Section 1: Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Comprehensive Education Planning (CEP) is a structured, data-driven process that guides schools in assessing their needs, identifying areas for growth, setting strategic goals and implementing targeted actions to improve student outcomes. Collaboratively developed by the School Leadership Team (SLT) in accordance with the requirements of Chancellor's Regulation A-655, the CEP meets New York State Education Department (NYSED) requirements under the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) and aligns with NYC Public Schools' (NYCPS) system-wide priorities. By engaging all stakeholders—school leaders, teachers, families, students and community members—schools can create a data-informed, equity-focused roadmap for student success and continuous improvement.

Schools should focus their CEP on the five system-wide priorities below, connecting their planning to the data discussions and conversations with stakeholders held as part of the school's needs assessment:

- Priority 1: All students learn to read well
- Priority 2: All students are physically and emotionally safe
- Priority 3: All students have a high-quality academic experience
- Priority 4: All students graduate college and career ready and have a strong plan and pathway to economic security
- Priority 5: All districts and schools are more inclusive and responsive for parents and families, including having more families choose NYC Public Schools

The Education Planning Process

The CEP follows an equity-driven, continuous improvement cycle, rooted in the system-wide priorities. This begins with a comprehensive needs assessment of the school's most current data to identify priority needs and root causes. Next, the SLT establishes specific, measurable, attainable, relevant, and timely—SMART goal(s) aligned to each priority and determines targets to measure progress toward meeting the annual goals.

The SLT and instructional leaders define key evidence-based key strategies, professional learning activities and parent, family and community empowerment efforts. They monitor the implementation of those strategies and activities and track progress through measurable targets. Then, the SLT aligns the school-based budget with human and instructional resources to support action plans.

As schools set goals, develop key strategies, and plan action steps, they provide opportunities for all children to meet NYSED's proficient and advanced levels of student academic achievement. These include evidence based instructional strategies that address the educational needs of historically underserved populations and tackle structural inequities. Schools indicate how the plan addresses the needs of Multilingual/English Language Learners (ML/ELL) through development of the school's Language Allocation Policy (LAP) & Title III Application (if applicable) and the Language Translation and Interpretation (LTI) Plan, that are required as part of the CEP. Schools also address the needs of Students with Disabilities (SWD) through the High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities section of the plan. SLTs also develop a plan to improve attendance and reduce chronic absenteeism.

Guidance on Conducting a Comprehensive Needs Assessment

Directions: Conduct a comprehensive needs assessment for each Priority. The information below provides guidance for reviewing and analyzing student and school performance trends to uncover root causes for low student achievement.

1. Review Multiple Data Sources: Use the most current and available information including, but not limited to, the following sources of formative and summative data, as applicable:

- Qualitative and quantitative data, including enrollment and class size trends
- 2024-25 ESSA Accountability Data
- Instructional Leadership Framework (ILF), Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) Inventories, and NYC School Survey results
- Quality Review Reports, NYSED and NYCPS CSI or A/TSI Support Visits, Receivership Quarterly Reports, and Diagnostic Tool for School and District Effectiveness Framework (DTSDE)
- NYC School Quality Guide, Insight, New Visions, NWEA MAP and/or other formative assessment data, IEP Review Survey Data, Progress on IEP Goals Data, Program (SESIS-STARS Linkage) Reports, Mandated (Related) Services Reports, and NYCPS Tools for Understanding Your Data for student subgroup information

2. Analyze Data Trend(s) to Identify Areas of Strength and Need: Identify data trends by grade, cohort, and content area(s) to surface gaps and inequities. Compare data sets to identify instructional and school practices that are impacting student performance. Guiding questions to consider:

- What does the data reveal about improving and declining student performance trends within grades, cohorts, and student subgroups?
- What inequities are evident between highest and lowest performing student subgroups? Which subgroup(s) scored at Level 1 based on NYSED ESSA accountability indicators?
- What does the data suggest regarding the effectiveness (or ineffectiveness) of current school programs, practices, and/or strategies/initiatives? What areas may need to be strengthened?
- Are there any differences in student performance between program delivery models for ML/ELL and SWD? (e.g., for special education: special class, ICT, SETSS, related services only; for ML/ELL: Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) vs. Dual Language, etc.)
- How does delivery of instruction factor into data trends? What are the implications for teacher quality and professional learning?
- What inequities in special education referral and school disciplinary practices (e.g. suspensions, removals) are evident between student subgroups with IEPs?

3. Identify Root Cause(s): After analyzing the data, engage in a process for uncovering root causes or contributing factors for low student and school performance. Develop theories or hypotheses to explain why these needs exist and why your school is getting its current outcomes. Root causes could be related to gaps and inequities in areas such as curriculum & instruction, school systems & structures, student support services, school climate & safety, and family & community engagement. Focus on the causes, rather than the symptoms. Use the 5 Whys Method or other methods for identifying root causes. Consider the questions below:

- What theories or hypotheses explain the current student and school outcomes?
- Are there root causes specific to certain subgroups, grades, cohorts, or content area(s)?

Additional resources and supports are available below.

- Use this CEP Needs Assessment Worksheet to help your SLT and stakeholders identify appropriate data sources, data trends, root causes and priority needs.
- For guidance and best practices on engaging stakeholders in a comprehensive needs assessment and root cause analysis, see this deck.
- A current list of all CEP/Title I resources can be found on the iPlan Portal Public Resources Page.

Section 4: School Summary

Accountability Status

Accountability Status: LSI

School Summary

Directions: Complete this CEP Summary to serve as the "at-a-glance" narrative that provides contextual information about your school's unique characteristics. This summary and the entire Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) should be shared with your school community. Please note that this summary and the CEP will be made available to the public through the iPlan Portal, an online space where school stakeholders can go to collaborate in the development of the school's education plans.

Provide your school's mission statement:

All children have a right to an education that promotes creativity, high expectations and standards-based instruction through expert teaching.

The mission of the P.S. 225 administration and staff is to create a nurturing and exciting environment in which children of multicultural and multiethnic backgrounds can appreciate and celebrate the diversity of ideas, values and culture in the school community.

We strive to foster and sustain a cultural and instructional program conducive to student learning; create lifelong learners by promoting literacy; help children acquire the strategies needed to apply academic concepts to new learning and include parents as partners in the teaching and learning process.

Develop a narrative summary that includes contextual information about your school's community and its unique/important characteristics and partnerships:

Include demographic information about your school's student population.

P.S. 225 is an elementary school with approximately 1,100 students from grade Pre-K through grade 8. The school population is comprised of: 3% Black, 26% Hispanic, 55% White, 18% Asian, and 9% Native American students. The student body includes 44% English Language Learners and 15% Students with Disabilities. P.S. 225 is a Title I school. We are proud to boast a Spanish Dual Language program, and a partnership with Shorefront to provide after school services each day.

Additionally, some of the special initiatives that we celebrate:

- Continuing the support of a K-8 ELA and Math Coach

- Implementing Heggerty for Prek, K, and 1

- Continuing with Wilson Fundations in Grades K, 1 and 2

- Implementing Fundations in Grade 3

- Continuing the Talents program in grades 6-8

- Continuing with the Talents program in grade 5

- Incorporating Social Emotional Learning into all grades K-8, every day

- Continuing Advisory periods for grades 6-8

- Implementing Tiger Clubs for grades 6-8

- Continuing Leader in Me in grades K-2

- Implementing Leader in Me in grades 3-5

- Highlighting Best Teaching Practices school wide by conducting teacher intervisitations

- Visiting showcase schools to continue a professional learning community

To promote strong family and community ties, we will continue to partner closely with our PTA to host all events which include both PTA meetings and Fundraising for our students. Our Parent Engagement nights, which will be facilitated by members of our faculty, with staff translators available during all sessions.

The key focus for this year is building teaching practices that help children become independent learners through self-assessment. Our school wide focus of creating assessment capable learners will be the message throughout the school year, so that children can articulate what they are struggling with, and what they have mastered.

Briefly summarize the key initiatives your school will implement this school year.

During the 2025-26 school year P.S. 225 will implement HMH Into Reading curriculum within all K-5 ELA classrooms and Into Literature in 6-8 ELA classrooms. All 5-8 students will have the opportunity to select a talent of interest, such as performing arts, fine art, music, dance, chorus and sports which will be programmed for students during 2-3 periods per week. All K-8 Math classrooms will implement Envision Math. In all K-5 classes, teachers will be implementing Leader in Me to support students with SEL strategies. In Grades 6-8 , all students will be programmed for Advisory, where 15 or less students will engage in SEL activities aligned to "Leader In Me".
An ELA and Math coach will support all K-8 teachers with content, pedagogy, intervention services, and implementation of curriculum. P.S.225 will have a Spanish Dual Language program in grades 1-6. P.S.225 has a partnership with Shorefront to provide after school services each day. P.S. 225 will have an instructional focus aligned to Danielson Framework Component 1E, where all teachers will have common planning in their daily schedule and professional learning opportunities will be aligned to providing access to all learners by enhancing tier 1 instruction through differentiation and opportunities to engage in rigorous discussions and self assessment.

Priority 1 Data Trends, Root Causes and Priority Needs

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

1. Data Trend(s) (Cite Data Source & Year)	2. Root Cause(s)	3. Priority Needs
Increase Overall Student Performance	40% Proficient on 2025 EOY ELA i-Ready Diagnostic	Adjustments to the current ELA curriculum
Increase SWD student performance by incorporating IEP goals into daily instruction through small group	16% Proficient on 2025 EOY ELA i-Ready Diagnostic	Lack of additional supports for SWD
ELL's/MLL's need exposure to grade and age appropriate curriculum with explicit language instruction	28% Proficient on 2025 EOY ELA i-Ready Diagnostic	Lack of additional supports for ELL/MLL

Priority 1

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing school data trends, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for literacy outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Systemwide Focus Areas for Literacy

- Implement the strategies outlined in NYC Reads, including foundational phonics curriculum for grades K-2
- Implement dyslexia screening, professional learning, and program pilots (as applicable)
- Support literacy development through the integration of culturally responsive-sustaining texts and content

Priority 1 SMART Goal(s)

Target Population	Baseline Data	SMART Goal
All Students	40%	By June, 2026, literacy for All Students will improve, as measured by a 5% Increase, from 40% to 45%, of percentage of students proficient on the EOY ELA i-Ready Diagnostic.
Students with Disabilities (SWD)	16%	By June, 2026, literacy for Students with Disabilities (SWD) will improve, as measured by a 4% Increase, from 16% to 20%, of percentage of students proficient on the EOY ELA i-Ready Diagnostic.

Identify what your school would expect to see at the end of each period to know if you are on track to reach the identified goal(s). The progress monitoring targets can be a percentage or a number and should reflect a sufficient improvement in outcomes to meet the goal. Note that all schools are required to enter results in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) on the iPlan Portal.

Priority 1 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Our school is taking an approach to address the priority needs stemming from proficiency gaps in ELA among general education students, Students with Disabilities (SWD), and English as a New Language (ENL) learners.

Curriculum Adjustments (HMH)
- Revise and adapt the current ELA curriculum to align more closely with the needs of SWD and ENL students.
- Incorporate differentiated instruction methods that provide scaffolding and targeted interventions.
- Embed culturally responsive teaching practices to engage all learners more effectively.

Enhance Supports for SWD and ENL Students
- Implement additional structured supports for SWD, such as individualized learning plans, multi-sensory instructional strategies, and extended time for assignments.
- Expand ENL supports through leveled reading materials, language development activities, and explicit vocabulary instruction tailored to non-native speakers.
- Provide professional development to teachers focused on instructional techniques that aid literacy development in both groups.

ELA Coach with ENL Certification
- Introduce an ELA coach with ENL certification who can offer expertise in both content instruction and language acquisition strategies.
- Provide ongoing teacher coaching, modeling best practices in literacy instruction for SWD and ENL students.
- Facilitate collaboration between general education and support teachers to ensure consistent implementation of instructional strategies.

Reading Intervention Specialist
- Employ a reading intervention specialist to conduct targeted interventions for struggling readers across grade levels.
- Utilize data-driven instruction to pinpoint specific literacy gaps and provide tailored, small-group instruction.
- Integrate evidence-based reading strategies such as phonics reinforcement, guided reading, and fluency-building exercises.

Measuring Progress

- Conduct assessments to track improvements in ELA proficiency levels.
- Use formative assessments and student portfolios to monitor ongoing literacy development.
- Gather qualitative feedback from students, parents, and teachers to refine interventions.

Root Cause Addressed:

Low ELA Proficiency (40%)
- Adjustments to the ELA curriculum (HMH) will ensure alignment with the skill gaps observed in diagnostic assessments.
- More rigorous literacy instruction, including comprehension strategies, close reading techniques, and structured writing supports, will strengthen students' ability to analyze and articulate ideas.
- An ELA coach will provide specialized guidance to teachers, improving instructional practices that drive literacy growth.

SWD Proficiency (16%)
- Additional curriculum supports tailored for Students with Disabilities (SWD), such as differentiated instruction, assistive technology integration, and multisensory learning strategies.
- Professional development for educators on best practices in supporting SWD, ensuring more inclusive and effective teaching.
- A reading intervention specialist will focus on individual and small-group instruction, providing targeted remediation for struggling SWD learners.

ENL Student Proficiency (28%)
- Implementation of ENL-specific supports, including language scaffolding, explicit vocabulary instruction, and culturally responsive teaching.
- The new ELA coach, with an ENL license, will provide specialized guidance on helping English learners build literacy skills alongside language acquisition.
- Leveled reading materials and bilingual resources will be introduced, ensuring that ENL students engage meaningfully with texts while developing comprehension.

Overall Monitoring & Progress Tracking
- Regular assessments will measure student growth and identify any remaining instructional gaps.
- Collaboration between general educators, interventionists, and specialists will ensure consistent and responsive instruction.
- Data-driven adjustments will refine strategies based on student performance trends.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Revise and adapt the current ELA curriculum to align more closely with the needs of SWD and ENL students. Incorporate differentiated instruction methods that provide scaffolding and targeted interventions. Embed culturally responsive teaching practices to engage all learners more effectively.
ELL HMH supports provide access to grade level text by; chunking texts, us of sentence starters, vocabulary support and building background knowledge.

Students will receive modified Anchor Charts that include a piece of the text, sentence starter and opportunity to practice the lesson specific skill.
Break down each period to indicate time windows for W.I.N. periods, HMH reading, writing, and phonics/ grammar.
Have teachers perform secondary screeners to gather data to identify students' Tiers.
Pocket Talk for Entering and Emerging ELL students in grades K-2.

Action Steps

Implementation Monitoring: Indicate your primary structures to progress monitor implementation of key strategies and action steps. Include specific data/evidence you will collect and use to determine progress and impact on instruction, student learning, and achievement.

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

The 25-26 School Year will begin with W.I.N. periods programmed into all teacher's schedules. Each teacher will be responsible for administering secondary screeners and analyzing their class' data and creating groups for each Tier. Tier 3 students will use Phonics for Reading/SPIRE and Sound Sensible. We will use i-Ready MOY and EOY diagnostic data as well as IXL to monitor student progress and compare it to the BOY data. Utilize HMH end of module assessment to assess student mastery of ELA standards.

Priority 1 Family and Community Engagement

Family and Community Engagement

Directions: Indicate the strategies/activities that will be implemented to support and engage families (including foster and birth parents) and community collaboration in the implementation of this action plan.

Priority 2 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

-To foster strong student-teacher relationships, educators can prioritize building rapport through active listening, personalized interactions, and a positive classroom environment. Strategies include showing genuine interest in students' lives, offering support, and providing opportunities for choice and voice.

-To enhance rigorous expectations in the classroom, teachers can implement strategies like incorporating project-based learning, providing differentiated instruction, and fostering a culture of student choice and voice. These approaches encourage higher-level thinking and cater to individual student needs. Additionally, clear communication of expectations, providing challenging supplemental work, and using progress signals during independent work can further contribute to a more rigorous learning environment.

-To enhance classroom climate, focus on building positive relationships, establishing clear expectations, and creating an inclusive and engaging learning environment. This involves fostering open communication, providing feedback, and ensuring the physical space is comfortable and conducive to learning. Prioritizing student well-being and actively involving them in shaping the learning environment are also crucial.

-Ensuring that a school is intentional in providing guidance to students requires a thoughtful and strategic approach, focusing on purposeful planning, student needs, and clear outcomes.

-Set student outcome goals, aim for specific student outcomes, such as decreasing absenteeism or increasing student well-being.

-Establish program goals such as implementing new initiatives or increasing specific services.

-Align guidance with school-wide mission and objectives of the school.

-Allow opportunities to build teacher-student relationships.

-Collect and analyze data from formal and informal assessments, progress monitoring, and other relevant sources to inform decisions about guidance services and evaluate their effectiveness.

-Identify student needs from data to pinpoint areas where students require additional support, such as academic, social-emotional, or behavioral issues.

-Develop targeted Interventions based on the identified student needs to address learning gaps, disengagement, or other concerns.

-Use a core curriculum map that addresses relevant skills and knowledge at appropriate developmental levels.

-Proactively plan lessons with clear objectives and purposeful learning activities to ensure students acquire the desired knowledge, skills, and attitudes.

-Provide opportunities for multiple common planning periods built into teacher programs.

-Professional development opportunities in component 3d.

-Expanding the Talents program to 5th graders.

-Expand sports program to our 3rd, 4th, and 5th graders.

Root Cause Addressed:

Teacher Student Relationships: Rules in the classroom may not always be fair, teachers may not seem excited to teach the class, teacher may not be very welcoming, and other students behaviors hurt the learning environment.

Rigorous Expectations: Teacher's expectation of students might be lacking. Teacher might not be calling on different students to participate. Teacher might not be encouraging. Teacher might not take the time to assess for student's understanding.

Classroom Climate: Not enough supportive classroom/school culture where students feel safe, respected, and valued. Key strategies include active listening, showing empathy, being consistent, and communicating clearly.

Addiitonally:

Lack of planning time amongst teachers.

Lack of utilizing data in the classroom to drive instruction.

Lack of student space to express concerns.

Lack of family support due to language barriers.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Continue to schedule into a teachers' program 1 Advisory period per week for all middle school classes (6-8).
Continue to incorporate Leader in Me in all K-5 classrooms.
Provide teachers with common planning periods that are built into their schedule and professional learning around component 3d (specifically providing specific feedback to students).
Continue to build rapport and school/classroom environment where all students feel welcomed and safe.
Expand the talents program from 6-8 to 5-8, where 5th grade students will have 2 periods per week of a talent of their choice. Adding a 6th talent, Chorus.
Hold high school information workshops with both 7th and 8th grade parents with the support of in person language translations

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

Teachers will be provided with common planning and professional learning around Danielson component 3d. We will analyze data from intervisitations, Admin walk throughs, and Advance ratings. Advisory periods will provide students with 1 period per week of advisory and a "go to" adult/ success mentor in grades 6-8. During Advisory, teachers will implement Leader In Me curriculum. K-5 students will be programmed for 15 minutes per day of "Leader In Me". Both Advisory and Leader in me K-5 will be assessed at the EOY with a Leader In Me survey for students, teachers and families. In Grades 5-8 students will receive talent classes of their choice on their program 2-3 periods per week. We will measure the effectiveness of these programs through student surveys (EOY). We will track high school applications and admissions to measure the effectiveness of our High School Information Workshops. We will also use the NYC DOE Parent Survey.

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Begin the school year with 1 ELA W.I.N. period programmed for all K-8 classes.

To support struggling readers, focus on building foundational skills, providing structured literacy instruction, and creating a positive and engaging learning environment. This includes explicit phonics instruction, vocabulary development, fluency practice, and comprehension strategies. Additionally, personalize learning plans, offer scaffolding, and celebrate successes to motivate students.

Provided teachers with more common planning time, professional development and allocate weekly time to look at and analyze student data that will help drive instruction.

Root Cause Addressed:

Some root causes are:

Lack of teacher training and professional development.
Lack of scaffolds and supports for SWD. Teachers are not making adjustments to the curriculum.
Lack of language support for ELLs. Teachers are not making adjustments to the curriculum.

Students may struggle with reading due to a combination of factors, including learning disabilities, difficulties with phonological awareness and decoding, insufficient practice, lack of motivation, and inadequate reading instruction. Environmental factors like limited exposure to books and language also play a significant role.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Program 1 ELA W.I.N period into the teacher's program.
Professional Development for SPIRE and Sound Sensible. Provide materials for W.I.N. periods: SPIRE and Sound Sensilble for Tier 3 students.
Program additional time for teachers to meet for Common Planning to modify the curriculum.
Program additional time for teachers to meet for Common Planning to look at and analyze data.
Teachers will use data results to help them created differentiated lessons that will help drive instruction and support students.

Attendance/Chronic Absenteeism Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Strengthen Family Communication and Engagement
Launching a comprehensive, multilingual family communication and engagement initiative

Root Cause Addressed:

Misunderstanding of the importance of daily attendance among families

Lack of early, proactive communication about absences

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Develop and distribute clear, culturally relevant materials (flyers, texts, videos) in families' home languages explaining why daily attendance matters, using insights from the New Visions Portal to target messaging to at-risk groups
Introduce this campaign at the start of the school year during orientation events and through homeroom advisories.
automated, personalized texts and calls to families after each student's first, third, and fifth absence, emphasizing early intervention and support rather than punishment
Train office staff and teachers on how to follow up these notifications with personal outreach, ensuring families feel supported

Key Strategy 2 (Optional):

Targeted Early Warning and Mentorship for Grades 6–8

Root Cause Addressed:

Parents are not aware of their children's absences in grades 6–8, leading to delayed intervention and support.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Use New Visions Portal data to flag students in grades 6–8 after their first, third, and fifth absences.
Pair each chronically absent or at-risk student in grades 6–8 with a trained staff mentor who checks in weekly, builds relationships, and supports attendance goals
Send personalized texts, emails, and phone calls to parents when students are absent, using positive, supportive language and actionable next steps
Provide targeted professional development for teachers and mentors on adolescent motivation, effective family communication, and trauma-informed approaches to attendance challenges

Implementation Monitoring: Indicate your primary structures to progress monitor implementation of key strategies and action steps. Include specific data/evidence you will collect and use to determine progress and impact on instruction, student learning, and achievement.

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities Budget and Resources

Budget and Resources

Directions: Indicate available and anticipated resources that will be leveraged to achieve this annual goal and implement this action plan, including human resources, instructional resources (e.g., curricula, programs), schedule adjustments, other. Use N/A if not applicable and/or indicate other resource needs.

Schools are encouraged to think critically and strategically when considering resources that can support progress towards CEP goals for students with IEPs. This includes utilizing Title I funding for at-risk speech and/or counseling services, all-staff training in supporting students with autism, sensory materials, summer institute geared at the development of executive functioning skills, and/or inclusion coaching support. Schools may also consider utilizing Title II funds to reduce the ratio of students with IEPs to typically developing peers in ICT classes.

Special education teachers and related service providers (speech, counseling, OT/PT) , Inclusion and co-teaching specialists, Parent coordinator and family engagement staff, Peer coaches/mentors for inclusive practices

Instructional Resources

Evidence-based ELA and Math intervention curricula, Sensory materials and adaptive technology for SWD, Social-emotional learning (SEL) programs, Professional development modules on IEP compliance, autism supports, and differentiation

Schedule Adjustments

Dedicated co-planning time for general and special education staff, Protected time for monthly professional learning and peer coaching, Pull-out/push-in models for targeted intervention, Pull-out/push-in models for targeted intervention

Section 6: Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS)

Academic Support

NYCPS Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) align with NYSED guidelines for providing Academic Intervention Services (AIS) to students who have not yet met state standards or are considered to be at-risk of not meeting state standards. The Multi-tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) framework, organizes supports into three tiers:

Tier 1 provides schoolwide, high-quality programming for all students, including SWDs;

Tier 2 offers data informed small-group interventions for at-promise students; and

Tier 3 delivers intensive, individualized support for students with persistent needs.

This facilitates the strategic planning and necessary resource alignment to ensure their school community appropriately and adequately serves all students well, in partnership with students and families.

MTSS identifies the academic support services to be provided and ensures that students receive Response to Intervention (RtI) and Positive Behavioral Interventions and Support (PBIS) strategies as needed. See NYSED's memo to view the criteria for determining AIS services. The Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) offers a wide range of evidence-based Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions and supports for student social-emotional, behavioral, physical and mental wellness, with particular attention to the unique needs of students in Temporary Housing and/or Foster Care, who may face additional challenges related to school stability, trauma and access to educational resources. A culturally responsive-sustaining approach to intervention embeds culturally relevant texts and historical narratives into literacy and social studies interventions, ensuring students receive the support that reflects their identities and lived experiences, increasing engagement and achievement.

Use the charts below and a Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) to match academic, social/emotional, behavioral and instructional resources with student needs to provide targeted support for all learners, especially at-risk students who experience difficulty meeting state standards, including those living in Temporary Housing and/or residing in Foster Care placements. Indicate specialized materials, technology-based tools and/or extra instruction, including Expanded Learning Time that supplement school-wide systems & supports and/or classroom level supports. Ensure that interventions address the unique social-emotional, behavioral and academic challenges faced by culturally and linguistically diverse students, as well as those impacted by housing instability and child welfare system involvement.

Directions: Complete the chart and identify Tier 2 or 3 MTSS Academic supports. Any Tier 2/3 interventions should be in addition to the foundational work being done at Tier 1.

Family and Community Engagement Around MTSS

Describe how the school's essential components of MTSS are shared with families.

We use a variety of approaches to share the essential components of their Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS) with families, with the goal of fostering understanding and involvement.

We introduce MTSS to families during back-to-school events, open houses, or parent orientation sessions. This helps set a positive tone and explain how the school supports all students, including those who need extra assistance.

We recognize that families have varying schedules and preferences therefore we use variety of methods, including phone calls, emails, newsletters, meetings, and virtual tools, to ensure information reaches all families. In addition, we would encourage families to provide feedback from families and provide opportunities for them to ask questions and voice concerns.

Describe how families receive updates on the progress of their child(ren) who receive Tier 2 targeted, or Tier 3 intensive interventions.

Families receive update on the progress of their child(ren) during Parent Teacher Conference (3x per year) and if a parent wishes to schedule a separate time to meet with the teacher to discuss their child's progress they can do so anytime.

Describe how families are involved during decision making regarding the progress of students receiving Tier 3 intensive intervention.

Families play a crucial role in Tier 3 decision-making for students receiving intensive interventions. They are integral members of the problem-solving team, contributing insights and collaborating with school staff to develop and refine individualized intervention plans. Their involvement ensures that interventions are aligned with the student's needs and home environment, maximizing the potential for success. Parents attend in-person or virtual meetings for the decision-making process.

Students in Temporary Housing (STH) Support

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-STH Section and in accordance with the federal McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act and Chancellor's Regulation A-780, schools must identify, serve, and report on students living in temporary housing (STH). All Title I and non-Title I schools receive a Title I allocation for STH students. The Students in Temporary Housing (STH) website provides guidance on STH pupils and how these funds can be used to meet their needs, as well as restrictions. For more information on acceptable uses of the mandated Title I, Part A set-aside to support your STH population, please refer to the Title I STH Funds Toolkit.

Identify the number of Students in Temporary Housing who are currently attending your school and provide a breakdown of their temporary housing status. Since the number of STH children can change regularly, schools must carefully track this number to determine whether there has been an increase in need.

Number of students in temporary housing who are:

- Doubled up (with friends or relatives because they cannot find or afford housing):
- Living in a shelter or transitional shelter:
- Living in a hotel/motel:
- Other

*Note: In keeping with established practices regarding personally identifiable information, use the letter "s" to identify a number less than five (5).

62 students

After a careful analysis of historical demographic, attendance and achievement data for your STH population, what trends do you notice, and how can these trends inform the services and support provided for this population?

Based on demographic, attendance and achievement data, we will implement the Leader in Me curriculum and Advisory to provide each student with a "go to" adult/ success mentor that will support the student's social/ emotional growth. We will support families of students in temporary housing with applying for busing services. Provide opportunities both during the day and after school for students to attend academic intervention services and recreational activities. We will utilize the STH Title I Survey by holding conferences will all families of STH students and send home the STH Title I Survey for the families to complete. All surveys will be sent home in the student's home language.

Describe the services you are planning to provide to the STH population. How were those services selected to best meet students' needs? How will you (or did you) utilize the STH Title I Survey to select services aligned to need?

Allowing students to remain in their current school, even if they move, and providing transportation to support continued attendance will provide students with educational success.

Monitoring attendance.

Purchasing school supplies and other necessary items for SITH.

Offering social-emotional support via counseling.

Supporting parents with providing busing and other relevant services.

Prioritizing Students in Foster Care

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-Child Child Abuse and Neglect Intervention and Prevention School Plan and in accordance with the federal Education Law 3244 – Education of Children in Foster Care (Effective 2018) establishes the rights of students placed, or moved, in foster care to:

- Continue attending school of origin if determined to be in their best interest, or, if not, attend school near foster care placement,
- Immediate enrollment, and
- Transportation, if necessary to attend school of origin

Please respond to the questions below.

How many students in foster care are currently enrolled at your school? Provide a detailed breakdown of the social-emotional and academic supports available to them.

What targeted supports are in place for students in foster care, including those newly transitioning into the foster care system? How does your school ensure these students receive the necessary interventions to promote stability and success?

After analyzing historical demographic, attendance, and achievement data for students in foster care, what trends have emerged? How can these insights be used to improve the services and support provided to this population?

What specific strategies does your school implement to ensure students in foster care, particularly those in transitional grades, receive targeted Social-Emotional Learning (SEL) support? How do these strategies help address academic and behavioral challenges?

Section 7: Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Directions: The Parent and Family Engagement Policy should describe how your school will plan and implement effective parent and family engagement activities and/or strategies to improve student academic achievement and school performance. The School-Parent Compact (SPC) is a component of the Parent and Family Engagement Policy (PFEP) that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share this responsibility.

The activities and/or strategies included in your school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy should align with current Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) goals for improving student achievement and should be developed or updated with input and feedback from parent leaders and the Parent Coordinator. In addition, if the school community will be engaged in central parent engagement initiatives, such as Parent Academy, which will provide training for school communities to help strengthen family-school partnerships, please be sure to include these activities in the school's policy.

In Title I schools, the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) represents the Title I parent community in supporting parent and family engagement. The Title I PAC Chairperson will serve in a consultative role with the SLT representing the school’s Title I parents. Schools are encouraged to use the sample Parent and Family Engagement and SPC templates below (which meet federal Title I parent and family engagement requirements) as guidance for updating the school's current policy.

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental engagement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent and family engagement policy that will establish expectations and objectives for meaningful parent and family engagement in the school community. PS 225, in compliance with Section 1116 of Title I, Part A of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), is responsible for creating and implementing a parent and family engagement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between the school and the families. The school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), and Title I Parent Advisory Council as trained volunteers and welcomed members of the school community.

Support for Parents and Family Members of Title I Students

PS 225 will support parents and family members of Title I students by:
- providing materials and training to help parents work with their children to improve their achievement level, e.g., literacy, math and use of technology;
- providing parents with the information and training needed to effectively become involved in planning and decision making in support of the education of their children;
- fostering a caring and effective home-school partnership to ensure that parents can effectively support and monitor their child’s progress;
- providing assistance to parents in understanding City, State and Federal standards and assessments;
- sharing information about school and parent related programs, meetings and other activities in a format, and in languages that parents can understand;
- providing professional learning opportunities for school staff with the assistance of parents to improve outreach, communication skills and cultural competency in order to build stronger ties between parents and other members of the school community;

Parental Involvement and School Quality

The school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy was designed based upon a careful assessment of the needs of all parents/guardians, including parents/guardians of Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners (ML/ELL), and students with disabilities. The school community, with the meaningful involvement of parents and family members, will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent and family engagement policy with Title I parents to improve the academic quality of the school. The findings of the evaluation through school surveys and feedback forms will be used to design strategies to more effectively meet the needs of parents and family members and enhance the school's Title I program. This information will be maintained by the school.

In developing the Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy, parents of Title I participating students, parent members of the school's Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), as well as parent members of the School Leadership Team, were consulted on the proposed Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and asked to survey their members for additional input. To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, the school will:
- actively involve and engage parents and family members in the planning, review and evaluation of the effectiveness of the school's Title I program as outlined in the School Comprehensive Education Plan, including the implementation of the school's Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact;
- engage all parents in discussion and decisions regarding the required Title I, 1% set-aside funds, which are allocated directly to the school to supplement parent and family engagement activities, including family literacy and parenting skills;
- ensure that the Title I funds allocated for parent and family engagement are utilized to implement activities and strategies as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and the School-Parent Compact;
- support school-level committees that include parents who are members of the School Leadership Team, the Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Advisory Council. This includes providing technical support and ongoing professional learning, especially in developing leadership skills;
- maintain a Parent Coordinator (or a dedicated staff person) to serve as a liaison between the school and families. The Parent Coordinator or a dedicated staff person will provide parent workshops based on the assessed needs of the parents of children who attend the school and will work to ensure that the school environment is welcoming and inviting to all parents. The Parent Coordinator will also maintain a log of events and activities planned for parents each month and file a report with the central office.;
- conduct parent workshops with topics that may include: parenting skills, understanding educational accountability grade-level curriculum and assessment expectations; literacy, accessing community and support services; and technology training to build parents' capacity to help their children at home;

- provide opportunities for parents to help them understand the accountability system, e.g., ESSA/State accountability system, student proficiency levels, Annual School Report Card, School Quality Report, Quality Review Report, Learning Environment Survey Report;
- host the required Annual Title I Parent Meeting each school year to advise parents of children participating in the Title I program about the school's Title I funded program(s), their right to be involved in the program and the parent and family engagement requirements under Title I, Part A, Section 1116 and other applicable sections under ESSA;
- schedule additional parent meetings, e.g., quarterly meetings, with flexible times, such as meetings in the morning or evening, to share information about the school's educational program and other initiatives of the Chancellor and allow parents to provide suggestions;
- translate all critical school documents and provide interpretation during meetings and events as needed.

Encouraging School-Level Parental Involvement

The school will further encourage school-level parent and family engagement by:
- hosting educational family events/activities during Parent-Teacher Conferences and throughout the school year;
- encouraging meaningful parent participation on School Leadership Teams, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Advisory Council;
- supporting or hosting Family Day events;
- establishing a Parent Resource Center/Area or lending library; instructional materials for parents;
- encouraging more parents to become trained school volunteers;
- providing written and verbal progress reports that are periodically given to keep parents informed of their children's progress;
- developing and distributing a school newsletter or web publication designed to keep parents informed about school activities and student progress;
- providing school planners/folders for regular written communication between /teacher and the home in a format, and to the extent practicable in the languages that parents can understand.

Title I Program Information

Part 1: Title I Program Type

Title I Requirements and Strengthening Title I Parent Involvement: Under USDOE's Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), Title I schools are required to address professional learning and parent and family engagement in the Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP). To strengthen parent leadership in Title I schools, and increase the involvement of all parents of Title I eligible children in improving students' academic outcomes, all Title I schools are required to establish a Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) that will serve as the consultative and representative body for all Title I parents in the school to provide voice into the spending of Title I funds.

The SLT is responsible for facilitating consultation with the Title I Parent Advisory Council regarding the joint development of the CEP, Parent and Family Engagement Policy, School Parent Compact (SPC) and the use of the 1% parent involvement set-aside in Title I schools. The Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) Chairperson (or alternate) is expected to attend all regular meetings of the School Leadership Team (SLT). Title I parents, as represented by the Title I PAC Chairperson, must be consulted regarding the use of the Title I 1% set-aside for parent and family engagement. The Title I 1% set-aside funding is used to supplement parent and family engagement activities as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and must be aligned with student achievement goals as outlined in the CEP. For additional guidance on the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC), go to the Protocols and Timeline for Title I Parent and Family Engagement Activities document.

Directions:

- All schools must indicate their Title I status in Part 1.
- All elements of the All Title I Schools section must be completed in Part 2.
- All Targeted Assistance (TA) Schools must also complete the TA Schools Only section in Part 3.
- All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools must also complete the SWP Schools Only section in Part 4.
- If a required component is addressed elsewhere in this plan, you may refer to the section or Priority where the response can be found.
- For additional information, visit the Title I Program Description (US Department of Education).

Part 2: All Title I Schools

High Quality and Ongoing Professional Learning: Please list below the Priority or section(s) that indicate strategies and activities for high quality professional learning for teachers, principals, staff, and paraprofessionals to enable all students to meet state standards.

By June 2026, PS 225 will strengthen instructional practice and student achievement in ELA, Math, Science, and Social Studies by implementing ongoing professional learning aligned to the Next Generation Learning Standards (NGLS), Danielson Framework for Teaching, and newly adopted curricula. The school will focus on supporting all learners, particularly students with disabilities and English Language Learners, by ensuring equitable access to rigorous, standards-based instruction.

Rationale & Evidence

- NYSED and NYC DOE Priorities: The New York State Education Department (NYSED) continues to require implementation of the Next Generation Learning Standards and supports professional learning as a key lever for school improvement (NYSED, 2024).
- NYC DOE Curriculum Initiatives: The NYC DOE's 2024-25 School Allocation Memorandum prioritizes funding for high-quality, standards-aligned curriculum and professional learning, especially in high-need schools.
- Research Base: Evidence from the RAND Corporation and the Learning Policy Institute shows that sustained, collaborative professional learning improves teacher practice and student outcomes, especially when aligned to rigorous standards and frameworks like Danielson.

Part 4: Schoolwide Program (SWP)

Transition Plans to Assist Preschool Children (Elementary Schools Only): Describe the transition plans used to assist preschool children from early childhood programs to the elementary school program (e.g. aligned curriculum, joint PD & parent involvement activities, sharing of records/information, early intervention services, etc.).

1. End of year transitioning to kindergarten workshops provided by Social Worker as well as our Parent Coordinator.

2. Conversations with current Kindergarten teachers about services received by current Pre-k Students.

3. Optional support packets sent home with students over the summer as part of "Kindergarten Readiness"

4. Family workshops and orientation to prepare for Kindergarten transition.

Part 5: "Conceptual" Consolidation of Funds in SWP Schools

Directions: All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools in NYC are conceptually consolidating their Federal, State, and Local funds, even though the Galaxy system reports the allocations in separate accounting codes1. To be eligible for the flexibility consolidation of Federal funds, a Schoolwide Program school must identify in its Schoolwide plan (CEP) which programs are included in its consolidation and the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool. Additionally, the school plan must document that it has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated2. On the chart below, indicate which Federal, State, and/or local Tax Levy program funds that are consolidated in your school's Schoolwide Program, the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool, and verification that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated.
For the last two columns of this table: Place an (X) in Column A below to verify that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated. Indicate in Column B, the Priority or section that references where a related program activity has been described in this plan.

Explanation/Background

1. Explanation/Background:

Title I Schoolwide Program schools are expected to use the flexibility available to them to integrate services and programs with the aim of enhancing the entire educational program and helping all students reach proficient and advanced levels of achievement. In addition to coordinating and integrating services, Schoolwide Program schools may combine most Federal, State and local funds to provide those services. By consolidating funds from Federal, State, and local sources, a Schoolwide Program school can address its needs using all its available resources. This gives a school more flexibility in how it uses available resources to meet the identified needs of all its students.

Consolidating funds in a Schoolwide Program means that a school treats the funds it is consolidating like they are a single "pool" of funds. In other words, the funds from the contributing programs in the school lose their individual identity and the school has one flexible pool of funds. The school uses funds from this consolidated Schoolwide pool to support any activity of the Schoolwide Program without regard to which program contributed the specific funds used for a particular activity – so long as the use of funds meets the intent and purposes of the programs from which the funds originate. To consolidate funding in a Schoolwide Program, the school does not literally need to combine funds in a single account or pool with its own accounting code. Rather, the word "pool" is used conceptually to convey that a Schoolwide Program school has the use of all consolidated funds available to it for the dedicated function of operating a Schoolwide Program without regard to the identity of those funds.

Consolidating Federal funds in a Schoolwide Program has the following additional advantages:

- Consolidating Federal funds eases the requirements for accounting for funds from each specific program separately, because a Schoolwide school is not required to distinguish among funds received from different sources when accounting for their use.
- A school that consolidates Federal funds in its Schoolwide Program is not required to meet most of the statutory and regulatory requirements of the specific Federal programs included in the consolidation (e.g., semi-annual time and effort reporting for Title I). However, the school must ensure that it meets the intent and purposes of the Federal programs included in the consolidation so that the needs of the intended beneficiaries are met.

2. The intent and purposes of the Federal programs indicated on the chart above (Part 4c of this section) are as follows:

- Title I, Part A – Schoolwide Programs: To upgrade the entire educational program in the school in order to improve the academic achievement of all students, particularly the lowest-achieving students. This includes provision of services for Students in Temporary Housing (STH).
- Title I 1003(a), School Improvement: Comprehensive Support and Improvement (CSI), Additional Targeted Support and Improvement (ATSI) and Targeted Support and Improvement (TSI) Funding:

Support implementation of school improvement plans that aims to improve instruction and address the identified needs

Title II, Part A: Supplementary funding to improve student academic achievement by reducing class size in grades K, 1, 2, and 3, with an emphasis on grades with an average register greater than 20. If space is not available to form additional classes, funds may support push-in teacher(s) to supplement the instructional program. For schools that choose to reduce class size, priority must be given to reducing class size in general education settings and must demonstrate the following:

- Reduce class sizes to 15-18 students or fewer (including the use of co-teaching and floating teachers that bring the student to teacher ratio to one teacher per 15-18 students);
- Be accompanied by a rigorous curriculum, effective teachers, and a sustained, job-embedded professional development plan.

- Title III, Part A: To help ensure that children with limited English proficiency become proficient in English, develop high academic attainment in English, and meet the same challenging State academic content and achievement standards in the core academic subjects that all other children are expected to meet. Another purpose of this program is to increase the capacity of schools to establish, implement and sustain high-quality language instruction programs and English language development programs that assist schools in effectively teaching students with limited English proficiency. Title III, Part A is also designed to promote the participation of parents and communities of limited English proficient children in English language instruction programs.
- Title III Immigrant: Supplementary and enhanced services to immigrant students, in the areas of English language acquisition and content area achievement. Immigrant children and youth are defined as individuals who are aged 3 through 21, have not been attending school in any one or more states for more than three (3) full academic years, and were not born in any state. "State" means the 50 states of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Children born to U.S. citizens abroad, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or any other U.S. territory that is not D.C. or Puerto Rico are to be considered immigrants.
- Title IV, Part A: Title IV funds are for schools that are among those with the greatest needs, have the highest numbers of students from low-income families, are identified for CS, ATSI or TSI, or are identified as persistently dangerous public schools. Allowable uses of funds under well-rounded education, safety and health, and educational technology include direct services for students, professional development for teachers and administrators, and supplemental educational resources. School allocations have been provided for well-rounded education, social emotional learning, cultural responsiveness awareness, professional development to support implementation of technology and blended learning environments, and community coordinators in schools with high rates of students in temporary housing

- Students in Temporary Housing (STH): Schools must describe their use of Title I STH funds in their consolidated application.

Important Note: The following funds may not be consolidated:

- Title I Parent Involvement Set-aside: Title I, Part A funds must support parent involvement activities and programs. Chancellor's Regulation A-655 requires School Leadership Teams to consult with Title I parent representatives regarding the Title I program and the use of these funds. Parent involvement activities funded through Title I must be included in the Parent and Family Engagement Policy and aligned with student achievement goals in the school comprehensive educational plan.
- IDEA: To ensure that all children with disabilities have available to them a free appropriate public education designed to meet their individual needs.
- Grant funds awarded via a competitive process: These funds must be used for the purposes specified by the Grantor, as described in the school's approved grant application.

Language Allocation Policy Outline

Language Allocation Policy Outline

2025-26 Language Allocation Policy (LAP)

This submission form supports schools with organizing a well-conceived school-based Language Allocation Policy (LAP) that describes high quality programs for Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners (MLs/ELLs). This is an annual plan of how your school will support the linguistic and academic needs of MLs/ELLs and must be completed yearly. The Language Allocation Policy (LAP) is a part of schools' Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP).

This is a living document. Any school-wide changes involving the instruction of MLs/ELLs, such as the addition or expansion of a Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) or Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) program, should be updated in this form.

Agenda, minutes of LAP meetings, and LAP team members' attendance at meetings should be kept readily available on file in the school with all other ML/ELL critical documents. When preparing your school's submission, provide extended responses in the available spaces.

For additional information, refer to the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs. For additional support with ML/ELL policy, please reach out to your respective ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance Performance Specialist; for support with ML/ELL instruction, please contact your ML/ELL Services Administrator.

Part III: ML/ELL Programming

Please refer to New York State Commissioner's Regulation (CR) Part 154 Units of Study Tables as you describe academic programming for MLs/ELLs at your school below. Please do not leave any fields blank and indicate "N/A" for any fields that are not applicable.

Describe your English as a New Language (ENL), and if applicable Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE), and Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs. For each program, include:

- How stand-alone ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How integrated ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How students are grouped (e.g., block [class travels together as a group], ungraded [all students regardless of grade are in one class], heterogeneous [mixed proficiency levels], homogenous [proficiency level is the same in one class]).

a. English as a New Language (ENL)
Stand-alone ENL:

When we have a stand alone ENL class, this is how it is implemented. The stand-alone English as a New Language program at PS 225 provides instruction in English with home language support. Instruction in our ENL program is provided through both pull out/push-in services. Stand-Alone classes at our school are implemented through a pull-out model. During Stand-Alone pull out classes, no more than 2 continuous grades can be scheduled together. ENL services are delivered by certified ENL teachers along with both general and special education teachers. The ENL instructional program is aligned with mandated ENL/ELA Next Generation Learning Standards. These stand-alone students are grouped by ENL levels of Entering and Emerging and are grouped homogeneously by grade. They are programmed for 360 minutes with emphasis on word study, phonics and vocabulary. The four modalities of English language acquisition, speaking, listening, reading and writing are spiraled in these lessons. Students in the Transitioning / Expanding levels receive 180 minutes and Commanding students receive 90 minutes of instruction per week in ENL and ELA. This explicit ENL instruction is delivered according to CR Part 154. The students are grouped heterogeneously for targeted area instruction based on their NYSITELL and NYSESLAT scores. The ENL and general education teachers service via the integrated model that works best for those particular circumstances. We use a workshop model of instruction in which teachers conduct a mini-lesson with a clearly stated teaching point. During the mini-lesson teachers model a specific learning strategy and then students are given the opportunity to apply that strategy individually and/or in small groups with varying degrees of support from the teachers. Scaffolding techniques are actively used. The schedules of our ENL service providers are adjusted to meet the needs of the students so that all ENLs receive their mandated time needed to satisfy the Commissioner's Regulations for Part CR-154.

Integrated ENL:

Our ENL teachers work closely with all classroom teachers to ensure that the academic, social and emotional needs of all ELLs are being addressed and met. Our ENL and general education teachers service via the integrated model that works best for those particular circumstances. All integrated classes will be taught during the ENL students English as a Language Arts classes. We use a workshop model of instruction in which teachers conduct a mini-lesson with a clearly stated teaching point. During the mini-lesson teachers model a specific learning strategy and then students are given the opportunity to apply that strategy individually and/or in small groups with varying degrees of support from the teachers. Scaffolding techniques are actively used. During Integrated periods ENL teachers conduct close reading and discussion sessions with their ELLs to further understand and evaluate the students' abilities across all language modalities. Our students travel together as a group. The schedules of our ENL service providers are adjusted to meet the needs of the students so that all ENLs receive their mandated time needed to satisfy the Commissioner's Regulations for Part CR-154.

b. Bilingual Education (If applicable)

Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE):

Currently, we do not offer a Transitional Bilingual Education program. However, if the need arises, we are prepared to open a Transitional Bilingual Program to provide the necessary support.

Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE):

In our Dual Language programs, our students are heterogeneously grouped along with mixed proficiency levels of five students per group at small tables. Small group instruction is provided by the dual language teacher and academic intervention specialist in Fundational/Vocabulary skills and guided reading. Mini lessons using the HMH Reading and Writing Program provide modeled and guided instruction for the English Language Learners. Students write on various topics independently and with partners. All four language acquisition skills are implemented in our dual language programs. Content instruction in social studies, science and math incorporates: manipulatives, authentic realia, songs and photo/strategy anchor charts as scaffolding guides for ELLs. The dual language classrooms are color coded: blue-English and red-Spanish for easy language identification and connection to content materials including books and charts. Turn and talk, and think, pair, share and encourage student participation, speaking and listening skills. The dual language teachers' model fluent reading strategies using multicultural, fiction and non-fiction books to enhance instruction. Additionally, focused reading strategies and content/sight word vocabulary provide opportunities for ELL students to engage in discussion, questioning and higher order thinking within small group instruction. Instruction is scaffolded throughout the dual language program to meet ELL student needs. The dual language teacher's observation, conference notes and content unit assessments provide important data to drive instruction. The NYSITELL and the NYSESLAT results are analyzed by the dual language teachers to monitor progress throughout the program.

2. How does your school ensure the mandated number of instructional minutes are provided according to students' English language proficiency levels in each program model?

At the start of each school year, the ENL Coordinator, ENL staff and administrators meet to ensure that all identified ELLs are scheduled to receive their mandated number of instructional minutes. To ensure the mandated number of instructional minutes are provided according to students' ENL level: Entering and emerging students receive ENL instruction, both integrated (180 minutes) as well as stand alone (180 minutes), for a total of 360 minutes per week. Transitioning and expanding level students receive integrated ENL instruction 180 minutes per week and commanding students receive 90 minutes of instructional support per week. The instruction of ENL is through stand alone and integrated (co-teaching) instruction. The school programming aligns with the inclusion of ELL entitled stand alone services throughout the day. The Data Specialist ensures all students have the proper mandated number of minutes for ENL instruction and ENL teachers review the data on STARS classroom regularly to make sure students are being serviced and scheduled as per NYS mandates listed in CR Part 154. This data is reviewed and updated throughout the school year.

Native Language instruction is delivered in blocks of 50 minute periods daily according to the Language Allocation Policy Guidelines for Transitional Bilingual Programs. As the year progresses, the teacher shifts increasingly towards English instruction in line with the students' emerging language proficiency. ENL instructional time for the TBE program is delivered within the literacy block, 2 periods a day. In line with the Commissioner's Regulations, Part 154, all of the Bilingual teachers differentiate instruction according to students language levels. The bilingual classes extend the literacy block, when needed, in order to accommodate the varied needs of the bilingual learner.

3. How are ENL, English Language Arts (ELA) and if applicable, Home Language Arts (HLA) instructional minutes delivered in each program model?

At the beginning of the school year and ongoing throughout, the ELL Coordinator reviews the NYSESLAT and NYSITELL scores through the RLAT report on ATS. ENL, ELA and HLA instructional minutes are delivered in accordance with CR Part 154. In the ENL program, Entering & Emerging students are required to be serviced 180 minutes of Integrated instruction, and 180 minutes of stand-alone instruction. Transitioning, Expanding students are required to be serviced for 180 minutes of Integrated Instruction. Commanding students are required to be serviced for 90 minutes of Integrated instruction. During Integrated instruction, ENL teachers will collaborate and co-teach with the licensed ELA teacher in the classroom.

At PS 225, there are also Self-Contained ENL classes, students are serviced by their classroom teacher, who is licensed in Elementary Education / General Education and also English as a New Language / TESOL. The teacher will scaffold and support ELL's in their English language acquisition journey.

Bilingual teachers are licensed and service their ELL's as well, giving them the necessary scaffolds, modifications and supports that they need to succeed.

4. For schools with Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) programs:

a. Which Dual Language Bilingual Education model is implemented? Explain how much of the instructional day (percentage) English proficient students and ELLs are integrated.

The Dual Language model that is implemented in our school is the Two Way Immersion 50/50 model. Instruction in content areas is provided in the target language 50% of the time, alternating Spanish and English language every other day. Two Way Immersion is taught in all subject areas. The core subjects taught in Spanish include Math, ELA, Social Studies and Science.

b. In which language(s) is each core content area taught?

We ensure that all entering and emerging students in the Dual Language program are taught in both English and Spanish during Reading, Writing, Mathematics as well as Science and Social Studies .

5. For schools with Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs:

a. Which core content areas are taught bilingually?

At this time, we do not offer a Transitional Bilingual Program.

Part IV: Data Analysis

Data Analysis

After reviewing and analyzing school demographic and assessment data, answer the following questions. The ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) provided by the Office of Multilingual Learners can assist with identifying these data points.

For additional information, refer to Data Analysis Professional Learning Module and ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) Professional Learning Module.

1. What is the composition of the ELL subgroups at your school?
What percentage of ELLs are Newcomers? How does effective instruction for Newcomers differ from those provided to Developing or Long-Term ELLs?

At PS 225, 84.6% (400) of ELLs are newcomers. For this group, teachers provide differentiated support using visual aids, graphic organizers, sentence stems, and Total Physical Response (TPR) to ensure comprehensible input. Those trained in specific methods also utilize Orton-Gillingham strategies and Dolch sight word lists to develop foundational literacy skills.

The Developing subgroup, which comprises 11.4% (54) of our ELL population, receives ongoing support through linguistic scaffolds, including visual aids, graphic organizers, and sentence stems, tailored to their classroom activities. Teachers model and practice Bloom's taxonomy and various questioning levels, fostering critical thinking. Additionally, interactive language practices like turn-and-talk, small group discussions, and presentations are used to encourage further language development in English. These strategies help ELLs actively participate in grade-level discussions, whether in pairs, small groups, or whole-class settings, with individualized support from both the classroom and ELL teacher as needed.

What percentage of ELLs are Students with Inconsistent/Interrupted Formal Education (SIFE)? How do you differentiate effective instruction for SIFE?

N/A

What percentage of ELLs are Long-Term ELLs? How does effective instruction for Long-Term ELLs differ from instruction designed for Developing ELLs?

At this time we have 4.0% (19) Long-Term ELLs. Some ELLs stay within the program for many years. We analyze our NYSESLAT data to identify which modalities need to be supported during the school year. We have found that students perform better on the listening and speaking subtests than they do on the reading and writing subtests. As a result, we provide instruction to remediate this deficiency. Students are engaged in lessons that are designed to teach reading and writing strategies during both their ELL and general classroom literacy periods. The BESIS extension of services is provided to identify long-term ELLs. This allows Long Term ELLs to qualify for testing modifications and accommodations.

What percentage of students are former ELLs? How is your school providing mandated instruction to former ELLs?

At this time we have 4.8% (51) former ELLs. Former ELLs receive 90 minutes a week of integrated ELL and testing accommodations. These testing accommodations include separate location, extended time (time and a half), use of bilingual glossaries, use of English/alternative language test editions and an oral translator upon request. In addition to our current ELLs, we also provide these targeted intervention services for ELLs who score a Commanding level on the NYSESLAT to continue giving transitional support for at least two years after testing out. Some of these students may receive AIS push-in services in ELA and Math so they can continue progressing academically.
Former ELLs, and those who have been receiving services from 4 to 6 years, as well as Long Term ELLs (those completing 6 years), will continue to be eligible to participate in our Title III ELL Before and After School program where our highly qualified ELL providers can service struggling students in a small-group setting.

2. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of ELLs at your school?

At our school, one noticeable trend among MLLs/ELLs at risk is the impact of attendance on their progress. Consistent school attendance plays a key role in helping students learn English more effectively, as it allows them to master skills and content more quickly and accurately. Being physically present in school also provides students with important opportunities to develop social, language, and comprehension skills. We actively encourage students to attend school regularly to support their language learning and overall growth.

3. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect former ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of former ELLs at your school?

When examining the at-risk levels of former ELLs at our school, several trends emerge that could impact their ongoing academic success. Many former ELLs continue to face challenges in mastering academic English, particularly in writing and complex reading comprehension, which creates gaps in their ability to engage with grade-level content, especially in subjects like science and social studies. Limited academic vocabulary also hinders their ability to fully participate in class discussions and understand specialized or abstract texts, a trend seen in students who exited ELL services without enough targeted vocabulary support. Social integration can be another issue, as some former ELLs may still feel disconnected from native English-speaking peers, affecting their confidence and classroom engagement. Emotional and behavioral challenges, often stemming from trauma or displacement, can also impede academic progress and social interactions. Additionally, once students transition out of ELL programs, they may lack the continued, tailored support needed to navigate general education settings, leading to setbacks in areas like reading and writing. Finally, the lack of family or community support—due to language barriers, limited resources, or socio-economic factors—can contribute to lower academic outcomes and insufficient reinforcement of learning outside the classroom. In light of these factors, ongoing monitoring and targeted interventions are crucial to ensuring the long-term academic success of former ELLs.

4. What are the home languages of ELLs with the largest representation at your school? What staff, structures, and processes does your school have to support communication and learning that values these home languages?

The home languages of MLLs/ELLs with the largest representation at PS 225 are our Spanish and Russian speaking students. PS 225 has several Spanish and Russian staff members, including teachers, psychologist, and several SBST team members that speak Spanish and/or Russian. PS 225's Parent Coordinator is fluent in Russian and communicates regularly with our families. We also have a dean who speaks Spanish. He often communicates with parents or guardians of our PS 225 MLLs/ELLs. All pertinent school or community information that is disseminated to parents is translated by the Translation and Interpretation Unit of the DOE. Additionally, PS 225 in partnership with the Shore Front Y staff, utilizes bilingual staff for Parent Teacher Conferences as well as all other open houses or any other community building meetings or activities.

5. What are the racial and ethnic classifications of ELLs at your school? How are ELLs being included in planning and delivery of Culturally Responsive and Sustaining Education (CR-SE)?

The racial classifications of ELLs at PS 225 are: White, Hispanic or Latino, and Central Asian. The ethnic groups of Central Asian ELLs are Uzbek, Kazakh, and Tajik. We also have a large population of Ells from Russia, Ukraine and Georgia. We also have a high population of Ells from Yemen. Our Latino students represent Mexico and we have also seen a large influx of students from El Salvador and Honduras. A crucial tenet of Culturally Responsive Sustaining Education (CR-S) is that "education is grounded in a cultural view of learning and human development in which multiple expressions of diversity (e.g., race, social class, gender, language, sexual orientation, nationality, religion, ability) are recognized and regarded as assets for teaching and learning." Towards this purpose, educators understand that it takes time for ELLs to understand the schema of a new culture and it is crucial that students have the opportunity to learn it. Diverse schemas of English Language Learners' cultural backgrounds are acknowledged and discussed and may be incorporated into lessons as well. This fosters greater understanding and learning, challenges inequities and promotes inclusion of ELLs at all levels.

6. What trends do you notice in reviewing English Language Proficiency (ELP) growth at your school? How many students met ELP sufficient progress? How many students did not meet ELP sufficient progress?

95 (20%) of our ELL students met progress by exiting ELL status. 50.9% met annual progress targets A total of 30% did not have progress met. This trend demonstrates that a majority of our ELLs have met progress. We will continue to provide targeted support for all of our ELLs.

7. When you look at the results of the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT), what stands out? What trends are there for each modality?

It's interesting that the writing component of the NYSESLAT is often the weakest, while students tend to do better in reading, listening, and speaking. This trend isn't all that surprising when you break it down, as each of these skills involves different cognitive and language processing challenges. Since writing requires not just understanding the language, but also organizing ideas, using proper grammar, sentence structure, and vocabulary in a coherent way. It's a more complex task compared to speaking or listening, where the focus is often on immediate comprehension and less on intricate language production. For some students, writing is not a skill they've fully developed in their home language which makes it harder for them to master writing in English.

8. What is the relationship between students' performance on the NYSESLAT and other state assessments such as the ELA assessment, the Math assessment, and the Regents exams?

We have observed that as our English Language Learners advance in their language acquisition and proficiency, their performance on high-stakes assessments such as the ELA, Math, and Regents State Exams also improves. This progress is supported by teachers who consistently adjust and differentiate their instructional practices and implement targeted strategies to address the diverse needs of MLL subgroups. Instruction is differentiated to align with students' varying levels of language proficiency, ensuring that each learner receives appropriate support to succeed academically.

9. What are trends reflected in the NYSESLAT results of ELL subgroups such as ELLs with IEPs and SIFE? What do you think is impacting the results for these subgroups?

The NYSESLAT results for ELL subgroups, specifically ELLs with IEPs and SIFE highlight ongoing challenges and notable achievement gaps in comparison to the broader ELL population. Below is a summary of key trends and influencing factors.

ELLs with IEPs consistently show lower levels of English language proficiency, with fewer students reaching the Transitioning, Expanding, or Commanding levels. This subgroup typically demonstrates slower year-over-year growth in acquiring academic English.
Many remain in the Entering or Emerging proficiency levels for extended periods.
Students with IEPs are navigating both language acquisition and disability-related challenges, which can compound academic difficulties.

We currently do not have any SIFE students. In the past, SIFE students often begin with very limited literacy in both English and their home language. Some SIFE make rapid gains once in a supportive environment, but many struggle to keep up because they lack basic skills. Many SIFE missed foundational instruction in their home countries, impacting literacy, content knowledge, and test readiness. In addition, since SIFE lack literacy skills in their first language, they do not have this extra support to help learn a second language. Many SIFE have experienced cultural dislocation which affects academic focus and engagement.

Part V: ML/ELL Instruction

Tier 1: Core Instruction

For additional information, refer to ML/ELL Instruction Professional Learning Module.

Tier 1 Core Instruction

1. How does your school provide ELLs with a high-quality academic experience that leads to deeper learning?

PS 225 provides ELLs with a high-quality learning experience that fosters deeper understanding in many ways. Our staff is committed to creating a positive learning environment. All ELLs follow the HMH curriculum both in their Integrated and Stand-Alone classes. This curriculum is grade appropriate and is scaffolded and modified by the ENL teachers. This ensures that ELLs have access to grade level material. The HMH curriculum is rigorous, culturally relevant and includes a wide variety of topics which will deepened the educational experience for ELLs. Our classrooms are equipped with technology resources that allow students to research and deepen their understanding of various subjects. In grades 2-3 all Entering and emerging ELLs utilize Pocketalk translators to provide real time audio and text translations to them. These devices provide access to rigorous discussions and tier one instruction. During the 2025-26 school year, we will utilize Pocketalk devices in grades K - 8.

2. How does your school's leadership team ensure ELLs have access to core instruction/curriculum?

To ensure the development and maintenance of an effective school environment for MLs/ELLs, the school leadership team (SLT) reviews the quality of the learning environment for the school as a whole and within individual classrooms. The goal of this review process is to ensure that teaching and learning activities are well–structured and culturally and linguistically engaging and allow students to be active participants in their acquisition of the English language and academic content. In addition, the SLT reviews screening and progress monitoring data for MLs/ELLs, along with any resulting instructional modifications, to ensure that the instructional supports used are culturally and linguistically appropriate and are leading to improved student outcomes. We follow the following practices:

Accommodate instruction to best reflect the communication styles of students.

Incorporate and value the use of diverse community practices in the curriculum.

Adapt instruction to accommodate the acculturation needs of students.

Develop linguistic competence through functional and purposeful dialogue in the classroom.

Connect students' prior experiences with current skills being taught.

Contextualize learning by reflecting and placing value on students' native cultural values, norms, and languages when implementing the curriculum.

Adapting a new Reading/Writing curriculum (HMH) that includes a much needed ELL and phonics component to support our students as they learn the new to them language.

3. Describe how core content is delivered in each program model. Specify language, and the instructional approaches and methods to foster language development and meet the demands of the Next Generation Learning Standards.

Supporting diverse learners means providing strong core instruction. To get there, we need to make sure every student in every classroom is engaged with rich and inclusive curriculum materials and with appropriate assessments so that we understand and meet their needs. The Stand-Alone ENL program at PS 225 provides instruction in English, with home language support, while emphasizing English language acquisition. The Stand-Alone component is aligned to the grade-level content and standards. The instruction is to develop English language skills, so that students can have entry into instruction, with their peers, and be able to succeed in core content courses. Instruction is delivered by a certified ENL teacher. Stand-Alone students are grouped by ENL levels of Entering and Emerging. In the Stand-Alone model ELL methodologies in content-area instruction are taught by a dually certified teacher. The Stand-Alone ENL class serves both Entering and Emerging ELL students. In the Stand-Alone class, in order to ensure that ELL students are able to meet the demands of the Next Generation Learning Standards, the teacher implements the following structures for learning: Explicit and implicit teaching of vocabulary that is on level, and above level to challenge student's learning and thinking. Use of visuals and realia as a way of letting students understand concepts and new material. Allow for students to use prior knowledge, to build upon ideas, and implement skills and strategies that they are familiar with, to help make content approachable and more comprehensible. Integrated ELL instruction focuses on English language skills and supporting the ELL students, through support to ensure participation in different subject matters. This is delivered by a certified ENL teacher, co-teaching with a content area teacher. The ENL teachers support the students with different skills and strategies, to ensure that all learners can have an equitable opportunity to learn and participate in content-rich discussions, and be able to collaborate in pairs, groups, and whole class activities. Providing opportunities for students to discuss content and problem-solving by strategically using research-based practices (e.g., multimedia, visuals, graphic organizers, sentence starters/frames and rubrics for students' self assessment etc.). The content teacher and ENL teacher work together to best support the students. They know their student's level of proficiency in all modalities, and challenge the students to be active participants in their learning as well as be prepared for the challenges of the Next Generation Learning Standards and the expectations in shifts in literacy. Dual Language Program students learn to speak, read, and write in two languages, and also learn about other cultures while developing strong self-esteem and diverse language skills. The dual language program offers rigorous Bilingual Education for ELLs/MLLs, aimed at maintaining and developing the home language, while attaining English proficiency as well as biliteracy. Learners are also supported through explicit and implicit research-based vocabulary instruction, in both languages. In addition, students are provided with opportunities to discuss content and problem-solve with peers, with differentiated sentence starters/stems, in order to provide a fair and meaningful access to participation in pair, group, and/or total class discussion. Instruction is scaffolded throughout the dual language program to meet MLLs/ELLs where they are at, and challenge them further to meet the demands of the Next Generation Learning Standards. ESOL teachers as a result of their common meetings are selecting content based on the instruction that is taking place during content-area instruction and selecting key texts with rich language and content that leverages the overarching instructional goals of a unit of study. The New Language Arts Progressions (NLAP) provide a framework for teachers to ensure that students in English as a New Language and Bilingual Education programs are meeting the standards. ESOL teachers should consistently link to the content area(s) that most benefit their students (for example ELA, social studies) or leverage thematic units that have cross-content entry points.

4. What instructional strategies and grade-level materials, including technology, do teachers of MLs/ELLs use to provide access to grade level academic content areas and accelerate English language development? Include core content area and language materials with consideration to specific ELL subgroups.

a. ELLs with IEPs

Teachers of all ELLs including ELLs with IEPs provide access to academic content using specific instructional strategies and grade level materials. Strategies that assist in making instruction more comprehensible include simplifying but, not artificially restricting language structures (shorter sentences, use of unambiguous terminology); contextualizing both oral and written texts with pictures, charts, diagrams, and realia; providing for repeated access to ideas and vocabulary; and creating interaction structures that allow for both comprehension and the need to act on and talk about content. The special education teacher aligns instruction with the classroom teacher providing support to the students. One strategy is to modify the content materials used in the subject area being taught. Another strategy is to scaffold materials learned by using graphic organizers, and pre-teaching vocabulary for conceptual knowledge in learning new information. The special education teacher uses additional instructional materials to accelerate English language development. We also use visual representations, modeling, role playing, and total physical response method of teaching. Students are given ample opportunities to have extended interaction with peers of varying English proficiency levels to enhance their English language development. In conjunction, the accessibility and use of individual I-Pads, bilingual dictionaries, and bilingual glossaries of content area vocabulary is given to each student. Interactive Smart Board activities have also been implemented to meet the needs of ELL/SWDs.
The ENL team uses Lexia software programs as supplemental reading tools. Incorporating visuals, models and a culturally-responsive approach to teaching content prove to be effective for our ELLs. ENL teachers use visuals, sentence frames, reciprocal teaching and the Universal Design for Learning to make content comprehensible. These approaches offer flexibility in ways students can access materials and engage with content. These techniques use a variety of teaching methods to remove any barriers to learning and give all students equal and equitable opportunities to succeed. In the K-5 classrooms, the classroom teacher has implemented The Leader In Me Program which addresses the social emotional needs of our students. It follows Covey's Seven Habits Of Successful Students. These multi-modality assessments help teachers identify a plan for helping the students attain success in fluency, comprehension and articulation when discussing what has been read (when discussing the text using posed questions). Technology is also an intricate part of the delivery of grade level academic content. Various programs that we incorporate is Padlet, Kahoot, Amira, and Waggle.

b. SIFE

SIFE students who have been identified as having an interrupted formal education (SIFE) receive their mandated 360 minutes of ELL services weekly. In addition, they also receive academic support services in both reading and math. They are encouraged to participate in ENL after school programs as well as all extra curricular activities offered throughout the year.

To ensure that SIFE students have access to grade level content, the ENL support teacher works with the content area teachers to plan and implement scaffolding techniques for each lesson. ENL and content area teachers provide vocabulary supports with visuals, translations, and proper modifications, to make the content comprehensible to help ensure that they are approaching grade-level expectations. The teachers plan for flexible grouping, in the classroom, to allow SIFE students to work with fellow students, that are on the same or similar level.

c. Newcomers

Newcomers will continue to receive both push-in and pull-out ENL services, with the number of mandated instructional minutes according to their levels of English proficiency. ELLs will continue to have the opportunity to partake in all ENL supplemental programs. The ENL provider collaborates with the General Ed/Special Ed teachers to modify their assignments and provide productive work that engages newcomers in language learning. We are aware of our newcomers' emotional needs in adapting to a new culture. Therefore, we pair beginners with students who are more advanced and share a common native language. In addition, we use translators as needed and in testing situations.

d. Long Term ELLs

Long Term ENLs (those completing 6 years), will continue to be eligible to participate in our Title III ELL after school program where our highly qualified ELL providers can service struggling students in a small-group setting. Some English language learners stay within the program for many years. We analyze our NYSESLAT data to identify which modalities need to be supported during the school year. We have found that students perform better on the listening and speaking subtests than they do on the reading and writing subtests. As a result, we provide instruction to remediate this deficiency. Students are engaged in lessons that are designed to teach reading and writing strategies during their ENL periods, general classroom literacy periods. The BESIS extension of services is provided to identify long-term ELLs. This allows Long Term ELLs to qualify for testing modifications and accommodations.

5. What supports does your school provide to ELLs with IEPs to achieve their IEP goals and attain English language proficiency within the least restrictive environment?

P.S. 225 uses a content and general education curriculum that is Next Generation Learning Standards based and adapted to meet the wide range of needs of our diverse student population. The ENL teacher works with the special needs ELA teacher during planning sessions and in the ELA classroom. All teachers have been trained in differentiating and scaffolding to meet the needs of these students to meet their IEP goals. The teachers review IEP goals and complete period progress reports for these students. When students demonstrate growth in a particular subject area, those students are placed in a less restrictive program for that subject as part of the Special Education Reform. Flexible scheduling has been implemented for those SWDs /ELLs that have shown growth in the special education classroom. These students continue to be serviced as per the appropriate ENL mandates with general education whenever possible. Our ELLs with special needs (depending on their IEPs) are assigned paraprofessionals or placed in appropriate settings such as self-contained (12:1:1) or ICT settings, which allow these students to learn at an appropriate level and pace. The paraprofessionals assist teachers in providing individualized instruction and helping students to learn successfully at their own pace. Those with IEPs receive all the necessary services and accommodations dictated by the IEP. Team teaching and the push-in/pull-out model are carefully integrated in order to provide accurate services. In addition, the use of smaller classes with adapted content materials in a blended model has also been successfully implemented.

6. How is home language assessed in each program model (DLBE, TBE, and ENL)?

Home language support is delivered to our Freestanding ELL program via materials such as bilingual and native language novels, picture books, bilingual dictionaries, glossaries and a variety of visual aids. ELLs are encouraged to buddy up and interact with others who speak the same home language and can assist and translate for them when needed. To ensure home language support in our current ELL model, a teaching technique that is employed and demonstrated to be beneficial for ENLs, is to provide them with relevant background about a topic to be discussed in class, or activate their existing knowledge of a topic. Apart from increasing student interest, this allows students to focus more fully on the instructional goals, rather than being overwhelmed with too much new information at once. It also allows ELLs to bridge new knowledge to old knowledge, increasing understanding, and it aids ELLs to fill in contextual information in the content areas that they may not have as a result of different cultural backgrounds. Bilingual teachers, school aides, and other staff members also interact with students in their native language. As mandated by New York State testing guidelines, ELLs are given the opportunity to use a translated version of the NYS Math, Science, and Social Studies exams and glossaries. Students who speak and read in a language that is not one of the translated languages provided by the state are given the opportunity to use a bilingual glossary published by the Department of Education.

7. (For grades 6-12 only) What language electives are offered to MLs/ELLs? How is your school preparing MLs/ELLs to obtain the New York State Seal of Biliteracy?

At this time, we do not offer language electives.

8. Describe systems and structures for supporting co-teaching and collaboration among teachers for all ELL program models available at your school (e.g. integrated co-teaching, Dual Language Bilingual Education teacher partnerships, etc.).

Systems and structures for supporting co-teaching and collaboration among teachers for all English Language Learner (ELL) program models play a crucial role in fostering an inclusive and effective learning environment.

Here are some key systems and structures we utilize to support co-teaching and collaboration among teachers in all of our ELL program models:

1. Professional Learning Communities: This allows teachers to collaborate and share best practices in supporting ELL students. These communities provide a platform for supporting co-teachers to discuss challenges, exchange ideas, and develop strategies to meet each individual need of our ELLs.

2. Co-Planning and Co-Teaching: This collaborative approach allows teachers to combine their expertise and knowledge to create lessons that address the specific language and content needs of ELL students. Co-teaching models, such as station teaching, parallel teaching, and team teaching, can be utilized to provide targeted support to ELL learners.

3. Data Analysis and Progress Monitoring: Regular data analysis and progress monitoring help teachers identify the specific needs of ELL students and make informed instructional decisions. Collaborative data meetings are held for teachers analyze student performance data, discuss intervention strategies, and monitor student progress together.

4. Differentiated Instruction: Implementing differentiated instruction strategies is essential in supporting ELLs. Teachers collaborate to develop and share instructional materials, resources, and strategies that accommodate the diverse language proficiency levels and cultural backgrounds of our ELLs.

5. All teachers are offered ongoing professional development opportunities with a focus on ELL instruction and strategies

6. Resource Sharing: Establishing a system for resource sharing among teachers can be beneficial in supporting co-teaching and collaboration. This can include sharing lesson plans, instructional materials, assessment tools, and other resources that are specifically designed for ELL learners.

7. Communication and Collaboration Platforms: Utilizing technology platforms, such as online forums, shared drives, or communication apps, can facilitate communication and collaboration among teachers. These platforms provide a space for teachers to share ideas, ask questions, and exchange resources, even if they are not physically located in the same school or district.

By implementing these systems and structures, we are able to provide effective support to ELL students across all program models.

9. Describe how your overall, annual professional learning plan ensures that all staff – including administrators, teachers and -non-pedagogical staff – incorporates learning specifically related to the academic and social emotional needs of MLs/ELLs. Professional learning topics might include co-teaching strategies, or integrating language and content instruction.

Implementation of Ruler Training for all staff is designed to foster a culture of welcoming and support for all of our students. Our objective is to understand how to monitor and regulate students' emotions, to have fewer classroom behavior problems and increase in student engagement and performance. Students will develop classroom charts, check in on the mood meter two times per day and take part in brain breaks such as meditation. They will also develop class wide self regulation strategies that are a living document and can be added on an ongoing basis. At PS 225 we have a Math Coach and an ELA Coach working alongside the grade leaders and administration to organize a professional learning schedule that incorporates both ENL and classroom teacher in co-plan to meet the various proficiency levels of our ENL students.
Parents are included in this initiative, so they can be true partners in supporting their children's academic and emotional development. Implementation of Instructional Leadership Team ensures that our school has the strategy and tools to continuously improve instruction, and provide our students with the rigorous learning experiences they all deserve. Additionally the ILT reviews what instruction every student is receiving, how they're receiving it, why they're receiving it, and how each individual students needs can be met. As part of the Chancellor's initiative for equity and excellence, our Principal, Mr. Lawler has assembled an instructional leadership team for the 2025-2026 school year. The members of the team were selected at the discretion of the Principal. The mission of the team is to identify our school's strengths and weaknesses in core instruction and decide how to proceed in order to advance learning for every student. We continue to accomplish this by conducting classroom visits as a team (or subdivisions of our team) and by identifying key indicators of 21st century practices. During the school year, common meeting times are scheduled, so that we can do and continue this important work, related to the academic needs of our subgroups of learners. This work has produced significant shifts in our thinking and our instructional focus. The Instructional Leadership Team is the agent of change that decides which priority area we will focus on, as a school. We begin our work by analyzing data sources and conducting learning walks to select a targeted, specific area of focus/change idea/strategy that the team continues to support and implement, with a selected group of teachers for school improvement in ELA. We use information gathered from our observations, across grade levels and subject areas to access student work. Moving forward, the social and academic needs of the students, for this academic year, was and continues to be a priority. As a result of our collaborative work, we were able to come together, as a staff, to best incorporate the needs of our students. In addition, we are able to best plan for projected learning loss in the upcoming academic year (2025- 2026), and best support the needs of those learners, around academics and social emotional needs. ILT Team Members: Principal, Mr. Patrick Lawler, Assistant Principals, Dr. Barbara Pelegrinis, Mr. Thomas Tormey, Ms. Peluso, Mrs. Anastasia Demidova, IEP Teacher, Mrs. Dalia Mastey, Classroom Teachers, Michelle Graziano and Ryan Harney.

10. Describe your school's professional development plan in order to meet the mandated Continuing Teacher and Leader Education (CTLE) ELL specific hours for certification renewal as per CR Part 154 (15% of total hours for all certified faculty [holders of professional certificates in the classroom teaching service, educational leadership service and level III teaching assistant certificate holders] and 50% of total hours for bilingual education/ENL teachers receive ELL-specific professional development).

P.S. 225 Professional Development plan will ensure that a designated percentage of PD hours (15% total hours for classroom teachers and 50% total hours for ELL teachers) be specific to the needs of our MLL/MLLs, co-teaching strategies, and integrated language and content structure. Our certified staff members along with ELL/Bilingual teachers attend professional development conducted by NYCDOE Department of English Language Learner Student Support Brooklyn South, Division of English Language Learners and Student Support and HMH professional development. Our staff attends ongoing courses and seminars that are available both in-person and online in order to meet certification renewal requirements. Each Professional Development is recorded with an attendance sheet and a CTLE certificate which is kept on file. Along with attendance, there are specific agendas that specifically state the Professional Development schedule and targeted topics. We are committed to attend professional development in collaboration with support, from the Borough Field Support Center (BFSC) and the Center for Supportive Schools (CSS), to build the capacity of the school and improve student academic performance of ELLs.

Assessment

SCREENERS

11. Which screening assessments (e.g.iReady, MAP Growth, Acadience, or STAR Reading) does your school use to guide instructional planning for your ELLs?

We use many different assessments to help guide instructional planning for our MLLs/ELLs. For formal assessments, we primarily use Acadience Reading Assessment Program and Diagnostic which measures students individual understanding of reading skills. It is also for older students who are reading well below their grade level. We utilize IXL which is a computer based assessment platform that gives each student individualized instruction in all content areas and in all grades. IXL uses adaptive technology and real time feedback to help students improve the skills they have not yet mastered. These assessments let us know the level of our students reading comprehension and sight word recognition. This helps us identify the reading level of our students, and individualize our mini lessons and small group work, to best meet the needs of our students.
Teachers also perform individual diagnostics, and after assessing all students, and analyzing miscues, they are able to see which cue the student is using and which cues that the student is neglecting. Furthermore, teachers develop an individual reading plan, geared for the individual MLLs/ELLs, to drive instruction for future lessons, and best support them in acquiring the skills and strategies to increase both reading level and stamina. These online curriculums are tailored to each student's specific reading level. As students answer questions correctly, literature texts become more complex as do the levels of questions associated with each text. These programs allow us to see student growth in real-time, thus providing us with data needed to restructure our small groups, reteach skills when necessary and when to enrich students who are ready to challenge themselves more critically.

12. For all grades, list and describe your targeted intervention programs for ELLs in ELA, Math, and other core content areas (specify ELL subgroups targeted). Include the language(s) in which the intervention services are offered.

The new ELA curriculum the school is adapting (HMH Into Reading) provides targeted instruction for English language learners in the form of small group intervention. Students are provided the scaffolding to practice language functions such as infer and analyze using grade-level, curricular texts. There is also dedicated time in each lesson for vocabulary that gives students an opportunity to practice using English words in discussion, in reading, and in writing. Certain lessons also contain speaking and listening portions, listening comprehension, and fluency practice in addition to components such as reading, phonics, and writing. The curriculum also comes with a wide library of leveled reading materials that teachers will use with small groups as necessary.
HMH Into Reading is also available in Spanish as Arriba Lectura, and dual language teachers will be utilizing both versions of the curriculum for their classes.

13. For all grades, describe how your school uses data to guide instruction for ELLs within a Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS). Refer to the Instructional Leadership Tool for MLs and ELLs and MTSS Guide for MLs and ELLs to help in the development and implementation of your school's plan for MLs/ELLs.

The way PS 225 uses data to guide instruction for ELLs within a Multi-Tiered System of Supports is by analyzing results from the NYSESLAT / NYSITELL, New York State ELA results, I-ready results, HMH results and more. By analyzing these results, teachers can see which modality students need support in, and what skills and standards ELLs need support in as well. Students who need extra support can be part of the What I Need (W.I.N) periods, where students are pulled in small groups to work on their individual needs. ENL teachers can also work on these skills during Stand-Alone periods as well.

FORMATIVE

14. Which formative assessments (e.g. NYC performance Tasks, ELL Periodic Assessment, HLA Assessment, DRA, teacher-created assessments, etc.) are used to inform and drive instruction?

Our staff uses data to develop instructional plans that drive instruction to meet the needs of our ELLs. It is an ongoing effort to ensure that instruction is guided and implemented based on data from formative assessments used through the academic year.
Some computer based formative assessments we use are Lexia Core 5 for students in grades K-5 and Lexia Power Up for students in grades 6-8. We also use teacher generated quizzes, entrance and exit slips, teacher/student conferences and daily small group or individual observations. We also use IXL to help identify students' areas that are in need of improvement. There are various protocols in place to check for understanding and used as formative assessments such as Stop, Jot and Post, Two-Cent Protocol and One-Minute Essay. In whatever shape it takes, formative assessments are used to redefine teacher's practice based on a sharper understanding of current levels of student performance. The NYSITELL and NYSESLAT data are used for grouping and ENL instruction.
Assessments at all grade levels give teachers in-depth information about student language development across all four modalities (speaking, listening, reading and writing). Constant articulation between classroom teachers and ENL teachers help us to identify each student's strengths and weaknesses and helps us to guide instruction accordingly.

15. How do you ensure that MLs/ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their home languages throughout the year?

Our ELL newcomers are assessed with the NYSITELL. Spanish-speaking ELLs are evaluated in their native language when the Spanish LAB-R is administered. We provide translated New York State exams for the students upon request, if available in their language. Bilingual glossaries and dictionaries are also provided for the students. Students are prepared to use these resources throughout the school year. As per teacher request, formal assessments will be translated into the students' home language. Our bilingual staff are available to assist with oral translation to ELLs when necessary. In addition, we utilize many computer simulation programs as well as translated assessments and/or translators to ensure our ELLs are evaluated appropriately. ENL teachers communicate with their students' families regularly. This strong home-school connection helps our ENL teachers to gain a better understanding and more clear picture of their students' language needs.

SUMMATIVE

16. Which summative assessments (e.g. NYSESLAT, ELA, Math, Regents, etc.) are used to evaluate the effectiveness of your ML/ELL programs and how does it inform instructional design and curricular decisions? (Refer to the ELL Data Analysis Tool).

Since the goal of a summative assessment is to evaluate student learning at the end of an instructional unit by comparing it against some standard or benchmark, the summative assessments PS 225 uses are often high stakes. P.S. 225's focus for the 2025-2026 school year is to build upon the foundations we have developed in implementing the Next Generation Learning Standards. In addition, teachers identify various ways to assess our students' progress using summative assessments which include: NYSITELL, NYSESLAT, NYS ELA, NYS Math, NYC Performance Assessments (MOSLs), Writing Support System (WSS), NYSAA, to identify students' preferred learning styles, strengths, weaknesses and individual learning needs. ENL teachers also work with classroom teachers to establish students' reading levels using resources like I-Ready and Acadience. There are different components, such as word identification, letter and sound correspondences, and independent reading levels. Reading behaviors are recorded and assessed for levels.

With data from these assessments, we are able to identify each child's strengths and weaknesses at a more specific level. They help the school's instructional plan to target each learner's reading strength and weakness to differentiate teaching in the classroom. Through the use of I-Ready, we can identify the specific skill for which the child requires the most intervention. To assess the early literacy skills of our ENLs, we use HMH Into Literature which addresses and evaluates all the various components of literacy such as phonemic awareness, phonics, decoding, using strategies to construct meaning from print, using strategies to create invented and conventional spelling, gaining meaning by listening and using writing strategies to convey ideas. They provide the information we need to differentiate and customize the instruction and grouping of our students. We will effectively individualize and differentiate instruction within the context and framework of a rigorous, standard based curriculum. Through the effective planning and usage of technology, small group instruction, UDLs and visual aids the achievements of all students will be continually monitored. Extensive differentiated strategies, techniques and learning modalities need to be developed, incorporated and utilized so that learning is not repetitive but will have a fresh presentation and rigorous content. Technology use will facilitate immediate feedback and data for students and teachers. Establishing a cohesive and comprehensive research based plan for professional development, collaborative planning and informed decision making utilizing data, and regular assessment with meaningful feedback is key for the successful implementation of our focus.

17. What is your NYSESLAT administration plan? How does your school ensure that all ELLs are tested with the NYSESLAT annually? Include the titles of the staff that will administer and score the assessment. Please describe your plan to ensure that all ELLs and former ELLs continue to receive mandated instruction during the testing period.

The ELL Department, and administration, work together to ensure that the NYSESLAT is administered to all English Language Learners, annually, to measure progress in English language acquisition. In addition, we use individual students' test performance to determine continued eligibility services for the following year.

As an ELL Department we follow the NYSESLAT Best Practices Overview, in order to ensure that proper protocol is being followed, and that ELLs and Former ELLs can and will continue to receive the proper services, according to their individual performance.

Our Best Practices to ensure that we are following protocol are the following:
Identifying eligible students by printing out an RLER Report from ATS.
Identify students who reentered the NYCDOE public schools after having been outside NYS public schools for more than 2 years. We make certain that all students who should be tested, will be assessed during that time.
Notify the classroom teacher, the MLLs/ELLs, and the parent/guardian in order to make certain that individual students are in attendance for the testing administration dates.
The ELL Department works together, to administer all subtests of the NYSESLAT during the administration window and track student completion to ensure students who were not present during times originally scheduled have ample opportunity to complete the NYSESLAT.
Ensure that all students, who are eligible to take the NYSESLAT, have been tested. It is important to follow up with students who have not taken the NYSESLAT and their families to emphasize the importance of the NYSESLAT by making them aware that this test determines the following: their English proficiency, whether a student will receive ENL and/or bilingual services the following school year, and lastly, contributes to promotion and programming decisions.

All of our ELL teachers are certified and highly qualified to administer the NYSESLAT. They receive special training every year for both, administration of the NYSESLAT and scoring of the NYSESLAT. Teachers will not score their own students' Speaking and Writing responses.

The following teachers will administer and/or score the NYSESLAT:
ENL Teachers
Dana Lombardi
Phyllis Mignone
AnnaMaria Nigro
Rosalba Shields
Mufti Farooqi
Ryan Kiernan
Emily McCormick
Shayne Fontek
Patti Castillo

ELLs and Former ELLs continue to receive services during the state assessment testing window. We utilize our dual bilingual/ENL teachers during the regular administration and scoring windows. Students are tested during the time when they normally receive program services. This will allow the students to receive instruction, during their normally scheduled periods, and not interfere with learning in other content areas.

18. How does your school ensure that current and former ELLs receive necessary accommodations for state assessments, including the Specialized High School Admissions Test (SHSAT) if applicable?

At our school, we have a comprehensive approach to ensure that both current and former ELLs receive the necessary accommodations for state assessments.

Some of the strategies we use include:

1-Individualized Education Plan (IEP): ELLs who also have an IEP receive accommodations outlined in their IEP. These accommodations are designed to meet their specific needs during state assessments.
2-Linguistic Supports: We provide linguistic supports such as bilingual test directions, bilingual glossaries, and translated test materials to help ELLs understand the assessment content.
3-Extended Time: ELLs may be given additional time to complete state assessments to account for the extra time needed to process information in a second language.
4-Small Group Settings: ELLs may be assessed in small group settings to minimize distractions and provide a supportive testing environment.
5-Scaffolding and Visual Aids: We provide visual aids, graphic organizers, and other instructional supports to help ELLs comprehend and respond to assessment questions effectively.
6-Flexible Assessment Formats: We offer alternative formats for ELLs, such as oral administration or use of assistive technology, to ensure they can demonstrate their knowledge and skills in a way that aligns with their language abilities.
7- Ongoing Professional Development: We provide professional development to teachers and staff to enhance their understanding of ELL accommodations and strategies for supporting ELLs during state assessments.

Overall, our goal is to ensure that ELLs have equal access to state assessments and are provided with the necessary accommodations to demonstrate their true abilities and knowledge.

Part VI: Family Partnership

Family Partnership

Required Meetings Under CR Part 154

Describe your schools' plan to ensure families of ELLs are provided with the required meetings specified below as per CR Part 154. Include:

- Topics discussed during these meetings
- How your school ensures families receive necessary translation/interpretation supports to meaningfully engage in the meetings
- How your school schedules these meetings to facilitate attendance, and how your school maintains evidence of these meetings as required per the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs.

a. ELL Program Orientation to inform parents/guardians of newly identified ELLs of ELL program options, including the program goals and requirements for all three ML/ELL program models: Dual Language Bilingual Education, Transitional Bilingual Education and English as a New Language regardless of whether the school currently has either type of bilingual program and provide a high-quality orientation section on the Next Generation Learning Standards, assessments, and school expectations for English Language Learners.

Upon registration, parents of ELLs will meet with a licensed pedagogue ENL teacher to complete the necessary paperwork and videos for ELL Program Orientation. During this meeting, parents will choose which program they would like for their child. At PS 225, the options are either English as a New Language or Dual Language Bilingual Education (Spanish). In addition to the paperwork needed, parents will also watch a Parent Orientation Video, that will explain to the parent in their home language what the program entails. It is important to note, that if a parent would like more information of schools in the district that has a program that they would like their child to be in (for example; a Dual Language Russian program), the licensed pedagogue will provide the parent with the list of schools in the district that has the program that they would like. During this meeting, the DOE translation service can be used if needed, or we can use Pocket Talk to help translate as well.

To ensure parent orientation meetings are offered only to parents of students who are newly identified re-entry students the RLAT is printed and referred to for information regarding who needs to attend the meeting, with the assistance of our parent coordinator. Letters are sent out in the preferred home language.

The ENL Department schedules several parent orientation meetings throughout the year for the newly identified ELLs. Parents sign an attendance sheet so we are aware of who needs to be contacted by phone and/or letter.

During this meeting, parents will choose which program they would like for their child. At PS 225, the options are either English as a New Language or Dual Language Bilingual Education (Spanish). In addition to the paperwork needed, parents will also watch a Parent Orientation Video, that will explain to the parent in their home language what the program entails. It is important to note, that if a parent would like more information of schools in the district that has a program that they would like their child to be in (for example; a Dual Language Russian program), the licensed pedagogue will provide the parent with the list of schools in the district that has the program that they would like. During this meeting, the DOE translation service can be used if needed, or we can use Pocket Talk to help translate as well.

Our school maintains the attendance sign-in sheet of this required parent orientation meeting in the ENL Binder.

b. Annual Individual Meeting to discuss goals of the program, language development progress, language proficiency assessment results, and language development needs in all content areas. Note: this meeting is separate from and does not include the mandated ELL program orientation meeting and DOE-scheduled parent-teacher conferences.

Families of ELLs are provided with required meetings throughout the year at PS 225. All students at P.S 225 are included in Parent Teacher Conferences multiple times per year. During this time, teachers use the NYCDOE translation services. In addition to PTC, ENL teachers are required to meet with parents throughout the school year to discuss student goals. During this time, parents will have the opportunity to learn more about our ENL program, see how their child is doing in their classes, and will learn about resources that will help their child succeed in school. This meeting will be scheduled and held during Parent Outreach time (50 minutes weekly). This will be planned and the schedule will be communicated with parents. DOE Translation services will be used if necessary.

PS 225 ENL staff schedules annual individual ENL parent meetings separate from DOE mandated Parent Teacher Conferences to discuss their child's ENL progress and recommendations for their academic and developmental needs. Our teachers have an open door policy to meet with parents on an as need basis. During our meetings teachers address individual needs and create goals to ensure that students are on task to meet their English language proficiency. Each ENL teacher has documentation and paperwork of their meetings throughout the school year that is signed by the ENL teacher and the parent.

Family Engagement

2. Beyond the mandated meetings and orientations, describe how your school:
a. Ensures families receive all school communications and documents in the language they best understand. How are families able to respond or initiate communications in languages other than English?

Beyond the mandated meetings and orientations, PS 225 ensures that families receive all school communications and documents in the language they best understand. When letters or phone calls are made, office staff use the data from the Home Language Identification Survey. From there, we translate documents using the Xerox Center Flow app and machine. In addition, upon entering the school building, ENL staff created a welcome board with QR codes, where parents can scan the language that they need. This helps parents express why they are in the school building and what they need. Teachers also use communication apps like Remind and Class Dojo. On these apps, there is an option to translate messages into various different languages. Another resource that parents can use is the NYCDOE Translation service. PS 225 also has PocketTalk which is a handheld translation device that translates into 84 languages.

b. Develops activities that foster empowerment for families of MLs/ELLs. Include how your school determines the needs of your community.

This year PS 225 offers a Parent Empowerment Program, with an emphasis on citizenship preparation. Additionally, we also offer ENL Afterschool Programs for parents. These programs meet on Wednesdays, for a total of 2.5 hours of instruction. The focus is Basic Language Development, especially oral language. In addition to direct instruction for parents, the ENL Team has created a resource that parents can use for immediate translation, with posters containing embedded QR codes, in all the languages. The determination of the language needs of our community are determined by running the ATS Home Language Report, as well as teacher feedback about family/guardian language preferences.

c. Ensures families of MLs/ELLs are aware of family leadership opportunities (such as Parent Association (PA), School Leadership Team (SLT), Community Education Council (CEC), etc.)

Invitations are sent to parents in their preferred language using XEROX Workflow. The Parent Welcome Center sends reminders and invitations to parents for different family leadership meetings via email, automatic phone calls/text message through DOE messaging.
The determination of the language needs of our community are determined by running the ATS Home Language Report, as well as teacher feedback, about family/guardian language preferences.

3. What culturally and linguistically responsive partnerships do you currently have that support the needs of your school community?

Our community-based organization, the Shorefront Y, offers an afterschool program on-site, and an off-site option, as well. Shorefront Y employs some multilingual staff, who are in contact with PS 225 families.
We also have a partnership with The Brighton Ballet Theater Company. They provide after school and Saturday programs for our students. This year our students performed for the school community, during the day, and for the families, at night. The Brighton Ballet dance teachers were an integral part of our show. They work alongside our staff.

Part VII: Additional Information

Additional Information

Include any additional information that is relevant to your LAP and would further explain and highlight how your school supports MLs/ELLs. This form does not allow graphics and charts to be pasted.

At PS 225, we promote cultural integration by providing a diverse atmosphere for our ENL students but all of our students. We celebrate diversity and encourage our students to share their cultural backgrounds, experiences and traditions with their peers. We organize multicultural celebrations that include food, decorations and guest speakers. We thrive to promote a sense of belonging and understanding among all students. This year we incorporated a student talent program based on internal student surveys. These talent programs embodied all aspect of our students' talent, including the arts, music, sports, theatre and dance. Our ELLs were integrated into each of their preferred talents and strengths. These programs allowed our ELL students to full participate with their peers in a non-academic environment, fosters many aspects of language development and social emotional well being.

Part VIII: ELL Identification Attestation and Principal Certification

Identification Plan

For additional information, refer to ELL Identification Attestation Professional Learning Module.

1. What are the titles of the members of your ELL identification team? Note: Members of the ELL identification team must be pedagogues.

Barbara Pelegrinis- Assistant Principal
Emily McCormick-ENL Coordinator/ENL Teacher
Ryan Kieran- ENL Teacher
Phyllis Mignone-ENL Teacher
Anna Nigro- ENL Teacher
Rosalba Shields- ENL Teacher
Mufti Farooqi-ENL Teacher
Suzanne Wren -ENL Teacher
Shayne Fontek-ENL Teacher
Patty Castillo-ENL Teacher
Cecilia Reyes -Dual Language Teacher
Karla Romero- Dual Language Teacher
Jessica Vasquez-Dual Language Teacher
Luis de la Huerta- Dual Language Teacher

2. Describe the structures and process in place for identification of ELLs year-round as required by the NYC DOE Policy & Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, including your school's identification plan for any incoming students with an Individualized Education Plan (IEP). Include:

- How your school proactively plans for the ELL identification process so that it does not interrupt the provision of mandated ENL and/or bilingual instruction to current, former and potential ELLs,
- Who is responsible for each step of the ELL identification process, and
- School's plan for ensuring ELLs and former ELLs will continue to receive mandated instruction.

To comply with the NYC Department of Education guidelines for Multilingual Learners and English Language Learners, PS 225 has a year-round process for identifying and supporting ELLs, including those with Individualized Education Plans. Proper identification for ELLs is crucial when admitting a student into a DOE school. Our ENL team trains and prepares ENL teachers for the ELL Identification process. The ENL team has a checklist of items that need to be completed upon admitting a student. This includes the Home Language Identification Survey, an Oral Interview

Questionnaire to see if the child is an ELL, the ELL Parent Survey and Program Agreement form and the Parent Orientation Video. Our school continues to service our students with their mandated minutes during this time. The way that we do this is to have teachers do intake on their prep periods, or during our Circular 6 (administrative periods). ENL teachers' Circular 6 period is for ENL Compliance, paperwork, and testing. If one ENL teacher is servicing during the time a new admit arrives, the team will delegate by reviewing the ENL team schedules to see who is free during that time.

Principal Certification

In accordance with New York State's Commissioner's Regulations Part 154 as outlined and implemented in the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, I, attest that the following ELL identification procedures and activities are adhered to, and staff are trained on the items listed below.

- The ELL Identification Process is completed for each student within 10 school days of enrollment (20 school days for students entering with IEPs).
- Enrollment status of each newly admitted student is determined:
  a. If a student has been in New York State public schools within the past 2 years, our school contacts the previous school to obtain ELL status, relevant assessment scores, and English language proficiency level.
  b. If a student has been outside of New York State public schools for more than 2 years, our school administers the ELL Identification Process as part of reentry.

- The home language of the student is determined by a trained and licensed pedagogue.
  a. The parent completes the Home Language Identification Survey in the parent's preferred language; translation services are provided by a bilingual staff member, the DOE's over-the-phone translation services, or an alternative, high quality translation service.

- An interview with parents and students in English and the home language is conducted. This includes reviewing documents, prior assessments, and academic experience. An assessment of the student's abilities and/or work samples determines the student's literacy and math level in his/her home language.
- Eligibility for the NYSITELL is determined.
  a. If the newly enrolled student is entering with an IEP, the school's Language Proficiency Team (LPT) recommends eligibility to the principal, who obtains final approval from the superintendent.

- Students are administered the NYSITELL, if eligible.
- Notification letters are sent to the parent/guardian in their preferred language.
  a. Parent is notified of their child's ELL status and results of the NYSITELL.

- If the student is identified as an ELL and the student's home language is Spanish, the student is administered the Spanish Language Assessment Battery (LAB).
- Student with Interrupted/Inconsistent Formal Education (SIFE) status is determined using New York State's resources.
- If a student is a newly identified ELL, the parent is invited to the parent orientation meeting.
  a. The parent orientation meeting provides parents/guardians with an explanation of each ELL program model offered in NYC; the parent video describing the three programs is presented (in parent's preferred language); parents/guardians are encouraged to ask questions so that they are informed about all ELL programs; translation and interpretation services are provided throughout the meeting.

- ELL is placed in the ELL program that the parent selected.
  a. If the bilingual program that the parent selected is not available, the parent is offered a transfer to a school with that bilingual program in accordance with NYC DOE transfer policies.
  b. If the ELL remains in the school, the ELL is placed in English as a New Language and our school keeps track of parent selection so that when minimum thresholds are met, we can open the ELL program of choice.

- Parents are notified that they have 45 days to appeal the ELL status of their child (ELL Re-identification Process).
- If the ELL Re-identification Process is implemented for any student, the principal reviews the decision of any student whose ELL status was changed because of the ELL Re-identification Process within 6 to 12 months.
- Copies of documentation regarding ELL identification, including letters and parent notifications are kept in the students' cumulative files.

LTI Overview and Part A: Designation of a LAC

Chancellor's Regulation A-663 establishes procedures for ensuring that Limited-English-Proficient (LEP) parents of students enrolled in the New York City public schools are provide with a meaningful opportunity to participate in and have access to programs and services critical to their child's education. To this end, schools must review and complete the annual LTI Plan to address its language assistance needs consistent with the requirements of this regulation.

The LTI Plan requires information on the following:

- Name of person designated as the Language Access Coordinator (LAC).
- Identification and assessment of LEP parent population.
- Identification of Critical Communications and standing, in-person meetings throughout the school year that require language assistance services and how the school plans to respond to these needs.
- Plan to ensure staff awareness of language access requirements and available resources.
- Provision of notice to parents on the available language assistance services.

Methods for the school to solicit and implement feedback on its provision of language assistance services.

Designation of a LAC
Name of person designated and trained as the LAC.
At the start of each school year, each principal is required to designate at least one staff member to serve as the Language Access Coordinator (LAC), responsible for overseeing language assistance services within the school.

We have pre-populated the following information based on our records. Please confirm that the designated staff member(s) are your school's Galaxy-designated LAC(s) and provide the date(s) they attended the OLA Language Access Coordinator Training. Note that this training is in addition to the mandatory asynchronous NYCPS Language Access Training for School-based Staff on the WeLearnNYC learning platform. If any information is missing, please provide the requested details.

As a reminder, LACs are internal staff designations and are not meant to serve as the primary point of contact for families regarding language access-related matters. The Parent Coordinator, or another designated staff member, should remain the main contact for families regarding all issues, including language access.

Family Fun Night	We use Pocketalk to have real time conversations when there are language barriers. We utilize our bilingual staff members as well as bilingual staff members from our Shorefront Y After School Program and Over-the-phone Interpretation Services. In the event that our school becomes remote, we will use Microsoft Teams, Google Meet and GAMA to communicate with parents. If necessary we will use Translation and Interpretation funds for video remote interpretation services .
Curriculum nights	Teachers meet with the parents on each grade level. At each grade level, there will be a teacher/staff member to translate. Meetings will be held on a Classroom Google Meet. Pocketalk is also available for staff and parents to have real time conversations when needed for translation.
Kindergarten Parent Orientation	For these face to face meetings we utilize our bilingual staff members and Pocketalk

3. Describe the resources and processes your school will use to communicate with parents who speak a language other than English during an emergency (e.g., lockdown, fire, student attendance, nurse/hospital visit, etc.), or when a parent needs to contact the school in an emergency, ensuring communication is in their preferred language.

P.S. 225 has specific measures to ensure that in case of an emergency, limited-English-proficient families are contacted. We maintain current records of the primary language of each student and use that information to get appropriate translation needs as soon as possible, in case of emergency. Student information is kept on file in the main office, as well as in their classrooms. If the preferred language is not a most prominent covered language, or there is no staff member in house who can be utilized, then we employ the Over - the -phone Interpretation Services. We use Gama (Grading, Attendance and Messaging Application) to translate both written and orally.

For a student-specific event, the child's teacher sends notifications via Remind which then would be translated into the parents preferred language of communication. When available in-house bilingual staff members will assist in making phone calls to the family in their preferred language. We also have the DOE Translation & Interpretation Unit to assist in outreach to parents. In the event a parent cannot be reached, a staff member would accompany a student to the hospital if needed and will advocate for the family. Our Tardy Squad makes ongoing outreach to parents of students who have consecutive absences with the aid of the Translation and Interpretation
Unit if needed. . When families cannot be reached, a letter is sent home both in English and native language. If a parent contacts the school with an emergency, school staff who speak the language needed are made available to interpret. Parents will be able to use GAMA to correspond with teachers and administration. When parents call the school, they ask for the language needed and either in-house bilingual staff members will assist or the parent will be called back with the aid of the DOE Translation and Interpretation Unit.

Part D: Staff Awareness

Staff Awareness

Plan to ensure staff awareness of language access requirements and available resources.

1. Describe how your school will ensure that all staff members complete the required asynchronous NYCPS Language Access Training for School-based Staff on the WeLearnNYC learning platform, and are familiar with the Best Practices for When to Provide Translation of Critical Written Communications to Parents and Best Practices for When to Provide Interpretation for Critical Oral Communications with Parents. Additionally, explain how your Galaxy-designated LAC will disseminate future language access resources and updates to all staff members.

To comply with NYCPS Language Access policies and promote equitable communication with families, we will implement a clear, accountable plan that includes staff training, consistent communication, and structured follow-ups. We will keep track of the completion of NYCPS Language Access Training (via We Learn NYC). A deadline will be set for the end of September 2026 for all relevant staff members to complete the NYCPS Language Access Training for School-based Staff through the We Learn NYC platform. Weekly completion reports will be pulled from WeLearn NYC and supervisors will follow up with staff who have not yet completed the training. All staff members will be trained and become familiar with Best Practices for Translation and Interpretation. During scheduled PD sessions staff will be provided with the Best Practices documents for both translation and interpretation. Staff members will be guided through real-life scenarios where interpretation/translation is required. They will be informed of how to request these services. Hard copies of the best practice guides will available both digitally in Google Drive and a hard copy will be in the staff handbook. Role of the Galaxy-Designated Language Access Coordinator (LAC) is to disseminate Language Access Resources. Our LAC will attend all district or central office LAC meetings/training and turnkey updated guidance, policies, and tools during monthly staff meetings or weekly emails. The LAC will serve as the point person for any questions or clarification around language access. Teachers and staff will be reminded periodically (e.g., during report card season or parent-teacher conferences) about their obligation to ensure language access. The LAC will report training completion rates and share staff language access usage trends with the leadership team to inform future PD needs. This plan ensures that all staff are well-prepared and supported in meeting the language needs of our multilingual families.

Part E: Parental Notification

Parental Notification

Provision of notice to parents on the available language assistance services.

1. Describe how your school will inform parents about available language assistance services in their preferred language. Include any of the following:

- Translated signage
- Brochures, flyers, or letters shared with parents

- Messaging applications

- Language Access for NYC Public Schools Families brochure

Parent Engagement is an intricate part of students' success at P.S. 225. Parents of ELLs are encouraged to participate in parent engagement activities to assist their children's academic and emotional development. One of the most supportive ways for parents to partner in their child's acquisition of the English language is to learn English themselves. When parents are able to communicate in English at home, more opportunities will arise for children to practice speaking and listening. Parents and children practicing their new skills together can be a great motivator for both the child, as well as, the adult. Workshops for parental engagement are conducted by administrators, the parent coordinator, and ELL teachers. Workshops will be held at various times in order to accommodate our parents' diverse time schedule. These workshops will be facilitated by ELL teachers, non-ELL teachers and our Parent Coordinator and will cover many different topics. A meeting will be scheduled in September to acquaint newly arrived parents and their children to our school. At this time parents will be invited to meet their child/children's teachers and listen to an overview of the programs offered to their children. In order to support parents in receiving this information in their preferred language, support staff will be introduced to parents to provide a clear picture of their roles and to ensure parents that their child's education is a priority here at P.S. 225 and they will be provided with the necessary notices and supports in their home/preferred language. We use several different modes of communication to notify parents of upcoming meetings; (phone conferences, email, monthly newsletters and calendars which are all available in DOE provided translations). Staff members serve as translators and we utilize translated documents posted on the Department of Education Website. When each family is introduced to the building, parents are supported in the building during enrollment with a translator (either in person or with the DOE translation services) to help them understand the paperwork they are being asked to complete. During enrollment parents are also asked to notify the school of their preferred/home language to ensure they are listed to receive translated notices to their home.

Part F: Monitoring

Monitoring

Methods for soliciting and implementing feedback on language assistance services.

1. In addition to the feedback received from parents via OLA's Translation & Interpretation Feedback Survey, describe the methods your school will use to gather feedback from parents regarding the language assistance services they receive in their preferred language.

We at P.S. 225 have a vested interest in our parent feedback. In order to effectively collect parents thoughts and opinions, we send a survey to parents who prefer a language other than English, in their preferred language, to gather feedback on the translation and interpretation services we have provided throughout the year. Ongoing communication with ELL families during Parent Engagement experiences will be used to gather input from parents and provide an opportunity for parents to voice suggestions. To ensure feedback is collected from parents who may not have access to online resources, We offer over the phone interviews conducted by our bilingual staff or through Language Interpretation Services. These interviews will be scheduled at times convenient for parents and will provide an opportunity to gather feedback directly from those who prefer speaking over the phone or may not be comfortable filling out written forms.

2. How has your school worked to improve its language assistance services? Share any feedback results and outline your plans for further improvements in the upcoming school year.

ENL providers are in constant communication and collaboration with all staff members, regarding the preferred language of communication of our limited-English-Proficient parents/guardians. The ENL teachers also work together with the parent coordinator to be most up to date on any new families and their language needs, for both oral communication and written translation of important notices and documents. Parents can easily access their specific language needs on the Remind App, for any and all important school notifications. Teachers, both classroom and ENL teachers, keep an on-going list of the language needs of any new admits, as well, so that documents can be easily translated and accessible for Limited-English Proficient families. We utilize our Xerox Workflow App. to translate documents into a desired language in a timely manner. Also, all teachers are aware of the bilingual staff members, for assistance in oral translation for phone conversations, online meetings, and any in-person meetings at the school. For the next school year we plan to keep an on-going google document so that the next teacher, or any other school staff/provider, can easily access this information, and add to it, as necessary.

Title III Outline

REQUIREMENTS

Title III supplemental services for English Language Learners (ELLs) must include the following three components:

- Direct instruction activities must be used to support language development, English and home language instruction, high academic achievement in math, and/or high academic achievement in other core academic areas. The Title III supplemental instructional services must be based on student need. These supplemental services should complement core bilingual and ENL services required under CR Part 154. Teachers providing the services must be bilingual education and/or English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) certified teachers.
- High quality professional development that is "of sufficient intensity and duration to have a positive and lasting impact on the teachers' performance in classrooms." Professional development activities should be well-planned, ongoing events rather than one-day or short-term workshops and conferences.

Our Title III program will provide our English Language Learners with supplemental instruction in English, through our After School Academy. The rationale for the program is linked to content areas of academic English for ELLs needing further instruction in speaking, listening, reading and writing skills. This program provides direct instruction to improve speaking, listening, reading and writing skills. Student's eligibility will be based on both NYSESLAT and New York State English Language Arts standardized test scores. The subgroups and grade levels of students to be served are grades 3-8 with approximately 20 entering students, 10 emerging students, and 25 transitioning and 10 expanding students. The language of instruction will be in English, however, home language support will be provided to students with the use of bilingual teachers and Pocketalk. Our 6 fully licensed ENL teachers provide hands on interactive learning experiences through team teaching. To promote second language development, our teachers give students opportunities to apply their prior knowledge and skills to real life situations which will make content meaningful and enhance their understanding of the material. Our ENL Afterschool Academy consists of a home economic component which will allow for a hands on approach for students to learn and grow through the arts while working collaboratively on art projects, cooking and crafts. The schedule and duration of the program will be held approximately October 15, 2025 to June 16, 2026. It includes 30 sessions at 2.5 hours each week. Research indicates that student engagement is both directly and indirectly associated with factors such as intelligence, interest, motivation, and enjoyment in learning outcomes across various academic disciplines (Yin, 2018). Furthermore, a lack of engagement in academic activities contributes to issues such as student dissatisfaction, boredom, negative experiences, and increased dropout rates (Derakhshan et al., 2021). Experiential Learning is an effective pedagogical approach that promotes active learning by offering real-world experiences. This method enables learners to engage with and critically assess course content, fostering deeper involvement with the subject matter being taught (Boggu and Sundarsingh, 2019).

Part C: Professional Development

Professional Development Summary

Provide a summary of your school's plan for professional development under your Title III Immigrant program. Please make sure to describe:

- Professional development to be provided,
- Activities that teachers will engage with by topic, and
- Whether the professional development provided will be funded by Title III Immigrant funds. Please note: If PD will be funded by Title III Immigrant funds, vendor cost is calculated as part of OTPS and must not exceed 20% of the total allocation; teacher per-session is calculated as part of PD and must not exceed 10% of the total allocation.

Please make sure to describe:

- Professional development to be provided
- Activities that teachers will engage with by topic
- Whether the professional development provided will be at cost to Title III Immigrant funds

Professional development is an ongoing focus at P.S. 225. Our mission is to work collaboratively to consult, coach and communicate practices from lesson studies to mentoring in the development of high quality teaching and to maintain rigor within the classroom.
Professional learning workshops, facilitated by Amanda Mercado, focus on embedding scaffolds and supports into tier I instruction to meet the needs of all ELLs and MLLs in the classroom. This will be provided through the cost of Title III immigrant funds. All teachers will attend this professional learning opportunity.
Weekly school based professional development amongst ENL, SWD and GE teachers will focus on Danielson Component 3c. Specifically, grade level teams looking at student work, planning and reviewing student data. Engaging in a collaborative process of looking at students allows our ENL teachers to analyze the learning experiences they have designed for their students and determine their effectiveness. When teachers collaboratively analyze student work they can build understanding and agreement about the consistent use and interpretation of a rubric with the goal of improving student learning. ENL teachers can have increased clarity about intended outcomes. By creating opportunities to analyze students' work, there is an increase of professional knowledge about curriculum, students, methods, strategies, assessments, and contextual factors.
All professional developments will be geared towards supporting English language development skills.

Rationale for Professional Development

Describe the rationale for the professional development to be provided. For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., patterns and trends identified) that support the need for the professional development, and

For each activity include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis that support the need for the professional development
- Data sources used to justify the professional development

The schoolwide instructional focus is aligned to Danielson Component 3C and meeting the needs of all learners within the classroom. Based on universal and secondary screener data (iReady, Acadience and secondary screeners), our students requ ire small group differentiated instruction to meet the needs of all learners. During the 2025-2026school year, PS 225 is on year 3 of a new ELA Curriculum, Into Reading and Into Literature, professional learning is aligned to developing curriculum through backward design and embedding scaffolding strategies into curriculum maps. During the 2025-2026 school year all K-8 teachers have been trained in both Sound Sensible and SPIRE, a research-proven reading intervention program for tier III students. Its teacher-led 10-Step Lesson plan methodically walks them through phonemic awareness and phonics, then spelling, vocabulary, comprehension, and fluency — instilling and reinforcing every stage of reading development.

Teachers to Receive Professional Development

Include information on the teachers to receive professional development. Please specify how all teachers working in the Title III Immigrant program will receive ongoing professional development related to the Title III Immigrant program.

All PS 225 teachers will attend schoolwide professional learning on Monday afternoons. All teachers will be provided with professional learning on how to provide small group instruction to their Tier 2 & Tier 3 students, that includes MLLs and ELLs. All teachers are provided with professional learning on how to implement scaffolding up strategies for ELLs. Our Robin coach will guide us through scaffolding strategies that break down complex skills into manageable steps. By modeling, practicing, and gradually releasing responsibility, she will help us build confidence and independence in applying self-awareness and self-regulation techniques. With her support, we'll learn how to strengthen our mental health, stay focused on academic goals, and develop the resilience to tackle challenges both inside and outside the classroom.

Name(s) and Title(s) of Provider(s)

For each Title III Immigrant professional development activity, include name(s) and title(s)of provider(s).

Catherine Cunningham, Robin

While attaining her master's degree, she spent time at several NYC DOE schools. During that time, she saw the myriad of challenges students face, the lack of mental wellness supports, and the constraints on schools to provide the necessary supports. She is inspired by Robin's mission to bring well-being supports to the entire school community!

In her free time, and in true Pacific Northwestern fashion, Catherine likes to be outside in nature. On the weekends she can be found out on a run, playing soccer with her friends, or at a coffee shop with a good book.

Robin is the skill-building solution that strengthens the mental well-being of students, educators, and families, to create a positive school climate. By providing coaching and curriculum, Robin fosters an enriched sense of connection and belonging – ultimately enhancing the school culture. This leads to better academic outcomes and improved mental health.

Part D: Family Engagement Activities

Family Engagement Summary

Provide a summary of your school's family engagement activities under your Title III Immigrant program. Describe the activities that families of immigrant students (including ELLs) will engage with by topic. Please make sure to include whether the activities will be funded by Title III Immigrant funds.

Parent Engagement is an intricate part of students' success at P.S. 225. Parents of ENLs are encouraged to participate in our parent engagement activities to assist their children's academic and emotional development. Workshops for parental engagement are conducted by administrators, the parent coordinator, and ENL teachers. Workshops will be held at various times in order to accommodate our parents' diverse time schedule. These workshops will be facilitated by ENL teachers, Parent Coordinator and as needed translators. We will cover many different topics such as preparing your child for state exams and how to access iReady.
An in person meeting will be scheduled in September to acquaint newly arrived parents and their children to our school. At this time parents will be invited to meet their child/children's teachers and listen to an overview of the programs offered to their children. In addition, support staff will be introduced to parents to provide a clear picture of their roles and to ensure parents that their child's education is a priority here at PS 225.
We use several different modes of communication to notify parents of upcoming meetings; (phone conferences, email, monthly newsletters and calendars). Staff members serve as translators and we utilize translated documents posted on the Department of Education Website. We also use the Messenger phone notification system to communicate important messages to parents via telephone.
Parent involvement is a priority at P.S. 225. Parents are encouraged to become actively involved in our school by having the opportunity to join the PTA (Parent Teacher Association). All activities will be at cost to Title III Immigrant funds.

Rationale for Family Engagement Activities

Describe the rationale for the family engagement activities to be provided:

For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., reasons for topics, time activities will be offered), and
- Data sources (e.g., parent survey responses, in-house parent surveys, PTA/PA request) used to justify the need for activities.

Based on the 2024-25 Parent survey 91% of families feel they are involved in school activities and their child's academic career. As a school we want to increase that by providing opportunities for parents to experience what our students experience daily.

Through parent workshops, we will provide parents with opportunities to learn what their child is learning and ways they can support the whole child at home.
Based on Attendance data from insight, we have noticed an increase in chronically absent students with a language proficiency level of "Transitioning". We will provide an opportunity for those students to attend the ENL Enrichment afterschool program and provide workshops to parents on the importance of attendance.

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III Immigrant family engagement activity, include:

- Start and end dates/months,
- Total number of sessions,
