Section 1: Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Comprehensive Education Planning (CEP) is a structured, data-driven process that guides schools in assessing their needs, identifying areas for growth, setting strategic goals and implementing targeted actions to improve student outcomes. Collaboratively developed by the School Leadership Team (SLT) in accordance with the requirements of Chancellor's Regulation A-655, the CEP meets New York State Education Department (NYSED) requirements under the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) and aligns with NYC Public Schools' (NYCPS) system-wide priorities. By engaging all stakeholders—school leaders, teachers, families, students and community members—schools can create a data-informed, equity-focused roadmap for student success and continuous improvement.

Schools should focus their CEP on the five system-wide priorities below, connecting their planning to the data discussions and conversations with stakeholders held as part of the school's needs assessment:

- Priority 1: All students learn to read well
- Priority 2: All students are physically and emotionally safe
- Priority 3: All students have a high-quality academic experience
- Priority 4: All students graduate college and career ready and have a strong plan and pathway to economic security
- Priority 5: All districts and schools are more inclusive and responsive for parents and families, including having more families choose NYC Public Schools

The Education Planning Process

The CEP follows an equity-driven, continuous improvement cycle, rooted in the system-wide priorities. This begins with a comprehensive needs assessment of the school's most current data to identify priority needs and root causes. Next, the SLT establishes specific, measurable, attainable, relevant, and timely—SMART goal(s) aligned to each priority and determines targets to measure progress toward meeting the annual goals.

The SLT and instructional leaders define key evidence-based key strategies, professional learning activities and parent, family and community empowerment efforts. They monitor the implementation of those strategies and activities and track progress through measurable targets. Then, the SLT aligns the school-based budget with human and instructional resources to support action plans.

As schools set goals, develop key strategies, and plan action steps, they provide opportunities for all children to meet NYSED's proficient and advanced levels of student academic achievement. These include evidence based instructional strategies that address the educational needs of historically underserved populations and tackle structural inequities. Schools indicate how the plan addresses the needs of Multilingual/English Language Learners (ML/ELL) through development of the school's Language Allocation Policy (LAP) & Title III Application (if applicable) and the Language Translation and Interpretation (LTI) Plan, that are required as part of the CEP. Schools also address the needs of Students with Disabilities (SWD) through the High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities section of the plan. SLTs also develop a plan to improve attendance and reduce chronic absenteeism.

Guidance on Conducting a Comprehensive Needs Assessment

Directions: Conduct a comprehensive needs assessment for each Priority. The information below provides guidance for reviewing and analyzing student and school performance trends to uncover root causes for low student achievement.

1. Review Multiple Data Sources: Use the most current and available information including, but not limited to, the following sources of formative and summative data, as applicable:

- Qualitative and quantitative data, including enrollment and class size trends
- 2024-25 ESSA Accountability Data
- Instructional Leadership Framework (ILF), Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) Inventories, and NYC School Survey results
- Quality Review Reports, NYSED and NYCPS CSI or A/TSI Support Visits, Receivership Quarterly Reports, and Diagnostic Tool for School and District Effectiveness Framework (DTSDE)
- NYC School Quality Guide, Insight, New Visions, NWEA MAP and/or other formative assessment data, IEP Review Survey Data, Progress on IEP Goals Data, Program (SESIS-STARS Linkage) Reports, Mandated (Related) Services Reports, and NYCPS Tools for Understanding Your Data for student subgroup information

2. Analyze Data Trend(s) to Identify Areas of Strength and Need: Identify data trends by grade, cohort, and content area(s) to surface gaps and inequities. Compare data sets to identify instructional and school practices that are impacting student performance. Guiding questions to consider:

- What does the data reveal about improving and declining student performance trends within grades, cohorts, and student subgroups?
- What inequities are evident between highest and lowest performing student subgroups? Which subgroup(s) scored at Level 1 based on NYSED ESSA accountability indicators?
- What does the data suggest regarding the effectiveness (or ineffectiveness) of current school programs, practices, and/or strategies/initiatives? What areas may need to be strengthened?
- Are there any differences in student performance between program delivery models for ML/ELL and SWD? (e.g., for special education: special class, ICT, SETSS, related services only; for ML/ELL: Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) vs. Dual Language, etc.)
- How does delivery of instruction factor into data trends? What are the implications for teacher quality and professional learning?
- What inequities in special education referral and school disciplinary practices (e.g. suspensions, removals) are evident between student subgroups with IEPs?

3. Identify Root Cause(s): After analyzing the data, engage in a process for uncovering root causes or contributing factors for low student and school performance. Develop theories or hypotheses to explain why these needs exist and why your school is getting its current outcomes. Root causes could be related to gaps and inequities in areas such as curriculum & instruction, school systems & structures, student support services, school climate & safety, and family & community engagement. Focus on the causes, rather than the symptoms. Use the 5 Whys Method or other methods for identifying root causes. Consider the questions below:

- What theories or hypotheses explain the current student and school outcomes?
- Are there root causes specific to certain subgroups, grades, cohorts, or content area(s)?

Additional resources and supports are available below.

- Use this CEP Needs Assessment Worksheet to help your SLT and stakeholders identify appropriate data sources, data trends, root causes and priority needs.
- For guidance and best practices on engaging stakeholders in a comprehensive needs assessment and root cause analysis, see this deck.
- A current list of all CEP/Title I resources can be found on the iPlan Portal Public Resources Page.

Section 4: School Summary

Accountability Status

Accountability Status: LSI

School Summary

Directions: Complete this CEP Summary to serve as the "at-a-glance" narrative that provides contextual information about your school's unique characteristics. This summary and the entire Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) should be shared with your school community. Please note that this summary and the CEP will be made available to the public through the iPlan Portal, an online space where school stakeholders can go to collaborate in the development of the school's education plans.

Provide your school's mission statement:

PS 22 is a diverse, culturally responsive collaborative school community that provides an inclusive, rigorous instruction to every child in a safe nurturing and affirming environment. Each member of our community honors student's uniqueness where race, ethnicity, language and gender are assets in their learning process. Through standards-driven instruction, PS 22 fosters a learning culture where every child has the opportunity to grow academically, socially and emotionally.

Develop a narrative summary that includes contextual information about your school's community and its unique/important characteristics and partnerships:

Include demographic information about your school's student population.

PS 22 is a diverse, multicultural, collaborative school community serving 826 elementary school children in the Graniteville section of Staten Island. Each member of our community is dedicated to achieving high academic standards for our students. Our school demographics are as follows:

-Hispanic & Latin X..... 64%
-Black..... 18%
-Asian..... 08%
-White.....06%
-Native American.....01%
-Pacific Islander.....>01%

SUB-GROUPS:
-ELL Students.....24%
-IEP Students.....33%
-Female.....48%
-Male.....52%

Through standards-driven instruction, a nurturing environment, a focus on the arts, and the development of civic, social, and technological skills, we are committed to creating a community of lifelong learners. Our instructional focus for the 2025-2026 school year will continue to center around assessment capable learners through the formative assessment process. Coherent instruction will be evident through collaborative teacher teams and common planning, Leadership, Collaborative Teachers, Strong Family/Community Ties, and Trust. Administration and teacher leaders and coaches will support Impact Team work to identify priority standards based on the June 2025 instructional reports and define strategic instructional moves to use in the classroom. The professional goals of the school will be supported the UFT Teacher Center and align to standard based instruction in all subjects.

PS 22 believes that each of our students has special gifts and talents. To foster the unique and different levels of all our students, PS 22 will engage in professional learning around the science of reading and explicit instruction in both science and math. All children participate in a rigorous learning environment with high expectations. Based on the premise that every child can learn, we employ a multi-sensory approach to learning.
Utilizing strengths, students are provided with opportunities to explore their interests and assist them in acquiring skills to be College and Career ready. Programs to support this initiative include 5th grade chorus, Computer Science Technology Team, Peer Mediators, and Virtual Y After School Program. For the last several years our school has been recognized as a gold star elementary school by the Anti-Defamation League for our implementation of their "No Place for Hate" program. We have also been recognized by the NYC DOE for our best practices around our restorative practices and P.B.I.S. program.
Our Dual Language and Bilingual Programs are designed to continue developing ELLs native language, as well as English Language skills. The English Proficient speaking students learn to become bilingual through linguistic role models, interaction, and language development in both languages.
With all of these supports in place. our goal is to build students self-efficacy and create a positive learning environment where all students have a voice and a stake in their own learning.

Briefly summarize the key initiatives your school will implement this school year.

PS 22 will continue to use explicit instruction to deliver high quality, accessible content to our diverse population. Using ELL strategies such as the three T's and Shades of Meaning , our Multi Lingual Learners will have access to the curriculum along with the instructional supports of our ELL Teachers using the push-in, Stand Alone and Roller Coaster Models. Our Gifted and Talented classes will implement Project Base Learning using a multi-disciplinary Curriculum.
We will continue to incorporate our MTSS DREAM walk to Learn model to address learning gaps K-5. Most students will receive Computer Science Education though our two Computer Sciences Specialists. Code Cafe periods will service students not scheduled for CS Classes so all students receive at least one Unit of Computer Science. To ensure teacher clarity, all teachers will participate in Professional Learning in ELA and Math throughout the year to modify our Units of Study with a CSRE lens. All students will participate in Restorative Practices with two SEL Conflict Resolution teachers as well as our SEL team. All stake holders will continue to collaborate during Impact Teams to create a positive ,rigorous learning environment where all learners are exposed to accessible curriculum experiences

What are the primary digital and/or print curricula/programs used for ELA and Math:

Priority 1 Data Trends, Root Causes and Priority Needs

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

1. Data Trend(s) (Cite Data Source & Year)	2. Root Cause(s)	3. Priority Needs
2025 EOY Growth NWEA 5th Grade 34% Below Grade level	Difficulty reading independently which causes students to struggle connecting ideas which impacts their ability to understand the whole text, as well as apply information across various instructional domains. Priority 1

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing school data trends, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for literacy outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Systemwide Focus Areas for Literacy

- Implement the strategies outlined in NYC Reads, including foundational phonics curriculum for grades K-2
- Implement dyslexia screening, professional learning, and program pilots (as applicable)
- Support literacy development through the integration of culturally responsive-sustaining texts and content

Priority 1 SMART Goal(s)

Target Population	Baseline Data	SMART Goal
All Students	59%	By June, 2026, Literacy for all students in grades 3-5 will improve, as measured by a 3% decrease in the Lo and Lo Avg Category , from 59% to 56% on the MAP Growth NWEA Assessment.
All Students	48%	By June, 2026, literacy for all students in grades K-2 will improve , as measured by a 5% Decrease, from 48% to 43%, of Well Below Category Screener on the 2026 EOY Acadience Screener.

Priority 1 Progress Measures and Targets

Directions: It is expected that progress monitoring, based on interim outcome data, occurs at three progress monitoring periods during the school year. Identify what your school would expect to see at the end of each period to know if you are on track to reach the identified goal(s). The progress monitoring targets can be a percentage or a number and should reflect a sufficient improvement in outcomes to meet the goal. Note that all schools are required to enter results in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) on the iPlan Portal.

Priority 1 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Implement a DREAM MTSS Walk to Learn Model K-5

Root Cause Addressed:

Difficulty reading independently which causes students to struggle connecting ideas which impacts their ability to understand the whole text, as well as apply information across various instructional domains. Students are struggling with comprehension and lack foundational skills which impedes their ability to decode unknown words. Core instruction did not support the foundational needs of these students. Standards based formative assessments did not identify the skill gaps and need to be revised.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Professional Development Sessions will address Instructional Initiatives which include the Science of Reading, Explicit Instruction, and Project Based Learning.
Use Acadience and HMH Assessments for progress monitoring
Use the SPIRE Screener to identify students that exhibit foundational gaps to create Tier 2 and 3 intervention groups.

Create systems to ensure the consistency of Tier 2 intervention with fidelity across grade levels and classrooms by implementing a walk to learn (DREAM Period) where students receive targeted instruction in foundational literacy
Implement SPIRE in Grades 3 - 5 to address gaps in decoding, fluency, and comprehension
ENL Teacher Leader will work with teachers to utilize fluency intervention programs and incorporate ENL strategies and multi-tiered vocabulary instruction.

Key Strategy 2 (Optional):

Progress Monitor Using Acadience Measures (Maze, ORF, NWF) throughout the year. Implement inquiry cycles to perform task analysis to ensure appropriate standards and skill are being taught.

Root Cause Addressed:

Underdeveloped phonemic awareness and phonics skills (segmenting, blending, letter sound correspondence, letter recognition) impede students ability to transfer skills taught in isolation due to lack of explicit, multi-tiered targeted instruction and an opportunity to practice and apply foundational skills.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Provide an assessment calendar to provide pacing clarity to ensure completion grade level standards. Continue targeted small group instruction to incorporate multi-tiered systems of support.
Consultants and teacher leaders will work with teachers to align units of study to the standards progression in order to design instruction to incorporate the multi-tiered systems of support
Create systems to ensure the consistency of Tier 2 intervention with fidelity across grade levels and classrooms by implementing a walk to learn (DREAM Period) where students receive targeted instruction in foundational literacy
Use the SPIRE Screener to identify students that exhibit foundational gaps to create Tier 2 and 3 intervention groups.
Effectively structure the allotted time for literacy blocks to prioritize and focus on foundational skill instruction to close gaps by creating a block schedule and designated intervention block.

Implementation Monitoring: Indicate your primary structures to progress monitor implementation of key strategies and action steps. Include specific data/evidence you will collect and use to determine progress and impact on instruction, student learning, and achievement.

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

Students will participate in three benchmark assessment using NWEA Map Growth and Acadience Screeners. We will also use Acadience progress monitoring assessments such as Maze, Oral Reading Fluency, and Nonsense Word Fluency where appropriate to track the students progress and adjust our MTSS plan.
We will also use SPIRE assessments where appropriate to identify the student's foundational gaps .

Priority 1 Family and Community Engagement

Family and Community Engagement

Directions: Indicate the strategies/activities that will be implemented to support and engage families (including foster and birth parents) and community collaboration in the implementation of this action plan.

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

1. Data Trend(s) (Cite Data Source & Year)	2. Root Cause(s)	3. Priority Needs
The majority of our OORS incidents* are A24 MINOR ALTERCATIONS (42% as of 06/10/2025)	Students tend to be more reactive than proactive in stressful situations	Resolving Conflicts Appropriately
A majority of our OORS A24 incidents* occur within the classroom (06/10/2025).	Teachers may be unaware of the signs that student stress levels/ student conflict may be brewing	Teacher Training

Priority 2

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing school data trends, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for physical and emotional safety outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Systemwide Focus Areas for Physical and Emotional Safety

- Develop safety infrastructure and systems, including staff training, collaboration with external partners, and implementation of safety and security best practices
- Expand social emotional and mental health supports via restorative justice, Project Pivot, screeners, and other district or school-based initiatives (as applicable)
- Expand implementation of physical and mental wellness supports, including Physical and Health Education that meets NYSED requirements and related initiatives
- Improve supports and outcomes for socially vulnerable student populations (Students in Temporary Housing, Students in Foster Care)

Priority 2 Progress Measures and Targets

Directions: It is expected that progress monitoring, based on interim outcome data, occurs at three progress monitoring periods during the school year. Identify what your school would expect to see at the end of each period to know if you are on track to reach the identified goal(s). The progress monitoring targets can be a percentage or a number and should reflect a sufficient improvement in outcomes to meet the goal. Priority 2 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Increase the number of teachers & staff trained in Tier 1 Restorative Practices Training to conduct classroom circles to build community, to reduce the number of A24 incidents.

Root Cause Addressed:

Students tend to be more reactive than proactive in stressful situations

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Increase the number of staff trained in Tier 1 Restorative Practices Training.
Teacher's trained create time in their weekly schedules to teach 4R SEL curriculum.

Key Strategy 2 (Optional):

Teaching SEL via the utilization of the 4R curriculum (and Harmony) to teach coping and problem solving skills, especially when a conflict arises

Root Cause Addressed:

Teachers may be unaware of the signs that student stress levels/ student conflict may be arising. When teachers can identify triggers, they are able to be proactive rather than reactive after an A24 occurs.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Teacher's trained in Tier 1 will meet weekly with their class to conduct Classroom Circles.
Administration and our RJAT Team monitor data points bi-weekly & monthly to ensure goal is on target for being met.

Implementation Monitoring: Indicate your primary structures to progress monitor implementation of key strategies and action steps. Include specific data/evidence you will collect and use to determine progress and impact on instruction, student learning, and achievement.

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

Priority 5

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing the school data, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for parent, family, community and system responsiveness outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Focus Areas for System Responsiveness to Parents, Families and Communities

- Engage more deeply with families to understand their needs and plan new, high-quality programs
- Build community trust and bolster engagement, including via improved language access and increased family engagement and participation
- Implement the newly updated NYCPS School Wellness Policy, which provides a framework for all members of the school community, including families and students, to come together and assess and coordinate wellness efforts for their community
- Implement and lead strategies that support community involvement and increase Minority and Women Owned Business Enterprises (MWBE) utilization

Section 6: Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS)

Academic Support

NYCPS Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) align with NYSED guidelines for providing Academic Intervention Services (AIS) to students who have not yet met state standards or are considered to be at-risk of not meeting state standards. The Multi-tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) framework, organizes supports into three tiers:

Tier 1 provides schoolwide, high-quality programming for all students, including SWDs;

Tier 2 offers data informed small-group interventions for at-promise students; and

Tier 3 delivers intensive, individualized support for students with persistent needs.

This facilitates the strategic planning and necessary resource alignment to ensure their school community appropriately and adequately serves all students well, in partnership with students and families.

MTSS identifies the academic support services to be provided and ensures that students receive Response to Intervention (RtI) and Positive Behavioral Interventions and Support (PBIS) strategies as needed. See NYSED's memo to view the criteria for determining AIS services. The Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) offers a wide range of evidence-based Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions and supports for student social-emotional, behavioral, physical and mental wellness, with particular attention to the unique needs of students in Temporary Housing and/or Foster Care, who may face additional challenges related to school stability, trauma and access to educational resources. A culturally responsive-sustaining approach to intervention embeds culturally relevant texts and historical narratives into literacy and social studies interventions, ensuring students receive the support that reflects their identities and lived experiences, increasing engagement and achievement.

Use the charts below and a Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) to match academic, social/emotional, behavioral and instructional resources with student needs to provide targeted support for all learners, especially at-risk students who experience difficulty meeting state standards, including those living in Temporary Housing and/or residing in Foster Care placements. Indicate specialized materials, technology-based tools and/or extra instruction, including Expanded Learning Time that supplement school-wide systems & supports and/or classroom level supports. Ensure that interventions address the unique social-emotional, behavioral and academic challenges faced by culturally and linguistically diverse students, as well as those impacted by housing instability and child welfare system involvement.

Directions: Complete the chart and identify Tier 2 or 3 MTSS Academic supports. Any Tier 2/3 interventions should be in addition to the foundational work being done at Tier 1.

Any Tier 2/3 interventions should be in addition to the foundational work being done at Tier 1.

Family and Community Engagement Around MTSS

Describe how the school's essential components of MTSS are shared with families.

Families receive report cards and progress reports through out the year. Staff participate in parent engagement sessions on a weekly basis in which meetings. phone calls and parent outreach are preformed. Parents are regularly notified of a students progress through various platforms including class Dojo email, Google Classroom along with phone conversation sand in person conferences. Twice a year there is a Parent/Teacher conference. During these conversations, we would also communicating about the essential components of our school's Multi-Tiered Systems of Support related to comprehensive assessments, and tiered instruction.

Describe how families receive updates on the progress of their child(ren) who receive Tier 2 targeted, or Tier 3 intensive interventions.

The Tier 2 and 3 providers complete progress reports/articulation sheets and share the, with families on an on-going basis. As appropriate, families are notified about services and progress.Progress reports for students receiving Tier 2/tier 3 ELA intervention will include students' growth within their reading skill development using a general outcome measure (i.e., Acadience Progress Monitoring). Families will also be notified of the frequency they'llreceive updates to their child's tiered intensity of instruction.

Describe how families are involved during decision making regarding the progress of students receiving Tier 3 intensive intervention.

Family outreach is a common practice when a student is identified as needing academic intervention. A conference is scheduled and on going progress reports are utilized. In these conversations, families will be included in decisions to increase/decrease intervention intensity based on their progress monitoring data in conversation with the teacher(s).

Students in Temporary Housing (STH) Support

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-STH Section and in accordance with the federal McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act and Chancellor's Regulation A-780, schools must identify, serve, and report on students living in temporary housing (STH). All Title I and non-Title I schools receive a Title I allocation for STH students. The Students in Temporary Housing (STH) website provides guidance on STH pupils and how these funds can be used to meet their needs, as well as restrictions. For more information on acceptable uses of the mandated Title I, Part A set-aside to support your STH population, please refer to the Title I STH Funds Toolkit.

Identify the number of Students in Temporary Housing who are currently attending your school and provide a breakdown of their temporary housing status. Since the number of STH children can change regularly, schools must carefully track this number to determine whether there has been an increase in need.

Number of students in temporary housing who are:

- Doubled up (with friends or relatives because they cannot find or afford housing):
- Living in a shelter or transitional shelter:
- Living in a hotel/motel:
- Other

*Note: In keeping with established practices regarding personally identifiable information, use the letter "s" to identify a number less than five (5).

After a careful analysis of historical demographic, attendance and achievement data for your STH population, what trends do you notice, and how can these trends inform the services and support provided for this population?

Students in temporary housing is at 88% attendance rate. 48% of these students have a 98% attendance. The additional 52% is at risk of being chronically absent. This data shows that there is a need to support families with the improvement of student daily attendance.

Describe the services you are planning to provide to the STH population. How were those services selected to best meet students' needs? How will you (or did you) utilize the STH Title I Survey to select services aligned to need?

For our STH population, we provide them with:
- availability of essential school supplies (i.e. backpack, notebooks, technology)
- social-emotional support in the form of check-in's, and as needed At-Risk counseling services provided by our school counselors

- on-going family outreach, as well as being the bridge between the family and a CBO (as needed)
- access to our after school program

Prioritizing Students in Foster Care

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-Child Child Abuse and Neglect Intervention and Prevention School Plan and in accordance with the federal Education Law 3244 – Education of Children in Foster Care (Effective 2018) establishes the rights of students placed, or moved, in foster care to:

- Continue attending school of origin if determined to be in their best interest, or, if not, attend school near foster care placement,
- Immediate enrollment, and
- Transportation, if necessary to attend school of origin

Please respond to the questions below.

How many students in foster care are currently enrolled at your school? Provide a detailed breakdown of the social-emotional and academic supports available to them.

What targeted supports are in place for students in foster care, including those newly transitioning into the foster care system? How does your school ensure these students receive the necessary interventions to promote stability and success?

Students are provided with on going support from both their teachers and our school counselors. If needed, students are provided with at-risk counseling to support social emotional well being. School staff is in contact with the students famiiy to ensure their needs are being met, offer supports as needed, and act as the bridge between the family and additional community based organizations that assists the family during times transition.

After analyzing historical demographic, attendance, and achievement data for students in foster care, what trends have emerged? How can these insights be used to improve the services and support provided to this population?

Based on student' s transitioning from home to home, attendance at times can be of a concern. to support families with this, we work with to assist them with transportation. While waiting for transportation to be confirmed, families are provided with Metro Cards to assist with students coming to school. Students are also provided with school supplies (as needed) to relieve some of the burden off of the foster family. At-Risk counseling is also provided, as needed, to supports students with this transition to ensure academic success is not greatly impacted due to these changes which can effect their social-emotional well being.

What specific strategies does your school implement to ensure students in foster care, particularly those in transitional grades, receive targeted Social-Emotional Learning (SEL) support? How do these strategies help address academic and behavioral challenges?

Our school is a PBIS school in which we promote and reward students who are demonstrating qualities of being prepared, respectful, and responsible. About half of our classroom teachers are trained in Tier 1 Restorative Practices. Students in foster care in these classes engage in community circles once a week, and on an as-needed based to support their social-emotional well being- both for individual students and the classroom community as a whole. Teachers not trained yet in Restorative Practices utilize Sanford Harmony to support their students' well-being. Our school aligns both of these programs to the CASEL Framework which helps helps cultivate skills and environments that advance students' learning and development. Both programs apply the knowledge, skills, and attitudes to develop healthy identities, manage emotions and achieve personal and collective goals, feel and show empathy for others, establish and maintain supportive relationships, and make responsible and caring decisions.

Section 7: Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Directions: The Parent and Family Engagement Policy should describe how your school will plan and implement effective parent and family engagement activities and/or strategies to improve student academic achievement and school performance. The School-Parent Compact (SPC) is a component of the Parent and Family Engagement Policy (PFEP) that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share this responsibility.

The activities and/or strategies included in your school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy should align with current Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) goals for improving student achievement and should be developed or updated with input and feedback from parent leaders and the Parent Coordinator. In addition, if the school community will be engaged in central parent engagement initiatives, such as Parent Academy, which will provide training for school communities to help strengthen family-school partnerships, please be sure to include these activities in the school's policy.

In Title I schools, the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) represents the Title I parent community in supporting parent and family engagement. The Title I PAC Chairperson will serve in a consultative role with the SLT representing the school's Title I parents. Schools are encouraged to use the sample Parent and Family Engagement and SPC templates below (which meet federal Title I parent and family engagement requirements) as guidance for updating the school's current policy.

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental engagement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent and family engagement policy that will establish expectations and objectives for meaningful parent and family engagement in the school community. PS 22, in compliance with Section 1116 of Title I, Part A of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), is responsible for creating and implementing a parent and family engagement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between the school and the families. The school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), and Title I Parent Advisory Council as trained volunteers and welcomed members of the school community.

Support for Parents and Family Members of Title I Students

PS 22 will support parents and family members of Title I students by:
- providing materials and training to help parents work with their children to improve their achievement level, e.g., literacy, math and use of technology;
- providing parents with the information and training needed to effectively become involved in planning and decision making in support of the education of their children;
- fostering a caring and effective home-school partnership to ensure that parents can effectively support and monitor their child's progress;

Parental Involvement and School Quality

The school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy was designed based upon a careful assessment of the needs of all parents/guardians, including parents/guardians of Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners (ML/ELL), and students with disabilities. The school community, with the meaningful involvement of parents and family members, will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent and family engagement policy with Title I parents to improve the academic quality of the school. The findings of the evaluation through school surveys and feedback forms will be used to design strategies to more effectively meet the needs of parents and family members and enhance the school's Title I program. This information will be maintained by the school.

In developing the Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy, parents of Title I participating students, parent members of the school's Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), as well as parent members of the School Leadership Team, were consulted on the proposed Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and asked to survey their members for additional input. To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, the school will:
- actively involve and engage parents and family members in the planning, review and evaluation of the effectiveness of the school's Title I program as outlined in the School Comprehensive Education Plan, including the implementation of the school's Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact;
- engage all parents in discussion and decisions regarding the required Title I, 1% set-aside funds, which are allocated directly to the school to supplement parent and family engagement activities, including family literacy and parenting skills;
- ensure that the Title I funds allocated for parent and family engagement are utilized to implement activities and strategies as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and the School-Parent Compact;
- support school-level committees that include parents who are members of the School Leadership Team, the Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Advisory Council. This includes providing technical support and ongoing professional learning, especially in developing leadership skills;
- maintain a Parent Coordinator (or a dedicated staff person) to serve as a liaison between the school and families. The Parent Coordinator or a dedicated staff person will provide parent workshops based on the assessed needs of the parents of children who attend the school and will work to ensure that the school environment is welcoming and inviting to all parents. The Parent Coordinator will also maintain a log of events and activities planned for parents each month and file a report with the central office.;
- conduct parent workshops with topics that may include: parenting skills, understanding educational accountability grade-level curriculum and assessment expectations; literacy, accessing community and support services; and technology training to build parents' capacity to help their children at home;

- provide opportunities for parents to help them understand the accountability system, e.g., ESSA/State accountability system, student proficiency levels, Annual School Report Card, School Quality Report, Quality Review Report, Learning Environment Survey Report;
- host the required Annual Title I Parent Meeting each school year to advise parents of children participating in the Title I program about the school's Title I funded program(s), their right to be involved in the program and the parent and family engagement requirements under Title I, Part A, Section 1116 and other applicable sections under ESSA;
- schedule additional parent meetings, e.g., quarterly meetings, with flexible times, such as meetings in the morning or evening, to share information about the school's educational program and other initiatives of the Chancellor and allow parents to provide suggestions;
- translate all critical school documents and provide interpretation during meetings and events as needed.

Title I Program Information

Part 1: Title I Program Type

Title I Requirements and Strengthening Title I Parent Involvement: Under USDOE's Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), Title I schools are required to address professional learning and parent and family engagement in the Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP). To strengthen parent leadership in Title I schools, and increase the involvement of all parents of Title I eligible children in improving students' academic outcomes, all Title I schools are required to establish a Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) that will serve as the consultative and representative body for all Title I parents in the school to provide voice into the spending of Title I funds.

The SLT is responsible for facilitating consultation with the Title I Parent Advisory Council regarding the joint development of the CEP, Parent and Family Engagement Policy, School Parent Compact (SPC) and the use of the 1% parent involvement set-aside in Title I schools. The Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) Chairperson (or alternate) is expected to attend all regular meetings of the School Leadership Team (SLT). Title I parents, as represented by the Title I PAC Chairperson, must be consulted regarding the use of the Title I 1% set-aside for parent and family engagement. The Title I 1% set-aside funding is used to supplement parent and family engagement activities as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and must be aligned with student achievement goals as outlined in the CEP. For additional guidance on the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC), go to the Protocols and Timeline for Title I Parent and Family Engagement Activities document.

Directions:

- All schools must indicate their Title I status in Part 1.
- All elements of the All Title I Schools section must be completed in Part 2.
- All Targeted Assistance (TA) Schools must also complete the TA Schools Only section in Part 3.
- All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools must also complete the SWP Schools Only section in Part 4.
- If a required component is addressed elsewhere in this plan, you may refer to the section or Priority where the response can be found.
- For additional information, visit the Title I Program Description (US Department of Education).

High Quality and Ongoing Professional Learning: Please list below the Priority or section(s) that indicate strategies and activities for high quality professional learning for teachers, principals, staff, and paraprofessionals to enable all students to meet state standards.

Working with the District Literacy and Math Consultants, ALL staff will be engaged in professional learning throughout the year in order to continue to plan rigorous instruction through learning standards utilizing HMH & Envisions. Staff will also engage in Inquiry Team Work as well as Dispositional Learning with staff developers in order to build our Social/Emotional Programs and interconnect them with our instructional pieces, ensure that we are working towards supporting the whole child. .

Part 4: Schoolwide Program (SWP)

Transition Plans to Assist Preschool Children (Elementary Schools Only): Describe the transition plans used to assist preschool children from early childhood programs to the elementary school program (e.g. aligned curriculum, joint PD & parent involvement activities, sharing of records/information, early intervention services, etc.).

Our Pre-K teachers plan and collaborate with kindergarten teachers throughout the school year so as to appropriately plan and scaffold learning activities as needed. Additionally, there will be increased opportunities during teacher teams time for more collaboration and goal setting for students. Pre K Families are also invited to meet with Kindergarten teachers in the Spring to learn about the curriculum, be provided the flow of an average day, and to plan/ collaborate to prepare the students in meeting Kindergarten expectations throughout the next school year.

Part 5: “Conceptual” Consolidation of Funds in SWP Schools

Directions: All Schoolwide Program (SWP) schools in NYC are conceptually consolidating their Federal, State, and Local funds, even though the Galaxy system reports the allocations in separate accounting codes1. To be eligible for the flexibility consolidation of Federal funds, a Schoolwide Program school must identify in its Schoolwide plan (CEP) which programs are included in its consolidation and the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool. Additionally, the school plan must document that it has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated2. On the chart below, indicate which Federal, State, and/or local Tax Levy program funds that are consolidated in your school’s Schoolwide Program, the amount each program contributes to the consolidated Schoolwide pool, and verification that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated.
For the last two columns of this table: Place an (X) in Column A below to verify that the school has met the intent and purposes of each program whose funds are consolidated. Indicate in Column B, the Priority or section that references where a related program activity has been described in this plan.

Explanation/Background

1. Explanation/Background:

Title I Schoolwide Program schools are expected to use the flexibility available to them to integrate services and programs with the aim of enhancing the entire educational program and helping all students reach proficient and advanced levels of achievement. In addition to coordinating and integrating services, Schoolwide Program schools may combine most Federal, State and local funds to provide those services. By consolidating funds from Federal, State, and local sources, a Schoolwide Program school can address its needs using all its available resources. This gives a school more flexibility in how it uses available resources to meet the identified needs of all its students.

Consolidating funds in a Schoolwide Program means that a school treats the funds it is consolidating like they are a single "pool" of funds. In other words, the funds from the contributing programs in the school lose their individual identity and the school has one flexible pool of funds. The school uses funds from this consolidated Schoolwide pool to support any activity of the Schoolwide Program without regard to which program contributed the specific funds used for a particular activity – so long as the use of funds meets the intent and purposes of the programs from which the funds originate. To consolidate funding in a Schoolwide Program, the school does not literally need to combine funds in a single account or pool with its own accounting code. Rather, the word "pool" is used conceptually to convey that a Schoolwide Program school has the use of all consolidated funds available to it for the dedicated function of operating a Schoolwide Program without regard to the identity of those funds.

Consolidating Federal funds in a Schoolwide Program has the following additional advantages:

- Consolidating Federal funds eases the requirements for accounting for funds from each specific program separately, because a Schoolwide school is not required to distinguish among funds received from different sources when accounting for their use.
- A school that consolidates Federal funds in its Schoolwide Program is not required to meet most of the statutory and regulatory requirements of the specific Federal programs included in the consolidation (e.g., semi-annual time and effort reporting for Title I). However, the school must ensure that it meets the intent and purposes of the Federal programs included in the consolidation so that the needs of the intended beneficiaries are met.

2. The intent and purposes of the Federal programs indicated on the chart above (Part 4c of this section) are as follows:

- Title I, Part A – Schoolwide Programs: To upgrade the entire educational program in the school in order to improve the academic achievement of all students, particularly the lowest-achieving students. This includes provision of services for Students in Temporary Housing (STH).
- Title I 1003(a), School Improvement: Comprehensive Support and Improvement (CSI), Additional Targeted Support and Improvement (ATSI) and Targeted Support and Improvement (TSI) Funding:

Support implementation of school improvement plans that aims to improve instruction and address the identified needs

Title II, Part A: Supplementary funding to improve student academic achievement by reducing class size in grades K, 1, 2, and 3, with an emphasis on grades with an average register greater than 20. If space is not available to form additional classes, funds may support push-in teacher(s) to supplement the instructional program. For schools that choose to reduce class size, priority must be given to reducing class size in general education settings and must demonstrate the following:

- Reduce class sizes to 15-18 students or fewer (including the use of co-teaching and floating teachers that bring the student to teacher ratio to one teacher per 15-18 students);
- Be accompanied by a rigorous curriculum, effective teachers, and a sustained, job-embedded professional development plan.

- Title III, Part A: To help ensure that children with limited English proficiency become proficient in English, develop high academic attainment in English, and meet the same challenging State academic content and achievement standards in the core academic subjects that all other children are expected to meet. Another purpose of this program is to increase the capacity of schools to establish, implement and sustain high-quality language instruction programs and English language development programs that assist schools in effectively teaching students with limited English proficiency. Title III, Part A is also designed to promote the participation of parents and communities of limited English proficient children in English language instruction programs.
- Title III Immigrant: Supplementary and enhanced services to immigrant students, in the areas of English language acquisition and content area achievement. Immigrant children and youth are defined as individuals who are aged 3 through 21, have not been attending school in any one or more states for more than three (3) full academic years, and were not born in any state. "State" means the 50 states of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Children born to U.S. citizens abroad, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or any other U.S. territory that is not D.C. or Puerto Rico are to be considered immigrants.
- Title IV, Part A: Title IV funds are for schools that are among those with the greatest needs, have the highest numbers of students from low-income families, are identified for CS, ATSI or TSI, or are identified as persistently dangerous public schools. Allowable uses of funds under well-rounded education, safety and health, and educational technology include direct services for students, professional development for teachers and administrators, and supplemental educational resources. School allocations have been provided for well-rounded education, social emotional learning, cultural responsiveness awareness, professional development to support implementation of technology and blended learning environments, and community coordinators in schools with high rates of students in temporary housing

- Students in Temporary Housing (STH): Schools must describe their use of Title I STH funds in their consolidated application.

Important Note: The following funds may not be consolidated:

- Title I Parent Involvement Set-aside: Title I, Part A funds must support parent involvement activities and programs. Chancellor's Regulation A-655 requires School Leadership Teams to consult with Title I parent representatives regarding the Title I program and the use of these funds. Parent involvement activities funded through Title I must be included in the Parent and Family Engagement Policy and aligned with student achievement goals in the school comprehensive educational plan.
- IDEA: To ensure that all children with disabilities have available to them a free appropriate public education designed to meet their individual needs.
- Grant funds awarded via a competitive process: These funds must be used for the purposes specified by the Grantor, as described in the school's approved grant application.

This is a living document. Any school-wide changes involving the instruction of MLs/ELLs, such as the addition or expansion of a Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) or Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) program, should be updated in this form.

Agenda, minutes of LAP meetings, and LAP team members' attendance at meetings should be kept readily available on file in the school with all other ML/ELL critical documents. When preparing your school's submission, provide extended responses in the available spaces.

For additional information, refer to the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs. For additional support with ML/ELL policy, please reach out to your respective ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance Performance Specialist; for support with ML/ELL instruction, please contact your ML/ELL Services Administrator.

Part II: Bilingual Programs

Does your school have a bilingual program (Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) or Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE)?

Yes

Provide the number of classrooms for each bilingual program, by grade, at your school for the 2025-26 school year. If submitted before the 2025-26 school year begins, this should be the anticipated number of classrooms based on anticipated enrollment. Each language and program model--Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) or Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE)--is considered a separate program. In the second column, please indicate if the program is General Education (GE), Integrated Co-Teaching (ICT) special education, Special Class (SC), or Mixed-Group Class (MGC) special education. If a classroom bridges two grades, list as 0.5 classrooms for both grades.
Please include the total number of classrooms for each bilingual program in the last column.

Part III: ML/ELL Programming

Please refer to New York State Commissioner's Regulation (CR) Part 154 Units of Study Tables as you describe academic programming for MLs/ELLs at your school below. Please do not leave any fields blank and indicate "N/A" for any fields that are not applicable.

Describe your English as a New Language (ENL), and if applicable Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE), and Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs. For each program, include:

- How stand-alone ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How integrated ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How students are grouped (e.g., block [class travels together as a group], ungraded [all students regardless of grade are in one class], heterogeneous [mixed proficiency levels], homogenous [proficiency level is the same in one class]).

a. English as a New Language (ENL)
Stand-alone ENL:

ENL teachers use the stand alone model to service the entering and emerging students for 180 minutes of their mandated 360 minutes to develop English skills in listening, speaking, reading and writing. When data and classroom assessments show that students who are at a Transitioning proficiency level can benefit from the 90 minutes FLEX scheduling for additional language development support, ENL teachers will include these students in their Stand Alone groupings, as per CR Part 154.
ELL teachers will continue to provide various supports, scaffolds and additional materials such as alternate texts on a topic, and access to websites. Co-Teachers will be able to meet with and support students in collaboration.

Integrated ENL:

ENL teachers co-plan with regular classroom teachers to ensure ELL students have access to the content and language of instruction. ENL teachers have access to all resources and units being taught. ENL teachers focus on vocabulary development and language objectives to assist students in developing critical thinking and text comprehension. Students are placed in heterogeneous classrooms, all proficiency levels are together. Teachers work diligently in differentiating lessons to meet all our ELLs needs. ENL teachers support classroom instruction in both whole-class and small group settings by providing additional supports such as scaffolds to maximize learning outcomes.

b. Bilingual Education (If applicable)
Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE):

P.S. 22 offers a Spanish Transitional Bilingual Special Education program for Grades K–4 during the 2025–2026 school year. This program is designed to help students develop strong conceptual understanding and academic skills in their home language while they continue acquiring English proficiency. The primary goal of transitional bilingual education is to support students' gradual transition into an English-only instructional environment. Research shows that students learn best when academic concepts are first taught in their native language. Accordingly, teachers deliver core content instruction in Spanish while systematically incorporating English language development. As students' English proficiency increases, instruction progressively shifts toward English, with Spanish used strategically for clarification and support. Additional bilingual supports are provided in alignment with the instructional minutes mandated under Commissioner's Regulation Part 154 (CR Part 154).

Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE):

The Dual Language program at P.S. 22 is composed of two kindergarten classes (side-by-side)- one is general education and the other is ICT. We have two first grade classes (side-by-side)- one is general education and the other is ICT. In grades 2, 3, 4, and 5 we have one dual language ICT model classroom for each grade. All of our classes, across our dual language programming, follow the Alternate Day Model. Our Dual language programs have been designed to continue developing students' home language as well as English language skills. Instruction in the Dual Language Program is given 50% in English and 50 % in Spanish. Language is taught through content areas as well as through literacy. Our Dual language teachers follow the Into Reading and Arriba la Lectura literacy programs and implement phonics instruction with Estrellita and Wilson's Fundations Curriculum. The students are learning from the New York City Social Studies program (Passport) and the Amplify Science program. Teachers have materials available in both languages and all of their supplemental resources and information. Math instruction is received through the enVision math program. This is a comprehensive mathematics curriculum with focus, coherence and rigor. This is a problem based learning which includes visual learning and personalization to empower every teacher and student. Dual language classes have materials for math in both English and Spanish. The Dual Language teachers create charts and graphic organizers in both languages. We use instructional scaffolding techniques from Maryann Cucchiara, who partners with Dr. Lily Wong Fillmore. Our teachers prepare close read lessons by carefully choosing complex, compelling and concise texts to ensure all students are exposed to grade appropriate lessons. Teachers pre-teach vocabulary words and ask text dependent questions, followed by deconstructing and reconstructing rich (juicy) sentences. Teachers provide students with different scaffolds, such as, graphic organizer, linguistic frames and sentence stems to enhance students' writing. ENL teachers have been trained in these programs and have worked closely with classroom teachers to integrate (push-in) and support ELLs using strategies such as modeling, scaffolding and prompting to help make content more comprehensible for their English a Language Levels. In all content areas we promote collaborative learning which encourages peer support, enhances motivation and increases language use. Smart board visuals and recording are used to help ELLs in content areas. Computer activities through platforms such as WAGGLE are also used to encourage and provide language usage. The teachers scaffold academic language and complex content to support students' participation. Teachers select books that are related to students' culture in order to connect students' prior experiences. Research shows that students show more interest in reading when exposed to a variety of culturally relevant books (Y. Freeman et al., 2003). Our school is developing a collection of relevant texts appropriate to our students population and diverse cultures.

2. How does your school ensure the mandated number of instructional minutes are provided according to students' English language proficiency levels in each program model?

Our school ensures that the mandated number of instructional minutes are provided according to proficiency levels scored in NYSESLAT and NYSITELL exams. Our ENL teachers arrange their schedule ensuring ELLs receive the mandated minutes by grouping them according to their proficiency level. Students receive ENL minutes according to their English proficiency levels as per NYSESLAT and NYSITELL scores: Entering students receive 360 minutes per week of which 180 minutes are stand alone and 180 minutes are in integrated ENL/ELA. Emerging students receive 360 minutes per week of which 180 minutes is for ENL/ELA and 180 minutes of stand alone service. Transitioning and Expanding students receive 180 minutes per week in integrated ENL/ELA for ELL/ content area. When data and classroom assessments show that students who are at a Transitioning proficiency level can benefit from the 90 minutes FLEX scheduling for additional language development support, ENL teachers will include these students in their stand alone groupings, as per CR Part 154. Former ELLs receive .5 units of study per week of integrated ENL in ELA/content area, or other approved former ELL services for two additional years. Native Language minutes for: DL Spanish is 50% English 50% ; TBE - NL 75% English 25% - Home language arts class and minimum of two bilingual content area subjects. These content area subjects may be math, social studies or science. ENL teachers collaborate with the regular classroom teachers, either by co- teaching in person or via google classroom meetings. ENL teachers post and share ELL strategies to support the ELLs in each classroom. ENL teachers also provide strategies and support to the students' teachers on an on-going basis.

3. How are ENL, English Language Arts (ELA) and if applicable, Home Language Arts (HLA) instructional minutes delivered in each program model?

Teachers instruct content area subjects in the native language. As the year progresses and students are acquiring the English language, instruction is adjusted to mostly in English while native language is diminished. At the beginning of the school year, instruction is conducted 75% in Spanish and 25% in English depending on students' language acquisition needs. Content Area instruction in the TBE Program is provided in both English and Spanish. The students are learning from the New York City Department of Education Social Studies Program, from Aplify Science and from the STEM Science Programs. Teachers have materials available in both languages. Math instruction is received through the enVision2.0 Math Common Core Program. TBE classes have materials for math, science and Social Studies in both English and Spanish. In English Language Arts teachers are Into Reading reading and writing workshop models. The Dual Language classes have literacy materials in both languages. The teachers create charts and graphic organizers in both languages. Various ENL strategies are used to teach ELLs in the content areas. ENL teachers use these ENL strategies in both, integrated co-teaching and stand alone models. In all content areas, we support the emergent and early development of English literacy skills. We support the ELLs as they develop academic language. ELL teachers work with assisting students in close reading and vocabulary development. In all content areas we promote collaborative learning which encourages peer support, enhances motivation and increases language use. Smart boards visuals and recording are used to help the ELL in the content areas. Technology is also used to encourage and provide language usage. The teachers scaffold academic language through authentic texts/ content instruction to support students' participation. Teachers use literature that is more Culturally Responsive to our students' various backgrounds.

4. For schools with Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) programs:

a. Which Dual Language Bilingual Education model is implemented? Explain how much of the instructional day (percentage) English proficient students and ELLs are integrated.

Our Dual Language program is composed of two kindergarten classes (side-by-side), one first grade class & one ICT class (side-by-side model), one second grade, one third grade, one fourth grade, and one fifth grade class (all following the alternate day model.) Our Dual language programs have been designed to continue developing students' home language as well as English language skills. Instruction in the Dual Language Program is given 50% in English and 50 % in Spanish, for 100% of the instructional day, English proficient students and ELL's are integrated.

b. In which language(s) is each core content area taught?

Core content is taught one entire day in Spanish; the next day entirely in English. The units of study progress as the days move on- one day in English, the following day in Spanish.

5. For schools with Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs:

a. Which core content areas are taught bilingually?

Our school has a Spanish Transitional Bilingual Special Education program for all grades. These classes were designed so that students develop conceptual skills in their home language as they continue learning English. The goal of transitional bilingual education is to help transition a student into an English-only classroom. According to research, students learn concepts best when taught in their native language. Therefore, teachers instruct content area subjects (ELA, MATH) in their native language. Science and Social Studies are taught bilingually. At the onset of the school year, content is initially taught in the majority of the student's home language. As the year progresses and students are acquiring the English language, instruction is adjusted towards mostly English while native language is diminished. At the beginning of the school year, instruction is conducted 75% in Spanish and 25% in English depending on students language acquisition needs. This shifts towards English as the year progresses.

Part IV: Data Analysis

Data Analysis

After reviewing and analyzing school demographic and assessment data, answer the following questions. The ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) provided by the Office of Multilingual Learners can assist with identifying these data points.

For additional information, refer to Data Analysis Professional Learning Module and ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) Professional Learning Module.

1. What is the composition of the ELL subgroups at your school?
What percentage of ELLs are Newcomers? How does effective instruction for Newcomers differ from those provided to Developing or Long-Term ELLs?

ELL subgroups are defined by the years of ELL service a student has received:
Newcomer: 0 to 3 years: 125
Developing 4 to 6 years: 29
Long Term: 7 or more years: 1

The composition of newcomers is 125 students and the percentage of newcomers is 80.6% of our ELLs. Out of these students, 3 of them are SIFE (1.9%) ENL teachers ensure newcomers feel welcomed and familiar with the school and its community. Newcomers receive 360 minutes of a combination of integrated and stand alone service. Teachers provide a variety of scaffolding strategies such as, graphic organizers, prior knowledge activation, cultural responsive read alouds, visuals, audio, videos and native language support needed for success in core content areas. In contrast developing and long term ELLs are instructed in their classrooms using the integrated classroom models. Students are able to work with their peers and teachers with less scaffolding as needed.

What percentage of ELLs are Students with Inconsistent/Interrupted Formal Education (SIFE)? How do you differentiate effective instruction for SIFE?

Currently our school has 3 SIFE students. These SIFE students are screened with the oral questionnaire and all assessments are provided by the New York City Department of Education to determine the student's prior education. Once this was determined the students are provided with an enriching environment where they can acquire English at their own pace while building their strengths and self-esteem. ENL teachers will use the buddy system where students are paired with responsible students to help them adjust to our school environment. Additionally, teachers of SIFE students provide small group instruction that targets the foundational skills needed to be successful. Within these classrooms, students are taught based on the grade-level standards. Teachers use the progression of standards to support student individual academic needs to ensure the content is rich, yet accessible to the student. This is done with additional academic support and various UDL strategies (i.e.- audio books, text-to-speech apps, etc.)

What percentage of ELLs are Long-Term ELLs? How does effective instruction for Long-Term ELLs differ from instruction designed for Developing ELLs?

Currently, we have one Long-Term English Language Learner (ELL). To support this student, teachers provide integrated co-teaching instruction, allowing for increased individual attention and opportunities for interaction. Instruction is differentiated in small groups to address specific language and academic needs, incorporating visual supports, hands-on activities, and graphic organizers to enhance comprehension and engagement.

This Long-Term ELL continues to demonstrate challenges in achieving proficiency in the Reading and Writing strands of the NYSESLAT. As a result, instructional planning focuses on targeted literacy interventions, vocabulary development, and opportunities for extended language practice across content areas.

What percentage of students are former ELLs? How is your school providing mandated instruction to former ELLs?

At P.S. 22, there are 13 former English Language Learners (ELLs), representing approximately 2% of the student population. Of these, five students are placed in Dual Language/Integrated Co-Teaching (ICT) classroom settings, where they receive two periods per week (90 minutes total) of integrated ENL instruction provided by the Dual Language teacher within the English Language Arts (ELA) block. The remaining eight former ELLs are enrolled in monolingual ICT or general education classrooms. These students also receive two periods per week (90 minutes total) of integrated ENL instruction, delivered by the ENL teacher during ELA.

2. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of ELLs at your school?

According to the latest EDAT's Early Warning Indicators section, P.S. 22 has 155 current ELLs, with several overlapping risk categories that could impact language acquisition and academic performance. Key findings include:

- Newcomers (0–3 years of service): 125 students (80.6%) - Indicates a high concentration of recently arrived students who require intensive English language development and acculturation support.

- Developing ELLs (4–6 years): 29 students (18.7%) - These students may be at risk of becoming long-term ELLs if progress stalls.

- Long-Term ELLs (7 + years): 1 student (0.6%) - Minimal long-term ELL presence, but this student requires targeted interventions in literacy and writing, as noted in NYSESLAT modality data.

- ELLs with IEPs: 70 students (45.2%) - Nearly half of all ELLs also receive special-education services, more than double the district rate (27.7%), suggesting intersectional learning needs.

- Students with Interrupted Formal Education (SIFE): 3 students (1.9%) - Require foundational literacy and numeracy interventions in both home language and English.

- Academic Performance Risks: 54 ELLs (34.8%) scored Level 1 or 2 on ELA; 26 ELLs (16.8%) scored Level 1 or 2 on Math - Low proficiency in both content areas reflects a pressing need for targeted academic and linguistic support.

To mitigate these risk levels, we will strengthen integrated co-teaching (ICT) models that merge ENL and special education supports, ensuring students receive cohesive instruction tailored to both language and learning needs.

Additionally, we will continue to implement progress-monitoring systems for ELLs to prevent long-term designation, while using NYSESLAT modality data to guide differentiated instruction, especially in the reading and writing domains where most ELLs struggle. Finally, we will continue to leverage family engagement and community partnerships to strengthen attendance, literacy, and social-emotional adjustment supports for multilingual learners.

3. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect former ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of former ELLs at your school?

P.S. 22 currently serves 13 former ELLs (2.0 % of the school population). While this is a relatively small subgroup. According to the EDAT, 30.8 % of former ELLs scored Level 1 or 2 on the 2023-24 ELA exam, and 15.4 % scored Level 1 or 2 in Math. Additionally, 7.7 % performed at Level 1 or 2 in both ELA and Math across two consecutive years, which shows academic underperformance based on these two state exams. Their reading and writing performance on state assessments is not optimal. This trend shows a need for our continued literacy support and academic monitoring. As previously stated, the primary at-risk factor for former ELLs at P.S. 22 is academic underperformance in ELA and Math. The trend underscores the importance of ongoing progress-monitoring and scaffolded instruction during the two-year post-exit monitoring period to ensure sustained success.

4. What are the home languages of ELLs with the largest representation at your school? What staff, structures, and processes does your school have to support communication and learning that values these home languages?

The predominant home language among English Language Learners (ELLs) at P.S. 22 is Spanish, representing 128 of the 155 ELLs (approximately 83%). Other home languages, though in much smaller numbers, include Arabic (8 students), Urdu (7), Chinese (3), Punjabi (3), Bengali (2), French (1), Haitian Creole (1), Sinhalese (1), and Uzbek (1). This linguistic composition shows that the vast majority of multilingual learners share Spanish as their home language, while a small but growing number speak languages representing South and East Asian communities. It is important to note the following: (1) Bilingual and ENL Staffing: P.S. 22 employs certified bilingual and ENL teachers, including staff fluent in Spanish and English, allowing for instruction, family communication, and cultural connections in both languages. The school also has bilingual paraprofessionals and Spanish-speaking support staff who assist with academic and social-emotional needs, ensuring access to content and services. (2) Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) Program: Our school operates a Spanish Transitional Bilingual Special Education program for Grades K–4, which promotes literacy and content learning in students' home language while progressively transitioning to English. This structure values students' linguistic assets by using Spanish as a bridge to content mastery and biliteracy development.(3) Dual Language and Integrated Co-Teaching (ICT) Settings: It is important to note that former and current ELLs also benefit from Dual Language and ICT classrooms, where ENL instruction is embedded into core instruction. Teachers plan collaboratively to integrate language objectives, promote oracy and literacy, and align supports with NYSESLAT modality data (particularly in reading and writing). (4) Family and Community Engagement: Communication with Spanish-speaking families is prioritized through translated notices, bilingual parent meetings, interpreters, and use of DOE translation and interpretation services. The school partners with the Office of Multilingual Learners (OML) and local organizations to host bilingual family workshops, ensuring parents understand programs, rights, and opportunities to support their children's learning.

5. What are the racial and ethnic classifications of ELLs at your school? How are ELLs being included in planning and delivery of Culturally Responsive and Sustaining Education (CR-SE)?

According to the latest EDAT, P.S. 22's English Language Learners (ELLs) represent a diverse racial and ethnic population, though the majority identify as Hispanic or Latino. Specifically, 66.7 % of ELLs are Hispanic, while 33.3

% are Non-Hispanic. Within these groups:

Asian ELLs: 18 students (11.6 %)

Black ELLs: 7 students (4.5 %)

White ELLs: 46 students (29.7 %)

Multiracial ELLs: 5 students (3.2 %)

American Indian/Alaskan Native: 1 student (0.6 %)

Our diversity at P.S. 22 calls for instructional practices that affirm students' cultural identities and linguistic assets. This is why P.S. 22 intentionally integrates ELL voices and cultural perspectives in curriculum planning (needs based) and community engagement to ensure all learners see themselves reflected in the school experience. Key practices include: (1) Student Identity and Voice: ELLs participate in classroom discussions, bilingual read-alouds, and heritage celebrations that center their cultural stories and perspectives. The Spanish Transitional Bilingual Program and Dual Language ICT classrooms promote bilingual identity development and cross-cultural collaboration between English-dominant and Spanish-dominant peers. (2) Family and Community Partnerships: Our school engages parents as cultural partners through bilingual parent workshops, translation of all communications, and participation in school events celebrating Hispanic Heritage, Asian Heritage, and Black History Month. This engagement strengthens cultural continuity between home and school while empowering families to participate in educational decision-making.

6. What trends do you notice in reviewing English Language Proficiency (ELP) growth at your school? How many students met ELP sufficient progress? How many students did not meet ELP sufficient progress?

The most recent EDAT shows that 103 ELL students at P.S. 22 had sufficient NYSESLAT assessment data to measure annual English Language Proficiency (ELP) growth. This is the breakdown:

10 students (9.7%) exited ELL status by scoring Commanding or Expanding on the NYSESLAT and meeting state exit criteria (ELA = 3 or Regents = 65).

13 students (12.6%) met their annual growth targets on the NYSESLAT.

6 students (5.8%) met Safe Harbor criteria through cumulative progress toward proficiency.

74 students (71.8%) did not meet sufficient ELP progress in 2024

This means that 29 students (28.2%) demonstrated sufficient ELP progress, while the majority, 74 students (71.8%), did not.

We can understand this pattern by knowing that there is a high concentration of newcomers (80.6%)—many in their first or second year—who are still in early acquisition stages and require more time to demonstrate measurable growth. There is also a high percentage of ELLs with IEPs (45.2%), whose dual needs may slow linguistic progress relative to peers. In addition, low reading and writing performance on the NYSESLAT modality analysis, aligning with the school's academic data showing 34.8 % scoring at Levels 1–2 in ELA.

7. When you look at the results of the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT), what stands out? What trends are there for each modality?

Our students generally score higher in the listening and speaking portions when compared to their writing components of the exam. Students are able to listen to questions and commands. They are able to respond and follow one to two step directions. Occasionally, you will have a student respond with the phrase " I do not speak English", when they are asked a question. This year , we identified the trend that students are not writing in complete sentences. Their responses are in phrases and chunks of words. The EDAT's NYSESLAT Modality Analysis highlights clear trends in student strengths and areas for growth across the four tested domains. Listening is a strength area across grades 1–5, students showed their highest accuracy rates in listening. In 2023 and 2024, a significant number of ELLs scored "high" (over 90 % correct) in listening tasks, indicating that auditory comprehension and receptive language are relative strengths. This trend reflects ELLs' growing ability to follow oral instructions and comprehend classroom discourse when scaffolded. Speaking also emerged as a strength, particularly in Grades 1–3, where many students demonstrated strong oral proficiency. However, the data show some variability because some grade levels (especially Grades 4–5) displayed lower performance, suggesting the need for more structured academic oral-language opportunities and sentence frames to build formal register and extended discourse. Reading continues to be a challenging area. Many students scored "low" (below 15 % accuracy) in reading comprehension items, especially in Grades 2–5. These results indicate that decoding, vocabulary, and inferential comprehension need targeted small-group intervention and explicit phonics-based instruction aligned with the Science of Reading. Last but not least, writing was the weakest modality for most grade levels. Multiple grades (2–5) had high numbers of students scoring "low," reflecting difficulty with sentence construction, grammar, and idea development. This pattern strongly correlates with the school's NYSESLAT growth data showing 71.8 % of ELLs not meeting sufficient ELP progress.

8. What is the relationship between students' performance on the NYSESLAT and other state assessments such as the ELA assessment, the Math assessment, and the Regents exams?

Trends identified based on NYSESLAT performance correlate with that of ELL performance on ELA and Math State Exams. Their current reading and writing proficiencies tend to be lower which keeps their proficiency levels from increasing. These results show that the students are performing two grades or more behind-within their academic performances which is not a reflection of their linguistic ability. Of the 103 ELLs, only 29 students (28.2 %) met sufficient ELP progress, 10 exited, 13 met annual growth targets, and 6 met safe harbor, while 74 students (71.8 %) did not. Similar results appear on the state exams where 34.8 % of ELLs scored Level 1–2 in ELA and 16.8 % in Math, nearly matching the same group that did not meet ELP growth. Students at the Expanding and Commanding levels performed best on ELA and Math, while those at Emerging or Entering levels struggled. This confirms that English language proficiency strongly predicts academic success. Strengthening literacy instruction, particularly in reading and writing, alongside integrated ENL/content support is essential for us at P.S. 22 to raise both NYSESLAT and state assessment outcomes.

9. What are trends reflected in the NYSESLAT results of ELL subgroups such as ELLs with IEPs and SIFE? What do you think is impacting the results for these subgroups?

The trends reflected in the NYSESLAT results of ELL subgroups such as ELLs with IEPs are SIFE is that they typically have stronger performance in the speaking portion of the exam. Their current reading and writing proficiencies tend to lower which may keep their proficiency levels from increasing. These results are because the students are performing two grades or more behind- within their academic performances which is not a reflection of their linguistic ability.

According to the EDAT, 70 of 155 ELLs (45.2 %) at P.S. 22 have IEPs, a rate significantly higher than the District 31 average (27.7 %). When we disaggregate NYSESLAT results we found that the majority of ELLs with IEPs scored at the Entering, Emerging, or Transitioning levels, with very few reaching Expanding or Commanding. Visual data on page 15 shows a disproportionate concentration of these students in lower proficiency bands, while their non-IEP peers are more evenly distributed through Expanding and Commanding. This pattern mirrors the school-wide ELP growth data, where 71.8 % of ELLs did not meet annual English Language Proficiency (ELP) targets, a gap largely driven by the ELL/IEP subgroup. This creates intersecting instructional challenges; students must master academic content and language development simultaneously while addressing learning disabilities.

In addition to this, the EDAT identifies 3 students (1.9 %) as SIFE, comparable to the district rate (1.3 %). SIFE students are concentrated in the Entering and Emerging proficiency levels, with none yet at Expanding or Commanding. Their results indicate significant foundational literacy and academic-language gaps in both English and home language, reflecting interrupted schooling before entering U.S. schools. This is why at P.S. 22, ENL teachers collaborate with classroom teachers to provide additional periods of instruction and support to these students. Both subgroups, ELLs with IEPs and SIFE, show slower ELP growth and lower NYSESLAT proficiency than the general ELL population.

Part V: ML/ELL Instruction

Tier 1: Core Instruction

For additional information, refer to ML/ELL Instruction Professional Learning Module.

Tier 1 Core Instruction

1. How does your school provide ELLs with a high-quality academic experience that leads to deeper learning?

PS 22 is a diverse, culturally responsive collaborative school community that provides an inclusive, rigorous instruction to every child in a safe nurturing and affirming environment. Each member of our community honors student's uniqueness where race, ethnicity, language and gender are assets in their learning process. Through standards-driven instruction, PS 22 fosters a learning culture where every child has the opportunity to grow academically, socially and emotionally.

This is done through:
-Teacher Clarity: Teachers are able to identify the progression of standards. This will allow for teachers to expose ELL students to grade-specific content, yet within their level of proximal development based on the standard progression.

-Data Analysis: Using screener and formative assessments, and conference notes, teachers are able to identify strengths and weaknesses in real-time. This allows for teachers to provide the right scaffolds and accommodations to make the content accessible while providing equity for all within their classroom.

-Learning styles & preferences: When teachers are able to identify how student's know best (tactile, visual, auditory, movement), they can incorporate these into their lessons. It allows for students to learn with ease- reducing frustration & the productive struggle.

-Knowing all students well: When teachers know their students (strengths, family life, proficiency level) well, they can connect with them to make them feel welcomed and be themselves. This connection allows for students to worry less about acceptance in order for them to place a higher emphasis on a high-quality academic experience that leads to deeper thinking.

2. How does your school's leadership team ensure ELLs have access to core instruction/curriculum?

Our school utilizes various instructional materials to support our ELL population. Our school uses Into Reading/Arriba La Lectura/ HMH. Our teachers are given different kinds of books to teach each units. For our kindergarten through second grade teachers provide phonics instructions through Fundations.. Our ENL teachers use Rigby-Activate Learning big books. These big books help the teachers in Shared Reading which is a technique that involves all the children from early emergent to proficient readers, to read together while the teacher is scaffolding the language. Shared reading encourages language use. As Scott & Ytreberg (1990) say, “When children start learning English, they need to be given the language before they can produce it themselves.” Our teachers use a large variety of different genre books for Read Alouds. Oral language development becomes a standard as the children begin to have conversations about the book being read. Our ENL teachers support the readers at different reading levels. Students explore non-fiction by Time For Kids which gives the children an opportunity to explore and learn about non-fiction with real photographs and graphic organizers. For Social Studies we use Multicultural Celebrations by Modern Curriculum Press and for Science we use the STEM program. Stem allows for the opportunity to explore and learn about science, technology, engineering and math. ELLs participate in hands-on activities and utilize technology to enhance their language skills. One website, ABC Mouse.com has been very helpful in assisting our ELL students in the entering and emerging stages to acquire basic English skills, while also learning phonics and reading. Our entering and emerging , as well as transitioning, expanding and commanding ELLs also benefit from our use of Reading- A-Z.com. Teachers can access decodable texts to support small-group reading instruction. Our ELL students in Entering through Expanding Proficiency are given access to dictionaries that are in their native language to support their acquisition of English.
MLL/ELL students continue to have access to digital resources. Teachers are available to meet with students throughout the day to support and guide learners in using these digital resources for learning.

3. Describe how core content is delivered in each program model. Specify language, and the instructional approaches and methods to foster language development and meet the demands of the Next Generation Learning Standards.

a.Our kindergarten, first grade, and second grade dual language programs follow the side by side model. Our dual language teachers provide instruction in a ratio of 50% English instruction and 50% Spanish instruction. Our third, fourth and fifth grade dual languages follow a roller coaster model. Our dual language teachers provide instruction one day in English and the next day in Spanish.
b. All dual language classes are taught the core content areas in both English and Spanish depending on which language day it is. Content areas are taught in both languages using books in libraries in both languages.
c. In all dual language classes, the language is separated every other day. One full day is Spanish instruction followed by one full day in English instruction.
d. Emergent literacy is taught simultaneously depending on the day. One day the instruction is taught in English and the following day the instruction is in Spanish. Students are able to transfer skills learned from L1 to L2.

Teachers offer different types of intervention services for ELLs in the language arts as well as the content areas. Teachers analyse students data periodically to determine what group of students are performing below grade benchmarks. Teachers create specific plans to address those needs in small groups. Some of the programs teachers use in our school are: Orton Gillingham and Fundations, phonemic awareness and phonics. Spire, a program which focuses on sound awareness, letter recognition and phonics, high frequency words, phrases and stories. The teacher monitors students' progress closely to determine students. The pace of the direct instruction in tier two is in intervals of four to six weeks. Teachers examine and analyse student progress to determine if a student might need further intervention or if the intervention might need to be changed to address his/her specific needs.

In addition, our ELL students participate in structured Shared reading as well as small group word study activities to develop their phonemic awareness and knowledge of sentence structures. Students will increase their writing abilities through intense small group instruction while practicing oral language through academic discussions (turn and talk). Teachers will provide students with different scaffolds, such as, graphic organizer, linguistic frames and sentence stems to enhance students' writing. ENL teachers have been trained in these programs and have worked closely with classroom teachers to co- teach and support ELLs using strategies such as modeling, scaffolding and prompting to help make content more comprehensible for their English Language Levels.

4. What instructional strategies and grade-level materials, including technology, do teachers of MLs/ELLs use to provide access to grade level academic content areas and accelerate English language development? Include core content area and language materials with consideration to specific ELL subgroups.

a. ELLs with IEPs

Content Area instruction in the Dual Language Program is given in both English and Spanish. The students are learning from the New York City Department of Education Social Studies Program, from Ampifli Science and from the STEM Science Programs. Some of our students are participating in the Seeds to Trees program where they participate in projects and hands-on activities. Teachers have materials available in both languages and also rely on the Internet for additional resources and information. Math instruction is received through the enVision math Common Core Program. Dual language classes have materials for Math, Science and Social Studies in both English and Spanish. In English Language Arts teachers are using Teachers College reading and writing workshop models.The Dual Language classes have literacy materials in both languages. The teachers create charts and graphic organizers in both languages. Various ELL strategies are used to teach ELLs in the content areas. ENL teachers use these ELL strategies in both, integrated co-teaching and stand alone models. In all content areas, we support the emergent and early development of English literacy skills.
We support the ELLs as they develop academic language. ELL teachers are implementing Maryann Cucchiara's Text Complexity approach to assist students in close reading and vocabulary development. In all content areas we promote collaborative learning which encourages peer support, enhances motivation and increases language use. Smart boards visuals and recording are used to help the ELL in the content areas. Computer activities through RAZ-Kids are also used to encourage and provide language usage. The teachers scaffold academic language through authentic texts/ content instruction to support students' participation.Teachers use literature that is more Culturally Responsive to our students' various backgrounds.
ENL Teachers of ELLs with IEPs have access to review the student's IEPs. This allows them to know the students current levels of performance, as well as their management needs to best assist them with learning strategies in the classroom. ENL teachers collaborate regularly with special education classroom teachers to ensure that all services coincide with one another. ENL teachers are core members of the IEP process for these students.

b. SIFE

Currently our school has 3 SIFE students. These SIFE students are screened with the oral questionnaire and all the assessments provided by the New York City Department of Education to determine the student's prior education. Once this is determined the students are provided with an enriching environment where they can acquire English at their own pace while building their strengths and self-esteem. ENL teachers will use the buddy system where students are paired with responsible students to help them adjust to our school environment. Additionally, teachers of SIFE students provide small group instruction that targets the foundational skills needed to be successful. Within these classrooms, students are taught based on the grade-level standards. Teachers use the progression of standards to support student individual academic needs to ensure the content is rich, yet accessible to the student. This is done with additional academic supports and various UDL strategies (i.e.- audio books, text-to-speech apps, etc).

c. Newcomers

Our school has a large number of newcomers, for those students who are English pre-emergent and emergent; the ENL teachers provide support by using graphic organizers, allow sufficient response time, list instructions/process and review orally. Teachers frequently summarize key points in lessons and repeat important terms during interactive Read Alouds. ENL teachers create opportunities for explicit phonics instructions, guided reading and shared reading to further increase reading comprehension and oral language development. New students who have been in the school system for more than one year take the NY State ELA test, the school provides a n after school program to assist children in test taking strategies as well as reading and writing strategies.

d. Long Term ELLs

P.S. 22 currently has one Long-Term English Language Learner (ELL). This student receives integrated co-teaching (ICT) instruction to ensure more individualized attention and meaningful interaction with teachers. Instruction is delivered through small-group differentiated activities supported by visuals, hands-on materials, and graphic organizers to strengthen comprehension and engagement. The student has demonstrated ongoing challenges in attaining proficiency in the Reading and Writing strands of the NYSESLAT. Additionally, this Long-Term ELL is also identified as a Student with a Disability (SWD) and receives supplementary services from a Special Education teacher. The plan for this student is to align ENL instruction with the academic and linguistic goals outlined in the IEP. The ENL and Special Education teachers collaborate regularly to review progress and design targeted interventions throughout the school year.

5. What supports does your school provide to ELLs with IEPs to achieve their IEP goals and attain English language proficiency within the least restrictive environment?

Our school employs curricular, instructional, and scheduling flexibility to meet the diverse needs of English Language Learners who are Students with Disabilities (ELL-SWDs) within the least restrictive environment (LRE). We maintain close collaboration and consistent communication among all service providers, including SETSS, Speech, and Counseling teachers, to ensure cohesive support. Instructional programming is intentionally designed to maximize time spent with non-disabled peers, guided by each student's Individualized Education Program (IEP). Through flexible scheduling, an ELL-SWD may participate in general education settings for portions of the day based on their academic strengths.
Monthly LRE review meetings are held to discuss students who may benefit from a change or reduction in services, as appropriate within the continuum of supports. ELL-SWDs are also included in enrichment programs such as Art Squad, Peer Mediation, and Chorus, where they work alongside their general education students, fostering inclusion and confidence. Whenever possible, ENL teachers provide in-class instructional support to ensure students do not miss critical content across subject areas.
Mrs. Passarelli, Mrs. DVicente and Mrs. Magrone attend monthly Team meetings to familiarize about ELLs/SWDs IEP goals and to provide information on students' Language Acquisition progress and participate in the ELLs referral process if required. We also have a Language Proficiency Team for these meetings.

6. How is home language assessed in each program model (DLBE, TBE, and ENL)?

Our Dual Language and Bilingual Programs are designed to continue developing ELLs native language, as well as English Language skills. The English Proficient speaking students learn to become bilingual through linguistic role models, interaction and language development in both languages. There are content area curriculum books in Spanish as well as leveled library books and guided reading books. In ENL, we provide books and dictionaries in several languages to help support our ELLs and help them feel more confident. We use these books to compare and contrast our various cultures during content area instruction or whenever necessary. For our incoming Spanish speaking students, we administer the Spanish Lab to assess the students' proficiency in Spanish.
Additionally, we will continue to create digital libraries that show representation of our student population. We want our students to see themselves in mirrors, not just windows. In assessment planning, our school also ensures that formative, informal, and summative assessments are available for all teachers in English and in Spanish.
In extended remote learning, our MLLs/ELLs have access to digital books in English as well as their native language when possible. Our TBE and DL programs provide students with digital books / materials that are available in English and Spanish. In our ENL program, we will provide Native language sites/ support materials when possible to aid our students in their access to content and new concepts taught.

7. (For grades 6-12 only) What language electives are offered to MLs/ELLs? How is your school preparing MLs/ELLs to obtain the New York State Seal of Biliteracy?

N/A

8. Describe systems and structures for supporting co-teaching and collaboration among teachers for all ELL program models available at your school (e.g. integrated co-teaching, Dual Language Bilingual Education teacher partnerships, etc.).

Our teachers are programmed to have common planning time daily for teachers to collaborate and design SDI for their students. This time is designated to lesson planning- from mini lessons, to station learning, to small groups. In 6-week cycles, teachers also work with their peers and administration in data reviews to see what progress has been made within the data cycle, as well as what next steps need to be taken. Teachers receive in-house PD's monthly to strengthen both their ELA and Math instruction. Teachers are also provided to attend both virtual and out-of-building PD's based on grade, content, and pedagogy.

9. Describe how your overall, annual professional learning plan ensures that all staff – including administrators, teachers and -non-pedagogical staff – incorporates learning specifically related to the academic and social emotional needs of MLs/ELLs. Professional learning topics might include co-teaching strategies, or integrating language and content instruction.

As mandated per CR part 154.2, professional development is provided throughout the year to all staff. All our staff attend a total of 15% of total hours of PD related to English Language Learners. All our ENL and Bilingual teachers receive 50% of total hours of professional development which specifically address the needs of English language learners. Our Teachers attend workshops geared towards language acquisition, best practices and strategies for Ells. Our teachers of ELLs have received in-house training around the work of Maryann Cucchiara whose main focus is rigor in academic language and close reading strategies for our Ells. Our ENL teachers maintain a binder with agendas and attendance on all workshops attended. Our school secretary maintains a binder with all attended professional development.
ALL teachers in our staff are provided with opportunities to attend virtual Professional Development that is geared towards the academic and linguistic needs of our MLL/ELL students. Our bilingual/ENL teachers invite all teachers to attend PD with them that is aligned with ELL/MLL support.

Planned PD's for our school building will be focused around such topics as co-teaching/ co-planning, targets of measurement, and strategies to support students based on proficiency levels. PD's will also revolve around planning lessons within the 3T's lesson template. ENL/ Dual Language/ TBE teachers will also receive on-going professional development with Enid Martinez (to support ELA development) and with the Core Collaborative (to support Math development) for the 2025-2026 school year.

10. Describe your school's professional development plan in order to meet the mandated Continuing Teacher and Leader Education (CTLE) ELL specific hours for certification renewal as per CR Part 154 (15% of total hours for all certified faculty [holders of professional certificates in the classroom teaching service, educational leadership service and level III teaching assistant certificate holders] and 50% of total hours for bilingual education/ENL teachers receive ELL-specific professional development).

As per CR Part 154 new mandates, P.S.22 ensure that all teachers, administrators/assistant principals, school secretaries, teachers that address the needs of ELLs. Our parent coordinator attends professional development related to language acquisition and academic language instruction. Our ENL teachers participate in meaningful workshops and meetings as well as various conferences on ENL instruction throughout the year. Some of the workshops our teachers have attended are:
The NYC SABE Conference workshops: Transforming Language Learners, Their Multi literacies and the World through Bilingual Education
Improving Listening Comprehension through Reciprocal Teaching
Guided Reading: Transformed & Informed by Emergent Bilinguals
Building a Bilingual Education Program: The Potential of Partnership
Math Best Practices: Scaffolding Content and Language for ELLs/MLLs in the Classroom (GR 3-8)
Experiencing the Needs and Challenges of ELLs

ELL Workshops:
Specially Designed Instruction Reading cohort with Megan Duffy
Best Practices for ICT Model
Monthly ELL Ambassador Meeting
Balanced Literacy Mentor and Novice Teachers Workshops

PS 22 provides PD for our teachers of ELLs as they prepare ELL students to learn in the content areas by having the ENL teachers along with teachers of ELLs attend PD for ELL strategies that are offered by the Division of Multilingual Learners-District 31, Teachers College, and also through the After School Professional Development Program. These teachers who attend the PD turn-key the information and strategies to other staff during the school day, on Professional Development days, and also during the Professional Development times. ENL , DL, TBE as well as classroom teachers of MLLs/ELLs are provided with opportunities to attend professional development virtually offered by the Division of Multilingual Learners; District 31, NYS TESOL Organization, as well as Training sessions offered through enVisions Math, Core Collaborative and iReady. This past school year, teachers have participated in virtual learning sessions around topics such as:
Planning for synchronous and asynchronous activities
The Flipped Classroom
Scaffolds and supports for MLL/ELL students in a remote learning environment
Virtual Assessments

Materials and Educational websites to Benefit MLL/ELL students

Several of our content area teachers, along with ENL and administrative staff, will participate in the AIM Academy asynchronous professional learning series, specifically the Specialized Reading Knowledge Bundle: English Learners - Introduction to English Learners: Language and Literacy Development. In addition, our team will take part in the 2025–2026 District 31 Bilingual Institute, a comprehensive professional learning series designed to strengthen bilingual pedagogy and biliteracy instruction.

The goals of the series include deepening participants' understanding of biliteracy development and the Literacy Squared framework, enhancing instructional strategies that build bilingualism and biliteracy, and aligning instruction to NYSED's Bilingual Common Core Progressions (BCCPs). Through a Bridge to Practice approach, combining classroom visits, debriefs, and collaborative planning, participants will apply strategies from Biliteracy from the Start: Literacy Squared in Action to guide planning, instruction, and assessment.

By the end of the series, educators will be able to synthesize key principles of biliteracy, apply cross-linguistic and translanguaging strategies in Tier 1 instruction, and integrate bilingual theory of action into daily practice. They will also engage in peer collaboration, intervisitations, and reflective debriefs to strengthen collective instructional capacity and promote effective, equitable instruction for all multilingual learners.

Assessment

SCREENERS

11. Which screening assessments (e.g.iReady, MAP Growth, Acadience, or STAR Reading) does your school use to guide instructional planning for your ELLs?

Our teachers evaluate student comprehension levels using screener assessment (Acadience, MapGrowth) ,Teachers College Running Record Assessments, periodic assessments, conference notes, teacher made assessments/checklist, and New York State ELA and Math scores to determine the need of the Responses to Intervention Framework for our students.

12. For all grades, list and describe your targeted intervention programs for ELLs in ELA, Math, and other core content areas (specify ELL subgroups targeted). Include the language(s) in which the intervention services are offered.

Specific programmatic interventions used may include but are not limited to:
-Fundations Phonics program is used with the NEWCOMER subgroup to support foundational skills in English, where needed.
-Hegerty is used with ALL subgroups to support foundational skills in grades K-2 in English.
-SPIRE (an Orton Gilingham based program) is used with DEVELOPING & SIFE subgroups to support ELA in English.
-Estrellita is used with the NEWCOMER & DEVELOPING subgroups to support foundational skills in grades K-2 in Spanish.

Teachers offer different types of intervention services for ELLs in the language arts as well as the content areas. Teachers analyze students' data periodically to determine what group of students are performing below grade benchmarks. Teachers create specific plans to address those needs in small groups. Some of the programs teachers use in our school are: Orton Gillingham and Foundation, phonemic awareness and phonics. Great Leaps Reading, a program which focuses on sound awareness, letter recognition and phonics, high frequency words, phrases and stories. The teacher monitors students' progress closely to determine students. The pace of the direct instruction in tier two is in intervals of four to six weeks. Teachers examine and analyze student progress to determine if a student might need further intervention or if the intervention might need to be changed to address his/her specific needs.
Our ENL/Bilingual teachers are implementing strategies from the work of Dr. Lily Wong Filmore, which mainly focuses on text complexity, close reading and the teaching of academic language.
In addition, our ELL students will participate in small group Guided Reading lessons, structured Shared reading, as well as small group word study activities to develop their phonemic awareness and knowledge of sentence structures. Students will increase their writing abilities through intense small group instruction while practicing oral language through academic discussions (turn and talk). Teachers will provide students with different scaffolds, such as, graphic organizer, linguistic frames and sentence stems to enhance students' writing. ENL teachers have been trained in these programs and have worked closely with classroom teachers to co- teach and support ELLs using strategies such as modeling, scaffolding and prompting to help make content more comprehensible for their English Language Levels.

13. For all grades, describe how your school uses data to guide instruction for ELLs within a Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS). Refer to the Instructional Leadership Tool for MLs and ELLs and MTSS Guide for MLs and ELLs to help in the development and implementation of your school's plan for MLs/ELLs.

Our ELL's are incorporated into our walk-to-learn model, DREAM [DRop Everything And Make it happen]. Student screener data, when combined with SPIRE & Acadience assessments identify student need. Based on the identified need, students are placed in a targeted, small group with a teacher who is specialized in an intervention to meet the need. The student remains in the intervention for six-weeks until progress monitoring occurs. Based on progress monitoring data, the student will either remain in the current intervention or move to a new intervention.

FORMATIVE

14. Which formative assessments (e.g. NYC performance Tasks, ELL Periodic Assessment, HLA Assessment, DRA, teacher-created assessments, etc.) are used to inform and drive instruction?

Early literacy skills of our ELLs/MILLS are assessed with the Teachers College Reading and Writing Project (TCRWP) Assessment tool. This tool assesses the independent functional reading level of a student. Our ENL teachers, Dual Language teachers, and our BSE teachers, as well as all general education classroom teachers of students of ELLs, review this data to determine each student's reading level and skills. This assessment informs the teachers how well a student reads with fluency, accuracy, and comprehension. Based on the results of this assessment, we have found that the majority of our ELL population has literacy skills that are two or more levels behind their English proficient peers. Our school 's instructional plan is then modified according to this data. This informs us how to provide more supplemental activities for our ELLs to increase their literacy skills. It also informs all teachers if any other intervention strategies are needed for specific students, (ie SETSS, or After School for ELLs.) Our Dual Language Classrooms and Bilingual Self Contained teachers also use ESTRELLITA and Fountas and Pinnell, Spanish Leveled Assessment to assess the reading levels of our Spanish ELLs in their native language. Through these assessments we have found that many of our ELL students in kindergarten end up acquiring both English and Spanish literacy simultaneously. As they move up in grades, their native language literacy skills increase alongside their English literacy skills, usually surpassing their English abilities. All teachers will have access to our students' reading levels through the school shared Google Drive.

15. How do you ensure that MLs/ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their home languages throughout the year?

Once a summative data has been gathered, teachers collaborate to implement needed interventions. All reports are analyzed to determine each students' individual needs. Our school leadership team ensures that lessons are aligned to each student's needs. Students are periodically assessed to ensure they are progressing in reading. Dual Language teachers use Estrellita to assess phonics skills in Spanish literacy. In addition, each classroom teacher monitors student growth through various means . For upper grades Dual language teachers use the Sistema de Evaluaciones to evaluate growth in Spanish. School leadership ensures that instruction is implemented based on the data and planning by checking in with the teachers to find out what supports they need for their program. Teachers are provided common planning time to prepare lessons and strategies that will support the students and programs in place.

Teachers can also assign assessments to be completed online. These virtual tools will enable students to complete assessments digitally and then the teachers will have access to review and identify standards of strength for learners as well as subjects and standards that may need more support. Teachers will have shared access to data that they may review together with classroom/ co teachers during a common planning time.

SUMMATIVE

16. Which summative assessments (e.g. NYSESLAT, ELA, Math, Regents, etc.) are used to evaluate the effectiveness of your ML/ELL programs and how does it inform instructional design and curricular decisions? (Refer to the ELL Data Analysis Tool).

Our teachers evaluate the success of our English Language Learners (ELLs) and Multilingual Learners (MLLs) by analyzing student outcomes at the end of each HMH module, following the District 31 Assessment Playbook. In addition to these benchmark assessments, teachers utilize a range of formative and diagnostic tools to monitor ongoing student progress and identify individual learning needs. Data from these assessments inform instructional planning, guide targeted interventions, and ensure lessons are differentiated to support each learner's language development and academic growth. This continuous cycle of assessment, reflection, and instructional adjustment allows teachers to provide responsive, data-driven support that promotes steady progress toward English proficiency and content mastery.

The NYSESLAT scores also provide individual needs in the four areas of English language arts. Teachers are able to group students according to their language acquisition level. Teachers run informal running records often to address students' growth. Conference notes and teachers observations are part of teachers lessons. Our ELL teachers examine the data in the EDAT report which shows our ELLs progression from proficiency levels. The Bilingual teachers also utilize El Sistema de Evaluaciones to assess their students in Spanish. In the lower grades, The Estrellita program assessments are utilized to determine Spanish language progress as well as inform teachers on instructional needs.

Teachers maintain an assessment data record to monitor students' growth on a regular basis. General Education teachers share data with the ENL teachers to ensure proper intervention is offered. Once ENL teachers have performed different kinds of summative assessments, they provide differentiated instruction to small groups. Teachers monitor students' progress between four to six weeks to adjust interventions. Our ENL teachers provide support in students' home language when needed. Weekly meetings are held with each grade and the ENL specialists. ENL teachers, support staff, administration and classroom teachers, are able to collaborate and share interventions used and progress being made through the school shared google drive.

17. What is your NYSESLAT administration plan? How does your school ensure that all ELLs are tested with the NYSESLAT annually? Include the titles of the staff that will administer and score the assessment. Please describe your plan to ensure that all ELLs and former ELLs continue to receive mandated instruction during the testing period.

Mr. Trespalacios (Assistant Principal), Mrs. D'Vicente (ENL Teacher), Mrs. Passarelli (ENL Teacher) , and Mrs. Magrone (ENL Teacher) will collaboratively oversee all components of the NYSESLAT administration process. Letters are sent home in each eligible student's home language, including English, Spanish, Urdu, Chinese, Bengali, and Arabic, to inform families and invite participation in the NYSESLAT. Once responses are received, the ENL teachers organize the testing schedule, ensuring that all students are assessed within appropriate groups and in accordance with DOE/OML/NYSED guidelines. During the administration window, teachers divide testing into manageable sessions to accommodate students within their instructional pods. Throughout this period, ENL teachers continue to provide services for both ELLs and former ELLs, ensuring they receive mandated instructional support without interruption. Upon completion of testing, administrators and trained graders will follow a five-day scoring schedule to review and evaluate all exams. The resulting data will then be analyzed to determine appropriate student placement for the following school year, based on each student's English proficiency level. Finally, families will receive written notification of any changes in placement, and students will be assigned to their designated instructional programs accordingly.

18. How does your school ensure that current and former ELLs receive necessary accommodations for state assessments, including the Specialized High School Admissions Test (SHSAT) if applicable?

Our school ensures that all current and former English Language Learners (ELLs) receive the appropriate testing accommodations for state and city assessments, when applicable. Teachers of ELLs and former ELLs maintain ongoing communication with ENL providers, school administrators, and related service teams to review each student's linguistic and academic needs prior to testing. When accommodations are necessary, the school develops a comprehensive action plan that may include a family conference, Pupil Personnel Team (PPT) referral, 504 testing accommodation request, or an initial evaluation. This collaborative approach ensures that accommodations, such as extended time, separate location, bilingual glossaries, or translated test directions are implemented consistently and in accordance with NYSED and DOE guidelines, enabling all multilingual learners to demonstrate their knowledge and skills under equitable testing conditions.

Part VI: Family Partnership

Family Partnership

Required Meetings Under CR Part 154

Describe your schools' plan to ensure families of ELLs are provided with the required meetings specified below as per CR Part 154. Include:

- Topics discussed during these meetings
- How your school ensures families receive necessary translation/interpretation supports to meaningfully engage in the meetings
- How your school schedules these meetings to facilitate attendance, and how your school maintains evidence of these meetings as required per the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs.

a. ELL Program Orientation to inform parents/guardians of newly identified ELLs of ELL program options, including the program goals and requirements for all three ML/ELL program models: Dual Language Bilingual Education, Transitional Bilingual Education and English as a New Language regardless of whether the school currently has either type of bilingual program and provide a high-quality orientation section on the Next Generation Learning Standards, assessments, and school expectations for English Language Learners.

Families are invited to participate in an in-person orientation to learn about the English Language Learner (ELL) programs offered at our school. During this session, families receive a detailed explanation of the different program models and how their child will be served based on their English proficiency level. The orientation highlights how English language development is integrated with rigorous, grade-level instruction aligned to the Next Generation Learning Standards, ensuring that students build both language and academic proficiency simultaneously. Families are also introduced to the instructional scaffolds and supports embedded within each model, such as visual aids, small-group instruction, and home-language support, that help ELLs succeed in the classroom.

To further support understanding, families view informational videos from the New York State Education Department (NYSED) explaining the ELL programs and services. Orientations are conducted in the family's preferred language of communication and are facilitated by our ELL teachers, who guide parents through the ELL intake process and address any questions or concerns to ensure families feel informed, welcomed, and empowered to support their child's learning.

b. Annual Individual Meeting to discuss goals of the program, language development progress, language proficiency assessment results, and language development needs in all content areas. Note:

this meeting is separate from and does not include the mandated ELL program orientation meeting and DOE-scheduled parent-teacher conferences.

Teachers are provided dedicated time within their contractual work schedule to discuss each student's language development, academic progress, and social-emotional growth. These collaborative meetings take place during teachers' Other Professional Work (OPW) time on Tuesday afternoons, allowing for consistent communication and progress monitoring. If families are unable to meet during this designated time, they are encouraged to coordinate directly with their child's teacher to schedule a mutually convenient meeting. This ongoing collaboration between teachers and families ensures that students' needs are addressed holistically and that both academic and linguistic goals are continuously supported throughout the school year.

Family Engagement

2. Beyond the mandated meetings and orientations, describe how your school:
a. Ensures families receive all school communications and documents in the language they best understand. How are families able to respond or initiate communications in languages other than English?

All documents and communications sent home are provided to families in their preferred language of communication to ensure equitable access to information. Flyers and notices are created and translated using platforms such as Adobe Express, maintaining both clarity and cultural responsiveness. For families who do not speak English and require assistance to initiate or respond to communication, the school provides translation support, first utilizing bilingual staff members within the building whenever possible. When in-house support is not available, the school uses Language Line Solutions to facilitate accurate and timely communication.

In addition, DOE phone messaging systems are used to share important updates and announcements with families. These automated messages are translated and distributed based on each family's preferred language and contact information listed in ATS, ensuring that all families remain informed, engaged, and connected to their child's educational experience.

b. Develops activities that foster empowerment for families of MLs/ELLs. Include how your school determines the needs of your community.

Our Parent Coordinator plans and sets up multiple Parent Engagement Partnership events to empower families. A survey goes out to families (translated) asking what topics they would like to learn more about. Once surveys are returned, our parent coordinator will then set up workshops during these PEP events for families to attend. If family workshops are not able to be provided on a specified topic, our parent coordinator will reach out to the families and provide support and assistance as to where they can find the information they are looking for. The Parent Coordinator has formed a community partnership with the JCC who provide free GED and ESOL classes to support and encourage families to learn English and further their education

c. Ensures families of MLs/ELLs are aware of family leadership opportunities (such as Parent Association (PA), School Leadership Team (SLT), Community Education Council (CEC), etc.)

Notices about family leadership opportunities are sent home in the families preferred language. At these meetings, translators are present to provide the information in their preferred language. Families are encouraged to become involved in family leadership opportunities no matter the primary language they speak.

3. What culturally and linguistically responsive partnerships do you currently have that support the needs of your school community?

Our school actively collaborates with several community-based organizations (CBOs) to foster culturally and linguistically responsive partnerships that address the diverse needs of our school community. These partnerships are designed to strengthen family engagement, expand learning opportunities, and promote social and linguistic development for both students and families.

We partner with the YMCA After-School Program (Y After School) to provide students with academic support, homework help, and enrichment activities that encourage collaboration, socialization, and leadership within a culturally inclusive environment. In addition, our ongoing partnership with the Jewish Community Center (JCC) offers free ESL and GED classes for families, empowering parents and guardians to strengthen their English language skills, pursue continuing education, and better support their children's learning at home.

Through these partnerships, our school builds meaningful connections between home, school, and community, ensuring that all families, regardless of language background, feel welcomed, valued, and equipped to participate fully in their child's educational journey.

Part VIII: ELL Identification Attestation and Principal Certification

Identification Plan

For additional information, refer to ELL Identification Attestation Professional Learning Module.

1. What are the titles of the members of your ELL identification team? Note: Members of the ELL identification team must be pedagogues.

- Brian Landano, Assistant Principal
- Juan Camilo Trespalacios, Assistant Principal
- Christine Passarelli, ENL Teacher
- Griselda D'Vicente, ENL Teacher
- Melissa Magrone, ENL Teacher

2. Describe the structures and process in place for identification of ELLs year-round as required by the NYC DOE Policy & Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, including your school's identification plan for any incoming students with an Individualized Education Plan (IEP). Include:

- How your school proactively plans for the ELL identification process so that it does not interrupt the provision of mandated ENL and/or bilingual instruction to current, former and potential ELLs,
- Who is responsible for each step of the ELL identification process, and
- School's plan for ensuring ELLs and former ELLs will continue to receive mandated instruction.

At P.S. 22, our team proactively plans and prepares for the enrollment and successful integration of newly registered English Language Learners (ELLs). Upon arrival, new ELLs and their families are warmly welcomed and provided with a school orientation that introduces them to our academic programs, support services, and school culture. Each family receives a welcome packet containing essential information about the school, policies, and resources available to support their child's transition.

Our Parent Coordinator, Ms. Kim Bonaventura, in collaboration with the PTA team, coordinates the incoming kindergarten orientation each June, where families learn about school expectations, programs, and upcoming events. During the summer, staff members offer school tours and informational meetings, with interpreters provided as needed, to ensure that all families understand the various instructional models available. Newly enrolled ELLs are also invited to participate in our Summer Rising School Program from July through August, which helps them strengthen academic and social skills before the new school year begins.

Throughout the year, ENL teachers ensure that new ELLs feel supported and connected by pairing them with bilingual peers who share the same home language. This peer-support model fosters belonging and promotes linguistic confidence. For students experiencing difficulty adjusting to a new school or culture, our school counselors provide small-group counseling sessions focused on social-emotional skills, cultural adaptation, and self-advocacy. Teachers explicitly teach students how to seek help, collaborate effectively with peers, and utilize tools such as online translators to support comprehension and communication. Additionally, as part of our Middle School Articulation Process, Ms. Bonaventura shares information about open houses, admissions timelines, and program options with families in their preferred language, ensuring a smooth and informed transition.

Through these coordinated efforts, P.S. 22 ensures that every newly enrolled ELL, and their family, feels welcomed, informed, supported, and empowered to thrive within our inclusive, multilingual school community.

The ELL Identification Process at P.S. 22 follows all NYSED and DOE guidelines to ensure accurate identification and appropriate placement of multilingual learners. The process is completed within 10 school days of enrollment (or 20 school days for students entering with an IEP).

Step 1: Determining Enrollment Status

The school determines whether the newly admitted student has previously attended a New York State public school within the past two years.

If yes: The school contacts the previous school to obtain ELL status, assessment results, and proficiency level.

If no (more than 2 years outside NYS public schools): The school conducts a full ELL Identification Process as part of re-entry.

Step 2: Determining Home Language

A trained and licensed pedagogue determines the student's home language.

The parent/guardian completes the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS) in their preferred language.

Translation support is provided by bilingual staff members, DOE over-the-phone translation services, or another qualified translation provider.

Step 3: Parent and Student Interview

A bilingual interview is conducted with both the student and parent in English and the home language.

The team reviews academic records, previous assessments, and student work samples to determine literacy and math proficiency in the student's home language.

Step 4: NYSITELL Eligibility

The school determines if the student is eligible to take the New York State Identification Test for English Language Learners (NYSITELL).

For students entering with an IEP, the Language Proficiency Team (LPT) reviews the case and recommends eligibility to the principal, who then seeks superintendent approval.

Step 5: NYSITELL Administration

Eligible students are administered the NYSITELL within the required timeframe.

Once testing is completed, parent notification letters are sent in the family's preferred language, explaining the student's ELL status and test results.

Step 6: Additional Assessments

If a student is identified as an ELL with Spanish as the home language, they are also administered the Spanish LAB.

The school determines if the student qualifies as a Student with Interrupted/Inconsistent Formal Education (SIFE) using NYSED's official SIFE identification resources:
NYSED SIFE Guidance

Step 7: Parent Orientation and Program Selection

Parents of newly identified ELLs are invited to an ELL Parent Orientation Meeting, which includes:

An overview of all ELL program models offered by the NYC DOE.

Viewing of the NYSED ELL Program Video in the parent's preferred language.

Opportunities for families to ask questions and receive translation and interpretation support.

The student is then placed in the ELL program model selected by the parent:

If the chosen program is not available at P.S. 22, parents are offered a transfer option to a school where the program exists.

If the parent opts to remain at P.S. 22, the student is placed in an English as a New Language (ENL) program, and the school records the parent's preference. Once thresholds are met, the school will seek to open the requested bilingual program.

Step 8: Parent Rights and Documentation

Parents are informed that they have 45 days to appeal their child's ELL identification through the ELL Reidentification Process.

If the reidentification process is initiated, the principal reviews the determination within 6–12 months of any status change.

All letters, assessments, and parent notifications are securely filed in each student's cumulative record.

Step 9: Identification Team

The members of our identification are: Certified ENL Staff, Bilingual teachers, Administration, Fully Trained Pedagogues who have knowledge of language acquisition needs.

School Assessment Team Members, including the Language Proficiency Team (LPT) when required.

The P.S. 22 team works collaboratively to ensure that ELL instruction remains uninterrupted throughout the school year, even as the ELL identification process continues for newly enrolled students. Teachers and support staff coordinate closely so that both current and former ELLs receive consistent, high-quality instruction aligned to their language proficiency levels. Newly identified ELLs are immediately provided targeted small-group instruction within their classrooms, ensuring they receive the necessary language and academic support without disruption to their learning. This approach benefits all students by maintaining instruction within each learner's zone of proximal development and fostering inclusive, differentiated learning environments. In addition, school leadership and instructional teams meet regularly to discuss student placement and design strategic supports that promote student success while maintaining the instructional integrity and balance of each classroom.

Principal Certification

In accordance with New York State's Commissioner's Regulations Part 154 as outlined and implemented in the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, I, attest that the following ELL identification procedures and activities are adhered to, and staff are trained on the items listed below.

- The ELL Identification Process is completed for each student within 10 school days of enrollment (20 school days for students entering with IEPs).
- Enrollment status of each newly admitted student is determined:
  a. If a student has been in New York State public schools within the past 2 years, our school contacts the previous school to obtain ELL status, relevant assessment scores, and English language proficiency level.
  b. If a student has been outside of New York State public schools for more than 2 years, our school administers the ELL Identification Process as part of reentry.

- The home language of the student is determined by a trained and licensed pedagogue.
  a. The parent completes the Home Language Identification Survey in the parent's preferred language; translation services are provided by a bilingual staff member, the DOE's over-the-phone translation services, or an alternative, high quality translation service.

- An interview with parents and students in English and the home language is conducted. This includes reviewing documents, prior assessments, and academic experience. An assessment of the student's abilities and/or work samples determines the student's literacy and math level in his/her home language.
- Eligibility for the NYSITELL is determined.
  a. If the newly enrolled student is entering with an IEP, the school's Language Proficiency Team (LPT) recommends eligibility to the principal, who obtains final approval from the superintendent.

- Students are administered the NYSITELL, if eligible.
- Notification letters are sent to the parent/guardian in their preferred language.
  a. Parent is notified of their child's ELL status and results of the NYSITELL.

- If the student is identified as an ELL and the student's home language is Spanish, the student is administered the Spanish Language Assessment Battery (LAB).
- Student with Interrupted/Inconsistent Formal Education (SIFE) status is determined using New York State's resources.
- If a student is a newly identified ELL, the parent is invited to the parent orientation meeting.
  a. The parent orientation meeting provides parents/guardians with an explanation of each ELL program model offered in NYC; the parent video describing the three programs is presented (in parent's preferred language); parents/guardians are encouraged to ask questions so that they are informed about all ELL programs; translation and interpretation services are provided throughout the meeting.

- ELL is placed in the ELL program that the parent selected.
  a. If the bilingual program that the parent selected is not available, the parent is offered a transfer to a school with that bilingual program in accordance with NYC DOE transfer policies.
  b. If the ELL remains in the school, the ELL is placed in English as a New Language and our school keeps track of parent selection so that when minimum thresholds are met, we can open the ELL program of choice.

- Parents are notified that they have 45 days to appeal the ELL status of their child (ELL Re-identification Process).
- If the ELL Re-identification Process is implemented for any student, the principal reviews the decision of any student whose ELL status was changed because of the ELL Re-identification Process within 6 to 12 months.
- Copies of documentation regarding ELL identification, including letters and parent notifications are kept in the students' cumulative files.

Title III Outline

Title III Supplemental Program for ELLs for SY 2025-26

REQUIREMENTS

Title III supplemental services for English Language Learners (ELLs) must include the following three components:

- Direct instruction activities must be used to support language development, English and home language instruction, high academic achievement in math, and/or high academic achievement in other core academic areas. The Title III supplemental instructional services must be based on student need. These supplemental services should complement core bilingual and ENL services required under CR Part 154. Direct supplemental services should be provided for before school, after school, and Saturday programs. Teachers providing the services must be bilingual education and/or English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) certified teachers.
- High quality professional development that is "of sufficient intensity and duration to have a positive and lasting impact on the teachers' performance in classrooms." Professional development activities should be well-planned, ongoing events rather than one-day or short-term workshops and conferences.
- Parent engagement and supports must ensure that there are appropriate translation and interpretation services to meet community needs. These are in addition to mandated activities, such as parent orientation during ELL identification process or annual ELL parent meetings.

Note: The Title III ELL program planning ratio is as follows: 60% to direct instruction, 10% to professional development (if funded using Title III ELL funds), 10% to parent engagement (if funded using Title III ELL funds), and 20% to OTPS (if funded using Title III ELL funds).

For more information on Title III requirements, please see the School Allocation Memo or contact your ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance and Performance Specialist. Any updates or revisions to this plan must be made through the iPlan portal.

Title III ELL Summary – School Year 2025–2026
Program Title: Title III After-School ENL Enrichment Program
Grade Levels Served: Grades 1 – 5

Program Schedule:
The program will take place after school, two days per week, from 2:45 p.m. – 4:45 p.m. beginning in November 2025 and concluding in March 2026.

Program Description and Instructional Focus:
P.S. 22 will provide English Language Learners in grades 1 through 5 with supplemental language and literacy instruction through the Title III after-school program. Lessons will be designed to strengthen the four language modalities listening, speaking, reading, and writing and will be aligned to the Next Generation Learning Standards and Blueprint for ELL Success.

Instruction will emphasize:
- Building oral language fluency through structured conversations, partner-talk routines, and academic discussions.
- Enhancing reading comprehension and vocabulary development through interactive read-alouds, shared reading, and thematic units connected to grade-level content.
- Developing writing skills through guided writing, sentence expansion, and response to text.

Grouping Structure:
Students will be grouped by grade band and English proficiency level (Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, Expanding, and Commanding).
A total of 5 instructional groups will be created, each consisting of approximately 10–12 ELLs, for an estimated total of 50–60 students.
Small-group configurations will allow targeted instruction and differentiated scaffolds to meet students' linguistic needs.

Instructional Delivery Model:
Instruction will be delivered by certified ENL and bilingual teachers using a team-teaching and station-rotation model to provide individualized and interactive learning experiences. Teachers will integrate multimodal supports (visuals, sentence frames, and manipulatives) to ensure equitable access to content and foster language development.

Supervision and Oversight:
The program will be supervised by an Assistant Principal, who will oversee implementation, teacher planning, and instructional quality.
Supervision Funding: The supervisor's time will be funded by Title III ELL per-session hours.
Regular Work Hours: 7:00 a.m. – 2:45 p.m.
Title III ELL Supervision Hours: 2:45 p.m. – 4:45 p.m. on program days.

The supervisor will ensure that instruction aligns with program goals, attendance is maintained, and student progress is monitored using formative assessments and language-growth measures.

Expected Outcomes:
Through participation in this program, ELLs will:
Demonstrate measurable growth in English proficiency across modalities.
Increase confidence and engagement in academic discussions.
Strengthen foundational literacy and comprehension skills that transfer to core classroom instruction.

Rationale for Title III ELL Funded Programs

Describe the rationale for each Title III ELL funded program. For each program, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis that support the need for program, and
- Data sources used to justify the need for the program

P.S. 22's five teachers will implement a variety of evidence-based instructional strategies to strengthen both English language development and content-area learning for multilingual learners. The program will integrate the HMH English 3D curriculum, which provides a structured approach to accelerating academic language, improving comprehension, and building confidence in speaking, reading, writing, and listening.

Teachers will design close-reading lessons featuring complex and engaging grade-level texts that promote critical thinking and comprehension. Vocabulary will be explicitly pre-taught, followed by text-dependent questioning and sentence deconstruction and reconstruction to build grammatical awareness and academic syntax. Students will then apply these skills through collaborative discussions and short written responses that strengthen oral and written expression.

Students will participate in small-group guided reading, shared reading, and word-study stations to build phonemic awareness, decoding skills, and sentence fluency. Writing instruction will focus on sentence expansion, paragraph construction, and evidence-based responses, while academic discussion routines such as turn-and-talk, peer feedback, and structured debates will support oral language practice and comprehension.

Analysis of NYSESLAT and formative assessment data indicates that listening comprehension is an area of need for many ELLs. To address this, teachers will provide explicit listening lessons using grade-appropriate multimedia texts and modeled think-aloud strategies. Students will listen to stories, presentations, and instructional videos, applying skills through note-taking, graphic organizers, and linguistic frames to strengthen comprehension and retention.

In preparation for the NYSESLAT and New York State standardized assessments, students will engage in practice activities using approved test practice sets and other aligned resources. Lessons will be differentiated by proficiency level to ensure equitable access to academic language and content.

Drawing from Screener Data, MTSS Cycles, Formative Assessments, and NYSESLAT Scores, P.S. 22 has identified a cohort of ELLs who require additional targeted language and literacy support. Therefore, the Title III After-School Program is designed to deliver supplemental instruction aligned with the Next Generation Learning Standards and the NYS ENL Standards, focusing on integrated, rigorous, and culturally responsive instruction.

Finally, the program will include a cultural enrichment component to foster a sense of identity, belonging, and cross-cultural appreciation. Through arts, storytelling, and collaborative projects, multilingual learners will celebrate their cultural heritage while building confidence as members of an inclusive school community.

Students and Grade Levels to be Served

For each Title III ELL funded program, describe the students that will be served. Include:

- Total number of ELLs for each program,
- Grade levels for ELLs in program, and
- ELL Subgroups (e.g., Newcomer) and/or proficiency levels (e.g., Entering, Emerging, etc.).

For the 2025–2026 school year, the P.S. 22 Title III After-School ENL Enrichment Program will serve English Language Learners (ELLs) in grades 1 through 5 across all proficiency levels, Entering, Emerging, Transitioning and Expanding.

Approximately 50–60 students will participate in the program. Students will be strategically grouped by both grade band and language proficiency to ensure instruction is developmentally appropriate and linguistically responsive. Flexible grouping will allow teachers to provide targeted support while also fostering peer modeling and collaborative learning opportunities.

Entering and Emerging ELLs will receive intensive language development instruction emphasizing foundational literacy, oral communication, and vocabulary acquisition.

Transitioning and Expanding ELLs will focus on advancing academic language, comprehension, and writing through complex text engagement and structured discourse routines.

This inclusive design ensures that all multilingual learners receive differentiated instruction aligned with the Next Generation Learning Standards and the NYS English as a New Language Standards. Lessons will target growth across all four modalities, listening, speaking, reading, and writing to accelerate language proficiency and academic achievement.

Through this comprehensive approach, P.S. 22 aims to ensure equitable access to high-quality learning experiences that build confidence, affirm linguistic identities, and promote continued progress for every English Language Learner.

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III ELL funded program, include:

- Start and end dates/months,
- Total number of sessions,
- Days of the week the program will be offered, and
- Time and duration of sessions.

The language of instruction for the program this year will be English as well as the Spanish language support when needed.

Number and Types of Certified Teachers

For each Title III ELL funded program, include number and type(s) of certified teachers (e.g., ESOL, bilingual, content area):

There will be five Dually certified ENL and or Bilingual ENL teachers for the Title III After School program.

Types of Materials

For each Title III ELL funded program, include:

- Types of materials,
- Titles and publishers of main supplemental materials,
- Location where purchased materials will be stored, and
- Whether materials will be purchased using Title III ELL funds. Please note: If materials are purchased using Title III ELL funds, they cannot exceed 20% of the total allocation.

P.S. 22 teachers will utilize a comprehensive collection of instructional materials designed to support English Language Learners (ELLs) across all proficiency levels and grade bands. These materials will enhance language development and academic achievement by providing explicit instruction in listening, speaking, reading, and writing aligned with the Next Generation Learning Standards.

Core Instructional Resource:

HMH English 3D (Grades 1–5) – Houghton Mifflin Harcourt

This research-based curriculum provides structured lessons that explicitly teach academic vocabulary, grammar, and discourse strategies. It is designed to accelerate language acquisition, improve reading comprehension, and strengthen writing proficiency for multilingual learners.

Student take-home books to encourage independent reading practice and family engagement in literacy.
Classroom materials such as texts, graphic organizers, sentence frames, anchor charts, and visual supports for scaffolding instruction.
Assessment tools and practice materials, including test prep for the NYSESLAT to support language growth monitoring and state test preparation.

Storage and Access:

All Title III-funded materials will be securely stored in the ENL Room at P.S. 22 and inventoried by the Assistant Principal and ENL. Teachers will have access to these resources for use during after-school sessions.

Funding Information:

Part C: Professional Development

Professional Development Summary

Provide a summary of your school's plan for professional development under your Title III ELL program. Please make sure to describe:

- Professional development to be provided,
- Activities that teachers will engage with by topic, and
- Whether the professional development provided will be funded by Title III ELL funds. This year, our Dual Language and TBE teachers have engaged in a PLC with Enid Martinez. Her work has be specific based on grade band to increase vocabulary, language acquisition, and build on content acquisition. This work has focused on elements such as shared reading, and interactive writing. These PLC meetings have been occurring once every-other month, lasting two periods (90 minutes) each grade-band. In these meetings, our staff developer and teachers either (1) engage in strategizing and creating robust instruction, (2) view modeled strategies from our developer, and (3) classroom inter-visitations (to name a few).

Rationale for Professional Development

Describe the rationale for the professional development to be provided. For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., patterns and trends identified) that support the need for the professional development, and
- Data sources (e.g., school survey teacher responses, in-house teacher surveys, teacher observation data) used to justify the professional development.

A vital focus at P.S.22 is the professional development of all our staff. As mandated by CR Part 80, ENL and Bilingual teachers will attend 50% of professional development related to the English language acquisition mainly focused on best practices of co-teaching and integrating content and academic language instructions for English Language Learners. All our staff and administrators are provided a minimum of 15% of professional development related to language acquisition to address the needs our our English Language learners. We take advantage of the ENL workshops offered by our Office of English Language Learners, and Teachers College Reading and Writing program.

Teachers to Receive Professional Development

Include information on the teachers to receive professional development. Please specify how all teachers working in the Title III ELL program will receive ongoing professional development related to the Title III ELL program.

The ELL teachers who will be working the TITLE III program will receive designated professional development time. In addition to this training, ALL ELL teachers will receive training throughout the school year with Enid Martinez to expand the pedagogy as it pertains to ELA. These PD's will have an emphasis on reading and writing- as data points reveal this is an area of improvement needed for our ELL students.

Part D: Family Engagement Activities

Family Engagement Summary

Provide a summary of your school's family engagement activities under your Title III ELL program. Describe the activities that families of ELLs will engage with by topic. Please make sure to include whether the activities will be funded by Title III ELL funds.
Please note: If family engagement activities will be funded by Title III ELL funds, vendor cost is calculated as part of OTPS and must not exceed 20% of the total allocation; teacher per-session is calculated as part of family engagement and must not exceed 10% of the total allocation.

Our ENL teachers will be working diligently to increase parental involvement and to provide assistance on how to support their children with schoolwork at home. During the program, our supervisor , as well as our ENL teachers, will provide various workshops to parents either via google meets or in person. All Parental Engagement Activities are available in the parent's preferred languages.

Parent workshops will be held on a monthly basis. These workshops will begin in November 2025 and end in May/June 2026. Our workshops will be provided by School Administration and the ENL teachers teaching the program.

During these workshops, we will be providing parents with resources and strategies to help their children in their reading and writing skills. Another parent workshop will be how to choose appropriate books to read to their children to develop fluency and vocabulary at home The program also offers parents and students workshops where students would have the opportunity to work with their parents.
At the end of the Title III program, we will offer a culminating parent and student celebration of the After School program. Parents notifications of these workshops will be via emails, and or backpacked letters written in their parents' home language. Our school will provide refreshments and a presentation of their children's best work. All records pertaining to our After School Program, such as attendance, sign out sheets, permission letters, meetings, and invitations to attend the program will be maintained in a binder. Invites sent home in the family's preferred language, as well as emailed & sent via the school's messenger (telephone) service).

Families are also provided with the opportunity to attended free ESL classes offered by the JCC in our school.

Rationale for Family Engagement Activities

Describe the rationale for the family engagement activities to be provided: For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., reasons for topics, time activities will be offered), and

- Data sources (e.g., parent survey responses, in-house parent surveys, PTA/PA request, etc.) used to justify the need for activities.

P S 22 is committed to engaging all parents in their children's education. Many of our ELL students come from homes where parents are unable to provide support in assisting their children with homework and school projects on a daily basis. Families have stated that they have difficulty in these areas at home, due to the inability to read and/ or understand the content.

Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (reasons for topics, time its being offered):
Based on current and previous family engagement data (attendance sheets from PTC, PTA Meetings, Culture Day), family members are eager to be involved in their educational journey. However, based on conversations and electronic correspondence, not all families know how to help or need assistance in learning for themselves.

Data sources used to justify the need for activities:
- PTA Attendance
- PTC Attendance
- Culture Day Attendance Sheets
- Electronic correspondence between teachers and families

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III ELL family engagement activity, include:

- Start and end dates/months,
- Total number of sessions,
- Days of sessions, and
- Time and duration of sessions.

Title III ELL Summary – School Year 2025–2026
Program Title: Title III After-School Enrichment Program
Grade Levels Served: Grades 1 – 5

Program Schedule:
The program will take place after school, two days per week, from 2:45 p.m. – 4:45 p.m. beginning in November 2025 and concluding in March 2026.

Program Description and Instructional Focus:
P.S. 22 will provide English Language Learners in grades 1 through 5 with supplemental language and literacy instruction through the Title III after-school program. Lessons will be designed to strengthen the four language modalities listening, speaking, reading, and writing and will be aligned to the Next Generation Learning Standards and Blueprint for ELL Success. It is important to note that this plan for the Title III Immigrant Program encompasses support for all immigrant students, including those who may not be classified as Multilingual Learners (MLLs).

Instruction will emphasize:
- Building oral language fluency through structured conversations, partner-talk routines, and academic discussions.
- Enhancing reading comprehension and vocabulary development through interactive read-alouds, shared reading, and thematic units connected to grade-level content.
- Developing writing skills through guided writing, sentence expansion, and response to text.

Grouping Structure:
Students will be grouped by grade band and English proficiency level (Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, Expanding, and Commanding).
A total of 5 instructional groups will be created, each consisting of approximately 10–12 ELLs, for an estimated total of 50–60 students.
Small-group configurations will allow targeted instruction and differentiated scaffolds to meet students' linguistic needs.

Instructional Delivery Model:
Instruction will be delivered by certified ENL and bilingual teachers using a team-teaching and station-rotation model to provide individualized and interactive learning experiences. Teachers will integrate multimodal supports (visuals, sentence frames, and manipulatives) to ensure equitable access to content and foster language development.

Supervision and Oversight:
The program will be supervised by an Assistant Principal, who will oversee implementation, teacher planning, and instructional quality.
Supervision Funding: The supervisor's time will be funded by Title III ELL per-session hours.
Regular Work Hours: 7:00 a.m. – 2:45 p.m.
Title III ELL Supervision Hours: 2:45 p.m. – 4:45 p.m. on program days.
The supervisor will ensure that instruction aligns with program goals, attendance is maintained, and student progress is monitored using formative assessments and language-growth measures.

Expected Outcomes:
Through participation in this program, ELLs will:
Demonstrate measurable growth in English proficiency across modalities.
Increase confidence and engagement in academic discussions.
Strengthen foundational literacy and comprehension skills that transfer to core classroom instruction.

Rationale for Title III Immigrant Funded Programs

Describe the rationale for each Title III Immigrant funded program:

For each program, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis that support the need for program, and
- Data sources used to justify the need for the program

P.S. 22's five teachers will implement a variety of evidence-based instructional strategies to strengthen both English language development and content-area learning for multilingual learners. The program will integrate the HMH English 3D curriculum, which provides a structured approach to accelerating academic language, improving comprehension, and building confidence in speaking, reading, writing, and listening.

Teachers will design close-reading lessons featuring complex and engaging grade-level texts that promote critical thinking and comprehension. Vocabulary will be explicitly pre-taught, followed by text-dependent questioning and sentence deconstruction and reconstruction to build grammatical awareness and academic syntax. Students will then apply these skills through collaborative discussions and short written responses that strengthen oral and written expression.

Students will participate in small-group guided reading, shared reading, and word-study stations to build phonemic awareness, decoding skills, and sentence fluency. Writing instruction will focus on sentence expansion, paragraph construction, and evidence-based responses, while academic discussion routines such as turn-and-talk, peer feedback, and structured debates will support oral language practice and comprehension.

Analysis of NYSESLAT and formative assessment data indicates that listening comprehension is an area of need for many ELLs. To address this, teachers will provide explicit listening lessons using grade-appropriate multimedia texts and modeled think-aloud strategies. Students will listen to stories, presentations, and instructional videos, applying skills through note-taking, graphic organizers, and linguistic frames to strengthen comprehension and retention.

In preparation for the NYSESLAT and New York State standardized assessments, students will engage in practice activities using approved test practice sets and other aligned resources. Lessons will be differentiated by proficiency level to ensure equitable access to academic language and content.

Drawing from Screener Data, MTSS Cycles, Formative Assessments, and NYSESLAT Scores, P.S. 22 has identified a cohort of ELLs who require additional targeted language and literacy support. Therefore, the Title III After-School Program is designed to deliver supplemental instruction aligned with the Next Generation Learning Standards and the NYS ENL Standards, focusing on integrated, rigorous, and culturally responsive instruction.

Finally, the program will include a cultural enrichment component to foster a sense of identity, belonging, and cross-cultural appreciation. Through arts, storytelling, and collaborative projects, multilingual learners will celebrate their cultural heritage while building confidence as members of an inclusive school community.

Students and Grade Levels to be Served

For each Title III Immigrant funded program, describe the students that will be served:

Include:

- Total number of students for each program,
- Grade levels for students in program, and
- If ELLs are also included in these programs, (e.g., Newcomer).

For the 2025–2026 school year, the P.S. 22 Title III After-School ENL Enrichment Program will serve English Language Learners (ELLs) in grades 1 through 5 across all proficiency levels, Entering, Emerging, Transitioning and Expanding.

Approximately 50–60 students will participate in the program. Students will be strategically grouped by both grade band and language proficiency to ensure instruction is developmentally appropriate and linguistically responsive. Flexible grouping will allow teachers to provide targeted support while also fostering peer modeling and collaborative learning opportunities.

Entering and Emerging ELLs will receive intensive language development instruction emphasizing foundational literacy, oral communication, and vocabulary acquisition.

Transitioning and Expanding ELLs will focus on advancing academic language, comprehension, and writing through complex text engagement and structured discourse routines.

This inclusive design ensures that all multilingual learners receive differentiated instruction aligned with the Next Generation Learning Standards and the NYS English as a New Language Standards. Lessons will target growth across all four modalities, listening, speaking, reading, and writing to accelerate language proficiency and academic achievement.

Through this comprehensive approach, P.S. 22 aims to ensure equitable access to high-quality learning experiences that build confidence, affirm linguistic identities, and promote continued progress for every English Language Learner.

Describe the activities that families of immigrant students (including ELLs) will engage with by topic. Please make sure to include whether the activities will be funded by Title III Immigrant funds. Please note: If family engagement activities will be at funded by Title III Immigrant funds, vendor cost is calculated as part of OTPS and must not exceed 20% of the total allocation; teacher per-session is calculated as part of family engagement and must not exceed 10% of the total allocation.

Our ENL teachers will be working diligently to increase parental involvement and to provide assistance on how to support their children with schoolwork at home. During the program, our supervisor , as well as our ENL teachers, will provide various workshops to parents either via google meets or in person. All Parental Engagement Activities are available in the parent's preferred languages.

Parent workshops will be held on a monthly basis. These workshops will begin in November 2025 and end in May/June 2026. Our workshops will be provided by School Administration and the ENL teachers teaching the program.

During these workshops, we will be providing parents with resources and strategies to help their children in their reading and writing skills. Another parent workshop will be how to choose appropriate books to read to their children to develop fluency and vocabulary at home The program also offers parents and students workshops where students would have the opportunity to work with their parents.
At the end of the Title III program, we will offer a culminating parent and student celebration of the After School program. Parents notifications of these workshops will be via emails, and or backpacked letters written in their parents' home language. Our school will provide refreshments and a presentation of their children's best work. All records pertaining to our After School Program, such as attendance, sign out sheets, permission letters, meetings, and invitations to attend the program will be maintained in a binder. Invites sent home in the family's preferred language, as well as emailed & sent via the school's messenger (telephone) service).

Families are also provided with the opportunity to attended free ESL classes offered by the JCC in our school.

Rationale for Family Engagement Activities

Describe the rationale for the family engagement activities to be provided:

For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., reasons for topics, time activities will be offered), and

- Data sources (e.g., parent survey responses, in-house parent surveys, PTA/PA request) used to justify the need for activities.

P S 22 is committed to engaging all parents in their children's education. Many of our ELL students come from homes where parents are unable to provide support in assisting their children with homework and school projects on a daily basis. Families have stated that they have difficulty in these areas at home, due to the inability to read and/ or understand the content.

Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (reasons for topics, time its being offered):
Based on current and previous family engagement data (attendance sheets from PTC, PTA Meetings, Culture Day), family members are eager to be involved in their educational journey. However, based on conversations and electronic correspondence, not all families know how to help or need assistance in learning for themselves.

Data sources used to justify the need for activities:
- PTA Attendance
- PTC Attendance
- Culture Day Attendance Sheets
- Electronic correspondence between teachers and families

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III Immigrant family engagement activity, include:

To ensure strong communication and family participation, teachers will share presentation materials with parents either before or during the workshop and will document attendance using a physical or digital sign-in sheet. All workshop materials will be reviewed and approved by a supervisor prior to being shared with families.
