table-top mini lesson for English language development, modified graphic organizers, chunking texts, simplified tasks, and the use of HMH multilingual glossaries. Opportunities for "Turn and Talk" will be incorporated into every lesson. The scaffolds for differentiation, along with opportunities to talk in class, will help our ELLs in developing academic vocabulary and improving their receptive skills.

8. What is the relationship between students' performance on the NYSESLAT and other state assessments such as the ELA assessment, the Math assessment, and the Regents exams?

According to the spring 2024 NYSESLAT and spring 2024 ELA and Math 3-8 comparison tables and graphs, the majority of our commanding students scored a level 2 or 3 on the ELA exam and more than half of our commanding students scored a level 3 on the Math exam. Our expanding level ELLs scored either a level 1 or 2 on the ELA exam but the majority of them scored a level 2 or 3 on the Math exam. Our Entering, Emerging and Transitioning ELLs scored a level 1 on the ELA exam, while a significant number of ELLs from the Entering to Transitioning level scored a level 2 or 3 on the Math exam. We also have a number of ELLs from the Emerging to Commanding level who scored a level 4 on the Math exam.

The relationship shows that our ELLs are moving up and attaining English proficiency, as there is evidence of growth shown in the NYS ELA and Math exams. Our ELLs generally perform much better in Math than ELA across all proficiency levels. This could be due to the fact that alternate language Math exams are provided to ELLs as part of their testing accommodations.

9. What are trends reflected in the NYSESLAT results of ELL subgroups such as ELLs with IEPs and SIFE? What do you think is impacting the results for these subgroups?

According to the P.S./I.S. 229 ELL Data Analysis Tool, 24.5% of our ELLs have IEPs, while 0 ELL was identified as SIFE.

The trends reflected in the NYSESLAT results of ELL subgroups show that the majority of our ELLs with IEPs are either at the Transitioning or Expanding level. ELLs with learning disabilities are not able to perform at the same level on the NYSESLAT as their general education counterpart. It is suggested that learning disabilities often impact students' performance on standardized exams. Therefore, ELLs with IEPs have a more difficult time moving up to the Commanding level, and they tend to stay at the Transitioning and Expanding level for a longer period of time than their general education counterpart. The NYSESLAT results correspond with this finding.

Tier 1: Core Instruction

For additional information, refer to ML/ELL Instruction Professional Learning Module.

Tier 1 Core Instruction

1. How does your school provide ELLs with a high-quality academic experience that leads to deeper learning?

Our school has adopted the HMH Into Reading curriculum as per the Chancellor's city-wide implementation, which allows us to dive deeper into Advanced Literacy and the Science of Reading. As students are receiving the core instruction in the classroom, ENL teachers work alongside the classroom teachers to provide integrated services to our ELLs by incorporating necessary scaffolds using HMH materials such as: Table-Top Mini Lesson English Language Development, modified graphic organizers, chunking text, simplified tasks, and use of HMH Multilingual glossaries. Students are provided with home language supports that will meet students' needs. In grades K-2, our school implements Really Great Reading as our core phonics program. Students are provided with research-based, interactive, explicit, structured, and multisensory instruction through the use of letter-tile kits, articulation videos with mouth placement, and alphabet cards.

All teachers provide explicit instruction in various areas such as: phonemic awareness, grammar, vocabulary acquisition, reading comprehension, and writing skills. During this time, ENL teachers supplement HMH instruction by incorporating the four modalities: listening, speaking, reading and writing throughout each daily lesson. Students engage in meaningful conversation with classmates in order to lead to a deeper understanding of the content area. Students are engaged in culturally responsive and cognitively demanding tasks that require them to think and act critically, applying their learning and prior knowledge to new experiences. We are continuously ensuring that all students engage in evidence-based foundational literacy.

2. How does your school's leadership team ensure ELLs have access to core instruction/curriculum?

P.S./I.S. 229 is a diverse school with about twenty percent of ELLs in our student population. We believe in equity and that ELLs are an integral part of the school community. All students are held to the same criteria, but in our school's instructional design, we implement scaffolds and protocols to support our ELLs and close achievement gaps. The school leadership team reviews schoolwide assessment screeners and focus on different subgroups, and in particular ELLs. The data drives instruction thus we work on strengthening the instructional core and use backward planning to drive instruction. We also use Advanced Literacy protocols to emphasize the structure and framework in targeting ENL instruction.

Our ENL teachers build a rapport with our students, and it is important that they know their students well. ENL teachers meet weekly to discuss trends and patterns seen in vertical grades. They collaborate with other staff members and discuss information and issues that may include strengths and weaknesses of ELLs, and their instructional growth. Members of the School Leadership Team also collaborate on ideas to support the ENL department.

The SLT team also discusses how to learn more about our students from a social emotional level and can recognize the strong connections between social emotional health, confidence, affirmations of cultural identity and opportunities for empowerment, which all leads to additional classroom engagement and growth.

3. Describe how core content is delivered in each program model. Specify language, and the instructional approaches and methods to foster language development and meet the demands of the Next Generation Learning Standards.

All teachers in each program model are utilizing the Next Generation Learning Standards to maintain rigor but use Advanced Literacy skills and competencies as a blueprint for implementing a culturally responsive curriculum. Across all grades, activities are being implemented that stress the importance of building academic language, interactive learning, discussion, and developing critical thinking skills in an inclusive learning environment. Vertical planning is being conducted to build on acquired skills and to connect curriculum from grade to grade. The Four Hallmarks of Advanced Literacy guide the choices of materials and implementation of activities with an emphasis on providing rich, interesting, culturally appropriate and multi-sensory materials, connected to scaffolded activities that foster learning, discussion, critical thinking and growth.

Student engagement is a very important component to the academic and social emotional growth of the ELLs in the building. Our school strives to lower students' affective filters to increase language development and is building a welcoming environment for students to feel safe and confident to engage in all classroom activities. Some protocols used are Collaborative Conversation, Read-Think-Talk-Write, Think-Pair-Share, and Poster Walk. Ongoing assessments are used to ensure understanding and to further scaffold accordingly.

All current ELLs and commanding students who passed the NYSESLAT in the last two years within the same grade are served via the ENL program model. A certified ENL teacher provides 180 minutes of integrated ENL instruction per week to Entering through Expanding ELLs and 90 minutes of integrated ENL for Commanding students during ELA instruction. ENL teachers meet with the common branch or content area teachers, and they plan, discuss, and create lessons together. They work collaboratively in the classroom to assist the language needs of the students. The ENL teachers not only assists the students, but model appropriate ENL methodologies for the classroom teacher to use when the ENL teacher is not in the room.

In addition, the ENL teachers provide 180 minutes per week of stand-alone ENL instruction to Entering and Emerging students. The ENL teachers assess the individual language needs of each child using a variety of measures. Some examples are NYSESLAT levels, NYSITELL levels, reading and writing assessments, group work, classroom performance indicators, i-Ready, state exams, ongoing classroom assessments, vocabulary tests, writing samples and conferences. The ENL teachers use these results to create scaffolded lessons tailored to meet the individual language needs of their students.

Communication and collaboration will take place daily between classroom teachers and ENL teachers to ensure the work provided will be aligned to the Next Generation Standards, scaffolded appropriately, and contain practices fostering Advanced Literacy Skills. In both integrated and stand-alone settings, ENL instruction is conducted in English. Content is made comprehensible to students by the use of visual aids, tablets, word to word dictionaries and glossaries, Advanced Literacy Protocols, scaffolding strategies (e.g. explicit vocabulary instruction, background knowledge, modification of activities and assessments, graphic organizers, answer frames, sentence starters, adapted texts) and modeling. The ENL teacher works closely and collaborates with the homeroom teacher to focus on planning and scaffolding instructional strategies. Formal and informal assessments are conducted consistently by the ENL teacher and content area teacher who work together as a team. Instructional methods are modified based on student progress. Students are grouped effectively, and classroom materials, methods and instructional formats are chosen and implemented with the targeted needs of the ELLs in mind.

Kindergarten to eighth grade use the Into Reading/Into Literature program that includes an ENL component embedded within them. In addition, supplemental materials and activities are used to help differentiate lessons and expose students to additional realistic, rich, culturally appropriate and challenging material.

In both integrated and stand-alone settings, home language support is provided when applicable. Students are always encouraged to learn English together with their home language and never in place of their home language. The diverse cultures of our student body are celebrated and respected. Students are provided word to word bilingual dictionaries, tablets and laptops for research and translation purposes, content area bilingual glossaries, Raz-Kids ELL Edition online program, Imagine Learning online program and independent reading materials in students' home languages.

4. What instructional strategies and grade-level materials, including technology, do teachers of MLs/ELLs use to provide access to grade level academic content areas and accelerate English language development? Include core content area and language materials with consideration to specific ELL subgroups.

a. ELLs with IEPs

In the school, current ELLs with IEPs are using the school wide curriculum Into Reading which offer grade level text and tabletop mini-lessons that differentiate for students' specific needs. ELLs with IEPs receive appropriate intervention including frontloading vocabulary before reading, read aloud or audio version of texts, text in students' first language; scaffolds such as bold text, highlighting key words, and enlarged text. Each student has access to an iPad in their classroom that helps with translations. They also have access to an application called the "Easy Spelling Aid" which supports students with both visual and auditory needs. This app helps them become independent writers. In ELA and Math, teachers use i-Ready to assess students' progress. The PockeTalk translation device also allows for speech-to-text and speech-to-speech translations when necessary.

b. SIFE

Teachers will use i-Ready data to generate appropriate scaffolds to use with the school-wide Into Reading curriculum for SIFE students. SIFE students who are struggling are then brought up at PPT meetings. Differentiation measures and targeted instructions are discussed and if needed, SIFE students are provided with at-risk SETSS. SIFE students are also invited to the Title III after-school program. We use the modelling of, "I Do, You Do and We Do" to show students how they should complete a given task. The technology used include iPads and Chromebooks that give them access to do research and translations.

c. Newcomers

Newcomers receive instruction on phonics, vocabulary building and grammar skills. We use the modelling of, "I Do, We Do, You Do" to show students how they should complete a given task. They are able to utilize the Imagine Learning Language & Literacy online program in classrooms during advanced reading and writing lessons. They are then able to continue using Imagine Learning Language & Literacy online program at home. ENL teachers are able to track their progress on the Imagine Learning program. Steps are taken to ensure the child feels comfortable and the classroom atmosphere is conducive for the acquisition of English skills. We create a culturally relevant environment which includes diverse grade-level appropriate texts. ENL teachers plan with the General Education teachers to ensure the child's needs are met when the ENL teacher is not present. For upper grade newcomers, they are provided with Chromebooks and iPads for use in the classroom and at home to help translate materials into their home language, to conduct homework assignments and research.

d. Long Term ELLs

Long term ELLs require motivation and need to be challenged academically in class. Analyzing i-Ready data, academic trends and conversations with the child's prior teachers help isolate the reasons why the child has not reached English proficiency according to the NYSESLAT results. Steps are then taken to ensure the student receives academic support in the areas they need it most. The instructional goal for long term ELLs focuses on intensive reading and writing skills.

5. What supports does your school provide to ELLs with IEPs to achieve their IEP goals and attain English language proficiency within the least restrictive environment?

ELLs with IEPs receive explicit ELA instructional support during both stand-alone and integrated services. Stand-alone sessions are also provided during minor subject assignments and/or enrichment activities. Students are provided with extensive scaffolding, wait time, differentiated instruction, and individualized one to one support. This also minimizes any time they may miss from any major subject. In addition, ENL teachers take part in IEP meetings, participate in instructional decisions, and are members of the LPT. Students who will benefit from being mainstreamed in particular subjects will transition to the least restrictive environment. The ENL teachers are involved in these educational decisions as well. This methodology provides ELLs with IEPs with the optimum amount of time to receive instruction from their primary teachers as well as additional support from ENL service providers, who will work with smaller groups to meet the individual needs of each student (as per their IEP).

6. How is home language assessed in each program model (DLBE, TBE, and ENL)?

Our school makes an initial determination of the home language support need of each newly enrolled ELL based on information from the Home Language Identification Survey, Informal interview, and the NYSITELL results. The informal interview with parents and students is conducted by an ENL teacher during registration and will assist in determining their home language support. For our newly enrolled ELLs in grades 3 and up, we assess using the MLS SIFE screeners. We work to ensure that our newly enrolled ELLs receive home language support in the classroom and that they are able to participate alongside their peers, despite the language barrier. We also administer the Spanish LAB to newly identified ELLs with Spanish as home language. We strive to create a culturally relevant environment for all our ELLs where they can receive an academic experience that is inclusive and supportive.

Teachers provide buddies/partners who speak the same home languages for newly enrolled ELLs. Teachers in the building who speak various languages also serve as translators/interpreters for newly enrolled ELLs. The school library provides bilingual and world language books in the ELLs' home languages. The Imagine Learning Language & Literacy online program provides home language support for newcomers. In addition, ELLs are provided with word-to-word bilingual dictionaries and bilingual content area glossaries. Each ENL teacher also has tablets with language learning and translation apps and a PockeTalk translation device to be used in the classroom.

In our Chinese DLBE program, the bilingual teacher is able to provide home language support for our newly admitted ELLs. All classroom displays, charts and posters are written in both English and Chinese. Each of the DLBE classrooms will also have a bilingual classroom library with an ever-expanding selection of authentic Chinese texts. Teacher-created Chinese Language Arts unit assessments, which test all four modalities in Chinese, can also be used to assess our ELLs' home language skills.

7. (For grades 6-12 only) What language electives are offered to MLs/ELLs? How is your school preparing MLs/ELLs to obtain the New York State Seal of Biliteracy?

Spanish language elective is offered to all 7th and 8th grade students. 8th grade students have the opportunity to take the Spanish Checkpoint A world language exam for high school credits which could lead to students obtaining the New York State Seal of Biliteracy.

Chinese Mandarin dual language program is offered to current kindergarten and 1st grade students. Chinese was identified as the most common home language, and our school identified a need for a culturally relevant program for our families. Not only does the dual language program serve as a placement option for our MLs/ELLs, but our school has expressed to parents that this is an enrichment opportunity for English-proficient students to become bicultural, bilingual and biliterate. As we open a new dual language class each year, we will continue to sustain the program by vocalizing to parents and families how impactful it is for our MLs/ELLs to become bicultural, bilingual and biliterate. In addition, we will emphasize to families how enrichment opportunities will lead to employment opportunities, preparing MLs/ELLs for the 21st century. Next year, we will offer the dual language program in kindergarten, 1st grade, and 2nd grade. Our vision of a vigorous dual language program from kindergarten to 8th grade will prepare students, including MLs/ELLs, to obtain the New York State Seal of Biliteracy.

8. Describe systems and structures for supporting co-teaching and collaboration among teachers for all ELL program models available at your school (e.g. integrated co-teaching, Dual Language Bilingual Education teacher partnerships, etc.).

Teachers collaborate by utilizing co-teaching models within the classroom. During integrated instruction, ENL teachers push-in to the classroom to support and service ELLs. Before instruction takes place, the classroom teacher and ENL teacher collaborate and plan instruction together during scheduled weekly grade level meetings to meet the students' needs. Our school uses various co-teaching models, such as parallel teaching, alternative teaching, and team teaching.

For example, during push-in, the lesson begins with whole group instruction using the team teaching method. Students will engage in a mini-lesson that will prepare them for a specific skill that they will be working on in groups or independently, that follows the "I Do, We Do, You Do" protocol. The classroom teacher and the ENL teacher both work with a small group of students at varied proficiency levels, according to students' needs. This follows a rotating basis and focuses on differentiated instruction. At the end of the lesson, the whole group convenes to share and discuss ideas using the read-think-talk-write cycle. Teachers collaborate during the following grade meeting to discuss students data and progress to better inform their future instruction.

In addition, per session opportunities are provided for Chinese teachers in the DLBE program. They meet after school with the ELL Coordinator. During the weekly Dual Language planning time, the Chinese teachers can collaborate and create/revise the Chinese curriculum along with the ELL Coordinator, ensuring a seamless language transition from day to day.

9. Describe how your overall, annual professional learning plan ensures that all staff – including administrators, teachers and -non-pedagogical staff – incorporates learning specifically related to the academic and social emotional needs of MLs/ELLs. Professional learning topics might include co-teaching strategies, or integrating language and content instruction.

PS/IS 229 offers professional learning opportunities from Really Great Reading (Foundations program), HMH Into Reading/Into Literature (Reading curriculum), Savvas Envisions Math, Hello Inclusion (Special Education) and CITE (ENL). For each of these programs, we coordinate with facilitators to ensure that all staff including ENL, General Education and Special Education teachers, receive training that incorporates academic and social emotional needs of MLs/ELLs.

In addition, classroom teachers and ENL teachers are sent to special professional learning workshops in District 20, such as the ENL and Bilingual Professional Learning Workshops, HMH Learning Labs, New ENL/Bilingual Teacher Institute, and LETRS professional learning courses. Non-pedagogical staff, including paraprofessionals, are provided with professional development learning opportunities throughout the year.

ENL teachers and classroom teachers collaboratively attend ENL Professional Learning and Support Workshops provided by a CITE (Center for Integrated Training and Education) Coordinator. This includes job-embedded coaching, along with classroom visits and feedback.

ELA teachers are provided with grade-team meeting and planning sessions by the HMH Instructional Coach, Dominic (DJ) Josso-Martin on Into Reading/Into Literature reading and writing skills and assessments. The coach also models instructional strategies, observes teachers, and provides feedback and support.

Math teachers are provided with professional development and support by the Savvas Envisions Math Coach. Teachers meet with their grade-level team and the coach to discuss strategies and implementation of skills in their classrooms.

Special Education and General Education team teachers (ICT and 12:1) and paraprofessionals are provided with professional development by coaches from Hello Inclusion. Teachers focus on co-teaching models and strategies to better support students with disabilities. To provide students with the least restrictive environment, teachers in ICT classes adopt the parallel teaching model.

Our school has partnered with The School Wellness Project to provide teachers with professional learning to help our students and staff live, learn and work in a better frame of mind. The emphasis on these professional learning sessions is Mindful Breathing and Yoga Exercises, which can be used in the classroom and beyond. In addition, the Into Reading curriculum incorporates the use of multicultural and social emotionally relevant texts. Our school has a writing cluster who focuses on self-expression and creativity through extended essay writing for all students including MLs/ELLs.

Administrators will search for professional learning for teachers that includes the process of second language acquisition, content area strategies, and how cultural differences impact teaching and learning. ENL teachers are also a resource for all teachers on the staff as they will model the appropriate ENL methods/approaches. In addition, they will work closely with the classroom teachers to ensure they are addressing the needs of ELLs. Teachers of ELLs will turn-key information they learned to the classroom/content area teachers so all staff members are consistent with ENL strategies such as differentiation for ELLs in the classroom, aligning curriculum to the Next Generation Learning Standards, making the curriculum accessible to ELLs based on their language needs.

10. Describe your school's professional development plan in order to meet the mandated Continuing Teacher and Leader Education (CTLE) ELL specific hours for certification renewal as per CR Part 154 (15% of total hours for all certified faculty [holders of professional certificates in the classroom teaching service, educational leadership service and level III teaching assistant certificate holders] and 50% of total hours for bilingual education/ENL teachers receive ELL-specific professional development).

PS/IS 229 recognizes the importance of ELL specific professional development. Select ENL teachers attend professional development workshops provided by the DOE and District 20, and they turnkeyed all information to their ENL colleagues, as well as general education teachers in the school. Administration is notified about various professional development opportunities and shares the information with all staff members. This allows staff members that need to fulfill CTLE hours to maintain their certifications and licenses. All activities are documented with agenda and attendance. Administration will be mindful of booking professional development that will generate CTLE hours for staff members when possible.

Assessment

SCREENERS

11. Which screening assessments (e.g.iReady, MAP Growth, Acadience, or STAR Reading) does your school use to guide instructional planning for your ELLs?

The school-wide assessment screeners for our school are Curriculum Associates i-Ready and Acadience Learning Online for K-2 Foundations program.

The i-Ready screener is used to assess students' progress in ELA and Math. The assessments are adaptive and will break down student performance according to domain specific standards. After students take the assessment, it will generate instructional learning goals for those deficits. This will give teachers data to address the weaknesses of all students and it will drive instruction and planning.

The i-Ready screener also gives teachers a report of the Lexile Levels so that independent reading level books are identified for each student. This allows teachers to know their students better and to provide students with texts at their appropriate reading level. Equity is the key to advancing all students now and i-Ready gives valuable information and data on each student.

For Acadience Learning online, this assessment is standardized. Teachers assess students individually to identify specific strengths and areas for improvement. Acadience Reading helps teachers identify children at risk for reading difficulties and determine the skills to target for instructional support. Acadience provides universal screening, is sensitive to effects of intervention, and supports the RTI/Multi-tiered model. We will use this data to drive instruction and meet the Chancellor's vision on addressing students and how they can "learn to read".

12. For all grades, list and describe your targeted intervention programs for ELLs in ELA, Math, and other core content areas (specify ELL subgroups targeted). Include the language(s) in which the intervention services are offered.

Once teachers have an accurate understanding of student needs, a number of intervention programs are offered to students, including ELLs from all subgroups. All intervention programs are conducted in English.

1. AIS (Academic Intervention Service)- This is offered during the school day to provide support for students struggling in ELA. Cluster teachers, Dual Language teachers, along with Special Education Teachers have periods built into their schedules to work with small groups of MLLs during the day. This time is used to provide targeted intervention in foundational and literacy skills in K-8.

2. Small group intervention during Integrated instruction- ENL teachers focus on targeting students' particular language needs with explicit and individual instruction in all four modalities. This program serves ELLs from all subgroups, and the goal is for students to achieve English language proficiency.

3. Math intervention program- Struggling ELLs will be invited to work with our math coach. They will work in small groups with a teacher who will focus on targeted Math interventions. The teacher utilizes intervention resources from Envision Math. Students use this time to work on skills they need more support with during the school day.

4. RTI- Teachers monitor student progress closely once a student is receiving intervention services. Consistent targeted intervention is happening daily in the classrooms through differentiated RTI instruction. Classroom teachers consistently make modifications and adapt lessons based on the different needs of the students.

5. Acadience- Students in grades K-2 are provided with individualized one-on-one and small group instruction during the school day, based on their academic needs. Students are assessed using the BOY, MOY and EOY Screeners to inform teachers' targeted instruction.

6. IXL program and i-Ready's personalized instruction- For all grades, our school uses the IXL program and i-Ready's personalized instruction during small group intervention periods. All students are provided with this support in both ELA and Math, including ELLs . This program begins with assessing the students' needs before designing individual lessons for each student.

Dual language and Bilingual teachers and staff members provide home language support during these intervention services when necessary.

13. For all grades, describe how your school uses data to guide instruction for ELLs within a Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS). Refer to the Instructional Leadership Tool for MLs and ELLs and MTSS Guide for MLs and ELLs to help in the development and implementation of your school's plan for MLs/ELLs.

PS/IS 229 makes use of numerous forms of data available to make informed decisions about MLs/ELLs students and to highlight their educational needs. These tools include ATS reports, the AMAO tools, Acadience, i-Ready, HMH, RGR, teacher observations, Fountas and Pinnell, portfolios, student work samples, classroom module assessments and student interviews. Data retrieved is closely examined for trends, comparison, current levels, and ongoing progress.

Based on the data from the Acadience BOY Assessment, 80% of K-2 ELLs were below/well-below benchmark. The designated area of need was phoneme segmentation. Classroom teachers, ENL and service providers focus on this area during small group instruction.

All students are initially provided with Tier 1 instruction within the classroom. After analyzing student data on in-class assessments and benchmarks, teachers are able to identify students who are struggling and require additional academic support.

Our school provides an explicit, systematic, and evidence-based K-2 foundational skills program called Really Great Reading, that focuses on the Science of Reading. Teachers scaffold instruction to promote advanced literacy for culturally and linguistically diverse learners.

Students identified as needing more support receive Tier 2 instruction within small groups as the teacher implements strategic, evidence-based intervention based on the identified area of need. During this time, teachers continuously progress-monitor students.

If a student demonstrates a more intense need for support, they are provided with Tier 3 instruction, which can be individual or in small groups of 2-3 students. These students can receive intervention and remedial instruction by the classroom teacher, in conjunction with the ENL teacher depending on student need. In addition, teachers can recommend these students for AIS services provided by a specialist, which occurs as a supplement to core instruction.

FORMATIVE

14. Which formative assessments (e.g. NYC performance Tasks, ELL Periodic Assessment, HLA Assessment, DRA, teacher-created assessments, etc.) are used to inform and drive instruction?

Our school is using the Into Reading/Into Literature curriculum for all grades. To identify students' independent reading levels, we are using Fountas and Pinnell Benchmark Reading Assessment. In addition, we use Acadience to assess students' decoding abilities in the early childhood grades. We also use i-Ready to assess students' ELA and math performance against grade-level standards. We will use the formative assessments such as module tests and teacher created assessments from Into Reading. For decoding skills assessment, teachers use Reading Playground from Really Great Reading to analyze data in phonemic awareness.

Our school is using Envision Math for all grades. This program has content-rich standards that will serve as a platform for advancing children's 21st-century mathematical skills —their procedural skill, fluency, and conceptual understanding of mathematical standards.

Our ENL teachers will continue to use ongoing formative assessments in their standalone instruction - i.e. classroom observations, discussion, teacher-differentiated HMH assessments, modified graphic organizers, journals, and projects to guide instructional planning.

15. How do you ensure that MLs/ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their home languages throughout the year?

When students are first admitted into the school and identified as having a home language other than English, students are given the NYSITELL and if they do not pass, students with Spanish as home language are given the Spanish LAB by a bilingual staff member. This will determine the students' level of proficiency in their native language. This information will then be used by the ENL teachers to best support and evaluate ELLs in their home languages throughout the year. This provides the most definitive evaluation for Spanish-speaking students.

Students are also evaluated throughout the year in their home languages by use of bilingual glossaries and devices that allow students to translate texts for class assignments and assessments. Students are given the translated version of state exams alongside the English version to accommodate them with their home language. In addition, ENL teachers provide assessments translated in students' home languages alongside the English assessments to evaluate ELLs in their home languages throughout the year.

For the Chinese dual language program, our bilingual teacher will work closely with the ELL coordinator to identify benchmark skills in Chinese in order to conduct progress monitoring. The bilingual teacher will use teacher observations, checklists and unit assessments to monitor MLs/ELLs' progress in the Chinese language .

In addition, ELLs can be evaluated in their home languages by utilizing the Multilingual Literacy SIFE Screener. The MLS Screener offers three assessments (Reading Comprehension, Math and Vocabulary) in 18 languages.

SUMMATIVE

16. Which summative assessments (e.g. NYSESLAT, ELA, Math, Regents, etc.) are used to evaluate the effectiveness of your ML/ELL programs and how does it inform instructional design and curricular decisions? (Refer to the ELL Data Analysis Tool).

The NYSITELL and NYESLAT results identify students' English proficiency levels in all four modalities. The data is then provided to classroom teachers. The ELL Data Analysis Tool is analyzed to ensure teachers have a strong knowledge base of their students' current academic needs and are familiar with the trends in their academic progress over time. This helps to gauge accurate expectations and monitor expected progress. Current and past State ELA and Math scores are analyzed to measure progress and determine needs.

All grades in the school utilize assessment screeners to measure students' progress and growth three times a year. In addition, teachers use the HMH and EnVision end of module assessments to identify standards that students have not mastered. This will improve instructional design and inform teachers on whether topics need to be revisited.

17. What is your NYSESLAT administration plan? How does your school ensure that all ELLs are tested with the NYSESLAT annually? Include the titles of the staff that will administer and score the assessment. Please describe your plan to ensure that all ELLs and former ELLs continue to receive mandated instruction during the testing period.

NYSESLAT is administered schoolwide to all ELLs from grades K to 8. The ELLs eligibility report is generated from ATS to ensure that all ELLS are tested with the NYSESLAT. A memo is sent out to all school staff members so that they are aware of the dates and the rooms being used in the building. The staff members that will administer the test are: Mr. Goldman, Ms. Kam, Ms. Lopez, Ms. Speranza and Ms. Zhang who are all licensed ENL teachers. ELLs with IEPs are provided with necessary accommodations as per their IEPs. Licensed ENL teachers also score the NYSESLAT. The administration ensures that all teachers involved with the NYSESLAT are trained so that they can successfully administer and score the assessment.

The NYSESLAT is administered throughout the day in small groups due to time and space limitation. During testing periods, ELLs and former ELLs continue to receive their mandated services. Students will be provided with differentiated and scaffolded support that they will use in the classroom, such as graphic organizers, sentence stems, and text translations. ENL instruction is continued before, during and after testing administration. The administration will work closely with the Test Coordinator to ensure that NYSESLAT testing is conducted in the most efficient and appropriate manner following all guidelines set forth by the state.

18. How does your school ensure that current and former ELLs receive necessary accommodations for state assessments, including the Specialized High School Admissions Test (SHSAT) if applicable?

The ELL Coordinator keeps detailed records of all current and former ELLs in our school. These records are constantly being updated and shared with all ENL teachers. Information on each current and former ELL includes grade, class, home language, year of service, date of entry, ELA exemption status for 1st year ELLs, and students' language needs.

The ELL Coordinator consults with grades 3 to 8 ENL teachers in determining whether each current/former ELL requires an alternate language edition, an oral translator for a low incidence language, and/or bilingual glossary during state testing.

For the SHSAT, bilingual glossaries are provided for all current and former ELLs. They also receive extended time in a separate testing location.

Lastly, the ELL Coordinator is also the Test Coordinator at our school, ensuring that all current and former ELLs receive all the necessary accommodations for state assessments, including the SHSAT.

Part VI: Family Partnership

Family Partnership

Required Meetings Under CR Part 154

Describe your schools' plan to ensure families of ELLs are provided with the required meetings specified below as per CR Part 154. Include:

- Topics discussed during these meetings
- How your school ensures families receive necessary translation/interpretation supports to meaningfully engage in the meetings
- How your school schedules these meetings to facilitate attendance, and how your school maintains evidence of these meetings as required per the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs.

a. ELL Program Orientation to inform parents/guardians of newly identified ELLs of ELL program options, including the program goals and requirements for all three ML/ELL program models: Dual Language Bilingual Education, Transitional Bilingual Education and English as a New Language regardless of whether the school currently has either type of bilingual program and provide a high-quality orientation section on the Next Generation Learning Standards, assessments, and school expectations for English Language Learners.

Our school makes an initial determination of the home language support need of each newly enrolled ELL based on information from the Home Language Identification Survey, the informal interview with parents and students conducted by an ENL teacher during registration, and the NYSITELL results. Once our students are identified as ELLs after taking the NYSITELL, our ENL team sets up a parent orientation to inform parents of the three ML/ELL program models.

We host several parent orientations in the beginning of the school year based on parents' preferred home languages. At each parent orientation, we play the parent orientation video in both English and the parents' preferred language and provide translation and interpretation support.

We explain that our Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) program is a 50/50 Chinese and English bilingual program that is offered to ELLs with Chinese as their home language. We explain that it is also an enrichment program for English-proficient students in the class. We explain the differences between Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) and Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE). We explain that students are immersed in another language in both types of bilingual programs. We explain that the requirement for the DLBE program is that students remain in the program until graduation. In addition, we explain the English as a New Language (ENL) model, including the mandated number of minutes for both integrated and standalone settings.

Our ENL teachers work closely with the classroom teachers to communicate with parents throughout the year. We work to ensure that our newly enrolled ELLs receive home language support in the classroom and that they are able to participate alongside their peers despite the language barrier. We strive to create a culturally relevant environment for all our ELLs where they can receive an inclusive academic supportive experience. Teachers provide buddies/partners who speak the same home languages for newly enrolled ELLs. We provide multiple entry points for ELLs to ensure that they have access to the curriculum and the school's expectation is that they are engaged in the same curriculum, HMH Into Reading/Into Literature, as they are aligned with Next Generation Learning Standards. HMH provides translation of texts and word to word bilingual glossaries to be used in class and on assessments.

We will include the expectations that any ELLs who have been in the country for over a year are expected to participate in the NYS ELA assessments. If they are here for less than a year, they are expected to take the NYS Math and Science assessments. We will inform parents that ELLs will receive translated editions of state assessments in addition to bilingual glossaries.

Teachers in the building who speak various languages also serve as translators/interpreters for newly enrolled ELLs. The school library provides bilingual and world language books in the ELLs' home languages. In addition, ELLs are provided with dictionaries and bilingual content area glossaries. ELLs also have access to iPads and/or Chromebooks with language learning and translation apps to be used in the classroom. Lastly, we have two types of translation devices available to teachers, students and parents - PockeTalk and X1 AI Interpreter Hubs.

b. Annual Individual Meeting to discuss goals of the program, language development progress, language proficiency assessment results, and language development needs in all content areas. Note: this meeting is separate from and does not include the mandated ELL program orientation meeting and DOE-scheduled parent-teacher conferences.

Our ENL teachers will provide the Annual Individual Parent Meeting, separate from the DOE-scheduled parent-teacher conferences and ELL program orientation meeting, to discuss the ELLs' English language proficiency assessment results and their language development progress in all content areas. ENL teachers will provide parents with data from formative assessments and teacher observations, and they will provide feedback on how parents can continue to support their children at home. Interpretations will be provided during the Annual Individual Parent Meeting. ENL teachers will utilize the DOE Annual Parent Meeting letter (translated into multiple languages) for scheduling the meeting in order to facilitate attendance. A record of attendance will also be kept.

We also have an additional parent orientation for our DLBE program in September in which we discuss the DLBE program model and expectations. The DLBE program parent orientation is presented in both English and Mandarin. Our DLBE Chinese teacher serves as the Mandarin interpreter during the orientation. This DLBE program parent orientation is separate from the mandated ELL program orientation meeting and DOE-scheduled parent-teacher conferences.

Family Engagement

2. Beyond the mandated meetings and orientations, describe how your school:

a. Ensures families receive all school communications and documents in the language they best understand. How are families able to respond or initiate communications in languages other than English?

All communications and documents that go home to families are sent via GAMA. GAMA translates documents into parents' preferred languages. Teachers also send parents messages via messaging apps such as Remind and ClassDojo. Both of these messaging apps have translation function. Families can respond and initiate communication with teachers in their home language in real time through these apps. In addition, we provide information and teach families how to use Google Translate for communication purposes.

b. Develops activities that foster empowerment for families of MLs/ELLs. Include how your school determines the needs of your community.

We created a Google form to survey the interest of our MLs/ELLs families. We used the data from this survey to identify the needs of the families and some of their interests for possible workshops.

c. Ensures families of MLs/ELLs are aware of family leadership opportunities (such as Parent Association (PA), School Leadership Team (SLT), Community Education Council (CEC), etc.)

All families are encouraged to join the PTA mailing list which provides parents with information on PTA, SLT and CEC meetings. Emails are translated into parents' preferred languages automatically via email apps.

3. What culturally and linguistically responsive partnerships do you currently have that support the needs of your school community?

In our school, we build partnerships with outside community organizations with the following: NIA Community Services that provides our after-school programs and Geneva Worldwide which provides us with translation services. We also partner with outside after-school organizations that have connections with the Asian families located in our community. We also have a connection with JCH Bensonhurst afterschool. We work alongside colleges and universities with student-teachers who will then help support the needs of our students and school community.

In addition, we partner with other community-based programs that provide our school with trip opportunities, such as the Circleline Cruise, the Museum of Natural History and the Intrepid Museum, which give our students real-world experiences.

Part VII: Additional Information

Additional Information

Include any additional information that is relevant to your LAP and would further explain and highlight how your school supports MLs/ELLs. This form does not allow graphics and charts to be pasted.

Our main goal for our program is to make sure that families and students are all welcomed to a friendly learning environment. Our school strives to provide Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion for all families where no one feels excluded due to language barriers. We create a culturally relevant learning environment for all our MLs/ELLs, regardless of their English proficiency levels and cultural backgrounds. They may be socially and academically doubtful at first, but throughout the course of our program, we provide our MLs/ELLs with the necessary tools to become confident learners and this will in turn give them a sense of accomplishment. We provide multiple entry points to give all MLs/ELLs access to the curriculum to become successful learners.

Part VIII: ELL Identification Attestation and Principal Certification

Identification Plan

For additional information, refer to ELL Identification Attestation Professional Learning Module.

1. What are the titles of the members of your ELL identification team? Note: Members of the ELL identification team must be pedagogues.

Members of the ELL identification team include the ENL Coordinator and 5 ENL teachers.

2. Describe the structures and process in place for identification of ELLs year-round as required by the NYC DOE Policy & Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, including your school's identification plan for any incoming students with an Individualized Education Plan (IEP). Include:

- How your school proactively plans for the ELL identification process so that it does not interrupt the provision of mandated ENL and/or bilingual instruction to current, former and potential ELLs,
- Who is responsible for each step of the ELL identification process, and
- School's plan for ensuring ELLs and former ELLs will continue to receive mandated instruction.

Our Pupil Accounting Secretary works closely with our ELL Coordinator in identifying ELLs year-round. Our ELL Coordinator is present during new student registrations throughout the year. The ELL Coordinator reviews the Home Language identification Survey, conducts an informal interview, and if needed, administers the NYSITELL to newly admitted students.

Our Pupil Accounting Secretary also notifies the ELL Coordinator whenever a student is transferred to our school from another NYC public school. The ELL Coordinator then reviews the transfer student's home language and exam history, and runs the RLER report in ATS, in order to determine whether the student is entitled to ENL instruction.

The process we have in place for the identification of ELLs year-round does not interrupt the provision of mandated ENL instruction to current, former and potential ELLs, because our ELL Coordinator is not an ENL provider.

Principal Certification

In accordance with New York State's Commissioner's Regulations Part 154 as outlined and implemented in the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, I, attest that the following ELL identification procedures and activities are adhered to, and staff are trained on the items listed below.

- The ELL Identification Process is completed for each student within 10 school days of enrollment (20 school days for students entering with IEPs).
- Enrollment status of each newly admitted student is determined:
  a. If a student has been in New York State public schools within the past 2 years, our school contacts the previous school to obtain ELL status, relevant assessment scores, and English language proficiency level.
  b. If a student has been outside of New York State public schools for more than 2 years, our school administers the ELL Identification Process as part of reentry.

- The home language of the student is determined by a trained and licensed pedagogue.
  a. The parent completes the Home Language Identification Survey in the parent's preferred language; translation services are provided by a bilingual staff member, the DOE's over-the-phone translation services, or an alternative, high quality translation service.

- An interview with parents and students in English and the home language is conducted. This includes reviewing documents, prior assessments, and academic experience. An assessment of the student's abilities and/or work samples determines the student's literacy and math level in his/her home language.
- Eligibility for the NYSITELL is determined.
  a. If the newly enrolled student is entering with an IEP, the school's Language Proficiency Team (LPT) recommends eligibility to the principal, who obtains final approval from the superintendent.

- Students are administered the NYSITELL, if eligible.
- Notification letters are sent to the parent/guardian in their preferred language.
  a. Parent is notified of their child's ELL status and results of the NYSITELL.

- If the student is identified as an ELL and the student's home language is Spanish, the student is administered the Spanish Language Assessment Battery (LAB).
- Student with Interrupted/Inconsistent Formal Education (SIFE) status is determined using New York State's resources.
- If a student is a newly identified ELL, the parent is invited to the parent orientation meeting.
  a. The parent orientation meeting provides parents/guardians with an explanation of each ELL program model offered in NYC; the parent video describing the three programs is presented (in parent's preferred language); parents/guardians are encouraged to ask questions so that they are informed about all ELL programs; translation and interpretation services are provided throughout the meeting.

- ELL is placed in the ELL program that the parent selected.
  a. If the bilingual program that the parent selected is not available, the parent is offered a transfer to a school with that bilingual program in accordance with NYC DOE transfer policies.
  b. If the ELL remains in the school, the ELL is placed in English as a New Language and our school keeps track of parent selection so that when minimum thresholds are met, we can open the ELL program of choice.

- Parents are notified that they have 45 days to appeal the ELL status of their child (ELL Re-identification Process).
- If the ELL Re-identification Process is implemented for any student, the principal reviews the decision of any student whose ELL status was changed because of the ELL Re-identification Process within 6 to 12 months.
- Copies of documentation regarding ELL identification, including letters and parent notifications are kept in the students' cumulative files.

LTI Overview and Part A: Designation of a LAC

Chancellor's Regulation A-663 establishes procedures for ensuring that Limited-English-Proficient (LEP) parents of students enrolled in the New York City public schools are provide with a meaningful opportunity to participate in and have access to programs and services critical to their child's education. To this end, schools must review and complete the annual LTI Plan to address its language assistance needs consistent with the requirements of this regulation.

The LTI Plan requires information on the following:

- Name of person designated as the Language Access Coordinator (LAC).
- Identification and assessment of LEP parent population.
- Identification of Critical Communications and standing, in-person meetings throughout the school year that require language assistance services and how the school plans to respond to these needs.
- Plan to ensure staff awareness of language access requirements and available resources.
- Provision of notice to parents on the available language assistance services.

Methods for the school to solicit and implement feedback on its provision of language assistance services.

Designation of a LAC
Name of person designated and trained as the LAC.
At the start of each school year, each principal is required to designate at least one staff member to serve as the Language Access Coordinator (LAC), responsible for overseeing language assistance services within the school.

We have pre-populated the following information based on our records. Please confirm that the designated staff member(s) are your school's Galaxy-designated LAC(s) and provide the date(s) they attended the OLA Language Access Coordinator Training. Note that this training is in addition to the mandatory asynchronous NYCPS Language Access Training for School-based Staff on the WeLearnNYC learning platform. If any information is missing, please provide the requested details.

As a reminder, LACs are internal staff designations and are not meant to serve as the primary point of contact for families regarding language access-related matters. The Parent Coordinator, or another designated staff member, should remain the main contact for families regarding all issues, including language access.

Part C: Parent Communications and Engagement

Parent Communication and Engagement

Identification of written critical communications and in-person meetings throughout the school year that require language assistance services and how the school plans to respond to these needs.

1. List the documents your school typically distributes each year that require translation, along with your plan for translating these documents.

Document Type (e.g. parent flyers, IEPs, etc.)	How do you plan to implement the translation process? Please include procedures and resources to ensure the timely delivery of translated documents to parents.
Student & Family Handbook	PS/IS 229K has several established procedures in place to facilitate effective communication and translation. We have an existing multi-lingual in-house translation team comprised of staff members who can provide timely or emergency oral or written translation services. The team has members who are fluent in Chinese (Cantonese and Mandarin), Spanish, Arabic, Russian, Ukrainian, Korean, Italian, Greek, Sinhalese, and Albanian. PS/IS 229K makes use of existing written DOE translated documents published online that can be printed and/or forwarded. The school also utilizes the NYCDOE Translation Unit and sends in documents to be translated, when needed. Forms, documents and notices translated by the DOE Translation Unit and/or our school based multi-lingual translation team are kept on file and updated. All translated documents and handouts are expected to be distributed in a timely manner giving parents/guardians ample time to read, ask any questions that may arise, and respond, if needed. In addition, teachers are currently using communication applications such as Class Dojo, Remind, Google Voice and email via Google Classroom which can be translated into the family's preferred language. The DOE messaging application allows for school staff and the parent coordinator to send messages in preferred languages. 3. Describe the resources and processes your school will use to communicate with parents who speak a language other than English during an emergency (e.g., lockdown, fire, student attendance, nurse/hospital visit, etc.), or when a parent needs to contact the school in an emergency, ensuring communication is in their preferred language.

It is imperative that families are notified of a school-wide emergency in their preferred language of communication. Therefore, PS/IS 229 utilizes a number of established resources. In the event of an emergency, all staff members are required to have their emergency folders with them, along with their student lists, blue cards and parent/guardian contact information.

- The school will contact the school's parents/guardians via the DOE Messaging Application located on Teachhub. This application allows schools to communicate with parents via email, text and robo call in their preferred languages.

- Emergency postings sent via Google Classroom are all translatable for students and parents/guardians.

- Our school Web page (www.PS229.org), which includes important information regarding the school.

- Multi-Lingual In-House Translation and Interpretation Team:
As described earlier, bilingual staff members are able to assist families who speak numerous languages spoken in the school.

- Over the Phone Interpretation Services - DOE provided resource. All staff have their emergency folders with them with student lists and parent/guardian contacts and have the phone number for the Over the Phone Interpretation Services.

- All staff are emailed an RCAL spreadsheet which states the preferred oral and written languages of communication of the parents/guardians by class. This ensures teachers and staff all know the exact language parents prefer to communicate in, both oral and written.

-Most teachers are in communication with the parents/guardians of their students via Class Dojo, Remind and Google Voice which can be used in emergencies as well. All are translatable.

-Administrators, main office staff, ENL Teachers, the school nurse and the security officer all have a DOE approved translation device called "Pocket Talk" which provides immediate oral translations in all the school's spoken languages.

For student specific emergencies:

- The school will contact individual families immediately by telephone first, during student specific emergencies. As expected, the school will have their students current phone numbers, emails and a list of their preferred language of communication. Translators are available either in school, via the school's translation team or via the DOE provided over the phone translation service. This is to ensure parents are contacted in their preferred language and have a complete and accurate understanding of the situation.

- Once the DOE Messaging Application is updated, this will allow the school to send individual messages via email, text and robo calls in their preferred languages.

- If child has been seen by the school nurse, she will disseminate DOE provided translated documents for parents/guardians which offers guidance on what they should do next and a summary of the school nurse visit. The nurse also makes use of the school's multi-lingual translation team and uses the DOE Over the Phone Translation Service to translate for students and parents when needed. The nurse also has access to a DOE approved translation device called "Pocket Talk." This allows the nurse to ensure immediate communication in an emergency with any student who speaks another language.

- The school safety officer also has the DOE approved translation device called "Pocket Talk" that is used to translate for students. Along with the device, the school safety officer has other ways of translating by using the school's translation team or via the DOE provided over the phone translation service.

- The school has an attendance team in place. Teachers and attendance team members conduct parent outreach and communication regarding attendance issues. All members are expected to contact parents/guardians in the preferred language of the parent and send any written materials in English and their preferred language of communication. In addition, GAMA contacts parents via email in their ATS preferred language each time students are absent from school.

-Parents can always contact the school by phone in their preferred language of communication and are encouraged to do so. It is up to the school to ensure communication is accurate and understandable for both parties, especially during an emergency situation.
The pupil accounting secretary speaks both Cantonese and Mandarin and a member of the office staff speaks Spanish. Members of the school based multi-lingual translation team speak all of the main languages in the school and are available for any emergency. If the parents speak another language that isn't covered, then school staff will connect them with a translator via three way calling on the DOE-provided over-the-phone translation service.

-Parents can also send emails in their preferred language which the school will translate and can also contact their classroom teacher directly, if the teacher participates, via Class Dojo, Remind, or Google Voice which are also translatable. In addition, school secretaries, security, and the parent coordinator have the DOE-provided translated sheet of sayings in each language and all administrators, secretaries, ENL teachers, the school nurse and school safety officer have a "Pocket Talk" translation device for emergency situations.

Part D: Staff Awareness

Staff Awareness

Plan to ensure staff awareness of language access requirements and available resources.

1. Describe how your school will ensure that all staff members complete the required asynchronous NYCPS Language Access Training for School-based Staff on the WeLearnNYC learning platform, and are familiar with the Best Practices for When to Provide Translation of Critical Written Communications to Parents and Best Practices for When to Provide Interpretation for Critical Oral Communications with Parents. Additionally, explain how your Galaxy-designated LAC will disseminate future language access resources and updates to all staff members.

The importance of parent engagement and the need to minimize language based communication barriers will be emphasized during turnkey training provided by the school's LAC at the beginning of the school year. Chancellor's Regulation A-663 will be discussed at this training. Based on the recent RCPL (Parent Preferred Language Report) about 47% of parents in the school prefer to communicate in a language other than English and technology and multi-lingual school staffing make this viable. During this training, the Language Access Coordinator will share the language access resources available with teachers and staff to assist with parent engagement and minimize language communication barriers. Included in these resources will be links to "Best Practices for When to Provide Translation of Critical Written Communications to Parents", "Best Practices for When to Provide Interpretation for Critical Oral Communications with Parents" and links to DOE translated documents to be used throughout the school year. Our Principal will notify staff of the WeLearn training and will ask staff to share their training completion emails to track staff progress.

Staff will also be provided with a copy of the DOE Over the Phone Interpretation Service flyer so calls can be made to parents/guardians in the parents' preferred language. In addition, teachers will be provided with the ATS generated RCPL spreadsheet showing the oral/written preferred language of communication of their student's parents and guardians.

Teachers and office staff will have access to the Language Access folder with current DOE accessible translated forms, a master list of forms that were translated in the school by the multi-lingual translation team, any prior translations completed by the DOE Office of Translation and Interpretation, links to the Translation and Interpretation Unit and the Language Access Handbook for reference. Staff will receive the list of the multi-lingual school translation team members and are encouraged to contact team members when immediate oral or written translations are needed.

Part E: Parental Notification

Parental Notification

Provision of notice to parents on the available language assistance services.

1. Describe how your school will inform parents about available language assistance services in their preferred language. Include any of the following:

- Translated signage
- Brochures, flyers, or letters shared with parents
- Parent engagement events where language assistance services are highlighted (e.g., PTA meetings, international parents' night, etc.)
- Messaging applications

- Language Access for NYC Public Schools Families brochure

Parents are welcomed at the school upon entry and the school is responsible for sending a warm and inclusive message and informing the parents that language access is an integral part of our school culture. Parents are encouraged to be involved in their child's education and to be in contact with their children's teachers. School staff recognize that language should not be a barrier to successful school/parent collaboration and staff is expected to reinforce this message to parents.

Welcome posters will be displayed in all covered languages at the main entrance, in the parent coordinator's office and in the main office. The Parents' Bill of Rights and the Parents' Guide to Language Access will be displayed and accessible in the main office. The Language ID Guides/Language Access for NYC Public Schools Family brochures are located at the security desk and also in the main office. Attempts will always be made to provide translators or translation devices at parent engagement events, workshops, meetings, and orientations. The school uses DOE provided translated forms, letters and flyers via InfoHub, documents translated from the Translation and Interpretation Unit and documents translated in school via the school's multi-lingual translation team. Parents are informed that teachers have unlimited access to the DOE contracted Over the Phone Translation Services and a conversation can always take place in their preferred language of communication.

In addition, translators are always available at registration. If a translator isn't present, then the Over the Phone Translation Service is contacted. School staff are expected to make contact and communicate, when possible, in the preferred language of parents and guardians. This reinforces the parents understanding of their right to receive information in their preferred language. In addition, the DOE Messaging Application allows messages to be sent via email, text and robo calls in their preferred languages. Also, most teachers use Class Dojo, Remind or Google Voice to have direct contact with parents in their preferred languages. Lastly, the Parent Coordinator disseminates all information to parents using their ATS preferred language through the DOE Messaging Application. (GAMA)

Part F: Monitoring

Monitoring

Methods for soliciting and implementing feedback on language assistance services.

1. In addition to the feedback received from parents via OLA's Translation & Interpretation Feedback Survey, describe the methods your school will use to gather feedback from parents regarding the language assistance services they receive in their preferred language.

Each year, there are ongoing discussions held among staff to identify any additional communication challenges and translation/interpretation needs of non-English speaking parents/guardians. The school tries to be proactive and address any new concerns that arise. A school-created Language Access Google Form is sent out to families who are asked about their individual language needs, their level of satisfaction with the school's translation services, and how the school can best address their needs. Data from parent responses are discussed and included in updated plans.

In addition, communication and engagement needs are discussed at parent meetings so each teacher and the parents/guardians are on the same page, and all are aware of the best ways to communicate effectively. Teachers and staff often speak with parents via Class Dojo, Remind and Google Voice. They also speak via translators from the school's translation team, use the DOE over the phone translation services, or they email. Teachers encourage emails in the parent's preferred language as all emails are easily translatable. Teachers are encouraged to listen as much as they speak and to try to ensure there are open lines of communication set up with all the parents and guardians in their classes.

Feedback is gained and improvements are made to ensure communication isn't a barrier and communication is made easier for the benefit of all involved. P.S./I.S. 229K strives to be open and inviting, promoting an inclusive atmosphere where all may feel welcome and comfortable through sharing their communication and engagement needs. P.S./I.S. 229K encourages parents to provide feedback and is responsive to their suggestions. The ENL teachers, Dual Language teachers, ENL Coordinator, Parent Coordinator, Pupil Accounting Secretary and Assistant Principal are all members of the Language Access Team and attempt to bridge any communication gaps between caregivers and the school.

The Parent Coordinator, who is also a member of the Language Access Team, and the PTA provide feedback regarding families' needs to members of the Language Access Team, the administration and to the School Leadership Team (SLT). The SLT addresses the school 's communication services and reviews related data in the annual School Survey. Direct parent feedback will impact potential changes and improvements before and during the school year.

2. How has your school worked to improve its language assistance services? Share any feedback results and outline your plans for further improvements in the upcoming school year.

In September, the school's Language Access Coordinator will provide Language Access Training to the staff. A section of the training relates to data collected from parent and teacher feedback and data from Google Forms sent to parents asking them directly about Language Access in the school. A familiar pattern has been noted where families have expressed they would like to be more engaged with the school, but are often occupied with work and other time constraints. We plan to continue making language services more accessible to families by providing more workshops during the evening times where parents will have the ability to join, along with in-person translators and also recording some workshops and/or creating videos so parents can view at times that are convenient for their schedules.

We also plan to continue providing families with school-based materials in their preferred languages and utilizing DOE provided translated forms. School-wide functions will continue to be held that are culturally relevant for families, with workshops that are meaningful, informative, interesting, and exciting. Our school achieving Title 1 status has allowed us to provide even more culturally relevant and accessible than in years past. Workshop topics are chosen based on parent feedback and established educational needs.

A direct example of changes that were made involve the use of "Timekettle" translation technology for parents/guardians to use during classroom meetings and class observations. These Bluetooth based translators, purchased by the school, allowed teachers to speak in English and parents/guardians to receive direct translations into their accompanying earpieces in their preferred languages. In addition, the school has received a large number of "Listentech" devices that provide many of the same functions.

Overall, our school-wide goal is to continue to increase family access and engagement. P.S./I.S. 229K believes that families should never feel that language is a barrier at our school. Many grade levels throughout the school use uniform messaging applications per grade such as: Remind, Class Dojo, and Google Voice for immediate and direct communication in the preferred languages of the families. This provides everyone with a simple and accessible way to ensure timely and easy communication between staff and families. Each year, more parents connect to these services and are in close communication with teachers.

DOE contracted Over the Phone Translation Services also allows staff to communicate with families at any time of the day or weekend, when needed. During Language Access Training, staff will continue to learn about all available DOE Language Access Resources, all available Language Access Resources for parents, how to best use these resources, and how to inform parents of all the resources available to them in their preferred languages.

Each year, more translated resources are available and are shared with parents in their preferred languages, and new technology such as the "Pocket Talk" devices and "Timekettle" has made communication more accessible and accurate which has helped to further erode communication barriers.

Title III Outline

Title III Supplemental Program for ELLs for SY 2025-26

REQUIREMENTS

Title III supplemental services for English Language Learners (ELLs) must include the following three components:

- Direct instruction activities must be used to support language development, English and home language instruction, high academic achievement in math, and/or high academic achievement in other core academic areas. The Title III supplemental instructional services must be based on student need. These supplemental services should complement core bilingual and ENL services required under CR Part 154. Direct supplemental services should be provided for before school, after school, and Saturday programs. Teachers providing the services must be bilingual education and/or English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) certified teachers.
- High quality professional development that is "of sufficient intensity and duration to have a positive and lasting impact on the teachers' performance in classrooms." Professional development activities should be well-planned, ongoing events rather than one-day or short-term workshops and conferences.
- Parent engagement and supports must ensure that there are appropriate translation and interpretation services to meet community needs. These are in addition to mandated activities, such as parent orientation during ELL identification process or annual ELL parent meetings.

Note: The Title III ELL program planning ratio is as follows: 60% to direct instruction, 10% to professional development (if funded using Title III ELL funds), 10% to parent engagement (if funded using Title III ELL funds), and 20% to OTPS (if funded using Title III ELL funds).

For more information on Title III requirements, please see the School Allocation Memo or contact your ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance and Performance Specialist. Any updates or revisions to this plan must be made through the iPlan portal.

Title III ELL Summary

Provide a summary of each program funded under Title III ELL for SY 25-26: For each program, describe:

- When the program takes place (i.e., after school, before school, Saturday academy)

- Activities ELLs will engage in and how these activities will enhance instructional opportunities for ELLs
- How ELLs will be grouped for instruction and specify the number of student groups. Include total number of student groups and total number of ELLs in each group, for each program
- How instruction will be delivered (e.g., team teaching, parallel teaching, etc.)
- How the program will be supervised and whether this will be funded by Title III ELL. Please note: If supervision will be funded using Title III ELL funds, you must include the supervisor's regular work day hours and the hours the supervisor will get paid per session.

The Title III afterschool program for ELLs serves students who are at the Entering, Emerging, Transitioning and Expanding levels. The afterschool program will be designed to target two learning focuses. The "Newcomers program" is designed for entering and emerging students in grades K to 8. This program is mostly for ELLs with 0 to 2 years of service. It will focus more on foundational skills such as phonics and vocabulary. The "Developing ELLs program" will target our transitioning and expanding students in grades 3 to 8. This program is mostly for ELLs with 3 to 5 years of service. It will focus more on reading and writing. However, all four language modalities are incorporated into the lessons in both types of afterschool programs.

The Title III afterschool program will be led by our ELL Coordinator who will provide student data to the per session teachers. The teacher may be a certified ENL teacher or a common branch teacher who will collaborate with a certified ENL teacher to focus on improving reading and writing for our transitioning and expanding students in grades 3-8. The purpose of having common branch teachers is to build teacher capacity in the Title III program. This is also an opportunity for our grades 3-8 common branch teachers to work in a smaller group setting with their ELLs to target reading and writing.

For the Newcomers program, our teachers will use the Really Great Reading foundations program with our entering and emerging ELLs. In addition, students will have Imagine learning accounts that will generate reports for the teachers. Teachers will also have i-Ready screener data that will target domain specific standards for our entering and emerging ELLs. The program will run on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, 2:30 pm-4:00 pm, from November through April. It will be conducted in English by certified ENL teachers. Students will be grouped according to grade levels. We will try to keep the group size small in order to maximize learning.

The Developing ELLs afterschool program is individualized and will focus primarily on targeting the grade level standards our ENL students must attain for proficiency. ENL teachers will have access to their assessment screeners and will identify students' weaknesses in ELA. An ENL teacher will turnkey this information and collaborate with the common branch teacher to create lessons that focus on reading and writing. This will bridge any gaps that our ENL teachers have in planning during the regular instructional day. Students will be grouped according to grade levels. The program will run on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, 2:30 pm-4:00 pm, from November through April. It will be conducted in English by common branch teachers who will be collaborating with a certified ENL teacher.

Instruction will be planned around Advanced Literacy hallmarks. Schoolwide protocols will be used in afterschool for coherence in planning to connect students to school day protocols. Students will also have access to iPads and digital learning programs such as IXL, i-Ready Personalized Instruction and Imagine Learning Language & Literacy Program. Students will be able to work independently on language skills at their level and at their own pace. Students will have opportunities to work on one or more digital learning programs independently. The personalized instruction is specific for each student. As a student's skill levels increase, the program moves to the next level. The sessions are structured with interactive, multi-sensory elements where plenty of visual aids and auditory components are provided. All instruction will be in English with home language support. Students and teachers will have access to translation apps and translation devices.

Rationale for Title III ELL Funded Programs

Describe the rationale for each Title III ELL funded program. For each program, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis that support the need for program, and
- Data sources used to justify the need for the program

The Title III afterschool program for ELLs serves students who are at the Entering, Emerging, Transitioning and Expanding levels. The afterschool program will be designed to target two learning focuses. The "Newcomers program" is designed for entering and emerging students. This program is mostly for ELLs with 0 to 2 years of service. It will focus more on foundational skills such as phonics and vocabulary. The "Developing ELLs program" will target our transitioning and expanding students. This program is mostly for ELLs with 3 to 5 years of service. It will focus more on reading and writing. However, all four language modalities are incorporated into the lessons in both types of afterschool programs.

Based on data from NYSESLAT score reports, Acadience, i-Ready and the EDAT, we have found that our transitioning and expanding students have enough foundational literacy support, but need extra intervention in reading comprehension and writing; whereas our entering and emerging students need to build their foundational skills. As a result, we have designed two different types of afterschool programs for ELLs.

We used quantitative data by analyzing the number of entering and emerging students for the Newcomers program and transitioning and expanding students for the Developing ELLs program. We will use qualitative data by closely looking at the number of years the ELL has been at the current proficiency level so that we can determine whether the student should be in the Newcomers program or the Developing ELLs program.

According to RLAT, we have 32 entering students and 38 emerging students in grades K to 8. We will group students by grade levels in our Newcomers program. This program will be taught by certified ENL teachers. We have 20 transitioning students and 43 expanding students in grades 3 to 8. We will group students by grade levels in our Developing ELLs program. This program will be taught by our common branch teachers who will be collaborating with a certified ENL teacher.

Students and Grade Levels to be Served

For each Title III ELL funded program, describe the students that will be served. Include:

- Total number of ELLs for each program,
- Grade levels for ELLs in program, and
- ELL Subgroups (e.g., Newcomer) and/or proficiency levels (e.g., Entering, Emerging, etc.).

The Newcomers program will consists of about 70 entering and emerging students. The students will be organized into groups based on grade levels i.e. grades K-1, grades 2-3, grades 4-5, and grades 6-8.

The Developing ELLs program will consists of about 63 transitioning and expanding students. The students will be organized into groups based on grade levels i.e. grades 3-4, grades 5-6 and grades 7-8.

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III ELL funded program, include:

- Start and end dates/months,
- Total number of sessions,
- Days of the week the program will be offered, and
- Time and duration of sessions.

The program will run on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, 2:30 pm-4:00 pm, from November through April for about 40 sessions.

Language of Instruction

For each Title III ELL funded program, include language of instruction and how home language support is provided.

English will be the language of instruction. Teachers and students will have access to translation apps and translation devices for home language support. Translated letters and permission slips will be sent home to notify parents of the afterschool program. In addition, emails will be sent out via GAMA which is automatically translated into parents' preferred languages.

Number and Types of Certified Teachers

For each Title III ELL funded program, include number and type(s) of certified teachers (e.g., ESOL, bilingual, content area):

The Newcomers program will be taught by four certified ENL teachers.

The Developing ELLs program will be taught by two common branch teachers who will be collaborating with a certified ENL teacher to focus on improving reading and writing for our transitioning and expanding students in grades 3-8. The purpose of having common branch teachers is to build teacher capacity in the Title III program.

Types of Materials

For each Title III ELL funded program, include:

- Types of materials,
- Titles and publishers of main supplemental materials,
- Location where purchased materials will be stored, and
- Whether materials will be purchased using Title III ELL funds. Please note: If materials are purchased using Title III ELL funds, they cannot exceed 20% of the total allocation.

Students in the Newcomers program will have access to Really Great Reading materials, "On our way to English" workbooks from Continental Press and teacher-created materials. Students will also have access to technology and digital learning programs such as IXL, i-Ready Personalized Instruction and Imagine Learning Language & Literacy Program. Students will have opportunities to work independently on language skills at their level and at their own pace. The personalized instruction is specific for each student. As a student's skill levels increase, the program moves to the next level. Students in the Developing ELLs program will be using the Ready books which will focus on skills-based instruction. The ENL teachers and common branch teachers will work on strategies on all four language modalities. In addition, students and teachers will have access to translation apps and translation devices for home language support.

All workbooks and materials will be stored in the afterschool teachers' classrooms. Workbooks will be purchased using Title III ELL funds. Digital learning programs will be purchased using other funds.

Implementation Plan and Maintaining Records

- Describe your school's plan for implementation (e.g. when and how parents/guardians will be notified about the program(s)).
- Describe how your school will maintain records of your school's Title III ELL funded program, including evidence of parent notification in their preferred languages, student attendance records, evidence of teacher certifications for teachers supporting the program, record of parent engagement activities, records of professional development activities, purchase orders and invoices to date. For additional information, please refer to the Title III ELL FAQ.

The ELL coordinator will create student attendance records for the afterschool teachers to take attendance. The school's plan for implementation is to first meet with the ENL teachers to review the number of ELLs in each proficiency level and grade, and to determine which students will attend the Newcomers program and which students will attend the Developing ELLs program. Once this is determined, parents will receive translated copies of the afterschool program letters and permission slips in their preferred languages. The notices will be sent home, signed and returned to the ELL coordinator, and the ELL coordinator will have rosters ready for the afterschool teachers prior to the first day of the afterschool program. Evidence of teacher certifications are kept in the main office. All other Title III-related records will be kept in the ELL coordinator's office.

Part C: Professional Development

Professional Development Summary

Provide a summary of your school's plan for professional development under your Title III ELL program. Please make sure to describe:

- Professional development to be provided,
- Activities that teachers will engage with by topic, and
- Whether the professional development provided will be funded by Title III ELL funds. Please note: If PD will be funded by Title III ELL funds, vendor cost is calculated as part of OTPS and must not exceed 20% of the total allocation; teacher per-session is calculated as part of PD and must not exceed 10% of the total allocation.

The focus of professional development is to assist teachers by enhancing their strategies and methods in helping ELLs to achieve English language proficiency. Teachers are encouraged to select programs of interest offered through the NYC Department of Education as well as outside agencies. ENL teachers and common branch teachers who work with ELLs, along with administrators, will receive professional development and support from Center for Integrated Teacher Education (CITE) and Center for Teacher and Parent Support (CTPS). The majority of the professional development sessions will be in person. A consultant from CITE and CTPS will provide professional learning sessions on various ENL topics and also provide valuable feedbacks to teachers based on classroom observations. The consultant will also debrief with administrators following each professional learning session.

Teachers working in the Title III afterschool program will also receive opportunities to attend workshops led by District 20's ML/ELL team. All school staff will have a PD led by school administrators, the literacy coach and/or teachers who are responsible for turnkeying information from workshops attended. Staff will focus on a systematic approach of teaching literacy as guided by the Science of Reading approach. In addition, ENL teachers will provide professional learning at grade level meetings by analyzing the components of the read, think, talk, write cycle, and share different protocols with their common branch colleagues that can be used in the classroom with ELLs.

Schoolwide professional development will also be provided by Hello Inclusion, Savvas enVision and HMH.

CITE and CTPS professional development will be funded by Title III ELL funds.

Rationale for Professional Development

Describe the rationale for the professional development to be provided. For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., patterns and trends identified) that support the need for the professional development, and
- Data sources (e.g., school survey teacher responses, in-house teacher surveys, teacher observation data) used to justify the professional development.

The focus of professional development is to assist teachers by enhancing their strategies and methods in helping ELLs to achieve English language proficiency. Teachers are encouraged to select programs of interest offered through the NYC Department of Education as well as outside agencies. ENL teachers and common branch teachers who work with ELLs, along with administrators, will receive professional development and support from Center for Integrated Teacher Education (CITE) and Center for Teacher and Parent Support (CTPS), and the ML/ELL team at District 20. The majority of the professional learning sessions will be in person. Professional development will also be provided by Curriculum Associates and turnkeyed to ENL teachers on how to read data from i-Ready and Acadience assessment screeners so that teachers can create groups for data driven instruction. In addition, we will seek professional development from Arts Connection Professional Learning on how to implement arts strategies to enhance literacy in the classroom.

Administrators met with the grades that they supervised in order to identify a professional learning plan in the school. We identified the types of professional development that the staff would like to attend. A Google form was created to survey and gather data on the needs of the staff. In analyzing teacher responses from the survey, our rationale for our professional development plan is to look at strengthening core instruction with strategies to help build reading comprehension and writing for all our ELLs. We also analyzed the writing component in all subjects, and the data showed a need to focus on supporting ELLs with writing across all content areas.

Teachers to Receive Professional Development

Include information on the teachers to receive professional development. Please specify how all teachers working in the Title III ELL program will receive ongoing professional development related to the Title III ELL program.

Maintaining Records

Describe your school's plan for maintaining documentation (e.g., agendas, attendance sheets) of all professional development provided as part of your Title III ELL plan; please specify which activities were funded by Title III ELL funds.

We will maintain documentation by keeping records of agendas and teacher attendance sheets from all professional development activities. These documents will be used to keep track of teachers attending professional development as part of our Title III ELL plan.

Part D: Family Engagement Activities

Family Engagement Summary

Provide a summary of your school's family engagement activities under your Title III ELL program. Describe the activities that families of ELLs will engage with by topic. Please make sure to include whether the activities will be funded by Title III ELL funds.
Please note: If family engagement activities will be funded by Title III ELL funds, vendor cost is calculated as part of OTPS and must not exceed 20% of the total allocation; teacher per-session is calculated as part of family engagement and must not exceed 10% of the total allocation.

To support family engagement, our school will host a series of English as a New Language classes both virtually and in person for parents/guardians of ELLs conducted by The Center for Teacher & Parent Support (CTPS). These workshops will help parents to feel more comfortable and confident when they read, write and speak English both in their workplace and in their daily lives. The workshops will be conducted via Zoom. Parents can either attend from home or in our building. We will have a classroom set up with laptops and headphones for parents who might not have access to technology at home.

We will also facilitate other family engagement activities such as learning through the arts programs and family cooking workshops on weekdays evenings and Saturday mornings in which the entire family can participate.

To support parent engagement, our school will host four workshops in person for families of ELLs/MLLs through the facilitator Learning Through an Expanding Arts Program (LEAP), Inc. New York City. These workshops will include literacy games for ELLs using drama and movement to help English Language Learners feel more comfortable and confident when they read, write and speak English. Math through the Arts will help experience math in new ways through visual arts, music and dance.

Certified ENL teachers will provide seminars for the newcomers/new immigrant families so that they can learn about the school, community and how to become well informed and involved citizens. Four workshops will be conducted quarterly and offered in the evenings. Parents will also receive workshops that teaches strategies on how to work with their children on English acquisition skills.

A Google Forms survey was sent to parents in June 2024 for updated information and preferred language for communication. Notification of meetings will be sent out in the parent's preferred languages. Interpreters, provided by the school, will be utilized for these events. All information pertaining to seminars will be maintained in the ENL binder stored in the Language Access Coordinator's office. In order to communicate with families about school workshops, we will inform all teachers to send out via messaging apps or email. In addition, we will reach out to the PTA and Parent Coordinator who will send out messages to all families via paper and through the DOE GAMA app. GAMA will be contingent on the DOE's implementation of the app for the 2025-2026 school year.

Rationale for Family Engagement Activities

Describe the rationale for the family engagement activities to be provided: For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., reasons for topics, time activities will be offered), and
- Data sources (e.g., parent survey responses, in-house parent surveys, PTA/PA request, etc.) used to justify the need for activities.

We will send out a parent survey to gather both qualitative and quantitative data to use as rationale for the family engagement activities to be provided. We will use a Google form survey and email parents through GAMA, which automatically translates into parents' preferred languages, to gather qualitative and quantitative data on their interests for family engagement activities. We will also ask parents on the survey the times that they are available to participate in these activities. These data, along with PTA requests, will justify the needs for our school to plan and book various family engagement activities.

Based on parent survey responses and PTA requests, we plan to continue our English as a New Language Classes for parents on Friday mornings conducted by The Center for Teacher & Parent Support (CTPS). We also plan to facilitate family cooking workshops and learning through the arts programs on weekday evenings and Saturday mornings in which the entire family can participate.

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III ELL family engagement activity, include:

- Start and end dates/months,
- Total number of sessions,
- Days of sessions, and
- Time and duration of sessions.

English as a New Language Classes for Parents/Guardians: multiple sessions, ongoing, Friday mornings, 1.5 hours per session
Family Cooking Workshops: multiple sessions, ongoing, Saturday mornings, 1.5 hours per session
Learning through the Arts: multiple sessions, ongoing, weekday evenings or Saturday mornings, 1.5 hours per session

Family Notification of Activities and Translation and Interpretation Supports:

Describe:

- How families will be notified of Title ELL family engagement activities (e.g., phone calls, emails),
- How notification of activities will be translated into parent/guardians' preferred language, and
- How interpretation supports will be provided at events.

Notification of family engagement activities will be sent out via translated paper copies in the parents' preferred languages. Teachers will also send out reminders via ClassDojo and Remind messaging apps which have translation capabilities. In addition, our Parent Coordinator will send out messages and notices to the school community via GAMA which automatically translates into parents' preferred languages.

Interpreters, provided by the school, will be available for family engagement events. We have also invested in a new translation device called X1 AI Interpreter Hub. This device can simultaneously translate English into 5 different languages for up to 50 participants. The X1 AI Interpreter Hub has proven to be an invaluable asset to our school community.

Maintaining Records

Describe how your school will maintain documentation (e.g. agendas, attendance sheets) of family engagement activities and notifications to families.

Attendance will be taken at each workshop. Notifications, agendas and attendance sheets will be kept as part of our Title III records in the ELL coordinator's office.

Title III Immigrant Outline

Title III Application for Immigrant Funding

Please note: Immigrant students are not necessarily English Language Learners (ELLs), and ELLs may or may not be immigrants. For the purpose of this funding, immigrant students are defined as individuals who were not born in any U.S. state (this includes the District of Columbia and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico); and have not been attending one or more schools in any one or more states for more than three full, academic years (the months need not be consecutive).

- Implementing strong student supports to increase graduation rates.
- Community-based and school-based programming (e.g., before school, after school, Saturday program) to strengthen partnerships between immigrant families and schools.

The Title III Immigrant Afterschool Program will focus on resources in and around NYC available for both parents and children. Last year, our school's Title III Immigrant Afterschool Program concluded with a trip to the Intrepid. This year, our focus for our immigrant families will be the intersection of arts and social sciences, using resources available at the Whitney Museum of American Art.

For most of our immigrant families, they may need support in finding resources of different museums/sites/attractions to take their children. Since learning often comes from experience, the Title III Immigrant afterschool program will be dedicated to a theme that can easily help students make connections about the place they live. This program will provide students with real world experiences and set them up to exploring NYC and beyond.

Students will learn about different skills that will help them navigate a museum, such as reading the museum map, locating specific exhibits, learning about an exhibit by reading its label. The Title III Immigrant Afterschool Program will focus on exploring how art serves as a window to the world and how art helps us understand the world around us. As a cumulative activity, students and families will take a trip to the Whitney Museum of American Art.

This program will focus on newcomer ELLs in grades 3-8 and will begin in April and run for approximately six weeks. Students will be grouped for instruction based on grade levels. There will be five groups with about 12 ELLs in each group, with a total of 60 students in the program. Each group will be taught by one certified ENL teacher in a small group setting. This afterschool program will be taught in English with home language support.

Students will begin learning about the museum with a KWL chart. After the KWL chart, students will watch videos, read articles, using the museum website as a reference tool, and create a summary of what they learned. After students go on the trip with their families, they will reflect on the experience, discussing what they saw and what they learned with each other in order to enhance the experience.

Rationale for Title III Immigrant Funded Programs

Describe the rationale for each Title III Immigrant funded program:

For each program, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis that support the need for program, and
- Data sources used to justify the need for the program

For the Title III Immigrant program, we will examine ELLs in grades 3 to 8. This program will focus on our newcomers (ELLs who have received ELL services for 0 to 3 years). We will use results from the NYSESLAT and the NYSITELL as student data, along with the RFSF report, to identify students for this afterschool program. In addition, we will review the data from ELLs in grades 3-8 in all content areas, to identify any current or former ELLs that may have need of this afterschool program as the Whitney Museum of American Art is interdisciplinary, as art serves as a lens for understanding social, cultural and historical contexts.

Students and Grade Levels to be Served

For each Title III Immigrant funded program, describe the students that will be served:

Include:

- Total number of students for each program,
- Grade levels for students in program, and

The Title III Immigrant Afterschool Program will give students real world experiences and set them up to exploring the city and beyond, and parents can continue with their children after the program runs its course. As a cumulative activity, students and families will take a trip to the Whitney Museum of American Art. This is a learning experience not only for students, but for families as well who may not have the opportunity to visit all the museums that NYC has to offer. Students can share with their families what they have learned from the museum trip.

We used the results from our extensive "Title I Parent Engagement Interest Survey for Workshops" as our data sources to plan activities for families of ELLs. In addition to the interest questions, we surveyed whether or not their children received ENL services. Based on the results of the "Title I Parent Engagement Interest Survey for Workshops", we determined that there is a need for a field trip/excursion type activity that combines academic learning with real world experiences.

- Start and end dates/months,
- Total number of sessions,
