Section 1: Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Overview of Comprehensive Education Planning

Comprehensive Education Planning (CEP) is a structured, data-driven process that guides schools in assessing their needs, identifying areas for growth, setting strategic goals and implementing targeted actions to improve student outcomes. Collaboratively developed by the School Leadership Team (SLT) in accordance with the requirements of Chancellor's Regulation A-655, the CEP meets New York State Education Department (NYSED) requirements under the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) and aligns with NYC Public Schools' (NYCPS) system-wide priorities. By engaging all stakeholders—school leaders, teachers, families, students and community members—schools can create a data-informed, equity-focused roadmap for student success and continuous improvement.

Schools should focus their CEP on the five system-wide priorities below, connecting their planning to the data discussions and conversations with stakeholders held as part of the school's needs assessment:

- Priority 1: All students learn to read well
- Priority 2: All students are physically and emotionally safe
- Priority 3: All students have a high-quality academic experience
- Priority 4: All students graduate college and career ready and have a strong plan and pathway to economic security
- Priority 5: All districts and schools are more inclusive and responsive for parents and families, including having more families choose NYC Public Schools

The Education Planning Process

The CEP follows an equity-driven, continuous improvement cycle, rooted in the system-wide priorities. This begins with a comprehensive needs assessment of the school's most current data to identify priority needs and root causes. Next, the SLT establishes specific, measurable, attainable, relevant, and timely—SMART goal(s) aligned to each priority and determines targets to measure progress toward meeting the annual goals.

The SLT and instructional leaders define key evidence-based key strategies, professional learning activities and parent, family and community empowerment efforts. They monitor the implementation of those strategies and activities and track progress through measurable targets. Then, the SLT aligns the school-based budget with human and instructional resources to support action plans.

As schools set goals, develop key strategies, and plan action steps, they provide opportunities for all children to meet NYSED's proficient and advanced levels of student academic achievement. These include evidence based instructional strategies that address the educational needs of historically underserved populations and tackle structural inequities. Schools indicate how the plan addresses the needs of Multilingual/English Language Learners (ML/ELL) through development of the school's Language Allocation Policy (LAP) & Title III Application (if applicable) and the Language Translation and Interpretation (LTI) Plan, that are required as part of the CEP. Schools also address the needs of Students with Disabilities (SWD) through the High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities section of the plan. SLTs also develop a plan to improve attendance and reduce chronic absenteeism.

Guidance on Conducting a Comprehensive Needs Assessment

Directions: Conduct a comprehensive needs assessment for each Priority. The information below provides guidance for reviewing and analyzing student and school performance trends to uncover root causes for low student achievement.

1. Review Multiple Data Sources: Use the most current and available information including, but not limited to, the following sources of formative and summative data, as applicable:

- Qualitative and quantitative data, including enrollment and class size trends
- 2024-25 ESSA Accountability Data
- Instructional Leadership Framework (ILF), Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) Inventories, and NYC School Survey results
- Quality Review Reports, NYSED and NYCPS CSI or A/TSI Support Visits, Receivership Quarterly Reports, and Diagnostic Tool for School and District Effectiveness Framework (DTSDE)
- NYC School Quality Guide, Insight, New Visions, NWEA MAP and/or other formative assessment data, IEP Review Survey Data, Progress on IEP Goals Data, Program (SESIS-STARS Linkage) Reports, Mandated (Related) Services Reports, and NYCPS Tools for Understanding Your Data for student subgroup information

2. Analyze Data Trend(s) to Identify Areas of Strength and Need: Identify data trends by grade, cohort, and content area(s) to surface gaps and inequities. Compare data sets to identify instructional and school practices that are impacting student performance. Guiding questions to consider:

- What does the data reveal about improving and declining student performance trends within grades, cohorts, and student subgroups?
- What inequities are evident between highest and lowest performing student subgroups? Which subgroup(s) scored at Level 1 based on NYSED ESSA accountability indicators?
- What does the data suggest regarding the effectiveness (or ineffectiveness) of current school programs, practices, and/or strategies/initiatives? What areas may need to be strengthened?
- Are there any differences in student performance between program delivery models for ML/ELL and SWD? (e.g., for special education: special class, ICT, SETSS, related services only; for ML/ELL: Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) vs. Dual Language, etc.)
- How does delivery of instruction factor into data trends? What are the implications for teacher quality and professional learning?
- What inequities in special education referral and school disciplinary practices (e.g. suspensions, removals) are evident between student subgroups with IEPs?

3. Identify Root Cause(s): After analyzing the data, engage in a process for uncovering root causes or contributing factors for low student and school performance. Develop theories or hypotheses to explain why these needs exist and why your school is getting its current outcomes. Root causes could be related to gaps and inequities in areas such as curriculum & instruction, school systems & structures, student support services, school climate & safety, and family & community engagement. Focus on the causes, rather than the symptoms. Use the 5 Whys Method or other methods for identifying root causes. Consider the questions below:

- What theories or hypotheses explain the current student and school outcomes?
- Are there root causes specific to certain subgroups, grades, cohorts, or content area(s)?

Additional resources and supports are available below.

- Use this CEP Needs Assessment Worksheet to help your SLT and stakeholders identify appropriate data sources, data trends, root causes and priority needs.
- For guidance and best practices on engaging stakeholders in a comprehensive needs assessment and root cause analysis, see this deck.
- A current list of all CEP/Title I resources can be found on the iPlan Portal Public Resources Page.

Section 4: School Summary

Accountability Status

Accountability Status: LSI

School Summary

Directions: Complete this CEP Summary to serve as the "at-a-glance" narrative that provides contextual information about your school's unique characteristics. This summary and the entire Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) should be shared with your school community. Please note that this summary and the CEP will be made available to the public through the iPlan Portal, an online space where school stakeholders can go to collaborate in the development of the school's education plans.

Provide your school's mission statement:

Members of our school staff are perpetual learners taking the opportunity for continuous professional development. Our teachers and paraprofessionals continue to learn how to support our students to become strong, confident readers through phonics-based literacy instruction from the start. Through visual schedules, pictures, and communication devices we strengthen language development in non-verbal students.

Teachers provide classroom practices that are culturally responsive, making learning contextual. Students are encouraged to connect text to their lives or the current moment. We foster the love of learning through exposure to curricula that includes technology and the arts so that students can reach their full potential. Our students are always encouraged to participate in all District 75 celebrations to show off what they can do.

We foster student advocacy whenever possible. Students are encouraged to be present and actively participate in the IEP continuum.

We value the engagement, collaboration and partnership of families and community members for our students to thrive.

Develop a narrative summary that includes contextual information about your school's community and its unique/important characteristics and partnerships:

Include demographic information about your school's student population.

P9Q is a District 75 school serving approximately 680 students in grades kindergarten through grade eight across seven sites. P9Q is solely comprised of students with Individualized Education Plans presenting with a variety of disability classifications and classroom ratios. Students take part in either standardized or alternate assessments to appropriately measure their progress throughout the school year.

P9 Demographics:
Hispanic: 39.%
Native American: 2.21%
Black: 23.9%,
White; 7.65%
Asian: 25.4%
Hawaiian/Pacific Islander: <1%
MultiRacial: 1%

P9 Assessment Type:
Alternate Assessment: 56.9%

Standardized Assessment: 43.1%

Approximately 32.2% of our students are classified as Multilingual Learners and English Language Learners (MLLs/ELLs). These learners, with the support of the ENL teachers and ENL methodologies, are afforded greater access to all academic content. Our most recent student demographics for our ELLs are as follows: Asian: 26.8%, Black: 5.0%, American Indian or Alaskan Native: 28.6%, Native Hawaiian/Pacific Islander: <1%, White: 37.7%. Several of the chief tenets championed here at P9Q are that students learn best when they are: • taught in a safe, nurturing, and motivating environment • presented with well-prepared, relevant standards-based lessons which foster independence • taught through meaningful and appropriately challenging curricula with an emphasis on learning through different modalities • challenged to meet their highest academic and behavioral expectations • supported by a strong collaboration between home and school. Each student's specific needs are addressed by utilizing a comprehensive set of educational strategies that are wholly consistent with prevailing researched methods. These strategies are used entirely in concert with related service providers, specialists, and support staff. Skills such as receptive and expressive communication, appropriate social interactions, overall gross and fine motor skills receive tremendous attention and remain the central features of our comprehensive program. In addition, students receive tiered and/or graduated instruction in all subject areas that are appropriate to their educational level and ability. The foundation for each student rests on this tailored instructional model. Robust assessments are appropriately conducted to determine the progress of each student across time. Overall, the student's educational framework is always finely tuned and compassionately rendered.

Briefly summarize the key initiatives your school will implement this school year.

1). Build confident readers by:
-unpacking Next Generation Learning Standards and Essential Elements with staff on each grade level

Priority 1 Data Trends, Root Causes and Priority Needs

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

1. Data Trend(s) (Cite Data Source & Year)	2. Root Cause(s)	3. Priority Needs
SANDI results from the 2024-2025 school year measuring an overall average of 44% in the area of Reading Foundations. - Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

-Regularly use student data to adjust instruction and intervention based on students' readiness levels and learning profiles.
-Identify and implement functional communication systems to effectively teach students how to make requests (mands)

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

Priority 2

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing school data trends, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for physical and emotional safety outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Systemwide Focus Areas for Physical and Emotional Safety

- Develop safety infrastructure and systems, including staff training, collaboration with external partners, and implementation of safety and security best practices
- Expand social emotional and mental health supports via restorative justice, Project Pivot, screeners, and other district or school-based initiatives (as applicable)
- Expand implementation of physical and mental wellness supports, including Physical and Health Education that meets NYSED requirements and related initiatives
- Improve supports and outcomes for socially vulnerable student populations (Students in Temporary Housing, Students in Foster Care)

Students with Disabilities (SWD)	29	By June, 2026, physical and mental wellness for Students with Disabilities (SWD) will improve, as measured by a 6 point decrease, in number of Level 3-5 incidents from 29 to 23, per the Online Occurrence Reporting System (OORS) reports.

Priority 2 Progress Measures and Targets

Directions: It is expected that progress monitoring, based on interim outcome data, occurs at three progress monitoring periods during the school year. Priority 5 Data Trends, Root Causes and Priority Needs

Priority Needs and Root Causes

Directions: After conducting your comprehensive needs assessment for this Priority use the chart below to:

- Summarize the data trends (gaps in student and school performance) for each priority. Use the most current data available and cite the data sources and years.
- Identify the root causes (and/or contributing factors, theories, hypotheses) that explain the current student and school outcomes.
- Indicate the high leverage priority needs determined by your school that, if resolved, will advance equity and result in measurable, positive impact on student outcomes.

Guiding Questions:
1. Data Trends: What did you see as you analyzed data trends? Cite data sources and years, including those available from NYCPS and NYSED.
2. Root Causes: What do you believe are the reasons within the school's control that are leading to these outcomes?
3. Priority Needs: What are the most important needs identified after completing your needs assessment?

Priority 5

Directions: After conducting a comprehensive needs assessment by analyzing the school data, exploring your school vision/values/aspirations, and listening to students to surface priority needs and identify root causes, develop at least one outcome-focused SMART goal for this Priority informed by the identified priority needs and the relevant systemwide focus areas for parent, family, community and system responsiveness outlined below. Use the SMART Goal builder in iPlan for support in developing your goal.

Focus Areas for System Responsiveness to Parents, Families and Communities

- Engage more deeply with families to understand their needs and plan new, high-quality programs
- Build community trust and bolster engagement, including via improved language access and increased family engagement and participation
- Implement the newly updated NYCPS School Wellness Policy, which provides a framework for all members of the school community, including families and students, to come together and assess and coordinate wellness efforts for their community
- Implement and lead strategies that support community involvement and increase Minority and Women Owned Business Enterprises (MWBE) utilization

Priority 5 Action Plan

Directions: Identify the key strategy and progressive action steps your school will take to address the specific priority needs and root causes identified for this goal(s). More than one strategy can be indicated if multiple and/or differentiated needs for this priority have been identified.

- Key strategies should be key levers for success and may represent something that is new to the school.
- Action steps to operationalize key strategies should focus on new activities or initiatives and/or modifications to current initiatives (e.g., expanded to reach a wider audience or refined for greater impact on students).

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Increase parent voice in decision making through feedback from a survey incorporating the following...
-Curriculum decision-making.
-Behavioral and Social-Emotional Supports.
-Impact of parent engagement opportunities.
-Overall school improvements.

Root Cause Addressed:

Need to increase parent voice in school-wide decision making and accessibility to online P.9Q digital platforms to access parent survey.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Create a school survey to target instructional and social emotional priorities, as well as, areas of concern for families
Increase parent awareness through digital platforms such as a QR code, Remind, P.9Q school website, and P.9Q social media platforms.
A P.9Q flyer will be sent home with a QR code giving access to the parent survey form.
Paper-based surveys will be sent to families in their home language.

Note: Routine activities your school does every year should not be included.

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

Implement proactive engagement and support systems to prevent chronic absenteeism by analyzing attendance trends, increasing outreach in students' home languages, and implementing timely, targeted interventions for students identified as "at risk."

Root Cause Addressed:

-Attendance rates are impacted by students who are chronically absent due to medical needs and health-related issues requiring hospitalization.

-Establish a more effective system for family outreach prior to the start of the school year to proactively address transportation challenges that can lead to lower student attendance.

-Continue parent communication with those families who move out of NYC or transfer to another school.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Develop and implement improved attendance practices to combat chronic absenteeism such as a monthly attendance tracker to send home to families.
Weekly incentives to reward students with good attendance.
Increase parent outreach prior to the start of the upcoming school year.

Sending monthly letters home to families for students absent 3 or more times per month.

High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities Action Plan

Key Strategy 1 (Required):

-Provide site-based professional development to support teachers and service providers in IEP compliance and implementation of best practices.
-Identify a site-based liaison to monitor IEP compliance.
-Add one IEP coordinator position at our Main site.
-Continue SBO for a Special Education Coordinator for P.9Q.

Root Cause Addressed:

-Additional time is needed for IEP Coordinators and IEP Point Persons to effectively track and monitor IEP compliance in alignment with the school's timeline. This will allow for proactive outreach to support teachers and prevent delays that could lead to noncompliance.

-Teachers must be held more accountable for following our school's IEP policies to ensure IEPs are completed on time and remain in compliance.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
IEP Coordinators and/or designated point person will track the IEP compliance checklist bi-weekly to ensure that the IEP team and teachers are adhering to the school's IEP timeline.
If timeline is not being adhered to, or is at risk of being out of compliance, the IEP Coordinator and/or administration will document it and meet with the teacher and IEP team as a proactive approach to staying in compliance.

Key Strategy 2 (Optional):

Increase Speech and Language Therapy services for unserved students by partially serving them in group sessions.

Root Cause Addressed:

A significant number of students remain unserved because speech therapists prioritize fulfilling full individual mandates, leaving no opportunity to deliver partial services. Large number of students identified having little or no functional communication.

Action Steps:

Indicate what your school will do specifically to implement each strategy to achieve this annual goal. Include both student-facing activities and professional learning for staff. Be sure to indicate how action steps will be introduced and rolled out.

Action Steps
Speech providers will partially fulfill mandates in groups to ensure that more students have the opportunity to receive services to reduce the number of unserved students.
Increase incentives for speech providers to add unserved students to their IEP caseloads in groups, while staying within their contractual mandates.
Prioritize Speech and Language Therapy services for unserved students who lack a functional communication system.

Implementation Monitoring: Indicate your primary structures to progress monitor implementation of key strategies and action steps. Include specific data/evidence you will collect and use to determine progress and impact on instruction, student learning, and achievement.

Note: Implementation Progress Checks will be conducted in the Progress Reporting Tool (PRT) in the iPlan Portal for the 2025-26 school year.

School-wide implementation progress checks will be monitored monthly via Related Services Mandate Report. A school-wide tracking form will be created as a live document that will include current mandates, changes to student mandates, and mandate compliance.

High Quality Inclusive & Accessible Learning for Students with Disabilities Family and Community Engagement

Family and Community Engagement

Directions: Indicate the multi-tiered supports (strategies & activities) that will be implemented to support and engage families (including foster parents, birth parents, and families with limited English proficiency) and plans for community collaboration in the implementation of this action plan, surrounding the four priority needs. Include:

1) a description of the school's supports and processes for students with disabilities;
2) a coherent mechanism is implemented for updating families on their child's progress towards measurable annual and post-secondary transition goals;
3) a procedure to ensure families are involved during decision-making for IEP development and implementation.

Use N/A if not applicable and/or indicate other resource needs.

Schools are encouraged to think critically and strategically when considering resources that can support progress towards CEP goals for students with IEPs. This includes utilizing Title I funding for at-risk speech and/or counseling services, all-staff training in supporting students with autism, sensory materials, summer institute geared at the development of executive functioning skills, and/or inclusion coaching support. Schools may also consider utilizing Title II funds to reduce the ratio of students with IEPs to typically developing peers in ICT classes.

Section 6: Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS)

Academic Support

NYCPS Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) align with NYSED guidelines for providing Academic Intervention Services (AIS) to students who have not yet met state standards or are considered to be at-risk of not meeting state standards. The Multi-tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) framework, organizes supports into three tiers:

Tier 1 provides schoolwide, high-quality programming for all students, including SWDs;

Tier 2 offers data informed small-group interventions for at-promise students; and Tier 3 delivers intensive, individualized support for students with persistent needs.

This facilitates the strategic planning and necessary resource alignment to ensure their school community appropriately and adequately serves all students well, in partnership with students and families.

MTSS identifies the academic support services to be provided and ensures that students receive Response to Intervention (RtI) and Positive Behavioral Interventions and Support (PBIS) strategies as needed. See NYSED's memo to view the criteria for determining AIS services. The Supportive Environment Framework (SEF) offers a wide range of evidence-based Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions and supports for student social-emotional, behavioral, physical and mental wellness, with particular attention to the unique needs of students in Temporary Housing and/or Foster Care, who may face additional challenges related to school stability, trauma and access to educational resources. A culturally responsive-sustaining approach to intervention embeds culturally relevant texts and historical narratives into literacy and social studies interventions, ensuring students receive the support that reflects their identities and lived experiences, increasing engagement and achievement.

Use the charts below and a Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) to match academic, social/emotional, behavioral and instructional resources with student needs to provide targeted support for all learners, especially at-risk students who experience difficulty meeting state standards, including those living in Temporary Housing and/or residing in Foster Care placements. Indicate specialized materials, technology-based tools and/or extra instruction, including Expanded Learning Time that supplement school-wide systems & supports and/or classroom level supports. Ensure that interventions address the unique social-emotional, behavioral and academic challenges faced by culturally and linguistically diverse students, as well as those impacted by housing instability and child welfare system involvement.

Directions: Complete the chart and identify Tier 2 or 3 MTSS Academic supports. Any Tier 2/3 interventions should be in addition to the foundational work being done at Tier 1.

Any Tier 2/3 interventions should be in addition to the foundational work being done at Tier 1.

Students in Temporary Housing (STH) Support

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-STH Section and in accordance with the federal McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act and Chancellor's Regulation A-780, schools must identify, serve, and report on students living in temporary housing (STH). All Title I and non-Title I schools receive a Title I allocation for STH students. The Students in Temporary Housing (STH) website provides guidance on STH pupils and how these funds can be used to meet their needs, as well as restrictions. For more information on acceptable uses of the mandated Title I, Part A set-aside to support your STH population, please refer to the Title I STH Funds Toolkit.

Identify the number of Students in Temporary Housing who are currently attending your school and provide a breakdown of their temporary housing status. Since the number of STH children can change regularly, schools must carefully track this number to determine whether there has been an increase in need.

Number of students in temporary housing who are:

- Doubled up (with friends or relatives because they cannot find or afford housing):
- Living in a shelter or transitional shelter:
- Living in a hotel/motel:
- Other

*Note: In keeping with established practices regarding personally identifiable information, use the letter "s" to identify a number less than five (5).

After a careful analysis of historical demographic, attendance and achievement data for your STH population, what trends do you notice, and how can these trends inform the services and support provided for this population?

We noticed that our Students in Temporary Housing need instructional supplies, clothing and hygiene kits based on the STH Title I Survey conducted. The survey results were tallied, and this data was utilized to conduct the needs assessment.

Describe the services you are planning to provide to the STH population. How were those services selected to best meet students' needs? How will you (or did you) utilize the STH Title I Survey to select services aligned to need?

Purchasing of school supplies with STH allocation.

The Parent Coordinator will conduct ongoing outreach with families to share at home resources for special education services.

Prioritizing Students in Foster Care

As included in your school's Office of School and Youth Development Consolidated Plan-Child Child Abuse and Neglect Intervention and Prevention School Plan and in accordance with the federal Education Law 3244 – Education of Children in Foster Care (Effective 2018) establishes the rights of students placed, or moved, in foster care to:

- Continue attending school of origin if determined to be in their best interest, or, if not, attend school near foster care placement,
- Immediate enrollment, and
- Transportation, if necessary to attend school of origin

Please respond to the questions below.

How many students in foster care are currently enrolled at your school? Provide a detailed breakdown of the social-emotional and academic supports available to them.

Per the Tiered Response Protocol report dated 2/2025, we have 5 students in foster care.

Counselors/clinicians provide individual and group counseling sessions to establish safety, a brave space, and teach students to disclose abuse/neglect issues in their surroundings. They also work with foster care agencies/foster parents to connect with community services such as therapy, extra-curricular activities, and other agencies that provide services to meet the needs of our special need's population. Classroom teams and related service providers collaborate to foster positive learning environments for students to receive academic services and interventions that address his/her individual learning needs and individual education plans (IEP). Positive behavior supports and interventions are social emotional lessons are also incorporated into daily supports to foster and develop social emotional deficits in different areas of Social Play & Emotional Development, Emotional Regulation, and Communication Skills.

What targeted supports are in place for students in foster care, including those newly transitioning into the foster care system? How does your school ensure these students receive the necessary interventions to promote stability and success?

A support team, which includes the school social worker, guidance counselor, and relevant service providers, works collaboratively to develop a tailored support plan for students in foster care.

Implement the Communicative, Aware, Responsible, Engaged (C.A.R.E) Matrix into our SEL instruction.

The pupil accounting secretary and clinicians collaborate with ACS, foster care agencies and foster parents to support students and foster care families, by connecting them with agencies that work with the disabilities of our students. We also advocate for students to remain with our school to have stable and consistent staff that are familiar with our students and his/her individual learning and social emotional needs.

After analyzing historical demographic, attendance, and achievement data for students in foster care, what trends have emerged? How can these insights be used to improve the services and support provided to this population?

Collaborating with OPT to expedite bussing changes has improved attendance. We also meet with case managers/planners, other supporting foster care staff, and foster parent(s) to provide a continuum of care. This includes workshops to help meet the individual needs and disability of the student.

What specific strategies does your school implement to ensure students in foster care, particularly those in transitional grades, receive targeted Social-Emotional Learning (SEL) support? How do these strategies help address academic and behavioral challenges?

P.9Q implements classroom and school wide positive behavior supports and interventions to foster positive environments and teach social emotional skills. These skills teach our students the skills and implementation of social skills, communication skills, and coping strategies to improve outcomes in the different environments and situations he/she may encounter.

Professional Development and Staff training on SEL strategies that support students who are in foster care or temporary housing.

Tailor SEL goals and supports to each student's needs, often integrated into IEPs.

Ensure that SEL instruction is relevant and responsive to the student’s lived experience.

Section 7: Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Directions: The Parent and Family Engagement Policy should describe how your school will plan and implement effective parent and family engagement activities and/or strategies to improve student academic achievement and school performance. The School-Parent Compact (SPC) is a component of the Parent and Family Engagement Policy (PFEP) that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share this responsibility.

The activities and/or strategies included in your school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy should align with current Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) goals for improving student achievement and should be developed or updated with input and feedback from parent leaders and the Parent Coordinator. In addition, if the school community will be engaged in central parent engagement initiatives, such as Parent Academy, which will provide training for school communities to help strengthen family-school partnerships, please be sure to include these activities in the school's policy.

In Title I schools, the Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC) represents the Title I parent community in supporting parent and family engagement. The Title I PAC Chairperson will serve in a consultative role with the SLT representing the school's Title I parents. Schools are encouraged to use the sample Parent and Family Engagement and SPC templates below (which meet federal Title I parent and family engagement requirements) as guidance for updating the school's current policy.

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental engagement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent and family engagement policy that will establish expectations and objectives for meaningful parent and family engagement in the school community. P9Q, in compliance with Section 1116 of Title I, Part A of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), is responsible for creating and implementing a parent and family engagement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between the school and the families. The school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), and Title I Parent Advisory Council as trained volunteers and welcomed members of the school community.

Support for Parents and Family Members of Title I Students

P9Q will support parents and family members of Title I students by:
- providing materials and training to help parents work with their children to improve their achievement level, e.g., literacy, math and use of technology;
- providing parents with the information and training needed to effectively become involved in planning and decision making in support of the education of their children;
- fostering a caring and effective home-school partnership to ensure that parents can effectively support and monitor their child's progress;
- providing assistance to parents in understanding City, State and Federal standards and assessments;

- providing professional learning opportunities for school staff with the assistance of parents to improve outreach, communication skills and cultural competency in order to build stronger ties between parents and other members of the school community;

Parental Involvement and School Quality

The school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy was designed based upon a careful assessment of the needs of all parents/guardians, including parents/guardians of Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners (ML/ELL), and students with disabilities. The school community, with the meaningful involvement of parents and family members, will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent and family engagement policy with Title I parents to improve the academic quality of the school. The findings of the evaluation through school surveys and feedback forms will be used to design strategies to more effectively meet the needs of parents and family members and enhance the school's Title I program. This information will be maintained by the school.

In developing the Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy, parents of Title I participating students, parent members of the school's Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), as well as parent members of the School Leadership Team, were consulted on the proposed Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and asked to survey their members for additional input. To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, the school will:
- actively involve and engage parents and family members in the planning, review and evaluation of the effectiveness of the school's Title I program as outlined in the School Comprehensive Education Plan, including the implementation of the school's Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy and School-Parent Compact;
- engage all parents in discussion and decisions regarding the required Title I, 1% set-aside funds, which are allocated directly to the school to supplement parent and family engagement activities, including family literacy and parenting skills;
- ensure that the Title I funds allocated for parent and family engagement are utilized to implement activities and strategies as described in the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy and the School-Parent Compact;
- support school-level committees that include parents who are members of the School Leadership Team, the Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Advisory Council. This includes providing technical support and ongoing professional learning, especially in developing leadership skills;
- maintain a Parent Coordinator (or a dedicated staff person) to serve as a liaison between the school and families. The Parent Coordinator or a dedicated staff person will provide parent workshops based on the assessed needs of the parents of children who attend the school and will work to ensure that the school environment is welcoming and inviting to all parents. The Parent Coordinator will also maintain a log of events and activities planned for parents each month and file a report with the central office.;
- conduct parent workshops with topics that may include: parenting skills, understanding educational accountability grade-level curriculum and assessment expectations; literacy, accessing community and support services; and technology training to build parents' capacity to help their children at home;

- provide opportunities for parents to help them understand the accountability system, e.g., ESSA/State accountability system, student proficiency levels, Annual School Report Card, School Quality Report, Quality Review Report, Learning Environment Survey Report;
- host the required Annual Title I Parent Meeting each school year to advise parents of children participating in the Title I program about the school's Title I funded program(s), their right to be involved in the program and the parent and family engagement requirements under Title I, Part A, Section 1116 and other applicable sections under ESSA;
- schedule additional parent meetings, e.g., quarterly meetings, with flexible times, such as meetings in the morning or evening, to share information about the school's educational program and other initiatives of the Chancellor and allow parents to provide suggestions;
- translate all critical school documents and provide interpretation during meetings and events as needed.

Encouraging School-Level Parental Involvement

The school will further encourage school-level parent and family engagement by:
- hosting educational family events/activities during Parent-Teacher Conferences and throughout the school year;
- encouraging meaningful parent participation on School Leadership Teams, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Advisory Council;

Language Allocation Policy Outline

2025-26 Language Allocation Policy (LAP)

This submission form supports schools with organizing a well-conceived school-based Language Allocation Policy (LAP) that describes high quality programs for Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners (MLs/ELLs). This is an annual plan of how your school will support the linguistic and academic needs of MLs/ELLs and must be completed yearly. The Language Allocation Policy (LAP) is a part of schools' Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP).

This is a living document. Any school-wide changes involving the instruction of MLs/ELLs, such as the addition or expansion of a Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) or Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) program, should be updated in this form.

Agenda, minutes of LAP meetings, and LAP team members' attendance at meetings should be kept readily available on file in the school with all other ML/ELL critical documents. When preparing your school's submission, provide extended responses in the available spaces.

For additional information, refer to the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs. For additional support with ML/ELL policy, please reach out to your respective ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance Performance Specialist; for support with ML/ELL instruction, please contact your ML/ELL Services Administrator.

Part III: ML/ELL Programming

Please refer to New York State Commissioner's Regulation (CR) Part 154 Units of Study Tables as you describe academic programming for MLs/ELLs at your school below. Please do not leave any fields blank and indicate "N/A" for any fields that are not applicable.

Describe your English as a New Language (ENL), and if applicable Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE), and Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs. For each program, include:

- How stand-alone ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How integrated ENL is implemented as per CR Part 154
- How students are grouped (e.g., block [class travels together as a group], ungraded [all students regardless of grade are in one class], heterogeneous [mixed proficiency levels], homogenous [proficiency level is the same in one class]).

a. English as a New Language (ENL)
Stand-alone ENL:

Students are served the maximum number of CR-Part 154 Stand-alone mandated minutes possible within the constraints of staffing a school with seven sites. Our 4 ENL teachers are itinerant and pull students from their self-contained classes to provide stand-alone ENL.

When necessary, alternate placement paraprofessionals are language supports to students who have a BSE (Bilingual Special Education) mandate for which there is no BSE placement at this time.

Our stand-alone model is homogenous, in which students are grouped with students of the the same proficiency level and grade band.

Integrated ENL:

Students are served the maximum possible number of CR-Part 154 Integrated mandated minutes within the constraints of staffing a school with seven sites. Our 4 itinerant ENL teachers who push in to self-contained special classes to co-teach with special education teachers during core content areas to provide integrated ENL. ELL students are grouped according to their English proficiency levels.
Integrated instruction is heterogeneous, with students of mixed English proficiency levels and grades. Lessons are taught as a whole class, including ENL students.

Alternate placement paraprofessionals are language supports to students who have a BSE mandate for which there is no BSE placement at this time.

b. Bilingual Education (If applicable)
Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE):

Our school has a bilingual special education program, which provides a specialized program for students whose Individualized Education Program (IEP) recommends an integrated special class with a language of instruction in Spanish and English. This is a 12:1:1 class ratio comprised of students in grades K-2.

Stand-Alone ENL
Students are grouped according to their English proficiency levels, with a primary focus on those at the Entering and Emerging stages. Stand-Alone ENL instruction emphasizes the development of listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills in English through targeted language instruction delivered by a certified ESOL teacher.

Integrated ENL
Implemented through a co-teaching model, Integrated ENL allows multilingual learners to learn alongside English-proficient peers. This model blends English language development with grade-level academic content. While it is required for all proficiency levels, it places particular emphasis on supporting students at the Transitioning, Expanding, and Commanding (former ELLs) stages.

Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE):

N/A

2. How does your school ensure the mandated number of instructional minutes are provided according to students' English language proficiency levels in each program model?

The ENL team utilizes the RLAT: NYSITELL, NYSESLAT Exam History Report, to identify the English language proficiency levels our ENL students. Grouping is then determined based on students' proficiency levels and grade band for Stand Alone minutes. During the identification and grouping process, we implement the integrated model which allows for larger group sizes and ensures that we are providing the maximum mandated number of instructional minutes.

Our TBE teacher provides stand-alone and integrated ENL minutes as part of their daily schedule.

3. How are ENL, English Language Arts (ELA) and if applicable, Home Language Arts (HLA) instructional minutes delivered in each program model?

English as a New Language (ENL) Program: ENL instructional minutes are delivered through two types of instruction. Integrated ENL involves English language development taught in conjunction with content area instruction such as ELA.

Special education teachers collaborate with the ENL teacher during the dedicated literacy block to provide integrated ENL minutes during this time to reinforce and support language acquisition and comprehension from the curriculum content.

Standardized students utilize the HMH Into Reading curriculum, while alternate assessed students use TeachTown. Special education teachers collaborate with the ENL teacher during the dedicated literacy block to provide integrated ENL minutes during this time to reinforce and support language acquisition and comprehension from the curriculum content.

Home Language Arts (HLA) in our bilingual classroom integrates both the English version of the HMH curriculum and the Spanish HMH ¡Arriba! curriculum. This course is designed to develop literacy in students' native language, with a strong emphasis on reading, writing, speaking, and listening skills.

Stand-alone ENL focuses solely on English language development. ELA is taught by the ENL teacher in small groups, allowing for more individualized attention and opportunities to practice language skills. Instruction emphasizing language development in all four domains: listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

4. For schools with Dual Language Bilingual Education (DLBE) programs:

a. Which Dual Language Bilingual Education model is implemented? Explain how much of the instructional day (percentage) English proficient students and ELLs are integrated.

N/A

b. In which language(s) is each core content area taught?

N/A

5. For schools with Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs:

a. Which core content areas are taught bilingually?

ELA is delivered in English with language supports. Students also receive Math, Social Studies, and Science instruction in their home language.

Part IV: Data Analysis

Data Analysis

After reviewing and analyzing school demographic and assessment data, answer the following questions. The ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) provided by the Office of Multilingual Learners can assist with identifying these data points.

For additional information, refer to Data Analysis Professional Learning Module and ELL Data Analysis Tool (EDAT) Professional Learning Module.

1. What is the composition of the ELL subgroups at your school?
What percentage of ELLs are Newcomers? How does effective instruction for Newcomers differ from those provided to Developing or Long-Term ELLs?

55.9% of ELLs are Newcomers.
Once students are identified as Multilingual Learners (MLs)/ELLs, they immediately begin receiving English as a New Language (ENL) services. Effective instruction for Newcomers focuses on foundational language skills—alphabet recognition, phonics, basic vocabulary, and early reading. It also addresses their immediate social, cultural, and linguistic adjustment needs. Rosetta Stone is a resource in this process, supporting both language development and family engagement during the transition to English. In contrast, Developing or Long-Term ELLs receive more advanced academic language instruction, content-specific vocabulary, and support aimed at deepening comprehension and fluency rather than starting from the basics.

What percentage of ELLs are Students with Inconsistent/Interrupted Formal Education (SIFE)? How do you differentiate effective instruction for SIFE?

0.9% of ELLs are identified as SIFE (Students with Inconsistent/Interrupted Formal Education).
Effective instruction for SIFE students begins with an informal language assessment to determine their level of retained or lost English skills. Based on this assessment, individualized academic scaffolds are provided, focusing on foundational skills like literacy and numeracy, while also offering visual aids, hands-on activities, and emotional support to address learning gaps and build confidence.

What percentage of ELLs are Long-Term ELLs? How does effective instruction for Long-Term ELLs differ from instruction designed for Developing ELLs?

20.9% of our ELLs are Long-Term ELLs.
These students perform well in speaking, reading, and listening, but struggle with writing, based on EDAT data. To address this, we've integrated writing into instruction using the Into Reading (K–5) and Into Literature (6–8) curricula. Clicker software supports writing development, while ENL, AIS, Inclusion, Related Services, and classroom teachers collaborate to ensure effective, inclusive instruction. In contrast, Developing ELLs receive more foundational language support using teacher-created materials and resources from TeachHub.

What percentage of students are former ELLs? How is your school providing mandated instruction to former ELLs?

Former ELLs make up 0.3% of the student population. They receive 90 minutes of ENL instruction weekly for two years after scoring Commanding on the NYSESLAT. Instruction is provided in an integrated and/or stand alone setting, and they can participate in Title III programs. We collaborate with teachers to provide additional resources and ENL strategies to support language comprehension.

2. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of ELLs at your school?

All of P9Q ELL students have been identified as "at risk" by virtue of their Special Education classification. According to the EDAT, early warning at risk indicators for ELLs help prioritize supports for specific student subgroups. Two subgroups that require targeted supports are our newcomers (55.9%) and potential long-term ELLs (20.9%). One trend that was apparent, was that our ELLs did not demonstrate sufficient English Language Proficiency (ELP) progress on the Spring 2024 NYSESLAT (63.6%). According to the EDAT, our ELLS who scored Levels 1 or 2 last school year in ELA were 9.5% and those who scored Levels 1 or 2 in Math were 9.5%.

3. Examine all at-risk levels that might adversely affect former ELLs at your school. What trends do you notice about the at-risk levels of former ELLs at your school?

Former ELLs represent only 0.3% (or 2 students) of our ELL population. According to the Early Data Analysis Tool (EDAT), early warning indicators show that former ELLs scored at Level 1 or 2 on State assessments in both the 2022–2023 and 2023–2024 school years. These indicators are particularly relevant to performance in Math and ELA State assessments.

4. What are the home languages of ELLs with the largest representation at your school? What staff, structures, and processes does your school have to support communication and learning that values these home languages?

Out of 220 students, the home languages of ELLs with the largest representation at P9Q are 67% Spanish (147 students), 19% Bengali (41 students) and 4% Chinese (9 students). Our administrative team surveys the staff early in the school year to determine what languages they are proficient in both orally and in written form. Based on this data, and the home languages of our students across the 7 locations of P9Q, we staff our classrooms to best suit the communication needs of our ELLs so they can have academic and communicative supports inside the classroom. When we are provided funding through Title III, we purchase curriculum support in the form of texts and technologies in the language and/or cultural backgrounds of our Spanish, Bengali and Chinese speaking families. Translation of any school-to-family and family-to-school communication is provided by school staff, the Remind App, and the DOE Translation and Interpretation Unit.

5. What are the racial and ethnic classifications of ELLs at your school? How are ELLs being included in planning and delivery of Culturally Responsive and Sustaining Education (CR-SE)?

The racial and ethnic classification of ELLs according to our EDAT at P9Q are as follows:

Hispanic ELLs
Native American or Alaskan Native: 42.4%
Asian: 0.7%
Black: 6.3%
Multiracial: 0.7%
Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander: 1.4%
White: 48.6%

Non- Hispanic ELLs
American Indian or Alaskan Native: 2.6%
Asian: 76.3%
Black: 2.6%
Multiracial: 1.3%
Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander: 0.0%
White: 17.1%

For the 2024-2025 school year, P9Q will continue to promote advances in literacy and reading development by providing our ELL students with the highest quality of instruction by strengthening core instruction. This will be accomplished by utilizing and exposing students to meaningful and culturally relevant texts, such as Lexia's language and literacy programs. Their programs provide illustrations, photographs and texts in ways that validate diverse experiences, while providing individualized instructional supports. These will be based on student learning styles and abilities, engaging and connecting with every student in meaningful class discussions, and through peer to peer learning while exposing students to the technological advances. P9Q will utilize Google Forms and other paper-based surveys to collect data from parents in order to make culturally-relevant curriculum decisions when ordering supplemental texts in the upcoming school year. Children and their families bring a wealth of experience that can enhance learning and teaching; building on the assets of students is pivotal to making core instruction culturally relevant and therefore highly effective.

6. What trends do you notice in reviewing English Language Proficiency (ELP) growth at your school? How many students met ELP sufficient progress? How many students did not meet ELP sufficient progress?

A clear trend at P9Q is that most students are not making sufficient progress in ELP. All students at the school have IEPs. According to the Spring 2024 NYSESLAT results and EDAT data, only 1 student (0.6%) met progress by exiting ELL status, and 14 students (9%) met their annual ELP progress targets. No students (0.0%) achieved safe harbor cumulative growth, while 140 students (90.3%) did not meet sufficient ELP progress.

7. When you look at the results of the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT), what stands out? What trends are there for each modality?

When reviewing the 2024 NYSESLAT results, a few key trends stand out at P9Q. According to EDAT data, the majority of students remain at the beginning stages of English language development. Out of 180 students, 108 (60.0%) are at the Entering level, 45 (25.0%) are at the Emerging level, 18 (10.0%) are at the Transitioning level, 8 (4.4%) are at the Expanding level, and 1 (0.6%) student has exited ELL status.

A noticeable trend across NYSESLAT modalities—Listening, Speaking, Reading, and Writing—is that students who are designated to take alternate assessments based on their IEPs consistently score significantly lower on the NYSESLAT than on the New York State Alternate Assessment (NYSAA).

8. What is the relationship between students' performance on the NYSESLAT and other state assessments such as the ELA assessment, the Math assessment, and the Regents exams?

The relationship between the Spring 2024 NYSESLAT and the Spring 2024 ELA exam results for ELLs and former ELLs who have a valid score for both assessments indicates that all 20 of the ELLs were on ELA level 1. This included 1 student at the Entering level, 6 students at the Emerging level, 8 students at the Transitional level, and 5 students at the Expanding level. No students were at the Commanding level.

The relationship between the 2024 NYSESLAT and the 2024 Math exam results indicates that 17 ELLs were on Math level 1:
1 student at the Entering level, 6 students at the Emerging level, 7 students at the Transitioning level, and 3 students at the Expanding level. No students were at the Commanding level. 4 students were on Math level 2: 2 students at the Transitioning level, and 2 students at the Expanding level. There were no students at the Commanding level.

9. What are trends reflected in the NYSESLAT results of ELL subgroups such as ELLs with IEPs and SIFE? What do you think is impacting the results for these subgroups?

According to the most recent EDAT, 219 students (99.5%) who identified as ELLs at our school also have IEPs, and 2 students (0.9%) are classified as Students with Interrupted/Inconsistent Formal Education (SIFE). A clear trend is that ELLs with IEPs, especially those designated for alternate assessments, consistently score significantly lower on the NYSESLAT compared to their performance on the New York State Alternate Assessment (NYSAA).

This discrepancy suggests that the NYSESLAT may not fully reflect the abilities of these learners due to its lack of alignment with alternate assessment standards. As a school, we believe that English language proficiency assessments should be adapted for students whose IEPs require alternate assessments, ensuring fair and appropriate evaluation aligned with their instructional needs and learning profiles.

Part V: ML/ELL Instruction

Tier 1: Core Instruction

For additional information, refer to ML/ELL Instruction Professional Learning Module.

Tier 1 Core Instruction

1. How does your school provide ELLs with a high-quality academic experience that leads to deeper learning?

The instructional team reviews all student assessments, academic data, and IEPs. Teachers, service providers, and ENL educators collaborate to ensure that ENL students receive equitable access to high-quality instruction. Data collected from assessments and IEPs inform instructional practices by highlighting students' academic strengths and identifying areas in need of targeted intervention.

Our student population demonstrates a wide range of academic and language proficiency levels. To address this diversity, teachers adapt lesson plans to meet students' individual needs. Instruction is scaffolded through the use of visual aids, graphic organizers, and simplified texts that align with students' reading levels while maintaining grade-level content. Instruction also emphasizes the development of both academic and social vocabulary.

Additional strategies include flexible grouping, small group instruction, peer tutoring, and the integration of technology. Digital resources such as TeachTown, Envision Math, and HMH provide scaffolded supports, including vocabulary acquisition tools, interactive visuals, and intervention materials to reinforce understanding of content.

To promote deeper learning, teachers engage students in critical thinking and the exploration of multiple perspectives. Collaborative group work and reflective practices are encouraged to support metacognitive development and student ownership of learning.

2. How does your school's leadership team ensure ELLs have access to core instruction/curriculum?

The Instructional Leadership Team regularly reviews student assessments and academic data to collaboratively support instructional planning with classroom teachers, special subject teachers, ENL teachers, speech providers, and occupational therapy providers, as applicable. Teacher teams—including ENL staff, related service providers, special subject teachers, and classroom teachers—work together to design and implement targeted supports for ELLs/MLs.

Team-taught lessons are co-planned and co-delivered, incorporating both formative and summative assessments to monitor progress. Collaboration begins as soon as new students enroll. During registration, parents are consulted to determine students' proficiency in both English and their home language. Special attention is given to "turning-five" students, as early assessments and strong communication across instructional staff are critical to their successful transition. These students are evaluated at the beginning of the school year by classroom teachers, ENL staff, and speech providers to ensure appropriate support from the outset.

Collected data is used to inform instruction by identifying academic strengths and areas in need of intervention. To foster ongoing family engagement, ENL staff offer monthly training sessions for families in their home languages, supported by translation services or bilingual staff members.

All K–5 standardized classes implement the HMH curriculum. Our bilingual classrooms use both the English version of the HMH curriculum and the Spanish HMH Arriba! curriculum. The bilingual teacher delivers instruction using Arriba!, while the ENL teacher provides targeted English instruction to help bridge language gaps. Students benefit from interactive learning opportunities in both languages through workbooks and technology-based resources available on the HMH platform.

3. Describe how core content is delivered in each program model. Specify language, and the instructional approaches and methods to foster language development and meet the demands of the Next Generation Learning Standards.

Our instructional strategies are tailored to meet our students' academic needs in both the Stand Alone and Integrated Program models. Multilingual support is provided by all teachers and staff as necessary. We provide content-area instruction in English using ENL methodologies and instructional strategies, as well as using native language support to make content comprehensible. Instruction incorporates ENL strategic instruction using problem solving, vocabulary building, picture symbols, speech assistance devices, challenging content, project-based and communicative-based learning. To meet academic standards and performance grade-level expectations aligned to the Next Generation Learning Standards, we focus on training to prepare for the full rollout of these standards for the 2025-2026 school year. We also utilize research driven instructional strategies like modeling, bridging, contextualizing, scaffolding, authentic assessment, reviewing and reinforcement of vocabulary, visual supports to analyze and answering questions effectively using student's preferred mode of communication.

ENL students read the same texts as their English proficient peers with the assistance of scaffolding strategies in order to assist students in meeting grade level standards. For students participating in standardized assessments, Envision Math, periodic assessments including Measure of Academic Progress (MAP), and NYC Performance Tasks are utilized for instruction and evaluation of student needs. Alternate Assessment students use Student Annual Needs Determination Inventory (SANDI) Formative Assessment of Standards Tasks (FAST), Assessment of Basic Language and Learning Skills (ABLLS), and New York State Alternate Assessment (NYSAA) as assessment tools, curriculum based supports from Teach-Town, EQUALS MATH, in conjunction with, a host of adapted books, teacher-created materials, online interactive websites, and teacher prepared assessments to develop and nurture our MLs/ELLS. Our program is designed to assist MLs/ELLs in achieving proficiency for their grade level and meet or exceed grade level standards. Specific instructional approaches within the aforementioned curriculums including multimedia presentations and interactive comprehension-based activities, that allow for students to maintain and continue to make progress on their IEP goals.

In the Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) model, core content is initially delivered in the student’s home language to ensure comprehension and academic progress while English proficiency develops. Instruction gradually shifts to English as students advance. Teachers use bilingual instruction and strategies, such as visuals, scaffolds, and collaborative learning, to support language development. All lessons are aligned with the Next Generation Learning Standards to ensure students meet grade-level expectations while building strong language and academic skills.

4. What instructional strategies and grade-level materials, including technology, do teachers of MLs/ELLs use to provide access to grade level academic content areas and accelerate English language development? Include core content area and language materials with consideration to specific ELL subgroups.

a. ELLs with IEPs

Teachers and staff provide culturally responsive instruction through the use of multi-modal learning formats within positive, safe, and supportive environments. Key resources implemented include Rosetta Stone, LEXIA, Nearpod, Scholastic and EPIC. These tools are scaffolded to support the development of reading, grammar, speaking, listening, and vocabulary skills, while offering immediate, positive feedback to enhance student engagement and proficiency.

All adults in the school community are committed to fostering safe, inclusive, and bias-free spaces. Instructional materials and learning experiences are intentionally selected to honor and reflect students' identities and the rich assets they bring to the classroom. Instruction is student-centered and tailored to support each learner's Individualized Education Program (IEP) goals, ensuring personalized support and consistent access to a trusted adult whom students can rely on. Instruction is delivered in both English and students' home languages, promoting accessibility and honoring linguistic diversity.

b. SIFE

Currently, we have two students identified with SIFE (Students with Interrupted Formal Education) status. Our instructional approach includes both Integrated and Stand-Alone instruction across most content areas.

SIFE students receive instruction in English that is designed to build foundational conceptual knowledge, critical thinking skills, and English language proficiency. Instructional materials and strategies are carefully selected to be age-appropriate and culturally responsive.

To address the unique social, cultural, and linguistic needs of SIFE students, we provide a range of targeted services. These include:

Integrated instruction within ELA classes, as well as during school-wide projects and performances.

Access to school resources such as the library and technology lab.

Stand-Alone instruction tailored to individual learning goals and support needs.

When a BSE (Bilingual Special Education) recommendation is made in a student's IEP and no formal program is available, we ensure continued support by assigning an alternate placement paraprofessional to assist the student.

c. Newcomers

Newcomers are provided with services that immediately address their social, cultural, and linguistic needs. We offer both integrated and stand-alone instruction across most content areas. However, stand-alone instruction is often more beneficial for newcomers, as it allows for more homogeneous groupings and targeted support. ENL (English as a New Language) teachers tailor instruction to each student's individual needs, focusing on vocabulary development, language acquisition, and critical thinking skills. Lessons employ a multi-modal learning approach to enhance engagement and improve content comprehension. If a BSE (Bilingual Special Education) program is recommended in a student's IEP and is not available, an alternate placement with a paraprofessional is provided to ensure appropriate support.

d. Long Term ELLs

In accordance with CR Part 154, instruction for long-term ELLs includes both Integrated ENL and Stand-Alone ENL services. As students' language proficiency increases, they often require more rigorous academic instruction, while still receiving consistent support in English Language Arts (ELA) to ensure continued development in both language and content areas.

Intervention services for long-term ELLs who receive an extension of services include participation in the Title III Program, involvement in school-wide and community-based projects, and enhanced access to library resources with flexible support scheduling.

To further support language development and academic success, we utilize a variety of interactive digital tools and instructional technologies. These include: Computer-based programs to build fluency, reading comprehension, and language skills. Interactive whiteboards to support visual and kinesthetic learning. Augmentative and Alternative Communication (AAC) devices. Communication boards featuring picture symbols. Teacher-created boards with tangible objects or images representing vocabulary and concepts.

These tools are especially essential for students with limited expressive language abilities or those who are nonverbal, allowing them to engage meaningfully in both academic and social communication.

5. What supports does your school provide to ELLs with IEPs to achieve their IEP goals and attain English language proficiency within the least restrictive environment?

Teachers are provided with scheduled time within their weekly programs to collaborate and create lessons aligned with the appropriate curricula for each class. These lessons include teacher-created or adapted materials, relevant interactive websites, and the integration of established instructional programs such as Heggerty Reading, Into Reading (K–5), Into Literature (6–8), Passport to Social Studies for ELA, Envision Math, Amplify Science, Teach-Town for Alternate Assessment, Essential for Living (EFLS), and the Assessment of Basic Language and Learning Skills (ABLLS). Instruction is designed to be flexible and responsive to the varied needs of students, incorporating academic, social, and behavioral supports when necessary. Learning alongside their peers in the classroom further enhances students' instructional opportunities and progress.

Multilingual learners (MLs) and English language learners (ELLs) receive integrated instruction through collaboration among the classroom teacher, ENL teacher, and Alternate Placement Paraprofessional where appropriate. All instructional materials are cognitively and grade-level appropriate, ensuring that instruction meets students where they are. MLs/ELLs are grouped based on grade level and current language proficiency to best target their needs. ENL teachers use student IEP goals to guide instruction and maintain ongoing collaboration with classroom teachers to support consistent progress. Regular outreach to students and parents occurs to foster engagement and participation. This collaborative and flexible approach ensures that all learners receive inclusive, curriculum-based instruction tailored to their individual needs.

6. How is home language assessed in each program model (DLBE, TBE, and ENL)?

In our Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) program, students' home language is assessed through HMH Arriba! weekly and module assessments. This allows all teachers involved to determine the necessary course of action for further instruction.

Our English as a New Language (ENL) program shelters the home language while supporting new language acquisition. Through collaborative efforts, ENL teachers, classroom teachers, and support staff assess home language using data-driven methods such as class participation levels, assignment completion, exit tickets, and collaborative discussions.

In both programs, alternate placement paraprofessionals assist monolingual teachers with home language assessments when and where necessary.

7. (For grades 6-12 only) What language electives are offered to MLs/ELLs? How is your school preparing MLs/ELLs to obtain the New York State Seal of Biliteracy?

Per their IEPs, students at P9Q are exempt from the foreign language requirement.

8. Describe systems and structures for supporting co-teaching and collaboration among teachers for all ELL program models available at your school (e.g. integrated co-teaching, Dual Language Bilingual Education teacher partnerships, etc.).

To ensure a systemic and effective approach to co-teaching that accommodates the diverse language proficiencies, cultural backgrounds, and educational experiences of all students, the following structures are implemented. All integrated ELL program models incorporate the following co-teaching strategies:

One Teach, One Observe:
One teacher leads instruction while the other observes student learning. The observing teacher collects data on student understanding, which informs future instructional planning by the co-teaching team.

One Teach, One Assist:
One teacher takes primary responsibility for delivering instruction while the other circulates around the classroom to assist students who need additional support.

Parallel Teaching:
Both teachers actively instruct simultaneously by dividing the class into groups that rotate through different learning stations. Besides the two stations facilitated by the co-teachers, students may also work independently or with a paraprofessional at other stations.

Collaborative Practices Across All Models:
Co-teachers engage in joint curriculum planning to ensure a shared understanding of both content and language development goals. Planning incorporates alignment with students' long-term and short-term IEP objectives. Together, co-teachers collaboratively assess student work to monitor progress and adjust instruction accordingly. Additionally, leveraging technological tools and platforms supports efficient co-planning and communication.

9. Describe how your overall, annual professional learning plan ensures that all staff – including administrators, teachers and -non-pedagogical staff – incorporates learning specifically related to the academic and social emotional needs of MLs/ELLs. Professional learning topics might include co-teaching strategies, or integrating language and content instruction.

All staff members at P9Q, including Special Education Teachers, Paraprofessionals, ENL Teachers, Guidance Counselors, Psychologists, Occupational Therapists, Physical Therapists, and Speech Providers, participate in ongoing professional development to support the instruction of our ML/ELL students. This professional development encompasses a variety of topics such as connecting instruction and instructional planning aligned with the Next Generation Learning Standards (NGLS) and Essential Elements. It also includes curriculum training and support with a particular focus on academic oral and receptive language, as well as vocabulary instruction. Professional development opportunities are ongoing throughout the school year and may include online training sessions. Staff are presented with curriculum use and best practices, with additional opportunities to attend training sessions offered by Publishers and the District Office.

Teacher collaboration takes place in small groups and addresses topics such as ML/ELL identification, effective integration of ML/ELL instruction in the classroom, monitoring the ongoing progress of ML/ELL students in comparison to their non-ML/ELL peers, and implementing positive behavior supports tailored for ML/ELL students. ENL teachers also attend professional development sessions provided by the district ML/ELL office when available. Furthermore, district coaches provide in-person support based on teacher requests and needs. Online professional development offerings continue throughout the school year, providing teachers with access to live sessions and alternative options when in-person training is not feasible.

10. Describe your school's professional development plan in order to meet the mandated Continuing Teacher and Leader Education (CTLE) ELL specific hours for certification renewal as per CR Part 154 (15% of total hours for all certified faculty [holders of professional certificates in the classroom teaching service, educational leadership service and level III teaching assistant certificate holders] and 50% of total hours for bilingual education/ENL teachers receive ELL-specific professional development).

All teachers participate in professional development sessions offered by the District Office and/or online platforms such as EdWeb throughout the year. ENL teachers ensure that at least 50% of their professional development is specifically focused on ML/ELL (Multilingual Learners/English Language Learners) topics. Their professional growth continues through collaboration with school coaches, classroom teachers, and related service providers.

The school conducts ongoing professional development sessions throughout the school year. School coaches play an integral role in these sessions and have a direct impact on ENL teachers' growth, helping them meet the required 15% of professional development in ML/ELL-specific areas.

Attendance at professional development sessions is tracked at each site.

Additionally, ENL teachers attend live meetings offered by the District ML/ELL office to discuss instructional methodologies, resources, and updates. Instructional coaches and ENL teachers communicate regularly about required changes and policies through email, Microsoft Teams, Zoom, and Google Meet, reflecting the multi-site nature of our organization.

Assessment

SCREENERS

11. Which screening assessments (e.g.iReady, MAP Growth, Acadience, or STAR Reading) does your school use to guide instructional planning for your ELLs?

The school utilizes several assessment literacy tools to determine the skills and instructional needs of our students. MAP (Measure of Academic Progress) which measures achievement and growth in K-12 math, reading, language usage, and science. This supports our teachers to make informed decisions for instruction and instructional grouping, as well as instructional strategies. Acadience Learning (K-2) assessments allow teachers to identify where students are struggling and help them get back on track regardless of teaching style or student background. iReady, i-Ready provides personalized lessons in reading and mathematics that align with the student's individual needs. These lessons are designed to be engaging and interactive, helping students learn at their own pace. Teachers can access tools to track student progress and plan instruction.

Teacher- created performance tasks, MAP (Measure of Academic Progress), iReady, and optional assessments; Early Literacy Behaviors, Letter Recognition, Phonological Awareness, Rhyming words, and Vocabulary are all used to guide instructional planning for our ELLs.

Early literacy skills assessment is critical for our students as half of our population are alternate assessment and 60% of our ELLs are assessed at the Entering Level. A large portion of the students in alternate assessment are ELLs and requiring intensive instruction in all content areas is crucial for this population. For our alternate assessment population, FAST/ SANDI, ABLLS, EFLS, and Lexia assessments are administered and provides informative data on the skills and standards students have mastered, and provides to classroom teachers and ENL teachers on specific skills/standards that are developing or emerging for instructional planning. Our school also uses the TeachTown, Envision Math curriculum embedded assessments, which is accessible to all our teachers for consistency in delivery of content.

12. For all grades, list and describe your targeted intervention programs for ELLs in ELA, Math, and other core content areas (specify ELL subgroups targeted). Include the language(s) in which the intervention services are offered.

We have designed our targeted intervention programs to align with the specific needs of our students. Instruction in English is provided across core content areas—ELA, Math, Science, and Social Studies. Paraprofessionals, including alternate placement paraprofessionals, are available to offer scaffolding in students' home languages, including Spanish, Russian, Chinese, Mandarin, Polish, Arabic, Urdu, Punjabi, and Bengali.

Intervention strategies include the use of picture symbols, modeling, bridging, contextualizing, and interactive technology to support students who are non-verbal or have limited expressive language skills. Our programs are grounded in the principles of Culturally Responsive-Sustaining Education (CR-SE), ensuring that instruction reflects and respects the diverse backgrounds of our learners.

Instruction is delivered in small-group settings. ENL teachers utilize the same curricular texts as the general education classrooms, promoting consistency and coherence. Students engage with Envision Math, Amplify Science, SANDI/FAST, ABLLS, NYC Performance Tasks, and MAP assessments to monitor and measure academic growth. Real-life contexts are incorporated into instruction by ENL teachers to help students connect their learning to meaningful, everyday experiences.

13. For all grades, describe how your school uses data to guide instruction for ELLs within a Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS). Refer to the Instructional Leadership Tool for MLs and ELLs and MTSS Guide for MLs and ELLs to help in the development and implementation of your school's plan for MLs/ELLs.

Our school uses multiple data sources, such as NYSESLAT scores, formative assessments, and classroom performance to guide instruction for ELLs within an MTSS framework. During teacher collaboration, data is analyzed to identify students' needs. Students are grouped according to their respective tiers, including differentiated instruction, small-group targeted supports, and individualized support, according to the MTSS framework.

FORMATIVE

14. Which formative assessments (e.g. NYC performance Tasks, ELL Periodic Assessment, HLA Assessment, DRA, teacher-created assessments, etc.) are used to inform and drive instruction?

To inform and guide instruction, teachers utilize the school-wide assessment platform to formally assess students and reference data collected for instructional planning. Formative assessment tools such as the NYC Performance Tasks, student preference assessments, teacher created assessments, SANDI, FAST, and curriculum-embedded assessments from Envision Math, Amplify Science, MAP, Fountas & Pinnell, iReady, Heggerty, ABLLS and EFLS are used to drive instruction and tailor learning experiences to student needs. Additionally, shared student portfolios hosted on the Google Drive platform will be developed to track and document progress toward IEP goals. These portfolios serve as an ongoing formative measure to support data-informed instructional decisions.

Collaborative Teacher Teams include ENL teachers, classroom teachers, and other specialists who work together to help Multilingual Learners (MLs) and English Language Learners (ELLs). They plan lessons together and teach together to make sure students get the support they need for both learning the content and improving their English.

15. How do you ensure that MLs/ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their home languages throughout the year?

We ensure MLs/ELLs are evaluated in their home languages through formal assessments like Home Language Arts (HLA) tests, curriculum-based evaluations like HMH ¡Arriba! in Spanish. These are conducted throughout the year in TBE classrooms to monitor literacy and academic progress, ensuring instruction is responsive and aligned with students' language development needs. During informal assessments and classroom activities, students may respond in their home language when appropriate. Teachers also gather evidence of learning through writing samples, reading logs, and one-on-one conversations to monitor progress.

Support from bilingual paraprofessionals, teachers, or service providers is crucial, particularly when students demonstrate stronger skills in their home language while still acquiring English. These strategies ensure that assessments reflect what students truly understand, rather than simply how well they can express themselves in English.

SUMMATIVE

16. Which summative assessments (e.g. NYSESLAT, ELA, Math, Regents, etc.) are used to evaluate the effectiveness of your ML/ELL programs and how does it inform instructional design and curricular decisions? (Refer to the ELL Data Analysis Tool).

In addition to ENL teacher-made materials that measure progress along with classroom indicators, there are several assessments and benchmark assessments that give us quantitative results pinpointing the success and continued development of our ENL program. We review NYC Performance Tasks, SANDI, ABLLS, EFLS, Measure of Academic Progress (MAP), report card grades, and updated progress on the measurable annual goals found on students' Individualized Education Program (IEP).
Summative assessments are derived in the form of ENL teacher-made materials and teacher-created data forms measuring student progress along with classroom indicators through instruction.

ENL teachers review SANDI, NYC Performance Tasks, report card grades, Measure of Academic Progress (MAP) scores , and based on student progress on their IEP goals to guide their instruction and the skills they will target to monitor and track progress. The results from NYSESLAT inform instructional design by guiding the focus on language objectives tailored to students' proficiency levels, which range from Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, Expanding, to Commanding.

ENL teachers collaborate to examine assessments and determine student programming needs that include both stand-alone and integrated instruction. Students are placed in groups for instruction based on summative data as well as grade/proficiency levels. They are provided with cognitive and age-appropriate material /content that enrich and support language acquisition, which is planned collaboratively between ENL and classroom teachers. In addition, applied learning activities, "school store," and school cultural events a re-implemented throughout the year to offer real-life learning experiences within the school environment that encourages and promotes social exchanges and academic language acquisition.

17. What is your NYSESLAT administration plan? How does your school ensure that all ELLs are tested with the NYSESLAT annually? Include the titles of the staff that will administer and score the assessment. Please describe your plan to ensure that all ELLs and former ELLs continue to receive mandated instruction during the testing period.

To ensure that all English Language Learners (ELLs) are assessed annually with the NYSESLAT, each of our seven P9Q sites will designate one to two point people responsible for test administration and scoring. These individuals will be licensed pedagogues, including Academic Coaches, Unit Coordinators, IEP Coordinators, general education and special education teachers, and ENL teachers. All staff involved in the administration and scoring of the NYSESLAT will be trained in accordance with NYSED guidelines to ensure fidelity and compliance.

To maintain continuity of mandated instructional services during the testing period, all P9Q locations will implement a site-specific staffing plan. ENL teachers will remain available and assigned to provide instruction to Multilingual Learners (MLs), ELLs, and former ELLs in accordance with their required service mandates. Staff across locations will be trained to support the instructional schedule, allowing for flexible coverage that minimizes disruption to ENL and classroom instruction. This coordinated effort ensures that all MLs/ELLs and former MLs/ELLs continue to receive consistent, high-quality language support and academic instruction throughout the assessment window.T

18. How does your school ensure that current and former ELLs receive necessary accommodations for state assessments, including the Specialized High School Admissions Test (SHSAT) if applicable?

All current and former ELLs at P9Q have IEPs. A SESIS generated report provides information regarding every student's testing accommodations. Our ENL and testing teams collaborate to verify that all supports are in place prior to the test administration window.

Part VI: Family Partnership

Family Partnership

Required Meetings Under CR Part 154

Describe your schools' plan to ensure families of ELLs are provided with the required meetings specified below as per CR Part 154. Include:

- Topics discussed during these meetings
- How your school ensures families receive necessary translation/interpretation supports to meaningfully engage in the meetings
- How your school schedules these meetings to facilitate attendance, and how your school maintains evidence of these meetings as required per the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs.

a. ELL Program Orientation to inform parents/guardians of newly identified ELLs of ELL program options, including the program goals and requirements for all three ML/ELL program models: Dual Language Bilingual Education, Transitional Bilingual Education and English as a New Language regardless of whether the school currently has either type of bilingual program and provide a high-quality orientation section on the Next Generation Learning Standards, assessments, and school expectations for English Language Learners.

Parents receive notification letters and NYSITELL results in their preferred language. If the student is identified as an ELL, the parent is invited to an orientation meeting.

At the orientation, parents receive an overview of NYC's ML/ELL program models, including ENL and Transitional Bilingual Education, through a video and Q&A session in their preferred language. Interpretation is provided throughout.

Students are placed in the program selected by the parent. If that program is unavailable, a school transfer may be offered per DOE policy. If the student remains, they are placed in our ENL program, and parent choice is tracked to support future program offerings when thresholds are met.

Parents are informed of their right to appeal their child's ELL status within 45 days.

b. Annual Individual Meeting to discuss goals of the program, language development progress, language proficiency assessment results, and language development needs in all content areas. Note: this meeting is separate from and does not include the mandated ELL program orientation meeting and DOE-scheduled parent-teacher conferences.

In addition to parent orientation and parent-teacher conferences, our school maintains ongoing communication with families to support student success. Parents have full access to their child's academic and educational information.

Parents are welcome to schedule meetings with ENL and classroom teachers at any time to discuss student progress. ENL teachers also schedule conferences to review learning goals, lesson objectives, student strengths, and areas for growth. Throughout the year, we engage parents in conversations about their child's development and how daily family interactions can support learning.

Student portfolios, which include work from all content areas, are maintained and shared with families to show progress over time.

Annual individual meetings are held with translation services available through the NYC DOE phone line or translation devices like Pocketalk. All documents and information about parent rights are translated into the family's home language as needed.

To support English language development, the ENL team is implementing and evaluating the use of the Rosetta Stone curriculum to strengthen ML/ELL student proficiency.

Family Engagement

2. Beyond the mandated meetings and orientations, describe how your school:

a. Ensures families receive all school communications and documents in the language they best understand. How are families able to respond or initiate communications in languages other than English?

School documents such as Parent Surveys are provided in the family's home language so that schools are able to best meet the needs of each family, with a valid representation of how each family feels spoken in their home language.

Notices for Annual Review meetings are populated in both English and the families home language. This ensures that Parents understand what the meeting is for, where the meeting will be held and what time the meeting will take place.

Other school related documents such as school closings or national holidays are also provided to families in their home language.

All the above are communicated via NYC Office of Language Access, a talk-to-speech translation device such as Pocketalk., Class Dojo, Remind, and utilize multilingual staff to support with translating regular ongoing communication.

b. Develops activities that foster empowerment for families of MLs/ELLs. Include how your school determines the needs of your community.

P9Q is committed to fostering strong partnerships with families by offering ongoing opportunities for parent involvement that are responsive to their needs and interests. The Parent Coordinator plays a central role in organizing meaningful workshops throughout the school year, addressing topics such as social services, financial literacy, and emotional well-being. These sessions often feature guest speakers and representatives from relevant community organizations, creating valuable spaces for discussion, resource sharing, and support. Parents also benefit from support groups and agency-led presentations that provide access to essential information and networking opportunities.

In addition to workshops, parents are invited to participate in a variety of school-wide and site-based events, including end-of-unit celebrations, prom, Family Fun Night, book fairs, Field Day, and cultural events. As part of our comprehensive parent engagement plan, school counselors host regular support meetings and workshops in both English and Spanish, which are offered in-person and virtually to maximize accessibility. Our parent coordinator facilitates interactive parent workshops that include engaging activities and incentives, while classroom teachers organize cultural celebrations that actively involve families. All communications, including invitations to multicultural events, school performances, and classroom activities, are translated both in writing and orally to ensure inclusivity. Furthermore, under our Title III program, ENL teachers lead monthly parent training sessions designed to support families of Multilingual Learners and enhance home-school collaboration.

c. Ensures families of MLs/ELLs are aware of family leadership opportunities (such as Parent Association (PA), School Leadership Team (SLT), Community Education Council (CEC), etc.)

Multilingual Parent Workshops and Family Engagement Events

P9Q offers a wide range of multilingual workshops designed to support and empower families in areas critical to student success and well-being. Families are notified of these workshops through our Parent Coordinator, Counselors and Unit Coordinators by providing flyers in respective home languages, and other online platforms such as the Remind app. Workshop topics have included legal and financial protections for students, guardianship planning, school transitions (such as from middle to high school), effective communication strategies, housing resources, STEM education, high school admissions, Social Security benefits for individuals with disabilities, and topics related to puberty, relationships, and hygiene. Additional sessions have focused on supporting bilingual students in academic settings, advocating for children with special needs, and participating in culturally responsive activities such as parent-student Art Academies aligned with various holidays and celebrations.

In addition to workshops, parents actively participated in numerous school events, including end-of-unit celebrations, multicultural fairs, and student drama performances. Families also engaged in broader educational initiatives such as NYC Reads, demonstrating a strong commitment to school-wide and citywide learning goals. These opportunities reflect P009Q's dedication to fostering inclusive, informed, and supportive school-home partnerships across all sites.

3. What culturally and linguistically responsive partnerships do you currently have that support the needs of your school community?

P9Q currently partners with several esteemed organizations to enrich our instructional and cultural programming. These partnerships include Hispanic Culture Arts Multicultural Curriculum, Bear Magic Workshops, Ajna Dance Group, Dancewave, and All Points Licensed Behavioral Analyst Consultants. These collaborations enhance student learning by integrating culturally responsive practices, the arts, and specialized behavioral supports into our school community.

Part VII: Additional Information

Additional Information

Include any additional information that is relevant to your LAP and would further explain and highlight how your school supports MLs/ELLs. This form does not allow graphics and charts to be pasted.

Parents are invited to engage in the classroom for JARS Activities (Joint Action Routine) where students practice communication, social greetings and engagement throughout the classroom. Parents are also welcomed and encouraged to join in for end of unit celebrations, Field Day and other seasonal special events.

Parent Workshops are offered in order to provide parents with additional support in their native language.

Part VIII: ELL Identification Attestation and Principal Certification

Identification Plan

For additional information, refer to ELL Identification Attestation Professional Learning Module.

1. What are the titles of the members of your ELL identification team? Note: Members of the ELL identification team must be pedagogues.

The Language Proficiency Team (LPT) is responsible for identifying the English proficiency of students with disabilities.

The team includes ENL teachers, unit coordinators, assistant principals, school counselors, and a parent coordinator. If necessary, DOE Translation and Interpretation Unit is provided to facilitate communication with the student's parent or guardian.

2. Describe the structures and process in place for identification of ELLs year-round as required by the NYC DOE Policy & Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, including your school's identification plan for any incoming students with an Individualized Education Plan (IEP). Include:

- How your school proactively plans for the ELL identification process so that it does not interrupt the provision of mandated ENL and/or bilingual instruction to current, former and potential ELLs,
- Who is responsible for each step of the ELL identification process, and

- School's plan for ensuring ELLs and former ELLs will continue to receive mandated instruction.

The ELL identification process must be completed within 20 school days if the student has an IEP. A trained educator determines the student's home language, and parents complete the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS) in their preferred language, with translation support as needed.

As part of the identification process, the school reviews the student's enrollment history to determine whether the student has attended a New York State public school within the last two years. If so, the school contacts the previous institution to retrieve any relevant ELL records. If the student has not been enrolled in a New York State public school within the past two years, the school proceeds with the full ELL identification process. Based on the results, the school determines the student's eligibility to take the New York State Identification Test for English Language Learners (NYSITELL) or, for students whose home language is Spanish, the Spanish Language Assessment Battery (Spanish LAB). For students with IEPs, the LPT makes a recommendation regarding ELL eligibility to the school principal, who must then obtain final approval from the superintendent. Once eligibility is confirmed, the appropriate language proficiency assessment is administered.

Following testing, parents receive a notification letter in their preferred language outlining their child's ELL status and the results of the language proficiency assessment. If a student has experienced interrupted or inconsistent formal education, their educational background is further reviewed using resources from the New York State Education Department. Parents are then invited to an orientation session to learn about the ELL program options available. The orientation includes a multilingual video presentation and a Q&A session, with interpretation services provided to support parental understanding and engagement. Parents are encouraged to select an ELL program for their child. If the selected program is not offered at the current school site, the family is given the option to transfer to a school where it is available. If the student remains at the current site, they are enrolled in the available ENL program, and the school maintains records of the parent's program preference in case it becomes available in the future. Parents are informed of their right to appeal their child's ELL designation within 45 days of notification. If an appeal is filed, the principal is responsible for reviewing any requested changes to the student's ELL status within a six- to twelve-month time frame.

The school ensures that English Language Learners (ELLs) and former ELLs receive the instruction and support they need by identifying students through a language survey and assessment, placing them in appropriate programs, and providing mandated English instruction by certified teachers. Former ELLs are monitored for at least two years to make sure they continue to succeed, with extra help offered if needed. Teachers receive training to support language development, and families are kept informed in their home language. The school tracks student progress and follows all state and federal requirements to help every student succeed.

Principal Certification

In accordance with New York State's Commissioner's Regulations Part 154 as outlined and implemented in the NYC DOE Policy and Reference Guide for MLs/ELLs, I, attest that the following ELL identification procedures and activities are adhered to, and staff are trained on the items listed below.

- The ELL Identification Process is completed for each student within 10 school days of enrollment (20 school days for students entering with IEPs).
- Enrollment status of each newly admitted student is determined:
  a. If a student has been in New York State public schools within the past 2 years, our school contacts the previous school to obtain ELL status, relevant assessment scores, and English language proficiency level.
  b. If a student has been outside of New York State public schools for more than 2 years, our school administers the ELL Identification Process as part of reentry.

- The home language of the student is determined by a trained and licensed pedagogue.
  a. The parent completes the Home Language Identification Survey in the parent's preferred language; translation services are provided by a bilingual staff member, the DOE's over-the-phone translation services, or an alternative, high quality translation service.

- An interview with parents and students in English and the home language is conducted. This includes reviewing documents, prior assessments, and academic experience. An assessment of the student's abilities and/or work samples determines the student's literacy and math level in his/her home language.
- Eligibility for the NYSITELL is determined.
  a. If the newly enrolled student is entering with an IEP, the school's Language Proficiency Team (LPT) recommends eligibility to the principal, who obtains final approval from the superintendent.

- Students are administered the NYSITELL, if eligible.
- Notification letters are sent to the parent/guardian in their preferred language.
  a. Parent is notified of their child's ELL status and results of the NYSITELL.

- If the student is identified as an ELL and the student's home language is Spanish, the student is administered the Spanish Language Assessment Battery (LAB).
- Student with Interrupted/Inconsistent Formal Education (SIFE) status is determined using New York State's resources.
- If a student is a newly identified ELL, the parent is invited to the parent orientation meeting.
  a. The parent orientation meeting provides parents/guardians with an explanation of each ELL program model offered in NYC; the parent video describing the three programs is presented (in parent's preferred language); parents/guardians are encouraged to ask questions so that they are informed about all ELL programs; translation and interpretation services are provided throughout the meeting.

- ELL is placed in the ELL program that the parent selected.
  a. If the bilingual program that the parent selected is not available, the parent is offered a transfer to a school with that bilingual program in accordance with NYC DOE transfer policies.
  b. If the ELL remains in the school, the ELL is placed in English as a New Language and our school keeps track of parent selection so that when minimum thresholds are met, we can open the ELL program of choice.

- Parents are notified that they have 45 days to appeal the ELL status of their child (ELL Re-identification Process).
- If the ELL Re-identification Process is implemented for any student, the principal reviews the decision of any student whose ELL status was changed because of the ELL Re-identification Process within 6 to 12 months.
- Copies of documentation regarding ELL identification, including letters and parent notifications are kept in the students' cumulative files.

Designation of a LAC
Name of person designated and trained as the LAC.
At the start of each school year, each principal is required to designate at least one staff member to serve as the Language Access Coordinator (LAC), responsible for overseeing language assistance services within the school.

We have pre-populated the following information based on our records. Please confirm that the designated staff member(s) are your school's Galaxy-designated LAC(s) and provide the date(s) they attended the OLA Language Access Coordinator Training. Note that this training is in addition to the mandatory asynchronous NYCPS Language Access Training for School-based Staff on the WeLearnNYC learning platform. If any information is missing, please provide the requested details.

As a reminder, LACs are internal staff designations and are not meant to serve as the primary point of contact for families regarding language access-related matters. The Parent Coordinator, or another designated staff member, should remain the main contact for families regarding all issues, including language access.

Describe the resources and processes your school will use to communicate with parents who speak a language other than English during an emergency (e.g., lockdown, fire, student attendance, nurse/hospital visit, etc.), or when a parent needs to contact the school in an emergency, ensuring communication is in their preferred language.

During the intake process, parents' language preferences are assessed through Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS) interviews, with English as a New Language (ENL) teachers playing a key role in this evaluation. The collected information is shared with staff to ensure effective communication, especially in emergency situations.

Teachers, paraprofessionals, related service providers, and office staff may be called upon to assist with translation and interpretation as needed. To support multilingual communication, we utilize the Remind App, and P9Q App, which can translate messages into over 70 languages. Additionally, the NYCPS Messaging application is used to send emails, texts, and phone calls to parents in multiple languages during emergencies.

Part D: Staff Awareness

Staff Awareness

Plan to ensure staff awareness of language access requirements and available resources.

1. Describe how your school will ensure that all staff members complete the required asynchronous NYCPS Language Access Training for School-based Staff on the WeLearnNYC learning platform, and are familiar with the Best Practices for When to Provide Translation of Critical Written Communications to Parents and Best Practices for When to Provide Interpretation for Critical Oral Communications with Parents. Additionally, explain how your Galaxy-designated LAC will disseminate future language access resources and updates to all staff members.

To ensure all staff complete the required asynchronous NYCPS Language Access Training on the WeLearnNYC platform, school leadership will track progress using training logs and follow up with any outstanding staff. Guidance on the Best Practices for Providing Translation of Critical Written Communications and Interpretation for Critical Oral Communications will be shared during professional development sessions and team meetings. The Galaxy-designated Language Access Coordinator (LAC) will distribute updated language access resources and information through email, staff bulletins, and regular meetings. Additionally, ENL teachers will turnkey training throughout the school year during PD sessions to support ongoing compliance with language access regulations.

Part E: Parental Notification

Parental Notification

Provision of notice to parents on the available language assistance services.

1. Describe how your school will inform parents about available language assistance services in their preferred language. Include any of the following:

- Translated signage
- Brochures, flyers, or letters shared with parents
- Parent engagement events where language assistance services are highlighted (e.g., PTA meetings, international parents' night, etc.)
- Messaging applications

- Language Access for NYC Public Schools Families brochure

To ensure effective communication with all families, translated signage is displayed at all seven P9Q locations. Brochures, flyers, and letters are sent home in each family's preferred language or upon request. Teachers proactively reach out to parents, based on their understanding of the families' language needs, to determine if translation is necessary. During weekly parental engagement sessions, parents are informed about available translation services. The school utilizes the Remind App, which supports translation into over 70 languages, and the SchoolMessenger program to conduct outreach in families' preferred languages. District resources are regularly shared with families via email or sent home in students' backpacks. Additionally, the P9Q App provides optional pop-up alerts to notify parents of current communications in real time.

Part F: Monitoring

Monitoring

Methods for soliciting and implementing feedback on language assistance services.

1. In addition to the feedback received from parents via OLA's Translation & Interpretation Feedback Survey, describe the methods your school will use to gather feedback from parents regarding the language assistance services they receive in their preferred language.

To ensure effective communication with all families, P9Q is implementing a comprehensive set of multilingual outreach strategies across all seven locations. Translated signage will be prominently displayed at each site to support accessibility. Brochures, flyers, and letters are distributed in families' preferred languages, with additional translations available upon request. Teachers proactively reach out to families to identify and address language needs, ensuring that communication is clear and inclusive. Weekly parental engagement sessions include updates on available translation resources to keep families informed. The Remind App is used for messaging, offering automated translation in over 70 languages, while the P9Q App provides pop-up alerts to notify parents of current communications in real time. Additionally, district resources are regularly shared via email and sent home with students through "backpack mail," reinforcing consistent and accessible communication.

2. How has your school worked to improve its language assistance services? Share any feedback results and outline your plans for further improvements in the upcoming school year.

Our school has actively worked to improve language assistance services by increasing the availability of translation and interpretation resources, offering multilingual materials, and ensuring that bilingual staff are present at key events. Feedback from parents has highlighted the need for more timely and efficient translation, particularly for urgent communications. Based on this, we plan to implement a more streamlined process for translating documents and provide real-time interpretation at parent meetings. Additionally, we aim to expand language support to include less common languages spoken in our community, ensuring that all families have equal access to important information and services in the upcoming school year.

Title III Outline

Title III Supplemental Program for ELLs for SY 2025-26

REQUIREMENTS

Title III supplemental services for English Language Learners (ELLs) must include the following three components:

- Direct instruction activities must be used to support language development, English and home language instruction, high academic achievement in math, and/or high academic achievement in other core academic areas. The Title III supplemental instructional services must be based on student need. These supplemental services should complement core bilingual and ENL services required under CR Part 154. Direct supplemental services should be provided for before school, after school, and Saturday programs. Teachers providing the services must be bilingual education and/or English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) certified teachers.
- High quality professional development that is "of sufficient intensity and duration to have a positive and lasting impact on the teachers' performance in classrooms." Professional development activities should be well-planned, ongoing events rather than one-day or short-term workshops and conferences.
- Parent engagement and supports must ensure that there are appropriate translation and interpretation services to meet community needs. These are in addition to mandated activities, such as parent orientation during ELL identification process or annual ELL parent meetings.

Note: The Title III ELL program planning ratio is as follows: 60% to direct instruction, 10% to professional development (if funded using Title III ELL funds), 10% to parent engagement (if funded using Title III ELL funds), and 20% to OTPS (if funded using Title III ELL funds).

For more information on Title III requirements, please see the School Allocation Memo or contact your ML/ELL Director or ELL Compliance and Performance Specialist. Any updates or revisions to this plan must be made through the iPlan portal.

Title III ELL Summary

Provide a summary of each program funded under Title III ELL for SY 25-26: For each program, describe:

- When the program takes place (i.e., after school, before school, Saturday academy)

- Activities ELLs will engage in and how these activities will enhance instructional opportunities for ELLs
- How ELLs will be grouped for instruction and specify the number of student groups. Include total number of student groups and total number of ELLs in each group, for each program
- How instruction will be delivered (e.g., team teaching, parallel teaching, etc.)
- How the program will be supervised and whether this will be funded by Title III ELL. Please note: If supervision will be funded using Title III ELL funds, you must include the supervisor's regular work day hours and the hours the supervisor will get paid per session.

For the 2025–2026 school year, we will offer a single Title III ELL-funded program: a Saturday Academy that will take place once a month. The program will be called "The World on Stage" and center around multicultural performing arts as a means of exposing our population to different cultures outside their own through engagement and language development. ELL students will participate in a variety of culturally enriching activities, including traditional and contemporary dance, curated performances, arts and crafts, and a planned trip to a show. These experiences are designed to enhance students' English language acquisition while also fostering creative expression, teamwork, and confidence-building skills in a supportive environment.

Students will be grouped into two grade bands: K–2, and 3–5 with each group accommodating up to 20 ELLs, for a total of two instructional groups. These groups are structured to reflect socially appropriate age ranges and will include differentiated supports to meet the diverse cognitive needs of participants.

Instruction will be delivered through a team-teaching model, with Title III-funded vendors serving as the primary instructional leads. Oversight of the program will be provided by an Assistant Principal, whose supervision will also be funded through Title III ELL. The AP's regular workday is from 7:30 a.m. to 3:15 p.m., and they will be compensated for four hours of per-session work on each Saturday the program is held, from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Rationale for Title III ELL Funded Programs

Describe the rationale for each Title III ELL funded program. For each program, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis that support the need for program, and
- Data sources used to justify the need for the program

The rationale for implementing the Title III-funded Saturday program at P9Q is grounded in both qualitative and quantitative data that highlights the urgent need for targeted language development support for English Language Learners (ELLs) in Grades K–8.

Qualitative Analysis:
Many of our ELL students face significant challenges in developing the social and pragmatic language skills necessary to function effectively in diverse social settings. These students often struggle with interpreting social cues, engaging in reciprocal conversations, and adapting their language to different contexts—skills that are essential for academic achievement and successful integration into the school community. The Saturday program is designed to address these needs through culturally responsive instruction, structured social interactions, and language-rich environments that promote both language acquisition and social-emotional growth.

Quantitative Analysis:

Data from the 2024 New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT) reveals that nearly 100% of our ELL population did not meet the state's proficiency benchmark. Specifically, 60% of students scored at the Entering level, 25% at Emerging, 10% at Transitioning, 4% at Expanding, and less than 1% at Commanding. Additionally, newcomer students who took the New York State Identification Test for English Language Learners (NYSITELL) primarily scored at the Entering level, further emphasizing the need for foundational language instruction.

Data Sources:
The need for this program is supported by multiple data sources, including the 2024 NYSESLAT results for continuing ELLs and the NYSITELL results for newcomers. These assessments, along with internal data compiled by the English as a New Language (ENL) team, provide a comprehensive view of the language development challenges faced by our ELL students.
Additionally, data sources include assessment results using the Assessment of Basic Language and Learning Skills (ABLLS-R), Student Annual Needs Determination Inventory (SANDI), Formative Assessment of Standards Tasks (FAST), and New York State Alternate Assessment (NYSAA).

Part C: Professional Development

Professional Development Summary

Provide a summary of your school's plan for professional development under your Title III ELL program. Please make sure to describe:

- Professional development to be provided,
- Activities that teachers will engage with by topic, and
- Whether the professional development provided will be funded by Title III ELL funds. Please note: If PD will be funded by Title III ELL funds, vendor cost is calculated as part of OTPS and must not exceed 20% of the total allocation; teacher per-session is calculated as part of PD and must not exceed 10% of the total allocation.

This year, we will align our Professional Development program with our Title III initiative, "The World on Stage," to support the goals of the Saturday program. A total of four and a half hours of professional development will be conducted in 30-minute weekday sessions prior to each Saturday's direct instruction, facilitated by our participating Assistant Principal. During these sessions, teachers and paraprofessionals will engage in discussions centered around multicultural performing arts, the core theme of "The World on Stage." Topics will include an overview of participating vendors, instructional materials, strategies for integrating content with the program theme, scheduling and locations for each Saturday session, and a detailed review of the planned trip to a live performance. The sessions will also highlight the unique skill sets each staff member brings to the program and how these can be incorporated into Saturday activities. This professional development will be funded by Title III ELL funds.

Rationale for Professional Development

Describe the rationale for the professional development to be provided. For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., patterns and trends identified) that support the need for the professional development, and
- Data sources (e.g., school survey teacher responses, in-house teacher surveys, teacher observation data) used to justify the professional development.

Rationale for Professional Development
Professional development will be provided to all participating teachers and paraprofessionals involved in the Title III Saturday program to address the academic and linguistic needs of our ELLs through the lens of our program's theme: "The World on Stage" through multicultural performing arts. These sessions aim to equip staff with the tools and strategies necessary to support ELLs and their families in accessing instruction that integrates cultural expression with language development.

Qualitative Rationale:
Teacher feedback has indicated that ELL students face ongoing challenges in developing the communication and interaction skills necessary for success in both academic and social settings. These difficulties have highlighted the need for more inclusive and responsive instructional approaches that support student engagement and language development across various learning environments.

Quantitative Rationale:
Recent assessment results have shown that a significant portion of our ELL population is not yet meeting expected language proficiency levels. This trend highlights the ongoing need for targeted professional development focused on differentiated instruction and effective language acquisition strategies to better support ELL students in their academic growth.

Implementation Plan:
Professional development workshops and training sessions will be organized in collaboration with Title III-funded vendors—Bear Magic Workshops, Vyynl Design Education, and Ajna Dance Company—to ensure that instructional staff are well-prepared to integrate performing arts into language instruction. ENL teachers will collaborate with colleagues to align instructional goals and share best practices that enhance ELLs' access to classroom content.

Data sources:
The need for this professional development is supported by recent assessment results from the NYSESLAT and NYSITELL, internal analysis of ELL performance, and informal feedback gathered from classroom/cluster teachers and speech providers.

Part D: Family Engagement Activities

Family Engagement Summary

Provide a summary of your school's family engagement activities under your Title III ELL program. Describe the activities that families of ELLs will engage with by topic. Please make sure to include whether the activities will be funded by Title III ELL funds.
Please note: If family engagement activities will be funded by Title III ELL funds, vendor cost is calculated as part of OTPS and must not exceed 20% of the total allocation; teacher per-session is calculated as part of family engagement and must not exceed 10% of the total allocation.

This year, P9Q will extend its family engagement activities will introduce parents to The World on Stage program, with a special focus on supporting families of newcomers. These sessions will help families navigate the transition into the school community by introducing them to the ENL program, particularly for our turning 5 population. Families will also receive guidance on using school communication platforms, explore ways to strengthen school-to-home connections, learn about available community resources, and be introduced to helpful online tools. All sessions will include home language support to ensure accessibility and meaningful participation. In addition, all ELL families, both newcomers and continuing, will receive support in using Rosetta Stone, a language learning program that helps users build speaking, listening, reading, and writing skills through interactive lessons, to help their children develop English language skills at home.

Rationale for Family Engagement Activities

Describe the rationale for the family engagement activities to be provided: For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., reasons for topics, time activities will be offered), and
- Data sources (e.g., parent survey responses, in-house parent surveys, PTA/PA request, etc.) used to justify the need for activities.

The rationale for P9Q's family engagement activities is based on ongoing input from PTA meetings, teacher and provider observations, and student work samples. These sources highlighted the value of offering continued guidance to both newcomer and returning ELL families. Families of our turning 5 population benefit from early exposure to the ENL program, helping them understand how language development is supported from the start. Teachers noted that families are more engaged when they are familiar with school communication platforms and community resources. Student work samples also showed improvement when families used tools like Rosetta Stone, at home. Saturday sessions were selected based on family availability and past participation rates, making them the most accessible time for engagement. These activities are designed to provide consistent, meaningful support that builds on what families already know and helps them stay connected throughout their child's learning journey.

Schedule and Duration

For each Title III ELL family engagement activity, include:

- Start and end dates/months,
- Total number of sessions,
- Days of sessions, and
- Time and duration of sessions.

A total of 6 two-hour remote sessions will be conducted between October 2025 to June 2026. The workshops will take place evening hours, 4pm-6pm during the weekday.

Family engagement dates are as followed:

- October 1st, 2025
- November 5th, 2025

For the 2025–2026 school year, we will use Immigrant Funds to expand our existing Title III program by offering a single Title III Immigrant initiative: a Saturday Academy that will take place once a month. The program will be called "The World on Stage" and center around multicultural performing arts as a means of exposing our population to different cultures outside their own through engagement and language development. ELL students will participate in a variety of culturally enriching activities, including traditional and contemporary dance, curated performances, arts and crafts, and a planned celebration in the form of a show presented by the Hispanic Cultural Society, in which students will actively participate as performers. These experiences are designed to enhance students' English language acquisition while also fostering creative expression, teamwork, and confidence-building skills in a supportive environment.

Students will be grouped into two grade bands: K–2 and 3–5, with each group accommodating up to 12 ELLs, for a total of two instructional groups. These groups are structured to reflect socially appropriate age ranges and will include differentiated supports to meet the diverse cognitive needs of participants.

Instruction will be delivered through a team-teaching model, with Title III-funded vendors serving as the primary instructional leads. Oversight of the program will be provided by an Assistant Principal, whose supervision will also be funded through Title III Immigrant. The Supervisor will be compensated for four hours of per-session work on each Saturday the program is held, from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Rationale for Title III Immigrant Funded Programs

Describe the rationale for each Title III Immigrant funded program:

For each program, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis that support the need for program, and
- Data sources used to justify the need for the program

The rationale for implementing the Title III- Immigrant funded Saturday program at P9Q is grounded in both qualitative and quantitative data that highlights the urgent need for targeted language development support for English Language Learners (ELLs) in Grades K–8.

Qualitative Analysis:
Many of our ELL students face significant challenges in developing the social and pragmatic language skills necessary to function effectively in diverse social settings. These students often struggle with interpreting social cues, engaging in reciprocal conversations, and adapting their language to different contexts—skills that are essential for academic achievement and successful integration into the school community. The Saturday program is designed to address these needs through culturally responsive instruction, structured social interactions, and language-rich environments that promote both language acquisition and social-emotional growth.

Quantitative Analysis:
Data from the 2024 New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT) reveals that nearly 100% of our ELL population did not meet the state's proficiency benchmark. Specifically, 60% of students scored at the Entering level, 25% at Emerging, 10% at Transitioning, 4% at Expanding, and less than 1% at Commanding. Additionally, newcomer students who took the New York State Identification Test for English Language Learners (NYSITELL) primarily scored at the Entering level, further emphasizing the need for foundational language instruction.

Data Sources:
The need for this program is supported by multiple data sources, including the 2024 NYSESLAT results for continuing ELLs and the NYSITELL results for newcomers. These assessments, along with internal data compiled by the English as a New Language (ENL) team, provide a comprehensive view of the language development challenges faced by our ELL students.
Additionally, data sources include assessment results using the Assessment of Basic Language and Learning Skills (ABLLS-R), Student Annual Needs Determination Inventory (SANDI), Formative Assessment of Standards Tasks (FAST), and New York State Alternate Assessment (NYSAA).

Part D: Family Engagement Activities

Family Engagement Summary

Provide a summary of your school's family engagement activities under your Title III Immigrant program. Describe the activities that families of immigrant students (including ELLs) will engage with by topic. Please make sure to include whether the activities will be funded by Title III Immigrant funds. Please note: If family engagement activities will be at funded by Title III Immigrant funds, vendor cost is calculated as part of OTPS and must not exceed 20% of the total allocation; teacher per-session is calculated as part of family engagement and must not exceed 10% of the total allocation.

This year, our Title III Immigrant Parent Engagement program will include two Saturday workshops in November 2025 and May 2026, each one hour long and fully funded by Title III Immigrant funds. These sessions will offer targeted writing support to help families reinforce language acquisition at home, especially for students who scored "Entering" on the 2025 NYSESLAT. Technology training will also be provided to help families support remote learning and stay connected to their children's education. In partnership with the New York Immigration Coalition (NYIC), we will offer Know Your Rights workshops in Spanish and Bengali, focusing on language access, special education services, and disability accommodations. Additionally, we will introduce Rosetta Stone as a scaffolded resource to support literacy development in reading, grammar, speaking, and listening. These activities aim to strengthen school-family partnerships and improve academic outcomes for our immigrant and ELL students.

Rationale for Family Engagement Activities

Describe the rationale for the family engagement activities to be provided:

For each activity, include:

- Qualitative and quantitative data analysis (e.g., reasons for topics, time activities will be offered), and
- Data sources (e.g., parent survey responses, in-house parent surveys, PTA/PA request) used to justify the need for activities.

The rationale for P9Q's family engagement activities under the Title III Immigrant program is based on multiple data sources, including feedback from parent-teacher conferences (PTC), informal teacher/provider observations, and in-house parent surveys, and Parent questionnaires. These consistently highlight the need for ongoing support for both newcomer and returning ELL families. For example, families of our Turning 5 population benefit from early exposure to the ENL program, helping them understand how language development is supported from the start. Teachers reported increased engagement when families were familiar with school communication platforms and community resources. Saturday sessions were selected based on parent availability data, showing higher turnout on weekends. Activities such as technology training and Know Your Rights workshops—offered in Spanish and Bengali —were chosen based on parent requests and needs identified during PTC meetings. Rosetta Stone will be introduced as a scaffolded resource to support literacy development in reading, grammar, speaking, and listening. These activities are designed to provide consistent, meaningful support that builds on families' existing knowledge and keeps them connected throughout their child's learning journey.
